

Subject Company
CBOT Holdings, Inc.
(Commission File No. 001-32650)

This morning, CME and CBOT announced that we have signed a definitive agreement to merge our two organizations to create the most extensive and diverse global derivatives exchange. The combined company, to be named CME Group Inc., a CME/Chicago Board of Trade Company, is expected to transform global derivatives markets, creating operational and cost efficiencies for customers and exchange members while delivering significant benefits to shareholders.

This merger will bring together two industry-leading innovators to create a single company, strengthening its ability to grow in an increasingly competitive market. We expect our customers to benefit from: the consolidation of trading floor operations into a single facility at CBOT; the eventual transition of CBOT products onto CME Globex®; distinct and innovative products and services; and the seamless continuation of current clearing services which secures existing margin benefits.

We expect the transaction to close by mid-year 2007, pending approvals by regulators, shareholders of both companies and CBOT members, as well as completion of customary closing conditions. Until the merger is completed, each company will continue to operate separately. All of the information that is publicly available is posted on www.cbot.com as well as www.cme.com.

We deeply value our relationship with you and look forward to continuing to provide the innovative products, technology and customer service expected from us.

Sincerely,
Bernie Dan
President and Chief Executive Officer
