CBOT FILES MOTION FOR PARTIAL SUMMARY JUDGMENT IN SUIT AGAINST CBOE

CHICAGO, January 11, 2006 – CBOT Holdings, Inc. and the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (“CBOT”) today filed a motion for partial summary judgment in the Delaware Court of Chancery against the Chicago Board Options Exchange (“CBOE”) and its Board. A class of Exercise Right holders joined in the filing. In the filing, the CBOT and the class argue that the undisputed facts of the case entitle them to a judgment in their favor.

Specifically, the motion seeks:

- A declaration from the court that the CBOE’s charter and one of the contracts with CBOT bar CBOE from issuing any stock to CBOE members without allowing Exercise Right holders to participate equally in that distribution.
- A declaration that the CBOE breached its charter and a number of its agreements with the CBOT by seeking to unilaterally extinguish the Exercise Right.
- A declaration that the CBOE’s directors breached their fiduciary duties to the Exercise Right holders by attempting to extinguish their rights.

The CBOT created the CBOE. Since the CBOE’s creation, its charter has provided that CBOT members have the right to become members of the CBOE. Nevertheless, the CBOE is now attempting to unilaterally terminate the Exercise Right. The CBOT has committed to protect the Exercise Rights of qualifying CBOT members and prevent the confiscation of those members’ economic interests.
