(a) The Board of Trade shall designate an agency for registration of public warehouse receipts, and only public warehouse receipts registered with such agency shall be within the provisions of paragraph (b) following.

(b) Whenever in the opinion of the operator of the warehouse any grain stored in a public warehouse under his jurisdiction should be loaded out in order to protect the best interests of the parties concerned, such operator shall notify the agency giving the location and grades of such grain. The agency shall immediately notify an appropriate grain inspection service who shall at once proceed to the warehouse in which the grain is stored and examine it in conjunction with the Superintendent of such warehouse. If the grain inspection service agrees with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, it shall so notify the Registrar of the Chicago Board of Trade. If the grain inspection service does not agree with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, the operator of the warehouse shall have a right to appeal to the Business Conduct Committee of the Board of Trade. If on such appeal the Business Conduct Committee shall agree with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, the Business Conduct Committee shall so notify the Registrar of the Board of Trade, and the warehouse receipts covering the above specified lot or lots of grain shall no longer be regular for delivery on Board of Trade future contracts. Upon receiving such notice, either from the grain inspection service, or from the Business Conduct Committee, the Registrar shall notify the holder, or holders, or their agents, together with the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, of the total quantity of the grade of grain in question (selecting the oldest registered warehouse receipt for such grain first, then such additional registered warehouse receipts in the order of their issuance as may be necessary to equal such total quantity of grain). When this information reaches the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee he shall appoint a Committee consisting of five disinterested handlers of cash grain, which Committee shall meet at once and after taking into consideration various factors that establish the value of the grade of the receipts held by such owner or owners, shall determine the fair value of the grain, which price shall be that to be paid by the operator. If the price offered is not satisfactory, a Committee appointed by the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee (at the request of such owner), shall procure other offers for such grain, and such offers shall be immediately reported to the owner or his agent. If the owner refuses to accept any such offers, he shall have the two following business days to order and furnish facilities for loading such grain out of store, and during this period the warehouseman shall be obliged to deliver the grain called for by the warehouse receipts, but not more than three (3) days may elapse after notification by the Registrar to the holder of the receipt before satisfactory disposition shall have been made of the grain, either by sale to the operator or by the ordering out and furnishing facilities to load the same, provided the amount of such grain does not exceed 100,000 bushels in any one elevator. If the amount of grain in question exceeds 100,000 bushels, the owner, or owners, of the warehouse receipts shall be allowed forty-eight hours of grace over and above the before mentioned three days for each 100,000 bushels in excess of the first 100,000 bushels.

(c) In the event that the holder of the warehouse receipt, or his agent, fails to move the grain or make other satisfactory disposition of same within the prescribed time, it shall be held for his account, and any loss in grade sustained shall likewise be for his account.

(d) Nothing in the foregoing provisions shall be construed as prohibiting the warehouseman from fulfilling contracts from other stocks under his control.

(7) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse shall promptly, by the proper publication, advise the trade and the public of any damage to grain held in store by it, whenever such damage shall occur to an extent that will render it unwilling to purchase and withdraw from store, at its own cost, all such damaged grain.

(8) The Board shall be assured that the operator or manager of the warehouse or shipping station will agree to conform to Regulation 1049.03.

(9) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse shall permit the Exchange, at any time, to examine the books and records of the warehouse, for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of all kinds of grain which may be on hand at any time. The Exchange shall have the authority to determine the quantity of grain in the elevators and to compare the books and records of the warehouse with the records of the Exchange.

(10) The proprietor or manager of a regular warehouse or shipping station shall give assurance that all grain received in and shipped out of such warehouse shall be weighed under the supervision of an agency approved by the Exchange.

(11) The warehouseman or shipper operating such warehouses or shipping stations shall not engage in unethical or inequitable practices, and shall comply with all applicable federal or state statutes, rules or regulations.

All warehousemen and shippers are and shall be and remain subject to the Rules, Regulations and Rulings of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago on all subjects and in all areas with respect to which the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not assert jurisdiction pursuant to the U.S. Warehouse Act, as amended.

A regular warehouseman or an owner of warehouse receipts can make delivery in a strike bound elevator. The taker of delivery is liable for all storage charges. However, where the owner of warehouse receipts in a strike bound elevator delivered against futures contracts has a bona fide bid for like receipts in a strike free elevator and decides to load the grain out or sell his receipts, the strike bound warehouseman has the option:

(a) to provide that same quantity and like quality of grain in store in another regular warehouse, not on strike, in the same delivery market, or

(b) to provide that same quantity and like quality of grain in store at another location on mutually acceptable terms, or

(c) if no initial agreement can be reached as provided above, the strike bound warehouseman must buy his warehouse receipts back at the bid price in store for that same quantity and like quality of grain in a strike free elevator in the same delivery market or he has the alternative of proceeding as in (a) above. The bid (which must be a basis bid versus futures) referred to in this paragraph must be good for a minimum period of one hour and must be tendered in writing to the strike bound warehouseman between 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. on a business day and prior to 8:30 a.m., but not before 7:30 a.m., on the following business day.

The warehouseman must respond to the bid as outlined above within the time period during which the bid is alive.

Should the warehouseman question the validity of the bid, the question shall be referred to a Standing Committee which shall have been appointed on an annual basis by the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board. The Committee shall consist of three members including one regular warehouseman with suitable alternates. In case the strike bound elevator involved is in a market other than that directly represented by the warehouseman appointed, the Chairman may designate a member in said alternate market who is familiar with cash grain values in that market. The sole duty of the Committee shall be to determine that the bid is bona fide. The Committee shall not express any opinion with respect to the economics of the bid.

Within the context of this Regulation, a strike bound elevator is defined as the facility itself being on strike.

The maximum load-out charge on wheat and oats which has been tendered in satisfaction of the Board of Trade futures contracts shall be 6 cents per bushel.

The maximum premium for FOB conveyance on Corn and Soybean Shipping Certificates which have been tendered in satisfaction of Board of Trade futures contracts shall be 4 cents per bushel.

All fees for stevedoring services to load Corn and Soybeans into barges are to be paid by the issuer of the Corn or Soybean Shipping Certificate.

The premium for FOB conveyance is payable at the time of invoice.

(12) Load-Out Procedures.

A. Load-Out Procedures Grains -

1. Corn and Soybeans; Wheat from Chicago, Burns Harbor and St. Louis; and Oats from Chicago and Burns Harbor. An operator of a regular facility has the obligation of loading grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates giving preference to takers of delivery. When an operator of a facility regular for the delivery of grain receives one or more written loading orders for loading of grain against canceled warehouse receipts or shipping certificates, the operator shall begin loading against them within 3 business days following their receipt. When loadings against written loading orders cannot be completed on the fourth business day following their receipt, the operator shall continue loading against such loading orders on each business day thereafter. All warehousemen and shippers shall outload grain against canceled delivery instruments consecutively without giving preference of the type of delivery instrument, kind of grain or mode of transportation. He shall outload all such products in the order in which suitable transportation, clean and ready to load is constructively placed at his facility by the holder of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate, pursuant to bona fide loading orders previously received, and at the loading rates provided in part B of this Regulation.

2. Wheat from Toledo and Oats from Minneapolis-St. Paul - All warehousmen shall inload and outload all agricultural products consecutively without giving preference to the products owned by him over the products of others, and without giving preference to one depositor over another. He shall inload all such products consecutively in the order in which they arrive at his warehouse, pursuant to the inloading orders previously received so far as the warehouse capacity for grain and grade permits. He shall outload all such product s in the order in which suitable transportation, clean and ready to load is constructively placed at his warehouse by the holder of the warehouse receipt, pursuant to bona fide outloading orders previously received, except as provided in part B of this Regulation.

3. It shall be the responsibility of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder to supply suitable transportation. Hopper cars shall be considered suitable transportation if they can be sampled by pelican in a manner approved by the appropriate grain sampling agency. Trucks and non-suitable hopper cars may be loaded only with the express agreement of the warehouseman.

Constructive placement at a warehouse or shipping station shall be defined as follows:

(1) Rail cars-as defined in the appropriate Railroad Freight Tariff on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission;

(2) Barges-Positioned at an appropriate fleeting service serving the designated delivery point as defined by the Barge Freight Trading Rules (Affreightment) of the National Grain and Feed Association;

(3) Vessels-In possession of the appropriate Federal Grain Inspection Service and/or National Cargo Bureau documents certifying readiness to accept load-out at the designated delivery point.

It shall be the responsibility of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder to request the warehouseman to arrange for all necessary Federal Grain Inspection Service and stevedoring service. The warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder may specify the stevedoring service to be called. The warehouseman shall not be held responsible for non-availability of these services.

B. Load-Out Rates for Grain - In the event a regular grain warehouse or shipping station receives written loading orders for load-out of grain against canceled warehouse receipts or shipping certificates, the warehouseman or shipper shall be required to load out grain beginning on the third business day following receipt of such loading orders or on the day after a conveyance of the type identified in the loading orders is constructively placed, whichever occurs later. The rate of load-out for warehouses in Toledo and Minneapolis-St. Paul shall be at the normal rate of load-out for the facility. The load-out rate for warehouses, shipping stations in Chicago and Burns Harbor and for wheat warehouses in St. Louis shall depend on the conveyance and type of grain being loaded and shall not be less than the following per business day:

	Rail Conveyance or Water Conveyance
	(When receipt holder requests in writing individual weights and grades per car load)	(When receipt holder requests in writing batch weights and grades)/1/	Vessel or	Barge
Wheat, Corn, Soybeans	25 Hopper Cars	35 Hopper Cars	300,000 Bushels	3 Barges
Oats	15 Hopper Cars	20 Hopper Cars	180,000 Bushels	2 Barges

/1/ A batch weight and grade shall refer to a buyer's request in writing for 1 weight and 1 grade per 5 rail cars.

Barge load-out rates for corn and soybeans will be at the shipping station's registered daily rate of loading. When wheat and corn or soybeans or when oats and corn or soybeans are in the lineup for loading, the higher loading rate will apply for total barge loadings on that day. However, a warehouseman or shipper is not obligated to load barges of one type of grain that exceeds the daily barge loading rate for that type of grain. Corn and soybeans are considered one type of grain for this regulation pertaining to barge loading rates.

Regular grain warehouses and shipping stations shall not be required to meet these minimum load-out rates when transportation has not been actually placed at the warehouse, transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, a condition of force majeure exists, inclement weather, including severe ice conditions, prevents loading, or stevedoring services are not available in the case of water conveyance. However, the exceptions to load-out requirements shall not include grains or soybeans which have not made grade. If precluded from loading when equipment is available, the warehouseman/shipper shall notify the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day.

In addition, regular warehouses in Toledo and Minneapolis-St. Paul shall not be required to meet the minimum load-out rate for a conveyance when a "like" conveyance has been constructively placed for load-in prior to the "like" conveyance for load-out. However, when a conveyance for load-out is constructively placed after a "like" conveyance for load-in, the warehouse will load-in grain from the "like" conveyance at the normal rate of load-in for the facility. This rate of load-in shall depend on the conveyance(s) being unloaded and shall not be less than the following minimums per business day:

	Rail Conveyance or Water Conveyance
		Vessel or	Barge
Wheat, Corn, Soybeans	35 Hopper Cars	50,000 Bushels	1 Barge
Oats	20 Hopper Cars	50,000 Bushels	1 Barge

Regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-in rates when a condition of force majeure exists, inspection services are not available, inclement weather prevents unloading, or stevedoring services are not available in the case of water conveyance.

Any increased overtime costs and charges for trimming and FGIS to meet minimum load-out requirements shall be borne by warehouseman.

Vessel loading shall require 3 days pre-advice to warehouseman prior to the date of arrival of the vessel. Failure to provide pre advice may delay loading by the same number of days pre-advice is delayed prior to date of arrival of the vessel.

Inability of a warehouse receipt holder to provide conveyance at an elevator in a timely manner will affect load-out of barges accordingly.

For purposes of this regulation, vessel and barge are "like" conveyances.

C. Notification to Warehouse/Shippers - The warehouse operator or shipping station shall load-in and load-out grains in the order and manner provided in parts A and B of this Regulation, except that his obligation to load-out grain to a given party shall commence no sooner than three business days after he receives cancelled warehouse receipts/shipping certificates and written loading orders from such party, even if such party may have a conveyance positioned to accept load-out of grain before that time. If the party taking delivery presents transportation equipment of a different type (rail, barge, or vessel) than that specified in the loading orders, he is required to provide the warehouse operator with new loading orders, and the warehouse operator shall be obligated to load-out grain to such party no sooner than three business days after he receives the new loading orders. Written loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on a given business day shall be deemed to be received on the following business day. Warehouse receipts/shipping certificates cancelled after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to be cancelled on the following business day. Written loading orders must be received no later than two business days after warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled. If the owner decides against loading out grain within two business days after receipts/certificates are cancelled, he may notify the warehouseman/ shipper that warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are to be re-issued. In the case of rice, oats, or wheat, if the warehouseman is notified by 12:00 noon, re-issue receipts shall be deliverable by 4:00 p.m. the following business day. Requests to re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

The warehouseman/shipper shall transmit to the Registrar by 11:00 a.m. the name, location of warehouse/shipping facility, and number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed that day. The Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of delivery vessels/ barges/rail cars constructively placed and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website.

D. Storage and Premium Charges - Storage payments on wheat and oats to be shipped pursuant to loading orders shall cease on the tenth business day after suitable transportation is constructively placed for load-out or loading is complete, whichever is earlier. Premium charges for corn and soybeans to be shipped pursuant to loading orders shall cease on the business day loading is complete.

E. Records - All warehousemen and shippers shall keep adequate permanent records showing compliance with the requirements of this Regulation. Such records shall at all times be open for inspection by the designated official or officials of the contract market.

F. Certification of Corn, Soybeans and Wheat - Upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of corn, soybeans or wheat against canceled warehouse receipts/shipping certificates, the delivery warehouseman/shipper shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the grain is of U.S. origin only.

G. Barge Load-Out Procedures for Corn and Soybeans - When corn or soybeans represented by shipping certificates are ordered out for shipment by water conveyance, the regular shipper has the obligation to load-out grain at his registered daily rate of loading. The shipper's obligation shall begin to a party no sooner than 3 business days after he receives canceled certificates and written loading orders from the party or 1 business day after the constructive placement of the water conveyance, whichever is later.

(1) All loading orders and shipping instructions received by 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. To be "nominated" (TBN) barge identities are acceptable in loading orders. Load-out shall be in the order in which barge equipment clean and ready to load is constructively placed at the appropriate fleeting service serving the designated delivery point. Load-out of transportation constructively placed on the same day shall be in the order in which loading orders and shipping instructions were received. Notification of loading orders and shipping instructions must be in writing to the shipper.

(2) When loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. on any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of the scheduled loading dates. Scheduled loading dates are estimated based on constructively placed equipment and current loading orders. These dates are subject to change if conditions covered in Regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(5) preclude the shipper from meeting his minimum daily barge load-out rate or if barges for subsequent loading orders are constructively placed. Notification will be by telephone, mail, or fax to the owner. Shipper is required to provide scheduled loading dates at owner's request.

(3) Official grades as loaded into the water conveyance shall govern for delivery purposes.

(4) Official weights as loaded into the barge shall govern for delivery purposes when available. When official weights are available at the shipping station, the shipping certificates are considered a minimum/maximum quantity with overfills/underfills settled by mutual agreement. When official weights as loaded into the barge are not available, it is the responsibility of the taker to obtain official weights at the destination. Any other governing weights and methods of obtaining weights and any such other information on the weighing process must be mutually accepted by the maker and taker of delivery before the barge is loaded. When the official weight becomes known for a barge, overfills and underfills will be settled on the market value, expressed as a basis, for grain FOB barge at the barge loading station on the day that the grain is loaded. Before the barge is loaded, the taker and maker of delivery will agree on a basis over or under the nearby futures that overfills and underfills will be settled on. On the day that the weight tolerance becomes known to both parties, the flat price settlement will be established by applying the basis to the nearby futures month settlement price on the day of unloading or the day of loading if origin weights are used. If the day of unloading is the last trading day in the nearby futures month, the next following futures month will be used for settlement. If the day of unload is not a business day, the next following business day will be used to establish the flat price. In order to convert the agreed upon basis on the day that the grain was loaded to a basis relative to the current nearby futures month, the futures spread on the day of loading will be used, provided that, the nearby futures did not close outside of the price limits set for all other futures months. In this case, the spread on the first following business day that the nearby futures closed within the price limits applicable for all other futures months would be used.

(5) The shipper shall not be required to meet his minimum daily barge load-out rate when transportation has not been actually placed at the shipping station, transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, or inclement weather, including severe ice conditions, prevents loading. However, the exceptions to load-out requirements shall not include corn or soybeans that have not made grade. If precluded from loading when equipment is available, the shipper shall notify the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day. Notification shall be by telephone, e-mail or fax to the owner.

(6) For Illinois Waterway barge loading at Burns Harbor, Regulation 1081.01(13)(A.)(a) pertaining to the protection of the Chicago barge rate and inclement weather will apply.

(7) Any expense for making the grain available for loading on the Illinois Waterway will be borne by the party making delivery, provided that the taker of delivery constructively places barge equipment clean and ready to load within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway. If the taker's barges are not constructively placed within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway, the taker shall pay the shipper an amount not to exceed 30/100 of one cent per bushel per day multiplied by the number of calendar days from the fifth business day following the scheduled loading date to the date that the barge is constructively placed, including both dates, but excluding business days the shipper meets his minimum daily barge load-out rate. Requests to cancel loading instructions and re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

(8) The shipper shall load water conveyance at the shipping station designated in the Shipping Certificate. If it becomes impossible to load at the designated shipping station for three (3) consecutive business days because of an Act of God, fire, flood, wind, explosion, war, embargo, civil commotion, sabotage, law, act of government, labor difficulties or other conditions of force majeure, the shipper will arrange for water conveyance to be loaded at another regular shipping station in conformance with the Shipping Certificate and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping station. If the aforementioned condition of impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping stations, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping stations. If conditions covered in this regulation make it impossible to load at the designated shipping station, the shipper shall notify the Registrar's Office in writing of such condition within 24 hours of when the condition of impossibility began.

(9) See Regulation C1081.01(12)G(9)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Corn futures contracts.

See Regulation S1081.01(12)G(9)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Soybean futures contracts.

(10) In the event less than eleven shipping certificates of a like grade/quality are outstanding at a shipping station the owner of all such outstanding shipping certificates may cancel the shipping certificates and obligate the shipper to provide a market value at which the shipper will either buy back all the canceled shipping certificates or sell the balance of Corn or Soybeans of a like grade/quality to complete a barge loading of at least 55,000 bushels, the choice being at the discretion of the taker of delivery.

A. Corn. See Regulation C1081.01(13)-Location for Corn futures contracts.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Switching District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for barge loadings for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved from the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the warehouse receipts or shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of warehouse receipts or shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

See Regulation C1081.01(13)-Location for Corn futures contracts.

B. Oats. For the delivery of oats, regular warehouses may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District (subject to the provisions of paragraph A above) or within the Minneapolis, Minnesota or St. Paul, Minnesota Switching Districts.

Delivery in the Minneapolis or St. Paul Switching District must be made "in store" in regular elevators providing barge-loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the average draft of the current barge loadings in the Minneapolis and St. Paul barge-loading districts.

However, deliveries of oats may be made in interior off-water elevators within the Minneapolis or St. Paul Switching District, PROVIDED that the party making delivery makes the oats available upon call within seven calendar days to load into a barge at one river location in the Minneapolis or St. Paul barge-loading district. The party making delivery must declare, within one business day after receiving warehouse receipts and loading orders, the river location at which the oats will be made available. Any additional expense incurred to move delivery oats from an off-water elevator into barges shall be borne by the party making delivery; PROVIDED that the party taking delivery presents barge equipment clean and ready to load within fifteen calendar days from the time warehouse receipts and loading orders are tendered to the delivering party.

Official weights and official grades as loaded into the barge shall govern for delivery purposes.

C. Wheat. For the delivery of wheat, regular warehouses may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District (subject to the provisions of Paragraph A above), within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District, or with respect to only No. 1 Soft Red Winter and No. 2 Soft Red Winter Wheat, within the St. Louis-East St. Louis or Alton Switching Districts.

Delivery in Toldeo must be made "in store" in regular elevators providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

However, deliveries of wheat may be made in off-water elevators within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District PROVIDED that the party making delivery makes the grain available upon call within five calendar days to load into water equipment at one water location within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District. The party making delivery must declare within one business day after receiving warehouse receipts and loading orders the water location at which wheat will be made available.

Any additional expense incurred to move delivery grain from an off-water elevator into water facilities shall be borne by the party making delivery; PROVIDED that the party taking delivery presents water equipment clean and ready to load within fifteen calendar days from the time the grain has been made available.

Official weights and official grades as loaded into the water equipment shall govern for delivery purposes.

Delivery in the St. Louis-East St. Louis or Alton Switching Districts must be "in store" in regular elevators providing barge loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the average draft of the current barge loadings in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton barge loading districts.

D. Soybeans. See Regulation S1081.01(13)-Location for Soybean futures contracts.

(14) Billing

A. Wheat, Corn, Soybeans and Oats (Chicago delivery). The Chicago warehouseman is not required to furnish transit billing on grain represented by warehouse receipt deliveries in Chicago, Illinois. Delivery shall be flat.

B. Oats (Minneapolis, St. Paul delivery).

(1) When oats represented by warehouse receipts delivered in Minneapolis or St. Paul are ordered out for shipment by rail, it shall be the obligation of seller to furnish, no later than when cars are placed or constructively placed at the elevator, to the party taking delivery, inbound Freight Bills (rail tonnage or order equivalent truck or barge tonnage) protecting the applicable proportional rate applicable to Chicago from the warehouse in which the grain is located. The Freight Bills shall be for the kind and quantity of the commodity designated by the warehouse receipt and must permit such commodity to be shipped at the minimum proportional rate applicable to Chicago effective as of the date of shipment from point of origin shown by the Freight Bill.

(a) Delivery at Minneapolis. When delivery is made at an elevator within the Minneapolis Switching District, such Freight Bills must permit one further free transit stop at interior transit points or be accompanied by a check to cover one such transit stop.

(b) Delivery at St. Paul. When delivery is made at an elevator within the St. Paul Switching District, such Freight Bills must permit one further free transit stop at interior transit points, or be accompanied by a check to cover such transit stop, and in addition must also permit movement to industries within the switching limits of Minneapolis at no greater cost than the maximum switching charges between industries located with the switching limits of Minneapolis.

(2) In lieu of the Freight Bills or order equivalent tonnage specified above, seller may furnish to the party taking delivery "short-rate" Freight Bills or make compensation as specified in Section (b).

(a) "Short-rate" Freight Bills (which otherwise conform to the requirements of this Regulation). "Short-rate" Freight Bills shall be accompanied by a certified check, or other acceptable payment, in an amount equal to the difference between the freight charges which would be incurred in shipping the quantity of the commodity from Minneapolis to Chicago (based on the proportional rate applicable in connection with such "short-rate" Freight Bills) and the freight charges for such shipment based on the minimum proportional tariff rate applicable in connection with Freight Bills other than "short-rate" Freight Bills showing shipment from points of origin as of the same date as the "short-rate" Freight Bills furnished.

(b) Compensation in Lieu of Freight Bills or order equivalent tonnage. A certified check or other acceptable payment may be substituted for Freight Bills provided it is in an amount equal to the difference between the freight charges which would be incurred in shipping the commodity from Minneapolis to Chicago based on the flat tariff rate effective as of the date of loading for rail shipment and the charges for such shipment based on the minimum proportional tariff rate effective as of the same date.

(3) Due Bills issued by the Western Weighing and Inspection Bureau may be used when necessary in lieu of Freight Bills that conform to the provisions of this Regulation. Such Due Bills may be surrendered by the seller to the party loading out delivery grain by rail when such Freight Bills are not yet available because of the unloading of the commodity into an elevator during the last few days of the delivery month or on the delivery of "Track" grain. Such Due Bills shall specify the date, origin and rate of the Freight Bills in lieu of which they are issued and shall be completely filled out except for the signature.

(4) The term Freight Bills as used in this Regulation means the recorded inbound paid Freight Bills, authorized duplicates thereof, or tonnage credit slips, conforming to the rules and regulations of Western Trunk Line Tariff No. 331-Z, Fred Ofcky, Agent, ICC No. A-4774, amendments thereto or reissues thereof.

C. Wheat (Toledo and St. Louis delivery). The warehouseman is not required to furnish transit billing on wheat represented by warehouse receipts delivery in Toledo, Ohio, St. Louis, Missouri, East St. Louis, Illinois, or Alton, Illinois. Delivery shall be flat.

D. Corn See Regulation C1081.01(14)-Billing for Corn futures contracts.

E. Soybeans See Regulation S1081.01(14)-Billing for Soybean futures contracts.

F. Wheat, Corn, Soybeans and Oats (Burns Harbor Delivery). When grain represented by warehouse receipts delivered in Burns Harbor is ordered out for shipment by rail, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the Chicago rail rate, if lower, which would apply to the owner's destination had a like kind and quantity of grain designated on warehouse receipts been loaded out and shipped from a regular warehouse located in the Chicago Switching District. If grain is loaded out and shipped to an industry in the Chicago Switching District, the party making delivery will protect the minimum, crosstown switch charge in the Chicago Switching District.

When rail loading orders are submitted, the party taking delivery shall state in writing if he elects to receive the applicable rail rates from Burns Harbor or Chicago. If the party taking delivery specifies Burns Harbor, the party making delivery will load rail cars at the Burns Harbor warehouse and will not be required to protect the Chicago rates.

If the party taking delivery specifies Chicago rates, the party making delivery will declare on the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by rail, the warehouse at which the grain will be made available, which is operated by the party making delivery and is located either in the Burns Harbor or the Chicago Switching Districts. If the declared warehouse is located in the Chicago Switching District, the party making delivery will provide only that billing specified in Regulation 1081.01(14)A.

However, if the declared warehouse is located in Burns Harbor and the rail rate from Chicago or the minimum Chicago crosstown switch charge requires protection, the party making delivery will compensate the party taking delivery. The compensation shall be in an amount equivalent to the difference of the freight charges from Burns Harbor and the freight charges which would be applicable had the grain been loaded at and shipped from a warehouse located in the Chicago Switching District to the owner's destination.

(15) Persons operating regular warehouses or shipping stations shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a warehouse's or shipper's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

(16) Persons operating regular warehouses or shipping stations shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse or shipping station was regular.

(17) The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses or shipping stations for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses or shipping stations, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses or shipping stations meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts or shipping certificates issued by such warehouses or shipping stations, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in the relevant market, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (08/01/04)

1081.01A Inspection - Chicago Elevators - Any Grain Warehouses in Chicago, regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations of the Association, shall require inbound and outbound inspections as mandated by the U.S. Grain Standards Act and/or the U.S. Warehouse Act.

Nothing herein shall negate the rights of persons shipping grain into or out of such Warehouses to request and obtain on such grain official sample lot inspections as defined in the U.S. Grain Standards Act, and such inspections or any appeal therefrom, shall be the settlement grade.

When grain is delivered in satisfaction of warehouse or shipping certificate, receipts, the holder of the warehouse receipts or shipping certificates shall be entitled to an official sample lot inspection as defined in the U.S. Grain Standards Act unless otherwise agreed. 3R (03/01/00)

1081.01B Billing When Grain is Loaded Out - The Board makes the following interpretations:

1. Is it then the obligation of the operator of the elevator to have such billing on hand backing all deliveries -or only (as the Regulation seems to state) when such grain is loaded out?

   The Regulations are explicit in stating that billing need be available when such grain is loaded out. The warehouseman makes the decision and takes the risk at the time of delivery and any time until the grain is ordered loaded if he does not have billing.

2. What is meant by equities?

   Equities are defined in the Regulation and do not include values occasioned by changes in freight rates as they would apply to the outboard movement. 43R (09/01/94)

1081.01C Car of Specified Capacity - Where a seller of an 80,000 Ib. capacity car shows conclusively that an 80,000 Ib. capacity car was ordered, and the railroad for its own convenience provided a 100,000 Ib. capacity car, the basis for settlement should be the same as though an 80,000 Ib. capacity car had been supplied. 14R (09/01/94)

1082.00 Insurance - Grain covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery must be insured against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Board of Directors. It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular warehouses to furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected. 292 (08/01/96)

1082.00A Insurance - The warehouseman shall insure grain and soybeans covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against the contingencies provided for in the standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquakes). (09/01/94)

1083.00 Variation Allowed - Deliveries of grain in store may vary not more than one percent from the quantity contracted for: provided, however, that no lot in any one warehouse shall contain less than 5,000 bushels of any one grade. 291 (09/01/94)

1083.01 Excess or Deficiency in Quantity - In the load-out of grain from an elevator or warehouse, the quantity of gross grain covered by the warehouse receipt shall be loaded out, and any excess or deficiency between the quantity of net grain loaded out and the quantity of net grain covered by the warehouse receipt shall be paid for to or by (as the case may be) the elevator or warehouse proprietor or manager at the average market price on the day of load-out: the buyer to pay storage on the net weight covered by the warehouse receipt. In the event that in the final out-turn there is a shortage in the gross quantity called for in the receipt, the net quantity of grain required by the receipt shall be the factor in settlement, and any variation therefrom in the net amount of grain loaded out against the receipt shall be paid for by the elevator or warehouse proprietor or manager to the owner of the receipt at the average market price on the day of load-out. In the load-out of grain the gross quantity of grain, which includes dockage shall not exceed the net quantity by more than one percent.

1084.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular warehouse or shipper may be declared by the Business Conduct Committee, or pursuant to Regulation 540.10, the Hearing Committee to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth. If the designation of a warehouse or shipper as regular shall be revoked, a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts or certificates issued by such house or shipper shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts under the Rules and Regulations.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding warehouse or shipping certificates receipts shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt or shipping certificate chooses not to take load-out during this period, the facility must provide him with another warehouse receipt or shipping certificate at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse or shipping station, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such warehouse receipt or shipping certificate is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with an equivalent quantity and quality of the grain designated in the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate at a mutually acceptable location. 1621 (03/01/00)

1085.01 Application for Declaration of Regularity - All applications by operators of warehouses for a declaration of regularity under Regulation 1081.01 shall be on the following form:

Chicago, Illinois

_____(hereinafter called the "Warehouseman") owner/lessee*
(Warehouseman Name) (Circle one) of a warehouse located at_____ hereby (Address, City, State, Zip)
submits this application to the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (hereinafter called "Exchange") for a Declaration of Regularity to issue Warehouse Receipts for delivery of _____ upon contracts
(List Wheat, Oats, or both)
for future delivery for a period beginning on July 1, 20__ and ending Midnight June 30, 20__.

The Warehouseman has a storage capacity of_____ bushels of grain. If multiple warehouses exist at the location listed above, please indicate the name of the elevator.

Name of Elevator:_____.

*Please include a copy of the lease or service agreement with application.

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other applicable conditions specified in Regulation 1081.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Warehouseman must:

(1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

(2) submit to the Exchange a tariff listing in detail the rates for the handling and storage of grain; submit promptly to the Exchange all changes in such tariff; and publish and display such tariff.

The maximum storage rates on Wheat and Oats shall not exceed the storage rates defined in Regulation 1056.01. The maximum load-out charge shall not exceed the load-out charge defined in Regulation 1081.01(11).

(3) remove no CBOT registered Wheat and/or Oats from the warehouse unless the warehouse receipts have been previously cancelled by the Registrar's Office.

(4) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or of any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the warehouse.

(5) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Exchange of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) may require; and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

(6) insure against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

(7) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/, every even year.

(8) if the Warehouse leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service agreement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, Warehouseman remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

2. The Warehouse must be:

(1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

(2) Equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious handling of grains in bulk.

3. The Warehouse and Warehouseman must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

AGREEMENTS OF WAREHOUSEMAN

The Warehouseman expressly agrees:

(1) that all grain tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be weighted by an Official Weigher. An Official Weigher shall be a person or agency approved by the Exchange.

(2) that all warehouse receipts to be tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(3) to abide by all of the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the warehousing of commodities deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1081.01, as applicable.

(4) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the Warehouseman's behalf in matters pertaining to Warehouse Receipts.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Warehouseman's declaration of regularity, if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6, and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Warehouseman or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(8) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Warehouseman was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1081.01 (17), the Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1081.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of the Wheat or Oats futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Wheat or Oats, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

C1081.01 Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates -Persons operating grain warehouses or shippers who desire to have such warehouses or shipping stations made regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for a two-year term beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular grain warehouses or shippers who desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted on the floor or the exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

The following shall constitute the requirements and conditions for regularity:

(1) The warehouse or shipping station making application shall be inspected by the Registrar or the United States Department of Agriculture. Where application is made to list as regular a warehouse which is not regular at the time of such application, the applicant may be required to remove all grain from the warehouse and to permit the warehouse to be inspected and the grain graded, after which such grain may be returned to the warehouse and receipts issued therefor.

The operator of a shipping station issuing Corn Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not to exceed:

(a) 20 times his registered total daily rate of loading barges, or in the case of Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching Districts, his registered storage capacity,

(b) and a value greater than 50 percent of the operator's net worth.

The shipper issuing Corn Shipping Certificates shall register his total daily rate of loading barges at his maximum 8 hour loadout capacity in amount not less than:

(a) one barge per day at each shipping station within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District, within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District, within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District, within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District, and within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts, and

(b) three barges per day at each shipping station in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District.

(2) Shippers located in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

C1081.01(3) through C1081.01(12)G(8) - (see 1081.01(3) through 1081.01(12)G(8))

C1081.01(12)G(9) In the event that it has been announced, by the U.S. Coast Guard, after consulting with the Army Corps of Engineers and the River Industry Action Committee, that river traffic will be obstructed for a period of fifteen days or longer as a result of one of the conditions of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) and in the event that the obstruction will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, then the following barge load-out procedures for Corn shall apply to shipping stations upriver from the obstruction:

(a) The maker and taker of delivery may negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance.

(b) If the maker and/or the taker elect not to negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance, then the maker is obligated to provide the same quantity and like quality of grain pursuant to the terms of the shipping certificate(s) with the following exceptions and additional requirements:

(i) The maker must provide loaded barge(s) to the taker on the Illinois River between the lowest closed lock and St. Louis, inclusive, or on the Mid-Mississippi River between Lock 11 at Dubuque, Iowa and St. Louis, inclusive.

(ii) The loaded barge(s) provided to the taker must have a value equivalent to C.I.F. NOLA, with the maker of delivery responsible for the equivalent cost, insurance and freight.

(iii) The taker of delivery shall pay the maker 18 cents per bushel for Chicago and Burns Harbor Switching District shipping certificates, 16 cents per bushel for Lockport-Seneca District shipping certificates, 15 1/2 cents per bushel for Ottawa-Chillicothe District shipping certificates, and 15 cents per bushel for Peoria-Pekin District shipping certificates, as a reimbursement for the cost of barge freight.

(c) In the event that the obstruction or condition of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, but no announcement of the anticipated period of obstruction is made, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails.

C1081.01(13) Location - For the delivery of Corn, regular warehouses or shipping stations may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Switching District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for barge loadings for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved from the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse or shipping station in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

Delivery within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Illinois River maintained by the Corps of Engineers.

Ch10S Regularity of Issuers of Shipping

S1081.01 Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates - Persons operating grain warehouses or shippers who desire to have such warehouses or shipping stations made regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for a two-year term beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular grain warehouses or shippers who desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted on the floor or the exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

The following shall constitute the requirements and conditions for regularity:

(1) The warehouse or shipping station making application shall be inspected by the Registrar or the United States Department of Agriculture. Where application is made to list as regular a warehouse which is not regular at the time of such application, the applicant may be required to remove all grain from the warehouse and to permit the warehouse to be inspected and the grain graded, after which such grain may be returned to the warehouse and receipts issued therefor.

The operator of a shipping station issuing Soybean Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not to exceed:

(a) 20 times his registered total daily rate of loading barges, or in the case of Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching Districts, his registered storage capacity,

(b) and a value greater than 50 percent of the operator's net worth.

The shipper issuing Soybean Shipping Certificates shall register his total daily rate of loading barges at his maximum 8 hour loadout capacity in amount not less than:

(a) one barge per day at each shipping station within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District, within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District, within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District, within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District, and within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts, and

(b) three barges per day at each shipping station in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District.

(2) Shippers located in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

S1081.01(3) through S1081.01(12)G(8) - (see 1081.01(3) through 1081.01(12)G(8))

S1081.01(12)G(9) In the event that it has been announced, by the U.S. Coast Guard, after consulting with the Army Corps of Engineers and the River Industry Action Committee, that river traffic will be obstructed for a period of fifteen days or longer as a result of one of the conditions of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) and in the event that the obstruction will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, then the following barge load-out procedures for soybeans shall apply to shipping stations upriver from the obstruction:

(a) The maker and taker of delivery may negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance.

(b) If the maker and/or the taker elect not to negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance, then the maker is obligated to provide the same quantity and like quality of grain pursuant to the terms of the shipping certificate(s) with the following exceptions and additional requirements:

(i) The maker must provide loaded barge(s) to the taker on the Illinois River between the lowest closed lock and St. Louis, inclusive, or on the Mid-Mississippi River between Lock 11 at Dubuque, Iowa and St. Louis, inclusive.

(ii) The loaded barge(s) provided to the taker must have a value equivalent to C.I.F. NOLA, with the maker of delivery responsible for the equivalent cost, insurance and freight.

(iii) The taker of delivery shall pay the maker 18 cents per bushel for Chicago and Burns Harbor Switching District shipping certificates, 16 cents per bushel for Lockport-Seneca District shipping certificates, 15 1/2 cents per bushel for Ottawa-Chillicothe District shipping certificates, 15 cents per bushel for Peoria-Pekin District shipping certificates, and 14 1/2 cents per bushel for Havana-Grafton District shipping certificates as a reimbursement for the cost of barge freight.

(c) In the event that the obstruction or condition of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, but no announcement of the anticipated period of obstruction is made, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails.

S1081.01(13) Location - For the delivery of Soybeans, regular warehouses or shipping stations may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District or in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Shipping District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for barge loadings for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved from the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse or shipping station in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

Delivery within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Illinois River maintained by the Corps of Engineers.

Delivery in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Mississippi River maintained by the Corps of Engineers.

mW1003.01 DERIVATIVE MARKETS - Settlement prices shall be set in accordance with this regulation consistent with the settlement prices of the primary market. Contract settlement prices shall be set equal to the settlement prices of the corresponding contracts of the primary market for such commodity. Where a particular contract has opened on the Exchange for which the primary market has established no settlement price, the Clearing Services Provider shall set a settlement price consistent with the spread relationships of other contracts; provided, however, that if the contract is not subject to daily price fluctuation limits then the settlement prices shall be set at the fair market value of the contract at the close of trading. (12/01/03)

mW1004.01 UNIT OF TRADING - On future delivery contracts calling for the delivery of wheat, delivery shall be made in 1,000 bushel units or multiples thereof. (04/01/03)

mW1006.01 PRICE BASIS - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of 1/8 cent per bushel. (04/01/03)

mW1007.01 HOURS OF TRADING - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT mini-sized Wheat futures shall be determined by the Board. (04/01/03)

mW1042.01 DELIVERIES BY WHEAT WAREHOUSE DEPOSITORY RECEIPTS - Deliveries of CBOT mini-sized Wheat shall be made by delivery of Warehouse Depository Receipts (WDR) created by the Exchange from registered warehouse receipts issued by warehousemen against stocks of wheat in warehouses which have been declared regular for delivery of wheat by the Exchange. In order to effect a valid delivery, each WDR must be properly endorsed by the holder making the delivery. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the WDR and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by an endorser, of performance by the warehouseman. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid on the commodity covered by the WDR, in accordance with Regulation 1056.01.

Warehouse Depository Receipts may not be cancelled for load-out. Upon the return of five (5) properly endorsed WDRs to the Exchange, and payment of all storage charges pertaining to the wheat represented, for which the Exchange claims a lien, a registered warehouse receipt will be delivered by the Exchange to the holder of the five (5) WDRs. (04/01/03) mW1042.02 REISSUANCE OF WAREHOUSE DEPOSITORY RECEIPTS - Warehouse Depository Receipts issued by the Exchange shall expire one year from the date of issue. Holders must return each Warehouse Depository Receipt to the Exchange for reissue, prior to expiration, in order for such Warehouse Depository Receipt to remain eligible for delivery. (04/01/03)

Soybean Oil

Chapter 11
Soybean Oil

Ch11 Trading Conditions

1101.00 Authority - On or after January 30, 1950, trading in Crude Soybean Oil futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. 801 (09/01/94)

1102.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Crude Soybean Oil futures shall be subject to the general rules of the association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the Regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in Crude Soybean Oil. 2000 (09/01/94)

1104.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for Crude Soybean Oil shall be 60,000 pounds. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of 60,000 pounds or multiples thereof. For trading purposes, one tank car shall be equivalent to 60,000 pounds. 2003 (09/01/94)

1105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Crude Soybean Oil may be conducted in the current month and any subsequent months. 2004 (09/01/94)

1106.01 Price Basis - All prices of Crude Soybean Oil shall be basis Decatur, Illinois in multiples of 1/100th of one cent per pound. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. 2005 (09/01/94)

1107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Crude Soybean Oil shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. except that on the last day of trading in an expiring future the hours with respect to such future shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Market shall be opened and closed with a public call made month by month, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. 2007 (09/01/94)

1109.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Crude Soybean Oil futures deliverable in the current month shall be made after the business day preceding the 15th calendar day of that month and any contracts remaining open may be settled by delivery after trading in such contracts has ceased; and, if not previously delivered, delivery must be made on the last business day of the month. 2008 (01/01/00)

1109.02 Trading in the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1109.01 of this Chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of (a bona fide) exchange of such current futures for the (actual) cash commodity or an over-the-counter transaction. 2009 (07/01/03)

1111.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. 2011 (09/01/94)

1112.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See 425.01) (09/01/94)

1136.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these Regulations shall be Crude Soybean Oil which conforms to the following specifications:

(a) It shall be one of the following types: Expeller pressed, expeller pressed degummed, solvent extracted, or solvent extracted degummed. Mixtures of one type with any other type shall not be deliverable;

(b) It shall contain not more than 0.3% moisture and volatile content;

(c) It shall be lighter in green color than Standard "A" and when refined and bleached shall produce a refined and bleached oil of not deeper color than 3.5 red on the Lovibond scale;

(d) It shall refine with a loss not exceeding 5% as determined by the "neutral oil" method;

(e) It shall have a flash point not below 250 degrees Fahrenheit, closed cup method;

(f) It shall contain no more than 1.5% unsaponifiable matter (exclusive of moisture and volatile matter).

No lower grade shall be delivered in satisfaction of contracts for future delivery. A higher grade may be delivered at contract price except that where the refining loss is less than 5% as determined by the "neutral oil" method, a premium of one percent of the cash market price at the time of loading shall be paid for each one percent under the 5% loss (fractions figured throughout) with a maximum credit of 41-2%.

American Oil Chemists' Society methods shall be followed for sampling and analysis for all tests, except for determining green color, which test shall be the National Soybean Processors Association tentative method.

A tolerance of 150 lbs. of sludge shall be allowed for each trading unit of 60,000 lbs. If the car contains more than 150 lbs. of sludge or if a truck contains more than 125 lbs. of sludge, an allowance shall be made to the Buyer for a total amount of sludge up to 1,000 lbs. at 50% of the price at time of unloading car. Sludge in excess of 1,000 lbs. shall be allowed for at the price at time of unloading car.

Sludge shall be considered to be solid residue which cannot be pumped and squeegeed from the car for the net out-turn weight. 2002 (09/01/94)

1136.02 United States Origin Only - Effective September 1, 1992, a futures contract for the sale of soybean oil shall be performed on the basis of United States origin only upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted. (09/01/94)

1137.01 Official Chemist's Certificates - Certificates for quality analysis by any Official Chemists shall be acceptable and binding on all parties except as otherwise provided.

The official chemists are Woodson-Tenent Laboratories with laboratories located at Memphis, Tenn. and Des Moines, Ia. and Barrow-Agee Laboratories, Memphis, Tenn. 2029 (10/01/01)

1138.01 Sampling - Samples shall be drawn at time of loading by Official Samplers licensed by the Exchange. The Official Sample shall be 2 one-quart and 1 half-gallon samples. These portions should be packaged in clean, dry and new containers. Either tinned metal containers or high density polyethylene bottles fitted with metal caps having oil resistant cap liners are acceptable. Polythylene containers must be enclosed for shipping in custom-made, close fitting cardboard containers. The sample must be drawn at the time of loading in accordance with A.O.C.S. Official Method for sampling crude oils (C1-47-Continuous Flow and Trier methods) and shall be so indicated on invoice. If the Shipper neglects to provide such a sample at the time of loading or fails to show on invoice than an Official Sample has been taken, a sample drawn at destination shall be official when taken in accordance with the A.O.C.S. Official Methods as noted above. Shipper shall forward to Consignee one of the one-quart portions at no expense to Consignee within one working day of completion of loading and label of sample must designate type of oil and plant destination. The one-half gallon portion (third portion) is to be retained by Shipper as the referee sample for a minimum of thirty days after loading.

Each sample must be accompanied by a certificate in the following form:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago

OFFICIAL SAMPLERS CERTIFICATE

I hereby certificate that sample marked_____was drawn by me on this_____day of_____, 20_____, within 24 hours after loading tank car or truck in accordance with the requirements of Regulation 1138.01 of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, and that it is a fair and true sample of the contents of:

Car/Truck No. (and initial)_____, located at_____ containing approximately_____pounds, of_____

(Expeller pressed. Expeller pressed degummed, Solvent Extracted,_____ _____type Crude Soybean Oil. Solvent Extracted Degummed)

1139.01 Weighing - On all deliveries, the weight as determined by an Official Weigher shall be binding on all interested parties. Due allowance shall be made to cover the loss of weight due to sampling, if sample is drawn from weighing. An official weigher is a person or agency approved by the Exchange. 2024 (09/01/94)

1140.01 Grading - Shipper shall have option, and advise warehouse receipt holder of his selection at time of receipt of loading instructions, of having grade determined by one of the following methods:

A. Official Chemist Analysis, shipper to pay the cost.

B. Comparison between consignee's and shipper's analyses.

1. Each party must mail to other party his analysis within 15 days after bill of lading date.

2. If parties do not agree as to quality (refining loss excepted) either one may request analysis by Official Chemist. The findings of the Official Chemist shall be binding on both parties and the cost of such analysis shall be charged to the party against whom the decision results.

3. In case of refining loss, based on the "neutral oil" method, if the difference is not over three tenths of one percent the settlement shall be made on the average of the two, otherwise the retained sample shall be sent to Official Chemist for analysis. If the Official Chemist's results are the mean of the shippers' and consignees' analyses, then the cost shall be shared equally; otherwise, the cost shall be charged to the party against whom the decision results. 2025 (09/01/94)

1141.01 Delivery Points - Crude Soybean Oil may be delivered in satisfaction of Soybean Oil futures contracts from regular warehouses located in Illinois Territory, Eastern Territory, Eastern Iowa Territory, Southwest Territory, Western Territory or Northern Territory as defined in this regulation and at the following price differentials:

(a) Illinois Territory (That portion of the state of Illinois north of latitude 38(degrees)00' N.) .... at contract price.

(b) Eastern Territory (Those portions of the states of Indiana and Kentucky west of the Ohio-Indiana border and its extension and north of latitude 38(degrees)00'N.) . . . at 30/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(c) Eastern Iowa Territory (That portion of the state of Iowa east of longitude 93(degrees)50'W.) . . . at 10/100ths of one cent per pound over contract price.

(d) Southwest Territory (Those portions of the states of Missouri and Kansas north of latitude 38(degrees)00'N. and east of longitude 97(degrees)00'W.) . . . at 35/100ths of one cent per pound over contract price.

(e) Western Territory (Those portions of the states of Iowa west of longitude 93 E 50' W., and Nebraska east of longitude 97 E 00' W.)... at 35/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(f) Northern Territory (Those portions of the state of Minnesota south of latitude 45 E 10' N., and South Dakota south of latitude 45 E 10' N., and east of 97 E 00' W.)... at 55/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(g) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, and for a given Soybean Oil futures delivery territory except the "Illinois Territory:" when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within that Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from that Soybean Oil territory will be at a premium of 10 cents per hundredweight over contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustment.

(h) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, when the "Illinois Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to maximum CBOT 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within the Illinois Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from all other Soybean Oil territories will be at a discount of 10 cents per hundredweight under contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustments.

(i) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, and for a given Soybean Oil futures delivery territory except the "Illinois Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within that Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from that Soybean Oil territory will be at a discount of 10 cents per hundredweight under contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustment.

(j) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, when the "Illinois Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within the Illinois Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from all other Soybean Oil territories will be at a premium of 10 cents per hundredweight over contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustments.

(k) Items (g) through (j) of Regulation 1141.01 shall apply to all CBOT Soybean Oil futures contracts delivered during a one calendar year period beginning with January following the soybean crop year ending August 31, provided t hat there are on a weekly average at least 150 outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts in all Soybean Oil delivery territories combined during that previous soybean crop year.

(l) Based on the adjustments made to territorial delivery differentials during a given calendar year as outlined in items (g) through (k) of Regulation 1141.01, the CBOT shall announce and publish by September 15 of that given calendar year new territorial delivery differentials applicable to all Soybean Oil futures contracts delivered during the next calendar year. 2015 (01/01/04)

1142.01 Deliveries By Warehouse Receipts - Deliveries on Crude Soybean Oil shall be made by delivery of warehouse receipts issued by warehouses which have been designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Crude Soybean Oil warehouse receipts using the electronic fields which the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider require to be completed. In order to effect a valid delivery each Crude Soybean Oil warehouse receipt must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the geniuneness of the warehouse receipt and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by any endorser, of performance by the issuer of the warehouse receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid on the Crude Soybean Oil covered by the warehouse receipt, in accordance with Regulation 1156.01. 2012 (12/01/03).

1143.01 Registration of Warehouse Receipts - Warehouse receipts, in order to be eligible for delivery, must be registered with the Official Registrar. Registration of warehouse receipts shall also be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Warehousemen who are regular for delivery may register warehouse receipts at any time. If the warehouseman determines not to tender the warehouse receipt by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the warehouseman shall declare the receipt has been withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility. The holder of a registered warehouse receipt may cancel its registration at any time. A warehouse receipt which has been canceled may not be registered again.

(b) No notice of intention to deliver a warehouse receipt shall be tendered to the Clearing Services Provider unless said warehouse receipt is registered and in the possession of the clearing member tendering the notice or unless a warehouse receipt is registered and outstanding. When a notice of intention to deliver a warehouse receipt has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider, said warehouse receipt shall be considered "outstanding".

(c) From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of warehouse receipts that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and CBOT website. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

(d) When a regular warehouseman regains control of a registered warehouse receipt issued against stocks in one of his regular warehouses, which in any manner relieves him of the obligation to loadout crude soybean oil upon demand of a party other than himself, the warehouseman shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said warehouse receipt or declare that said warehouse receipt is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the regular warehouse, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said warehouse receipt for the warehouseman has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the warehouseman regained control of said warehouse receipt.

(e) The Registrar shall not divulge any information concerning the registration, delivery or cancellation of warehouse receipts other than the record posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, except that he shall issue a daily report showing the total number of registered warehouse receipts as of 4:00 p.m. on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange Floor and CBOT website, this daily report will show the names of warehousemen whose warehouse receipts are registered and the location of the warehouses involved. The report shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.2013 (12/01/03)

1144.01 Receipt Format - The Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider shall determine the electronic fields which are required to be completed in connection with an electronic warehouse receipt.

The electronic warehouse receipt obligates the warehouse operator, for value received and receipt of the warehouse receipt properly endorsed, and subject to a lien for payment of storage charges, to deliver the specified quantity of Crude Soybean Oil conforming to the standards of the Exchange, and to ship such Crude Soybean Oil in accordance with orders of the lawful owner of the warehouse receipt and in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. Delivery shall be by rail or truck according to the registered loading capability of the warehouse.

Delivery of the electronic warehouse receipt to the issuer by the owner of the receipt, for the purpose of shipment of Crude Soybean Oil, is conditioned upon loading of Crude Soybean oil in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, and a lien is claimed until all loadings are complete and proper shipping documents presented accompanying demand draft for freight and storage charges due which the owner of the receipt agrees to honor upon presentation.2012 (12/01/03)

1146.01 Date of Delivery - Where Crude Soybean Oil is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such Crude Soybean Oil may be made by the Seller upon such day of the specified month as the Seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. 2017 (09/01/94)

1147.00 Delivery Notice - (See 1047.00) (09/01/94)

1147.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (09/01/94)

1148.00 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.00) (09/01/94)

1149.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (09/01/94)

1149.01 Time of Issuance of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.01) (02/01/03)

1149.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - (See 1049.03) (09/01/94)

1149.04 Payment - Payment shall be made utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's Online System. Payment will be made during the 6:45 a.m. collection cycle, or such other time designated by the Exchange. Thus the cost of the delivery will be debited or credited to a clearing firm's settlement account. Buyers obligated to accept delivery must take delivery and make payment and sellers obligated to make delivery must make delivery during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange on the day of delivery, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken or made and payment made during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange on the next banking business day. (12/01/03)

1150.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (12/01/03)

1151.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - No office deliveries of warehouse receipts may be made by clearing members. Where a futures commission merchant has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it receives from its customers who are short. 2009 (12/01/03)

If storage rates are not paid on-time up to and including the 18/th/ calendar day preceding the delivery month of July and by the first calendar day of this delivery month, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated storage rates multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage rates are paid, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that storage is overdue, divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, and the Northern Trust Company.

The storage rates on Crude Soybean Oil shall not exceed 3/10th of one cent per day per 100 pounds. When shipper schedules tank car loading, storage shall continue through the date of surrender of a properly cancelled warehouse receipt and shall begin again on the sixth day after surrender date if loading has not been completed and continue until the oil has been loaded. When shipper schedules truck loading storage, charges shall continue through the date of loading. Regular Soybean Oil warehousemen shall maintain in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange either an office, or duly authorized representative or agent approved by the Exchange, to whom Soybean Oil Storage charges may be paid. 2033 (06/01/01)

rental, etc., shall remain the responsibility of the Seller until payment is made. Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. 2020 (09/01/94)

1156.03 Fees - Sampling: The charge for drawing Official samples shall be $5.00 for each tank car or truck on inbound shipments to a warehouse.

If sampling is ordered at a location where an Official Sampler is not regularly located, all extra costs must be paid by the party ordering the sample.

These charges shall include the cost of delivering the samples to the Official Chemists. 2028 (09/01/94)

1156.04 Loading Charges - The maximum charge for loading tank cars at delivery point shall not exceed 1/40/th/ of one cent per pound and the combined charge for unloading and loading tank cars at delivery point shall not exceed 1/10/th/ of one cent per pound including heating. The maximum charge for loading tank trucks at delivery point shall not exceed 1/25/th/ of one cent per pound. (06/01/01)

1180.01 Duties of Warehouse Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular warehouses:

(a) To accept Crude Soybean Oil for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Crude Soybean Oil is of contract grade when received at such warehouses, and all space in such warehouses is not already filled or contracted for, to pay no premium on refining loss but to receive allowance for sludge. All inbound freight (including the transit charge necessary to obtain the transit balance rate) shall be prepaid by the depositor of the oil. Upon surrender of the inbound billing to the warehouseman the depositor of the oil shall be furnished with a regular Board of Trade Warehouse Receipt endorsed thereon with the transit balance freight to New York.

(b) To notify the Exchange of any change in the condition of their warehouses.

(c) To insure soybean oil covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

Any loss or damage to oil caused by leakage or discharge from the storage facilities resulting from the cracking, rupture, bursting, collapse, subsidence or disruption of the containing system, or the negligence of the warehouse operator shall be for the account of the warehouse operator, unless such loss or damage by leakage or discharge from the storage facilities is due to causes required to be insured against under this Regulation.

(d) To furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected.

(e) To advise the holder of the warehouse receipts when oil is tendered on a futures contract. the freight rate on the oil upon request to New York, N.Y., or to any other specific destinations; and to forward the oil on the basis of these rates whenever shipping instructions are received if orders are received within three days.

(f) To register their daily load-out rate in jumbo rail tank car equivalents (minimum of 4) with the Exchange. Warehouse Operators shall limit warehouse receipts issued to an amount of soybean oil equal to the lesser of their approved regular space or 30 times the registered daily loading rate for jumbo tank cars times 185,000 pounds.

(g) To ship oil ordered out of the warehouses in Buyer's tank cars, if so arranged and to begin loading out soybean oil on or before the third business day following the date the car is ready for loading or the receipt is cancelled, whichever occurs later, at a daily rate per business day equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading jumbo rail tank cars.

All rail loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Rail loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. When loading against rail loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day, as determined hereunder, cannot be completed on the third following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loading against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro-rata basis on subsequent business days. Loading against all rail orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading of any orders scheduled for a subsequent business day.

(h) To load each tank car to its stenciled capacity upon surrender of sufficient warehouse receipts tendered on futures contracts. Any excess or deficiency from amount of warehouse receipt shall be settled at market price as of date of loading. Warehouse to make sight draft on shipper with Bill of Lading attached for any amounts due them in connection with loading oil, including premium for refining loss, unless otherwise mutually agreed.

(i) To hold tank car after loading free of expense to shipper (except for car rental) until grade is ascertained, and if grade is not of contract grade to unload car and reload oil of contract quality free of expense to shipper, and at all times to keep oil fully insured until car is released to railroad.

(j) To ship oil ordered out of the warehouse in Buyer's tank truck, if so arranged, and to load the oil at a daily rate per business day equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading for jumbo rail tank cars.

All truck loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Truck orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

When loading orders are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 4:00 p.m. the same day of loading dates and tonnage due. Notification will be by telephone, telegraph or teletype.

When a shipper has received one or more truck loading orders he shall begin loading against them not later than the third business day following their receipt. When loading against loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day cannot be completed on the third following business day shipper shall allocate daily loadings against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro rata basis on subsequent business days.

Loading against all truck orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading begins on any orders scheduled for a subsequent business day. Warehouseman will load tank trucks as promptly as possible on the day scheduled. Under no conditions will warehouseman be responsible for truck demurrage as long as it is loaded on day scheduled. Additional loadings may be arranged for by mutual agreement.

(k) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Regulation, on days when both rail cars and trucks are loaded, the warehouseman shall be required to load at a minimum daily rate equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading rail tank cars.

All rail and truck loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. When loading against loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day, as determined hereunder, cannot be completed on the third following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loading against such loading orders as equitably possible on a pro-rata basis on subsequent business days. Loading against orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading of any orders for a subsequent business day.

It shall be the privilege of all regular warehouses to mingle or store together oil which is tenderable on contracts for future delivery under these Regulations, with other oil of like type and to deliver on loading orders oil of any contract type. 2031

(m) Certification of Soybean Oil - Effective September 1, 1992 and upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of soybean oil against canceled warehouse receipts, the delivery warehouseman shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the soybean oil is produced from soybeans of U.S. origin only. Warehouse receipts issued prior to September 1, 1992 will be deliverable against futures contracts beginning September 1992 only if the regular warehouseman provides certification on the warehouse receipt that the U.S. origin-only option is available to the taker of delivery of soybean oil. (01/01/04)

1180.01B Car Ready for Loading - Regulation 1180.01(f) A car is ready for loading when it has been constructively placed and when the shipper has used due diligence in preparing and placing the car on his property for loading. 30R1180.01C Transit vs. Flat Rate (09/01/94)

1180.01C Transit vs. Flat Rate Billing - If warehouseman furnishes transit billing on crude soybean oil applicable to warehouse receipts holder's destination, the warehouse receipt holder shall pay to warehouseman the difference between the transit balance rate and the flat rate. 27R (09/01/94)

1180.01D Freight Differentials - Jumbo Tank Cars - The Board of Directors at its regular meeting held on Tuesday, March 10, 1964, approved the following Ruling recommended by the Crude Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal Committee in light of the reduced rate on jumbo tank cars which became effective on February 9, 1964:

"Effective on March 1964 contracts the freight differentials in Regulations 1141.02 and 1180.02 shall be calculated on the basis of the jumbo tank car rate since it is the lowest lawful carload rate and will be applicable to warehouse receipts bearing no billing and any other warehouse receipts carrying billing that will protect the jumbo tank car rate." 36R (09/01/94)

1180.02 Transit Billing - Transit billing may be applied to shipments at warehouseman's option with warehouseman to get any advantage of such transit application; however, warehouseman must protect the lowest lawful local carload rate from point of loading stated in warehouse receipt to destination indicated in shipping instructions, and such transit billing must allow at least one additional transit beyond delivery points. 2016 (09/01/94)

1180.03 Freight Charges - A warehouseman that is not served by a Class I railroad must compensate the taker of delivery for the switching charge and/or the rail rate to the nearest Class I railroad interchange point for the movement of soybean oil beyond the interchange point by the Class I railroad, if requested by the owner of the soybean oil. The request must be in writing when loading orders and canceled warehouse receipts are presented to the warehouse. (01/01/00)

1181.01 Conditions of Regularity - Warehouses may be declared regular for the delivery of Crude Soybean Oil with the approval of the Exchange. Persons operating bulk oil warehouses who desire to have such warehouses made regular for delivery of Crude Soybean Oil under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1 of an even year, for a two year term beginning July 1 of that year, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular Soybean Oil Warehouses that desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted by the Exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Persons operating Soybean Oil Warehouses who desire to have their daily rate of loading decreased, shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease. The decrease in the daily rate of loading for the facility will become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted by the Exchange or the day after the number of outstanding receipts at the facility is equal to or less than 30 times the requested rate of loading, whichever is later. Persons operating Soybean Oil Warehouses who wish to have their regular capacity space decreased shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease and such decrease shall be effective once a notice has been posted by the Exchange. Applications for renewal of regularity must be made prior to May 1 of even years, for the respective years beginning July 1 of those years, and shall be on the same form.

The Exchange may establish such requirements and conditions for approval of regularity as it deems necessary.

The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions for regularity of Soybean Oil Warehouses:

1) The warehouse making application shall be inspected.

2) Such warehouse shall be within the limitation of an area not east of the Indiana-Ohio boundary; nor south of Louisville, KY.

3) Such warehouse shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

4) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 4E. No warehouse shall be declared regular until the person operating the same files a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

5) Such warehouse shall maintain on-site standard equipment and appliances for the receiving, handling, and shipping of Crude Soybean Oil in bulk, including equipment to issue official origin weight. Official origin weight may be obtained by using one of the following: (1) platform scale (either rail or truck); (2) tank scale; or (3) batch scale.

6) The warehouseman shall comply with the system of registration of warehouse receipts established by the Exchange. The Warehouseman shall furnish accurate information to the Exchange regarding all Crude Soybean Oil received and delivered by the warehouseman on a daily basis, and that remaining in store at the close of each week, in the form prescribed by the Exchange, with the exception of Crude Soybean Oil owned by the warehouseman.

7) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall permit the Exchange, at any time, to examine the books and records of the warehouse for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Crude Soybean Oil which may be on hand at any time. The Exchange shall have the authority to determine the quantity of Crude Soybean Oil in the warehouse and to compare the books and records of the warehouse with the records of the Exchange.

8) The warehouseman operating such warehouse shall not engage in unethical or inequitable practices, and shall comply with all applicable laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

9) The warehouseman shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations and orders promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and shall comply with all requirements made by the Exchange because of such Rules and Regulations or orders.

10) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a warehouse's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

11) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse was regular.

12) If the warehouseman leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, the warehouseman shall submit an indemnification if requested by the Exchange.

13) The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Oil futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Oil, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. 2030 (01/01/04)

1181.02 Leasing and Service Arrangements - The warehouseman of a regular warehouse is not required to own the warehouse and may lease the facility from the owner. The warehouseman may also enter into a service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse. The warehouseman shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

In the event that the warehouseman is unable properly to store or load out oil for receipt holders because of another party's ownership of or control over the warehouse, the warehouseman shall, at its own expense, provide each holder of an outstanding receipt with either (a) a replacement warehouse receipt at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials or, if such replacement receipt is unavailable, (b) an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean oil designated in the warehouse receipt at a mutually acceptable location. (09/01/94)

1184.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular warehouse may be declared irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out the prescribed duties of the warehouseman. If the designation of a warehouse as regular shall be revoked a notice of such revocation and the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such house shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Crude Soybean Oil under the Rules and Regulations, shall be posted on the bulletin board.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding warehouse receipts shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt chooses not to take load-out during this period, the fazcility must provide him with another warehouse receipt at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such warehouse receipt is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean oil designated in the warehouse receipt at a mutually acceptable location. 2032 (09/01/94)

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other conditions specified in Regulation 1181.01 or duties specified in Regulation 1180.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Warehouseman must:

(1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

(2) submit to the Exchange a tariff listing in detail the maximum rates for the handling and storage of Crude Soybean Oil; submit promptly to the Exchange all changes in such tariff; and publish and display such tariff.

The maximum charges for loading tank cars and trucks at delivery points shall not exceed the loading charges defined in Rule 1156.04. The maximum storage charges on Crude Soybean Oil shall not exceed the storage charges defined in Regulation 1156.01.

(3) remove no CBOT registered Crude Soybean Oil from the warehouse unless the receipts have been previously cancelled by the Registrar's Office.

(4) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the warehouse.

(5) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Exchange or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) may require; and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

(6) insure against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

(7) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/ every even year.

(8) if the Warehouseman leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service agreement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, Warehouseman remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

(9) notify the Exchange in writing immediately of any change in the maximum 24 hour crushing capacity of soybeans for a soybean processing plant attached to this warehouse.

2. The Warehouse must be:

(1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

(2) connected to a railroad. (See Regulation 1180.03)

(3) equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious handling of Crude Soybean Oil in bulk.

3. The Warehouse and Warehouseman must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility, and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

Agreements of Warehouseman

The Warehouseman expressly agrees:

(1) that all Crude Soybean Oil tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be weighed by an Official Weigher as outlined in Regulation 1139.01 of the Exchange.

(2) that all Crude Soybean Oil tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will, when shipped from Warehouse, be sampled by an Official Sampler, which has been approved by the Exchange, and tested in accordance with Regulation 1140.01 of the Exchange.

(3) that all warehouse receipts to be tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(4) to abide by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the warehousing of Crude Soybean Oil deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1180.01.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Warehouseman's declaration of regularity, if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the Warehouseman's behalf in matters pertaining to Warehouse Receipts.

(8) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6, and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Warehouseman or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(9) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Warehouseman was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1181.01(13), the Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1181.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Oil futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Oil, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

1236.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these Regulations shall be Soybean Meal in bulk which conforms to the following specifications:

48% Protein Soybean Meal, produced by conditioning ground soybeans and reducing the oil content of the conditioned product by the use of hexane or homologous hydrocarbon solvents. Standard specifications are:

Protein	minimum 48.0%
Fat	minimum 0.5%
Fiber	maximum 3.5%
Moisture (when shipped by Processor)	maximum 12.0%

It may contain a non-nutritive inert, non-toxic conditioning agent to reduce caking and improve flowability. In an amount not to exceed that necessary to accomplish its intended effect, but in no case exceed 0.5%. The name of the conditioning agent must be shown as an added ingredient.

Testing methods shall be those approved by the Association of Official Analytical Chemists and American Oil Chemists Society. 2053 (09/01/94)

1236.02 United States Origin Only - Effective September 1, 1992, a futures contract for the sale of soybean meal shall be performed on the basis of United States origin only upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted. (09/01/94)

1237.01 Official Chemists - An official Chemist shall be any chemist who is currently designated as an Official Referee Chemist for Meal by the National Soybean Processors Association. Certificates of quality analysis by an Official Chemist shall be binding on all parties. (09/01/94)

1238.01 Sampling - The official sample will be taken at origin by Automatic Mechanical Sampler (A.O.C.S. Official Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966) or Pneumatic Probe Sampler (A.O.C.S. Official Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966). Shipper shall, on the next business day after loading, mail a portion of the official sample in an air tight container properly identified to the owner at an address specified by the owner when he submits loading orders.

Any shipment testing 12.5% moisture or less based on official sample shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of moisture content. Penalty for excess moisture:

Excess moisture two times delivered market price on date of shipment for excess moisture from 12% to 13% and 21-2 times delivered market price on date of shipment for excess moisture above 13%.

Any shipment testing no more than 0.3% of fiber above the fiber specification (based on official sample adjusted to 12% moisture) shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of fiber content. When the amount of fiber exceeds 3.8% (based on official sample adjusted to 12% moisture), the shipment shall be discounted 1.0% of the delivered market price on date of shipment for each 0.1% fiber in excess of 3.5%.

Any shipment of soybean meal testing within 0.5% of protein below 48% protein (basis official sample moisture 12.0% or less; protein to be calculated on 12.0% moisture basis if official sample moisture exceeds 12.0%) shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of protein content. Protein deficiency claims shall be settled between the parties on the basis of two times the delivered market price per unit of protein on date of shipment and shall be calculated on the same moisture basis as for protein rejection.

If the owner's analysis of the official sample indicates quality deficiency, the owner shall submit his analysis and claim in writing to the shipper within 30 days after arrival of car. The shipper shall, within five (5) business days, after receipt of the owner's analysis and claim, report his analysis of the official sample to the owner. In the event that the owner and the shipper do not reach agreement on analysis and/or settlement, the third portion of the official sample shall be sent to an Official Chemist and his analysis will be binding upon both parties for final settlement. The expense of the analysis will be borne by the party in error.

If the owner and the shipper cannot agree that the official sample is representative of the shipment, a representative sample shall be obtained at destination by a disinterested qualified person mutually agreed upon by the owner and shipper. Such destination sample must be obtained within 24 hours of arrival and prior to unloading. "Constructive placement" shall be considered arrival at destination. The official procedure for sampling at destination shall be the Pneumatic Probe Sampler. (A.O.C.S. Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966) and the sample shall be submitted to an official chemist. The results of his analysis of the destination sample shall be binding on both parties for final settlement. The expense of such sampling and analysis, shall be borne by the owner if the owner insists on destination sampling and analysis unless the shipper has failed to take an official sample at origin, in which event, the expense of taking and analyzing the destination sample shall be borne by the shipper. (09/01/94)

1239.01 Weighing - Weighing and official weights, as defined in the National Soybean Processors Association Trading Rules for the Purchase and Sale of Soybean Meal, shall be binding on all interested parties. (09/01/94)

1241.01 Shipping Plants - Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall specify shipment from one of the plants currently regular for delivery and located in Central Territory, Northeast Territory, Mid South Territory, Missouri Territory, Eastern lowa Territory, or Northern Territory as defined in this Regulation.

The Exchange may declare additional shipping plants regular for delivery which shall apply on all contracts outstanding or made thereafter.

SHIPPING PLANTS

(b) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Central Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Illinois and Kentucky) will be at contract price.

(c) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Northeast Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Indiana and Ohio) will be at a premium of $2.00 per ton over contract price.

(d) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Mid South Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in all of Tennessee and Arkansas and that part of Mississippi and Alabama north of a line extending eastward from the Arkansas and Louisiana border) will be at a premium of $7.00 per ton over contract price.

(e) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Missouri Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Missouri) will be at a premium of $1.50 per ton over contract price.

(f) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Eastern lowa Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in lowa on and South of the main line of the Illinois Central Gulf RR from Dubuque, lowa to lowa Falls, lowa; and on and East of the main line of the Chicago Rock Island RR from lowa Falls to the Chicago & Northwestern RR from Des Moines through Blockton, lowa) will be made at a discount of $4.00 per ton under contract price.

(g) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Northern Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in that portion of lowa not included in "Eastern lowa Territory") will be at a discount of $3.00 per ton under contract price.

(h) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31 and a given Soybean Meal futures delivery territory except the "Central Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within that Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from that territory will be at a premium of $.50 per ton over contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustment.

(i) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, when the "Central Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to maximum

CBOT 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within the Central Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from all other territories will be at a discount of $.50 per ton under contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustments.

(j) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31 and a given Soybean Meal futures delivery territory except the "Central Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within that Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from that territory will be at a discount of $.50 per ton under contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustment.

(k) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, when the "Central Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within the Central Soybean Meal futures delivery terriory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from all other territories will be at a premium of $.50 per ton over contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustments.

(l) Items (h) through (k) of Regulation 1241.01 shall apply to all CBOT Soybean Meal futures contracts delivered during a one calendar year period beginning with January following the soybean crop year ending August 31, provided that there are on a weekly average at least 150 CBOT outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates in all Soybean Meal delivery territories combined during that previous soybean crop year.

(m) Based on the adjustments made to territorial delivery differentials during a given calendar year as outlined in items (h) through (I) of Regulation 1241.01, the CBOT shall announce and publish by September 15 of that given calendar year new territorial delivery differentials applicable to all Soybean Meal futures contracts delivered during the next calendar year. (01/01/04)

1242.01 Deliveries by Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates - Deliveries of Soybean Meal shall be made by delivery of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates issued by Shippers designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates using the electronic fields which the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider require to be completed. In order to effect a valid delivery each Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the Certificate and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by any endorser, of performance by the issuer of the Certificate. Such endorsement also shall constitute a representation that all premium charges have been paid on the Soybean Meal covered by the Certificate, in accordance with Regulation 1256.01.2067 (12/01/03)

1243.01 Registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates - Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates in order to be eligible for delivery must be registered with the Official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. Registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall also be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Shippers who are regular for delivery may register certificates at any time. If the shipper determines not to tender the shipping certificate by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the shipper shall declare the certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant. The holder of a registered certificate may cancel its registration at any time. A certificate which has been cancelled may not be registered again.

(b) No notice of intention to deliver a certificate shall be tendered to the Clearing Services Provider unless said certificate is registered and in the possession of the clearing member tendering the notice or unless a shipping certificate is registered and outstanding. When a notice of intention to deliver a certificate has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider, said certificate shall be considered to be "outstanding" until its registration is cancelled.

(c) From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of certificates that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any shipping certificates that have been declared withdrawn.

(d) When a registered shipper regains control of a registered certificate calling for shipment from one of his plants, which in any manner relieves him of the obligation to ship meal upon demand of a party other than himself, the shipper shall, by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said certificate or declare that said certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said certificate for the shipper has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the shipper regained control of said certificate.

(e) The Registrar shall not divulge any information concerning the registration, delivery or cancellation or certificates other than the record posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, except that he shall issue a daily report showing the total number of registered certificates as of 4:00 p.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange, on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, this daily report will show the names of shippers whose certificates are registered and the location of the shipping plants involved. This report shall not include any shipping certificates which have been declared withdrawn.2069 (12/01/03)

1244.01 Certificate Format - The Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider shall determine electronic fields which are required to be completed in connection with an electronic shipping certificate.

The electronic shipping certificate obligates the shipper, for value received and receipt of the certificate properly endorsed, and subject to a lien for payment of premium charges, to deliver the specified quantity of Soybean Meal conforming to the standards of the Exchange, and to ship such Soybean Meal in accordance with orders of the lawful owner of the certificate and in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. Delivery shall be by rail or truck according to the registered loading capability of the shipper.

Delivery of the electronic shipping certificate to the issuer by the owner of the certificate, for the purpose of shipment of Soybean Meal, is conditioned upon loading of Soybean Meal in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, and a lien is claimed until all loadings are complete and proper shipping documents presented accompanying demand draft for freight and premium charges due which the owner of the certificate agrees to honor upon presentation. (12/01/03)

1246.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates may be made by the Seller upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month but no later than the second business day following the last day of trading in a delivery month. 2072 (09/01/94)

1247.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (09/01/94)

1248.00 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.00) (09/01/94)

1249.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (09/01/94)

1249.01 Time of Issuance of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.01) (02/01/03)

1249.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - (See 1049.03) (09/01/94)

1249.04 Payment - Payment shall be made utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's Online System. Payment will be made during the 6:45 a.m. collection cycle, or such other time designated by the Exchange. Thus the cost of the delivery will be debited or credited to a clearing firm's settlement account. Buyers obligated to accept delivery must take delivery and make payment and sellers obligated to make delivery must make delivery during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of delivery, except on bank holidays when delivery must be taken or made and payment made during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the next banking business day. 1250.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (09/01/94)

1251.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - No office deliveries of soybean meal shipping certificates may be made by clearing members. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest in both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it receives from its customers who are short. 2064 (12/01/03)

1256.01 Premium Charges - No Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall be valid for delivery on future contracts unless the premium charges shall have been paid up to and including the 18th day of the preceding month and such payment endorsed on the Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate unless registration is at a later date. Unpaid accumulated premium charges shall be allowed and credited to the Buyer by the Seller to and including the date of delivery.

If premium charges are not paid on-time up to and including the 18/th/ calendar day preceding the delivery months of March and September and by the first calendar day of each of these delivery months, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated premium charges multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage rates are paid, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that premium is overdue, divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, and the Northern Trust Company.

The premium charges on Soybean Meal for delivery shall not exceed 7 cents per ton per day. 2068 (06/01/01)

1256.03 Payment of Fees - All outloading fees, including weighing, to load Soybean Meal into railroad car, are to be paid by issuer of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate. 2075 (09/01/94)

Ch12 Regularity of Issuers of Shipping Certificates
1290.01 Loading and Shipment of Meal Against Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates -

(a) The operator of a shipping plant issuing Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not in excess of 15 times its registered total daily rate of loading plus the amount of meal or flakes in store (not limited to meal meeting minimum contract standards). All such meal or flakes in store must be stored in facilities for which the capacity has been registered with the Board of Trade and which have been inspected by the Registrar. The shipper shall register his total daily rate of loading covered hopper cars at not less than 40% nor more than 100% of his maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity. Each plant must be regular for a minimum total daily rate of loading of 200 tons per day.

(b) Each regular plant must also register a daily rate of loading for truck. The daily rate of loading for truck must be registered at not less than 40% of the registered total daily rate of loading for the plant.

(c) Each regular plant shall be required to load-out soybean meal against cancelled Shipping Certificates at a daily rate equivalent to the greater of either its registered total daily rate of loading, or 1/21st of the total amount of soybean meal represented by Shipping Certificates issued by the plant but not yet loaded.

(d) Each regular plant shall be required to load covered hopper cars against Shipping Certificates at a rate not greater than that established in paragraph (c), and trucks at a rate not greater than that determined by multiplying the rate established in paragraph (c) by the share of the registered total daily rate of loading registered by the plant as its daily rate of loading for truck. However, on days when rail and truck loading against Shipping Certificates takes place concurrently, the required daily rate of loading into each conveyance shall be determined by prorating the rate established in paragraph (c).

(e) The shipper shall assess a premium charge of 7 cents per ton per calendar day for each day a Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate is outstanding starting the day after the date of registration by the Registrar. When rail loading orders specify shipment within four business days the premium charge shall continue through the business day following the receipt of loading orders. Otherwise, the premium charge shall continue through the day of rail loading. "Business days" are those on which the Exchange is open for trading Soybean Meal. In the case of shipment by truck, the premium charge shall continue through the day of loading.

(f) The shipper shall maintain, in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange, either an office, or a duly authorized representative or agent approved by the Exchange, where owners of Shipping Certificates may pay premium charges, surrender properly endorsed Shipping Certificates for cancellation and file loading orders and shipping instructions.

(g) Rail Loading Procedures

(1) The owner requesting rail load-out will furnish written rail loading orders and shipping instructions to the shipper by the close of business on the first business day following the date of cancellation of the Shipping Certificates in the Registrar's office. The loading orders shall specify if rail equipment will be the owner's (including leased cars) or shall specify the owner's election as to the type and size of covered hopper car to be ordered by the shipper. The shipper will load covered hopper cars with a capacity of 75 tons or larger. Loadings will be in bulk, and shipments will be subject to the existing freight tariff Rules and Regulations of the railroads on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission at the time of loading. The shipper is responsible for loading suitable railroad owned or leased cars or owner's cars (including leased cars) which are available for loading at the facility. Owner and shipper will cooperate to ensure timely placement and loading of rail equipment or alternate shipping modes.

(2) All loading orders and shipping instructions received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. Loading against all rail loading orders dated on a given business day shall be completed before loading begins on any rail loading orders dated on a subsequent business day subject to the provisions of subparagraph 4 of this paragraph.

(3) When rail loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of loading dates and tonnage due. Notification will be by telephone, telex or telefax.

(4) When a shipper has received one or more rail loading orders and shipping instructions, he shall begin loading against them within 4 business days following their receipt, unless the owner requests a deferred loading date in his loading orders. When loadings against rail loading orders cannot be completed on the fourth following business day of their receipt, the shipper shall continue loading against such loading orders on each calendar day thereafter. Shipping instructions are to be provided to the Shipper by the owner 2 business days before loading is to begin. The shipper shall load at the rate specified in paragraph (d) of this Regulation.

(5) When loading against rail loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day cannot be completed by the fourth following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loadings against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro-rata basis. Starting of loading against small orders may be delayed until the first day when pro-ration entitles such an order to an allocation of a full car, but in such a case loading of the last car against the order shall be accelerated by the same number of days as loading of the first car was delayed.

(6) The shipper shall load cars at the shipping plant designated in the Shipping Certificate. If it becomes impossible to load at the designated shipping plant because of an Act of God, fire, flood, wind, explosion, war, embargo, civil commotion, sabotage, law, act of government, labor difficulties or unavoidable mechanical breakdown, the shipper will arrange for covered hopper cars to be loaded at another regular shipping plant in conformance with the Shipping Certificate and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping plant. If the aforementioned condition of impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping plants, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping plants.

(7) Rail loading orders involving one or more Shipping Certificates shall be considered as one lot. The minimum amount shipped against each loading order shall be the number of Shipping Certificates specified therein times 100 tons. A tolerance of 5 tons over the total may be shipped to be settled at the market price at the time of shipment of the last car of the order.

(8) Rail cars must be loaded to "full visible capacity" unless tonnage on cancelled shipping certificates does not cover rail car capacity.

(9) The owner will be responsible for whatever demurrage costs that are involved in loading multiple car or trainload shipments. All demurrage charges must be substantiated with a citation of car numbers loaded against cancelled Shipping Certificates either by proper notations on the shipper's average demurrage agreement with the carrier or actual demurrage bills rendered against cars shipped. 2078

(h) Truck Loading Procedures

(1) The owner requesting truck load-out shall furnish written loading orders and shipping instructions to the shipper by the close of business on the first business day following the date of cancellation of Shipping Certificates in the Registrar's Office. The owner shall supply the trucks. Open-top trucks with a minimum capacity of 20 tons must be provided. No vans or trucks with porthole loading shall be acceptable. Owner and shipper shall cooperate to ensure timely placement and loading of truck equipment.

(2) All truck loading orders and shipping instructions received prior to 2:00 p.m on any given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

(3) When truck loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. on any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner of loading dates and tonnage due by 10:00 a.m. the next business day. Notification will be by telephone, telex or telefax.

(4) The shipper shall begin loading against truck loading orders and shipping instructions on the fourth business day after their receipt. The shipper shall load at the rate specified in paragraph (d) of this Regulation.

(5) Truck loading shall occur during normal truck loading hours, as declared in the plant's application for regularity, and on normal business days. "Normal business days" shall be those on which the Exchange is open for trading Soybean Meal futures.

(6) A premium of $3.50/ton shall be applied to all shipments of meal loaded out by truck and shall be payable when shipping orders are filed.

(7) The owner shall present his trucks for loading at the shipping plant designated in the Shipping Certificate by 12:00 noon on the scheduled loading day. If trucks arrive by 12:00 noon, the shipper shall load the same day or be subject to the penalties and procedures specified in subparagraphs (10) and (11) of this paragraph (Truck Loading Procedures). If trucks arrive after 12:00 noon, the shipper shall be under no obligation to load and the owner shall be subject to the penalties and procedures specified in subparagraphs (8) and (9) of this paragraph.

(8) If the owner fails to present his trucks on time on the scheduled loading day, he shall be subject to a grace period until 12:00 noon the next business day and shall not be liable for a penalty up to that time. If the owner fails to present his trucks by 12:00 noon of the business day following the scheduled loading day, he shall be liable for a penalty of $4/ton/day for all meal not loaded out as scheduled.

(9) If, for any reason, the owner is unable to present his trucks for three consecutive normal business days, beginning with the originally scheduled loading day, the shipper may at his election:

i) Load the meal into rail cars for the owner and inform him of rail car numbers, or

ii) Reissue a Shipping Certificate to the owner. If a Shipping Certificate is reissued, the premium charge specified in paragraph (e) of this Regulation shall be assessed retroactively, beginning the day after the business day following the receipt of loading orders.

In these cases the owner is liable for the penalty specified in subparagraph (8) of this paragraph, if any, for two business days. The truck loading premium specified in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph shall be credited against any penalties due or refunded in full if there are no penalties due. If shipper elects either of these options he must promptly notify the owner.

(10) If the shipper fails to load the owner's trucks by 12:00 midnight on the scheduled loading day he shall be subject to a grace period until the next business day and shall not be subject to a penalty up to that time. If the shipper fails to load the owner's truck by 12:00 midnight of the business day following the scheduled loading day, he shall be liable for a penalty of $4/ton/day for all meal not loaded out as scheduled.

(11) If, for any reason, the shipper is unable to load the owner's trucks for three consecutive normal business days, beginning with the originally scheduled loading day, the shipper shall, with the owner's consent, make the meal available for truck load-out on the third day at another regular plant, in conformance with the Shipping Certificate, and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping plant.

(12) A tolerance of five tons over the total truck shipment may be loaded and settled at the market price at the time the last truck is loaded.

(i) Change of Election for Mode of Load-Out Due to Unavailability of Rail Cars

The owner may elect to amend rail loading orders to load-out by truck in the event of rail car unavailability. Rail loading orders amended in this manner shall be entitled to equal treatment. A premium of $3.50/ton shall be applied to all shipments of meal loaded-out by truck and shall be payable on the day loading orders were amended to specify the owner's election for load-out by truck.

(j) Certification of Soybean Meal - Effective September 1, 1992 and upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of soybean meal against canceled shipping certificates, the shipper shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the soybean meal is produced from soybeans of U.S. origin only. Shipping certificates issued prior to September 1, 1992 will be deliverable against futures contracts beginning September 1992 only if the regular shipper provides certification on the shipping certificate that the U.S. origin-only option is available to the taker of delivery of soybean meal. (05/01/95)

1291.01 Conditions of Regularity - Shipping plants may be declared regular for the delivery of Soybean Meal with the approval of the Exchange. Persons operating Soybean Meal shipping plants who desire to have such plants made regular for delivery of Soybean Meal under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1 of an even year, for a two year term beginning the following July 1, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular Soybean Meal shipping plants that desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted by the Exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Persons operating soybean meal shipping plants who desire to have their daily rate of loading decreased, shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease. The decrease in the daily rate of loading for the facility will become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted by the Exchange or the day after the number of outstanding certificates at the facility is equal to or less than 15 times the requested rate of loading plus the amount of meal or flakes in store, whichever is later. Persons operating soybean meal shipping plants who wish to have their regular capacity space decreased shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease and such decrease shall be effective once a notice has been posted by the Exchange. Applications for renewal of regularity must be made prior to May 1 of even years, for the respective years beginning July 1 of those years, and shall be on the same form.

The Exchange may establish such requirements and conditions for approval of regularity as it deems necessary. The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions of regularity for Soybean Meal shipping plants:

1. The plant of the shipper making application shall be inspected by the Exchange

2. Such shipping plant shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

3. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 4E. No shipping plant shall be declared regular until the person operating the same files a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

4. Such shipping plant shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious shipping of Soybean Meal in bulk in the conveyances for which the plant is registered with the Exchange according to Regulation 1290.01 (a) and (b).

5. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall comply with the system of registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates for Soybean Meal to be shipped in satisfaction of deliveries on futures contracts.

6. No shipper shall engage in any unethical or inequitable practice or fail to comply with any law.

   Federal or State, or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder.

7. The shipper shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such processing plant visitations as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations and orders promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and shall comply with all requirements made by the Exchange because of such Rules and Regulations or orders.

8. The plant must not have been continuously out of operation for the two consecutive years prior to application for regularity or renewal thereof.

9. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of the facility and the stocks of soybean meal which may be on hand at any time. Such examination may be made at any time.

10. Soybean Meal inventory which is covered by shipping certificates tendered for delivery shall be insured against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Exchange. The shipper shall furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected.

11. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a shipping plant's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

12. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the shipping plant was regular.

13. The Exchange may determine not to approve shipping plants for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular shipping plants, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such shipping plants meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether shipping certificates issued by such shipping plants, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Meal futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Meal, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supple. 2077 (01/01/04)

1294.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular shipper may be declared irregular at any time if he fails to carry out the duties of delivery by Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate as prescribed by these Regulations or violate any conditions of regularity. If designation of a shipper as regular shall be revoked, the Exchange shall announce such revocation on the bulletin board of the Exchange and also the period of time, if any, during which the Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates issued by such shipper shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Soybean Meal under the Rules and Regulations.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding shipping certificates shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding shipping certificate chooses not to take load-out during this period, the facility must provide him with another shipping certificate at another, mutually acceptable regular shipping plant, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such shipping certificate is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean meal designated in the shipping certificate at a mutually acceptable location. 2079 (09/01/94)

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other conditions specified in Regulation 1291.01 or duties specified in Regulation 1290.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Shipper must:

(1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

(2) not charge premium charges on Soybean Meal under obligation for shipment in excess of the premium charges defined in Regulation 1256.01.

(3) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the shipping plant.

(4) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such shipping plant visitation as the Exchange or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may require and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

(5) insure against the contingencies provided in a standard "All Risks" policy including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

(6) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/ every even year.

(7) if the Shipper leases the shipping plant or has entered into some form of service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the shipping plant, the Shipper remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

(8) notify the Exchange in writing immediately of any change in the maximum 24 hour crushing capacity of soybeans at the Soybean Meal shipping plant.

2. The Shipping Plant must be:

(1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

(2) connected by railroad tracks to one or more railway lines.

(3) equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious shipping of Soybean Meal in bulk.

3. The Shipping Plant and the Shipper must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

Agreements of the Shipper

The Shipper expressly agrees:

(1) that all Soybean Meal tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be weighed by an Official Weigher as outlined in Regulation 1239.01.

(2) that all Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(3) to abide by all of the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the shipping of Soybean Meal deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1290.01.

(4) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the Shipper's behalf in matters pertaining to Shipping Certificates.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Shipper's declaration of regularity, if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity, and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6, and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Shipper or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(8) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Shipper was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1291.01(13), the Exchange may determine not to approve shipping plants for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular shipping plants, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such shipping plants meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1291.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether shipping certificates issued by such shipping plants, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Meal futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Meal, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

Oats Futures Options

Oats Futures Options

1301.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00.) (09/01/94)

1301.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Oats futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Oats futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/94)

1302.01 Nature of Oats Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Oats futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 1307.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Oats futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (09/01/94)

1302.02 Nature of Oats Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Oats futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 1307.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Oats futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (09/01/94)

1304.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of five (5) cents per oat futures contract (i.e., 2.50, 2.55, 2.60, etc.) in integral multiples of ten (10) cents per bushel per Oat futures contract (i.e., 2.50, 2.60, 2.70, etc.) and in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per bushel per Oat futures contract (i.e., 2.80, 3.00, 3.20, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of ten cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Oat futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of ten cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that all strikes within 55 cents of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2 a. In integral multiples of five cents, at the commencement of trading for options that are traded in months in which Oat futures are not traded, and for standard option months, the business day they become the second deferred month, the following strike prices shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Oat futures contract and the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes. For examples, five-cent strike price intervals for the September 2001 contract would be added on June 25, which is the business day after the expiration of the July contract month.

   b Over time, new five-cent strike prices will be added to ensure that at least five strike prices exist above and below the previous day's trading range in the underlying futures.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

1305.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

1306.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Oats futures options shall be in multiples of one-eighth (1-8) of one cent per bushel of a 5,000 bushel Oats futures contract which shall equal $6.25 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $6.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (09/01/94)

1307.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of an Oats futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

1307.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 1307.01 after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

1307.03 Correction to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

1309.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Oats futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Board or a Committee authorized by the Board may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Oats futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

1310.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Oats futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Oats futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph in Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Oats futures options shall be closed with a public call, made strike price by strike price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. Oats futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

1313.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Oats futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Oats futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

1314.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in an Oats futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Oats futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

CBOT 5,000 oz. Silver Futures

CBOT 5,000 oz. Silver Futures

1401.01 Authority - Trading of Silver futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1402.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Silver futures shall be subject to the general rules and regulations of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the rules and regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 5,000 oz. Silver futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1403.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for Silver shall be five thousand troy ounces. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of five thousand troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

1404.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Silver for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

1405.01 Price Basis - All prices of Silver shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of 10/100 of one cent per troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

1406.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Silver futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:25 p.m. (10/01/04)

1407.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Silver futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1408.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1408.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1407.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

1409.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (10/01/04)

1410.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be refined Silver in a bar cast in a basic weight of either 1,000 troy ounces or 1,100 troy ounces (each bar may vary no more than 6% more or less); assaying not less than 999 fineness; and made up of one of the brands and markings officially listed by the Exchange as provided in Regulation 1440.01, current at the date of delivery of such silver. (10/01/04)

1440.01 Brands and Markings of Silver - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of silver bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1440.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Silver Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any silver bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 999 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a silver fineness of not less than 999, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/04)

1440.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all silver must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If silver, is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any silver bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

1440.05 Refiners, Vaults, and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults, and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1440.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of silver and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for silver may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/04)

1441.01 Delivery Points - Silver located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1442.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation 1436.01 and Appendix 14A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on silver futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of silver. Silver in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, each vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery. By the tender of a vault receipt for silver duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the silver shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the silver, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the silver must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the silver. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior silver in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

1443.01 Deposit of Silver with Vaults - Silver in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/04)

1443.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the silver has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number.

Where a clearing member of the Exchange delivers silver in bars on an Exchange contract, but did not order such silver into a regular vault, the clearing member shall, for the purposes of Regulation 1442.01, be deemed the original endorser of the vault receipt, and shall warrant to his transferee and each subsequent transferee that such silver was delivered to the regular vault under the terms of Regulation 1442.01. (10/01/04)

1446.01 Date of Delivery - Where Silver is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such silver may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1448.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/04)

1449.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/04)

1449.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

1449.04 Payment - Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

1450.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/04)

1450.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (10/01/04)

1451.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/04)

1454.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (10/01/04)

1456.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/04)

CH14 REGULARITY OF VAULTS

1480.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Silver for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Silver is ordered into the vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Silver in storage in balance with Silver represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1481.01 Conditions of Regularity - Silver may be delivered against a Silver contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of silver, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Silver and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Silver received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Silver. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Silver in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Silver futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Silver, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

1484.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be

irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Silver under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation or expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

m1436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be refined Silver in a bar cast in a basic weight of either 1,000 troy ounces or 1,100 troy ounces (each bar may vary no more than 10% more or less); assaying not less than 999 fineness; and made up of one of the brands and markings officially listed by the Exchange as provided in Regulation m1440.01, current at the date of delivery of such silver. (10/01/01)

m1440.01 Brands and Markings of Silver - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of silver bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/01)

m1440.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Silver Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any silver bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 999 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a silver fineness of not less than 999, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/01)

m1440.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all silver must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If silver is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any silver bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

m1440.05 Refiners, Vaults and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

m1440.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of silver and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for silver may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/01)

m1441.01 Delivery Points - Silver located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/01)

m1442.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation m1436.01 and Appendix m14A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on mini-sized silver futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of silver.

Silver in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

By the tender of a vault receipt for silver duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the silver shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Pre-paid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the silver, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the silver must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the silver. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior silver in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

m1443.01 Deposit of Silver with Vaults - Silver in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/01)

m1443.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the silver has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number.

Where a clearing member of the Exchange delivers silver in bars on an Exchange contract, but did not order such silver into a regular vault, the clearing member shall, for the purposes of Regulation m1442.01, be deemed the original endorser of the vault receipt, and shall warrant to his transferee and each subsequent transferee that such silver was delivered to the regular vault under the terms of Regulation m1442.01. (06/01/04)

m1444.01 Form of Warehouse Depository Receipt - The following form of warehouse depository receipt shall be used:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.

141 W. Jackson Blvd. . Chicago, IL 60604
(312) 435-3592

Notice: This receipt expires one year from date of issuance. Return to issuer prior to expiration for reissue or delivery. (10/01/04)

m1446.01 Date of Delivery - Where Silver is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such silver may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/01)

m1447.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (10/01/01)

m1448.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/01)

m1449.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/01)

m1449.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

m1449.04 Payment - Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/01)

m1450.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/01)

m1450.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (01/01/04)

m1451.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/01)

m1454.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (10/01/01)

m1454.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (01/01/04)

m1456.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/01)

m1480.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Silver for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Silver is ordered into the Vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Silver in storage in balance with Silver represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/01)

m1481.01 Conditions of Regularity - Silver may be delivered against a Silver contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of silver, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Silver and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Silver received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Silver. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Silver in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in it sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Silver futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Silver, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

m1484.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Silver under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

m1486.01 Regular Vaults - (See Appendix m14B) (10/01/01)

CBOT 100 oz. Gold Futures

CBOT 100 oz. Gold Futures

1501.01 Authority - Trading of Gold futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1502.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Gold futures shall be subject to the general rules and regulations of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the rules and regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 100 oz. Gold futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1504.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for Gold shall be 100 fine troy ounces of Gold not less than 0.995 fine, cast either in one bar or in 3 one-kilogram bars. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of 100 fine troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

1505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Gold for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

1506.01 Price Basis - All prices of Gold shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of $0.10 (10 cents) per troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

1507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Gold futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:30 p.m. (10/01/04)

1509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Gold futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1509.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1509.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

1510.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (10/01/04)

1511.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1536.01 Standards - Each futures contract shall be for 100 fine troy ounces of Gold no less than 995 fineness, cast either in one bar or in 3 one-kilogram bars.

Variations in the quantity of the delivery unit not in excess of five percent of 100 fine troy ounces shall be permitted.

In accordance with the accepted practices of the trade, each bar for good delivery must be of good appearance, easy to handle, and convenient to stack. The sides and bottom should be reasonably smooth and free from cavities and bubbles. The edges should be rounded and not sharp. Each bar, if not marked with the fineness and stamp of an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority must be accompanied by a certificate issued by an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority, stating the serial number of the bar(s), the weight, and the fineness. (10/01/04)

1540.01 Brands and Markings of Gold - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of Gold bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1540.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Gold Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any Gold bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 995 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a Gold fineness of not less than 995, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/04)

1540.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all Gold must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If Gold is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any Gold bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

1540.05 Refiners, Vaults, and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults, and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1540.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of Gold and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for Gold may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/04)

1541.01 Delivery Points - Gold located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/04)

the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation 1536.01 and Appendix 15A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on Gold futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of Gold. Gold in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, each vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery. By the tender of a vault receipt for Gold duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the Gold shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the Gold, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the Gold must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the Gold. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior Gold in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

1543.01 Deposit of Gold with Vaults - Gold in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/04)

1543.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the Gold has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number. (10/01/04)

1546.01 Date of Delivery - Where Gold is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such Gold may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1548.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/04)

1549.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/04)

1549.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

1549.04 Payment -. Payment shall be made on the basis of the number of fine troy ounces of Gold contained and delivered. The fine Gold content of a bar for good delivery is calculated to 0.001 of a troy ounce by multiplying the gross weight and fineness as listed on the vault receipt. Fineness in no case will be more than 0.9999.

Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

1551.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/04)

1554.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (10/01/04)

1556.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/04)

1580.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Gold for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Gold is ordered into the vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Gold in storage in balance with Gold represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1581.01 Conditions of Regularity - Gold may be delivered against a Gold contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of Gold, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Gold and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Gold received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Gold. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Gold in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Gold futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Gold, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

1584.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be

irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Gold under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation or expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

Chapter m15
mini-sized Gold Futures

Chapter m15

Chm15 Trading Conditions

m1501.00 Authority - Trading of mini-sized Gold futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. (09/01/03)

m1502.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in mini-sized Gold futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in mini-sized Gold futures contracts. (06/01/04) m1504.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for mini-sized Gold shall be for 33.2 fine troy ounces of Gold not less than 0.995 fine contained in one bar. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of 33.2 fine troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

m1505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in mini-sized Gold for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

m1506.01 Price Basis - All prices of mini-sized Gold shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of $0.10 (10 cents) per fine troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

m1507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in mini-sized Gold futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:30 p.m. (10/01/04)

m1509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in mini-sized Gold futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation m1509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

m1509.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation m1509.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

m1510.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (06/01/04)

m1511.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/01)

m1536.01 Standards - Each futures contract shall be for 33.2 fine troy ounces of Gold no less than 995 fineness contained in no more than one bar.

Variations in the quantity of the delivery unit not in excess of ten percent of 33.2 fine troy ounces shall be permitted.

In accordance with the accepted practices of the trade, each bar for good delivery must be of good appearance, easy to handle, and convenient to stack. The sides and bottom should be reasonably smooth and free from cavities and bubbles. The edges should be rounded and not sharp. Each bar, if not marked with the fineness and stamp of an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority must be accompanied by a certificate issued by an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority, stating the serial number of the bar(s), the weight, and the fineness. (10/01/01)

m1540.01 Brands and Markings of Gold - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of Gold bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/01) m1540.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Gold Brands of Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any Gold bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 995 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a Gold fineness of not less than 995, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/01)

m1540.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all Gold must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If Gold is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any Gold bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

m1540.05 Refiners, Vaults and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

m1540.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of Gold and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for Gold may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/01)

m1541.01 Delivery Points - Gold located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/01)

m1542.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation m1536.01 and Appendix m15A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on mini-sized Gold futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of Gold. Gold in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

By the tender of a vault receipt for Gold duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the Gold shown on the receipt.

Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of ninety days) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the Gold, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the Gold must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the Gold. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior Gold in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

m1543.01 Deposit of Gold With Vaults - Gold in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/01)

m1543.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the Gold has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number. (06/01/04)

m1544.01 Form of Warehouse Depository Receipt - The following form of warehouse depository receipt shall be used:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.

141 W. Jackson Blvd. . Chicago, IL 60604
(312) 435-3592

Original Negotiable Warehouse Depository Receipt

Date Issued: _____ No. _____

The issuer of this instrument will, upon notice and demand, deliver to: _____ or his or its order 33.2 troy ounces of Gold contained in a bar conforming to the delivery specifications contained in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. Delivery shall be based upon identification markings appearing on said bar. The issuer has not ascertained, and is not responsible for, the authenticity or correctness of markings on, or content, weight or fineness of, said bar. Upon the return of this receipt, properly endorsed, to issuer, and payment of all storage charges pertaining to the Gold represented, for which the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. claims a lien, the Gold will be transferred into the account of the bearer of this certificate.

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.

By: _____
Authorized Signature

Notice: This receipt expires one year from date of issuance. Return to issuer prior to expiration for reissue or delivery. (10/01/04)

m1546.01 Date of Delivery - Where Gold is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such Gold may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/01)

m1548.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/01)

m1549.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

m1549.04 Payment - Payment shall be made on the basis of the number of fine troy ounces of Gold contained and delivered. The fine Gold content of a bar for good delivery is calculated to 0.001 of a troy ounce by multiplying the gross weight and fineness as listed on the vault receipt. Fineness in no case will be more than 0.9999.

Chm 15 Delivery Procedures

Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

m1550.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/01)

m1550.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (01/01/04)

m1551.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/01)

m1554.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (10/01/01)

m1554.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (01/01/04)

m1556.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/01)

m1580.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Gold for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Gold is ordered into the Vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Gold in storage in balance with Gold represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/01)

m1581.01 Conditions of Regularity - Gold may be delivered against a Gold contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of Gold, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Gold and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Gold received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Gold. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Gold in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults of regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Gold futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Gold, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

m1584.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Gold under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of Gold under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

m1586.01 Regular Vaults - (See Appendix m15B) (10/01/01)

U.S. Treasury Bonds

U.S. Treasury Bonds

1801.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

1802.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in long term U.S. Treasury bonds shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in long term U.S. Treasury bonds. 3000 (09/01/00)

1804.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury bonds having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. 3002 (10/01/94)

1805.01 Months Traded In - Trading in long-term U.S. Treasury bonds may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

1806.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($31.25 per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one-thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. 3004 (02/01/01)

1807.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in U.S. Treasury Bonds shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of the trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. 3007 (10/01/94)

1809.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in long term U.S. Treasury bond futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1809.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. 3008 (10/01/94)

1809.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1809.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury bonds (Regulation 1842.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual long term U.S. Treasury bonds or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bonafide exchange of such futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.01). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. 3009 (03/01/04)

Ch18 Delivery Procedures

1836.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be long term U.S. Treasury bonds which if callable are not callable for at least 15 years or if not callable have a maturity of at least 15 years. All bonds delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity (time to call if callable) of a given issue is calculated in complete three month increments (i.e. 15 years and 5 months = 15 years and 1 quarter) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a bond with this time to maturity (time to call if callable) and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6% according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied times the settlement price to arrive at the amount which the short invoices the long.

U.S. Treasury Bonds deliverable against futures contracts under these regulations must have semi-annual coupon payments.

Interest accrued on the bonds shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of long term U.S. Treasury bonds which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. The Board shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. 3001 (03/01/00)

1842.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against long term U.S. Treasury bond futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 1880.01) in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds in place at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form no later than 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 1880.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account at the long Clearing Member's bank on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the bonds are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 1880.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 1880.01) in payment for delivery of the bonds. Contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. 3011 (01/01/04)

1842.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire or bank access to it is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day on which the bonds were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 1842.01 and 1849.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations 1842.01 and 1849.04 have been complied with. 3014 (10/01/94)

1846.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of U.S. Treasury bonds may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of U.S. Treasury bonds must be made no later th an the last business day of that month. 3012 (10/01/94)

1848.01 Method of Delivery - (See Regulation 1048.01) (10/01/94)

1849.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

1849.03 Seller's Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers, describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

1849.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing House shall be made with the Clearing House in accordance with its By-laws and Resolutions. 3013 (10/01/94)

1849.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing Member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. Chapter 19

10-Year Municipal Note Index Futures

1901.01 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (11/01/02)

1902.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in CBOT(r) 10-Year Municipal Note Index (the "Index") contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Index futures contracts. (11/01/02)

1904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be $1,000.00 times the Index. (11/01/02)

1905.01 Months Traded - Trading in Index futures contracts may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (11/01/02)

1906.01 Price Basis - The price of Index futures contracts shall be quoted in points. One point equals $1,000.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be 1/32 of one point or thirty-one dollars and twenty-five cents ($31.25) per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/02)

1907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Index futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring futures contract, the closing time for such future shall be 2:00 p.m. Chicago time (3:00 p.m. New York time) subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (11/01/02)

1909.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Index futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month. If on the last day of trading FT Interactive Data Corporation does not publish a closing Index value, the last day of trading shall be the next business day for which a closing Index value is published. (11/01/02)

1909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 1909.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 1942.01. (11/01/02)

1936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be $1,000.00 times the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading. The Index shall be composed and determined by the Exchange in accordance with the criteria set forth in Regulation 1950.01. The closing value of the Index shall be determined by FT Interactive Data Corporation. (11/01/02)

1942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Index futures contracts shall be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

After trading ceases on the last day of trading, the Clearing Services Provider shall advise clearing members holding open positions in current month Index futures contracts of the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading. Clearing members shall make and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures. The settlement price on the last day of trading is equal to $1,000.00 times the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading.

The final settlement value of the Index on the last day of trading shall be determined as follows:

Final Settlement Value = 100 * [5 / r + (1 - 5 / r) *(1 + r / 200)/-20/]

where r represents the simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds in the Index for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the simple average yield-to-worst for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.25.

The contract expiration price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thirty-second of a point.

Example: Suppose the simple average yield-to-worst on the last day of trading is 5.50. The final settlement value will be 96.19318. To render this in terms of price point and thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 99-7/32nds and 99-6/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000.00):

99-7/32nds	=	96.21875

The final settlement value is nearer to 99-6/32nds. Thus, the contract expiration price is obtained by rounding down to 99-6/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thirty-seconds of a price point, the contract expiration price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thirty-second of a point.

On the last day of trading, open contracts will be marked to market based on the closing futures price. A final mark to market will be made on the day the contract expiration price is determined. (12/01/03)

1950.01 Index Composition - The Index shall be constructed by the Exchange in accordance with the following criteria:

(a) General Index Composition-The Index, at all times, shall be composed of no fewer than 100 but no more than 250 municipal bonds that are generally exempt from federal income taxation, including those generally exempt issues whose interest payments may be subject to an alternative minimum tax. The Exchange, in its discretion, may include bonds which meet the following criteria:

1. Size - Each bond shall have a principal value that is equal to or greater than $50 million and shall be a component tranche of a municipal issuance that has a deal size that is equal to or greater than $200 million.

2. Rating - Each bond shall carry an insured or underlying trading of AAA by Standard and Poor's Corporation (S&P) and Aaa by Moody's Investors Service (MIS) upon initial inclusion in the Index. Bonds that fall below an insured or underlying rating of A- by S&P or A3 by MIS or both shall be deleted from the Index immediately.

3. Maturity - Each bond shall have a remaining maturity that is not less than 10 years or more than 40 years from the first calendar day of the corresponding futures contract month.

4. Call Provisions - Each bond may or may not be callable. If callable, the first call date shall be not less than 7 years from the first calendar day of the corresponding futures contract month.

5. Par Issue - Each bond must have a price that is equal to or greater than 90 at its issuance date to be eligible for inclusion in the Index.

6. Private Placements - A bond that is issued as a private placement is not eligible for inclusion in the Index.

7. Coupon - Each bond shall pay semi-annual interest at a fixed coupon rate that is not less than three percent per annum or greater than nine percent per annum.

8. Issuer Limit - No more than five percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be from the same issuer. A bond shall be deemed to have been issued by the same issuer if such bond has the same nominal and generic security, that is, the same ultimate source of payment for debt service, of another bond in the Index. A first or second lien bond of the same generic security shall be defined as having been issued by the same issuer.

9. State Limit - No more than fifteen percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be from within the jurisdictions of the same state, Puerto Rico. or other territorial jurisdictions.

10. Insurance Limit - Each bond may or may not be insured. No more than 40 percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be insured by Ambac Indemnity Corporation, Financial Guaranty Insurance Corporation, Financial Security Assurance, MBIA Insurance Corporation.

(b) Index Pricing - FI Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the closing value of the Index each day the municipal bond cash market is open using the following procedures:

1. Component Bond Pricing - FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond in the Index daily. The price of each component bond shall be defined as FT Interactive Data Corporation's fair market value estimation.

   With the exception of the last trading day in the current contract expiration, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond:

   - at 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time)when the underlying cash market is open for normal trading hours and is therefore not subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading, or

   - at 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading.

   On the last trading day in the current contract expiration, however, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time (3:00 p.m. New York time).

   If the Exchange determines in advance that circumstances in the cash market will occasion either an early halt to cash market trading or an otherwise unscheduled holiday which would impede FT Interactive Data Corporation from pricing the component bonds of the Index, the Exchange may suspend or reschedule the pricing for that day provided that such determination is published before the start of trading on the day in question and provided that such day is not the last day of trading in a contract month.

2. Index Computation - FT Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the daily Index value. FT Interactive Data Corporation shall first determine the price of each component bond in the Index. FT Interactive Data Corporation shall then calculate the simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds by summing the individual yields of the component bonds and dividing by the number of component bonds. The simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds in the Index shall be rounded to the nearest one-tenth of one basis point and rounded up in the case of a tie. This simple average yield-to-worst will be entered into the pricing algorithm in Regulation 1942.01 to calculate the daily Index value. The daily

Index value shall be rounded to the nearest one thirty-second of a full point. If the Index value is exactly at the midpoint between two thirty-seconds of a point, the Index value shall be rounded up to the nearest one thirty-second.

With the exception of the last trading day in the current contract expiration, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the daily Index value:

- at 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time)when the underlying cash market is open for normal trading hours and is therefore not subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading; or

- at 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading.

(c) Index Revisions - The Exchange shall revise the Index after 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) on the first business day in the February, May, August and November quarterly cycle. For example, the Index revision for the March futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in November, the index revision for the June futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in February, the index revision for the September futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in May, and the index revision for the December futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in August. If such day is not an Exchange business day, or is an Exchange business day that is subject to an early halt in cash market trading, the Exchange shall revise the Index shall after 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) on the immediately preceding Exchange business day that is not subject to an early halt in cash market trading. The revised Index will be implemented on the next business day following an Index revision.

(d) Bonds no longer meeting all the original selection criteria shall be deleted from the Index.

At Index revisions, no additions to, or deletions from, the Index will be implemented that would have the effect of violating global Index rules with respect to Issuer, State, or Insurance coverage limits.

In the event that more than 250 bonds meet the eligibility criteria for Index inclusion, as stipulated in Regulation 1950.01(a), the Exchange will increase in increments of $1 million the required $50 million principal value for bond eligibility in order to construct an Index that shall be composed of as many bonds as possible without exceeding the 250 bond limit.

The Exchange has final authority over Index composition. (11/01/03)

30-Day Fed Fund Futures

2101.01 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2102.01 Application of Regulation - Futures transactions in 30-Day Fed Fund futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 30-Day Fed Fund futures. (10/01/94)

2104.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be interest on Fed funds having face value of $5,000,000 or multiples thereof for one month calculated on a 30-day basis at a rate equal to the average overnight Fed funds rate for the contract month. (10/01/94)

2105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 30 Day Fed Fund futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (07/01/03)

2106.01 Price Basis - Prices will be quoted on an index basis, i.e., 100 minus the monthly average overnight Fed funds rate (e.g., a rate of 6.50% is quoted at 93.50). Minimum price fluctuations shall be in increments of one-half of one-hundredth of one percent of five million dollars on a 30 day basis ($20.835 per one-half basis point), rounded up to the nearest cent. (07/01/99)

2107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in 30-Day Fed Fund futures shall be as determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 2:00 p.m. Chicago time subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2109.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading shall be the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/94)

2113.01 Strip Transactions - A 30-Day Fed Fund futures strip transaction involving the simultaneous purchase or sale of an equal amount of futures contract months at a differential to the previous settlement prices is permitted on this Exchange provided:

1. that each month of the strip is for the same account. Provided that, when an order has been executed in the wrong month, and the erroneous transaction has been placed in the broker's or firm's error account, the error may be corrected by a spread transaction in which one leg of the spread offsets the position in the error account and the other leg is the correct execution of the order. Provided further that the liability of the floor broker or FCM shall be determined in accordance with Regulation 350.04.

2. that all months of the strip are priced at prices within the daily trading limits specified in Regulation 1008.01.

3. that the strip is offered by public outcry in the pit assigned to 30-Day Fed Fund futures.

4. that the transaction shall be reported, recorded and publicized as a strip.

5. that when such transactions are executed simultaneously, the executing member on each side of the transaction shall designate each part of the trade as a strip on his cards or order by an appropriate word or symbol clearly identifying each part of such transactions.

Brokers may not couple separate orders and execute them as a strip, nor may a broker take one part of a strip for his own account and give the other part to a customer on an order. (10/01/94)

For days for which the Federal Reserve Bank of New York does not compute a rate (e.g. weekends and holidays), the rate shall be the rate determined on the last business day for which a rate was determined. (08/01/01)

2142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 30-Day Fed Fund futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. The final settlement price will be calculated on the business day that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York releases the overnight Fed funds rate for the last day of trading. The final settlement price shall be 100 minus the average daily Fed funds overnight rate for the delivery month. On the last day of trading open contracts will be marked to market based on the closing futures price. A final mark to market will be made on the day the final settlement price is determined. Ch22 TRADING CONDITIONS

2201.01 AUTHORITY - Trading in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/03)

2201.01 APPLICATION OF REGULATIONS - Transactions in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts (See Rule 490.00). Options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/03)

2202.01 NATURE OF CBOT 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES PUT OPTIONS - The buyer of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2207.01), to assume a short position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (04/01/03)

2202.02 NATURE OF CBOT 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES CALL OPTIONS - The buyer of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration subject to Regulation 2207.01), to assume a long position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (04/01/03)

2204.01 STRIKE PRICES - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with strike prices in integral multiples of six and one-quarter basis points (0.0625) per CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract and in integral multiples of twelve and one-half basis points (0.1250) per CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract as follows:

A. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following strike prices in integral multiples of six and one-quarter basis points shall be listed: one with a strike price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract and the next ten (10) consecutive higher and the next ten (10) consecutive lower strike prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If a previous day's settlement price is midway between two strike prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten 6-1/4 basis point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following strike prices in integral multiples of twelve and one-half basis points shall be listed: the next five (5) consecutive higher and the next five (5) consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 2204.01A. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least five 12-1/2 basis point striking prices always exist above and below the strike price band as

C. When a new strike price is added for an option contract month, the same strike price will be added to all option contract months for which that strike price is not already listed. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (05/01/03)

2205.01 PAYMENT OF OPTION PREMIUM - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $10.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (05/01/03)

2207.01 EXERCISE OF OPTION - The buyer of a CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the next business day following the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer.

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option. (12/01/03)

2207.02 AUTOMATIC EXERCISE - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2207.01 all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or such time designated by the Exchange unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. (12/01/03)

2207.03 CORRECTIONS TO OPTION EXERCISES - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

2208.01 EXPIRATION OF OPTION - Unexercised CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. Chicago time on the next business day after the termination of trading (See Regulation 2213.01). (04/01/03)

2209.01 MONTHS TRADED IN - Trading CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/03)

2210.01 TRADING HOURS - The hours of trading for options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time on the last trading day of said option contract. CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/03)

2212.01 MARGIN REQUIREMENTS - (See Regulations 431.05, 431.06) (04/01/03)

2213.01 LAST DAY OF TRADING - Trading in an expiring option contract shall terminate at the same time and date as the underlying futures contract, that is, at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time on the last business day of the underlying contract month. (04/01/03)

Chapter 23
Short Term U.S. T-Notes (2-Year)

2301.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2302.01 Application of Regulation - Futures transactions in short term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in short term U.S. Treasury Notes.

For the purpose of this chapter, the trading day begins with the commencement of trading on Project A at 2:15 p.m. and ends with the close of trading of regular daytime trading. (10/01/98)

2303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, U.S. Treasury Bonds or U.S. Treasury Notes otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than one year, nine months or longer than two years and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter; and/or

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, one year nine months to two years U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2304.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2305.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Short-Term U.S. Treasury Notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2306.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-quarter of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 rounded up to the nearest 1 cent per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/94)

2307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in short term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2309.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in short term U.S. Treasury Note futures deliverable in the current month shall be made following the last business day of the calendar month, and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 2309.02 after trading in such contract has ceased. (05/01/04)

2309.02 Liquidation after Trading has Ceased - After trading in contacts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes (Regulation 2342.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event be made no later than 12:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on the second business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month as defined in Regulation 2346.01.(03/01/04)

Ch23 Delivery Procedures

2336.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. Treasury Notes which have an original maturity no greater than five years three months and remaining maturity not less than one year, nine months and not more than two years as defined below. All notes delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement or for determining remaining maturity for delivery eligibility, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete one month increments (i.e. 1 year, 10 months, 17 days is taken to be 1 year, 10 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount at which the short invoices the long.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2342.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against short-term U.S. Treasury Notes futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2380.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart 0: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form by 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2380.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange and notify his bank (Regulation 2380.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Members' account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2380.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2342.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2342.01 and 2349.04 and that all provisions of Regulations of 2342.01 and 2349.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2346.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of short term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. The delivery month extends to and includes the third business day following the last trading day in the current month. Delivery of short term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (11/01/94)

2349.03 Seller's Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers, describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m. or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

2349.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payments before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its rules, policies and procedures. (01/01/04)

2349.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

2350.00 Duties of Members - (See Rule 1050.00) (10/01/94)

2350.02 Failure to Deliver - (See Regulation 1050.01) (01/01/04)

2354.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See Regulation 1054.01) (01/01/04)

2380.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in short term U.S. Treasury Notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2342.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). (10/01/94)

Long Term T-Notes (6 1/2 -10 Year)

Chapter 24
Long Term T-Notes (6 1/2 -10 Year)

2401.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2402.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in long term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in long term U.S. Treasury Notes. (09/01/00)

2403.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may be in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, callable U.S. Treasury Bonds otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than six and one-half years, or longer than ten years and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter; and/or

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, six and one-half years to ten years U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2404.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2405.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Long-Term U.S. Treasury notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2406.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-half of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (02/01/01)

2407.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in long term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 2409.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. (10/01/94)

2409.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of Delivery Months - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2409.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes or Bonds (Regulation 2442.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or Bonds or comparable instruments or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. (03/01/04)

2436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. Treasury Notes which have an actual maturity of not less than six and one-half years and not more than ten years. All notes delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete quarter year increments (i.e. 8 years, 10 months, 17 days is taken to be 8 years, 9 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount at which the short invoices the long.

U.S. Treasury Notes deliverable against futures contracts under these regulations must have semi-annual coupon payments.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2442.01 Deliveries of Futures Contracts - Deliveries against long term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2480.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes in place at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form no later than 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2480.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account at the long Clearing Member's bank on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 2480.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2480.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2442.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or thbulletinClearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2442.01 and 2449.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations of 2442.01 and 2449.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2446.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of long term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of long term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (10/01/94)

2449.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

2449.03 Sellers Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

2449.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, or such other time designated by the Exchange, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. or such other time designated by the Exchange, the next business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its rules, policies and procedures. (01/01/04)

2449.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

2480.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in long term U.S. Treasury Notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2442.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). Chapter 25
Medium Term U.S. Treasury Notes (5 Year)

Medium Term U.S. Treasury Notes (5 Year)

2501.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2503.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, U.S. Treasury Bonds otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than four years and two months, or longer than five years and two months and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter.

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, five year U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current cash market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2504.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Medium-Term U.S. Treasury notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2506.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-half of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 rounded up to the nearest 1c per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (02/01/01)

2507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in medium term U.S. Treasury Note futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery as provided in Regulation 2509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. (10/01/94)

2509.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2509.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes (Regulation 2542.01) or by mutual agreement by means of bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. (03/01/04)

2536.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. notes which have an original maturity of not more than 5 years three months and which have a remaining maturity of not less than four years and two months as defined below. To be delivered in the current month, the note must have been issued by the Treasury before the last day of trading in the current month. All notes or bonds delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete one month increments (i.e. 4 years, 5 months and 14 days is taken to be 4 years and 5 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount which the short invoices the long.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2542.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against medium term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2580.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form by 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time), or such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2580.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or such other time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 2580.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2580.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2542.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2542.01 and 2549.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations of 2542.01 and 2549.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2546.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of medium term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of medium term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (10/01/94)

2548.01 Method of Delivery - (See Regulation 1048.01) (10/01/94)

2549.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its rules, policies and procedures. (01/01/04)

2549.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

2551.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See Regulation 1051.01) (10/01/94)

2554.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See Regulation 1054.01) (01/01/04)

2580.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in U.S. Treasury notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2542.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus, and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). (10/01/94)

Chapter 26
CBOT mini-sized Three-Month Eurodollar Time Deposits

Chapter 26
CBOT mini-sized Three-Month Eurodollar Time Deposits

Ch26 Trading Conditions

2601.01 Authority - Trading in mini-sized Eurodollar futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (12/01/01)

2602.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in mini-sized Eurodollars shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in mini-sized Eurodollars. (12/01/01)

2603.01 Derivative Markets - Settlement prices shall be set in accordance with this regulation consistent with the settlement prices of the primary market. Contract settlement prices therein shall be set equal to the settlement prices of the corresponding contracts of the primary market for such commodity. Where a particular contract has opened on the Exchange for which the primary market has established no settlement price, the Clearing Services Provider shall set a settlement price consistent with the spread relationships of other contracts; provided, however, that if the contract is not subject to daily price fluctuation limits then the settlement price shall be set at the fair market value of the contract at the close of trading. (01/01/04)

2604.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be three-month Eurodollar time deposits in the amount of $500,000. (12/01/01)

2605.01 Months Traded in - Trading in mini-sized Eurodollar futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/01)

2606.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be one-half of one basis point (0.005) of $500,000 on a 90-day basis, or $6.25 per contract. Prices shall be quoted in terms of an index consisting of the difference between the number 100.00 and the three-month Eurodollar yield on an annual basis for a 360-day year. (For example, a deposit rate of 4.50 percent shall be quoted as 95.50.) Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (12/01/01)

2607.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in mini-sized Eurodollar futures shall be determined by the Exchange. (12/01/01)

2609.01 Last Day of Trading The last day of trading in Eurodollar futures contracts, deliverable in the current month, shall be the second London bank business day immediately preceding the third Wednesday of the contract month. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 11:00 a.m. (London time)*, subject to the provisions of Regulation 9B.02. (12/01/01)

*This is 5:00 a.m. (Chicago time) except when Daylight Saving Time is in effect in either, but not both, London or Chicago.

2636.01 Standards - Each contract which is not offset prior to the expiration of trading shall be offset with the clearing house on the second London bank business day immediately preceding the third Wednesday of the contract month at a settlement price established by the International Monetary Market for settlement of its corresponding expiring Three-Month Eurodollar Time Deposits futures contract. If the foregoing date for cash settlement is an Exchange holiday, each contract which is not offset prior to the expiration of trading shall be offset with the Clearing Services Provider on the next succeeding Exchange business day. (01/01/04)

2642.01 Deliveries of Futures Contracts - Deliveries against mini-sized Eurodollar futures contracts must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be made on settlement day and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

The Clearing Services Provider will advise clearing members holding open positions in mini-sized Eurodollar futures contracts deliverable in the current month of the final settlement price established for that month, as soon as practicable on settlement day. Clearing members shall then make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures, based on the settlement price. (01/01/04)

2647.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (12/01/01)

Long Term Treasury Note Futures Options

Chapter 27A (Standard Options)
Long Term Treasury Note Futures Options

Ch27A Trading Conditions

A2701.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00) (10/01/94)

A2701.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/00)

A2702.01 Nature of Long Term Treasury Note Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2707.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2702.02 Nature of Long Term Treasury Note Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2707.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2703.01 Trading Unit - One (1) $100,000 face value Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

A2704.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per Long Term Treasury Note futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive higher and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty-five (25) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

A2705.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A2706.01 Option Premium Basis - The Premium for Long Term Treasury Note futures options

shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one percent (1%) of a $100,000 Long Term Treasury Note futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A2707.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Long Term Treasury Note futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (01/01/04)

A2707.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2707.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2707.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A2708.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Long Term Treasury Note futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2709.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in Long Term Treasury Note futures options for a thirty six month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Both serial and quarterly options may be listed to expire into either front-month or deferred futures as determined by the Board. (06/01/99)

A2710.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Long Term Treasury Note futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/00)

A2712.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (10/01/94)

A2713.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Long Term Treasury Note futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Long Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Chapter 27B (Flexible Options)
Long Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 2702.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 2701.00, 2701.01, 2702.01, 2702.02, 2705.01, 2706.01, 2710.01, 2711.01, 2712.01, and 2714.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch27B Trading Conditions

B2702.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Long Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Long Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 2707.01, 2707.02, 2708.01, and 2713.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B2703.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B2704.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 32nd's of points per Long Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 32nd point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B2707.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2707.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2708.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2709.01 Months Traded In - Trading my be conducted in flexible options in any month up through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (05/01/94)

B2713.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B2715.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B2716.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B2717.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series. If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 2719.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B2719.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the priority period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B2720.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B2721.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 2702.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

Chapter 28A (Standard Options)
T-Bond Futures Options

Ch28A Trading Conditions

A2801.00 Authority - Trading in put and call options on futures contracts and on commodities may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (10/01/94).

A2801.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/00)

A2802.01 Nature of U.S. Treasury Bond Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2807.01), to assume a short position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2802.02 Nature of U.S. Treasury Bond Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2807.01), to assume a long position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2804.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract as follows: At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract's previous day's settlement price, and the next thirty (30) consecutive higher and the next thirty (30) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least thirty (30) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A2806.01 Option Premium Basis - The Premium for U.S. Treasury Bond futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one percent (1%) of a $100,000 U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A2807.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a U.S. Treasury Bond futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (01/01/04)

A2807.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2807.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2807.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:OO p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A2808.01 Expiration of Option- Unexercised U.S. Treasury Bond futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2809.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in U.S. Treasury Bond futures options for a thirty-six month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Both serial and quarterly options may be listed to expire into either front-month or deferred futures as determined by the Board (06/01/99)

A2801.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options in U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. U.S. Treasury Bond futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regular Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/00) A28011.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

A2813.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in U.S. Treasury Bond futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding U.S. Trading Bond futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one [four] business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Treasury Bond Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 2802.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 2801.00, 2801.01, 2802.01, 2802.02, 2805.01, 2806.01, 2810.01, 2811.01, 2812.01, and 2814.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch28B Trading Conditions

B2802.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 2807.01, 2807.02, 2808.01, and 2813.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B2803.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B2804.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 32nd's of points per U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 32nd point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B2807.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2807.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2808.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2902.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2809.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in flexible options in any month up through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (10/01/94)

B2813.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B2815.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B2816.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B2817.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series.

If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 2819.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B2819.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B2820.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B2821.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 2802.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

Soybean Futures Options

2901.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00). (10/01/94)

2901.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Soybean futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Soybean futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00). (10/01/94)

2902.01 Nature of Soybean Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 2907.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

2902.02 Nature of Soybean Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 2907.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

2904.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of ten (10) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.10, 6.20, 6.30, etc) in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.20, 6.40, 6.60, etc.) and in integral multiples of forty (40) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.00, 6.40, 6.80, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of forty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within $1.10 of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of forty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. a. In integral multiples of ten cents, at the commencement of trading for options that are traded in months in which Soybean futures are not traded, and for standard option months, the business day they become the second deferred month, the following strike prices shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean futures contract and the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes. For example, ten-cent strike price intervals for the September 2000 contract month would be added on June 26, which is the business day after the expiration of the July contract month.

b. Over time, new ten-cent strike prices will be added to ensure that at least five strike prices exist above and below the previous day's trading range in the underlying futures.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

2905.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

2906.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Soybean futures options shall be in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) of one cent per bushel of a 5,000 bushel Soybean futures contract which shall equal $6.25 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $6.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (10/01/94)

2907.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Soybean futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

2907.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2907.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading.

2907.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

2908.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Soybean futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Soybean futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

2910.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Soybean futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Soybean futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Soybean futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

2913.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Soybean futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

2914.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits -Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Soybean futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Soybean futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

3004.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of five (5) cents per bushel per Corn futures contract (i.e., 2.55, 2.60, 2.65, etc.), in integral multiples of ten (10) cents per bushel per Corn futures contract (i.e., 2.50, 2.60, 2.70, etc.) and in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per bushel per Corn futures contract (i.e., 2.80, 3.00, 3.20, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of ten cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Corn futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of ten cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within 55 cents of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. a. In integral multiples of five cents, at the commencement of trading for options that are traded in months in which Corn futures are not traded, and for standard option months, the business day they become the second deferred month, the following strike prices shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Corn futures contract and the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes. For example, five-cent strike price intervals for the September 2000 contract month would be added on June 26, which is the business day after the expiration of the July contract month.

b. Over time, new-five cent strike prices will be added to ensure that at least five strike prices exist above and below the previous day's trading range in the underlying futures.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $6.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (10/01/94)

3007.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Corn futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

3007.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3007.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading.

3007.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:OO p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

3008.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Corn futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the day of trading. (12/01/03)

month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Corn futures are not trading underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

3010.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Corn futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Corn futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Corn futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Corn futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

3011.01 Position Limits - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

3013.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Corn futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Corn futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

3014.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Corn futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Corn futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

The seller of one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A3502.02 Nature of Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 3507.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A3503.01 Trading Unit - One (1) Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

A3504.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one-half (1/2) point per Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, the next fifteen (15) consecutive higher and the next fifteen (15) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least fifteen (15) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

A3505.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A3506.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($1,000) of a Medium Term U. S. Treasury Note futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum price fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A3507.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

A3507.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3507.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading.

(01/01/04)

A3507.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange options transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A3508.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A3509.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options for a thirty-six month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Both serial and quarterly options may be listed to expire into either front-month or deferred futures as determined by the Board. (06/01/99)

A3510.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/00)

A3513.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Medium Term U.S. Treasury Note futures put and call options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading will be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Medium Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 3502.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 3501.00, 3501.01, 3502.01, 3502.02, 3501.01, 3506.01, 3510.01, 3511.01, 3512.01, and 3514.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch35B Trading Conditions

B3502.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Medium Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Medium Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 3507.01, 3507.02, 3508.01 and 3513.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B3503.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B3504.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 64th's of points per Medium Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 64th point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B3507.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3507.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3508.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3509.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in flexible options in any month through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (10/01/94)

B3513.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B3515.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B3516.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B3517.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series.

If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 3519.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B3519.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the priority period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B3520.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B3521.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 3502.03 is to permit trading in standard option under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

Short Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 3602.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 3601.00, 3601.01, 3602.01, 3602.02, 3605.01, 3606.01, 3610.01, 3611.01, 3612.01, and 3614.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch36B Trading Conditions

B3602.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Short Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Short Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 3607.01, 3607.02, 3608.01 and 3613.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B3603.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B3604.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 64th's of points per Short Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 64th point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B3607.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3607.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3621.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 3602.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

CBOT Rough Rice Futures

Chapter 37
CBOT Rough Rice Futures

Ch37 Trading Conditions

3700.01 Introduction - This chapter is limited in application to futures trading in rough rice. The procedures for trading, clearing, inspection, delivery, settlement and any other matters not specifically covered herein shall be governed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. (11/01/94)

3701.01 Contract Specifications - All futures contracts shall be for U.S. No. 2 or better long grain rough rice as the same is established by standards promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture (U.S.D.A.) at the time of the first day of trading in a particular contract. No heat-damaged kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.0 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. No stained kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.1 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. A maximum of 75 lightly discolored kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.2 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. No other grade is deliverable.

To be deliverable, rough rice shall have a milling yield of not less than 65%, including not less than 48% head rice. Each percent of head rice over or below 55% shall receive a 1.5% premium or discount, respectively, toward the settlement price for long grain rough rice and each percent of broken rice over or below 15% shall receive a .75% premium or discount, respectively. All rough rice shall be of a Southern origin or such other origin as the Exchange may approve. (11/01/03)

3701.02 Trading Months and Hours - Futures contracts shall be traded initially for delivery during the months of September, November, January, March, May and July of each year. The number of months to be open at one time shall be at the discretion of the Exchange. Trading shall be conducted from 9:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Chicago Time, except in the expiring contract on the last day of trading when trading shall cease at 12:00 Noon. (11/01/98)

3701.03 Trading Unit - The unit of trading shall be 2,000 hundredweight (200,000 pounds). (11/01/94)

3701.04 Price Increments - All bids and offers shall be in multiples of $.005 per hundredweight. (11/01/94)

3701.05 Daily Price Limits - (See 1008.01) (11/01/94)

3701.06 Termination of Trading - No trades shall be made during the last seven business days of the trading month. Any trades remaining open during this period shall be settled by delivery or a bona fide exchange of futures for the cash commodity or over-the-counter transaction. (01/01/03)

3701.07 Contract Modifications - Contract specifications shall be fixed as of the first day of trading of the contract and must conform to government grading standards in force at that time. If any federal governmental agency issues an order, ruling, directive or law that conflicts with requirements of these regulations, such order, ruling, directive or law shall be construed to become part of these regulations, and all new contracts shall be subject to such governmental orders. (11/01/94)

3702.01 Delivery by Warehouse Receipts - Deliveries of rough rice shall be made only by delivery of rough rice warehouse receipts issued by warehouses located in the Arkansas counties of Craighead, Jackson, Poinsett, Woodruff, Cross, St. Francis, Lonoke, Prairie, Monroe, Jefferson, Arkansas and DeSha and designated by the Exchange as regular. Rough rice warehouse receipts issued by otherwise regular warehouses licensed under the U.S. Warehouse Act shall be eligible for delivery in satisfaction of Exchange contracts regardless of whether such warehouses are or are not also licensed by any state. In order to effect a valid delivery, each receipt shall (a) be endorsed by holder making delivery; (b) be marked "INSURED"; (c) indicate payment for storage charges up to and including the 18th day of the preceding month; (d) be negotiable; (e) be registered with the registrar of the Exchange; (f) specify the warehouse; and (g) specify the grade, milling yield and quantity of the rough rice stored; and (h) specify that the rough rice meets the CBOT standards for heat damaged, stained and lightly stained kernels. Unpaid accumulated storage charges shall be allowed and credited to the buyer by the seller up to and including the date of delivery.

3702.02 Registration of Warehouse Receipts - Registration of rough rice warehouse receipts shall be subject to the following requirements:

A. Warehouses which are regular for delivery may have their warehouse receipts registered at any time with the Official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. If the warehouseman determines not to tender the warehouse receipt by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the warehouseman shall declare the receipt has been withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility. The holder of a registered warehouse receipt may cancel its registration at any time. A warehouse receipt which has been canceled may not be registered again.

B. Except in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of a delivery month, in which case the warehouse receipt must be registered before 1:00 p.m. on the last delivery day of the delivery month, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the rough rice warehouse receipt must be registered before 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery. If notice day is the last business day of a week, rough rice warehouse receipts must be registered before 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

C. The Registrar shall issue a daily report showing the total number of warehouse receipts under registration as of 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange floor and the CBOT website, this daily report shall show the names of warehouses whose receipts are registered. The record shall not include any receipts that have not been declared withdrawn.

D. From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of receipts that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

E. When a warehouseman regains control of his own registered receipt, the warehouseman shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said receipt or declare that said receipt is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said receipt for the warehouseman has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the warehouseman regained control of said receipt. (12/01/03)

3702.03 Delivery Dates - For the trading months of January, March, May, July, September and November, delivery may be made by the seller upon any business day of the delivery month the seller may select. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (11/01/94)

3702.04 Storage - Rough rice shall be stored in a bin or bins in a warehouse declared regular by the Exchange, and may contain rough rice from one or more different lots of the same quality and milling yield. Rough rice may be added to or withdrawn from such lots, provided any rice added shall be of the same quality and milling yield and shall conform to the specifications of this chapter and any withdrawal shall not reduce the amount of rice stored in such lots to an amount less than the total amount required to satisfy all outstanding warehouse receipts issued thereagainst. (11/01/94)

3702.05 Par Delivery Unit - Par delivery is 2,000 hundredweight (200,000 pounds) of U.S. No. 2 or better long-grain rough rice. A weight variation of 1% shall be permitted, such variation to be priced at the previous day's settlement price if the expiring future is still trading and at the expiration price of the nearest previous future if no expiring future is trading. (11/01/94)

3702.06 Par Delivery Point - The par delivery points for rough rice shall be mill site warehouses within the boundaries of the Arkansas counties of Craighead, Jackson, Poinsett, Woodruff, Cross, St. Francis, Lonoke, Prairie, Monroe, Jefferson, Arkansas and DeSha. Designation as a mill site warehouse shall be determined by the Exchange. Rough rice may be delivered in satisfaction of the rough rice futures contract at rice mill warehouses regular for delivery at the contract price. Rough rice may be delivered at regular warehouses within the twelve-county area which are not at mill sites in accordance with a schedule of discounts established and published by the Exchange pursuant to 3702.07. No warehouse regular for delivery of rough rice shall be located outside the twelve Arkansas counties listed above. (11/01/94)

3702.07 Delivery Differentials - Delivery of rough rice in satisfaction of the rough rice futures contract at regular warehouses other than regular mill site warehouses shall be subject to a delivery differential of -15 cents per hundredweight (cwt.) subject to the following:

1. At the time of filing an initial or renewal application for regularity, a warehouse shall be required to declare whether or not it is a mill site warehouse as defined in Appendix A.

2. If a regular mill site warehouse (non-mill site warehouse) renews regularity as a non-mill site warehouse (mill site warehouse) for a two-year term beginning July 1, the change in the delivery differential will become effective for the new crop delivery month of September within that two-year term.

3. Whenever the Exchange receives a bona fide renewal application for regularity which will cause the warehouse's delivery differential to change for the next crop year, a notice of the receipt of the application will be posted on the floor of the Exchange after the close of the market that day.

4. A warehouse which has been declared regular for delivery as a non-mill site warehouse (mill site warehouse) for a current regularity term ending June 30 may not be declared regular for delivery as a mill site warehouse (non-mill site warehouse) during the balance of that term.

Pursuant to the provisions of this regulation, 3702.06 and Appendix A of these rules and regulation, the Exchange shall publish a list of all regular warehouses and the applicable discount.

3702.08 Delivery and Loading Out - Delivery shall be made on the basis of the actual weight of rough rice loaded into rail cars or trucks. A load-out charge not to exceed the tariff as filed with the Exchange in accordance with 3704.01.H shall be paid by the buyer to cover loading and weighing. The maximum load-out charge for the loading-out of rough rice against a rough rice registered warehouse receipt is 22.222 cents per cwt. which will be subject to an evaluation by the Exchange at the time of renewal of regularity of rice warehouses. An increase or decrease in the maximum load-out charge for rough rice may become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted on the Exchange floor. The notice will state the amount of the maximum load-out charge, the applicable warehouse receipts and the date that the charge will become effective.

Load-outs shall begin not later than the third business day following the day on which loading instructions are given to the warehouseman; provided, however, that the withdrawing party has within that period furnished rail cars or trucks to receive the rice. The warehouseman shall be required to load-out rice at the normal rate of load-out for the facility, but not less than 20 trucks or its equivalent weight loaded-out in rail cars per business day and shall be able to load out the warehouse's entire regular capacity in 45 calendar days or less. A party taking delivery shall receive the quantity ordered loaded out as soon as reasonably possible but no more than 45 calendar days after load-out begins. Rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-out rates when transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, a condition of force majeure exists, or inclement weather prevents loading.

In addition, rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet the minimum load-out rate for rail cars when rail cars have been constructively placed for load-in prior to constructive placement of rail cars for load-out. However, when rail cars for load-out are constructively placed after rail cars for load in, the warehouse will load-in grain from the rail cars at the normal rate of load-in for the facility. This rate shall not be less than the equivalent weight of 20 trucks loaded-in from rail cars. Rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-in rates when a condition of force majeure exists, inspection services are not available or inclement weather prevents unloading.

The warehouse operator is not obligated to commence load-out of rough rice to a given party sooner than three business days after he receives canceled warehouse receipts and written loading instructions from such party, even if such party may have a conveyance positioned to accept load-out of rough rice before that time. If the party taking delivery presents transportation equipment of a different type (rail or truck) than that specified in the loading instructions, he is required to provide the warehouse operator with new loading orders, and the warehouse operator shall not be obligated to begin load-out of rough rice to such party sooner than three business days after he receives the new loading orders. Written loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on a given business day shall be deemed to be received on the following business day.

The warehouseman upon receipt of the canceled receipts by his agent and loading instructions from the owner by 2:00 p.m. on a given day, shall notify the owner by telex or telefax by 4:00 p.m. on that given day the scheduled day for load-out. The daily tariff load-out rate and the amount of tonnage which is scheduled for load-out before owner's load-out shall also be provided in the notification.

The owner upon acceptance of the scheduled load-out date, and if he so requests on a given day prior to load-out, shall receive a telex or telefax from the warehouseman specifying the amount of tonnage remaining before owner's equipment is loaded.

The warehouseman upon cancellation of loading instructions on any business day prior to the day of actual loading of rice, and if requested by the owner, shall reissue and register warehouse receipts for the amount of rough rice which remains unloaded. Storage fees shall begin on the date of re-issuance of the new warehouse receipts.

Storage charges on rough rice to be shipped pursuant to loading instructions shall cease no later than three calendar days following the day on which canceled warehouse receipts are surrendered or loading instructions are given, whichever occurs later; provided, however, that the owner makes transportation available for loading on the scheduled load-out date or has not canceled loading instructions.

The warehouse operator shall be permitted a two percent deviation above or below the yield of head rice shown on the warehouse receipt issued for delivery on the contract. The warehouse operator shall also be permitted a two percent deviation above or below the total milling yield shown on the warehouse receipt issued for delivery on the contract.

The warehouse operator is responsible for maintaining the milling yield of rice specified on said warehouse receipt, within the stated allowable deviations, for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt and not for sub-lots (i.e. truckloads) of said warehouse receipt. The warehouse operator is also responsible for maintaining the numerical grade of rice specified on said warehouse receipt for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt, however, the numerical grade for sub-lots (i.e., truckloads) shall be no more than one numerical grade below the deliverable grade specified in 3701.01. Averaging the grade or milling yield of multiple receipts is not permissible.

When the rough rice is ordered out-of-store, the warehouse operator will be reimbursed by the buyer in cash if the total milling yield or the yield of head rice of the rice loaded out is over the total milling yield or the yield of head rice listed on the warehouse receipt (up to two percent).

Conversely, the warehouse operator will reimburse the buyer in cash if the total milling yield or the yield of head rice of the rice loaded out is under the total milling yield or the yield of head rice listed on the warehouse receipt (up to two percent). Calculations shall be made daily for each receipt loaded out that day and shall be based on the nearby month rough rice future's settlement price on the day of load out. Such payments to or from the warehouse operator for excess or deficit head and broken rice shall be at the premium and discount schedule specified in 3701.01, Contract Specifications. Adjustments on the milling yield of head rice shall be based on an official test.

Both the buyer and the warehouseman will provide for an analysis of the rough rice for grade and milling yield. If there is a disagreement, then a duplicate sample taken at origin shall be analyzed by the Federal Grain Inspection Service (FGIS), or a mutually agreed-upon third party to resolve the disagreement.

3702.09 Notice of Intention - A clearing member intending to deliver shall, not later than 4:00 p.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange, on position day, the second business day prior to the intended delivery day, provide to the Clearing Services Provider, a notice of intention in the form prescribed by the Exchange. On the last notice day of the delivery month, however, delivery notices may be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider until 2:00 p.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange. No intra-office delivery may be made. If a clearing member has both long and short interest on its books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices as it receives from its customers who are short. Prior to the opening of the market of the following business day, the Clearing Services Provider shall pass such notice to the clearing member having the oldest long contract as of the close of trading on the day of receipt by the Clearing Services Provider of the notice of intent (position day).

Upon receipt of the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer, the seller shall prepare invoices addressed to its assigned buyers describing the amount which buyers must pay to the seller in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider for that purpose adjusted for applicable premiums, discounts, storage charges, quantity variations and other items for which provision is made in these rules and regulations and other items for which provision is made in these rules and regulations relating to contracts. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. on notice day, or such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly made them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. A buyer receiving such an invoice from the Clearing Services Provider shall, not later than 1:00 p.m. of the following day, or such other time designated by the Exchange, present the invoice at the office of the seller by whom it was issued together with a certified check for the amount due, and thereupon warehouse receipts shall be delivered by the seller to the buyer.

3703.01 Weighing - Weighing shall be done in accordance with the current custom of the trade. The official shipped weight so obtained shall be final provided, however, that railroad weights shall be acceptable and shall be final if the negotiable warehouse receipt holder and the seller so agree in writing. (11/01/94)

3703.02 Storage Charges - Storage charges on rough rice shall not exceed such charges as have been filed with the Exchange in accordance with 3704.01H. (which shall be designed to cover costs of storage, insurance and taxes).

No rough rice warehouse receipts shall be valid for delivery on futures contracts unless the storage charges shall have been paid up to and including the 18/th/ day of the preceding month and such payment endorsed on the rough rice warehouse receipt. Unpaid accumulated storage charges at the posted tariff applicable to the warehouse where the rough rice is stored shall be allowed and credited to the buyer by the seller to and including date of delivery.

If storage charges up to and including the 18/th/ calender day preceding the delivery months of March, July and September and are not paid by the first calendar day of any such delivery month, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated storage charges multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage charges are paid, all multiplied by the number of calender days that storage is overdue divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate". Bank of America-Illinois Bank One Harris Trust & Savings Bank and the Northern Trust Company.

Storage on rough rice shall not exceed 34/100 of a cent per hundredweight per day. Regular Rough Rice warehousemen shall maintain in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange either an office or a duly authorized representative or agent which is a registered clearing member of the Exchange to whom Rough Rice storage charges must be paid. (11/01/03)

3704.01 Conditions of Regularity for Warehouses - The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions for regularity of Rough Rice warehouses:

A. The warehouse shall at all times meet standards of construction, sanitation and dust control, insurability and physical maintenance applicable generally to commercial warehouses.

B. It shall be situated with respect to transportation facilities deemed adequate by the Exchange.

C. It shall be located in such states as the Exchange may designate from time to time as delivery locations for Rough Rice.

D. It shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 37D. It shall file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require. The Exchange may, at its option, waive bond requirements.

E. It shall maintain all licenses required by state or federal law.

F. It shall have standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious receiving, handling and shipping of Rough Rice in bulk, in railroad cars, and in trucks, and shall be properly safeguarded and patrolled.

G. It shall cooperate with the Exchange's system of registration of negotiable warehouse receipts and furnish to the Exchange all needed information to enable it to keep a correct record and account of all Rough Rice remaining in store and receipts issued as of the close of each week.

H. It shall file its tariffs listing in detail the maximum charges for the handling and storage of Rough Rice, and thereafter it shall file with the Exchange any proposed changes in such tariffs. The effective date of the change will be on the first day of the month that follows a two-month time period after the day a written notice of the change is received by the Exchange.

I. It shall not engage in unethical conduct, or fail to be operated in accordance with accepted commercial practices or fail to comply with governmental statutes, rules and regulations governing warehouses and the commodities stored therein.

J. It shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitations and examinations of documents as the Exchange, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and the United States Department of Justice may prescribe or undertake; it shall comply with all applicable rules, regulations and orders promulgated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and with all requirements established by the Exchange because of such rules or orders.

K. The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Rough Rice futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Rough Rice, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (01/01/04)

3704.02 Application For Declaration of Regularity - Persons operating warehouses for the storage of Rough Rice traded on the Exchange who desire to have such warehouses made regular for delivery of Rough Rice under the rules and regulations shall make application for an initial declaration of regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for a two-year term beginning the following July 1, and every even year thereafter, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular warehouses who desire to change their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and changes in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received, is posted on the floor of the exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later.

Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994 and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

As part of its application for regularity, the warehouseman expressly agrees to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five (5) years after regularity lapses for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse was regular.

3704.03 Duties of Warehousemen - It shall be the duty of operators of all regular warehouses:

A. RESERVED

B. To notify the Exchange of any change in the condition of their warehouse which might materially affect their physical or financial ability to continue to meet the requirements for regularity under these rules and regulations. Any warehouse must immediately notify the Exchange of any material reduction of its capital, including the incurring of a contingent liability which would materially affect capital should such liability become fixed. Such notice must be in writing and signed by an officer of the warehouse.

   For purposes of this requirement, a reduction amounting to twenty percent (20%) or more from the total capital reported as of the last date for which a financial statement was filed under this requirement shall be deemed material. In determining total capital, there shall be taken into consideration equities and deficits in all proprietary accounts properly included in the determination of net worth.

C. To insure adequately and fully commodities covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against loss by fire, tornado and the contingencies provided for in the standard form of "extended coverage" endorsements or policies. Commodities shall be deemed so insured when the warehouse shall maintain such insurance for the benefit of all depositories of grain under tariffs, rules or regulations authorized and promulgated under the authority of the United States Warehouse Act. In any warehouse declared regular by the Exchange, the charge for insurance on commodities delivered on futures contracts shall be limited to a maximum of $1.00 per $100.00 evaluation annually. Any charges for insurance in excess of this amount shall be paid by the warehouseman.

D. To remove no commodity covered by negotiable warehouse receipts registered with the Exchange from the designated warehouse or, if appropriate, from the designated bond save at the request of the negotiable warehouse receipt holder upon surrender of the receipt.

E. To register with the Exchange all negotiable warehouse receipts relating to commodities for which the warehouse is declared regular and to cancel such registrations before releasing property.

F. To have a representative in Chicago, Illinois authorized and known to the Exchange to act in matters pertaining to negotiable warehouse receipts including shipping instructions.

G. To load vehicles furnished by holders of negotiable warehouse receipts of the Exchange within the time specified by these rules and regulations.

H. To furnish the Exchange with copies of policies or certificates of insurance under which deliverable commodities in the warehouse are insured.

I. To deliver commodities ordered out of the warehouse in buyer's vehicles within such times as specified by these rules and regulations showing no preference in out-loading, unless conditions such as acts of God, fire, flood, windstorm, explosion or other force majeure interfere therewith; provided, the warehouse shall make no charge for storage after three days following receipt of the load-out order notwithstanding delivery is prevented because of such act of God, etc.

   If no time period for out-loading is set forth in the rules or regulations of a given contract, load-out under such contract shall occur not later than three business days after vehicles are ready for loading, except as provided herein.

J. To inspect the transportation facilities furnished by the negotiable warehouse receipt holder. If, in the warehouseman's judgement, cleaning is necessary, he shall immediately notify the receipt holder and thereafter abide by the holder's instructions.

K. To load each vehicle to its capacity providing sufficient negotiable warehouse receipts are tendered.

L. To bear the costs of all expenses contingent upon transfer of title of the warehoused commodity to another regulated warehouse satisfactory to the owners of such commodity in the event of expiration or revocation of regularity or in the event of abandonment or sale of the properties where regularity is not reissued. (11/01/94)

3704.04 Safeguarding Condition Of Stored Commodities -

A. Whenever in the opinion of the operator of the warehouse any commodity stored in a public warehouse under his jurisdiction should be loaded out in order to protect the best interests of the parties concerned, such operator shall notify the Exchange giving the location and grades of such commodity. The Exchange shall immediately notify an appropriate inspection service which shall at once proceed to the warehouse in which the commodity is stored and examine it in conjunction with the operator of such warehouse. If the inspection service agrees with the operator that the commodity should be moved, it shall so notify the Registrar. If the inspection service does not agree with the operator that the commodity should be moved, the operator of the warehouse shall have the right to appeal to the Business Conduct Committee of the Exchange. If on such appeal the Business Conduct Committee shall agree with the operator that the commodity should be moved, the committee shall so notify the Registrar, and the warehouse receipts covering the above specified lot or lots shall no longer be regular for delivery on futures contracts. Upon receiving such notice, either from the inspection service or from the Business Conduct Committee, the Registrar shall notify the holder, or holders, or their agents, together with the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, of the total quantity of the grade of commodity in question (selecting the oldest registered warehouse receipt first, then such additional registered warehouse receipts in the order of their issuance as may be necessary to equal such total quantity of the commodity).

When this information reaches the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, he shall appoint a Committee consisting of five disinterested handlers of the cash commodity. This Committee shall meet at once and after taking into consideration various factors that establish the value of the grade of the receipts held by such owner or owners, shall determine the fair value of the commodity, which price shall be that to be paid by the operator. If the price offered is not satisfactory, a Committee appointed by the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee (at the request of such owner), shall procure other offers for such commodity, and such offers shall be immediately reported to the owner or his agent. If the owner refuses to accept any such offers, he shall have the two following business days to order and furnish facilities for loading the commodity out of store, and during this period the warehouse shall be obliged to deliver the commodity called for by the warehouse receipts, but not more than three (3) days may elapse after notification by the Registrar to the holder of the receipt before satisfactory disposition shall have been made of the commodity, either by sale to the operator or by the ordering out and furnishing facilities to load the same, provided the amount of such commodity does not exceed 20,000 hundredweight of rough rice in any one warehouse. If the amount of commodity in question exceeds such amount, the owner, or owners, of the warehouse receipts shall be allowed forty-eight hours of grace over and above the aforementioned three days for each additional 20,000 hundredweight.

B. In the event that the holder of the warehouse receipt, or his agent, fails to move the commodity or make other satisfactory disposition of same within the prescribed time, it shall be held for his account, and any loss in grade sustained shall likewise be for his account.

C. Nothing in the foregoing provisions shall be construed as prohibiting the warehouseman from fulfilling contracts from other stocks under his control. (11/01/94)

3704.05 Damage To Commodity In Store - Notice - The operator of a warehouse shall promptly advise the Exchange of any damage to a commodity held in store by it whenever such damage shall

occur to an extent that will render it unwilling to purchase and withdraw from store, at its cost, all such damaged commodity. (11/01/94)

3704.06 Revocation of Regularity - Any declaration of regularity may be withdrawn by the Exchange at any time if the warehouse does not comply with the conditions above set forth or fails to carry out prescribed duties; providing, however, the Exchange has theretofore given notice to the warehouseman of the deficiencies and a reasonable time, under the circumstances, to cure them.

If the designation is revoked, the Exchange shall post such revocation on the bulletin board together with the period of time, if any, during which the negotiable warehouse receipts issued by the warehouse will be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts.

Once such period of time, if any, has expired, and the negotiable warehouse receipts issued by the warehouse are no longer deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts, the warehouse shall bear the cost of the transfer of the warehoused commodity to another regulated warehouse, in accordance with 3704.03, paragraph L. (11/01/94)

3704.08 Finality of USDA Or Other Required Inspection Certificate - The Exchange assumes no responsibility and disclaims all liability on account of the grade, quantity or specifications of any commodity delivered on the basis of a USDA or other required inspection certificate. Such certificate shall constitute conclusive evidence of the grade, quantity or other specifications of the commodity described therein. (11/01/94)

3705.01 Delivery Through Clearing Services Provider - All deliveries on maturing contracts shall be made through the Clearing Services Provider. The Clearing Services Provider shall prescribe such forms and requirements for initiating and completing delivery as are consistent with this chapter and the various contract specification chapters. (12/01/03)

3705.02 Payment Upon Delivery - The receiver of a Notice of Intention from the Clearing Services Provider shall present the delivery invoice at the office of the deliverer not later than 1:00 p.m. on the next business day, i.e., delivery day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, together with a certified or cashier's check drawn on a Chicago bank, and shall receive therefore, properly endorsed, warehouse receipts or shipping certificates in accordance with the Notice and any other contract documents required under these rules and regulations.

If said delivery day is a banking holiday, delivery and payment must be made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, and the seller shall be responsible for storage charges up to and including that banking holiday. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its Regulations. (12/01/03)

3705.03 Necessity Of Possession Of Documents - The deliverer shall at such time as the Notice of Intent is delivered to the Clearing Services Provider have possession of all documents (except a warehouse receipt in the case of a redelivery) necessary to make good delivery. (12/01/03)

3705.04 Suspended Member Out Of Line For Delivery - When a clearing member who has open purchases is suspended from the Clearing Services Provider for default or insolvency, he shall be deemed out of line for delivery and tender shall be made to the buyer obligated upon the next oldest contract. Also, if tender be made to a buyer who is thereafter suspended for default or insolvency before delivery is accepted, the Notice shall be withdrawn and another immediately served upon the buyer obligated upon the next oldest contract. (12/01/03)

3705.05 Failure to Deliver - A clearing member who has not tendered a Notice on or before 8:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day in a delivery month on which such notice is permitted shall be in default. Failure to make delivery shall constitute improper conduct.

If a clearing member fails to fulfill its delivery obligation, the non-defaulting clearing member must notify the Clearing Services Provider of such failure as soon as possible. If, and only if, the non-defaulting clearing member notifies the Clearing Services Provider of the failure no later than sixty minutes after the time the delivery obligation was required to have been fulfilled, then the Clearing Services Provider shall pay to the non-defaulting clearing member reasonable damages proximately caused by the default.

The Clearing Services Provider shall not be obligated to either: (1) pay any damages greater than the difference between the delivery price of the specific commodity and the reasonable market price of such commodity at the time delivery was required; or (2) make or accept delivery of the actual commodity; or (3) pay any damages relating to the accuracy, genuineness, completeness, or acceptableness of warehouse receipts, shipping certificates, or any similar documents; or (4) pay any damages relating to the failure or insolvency of banks, depositories, warehouses, shipping stations, or similar organizations or entities that may be involved with a delivery.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member. (12/01/03)

3705.06 Failure To Accept Delivery -

If a clearing member fails to accept delivery, the seller tendering such delivery shall promptly sell the commodity for the account of the buyer. If the proceeds are insufficient to pay the seller the full delivery price, the clearing member failing to accept delivery shall be liable for the difference.

If a clearing member is unable or refuses to make full payment to the seller, the Clearing Services Provider shall bear the seller's loss in the first instance.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member.

Failure to accept delivery or make full payment shall also constitute improper conduct. (12/01/03)

3705.07 Transfer Of Cash For Futures After Termination Of Contract - Subject to the Exchange approval, a transfer of cash merchandise for futures may be permitted during the contract month after termination of the contract.

Such transfer of cash for futures shall be cleared through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal procedures and shall be made at the prices as are mutually agreed upon by the two parties to the transaction. Such transfers shall be clearly designated by proper symbol as transfer transactions and shall be recorded by the Exchange and the clearing member to the transactions, and proper notice given to the membership. Each party to such transaction must satisfy the Exchange that the transaction is bona fide and must file with the Clearing Services Provider all memoranda necessary to establish the nature of the transaction, the kind and quantity of the cash commodity, the kind, quantity and price of the commodity future, the names of all clearing members to the transaction and such other information as the Clearing Services Provider or Exchange may require.

Such transfer of cash for futures shall bear the normal commission charges pursuant to deliveries. (12/01/03)

3705.08 Risk Of Loss And Charges -

A. Title and the risk of loss or damage pass to the buyer at the time of delivery of the warehouse receipts.

B. The deliverer shall be responsible for all warehouse charges until the time when title passes and thereafter the receiver shall be responsible.

C. The receiver shall be responsible for all inspection and weighing charges at load-out. (11/01/94)

CBOT Rough Rice Options

- ---

3801.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Rough Rice futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Rough Rice futures contracts (See Rule 490.00). (04/01/04)

3802.01 Nature of Rough Rice Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Rough Rice futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 3807.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Rough Rice futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (04/01/04)

3803.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 2,000 hundredweight Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (04/01/04)

3804.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per hundredweight per Rough Rice futures contract (i.e., 7.80, 8.00, 8.20, etc.) and in integral multiples of forty (40) cents per hundredweight per Rough Rice futures contract (i.e., 8.00, 8.40, 8.80, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Rough Rice futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of forty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within $1.10 of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of forty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

3806.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Rough Rice futures options shall be in multiples of $0.0025 per hundredweight of a 2,000 hundredweight Rough Rice futures contract which shall equal $5.00 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (04/01/04)

3807.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Rough Rice futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (04/01/04)

3807.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (04/01/04)

3809.01 Months Traded - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Rough Rice futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Rough Rice futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (04/01/04)

3810.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Rough Rice futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Rough Rice futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Rough Rice futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Rough Rice futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/04)

3813.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Rough Rice futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Rough Rice futures contract on the last Friday which precedes, by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (04/01/04)

3814.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Rough Rice futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Rough Rice futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (04/01/04)

Bund Futures

Chapter 39
Bund Futures

3901.01 Authority - Trading in Bund futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

3902.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Bund futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Bund futures. Bund futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

3904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be Bundesanleihen (Bunds) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany, having face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof, and having remaining term to maturity between 8 years 6 months and 10 years 6 months. (04/01/04)

3905.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Bund futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

3906.01 Price Basis - The price of Bund futures contracts shall be quoted in points and hundredths of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

3907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in Bund futures shall be determined by the Exchange. Trading in an expiring Bund futures contract shall cease at 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/04)

3909.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in a Bund futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month. If the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the last trading day of said Bund futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day. (04/01/04)

3909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 3909.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 3942.01. (04/01/04)

3910.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

3936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 8 years 6 months and 10 years 6 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 3942.01. The price, P, at which any Bund that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

3942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Bund futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 3936.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 3936.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

where n is the number of Bunds that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\ , i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 3936.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. (04/01/04)

3947.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (04/01/04)

Bobl Futures

Chapter 40
Bobl Futures

Ch40 Trading Conditions

4001.01 Authority - Trading in Bobl futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

4002.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Bobl futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Bobl futures. Bobl futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

4004.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be Bundesanleihen (Bunds) and Bundesobligationen (Bobls) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany, having face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof, and having remaining term to maturity between 4 years 6 months and 5 years 6 months. (04/01/04)

4005.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Bobl futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

4006.01 Price Basis - The price of Bobl futures contracts shall be quoted in points and hundredths of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

4009.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in a Bobl futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month. If the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the last trading day of said Bobl futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day. (04/01/04)

4009.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4009.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4042.01. (04/01/04)

4010.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

4036.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund) or Bundesobligation (Bobl) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 4 years 6 months and 5 years 6 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4042.01. The price, P, at which any Bund or Bobl that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund or Bobl, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund or Bobl will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund or Bobl that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

4042.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Bobl futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 4036.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 4036.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

where n is the number of Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\, i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 4036.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. (04/01/04)

4047.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (04/01/04)

Chapter 41
Schatz Futures

Chapter 41
Schatz Futures

4101.01 Authority - Trading in Schatz futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

4102.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Schatz futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Schatz futures. Schatz futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

4105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Schatz futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

4106.01 Price Basis - The price of Schatz futures contracts shall be quoted in points and halves of one hundredth of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

4107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in Schatz futures shall be determined by the Exchange. Trading in an expiring Schatz futures contract shall cease at 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/04)

4109.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4109.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4142.01. (04/01/04)

4110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

4136.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund), Bundesobligation (Bobl), or Bundesschatzanweisung (Schatz) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 1 year 9 months and 2 years 3 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4142.01. The price, P, at which any Bund, Bobl, or Schatz that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund, Bobl, or Schatz, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund, Bobl, or Schatz will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund, Bobl, or Schatz that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

4142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Schatz futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 4136.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 4136.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

where n is the number of Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\, i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 4136.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. Chapter 42
WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note Futures

WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note Futures

Ch42 Trading Conditions

4201.01 Authority - Trading in When Issued (WI) 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (05/01/04)

4202.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures. WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (05/01/04)

4204.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall be approximately $500,000 notional par value of a 2-year U.S. Treasury note regularly scheduled for auction during the contract's delivery month.

The phrases "regularly scheduled" and "regularly schedule," as used here and elsewhere in this chapter in reference to auctions of 2-year U.S. Treasury notes, will describe any note that is scheduled (i) to be auctioned within a given calendar month and (ii) to be issued with a dated date that coincides with the last day of said calendar month. A tentative schedule of forthcoming auctions is published quarterly, generally in the first week of February, May, August, and November, by the Office of Domestic Finance of the U.S. Treasury Department. (05/01/04)

4205.01 Months Traded In - Trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (05/01/04)

4206.01 Price Basis - The price of WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be quoted on an index basis of 100 minus the yield of the 2-year Treasury note auction regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month (e.g., a yield of 6.50% is quoted at 93.50). One basis point (0.01) shall be equal to $92.92. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one quarter of one basis point (0.0025), which is equal to $23.23. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (05/01/04)

4207.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be determined by the Exchange. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct.

Trading in an expiring WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall cease at 5:00 p.m. New York time on the contract's last day of trading. (05/01/04)

4209.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in an expiring WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall be the day of the auction of 2-year U.S. Treasury notes regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contact, then the last day of trading in the WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract with the corresponding delivery month shall automatically become the business day preceding the last calendar day of the delivery month. (05/01/04)

4209.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4209.01 of this chapter), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4242.01. (05/01/04)

4210.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (05/01/04)

4236.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be 100 minus the final settlement yield of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 4204.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 4209.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement yield shall be the outcome of the 2-year U.S. Treasury note auction regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month, as published by the U.S. Treasury Department, rounded to the nearest one quarter (1/4) of one basis point.

In the event that the final settlement yield is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one basis point, the final settlement yield will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of one basis point.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, then the final settlement yield for the contract with the corresponding delivery month shall be the 2-year Treasury constant maturity yield for the contract's last day of trading (as specified under this contingency in Regulation 4209.01), as published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in its Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release ("Selected Interest Rates"). Said Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release generally will be published on the first business day following the last day of trading. (05/01/04)

4242.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Final settlement yield shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the U.S. Treasury Department has announced the auction result.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, then the final settlement yield shall be calculated after the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has published the pertinent Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release (as specified under this contingency in Regulation 4236.01). 4301.00 Authority - (See 1701.00) (11/01/97)

4303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (11/01/97)

4305.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are March, June, September and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (11/01/97)

4306.01 Price Basis - The price of the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures shall be quoted in points. One point equals $10.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one point per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/97)

4307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures shall be determined by the Board.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (11/01/97)

4308.01 Price Limits and Trading Halts - (See Regulation 1008.01) (11/01/97)

The CBOT's futures and futures option contracts based on the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) are not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by Dow Jones, and Dow Jones, and Dow Jones makes no representation regarding the advisability of trading in such product(s).

Index futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the trading day immediately preceding the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 4342.03). (11/01/97)

4309.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 4309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4342.01. (11/01/97)

4310.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (11/01/97)

4336.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 4342.02) of the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 4342.03). (11/01/97)

4342.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index Futures contract must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 4342.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 4342.02). (12/01/03)

4342.02 Final Settlement Price - The final settlement price shall be determined on the final settlement day. The final settlement price shall be $10 times a Special Open Quotation (SOQ) of the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index based on the opening prices of the component stocks in the index, or on the last sale price of a stock that does not open for trading on the regularly scheduled day of final settlement (as described in Regulation 4342.03).

If the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") does not open on the day scheduled for the determination of the final settlement price, then the NYSE-stock component of the final settlement price shall be based on the next opening prices for NYSE stocks. (11/01/97)

4342.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the third Friday of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) is not published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) is scheduled to be published. (11/01/97)

to ensure that at least twenty one hundred point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in two hundred point intervals shall be listed: the next ten consecutive higher and the next ten consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 4404.01(A). Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten striking prices in two hundred point intervals always exist above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 4404.01(A).

C. At the end of each quarterly cycle, the Exchange shall reset every listed month's strike prices to conform with Regulation 4404.01(A) and Regulation 4404.01(B). The newly calculated strike price band will be based on the final settlement price on the last business day of the quarterly cycle of the underlying futures contract. The Exchange will delist all previously listed strike prices that are not one of the newly calculated strike prices, provided that the strike to be delisted has neither call nor put open interest.

D. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (11/01/03)

4405.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

4406.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be in multiples of one-half (1/2) of one index point of a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract which shall equal $5.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (11/01/03)

4407.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

4407.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 4407.01, for options with quarterly expirations, all in-the-money2 options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or such other time designated by the Exchange unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 4407.01, for options with non-quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the last day of trading, or such other time designated by the Exchange unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

For options with quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the business day following the last day of trading. For options with non-quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

Unexercised CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options with non-quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (11/01/97)

4410.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on CBOT Dow Jones Industrial

Average(SM) Index futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be closed with a public call, made strike price by strike price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (11/01/97)

4413.01 Last Day of Trading - For options expiring on the quarterly cycle, trading shall terminate at the same date and time as the underlying futures contract. For options that expire in months other than those in the quarterly cycle, options trading shall terminate on the third Friday of the option contract month, at the end of the regular trading session. If that day is not an Exchange business day, options trading shall terminate on the first preceding business day. (11/01/97)

10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures

4901.01 Authority - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (11/01/01)

4902.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (11/01/01)

4904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be the notional price of the fixed-rate side of a 10-year interest rate swap that has notional principal equal to $100,000, and that exchanges semiannual interest payments at a fixed rate of 6% per annum, measured according to a 30/360 daycount convention, for floating interest rate payments, based on the 3-month London interbank offered rate (hereafter, LIBOR) and measured according to an actual/360 daycount convention, and that otherwise conforms to the terms prescribed by the International Swap and Derivatives Association, Inc. (hereafter, ISDA) for the purpose of computing the daily fixing of ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps. (06/01/02)

4905.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (11/01/01)

4906.01 Price Basis - The price of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be quoted in points. One point equals $1,000.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one thirty-second (1/32) of one point or thirty-one dollars and twenty-five cents ($31.25) per contract except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/02)

4907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said futures contract, subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. That is, on the last day of trading in an expiring future, a bell shall be rung at 11:00 a.m. New York time designating the beginning of the close of the expiring future. Trading shall be permitted thereafter for a period not to exceed one minute, and quotations made during this time shall constitute the close. Following the above-described closing procedure, the Modified Closing Call will be conducted in accordance with Regulation 1007.02. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (06/01/02)

4909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4909.01 of this chapter), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4942.01. (11/01/01)

4910.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (11/01/01)

4936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 4904.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 4909.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 10-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap for the last day of trading, as published on the last day of trading on Reuters page ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. Dollar interest rate swaps). Determination of the final settlement price on the basis of said ISDA Benchmark Rate shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4942.01 of this chapter.

Hereafter in this chapter, the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 10-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap shall be referenced as "the ISDA Benchmark," and ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps) shall be referenced as "Reuters".

If Reuters fails to report the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading on the last day of trading, then the final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark for the next available business day to be reported by Reuters. (06/01/02)

4942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading after Reuters has published the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading. Generally, such publications will occur at 11:30 a.m. New York time on the last day of trading. For exceptions to this, see 4936.01.

The final settlement value shall be determined as follows:

Final Settlement Value = $100,000 * [6/r + (1-6/r)*(1 + 0.01*r/2)/-20/]

where r represents the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.25.

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one quarter of one thirty-second of a price point.

Example: Suppose the ISDA Benchmark on the last day of trading is 5.50. The final settlement value will be $103,806.81. To render this in terms of price points and quarters of thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 103-25.75/32nds and 103-26/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000) --

103-25.75/32nds	=	$103,804.6875

The final settlement value is nearer to 103-25.75/32nds. Thus, the final settlement price is obtained by rounding down to 103-25.75/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one thirty-second of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of a thirty-second of a price point. (06/01/02)

4947.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (12/01/03)

10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Chapter 50
10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Ch50 Trading Conditions

5000.01 Authority - Trading in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (12/01/02)

5001.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00.) Options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (12/01/02)

5002.01 Nature of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5007.01), to assume a short position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (12/01/02)

5002.02 Nature of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5007.01), to assume a long position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (12/01/02)

5003.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (12/01/02)

5004.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with strike prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract, the next twenty-five (25) consecutive higher and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty-five (25) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

5005.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

5006.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($1,000.00) of a 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (07/01/03)

5007.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be automatically exercised in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer.

Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) and unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option.

5008.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the day of termination of trading. (See Regulation 5013.01.) (12/01/03)

5009.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/02)

5010.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said option contract subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Exchange shall direct. (12/01/02)

5013.01 Last Day of Trading - Trading in an expiring option contract shall terminate at the same time and date as the underlying futures contract, that is, at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the second London business day before the third Wednesday of the underlying futures contract's delivery month. (12/01/02)

5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures

Ch51 Trading Conditions

5101.01 Authority - Trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (07/01/02)

5102.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (07/01/02)

5104.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be the notional price of the fixed-rate side of a 5-year interest rate swap that has notional principal equal to $100,000, and that exchanges semiannual interest payments at a fixed rate of 6% per annum, measured according to a 30/360 daycount convention, for floating interest rate payments, based on the 3-month London interbank offered rate (hereafter, LIBOR) and measured according to an actual/360 daycount convention, and that otherwise conforms to the terms prescribed by the International Swap and Derivatives Association, Inc. (hereafter, ISDA) for the purpose of computing the daily fixing of ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps. (07/01/02)

5105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (07/01/02)

5106.01 Price Basis - The price of 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be quoted in points. One point equals $1,000.00. Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one thirty-second (1/32) of one point per 100 points ($15.625 per contract), except for intermonth spreads, where the minimum price fluctuation shall be one-fourth of one thirty-second of one point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (06/01/04)

5107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board.

Trading in an expiring 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said futures contract, subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. That is, on the last day of trading in an expiring future, a bell shall be rung at 11:00 a.m. New York time designating the beginning of the close of the expiring future. Trading shall be permitted thereafter for a period not to exceed one minute, and quotations made during this time shall constitute the close. Following the above-described closing procedure, the Modified Closing Call will be conducted in accordance with Regulation 1007.02.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (07/01/02)

5109.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day of a 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract shall be the second London business day before the third Wednesday of the contract's delivery month. (07/01/02)

5109.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 5109.01 of this chapter), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 5142.01. (07/01/02)

5110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (07/01/02)

5136.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 5104.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 5109.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 5-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap for the last day of trading, as published on the last day of trading on Reuters page ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. Dollar interest rate swaps). Determination of the final settlement price on the basis of said ISDA Benchmark Rate shall be as prescribed in Regulation 5142.01 of this chapter.

Hereafter in this chapter, the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 5-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap shall be referenced as the "the ISDA Benchmark," and ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps) shall be referenced as "Reuters".

If Reuters fails to report the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading on the last day of trading, then the final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark for the next available business day to be reported by Reuters. (07/01/02)

5142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading after Reuters has published the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading. Generally, such publications will occur at 11:30 a.m. New York time on the last day of trading. For exceptions to this, see 5136.01.

The final settlement value shall be determined as follows:

where r represents the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.250.

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one quarter of one thirty-second of a price point.

Example: Suppose the ISDA Benchmark on the last day of trading is 5.500. The final settlement value will be $102,160.02. To render this in terms of price points and quarters of thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 102-05/32nds and 102-05.25/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000) --

The final settlement value is nearer to 102-05/32nds. Thus, the contract expiration price is obtained by rounding down to 102-05/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one thirty-second of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of a thirty-second of a price point. (07/01/02)

5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Chapter 52
5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Ch52 Trading Conditions

5200.01 Authority - Trading in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (12/01/02)

5201.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00.) Options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (12/01/02)

5202.01 Nature of 5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5207.01), to assume a short position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (12/01/02)

5202.02 Nature of 5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5207.01), to assume a long position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (12/01/02)

5203.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (12/01/02)

5204.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with strike prices in integral multiples of one-half (1/2) point per 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract, the next fifteen (15) consecutive higher and the next fifteen (15) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least fifteen (15) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

5206.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($1,000.00) of a 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (07/01/03)

5207.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be automatically exercised in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer. Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option.

5208.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the day of termination of trading. (See Regulation 5013.01.) (12/01/03)

5209.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/02)

5210.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said option contract subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Exchange shall direct.(12/01/02)

5213.01 Last Day of Trading - Trading in an expiring option contract shall terminate at the same time and date as the underlying futures contract, that is, at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the second London business day before the third Wednesday of the underlying futures contract's delivery month. 5303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (04/01/02)

5305.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are March, June, September and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (04/01/02)

5306.01 Price Basis - The price of CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) futures shall be quoted in index points. One index point is worth $5.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one point per contract ($5.00). Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/02)

5307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5.00 multiplier) shall be determined by the Board.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/02)

5308.01 Price Limits and Trading Halts - (See Regulation 1008.01.) (04/01/02)

5309.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the trading day immediately preceding the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5342.03). (04/01/02)

5309.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 5309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 5342.01. (04/01/02)

("CBOT(R)"). The CBOT's futures and futures option contracts based on the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ are not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by Dow Jones/SM/, and Dow Jones/SM/ makes no representation regarding the advisability of trading in such products.

5310.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03.) (04/01/02)

5336.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5342.02) of the CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5342.03). (04/01/02)

5342.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contract must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 5342.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Corporation in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5342.02). (12/01/03)

5342.02 Final Settlement Price - The final settlement price shall be determined on the final settlement day. The final settlement price shall be $5 times a Special Open Quotation (SOQ) of the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ based on the opening prices of the component stocks in the index, or on the last sale price of a stock that does not open for trading on the regularly scheduled day of final settlement (as described in Regulation 5342.03).

If the designated primary market for a component stock does not open on the day scheduled for the determination of the final settlement price, then the final settlement price shall be based on the next opening price for the component stock.

If a component stock does not trade on the day scheduled for determination of the final settlement price while the primary market for the stock is open for trading, the last sale price of the stock will be used to calculate the final settlement price. (04/01/02)

5342.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the third Friday of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ is not scheduled to be published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ is scheduled to be published. (04/01/02)

5348.01 Disclaimer -

5401.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00) (02/01/04)

5401.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (02/01/04)

5402.01 Nature of CBOT mini-sized Dow Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5407.01), to assume a short position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (02/01/04)

5402.02 Nature of CBOT mini-sized Dow Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5407.01), to assume a long position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (02/01/04)

5404.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one hundred (100) index points per CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract and in integral multiples of two hundred (200) index points per CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract as follows:

A. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in one hundred point intervals shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract and the next twenty consecutive higher and the next twenty consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty one hundred point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in two hundred point intervals shall be listed: the next ten consecutive higher and the next ten consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 5404.01(A). Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten striking prices in two hundred point intervals always exist above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 5404.01(A).

C. At the end of each quarterly cycle, the Exchange shall reset every listed month's strike prices to conform with Regulation 5404.01(A) and Regulation 5404.01(B). The newly calculated strike price band will be based on the final settlement price on the last business day of the quarterly cycle of the underlying futures contract. The Exchange will delist all previously listed strike prices that are not one of the newly calculated strike prices, provided that the strike to be delisted has neither call nor put open interest.

D. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (02/01/04)

5405.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (02/01/04)

5406.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options shall be in multiples of one index point of a CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract which shall equal $5.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from S1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (02/01/04)

5407.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a CBOT mini-sized Dow futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (02/01/04)

5407.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 5407.01, for options with quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 5407.01, for options with non-quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the last day of trading, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

For options with quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the business day following the last day of trading. For options with non-quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (02/01/04)

5408.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options with quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading.

Unexercised CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options with non-quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading.

5409.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are January through December at the discretion of the Exchange; provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which CBOT mini-sized Dow futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example the underlying futures contract for the October or November option contract is the December futures contract. (02/01/04)

5410.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. (02/01/04)

5411.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (02/01/04)

5413.01 Last Day of Trading - For options expiring on the quarterly cycle, trading shall terminate at the same date and time as the underlying futures contract. For options that expire in months other than those in the quarterly cycle, options trading shall terminate on the third Friday of the option contract month, at the end of the regular trading session. If that day is not an Exchange business day, options trading shall terminate on the first preceding business day. (02/01/04)

5414.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Option premium limits for the CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options shall correspond to the daily trading limit in effect at that time for the underlying futures contract as specified in Regulation 1008.01D. There shall be no trading in any option contract during a period in which trading in the underlying future is halted as specified in Regulation 1008.01D. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (02/01/04)

5415.01 Disclaimer -

CBOT mini-sized Dow futures and futures options are not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by Dow Jones. Dow Jones makes no representation or warranty, express or implied, to the owners of CBOT mini-sized Dow futures and futures options contracts or any member of the public regarding the advisability of trading in CBOT mini-sized Dow futures and futures options contracts. CBOT(R) Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) Futures

CBOT(R) Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) Futures/1/

5601.01 Authority - Trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. (11/01/01)

5602.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) ("DJ-AIGCI(SM)") futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures. CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (11/01/01)

5603.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (11/01/01)

The Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) (DJ-AIGCI(SM)) is a liquidity and world production, dollar-weighted, arithmetic average of prices of up to 23 exchange-traded physical commodity futures contracts which satisfy specified criteria. The futures price index is calculated as the fair value of the basket of futures contracts in the DJ-AIGCI(SM) for a specific contract month. The futures price index is identical to the calculation of the weighted average value (WAV1) of the lead futures in the DJ-AIGCI(SM) divided by four(4) and rounded to one decimal place. The futures price index incorporates no rolling forward of futures contracts and is quoted only until the expiration of the corresponding DJ-AIGCI(SM) futures contract. For any January contract, the futures price index shall be determined using the prior year's DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications. February through December contracts shall use the current year's DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications. The DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications criteria, calculation, and roll procedures are defined in the Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) Handbook. (09/01/02)

5605.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are January, February, April, June, August, October and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (11/01/01)

5606.01 Price Basis - The price of the CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures shall be quoted in points. One point equals $100.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be 0.1 (1/10) points per contract ($10.00 per contract). Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/01)

5607.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures shall be determined by the Exchange.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the

Exchange shall direct. (11/01/01)

5609.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the eleventh business day of the contract month (as described in Regulation 5642.03). (11/01/01)

5609.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 5609.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 5642.01. (11/01/01)

5609.02 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (11/01/01)

5636.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5642.02) of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5642.03). (11/01/01)

5642.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 5642.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Corporation in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5642.02). (12/01/03)

5642.02 Final Settlement Price - The final settlement price shall be based on a special quotation of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index which corresponds to the expiring contract as the close of business on the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5642.03). This special quotation will consist of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index which corresponds to the expiring contract calculated using the settlement prices of the component futures on final settlement day, except as noted below.

If an exchange that a component or components of the futures price index is trading on is not open on the final settlement day because of a schedule closing, then the contribution to the final settlement price for the affected component or components shall be based on the settlement quotation of the first preceding trading day.

If a component contract month's settlement price on the final settlement day is unavailable because of an unanticipated and/or unannounced closure of the component contract market, then the price of such component contract to be used in calculating the final settlement price shall be the next available settlement price.

If the settlement price of a component contract is a limit bid or offer on the final settlement day, then that contract's contribution to the final settlement price is deferred up to ten business days. In the event that a component contract's settlement price is a limit bid or offer on the final settlement day, the price to be used is the first settlement price after the final settlement day that is not a limit bid or offer. If the settlement price is a limit bid or offer for ten consecutive business days following the final settlement day, the contract's settlement price on the tenth subsequent business day shall be used as the contract's contribution to the final settlement price. (11/01/01)

5642.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the eleventh business day of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index is not published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index was published. (11/01/01)

APPENDIX 3A - GUIDELINES FOR GUESTS AND VISITORS WHILE ON THE EXCHANGE FLOOR OF THE CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

1. Bringing guests on the Exchange Floor is a privilege extended to all members who comply with the Rules pertaining thereto.

2. Guests shall be admitted to the Exchange Floor between 1/2 hour before the opening on each Floor and 1/2 hour after the close on each Floor.

3. No more than 50 guests shall be allowed on the Exchange Floor at any one time during trading hours.

4. A member may reserve a time for five guests, which reservation will be held no longer than ten minutes. Such reservation privileges will be denied if they are abused.

5. Guests must be accompanied by a member at all times. Both the guest and the host member will sign on to and off of the Floor. The guest will wear, on visible display, a guest badge. The member will be responsible for the guest's conduct on the Floor.

6. A) A guest may remain on the Floor for a period of 30 minutes; if he has not signed out, he will be paged. It will be the member's responsibility to see that the guest leaves the Floor within five minutes of being paged and that the guest returns the badge to the Service Desk on the 4th Floor. Failure to return the guest badge immediately will subject the member to a minimum fine of twenty-five dollars.

B) At the end of the initial 30 minutes, a guest may ask to extend his visit for (a) subsequent period(s) of 30 minutes, although such extension(s) will not be granted if there are more than 50 guests on the Floor at any one time.

C) If necessary, an All Day Guest Pass may be obtained for a foreign visitor, firm executive, firm branch employee, customer or consultant (and other persons with the approval of the Floor Conduct Committee Chairman) by completing a short application form at the fourth floor Service Desk. Except for the 30-minute time limit, the same guidelines apply to All Day Guests, including the requirement that they be accompanied at all times by a member.

7. No privileges other than admittance to the Floor any be extended to a guest. A guest is specifically prohibited from performing any functions of an employee of a member or of a member firm. Entering a trading pit, using a telephone, using the market display equipment and blocking the area are also prohibited.

8. Guests of management for business purposes only shall be allowed in the Exchange Floor.

9. The President of the Exchange may issue special permits beyond the above limit (five individuals) when he deems it in the interest of the Exchange to do so. On a case-by-case basis, he may schedule admission to the Floor for small groups who have made appropriate arrangements.

(Tour Groups: can be no larger than 12, can visit between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m., must be escorted at all times, are limited to 15 minutes per tour, will be limited to no more than two groups on the Floor at any one time, and all such groups must be coordinated through the Communications Department.)

10. No other guests of staff members may be allowed on the Exchange Floor.

11. Members shall accompany guests in the Member's cafeteria.

12. No guests may be allowed on the Exchange Floor more than five times in one month.

13. A member who has leased out his or her only membership(s) and who has been a member for at least 25 years is eligible to bring guests on the trading Floor in accordance with these guidelines.

14. Members who violate and/or allow their guest(s) to violate any of these guidelines may be denied visitor's privileges for a period of up to six months and/or fined appropriately.

APPENDIX 3G - GUIDELINES - BADGE VALIDATION AND RETURN

1. In each of the following circumstances, the referenced individual's membership floor access badge must be returned to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services ("Member Services") Department as indicated if the transaction involves the individual's only membership or all of his/her memberships:

   a. A membership seller within 30 days the effective date of the membership sale; (Membership sale proceeds will not be released to the seller unless the badge has been returned).

   b. A membership transferor within 30 days after the transfer has occurred.

   c. A membership delegator within 30 days after the effectiveness of the delegation agreement.

2. Each membership delegate must return the applicable delegate badge to the Member Services Department within 30 days after the delegation agreement's termination or expiration.

3. Upon the effective date of any Exchange suspension of membership privileges, the suspended individual must return his/her membership floor access badge to the Member Services Department within 30 days of the effective date of the suspension for the suspension's duration.

4. Upon the termination or expiration of any delegation agreement, the Exchange will delete the terminated delegate's identifying acronym from Exchange computer records after the delegate's 30-day grace period expires.

5. Only Exchange-issued badges will be permissible for floor access. Sewn-on badges will not be permissible.

6. No member, membership interest holder or delegate will be relieved of responsibility for returning the badge, even if lost, without specific approval of the Floor Conduct Committee.

   All cases involving lost membership floor access badges should be referred to the Member Services Department which shall have the authority to issue a replacement badge. Member Services will issue a replacement badge only to individuals with valid membership floor access privileges and who are current in their dues. Any problems or unusual circumstances involving a lost membership floor access badge will be referred to the Floor Conduct Committee.

   All cases involving lost floor clerk badges will be referred to the Co-Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee. No floor clerk will be issued a replacement badge or be relieved of responsibility for returning the badge without specific approval of the Co-Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee.

7. Floor clerk badge applicants must present acceptable identification when filing their applications. Exchange staff will verify member's co-signatures on floor clerk badge applications and will process such applications in no less than 24 hours after receipt.

PROCEDURES FOR RELIEF REQUESTS/FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS

Procedures for Relief Requests Under CBOT Regulation 285.05 Financial Requirements and Related CFTC Regulations

A member FCM that has filed any relief request with the Exchange need not file such request with the CFTC. The Exchange will promptly advise the CFTC of the request and use its best efforts to provide the CFTC with all pertinent information available to the Exchange. "Relief request" means a request -

1. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(d) for exemption from the minimum debt/equity ratio;

2. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(e) to withdraw equity capital;

3. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(f)(2)(ii) for approval of consolidation;

4. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(f)(1)(v)(B) for approval of terms in a secured demand note relating to conditions for the making of a demand;

5. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(h)(2)(vii) to prepayment of subordinated borrowings;

6. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(h)(4) for approval of emergency subordination;

7. under CFTC Regulation 1.10(e) approval of a change in fiscal-year election; or

8. under CFTC Regulation 1.10(f) and Section 1.16(f) for a filing extension.

APPENDIX 4E - MINIMUM FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR AGRICULTURAL REGULARITY

The minimum financial requirements for firms which are regular to deliver agricultural products are:

1. Working Capital - (current assets less current liabilities) must be greater than or equal to $2,000,000. Firms which do not have $2,000,000 in Working Capital must deposit with the Exchange $5,000 per contract which it is regular to deliver, up to a maximum of $2,000,000, less SEC haircuts, as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c)(2)(vi), (vii) and (viii) plus 3% in the event of liquidation;

2. New Worth - (Total assets less total liabilities) divided by the firm's allowable capacity (measured in contracts) must be greater than $5,000; The net worth of a firm regular to deliver corn or soybeans must be greater than or equal to $5,000,000. The operator of a shipping station issuing corn or soybean shipping certificates may only issue new shipping certificates when the total value of all outstanding shipping certificates and the new shipping certificates, at the time of issuance of the new shipping certificates, does not exceed 50% of net worth;

3. Each firm which is regular to deliver agricultural products is required to file a yearly certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. Each such firm is also required to file within 45 days of the statement date an unaudited semi-annual financial statement. However, each operator of a shipping station issuing corn or soybean shipping certificates is required to file within 45 days of the statement dates unaudited quarterly financial statements for each of the three quarters which do not end on such firm's year-end. In addition, the Exchange may request additional financial information as it deems appropriate;

4. A Letter of Attestation must accompany all unaudited financial statements. The Letter of Attestation must be signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner, executive officer, or managerial employee who has the authority to sign financial statements on behalf of the firm and to attest to their correctness and completeness.

5. For the requirements for notification of capital reductions, see Regulation 285.03.

6. Any change in the organizational structure of a firm that is regular for delivery requires that the firm notify the Exchange prior to such change. Changes in organizational structure shall include, but not be limited to, a corporation, limited liability company, general partnership, limited partnership or sole proprietorship that changes to another form. Prior to any such change occurring, the firm is also required to notify the Exchange in writing of any name change.

APPENDIX 4F

LETTER OF CREDIT STANDARDS
For Corn and Soybeans Only

CBOT Regulation 1081.01 requires, as a condition for regularity, that issuers of shipping certificates for certain commodities must file a bond and or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

1. The regular firm is required to secure a letter of credit, naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary, for 100% of the current market value of the shipping certificates issued.

2. The regular firm is required to monitor the value of the outstanding certificates issued using the futures spot month settlement price. Whenever the amount of the letter of credit falls below 80% of the current market value for certificates issued, the regular firm must increase the amount of the letter of credit, or obtain a new letter of credit, for an amount equal to 100% of the current market value of outstanding certificates, by 5:00 p.m. (Central Time) on the first business day following the relevant futures settlement.

3. Prior to additional shipping certificates being issued, the regular firm must increase the amount of the letter of credit, or secure a new letter of credit, for 100% of the current market value of all shipping certificates which are outstanding as well as all shipping certificates which will be issued.

4. The Exchange will accept letters of credit only from banks with a Moody's Investor Service counter party credit rating of A or above or a Standard and Poor's short-term counter party rating not lower than A-2.

5. The letter of credit must be irrevocable, it must provide for payment within the time specified by the Exchange, and it must be able to be drawn upon unconditionally.

6. The letter of credit must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

7. The expiration date of a letter of credit may not occur during any relevant futures delivery cycle.

APPENDIX 4G

LETTER OF CREDIT STANDARDS
For Agricultural Products except Corn and Soybeans

CBOT Regulation 1081.01, and amended Regulations 1181.01, 1291.01, and 3704.01 require, as a condition for regularity, that Warehousemen must "file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require."

The following is a list of the recommended conditions with respect to a firm obtaining a letter of credit to meet the financial requirements of regularity:

a. The regular firm is required to secure a letter of credit, naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary, for such sum and subject to such conditions the Exchange may require.

b. The Exchange will accept letters of credit only from banks with a Moody's Investors Service counterparty credit rating of A or above or a Standard and Poor's short-term counterparty rating not lower than A-2.

c. The letter of credit must be irrevocable, must provide for payment within the time specified by the Exchange, and must be able to be drawn upon unconditionally.

d. The letter of credit must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

e. The expiration date of a letter of credit may not occur during any relevant futures delivery cycle.

APPENDIX 4H

BOND STANDARDS
For Agricultural Products except Corn and Soybeans

CBOT Regulations 1081.01, 1181.01, 1291.01, and 3704.01 require, as a condition for regularity, that Warehousemen must "file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require."

The following is a list of the required conditions with respect to the bond that a Warehouseman must obtain to meet the financial requirements of regularity*:

a. The Warehouseman is required to secure a bond naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary for such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

b. The bond must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

c. The Exchange will accept bonds only from insurance companies that have been rated by one of the following rating agencies: AM Best, Standard & Poor's, or Moody's Investors Service. The following are the minimum credit ratings that are acceptable.

1. AM Best: B++
2. Standard & Poor's: A-
3. Moody's Investor Service: A3

03/01/04

* The Exchange will continue to accept USDA bonds in order for Warehousemen to meet the bonding requirements for Wheat, Oats and Rice. If the amount specified on the USDA bond does not meet the Exchange's requirement, an additional bond must be issued for the amount that is not covered by the USDA bond. The additional bond must meet the requirements specified in a. through c.

 Hearings are normally scheduled for 2:15 p.m. and seldom last more than 2-1/2 hours. If a hearing lasts in excess of 2-1/2 hours, requires an additional hearing date, or is continued on less than 24 hours' notice to the Administrator, fees will be charged for an additional hearing date.

 These direct incremental costs attendant upon the provision of unassociated arbitrators will be paid by the member in cases involving customer claims regardless of the outcome of the arbitration unless the arbitrators decide that the customer has acted in bad faith in initiating, or participating in, the arbitration proceeding. Such incremental costs shall be allocated between the parties in the arbitrators' discretion in cases involving non-member claims.

LIFFE CORE NETWORK ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

1. Permitted Purpose

Except as otherwise agreed by LIFFE, those Persons authorized to use the Core Network in relation to the CBOT Electronic Exchange ("Users") shall use the Core Network solely for purposes of participating in, accessing or obtaining information from the CBOT Electrclnic Exchange via an Interface with the Equipment.

2. Compliance with Laws

Users shall use the Core Network in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations and any additional reasonable requirements as LIFFE may deem necessary to protect the Core Network. Without limiting the foregoing, Users shall not use, transmit, distribute or store via the Core Network any data, information or other material ("Data") which (i) infringes or otherwise violates any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other intellectual property of any individual or entity; (ii) is pornographic, obscene, or exploitative of a minor; (iii) is menacing, malicious, illegally threatening or defamatory; or (iv) violates export laws or otherwise violates any appliciable treaty, law or regulation.

3. Harmful Activities

Users shall not use the Core Network to transmit, distribute or store any Data or undertake any other activities that may be harmful to or otherwise interfere with (i) the Core Network or the use thereof by any other User or other authorized user of the Core Network, or (ii) any system, network or equipment of LIFFE or any third party, including: (i) intercepting or attempting to intercept Data or other transmissions passing over the Core Network; (ii) forwarding chain letters; (iii) sending multiple e-mails or large transmissions that could reasonably be expected to annoy or harass or to impose a disproportionately large load on, or degrade the functionality of, the Core Network (e.g., "mail bombing"); (iv) sending any e-mail containing misleading or incorrect headers or information rendering the origin of the e-mail unclear or deceptive; (v) sending bulk or unsolicited e-mail messages ("spamming"), either directly or by relaying; or (vi) transmitting any virus, worm or Trojan Horse.

4. Security

4.1 Users shall not violate or attempt to violate the security of the Core Network or interfere or attempt to interfere with LIFFE's systems, networks, authentication measures, servers or equipment or with the use of or access to the Core Network by any other User or any other authorized user of the Core Network. Such prohibited activity includes (i) logging into a server where access is not authorized; (ii) probing, scanning, or testing the security or vulnerability of the Core Network or other networks; and (iii) attempting to gain access via the Core Network to any account or computer resource not belonging to such User ("spoofing").

4.2 Users shall not monitor Data or traffic on the Core Network except via a Trading Application or Interface.

*Applicable as of trade date November 24, 2003 in connection with implementation of the LIFFE CONNECT(R) system for trading on e-cbot.

5. Enforcement

Except as may be agreed between LIFFE and the CBOT, LIFFE shall have no obligation to monitor or exercise control over any Data transmitted, distributed or stored by any User via the Core Network. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE reserves the right to monitor and control activities undertaken via the Core Network.

6. Responsibility

Each User is fully responsible for all uses of the Core Network undertaken (i) by such User or (ii) via such User's Trading Application or Interface.

e-cbot ERROR TRADE POLICY

The CBOT's error trade policy is designed to preserve the integrity of CBOT product markets by striking an appropriate balance between trade certainty and erroneous price discovery. The policy provides a mechanism to promptly address transactions that are executed at obviously erroneous prices substantially inconsistent with the last trade price of the contract or alternative determination of the contract's fair value. This policy does not relieve market participants from potential financial responsibility or liability for the execution of trades that are deemed an "error trade" if their actions caused financial loss to other parties whose transactions were busted.

1. Invoking the Error Trade Policy

If an e-cbot user believes that he executed a trade through e-cbot at a price that was in error, he must contact e-cbot Market Operations ("e-cbot Operations") at (312)347-4600 without delay. If e-cbot Operations is not notified within five minutes of the execution time of the asserted error trade, the trade will stand. A third party or e-cbot Operations may also call a trade into question within five minutes of the execution. Trades called into question within five minutes will be evaluated in accordance with sections 2 and 3 of this policy. However, e-cbot Operations has the authority, but not the obligation, to consider trades reported after the five minute deadline provided the trade price in question is grossly (i.e. multiple points) out of line with the last trade price or alternatively determined fair value of the respective contract.

Trades resulting from quantity errors generally will not be called into question.

2. Trade Price Within the "No Bust Range"

If a futures transaction is asserted to be at a price that is in error, the trade shall not be considered for review by e-cbot Operations unless the price of the asserted error trade is greater than the designated number of ticks (as outlined in Appendix 9B-3)from the reference price. The reference price will be the last trade price preceding the entry of the error trade or an alternatively determined fair value of the contract. Fair value for futures contracts may be determined by the last trade price, preceding settlement price, spread relationships and/or other variables deemed relevant by e-cbot Operations. However, during side-by-side hours the reference price on a downside (upside) move will never be higher (lower) than the low (high) of the pit traded price for an equivalent contract during the time period that the prices of the contracts were disjointed. During non-side-by-side hours, the reference price will never be higher (lower) than the low (high) of an equivalently traded contract.

If an option trade is asserted to be at a price that is in error, the trade shall not be considered for review by e-cbot Operations unless the price of the asserted error trade conforms to the following guidelines:

1. Trades must be greater than 2 ticks above or below the theoretical price in order to be busted.

2. Trades greater than 2 ticks away from the theoretical price, but less than 20 ticks away from the theoretical price, must be greater than 20% above or below the theoretical price, in order to be eligible to be busted.

3. Trades greater than 20 ticks above or below the theoretical price (40 ticks for the Soybean complex and Dow complex), may be busted even if the tick disparity is less than 20% of the theoretical value.

If an asserted trade entry error results in trade executions at multiple price levels, the last trade price (if used to determine the reference price) shall be the last trade price prior to the entry of the alleged error trade.

*Applicable as of trade date November 24, 2003 in connection with implementation of the LIFFE CONNECT(R) system for trading on e-cbot

If the asserted error trade is the first trade in a contract that has not previously been opened, e-cbot Operations will determine a fair value estimate for the contract, which then will be gauged against the error trade range to determine the final status of the trade.

If e-cbot Operations contacts a member user regarding a suspicious order and the user states that the order is entered correctly, the order (if subsequently executed) may only be called into question by a third party.

Trades that are executed outside of the daily price limits will be busted by e-cbot Operations irrespective of whether the trade(s) falls within the "no bust range" established above.

3. Trade Price Outside of the "No Bust Range"

If the price of the asserted error trade is more than the specified number of ticks from the reference price, e-cbot Operations will send a broadcast message to the user community indicating that the trade has been called into question. If the asserted error trade is outside of the specified tick range and involves only two parties, e-cbot Operations will attempt to contact the parties to the transaction. If both parties agree to bust or re-price the transaction, e-cbot Operations shall send a broadcast message to the user community and an alert to the quote vendor network indicating that the trade was busted or re-priced.

If there is more than one contra-party to the order asserted to have been executed in error, e-cbot Operations will gauge the erroneous transactions against the error trade range to determine the final status of the trades.

4. e-cbot Operations Authority to Halt Markets

e-cbot Operations shall have the authority to halt markets in any contract during extraordinary circumstances where there has been a major market movement without any apparent economic or fundamental basis for movement to have occurred.

5. Decisions of e-cbot Operations

A. e-cbot Operations will review the circumstances surrounding the alleged error trade to determine whether it should be deemed an error trade and busted. However, subject to the mutual agreement of both parties, the trade may be re-priced in line with the contract's fair value. If the trade is repriced to a level that is below a sell limit price or above a buy limit price, and the customer rejects the trade, the trade must be placed in the error account of the customer's clearing firm. Parties to these transactions are permitted to make cash adjustments to settle losses that occur as a result of the error trade. Should parties to a disputed transaction be unable to mutually resolve financial disputes arising from such transactions, arbitration facilities are available through the Exchange. The Arbitration Committee may hold the party who entered the order that resulted in the error trade financially responsible for losses that occur as a result of the busted trade(s).

   Trade certainty and the timely resolution of error trades are critical objectives of this policy. Therefore, if parties to a disputed transaction do not agree to the terms of resolution, e-cbot Operations reserves the final authority to determine the disposition of the questioned transaction.

   During side-by-side trading hours, e-cbot Operations shall, unless impracticable, make its determination within 10 minutes of the broadcast message regarding the potential error trade. During non side-by-side trading hours, e-cbot Operations shall, unless impracticable, make its determination within 15 minutes of the broadcast message regarding the potential error trade. The decisions of e-cbot Operations shall be final, and e-cbot Operations shall send a broadcast message and an alert to the quote vendor network indicating whether the trade was busted, re-priced or allowed to stand.

B. In making its determination, e-cbot Operations may consider relevant factors including, but not limited to: market conditions immediately before and after the transaction; the prices of related contracts; whether one or more parties to the trade believe the trade was executed at a valid price: the extent to which the transaction appeared to trigger contingency orders and other trades; information related to the e-cbot Operations by third parties.

6. Procedures for Correcting Error Trades

In the event a trade is busted, the parties to the transaction must reverse the transaction through applicable clearing house procedures. e-cbot Operations will notify OIA regarding any situation where a party fails to claim or misclear trades in a timely manner. Such failure may be deemed a violation of Rule 504.00, Acts Detrimental to the Welfare of the Association.

Under no circumstances shall the parties to an alleged error trade be permitted to reverse the error by entering into a prearranged transaction.

If the trade called into question is determined not to be an error trade, the parties to the trade are permitted to mutually agree upon cash adjustment; any such adjustment must be reported to e-cbot Operations.

Spreads

Because of the autoleg feature of the e-cbot system, spreads may be executed such that one leg of the spread is determined to be an error trade and the other leg is deemed to have been executed at a good price. In such circumstances, the party who enters an outright order that causes an error trade on an autolegged spread will be deemed to be the counterparty to the good leg of the spread (see Appendix 9B-4). The parties to the transactions will reverse and claim the transactions as indicated through the applicable clearing house procedures.

7. Arbitration Procedures

Arbitrations relating to asserted error trades are limited to trades that are determined by e-cbot Operations to be an error trade. A notice of intention to arbitrate must be filed within ten business days after the date of the error trade. The party that caused the error may be held responsible for realized losses incurred by parties whose trades were busted as a result of the error.

8. Error Trade Fees

The party responsible for the error must pay a $1,000 fee for each of the first two error trades, $3,000 for the 3/rd/ error trade, and $5,000 for each subsequent error trade within a calendar year.

EXAMPLE OF AUTOLEG ERROR

Trader "A" has a spread order in the book to buy June Bonds and sell September Bonds. (Please note that when you enter a spread order into the system, it assigns prices to the individual legs and the order is included in the outright order books.) Trader "B" has an order to sell June Bonds.

Trader "C" makes an error by entering a bid in the September contract (he intended to bid June). Trader C's bid for September matches against Trader A's sell September portion of the spread, which triggers Trader A's buy June portion of the spread to match against Trader B's sell June order.

The September trade between Trader C and Trader A is determined to be an error trade. The June trade between A and B is executed at an economically justifiable price.

The September leg is determined to be an error trade and is busted. Trader C is then required to claim the June leg executed for Trader A.

Summary

June Bonds		Sep Bonds
Buy	Sell	Buy	Sell
A	B	C	A

Trader C is cause of error

Trader A vs. B = good price
Trader A vs. C = bad price
Trader A vs. C leg is determined to be an error trade and is busted
Trader A vs. B leg is reversed and Trader C is required to claim the trade so that Trader B is not harmed.

APPENDIX 10G - GRAIN LOAD-OUT PROCEDURES

The following is a general outline of procedures for the load-out of grain covered by Chicago Board of Trade ("CBOT") registered warehouse receipts/shipping certificates. The procedures are based upon a combination of CBOT Rules and Regulations and trade practice. Where applicable, CBOT Rules and Regulations are cited.

1. Cancellation of the Warehouse Receipt/Shipping Certificate.

   a. To initiate the load-out process, the receipt/certificate holder, or owner, requests his clearing firm to cancel the warehouse receipt/shipping certificate at the CBOT Registrar's Office or requests load-out using the electronic form provided by the Clearing House's online system.

   b. Warehouse receipts/shipping certificates cancelled after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to be cancelled on the following business day.

   c. The next step for the owner of cancelled rice, oats or wheat warehouse receipts is to surrender them to the regular warehouseman or his representative agent in Chicago. The agent must be a registered clearing member of the CBOT, be located in the vicinity of the CBOT and be available during business hours (except Exchange holidays). Business hours are 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday - Thursday and 8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. on Friday.

   d. At this time, the warehouseman/shipper, at his option, may require the owner to pay storage/premium and insurance charges that have accumulated up to and including the date of surrender. (See items 6(a) and (b) below.) The warehouseman's/shipper's agent shall accept these payments during business hours.

   e. At this time, the warehouseman, at his option, may also require the owner to pay the warehouseman or his agent a load-out fee of up to 6 cents per bushel. A fobbing charge of 4 cents per bushel was already paid at the time of delivery of corn and soybean shipping certificates. (The maximum load-out/fobbing fee, subject to change, is 6 cents per bushel for receipts and 4 cents per bushel for certificates.)

   f. If the owner decides against loading out grain within two days after canceling warehouse receipts/shipping certificates, he may notify the warehouseman/shipper that warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are to be re-issued. In the case of rice, oats or wheat, if the warehouseman is notified by 12:00 noon, re-issued receipts shall be deliverable by 4:00 p.m. the following business day. Requests to re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

   g. The Registrar bills the owner's clearing firm a cancellation fee per receipt/certificate. (Internal policy of CBOT's Registrar's Office.)

2. Submission of Written Loading Orders.

   a. The owner provides the warehouseman/shipper with written loading orders that identify the vessel, barge, or number of rail cars that will take delivery of the grain, and that specify the grade and estimated number of bushels to be loaded. "To be nominated" (TBN) barge identities are acceptable in loading orders.

   b. Written loading orders must be received no later than two business days after warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled.

   c. The owner will notify the warehouseman/shipper of loading orders. All loading orders received by 2:00 p.m. on a given business days shall be considered dated that day. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

   d. When loading orders are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the warehouseman/shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of the scheduled loading dates and tonnage due. Notification of scheduled loading dates and any changes in scheduled loading dates will be by telephone, e-mail or telefax to the owner.

3. Arrangement of Transportation Conveyance.

   a. Next, the owner arranges for proper conveyance of the grain to be loaded out with a carrier; the conveyance may be rail cars, barge, or vessel, and must be clean and ready-to-load.

   b. An owner requesting vessel load-out, having surrendered canceled receipts/certificates and tendered written loading orders to the warehouseman/shipper, is entitled to the warehouse's/shipper's current scheduled load-in and load-out lineups, provided the owner gives to the warehouseman/shipper the identity of the vessel and the estimated-time-of-arrival no more than 5 calendar days prior to constructive placement of the vessel.

In addition, an owner is entitled to receive updated information, upon request, on the warehouse/shipping station scheduled load-in and load-out lineups.

c. The carrier or its agent notifies the warehouseman/shipper of the "constructive placement" of the conveyance. The term "constructive placement" is defined in CBOT Regulations 1081.01(12)A3 (1), (2) and (3). Only the warehouseman/shipper can order the conveyance to the warehouse/shipping station for actual placement for loading.

d. The warehouseman/shipper is not responsible for the failure of the carrier to present clean, ready-to-load conveyance to the warehouseman/shipper.

4. Request for Grain Inspection or Stevedoring Service.

a. The owner may, at his option and expense, request the warehouseman/shipper to arrange inspection and weighing service provided by the Federal Grain Inspection Service ("FGIS").

b. In case of water load-out (barge or vessel), the owner should request the warehouseman/shipper to arrange stevedoring service. In this regard, the owner may designate to the warehouseman/shipper the stevedoring service he would like to use.

c. The warehouseman/shipper does not control the availability of the FGIS and the stevedoring services.

5. Actual Load-Out.

a. The warehouseman/shipper shall transmit to the Registrar by 11:00 a.m. the name, location of warehouse/shipping facility, and number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed that day. The Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website.

b. The warehouseman/shipper must load-out all conveyances in the order of their constructive placement. Load-out of transportation constructively placed on the same day shall be in the order in which loading orders were received. An operator of a regular facility in Chicago, Burns Harbor, along the Illinois Waterway, and St. Louis has the obligation of loading grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates giving preference to takers of delivery.

c. The warehouseman/shipper informs the owner of the time of loading completion and the release time of the conveyance to the carrier.

d. The warehouseman/shipper must advise the owner of any load-out difficulties. Inclement weather may delay loading.

e. The owner should be familiar with the tariff of the warehouse/shipping station where the load-out is to occur.

f. Any expense for making the grain available for loading on the Illinois Waterway will be borne by the party making delivery, provided that the taker of delivery constructively places barge equipment clean and ready to load within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway. If the taker's barges are not constructively placed within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway, the taker shall pay the shipper an amount not to exceed 30/100 of one cent per bushel per day multiplied by the number of calendar days from the fifth business day following the scheduled loading date to the date that the barge is constructively placed, including both dates, but excluding business days the shipper meets his minimum daily barge load-out rate. Requests to cancel loading instructions and re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

6. Final Settlement of All Charges By Invoice

a. The owner pays the warehouseman/shipper storage/premium charges that have accumulated up to and including the 10th business day after constructive placement of the conveyance or the date of loading completion, whichever is earlier, for wheat and oats, or up to and including the date of loading for corn and soybeans. If the owner paid storage/premium charges when he surrendered the cancelled warehouse receipt/shipping certificate he now pays storage/premium charges that have accumulated since that time as invoiced.

b. The owner pays the warehouseman/shipper for the FGIS service and the stevedoring company for stevedoring service as invoiced. The owner is responsible for charges incurred for stevedoring service, except, all fees for stevedoring services to load corn and soybeans into barges are to be paid by the issuer of the Corn or Soybean Shipping Certificate.

c. With some exceptions for Burns Harbor delivery, the owner pays all transportation costs, including switching charges and demurrage, if any, to the appropriate transportation company.

*/ The outline provided above is intended to serve only as a general guide to grain load-out procedures; certain of the discussed obligations of the warehouseman/shipper and owners may not apply in a particular situation or may be open to negotiation between the parties. Care has been taken in the preparation of this outline, but there is no warranty or representation expressed or implied by the Chicago Board of Trade or its member firms as to the accuracy or completeness of the material herein. In particular, CBOT rules and regulations may be revised from time to time. Accordingly, current rules and regulations, if applicable, should be consulted when there is a question about load-out. Please be advised that the U.S. Warehouse Act, as amended, or a state law may also apply to, or govern, a particular situation. If you have legal questions concerning load-out, we recommend that you consult your legal counsel. (06/01/03)

APPENDIX 37D - MINIMUM FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR ROUGH RICE REGULARITY

The minimum financial requirements for firms which are regular to deliver Rough Rice are:

1. Working Capital - (current assets excluding current receivables from affiliates/parent company less current liabilities) must be greater than or equal to $1,000,000. All current assets must be readily marketable. Firms which do not have $1,000,000 in working capital must deposit with the Exchange $5,000 per contract which they are regular to deliver, up to a maximum of $1,000,000 less SEC haircuts, as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c) (2) (vi), (vii) and (viii) plus 3% in the event of liquidation.

2. Net Worth - (Total assets less total liabilities) divided by the firm's allowable capacity (measured in contracts) must be greater than $5,000.

3. Each firm which is regular to deliver Rough Rice is required to file a yearly certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. Each firm is also required to file within 45 days of the statement date unaudited quarterly financial statements for each of the three quarters which do not end on the firm's year-end. In addition, the Exchange may request additional financial information as it deems appropriate.

4. A Letter of Attestation must accompany all financial statements. The Letter of Attestation must be signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner, executive officer, or managerial employee who has the authority to sign financial statements on behalf of the firm and to attest to their correctness and completeness.

5. For the requirements for notification of capital reductions, see Regulation 285.03.

6. Any change in the organizational structure of a firm that is regular for delivery requires that the firm notify the Exchange prior to such change. Changes in organizational structure shall include, but not be limited to, a corporation, limited liability company, general partnership, limited partnership, or sole proprietorship that changes to another form. Prior to such change occurring, the firm is also required to notify the Exchange in writing of any name change.

For other applicable provisions, see Appendix 4G "Letter of Credit Standards" and Appendix 4H, "Bonding Standards".

FORM OF AMENDED AND RESTATED CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION OF
BOARD OF TRADE OF THE
CITY OF CHICAGO, INC.
(Originally incorporated in the State of Delaware under the name Delaware CBOT, Inc. on May 12, 2000)

ARTICLE I

NAME

The name of the corporation is Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the "Corporation").

ARTICLE II

REGISTERED AGENT

The address of the registered office of the Corporation in the State of Delaware is 9 Loockerman Street, in the City of Dover, County of Kent, Delaware 19901. The name of the registered agent of the Corporation at such address is National Registered Agents, Inc.

ARTICLE III

CORPORATE PURPOSES

The nature of the business or purposes to be conducted or promoted by the Corporation are to engage in any lawful act or activity for which corporations may be organized under the Delaware General Corporation Law (as amended from time to time, the "DGCL").

ARTICLE IV

MEMBERSHIP

A. General.

The Corporation shall have no authority to issue capital stock. The terms and conditions of membership in the Corporation shall be as provided in or pursuant to this Certificate of Incorporation and the Bylaws of the Corporation which incorporate by reference the Rules and Regulations (collectively, the "Rules") of the Corporation (the "Bylaws"), which shall be part of the Bylaws in all respects.

B. Classes and Series of Membership.

Membership in the Corporation shall be divided into classes and series as set forth in this Article IV.

1. Class A Membership.

There shall be one Class A Membership in the Corporation (the "Class A Membership" and the holder thereof, the "Class A Member"), which Class A Membership shall be held by CBOT Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("CBOT Holdings"). It shall be a term and condition of such Class A Membership that such membership may not be transferred to or held by any person or entity other than CBOT Holdings unless authorized by an amendment to this Section B(1)) of Article IV. Except to the extent (if any) expressly provided herein or required by law, the Class A Member shall have the right to vote on any matter to be voted on by the members of the Corporation other than on those matters expressly reserved to the vote of the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships (each as defined in Section B(2) of this Article IV) and shall have the exclusive right to receive any dividend or other distribution (including upon liquidation, dissolution, winding-up or otherwise) to be declared, paid or distributed by the Corporation (except as provided in Section B(2) of this Article IV), and no other member of or class or series of membership in the Corporation shall be entitled to vote on any matter except as set forth below or to receive any such dividend or other distribution (except as provided in Section B(2) of this Article IV). In addition to those general voting rights of the Class A Membership set forth in this Section B(1) of this Article IV, the affirmative vote of the Class A Membership shall be required to permit the Corporation to approve, in one transaction or in a series of related transactions: (a) any merger or consolidation of the Corporation with or into another entity, (b) any purchase by, investment in, or other acquisition or formation by the Corporation of any business or assets which are, or are intended to be, competitive, as determined by the board of directors of the Corporation (the "Board of Directors") in its sole and absolute discretion, with the business conducted or proposed to be conducted at such time by the Corporation, (c) any sale (or other transfer) to a third party of assets of the Corporation that constitute a significant amount of the total assets of the Corporation, or (d) any dissolution or liquidation of the Corporation. For purposes of clause (c) of the foregoing provision, a significant amount of the total assets of the Corporation shall mean 10% of the fair market value of the assets, both tangible and intangible, of the Corporation as of the time of the approval by the Board of Directors of the proposed sale (or other transfer), as determined by the Board of Directors in its sole and absolute discretion.

2. Class B Membership.

(a) Class B Memberships in the Corporation (each a "Class B Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Class B Member") shall represent the right to trade on and otherwise utilize the facilities of the Corporation in accordance with and to the extent permitted by this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules. There shall be authorized three thousand six hundred eighty-one (3,681) Class B Memberships, which shall be divided into five (5) series ("Series") as follows:

1,402 Series B-1 Memberships (each, a "Series B-1 Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Series B-1 Member");
867 Series B-2 Memberships (each, a "Series B-2 Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Series B-2 Member");
128 Series B-3 Memberships (each, a "Series B-3 Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Series B-3 Member");
641 Series B-4 Memberships (each, a "Series B-4 Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Series B-4 Member"); and 643 Series B-5 Memberships (each, a "Series B-5 Membership" and the holder thereof, a "Series B-5 Member");

(b) Notwithstanding Section (B)(2)(a) of this Article IV, (i) following the issuance of memberships of the Corporation in the merger of the Corporation with a subsidiary of CBOT Holdings (the "Merger") to be effected in connection with the Restructuring (as defined in this Section (B)(2) of Article IV), the Corporation may issue additional authorized but unissued Series B-2 Memberships only in connection with the conversion of Series B-3 Memberships into Series B-2 Memberships pursuant to Section (D)(3) of this Article IV and no person may become or qualify as a Series B-2 Member following consummation of the Merger at any time by acquiring a theretofore authorized but unissued Series B-2 Membership except as a result of such a conversion, and (ii) the Corporation may issue authorized but unissued Series B-3 Memberships only pursuant to the terms of the agreement and plan of merger relating to the Merger and no person may become or qualify as a Series B-3 Member following consummation of the Merger at any time by acquiring a theretofore authorized but unissued Series B-3 Membership.

(c) Class B Memberships shall have no right to receive any dividend or other distribution (including upon liquidation, dissolution, winding-up or otherwise) to be declared, paid or distributed by the Corporation with the sole exception of the dividend of shares of CBOT Holdings to be declared and paid in connection with the restructuring of the Corporation and the creation of the Class B Memberships (the "Restructuring"). The respective rights and privileges of each Series of Class B Membership shall be as provided in or pursuant to this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

C. Class B Voting Rights.

Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Certificate of Incorporation, the holders of Class B Memberships shall not be entitled to vote on any matter. On any matter on which the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships are entitled to vote together as a single class pursuant to this Certificate of Incorporation, each holder of Series B-1 Memberships shall be entitled to one (1) vote per such membership and each holder of Series B-2 Memberships shall be entitled to one-sixth (1/6) of one (1) vote per such membership.

D. Special Rights of Class B Membership.

The holders of each Series of Class B Membership shall have the trading rights and other rights and privileges, and shall be subject to the restrictions, terms and conditions, set forth below.

1. Series Trading Rights.

(a) Series B-1 Memberships. Each holder of a Series B-1 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of Full Membership in the Corporation as set forth in the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, a Full Member as set forth in this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(b) Series B-2 Memberships. Each holder of a Series B-2 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of Associate Membership in the Corporation as set forth in the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, an Associate Member as set forth in this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(c) Series B-3 Memberships. (1) Each holder of a Series B-3 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of being a holder of a one-half Associate Membership as set forth in clause (2) of Rule 296.00 of the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, a holder of a one-half Associate Membership as set forth in the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(2) Each holder of a Series B-3 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of being a holder of a GIM Membership Interest in the Corporation as set forth in clause (1) of Rule 296.00 of the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, a holder of a GIM Membership Interest as set forth in this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(d) Series B-4 Memberships. Each holder of a Series B-4 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of being a holder of an IDEM Membership Interest in the Corporation as set forth in the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, a holder of an IDEM Membership Interest as set forth in this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(e) Series B-5 Memberships. Each holder of a Series B-5 Membership who satisfies the qualifications for and requirements of being a holder of a COM Membership Interest in the Corporation as set forth in the Rules shall be entitled to the rights and privileges of, and shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations on, a holder of a COM Membership Interest as set forth in this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules.

(f) In addition to the rights and privileges set forth above, except as otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or the Rules, each holder of a Class B Membership of any Series shall be entitled to all trading rights and privileges with respect to those products that such holder is entitled to trade on the open outcry exchange system of the Corporation or any electronic trading system maintained by the Corporation or any of its affiliates or any of their respective successors or successors-in-interest.

2. Series B-1 Membership and B-2 Membership Voting Rights.

(a) In addition to any approval of the Board of Directors required by this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or applicable law, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the votes cast by the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships, voting together as a class based on their respective voting rights at any annual or special meeting of the Corporation, shall be required to adopt any amendment to this Certificate of Incorporation.

(b) In addition to any approval of the Board of Directors required by this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or applicable law, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the votes cast, except in the case of paragraph (4) below, by the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships, voting together as a class based on their respective voting rights at any annual or special meeting of the Corporation, shall be required to adopt any amendment to the Bylaws or the Rules that, in the sole and absolute determination of the Board of Directors, adversely affects:

(1) the allocation of products that a holder of a specific Series of Class B Membership is permitted to trade on the exchange facilities of the Corporation (including both the open outcry trading system and the electronic trading system),

(2) the requirement that, except as provided in that certain Agreement, dated August 7, 2001, between the Corporation and the Chicago Board Options Exchange (the "CBOE"), as modified by that certain Letter Agreement, dated October 7, 2004, between the Corporation, CBOT Holdings and the CBOE, in each case, as may be amended from time to time in accordance with their respective terms, holders of Class B Memberships who meet the applicable membership and eligibility requirements will be charged transaction fees for trades of the Corporation's products for their accounts that are lower than the transaction fees charged to any participant who is not a holder of Class B Membership for the same products, whether trading utilizing the open outcry trading system or the electronic trading system,

(3) the membership qualifications or eligibility requirements for holding any Series of Class B Membership or exercising any of the membership rights and privileges associated with such Series,

(4) the commitment to maintain open outcry markets set forth in Section F of Article IV of this Certificate of Incorporation, which must be approved by a majority of the voting power of the outstanding Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Members, voting together as a class, or

(5) the requirement that any proposal to offer electronic trading between the hours of 6:00 a.m., Central Time, and 6:00 p.m., Central Time, of agricultural contracts or agricultural products currently traded on the Corporation's open outcry markets be approved by the holders of the Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships.

For purposes of Section D(2)(b)(1) of Article IV, the allocation of products that the holders of any Series of Class B Membership are permitted to trade on the exchange facilities of the Corporation shall be deemed to be adversely affected only if a product is eliminated from the allocation of products the holders of a particular Series of Class B Memberships are permitted to trade.

(c) In addition to their right to vote on the matters specified in the preceding paragraph (a), holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships shall also be entitled, at any annual or special meeting of members, to (i) adopt, repeal or amend the Bylaws of the Corporation, or (ii) make non-binding recommendations that the Board of Directors of the Corporation consider proposals that require the approval of the Board of Directors, including recommendations that the board consider a specific proposal, in each case subject to such requirements and conditions for the initiation of proposals by members as may be stated in this Certificate of Incorporation or in the Bylaws. Any proposal brought pursuant to Section D(2)(c) of this Article IV shall require the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the votes cast by the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships, voting together as a single class based on their respective voting rights, at any annual or special meeting of the Corporation.

(d) On any matter on which holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships are entitled to vote pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this Section D(2) of Article IV, such holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships shall be the only members of the Corporation entitled to vote thereon. Holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships shall have no other voting rights except as expressly set forth herein and shall not have the right to take action by written consent in lieu of a meeting. One-third of the total voting power of the Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships present in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum at any meeting to take action on the matters as to which such holders are entitled to vote pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of Section (D)(2) of this Article IV. Series B-3 Memberships, Series B-4 Memberships and Series B-5 Memberships shall have no right to vote on any matters or to initiate any proposals at or for any meeting of members. For purposes of any vote of the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships permitted by this Certificate of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall be entitled to fix a record date, and only holders of record as of such record date shall be entitled to vote on the matter to be voted on.

3. Conversion Rights of Series B-3 Memberships.

(a) Conversion. Subject to, and upon compliance with, the provisions of this Section D(3) of Article IV, any two (2) Series B-3 Memberships shall be convertible at the option of the holder into one (1) Series B-2 Membership.

(b) Mechanics of Conversion. A holder of Series B-3 Memberships may exercise the conversion right specified in Section D(3)(a) of Article IV by delivering to the Corporation or any transfer agent of the Corporation written notice stating that the holder elects to convert such memberships, accompanied by the certificates or other instruments, if any, representing the memberships to be converted. Conversion shall be deemed to have been effected on the date when delivery of such written notice, accompanied by such certificate or other instrument, if any, is made, and such date is referred to herein as the Conversion Date. As promptly as practicable after the Conversion Date, the Corporation may issue and deliver to or upon the written order of such holder a certificate or other instrument, if any, representing the number of Series B-2 Memberships to which such holder is entitled as a result of the exercise of such conversion right. The person in whose name the certificates or other instruments representing Series B-2 Memberships are to be issued shall be deemed to have become the holder of record of such Series B-2 Memberships on the applicable Conversion Date.

(c) Memberships Reserved for Issuance. The Corporation shall take all actions necessary to reserve and make available at all times for issuance upon the conversion of Series B-3 Memberships, such number of Series B-2 Memberships as are issuable upon the conversion of all outstanding Series B-3 Memberships.

E. Restriction on Transfer.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this Section E of Article IV, no Class B Membership may be sold, transferred or otherwise disposed of (excluding any hypothecation thereof) except (a) by operation of law, (b) in a bona fide pledge to a commercial bank, a savings and loan institution or any other lending or financial institution or any Class B Member or clearing member of the CBOT Subsidiary as security for obligations of the holder incurred to acquire a membership in the CBOT Subsidiary, or (c) in a transaction consummated in connection with and conditioned upon the sale, transfer or disposition of shares of Series A-1, Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings ("Series A-1 Common Stock"), Series A-2, Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings ("Series A-2 Common Stock") or Series A-3 Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings ("Series A-3 Common Stock," and together with Series A-1 Common Stock and the Series A-2 Common Stock, the "Restricted Class A Common Stock"), that results in the number of shares of Restricted Class A Common Stock associated with the series of such Class B Membership, as set forth hereinafter in this Section E of Article IV, being simultaneously sold, transferred or disposed of to the same transferee of such Class B Membership. The number of shares of Common Stock that must be sold, transferred or otherwise disposed of in accordance with the preceding sentence is as follows: at least nine thousand one hundred fourteen (9,114) shares of Series A-1 Common Stock, nine thousand one hundred twelve (9,112) shares of Series A-2 Common Stock and Series A-3 Common Stock with one (1) Series B-1 Membership; at least three thousand three hundred thirty-four (3,334) shares of Series A-1 Common Stock, three thousand three hundred thirty-three (3,333) shares of Series A-2 Common Stock or three thousand three hundred thirty-three (3,333) shares of Series A-3 Common Stock with one (1) Series B-2 Membership; at least one thousand six hundred sixty-eight (1,668) shares of Series A-1 Common Stock, one thousand six hundred sixty-six (1,666) shares of Series A-2 Common Stock or one thousand six hundred sixty-six (1,666) shares of Series A-3 Common Stock with one (1) Series B-3 Membership; at least three hundred sixty-eight (368) shares of Series A-1 Common Stock, three hundred sixty-six (366) shares of Series A-2 Common Stock or three hundred sixty-six (366) shares of Series A-3 Common Stock with one (1) Series B-4 Membership; and at least eight hundred thirty-four (834) shares of Series A-1 Common Stock, eight hundred thirty-three (833) shares of Series A-2 Common Stock or eight hundred thirty-three (833) shares of Series A-3 Common Stock with one (1) Series B-5 Membership. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for purposes of satisfying the requirements of this Section E(1) of Article IV, a holder of Restricted Class A Common Stock shall not be obligated to sell, transfer or dispose of any Class A Common Stock for which the applicable transfer restrictions have expired in connection with the lapse of the applicable transfer restriction period and have converted into unrestricted Class A Common Stock.

2. The restrictions contained in this Section E of Article IV shall be terms and conditions of membership in the Corporation and any purported sale, transfer or other disposition of a Class B Membership not in accordance with this Section E of Article IV shall be void and shall not be recorded on the books of or otherwise recognized by the Corporation.

3. If and when a majority of the outstanding Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings, voting together as a single class, approves a proposal to provide the board of directors of CBOT Holdings the power to authorize CBOT Holdings to issue all or any portion of the authorized shares of capital stock of CBOT Holdings that remain unissued after the issuance of shares in conjunction with the Restructuring in one or more transactions of any nature when and if determined by the board of directors of CBOT Holdings in its sole discretion (the "Second Approval") the reciprocal restrictions on transfer described in Section E(1) above will terminate and Class B Memberships will thereafter be transferable without the applicable Series A-1 Common Stock, Series A-2 Common Stock and Series A-3 Common Stock, subject to any applicable membership requirements of the Corporation and any other restrictions imposed by the Bylaws, Rules and Regulations or applicable law.

F. Commitment to Maintain Open Outcry Markets. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Section F of Article IV, the Corporation shall maintain open outcry markets operating as of the effective date of the amendment and restatement of this Certificate of Incorporation creating Class B Memberships (the "Effective Date") and provide financial support to each such market for technology, marketing and research, which the Board of Directors determines, in its sole and absolute discretion, is reasonably necessary to maintain each such open outcry market.

Notwithstanding the foregoing or any other provision of this Certificate of Incorporation, the Board of Directors may discontinue any open outcry market at such time and in such manner as it may determine if (1) the Board of Directors determines, in its sole and absolute discretion, that a market is no longer "liquid" or (2) the holders of a majority of the voting power of the then outstanding Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships, voting together as a single class based on their respective voting rights, approve the discontinuance of such open outcry market.

For purposes of the foregoing, an open outcry market will be deemed "liquid" for so long as it meets either of the following tests, in each case as measured on a quarterly basis:

(a) if a comparable exchange-traded product exists, the open outcry market has maintained at least 30 percent (30%) of the average daily volume of such comparable product (including for calculation purposes, volume from Exchange-For-Physicals transactions in such open outcry market); or

(b) if no comparable exchange-traded product exists, the open outcry market has maintained at least 40 percent (40%) of the average quarterly volume in that market as maintained by the Corporation in 2001 (including, for calculation purposes, volume from Exchange-For-Physicals transactions in such open outcry market).

The commitment to maintain open outcry markets set forth in this Section F of Article IV will not apply to markets introduced after the Effective Date.

ARTICLE V

MANAGEMENT OF AFFAIRS

The following provisions are inserted for the management of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the Corporation, and for further definition, limitation and regulation of the powers of the Corporation and of its directors and stockholders:

A. In accordance with Sections 141(a) and 141(j) of the DGCL, the business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of the Board of Directors, the composition of which shall be as set forth in Article VI of this Certificate of Incorporation. In addition to the powers and authority expressly conferred upon them by statute or by this Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws or the Rules, the directors are hereby empowered to exercise all powers and do all acts and things as may be exercised or done by the Corporation.

B. A special meeting of members shall be called by the Chairman of the Board or the Board of Directors upon receipt by the Chairman of the Board or the Secretary of the Corporation of a written demand of the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships entitled to cast 10% of the total number of votes entitled to be cast at such meeting. Any such written demand shall specify the purpose of such special meeting and the special meeting so called shall be limited to the purpose so set forth. The written demand shall also specify the date of such special meeting that shall be a business day not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days from the date of such written demand. The purpose of any special meeting shall be stated in the notice thereof.

C. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the members of the Corporation must be effected at a duly called annual or special meeting of members of the Corporation and may not be effected by any consent in writing by such members, provided that the Class A Member shall have the right to effect by consent in writing any action which would require the approval of the Class A Member at a duly called annual or special meeting of the members of the Corporation.

ARTICLE VI

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A. Designation of Directors Prior to a Qualified Initial Public Offering. After the Effective Date but prior to a Qualified Initial Public Offering, the members of the Board of Directors of the Corporation shall not be elected by the members of the Corporation but, rather, shall be those persons who are serving as directors of CBOT Holdings from time to time; such persons shall automatically become directors of the Corporation if they are directors of CBOT Holdings, and shall automatically cease to be directors of the Corporation if they cease to be directors of CBOT Holdings. The Chairman of the Board of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, be Chairman of the Board of Directors and the Vice Chairman of the Board of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, be Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors. Pursuant to Section 141(a) of the DGCL, the person appointed to serve as President and Chief Executive Officer of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, not be entitled to any voting rights held by other directors. For purposes of this Certificate of Incorporation, the term "Qualified Initial Public Offering" shall mean an initial public offering of Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings, which has occurred following the Second Approval, that has been underwritten by one or more nationally recognized underwriting firms, following which shares of Class A Common Stock of CBOT Holdings are listed on a national securities exchange.

B. Designation and Election of Directors Following a Qualified Initial Public Offering. Upon completion of a Qualified Initial Public Offering, the Board of Directors will be reconstituted such that it is composed of seventeen directors and classified into two classes of nine and eight directors, respectively, each elected to serve for two-year terms. There will be eleven directors designated as "Parent Directors" and six directors designated as "Subsidiary Directors." Upon election or appointment as Parent Directors of CBOT Holdings, the Parent Directors shall automatically become members of the Board of Directors and shall continue to hold such directorships for so long as they remain members of the board of directors of CBOT Holdings. The Subsidiary Directors shall be elected by the holders of Series B-1 Memberships ("Series B-1 Members") and the holders of Series B-2 Memberships ("Series B-2 Members"), voting together as a single class according to their respective voting power, beginning with the first annual election following completion of a Qualified Initial Public Offering for two-year terms. The following qualifications for Subsidiary Directors shall apply: four directors, on the date of their first nomination or selection as nominees for the Board of Directors, shall be Series B-1 Members and shall satisfy the qualifications for and requirements of the applicable class and series of membership as set forth in the Bylaws, Rules and Regulations and two directors, on the date of their first nomination or selection as nominees for the Board of Directors, shall be Series B-2 Members and shall satisfy the qualifications for and requirements of the applicable class and series of membership as set forth in the Bylaws, Rules and Regulations. The Chairman of the Board of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, be Chairman of the Board of Directors and the Vice Chairman of the Board of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, be Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors. The President and Chief Executive Officer of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors, be entitled to the same voting rights held by other directors.

ARTICLE VII

NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Upon completion of a Qualified Initial Public Offering, the Corporation shall maintain an elected nominating committee (the "Nominating Committee'), which shall receive proposals from the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships, review the qualifications of proposed individuals and such other individuals as the Nominating Committee may from time to time select, and advise the Board of Directors of the Corporation as to its recommendations for the nomination of individuals to serve as directors of the Corporation. The members of the Nominating Committee shall be subject to the qualifications set forth below in Section A of Article VII.

A. Composition. The Nominating Committee shall be composed of five persons, including (a) four persons who shall, on the date of their first nomination or selection as nominees for election to the Nominating Committee, be Series B-1 Members and (b) one person who shall, on the date of his or her first nomination or selection as a nominee for election to the Nominating Committee, be a Series B-2 Member. Any member of the Nominating Committee who, at any time during his or her term of office, fails to continue to satisfy the qualifications under which he or she was last elected to the Nominating Committee shall thereupon cease to be qualified to serve as a member of the Nominating Committee and the term of office of such person on such committee shall automatically end.

B. Election. Members of the Nominating Committee shall be elected by Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members, voting together as a single class according to their respective voting power, for a term of three years.

C. Organization. The Nominating Committee shall elect its own chairman, who for so long as he or she serves in such capacity shall at all times be a Series B-1 Member.

D. Term Limits. Members of the Nominating Committee may not be elected or appointed to serve again as a member of the Nominating Committee until the third annual meeting following the annual meeting at which his or her term ended. However, there is no other limit to the number of terms a member of the Nominating Committee may serve.

E. Removal; Vacancies. Members of the Nominating Committee may be removed by a majority of the Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members, voting together as a single class according to their respective voting power, with or without cause. Any vacancies in the Nominating Committee shall be filled by the Board of Directors of the Corporation, and members so chosen shall hold their position for a term expiring at the next annual meeting of the members of the Corporation.

ARTICLE VIII

AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

The Board of Directors is expressly empowered to adopt, amend or repeal the Bylaws of the Corporation, provided that any change to the matters set forth in Section D(2)(b) of Article IV shall also require the approval of holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships as specified therein. The Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members shall also have power to adopt, amend or repeal the Bylaws. The only members of the Corporation with any power to adopt, amend or repeal the Bylaws or the Rules of the Corporation shall be the Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members, as set forth in Section (D)(2) of Article IV of this Certificate of Incorporation, and no other member of, or class or series of membership in, the Corporation shall have any such power.

ARTICLE IX

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

A director of the Corporation shall not be personally liable to the Corporation or its members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (A) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the Corporation or its members, (B) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (C) under Section 174 of the DGCL, or (iv) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. If the DGCL is amended to authorize corporate action further eliminating or limiting the personal liability of directors, then the liability of a director of the Corporation shall be eliminated or limited to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, as so amended.

Any repeal or modification of the foregoing paragraph shall not adversely affect any right or protection of a director of the Corporation existing at the time of such repeal or modification. For purposes of this Article IX, the term "director" shall, to the fullest extent permitted by the DGCL, include any person who, pursuant to this Certificate of Incorporation, is authorized to exercise or perform any of the powers or duties otherwise conferred upon a board of directors by the DGCL.

ARTICLE X

AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION

The Corporation reserves the right to amend or repeal any provision contained in this Certificate of Incorporation in the manner prescribed by the laws of the State of Delaware, and all rights conferred upon the members of the Corporation are granted subject to this reservation. Any amendment of, or repeal of any provision contained in, this Certificate of Incorporation shall require, first, the approval of the Board of Directors and, second, the approval of the Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members, voting together as a single class. No other Members or Membership class shall be entitled to vote thereon and such amendment or repeal shall require the approval of the holders of a majority of the votes cast on any such properly presented proposal at any annual or special meeting of the members of the Corporation.

* * * *

FORM OF AMENDED AND RESTATED BYLAWS
OF
CITY OF CHICAGO, INC.

These Bylaws shall take effect at the effective time (the "Effective Time") of the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (as amended from time to time, the "Certificate of Incorporation") of Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (the "Corporation") to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware in connection with the merger of the Corporation and the restructuring thereof (the "Restructuring") as described in the Registration Statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with the Restructuring; provided that, any limitation or restriction heretofore contained in the Bylaws, Rules and Regulations of the Corporation with respect to the rights of any holder of a Full Membership, Associate Membership, one-half participation interest in an Associate Membership, which shall constitute a membership in the Corporation of the same class as a GIM Membership Interest, GIM Membership Interest, IDEM Membership Interest or COM Membership Interest to receive the dividend to be declared and distributed in connection with the Restructuring shall be and hereby is eliminated immediately upon the adoption of these Bylaws and the holders of each of the foregoing classes of membership shall be deemed to be members of the Corporation (of their respective class) as that term is used in the Delaware General Corporation Law (as amended from time to time, the "DGCL").

Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein (including the Rules) shall have the meaning given to such terms in the Certificate of Incorporation.

ARTICLE I--RULES AND REGULATIONS

Section 1. Incorporation of Rules and Regulations.

In accordance with the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, the Rules and the Regulations, each as they may be amended from time to time, are hereby incorporated by reference into and made part of these Bylaws. For purposes of clarity, each reference to Full Memberships, Associate Memberships, GIM Membership Interests, IDEM Membership Interests and COM Membership Interests in the Rules and Regulations shall be deemed to refer to a Series B-1, B-2, B-3, B-4 and B-5 Membership, respectively. In addition, each reference to a one-half participation in an Associate Membership in the Rules shall, unless the context indicates otherwise, be deemed to refer to a Series B-3 Membership.

Section 2. Member Consent to Be Bound.

Applicants for membership and any person or entity holding any membership in the Corporation shall be required to sign a written agreement to observe and be bound by the Certificate of Incorporation, the Bylaws and the Rules of the Corporation, as each may be amended from time to time. In addition, the Board of Directors may adopt interpretations of the Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws and the Rules ("Interpretations") which shall be incorporated into and deemed to be Rules.

ARTICLE II--MEMBERSHIP

Section 1. Terms and Conditions.

The terms and conditions of membership in the Corporation, including, without limitation, the rights and obligations of members, member firms and delegates, shall be as provided herein, in the Certificate of Incorporation and in the Rules. Without limiting the foregoing, requirements with respect to, and restrictions and limitations on, the ownership, use, purchase, sale, transfer or other disposition of any membership or interest therein, or any other interest of or relating to the Corporation or membership therein, including the payment of proceeds from the sale, transfer or other disposition of any membership or interest therein, shall be as provided herein, in the Certificate of Incorporation and in the Rules, or as otherwise provided in accordance with applicable law.

Section 2. Voting Rights.

Members shall have such voting rights as are specified in the Certificate of Incorporation. To the extent authorized by the Certificate of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall be entitled to fix a record date for purposes of determining the members entitled to vote on any matter. Except as expressly provided in the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation, on any matter upon which the holders of Series B-1 Memberships and Series B-2 Memberships are entitled to vote, such members shall have the authority to authorize such proposal on the affirmative vote of a majority of votes cast at any annual or special meeting of the members of the Corporation.

Section 3. Annual and Special Meetings.

1. Prior to a Qualified Public Offering, the directors of the Corporation shall be elected by the holder of the Class A Membership at an annual meeting to be held on a date designated by the Board of Directors (the "Annual Meeting"), provided that no annual meeting need be held if the holder of the Class A Membership has elected directors by written consent without a meeting. Upon completion of a Qualified Initial Public Offering, the Subsidiary Directors shall be elected by the Series B-1 Members and the Series B-2 Members at the Annual Meeting. Special meetings of the members may be called only by those persons, and in the manner specified, in the Certificate of Incorporation.

2. Nominations of persons for election to the Board of Directors or the Nominating Committee may be made at the Annual Meeting (a) pursuant to the Corporation's notice with respect to such meeting, (b) by or at the direction of the Board of Directors or (c) by any Series B-1 Member or any Series B-2 Member in good standing with the Corporation who was a member in good standing at the time of the giving of the notice provided for in the following paragraph, who is entitled to vote at the meeting and who has complied with the notice procedures set forth in this section.

3. For nominations to be properly brought before an Annual Meeting by a Series B-1 Member or Series B-2 Member pursuant to clause (c) of the foregoing paragraph, (1) the member must have given timely notice thereof in writing to the Secretary of the Corporation, (2) if the member has provided the Corporation with a Solicitation Notice, as that term is defined in subclause (b)(iii) of this paragraph, such member must, in the case of a proposal, have delivered a proxy statement and form of proxy to holders of a percentage of the Corporation's voting shares reasonably believed by such member to be sufficient to elect the nominee or nominees proposed to be nominated by such member, and must, in either case, have included in such materials the Solicitation Notice and (3) if no Solicitation Notice relating thereto has been timely provided pursuant to this section, the member proposing such nomination must not have solicited a number of proxies sufficient to have required the delivery of such a Solicitation Notice under this section. To be timely, a member's notice shall be delivered to the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not less than twenty (20) or more than sixty (60) days prior to the first anniversary (the "Anniversary") of the date on which the Corporation first mailed its proxy materials for the preceding year's Annual Meeting; provided, however, that for purposes of the first Annual Meeting following the Effective Time, or if the date of an Annual Meeting is advanced more than thirty (30) days prior to or delayed by more than thirty (30) days after the anniversary of the preceding year's Annual Meeting, notice by the member to be timely must be so delivered not earlier than the 90th day prior to such Annual Meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of (i) the 45th day prior to such Annual Meeting or (ii) the 10th day following the day on which public announcement of the date of such meeting is first made. Such member's notice shall set forth: (a) as to each person whom the member proposes to nominate for election or reelection as a director or member of the Nominating Committee (x) the person's name and a brief description of the current positions and directorships such person holds; (y) whether the member proposes to nominate such person to be a Series B-1 Director, a Series B-2 Director or a member of the Nominating Committee and, if applicable, a statement that such person satisfies the applicable criteria for Series B-1 Directors, Series B-2 Directors or members of the Nominating Committee, as applicable, and (z) such person's written consent to serve as a director or member of the Nominating Committee, as applicable if elected and, if applicable, a written undertaking to promptly provide to the Secretary of the Corporation upon request any information that the Corporation deems to be relevant to the determination of whether such person satisfies the applicable criteria for Series B-1 Directors, Series B-2 Directors or members of the Nominating Committee, as applicable; (b) as to the member giving the notice (i) the name and address of such member, as they appear on the Corporation's books, (ii) the series and number of memberships of the Corporation that are owned by such member, and (iii) whether such member intends to deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to holders of, in the case of a proposal, at least the percentage of the Corporation's voting shares required under applicable law to carry the proposal or, in the case of a nomination or nominations, a sufficient number of holders of the Corporation's voting shares to elect such nominee or nominees (an affirmative statement of such intent, a "Solicitation Notice").

4. In the event that (a) a member proposes to nominate an individual for election or reelection as a director of the Corporation or as a member of the Nominating Committee; (b) such member has satisfied each of the terms and conditions set forth in paragraph (3) of this Section 3 for the nomination of such nominee; and (c) such member has delivered to the Secretary of the Corporation a written petition executed by at least forty persons who are holders of a Series B-1 Membership proposing to nominate such nominee, the Corporation shall, to the extent it prepares and delivers a proxy statement and form of proxy, at its own expense, use commercially reasonable efforts to include the name of such nominee and all other information required as a matter of law in such proxy statement and form of proxy.

5. Notwithstanding anything in the second sentence of the third paragraph of this Section 3 to the contrary, in the event that the number of directors to be elected to the Board of Directors is increased and there is no public announcement naming all of the nominees for director or specifying the size of the increased Board of Directors made by the Corporation at least fifty-five (55) days prior to the Anniversary, a member's notice required by this Bylaw shall also be considered timely, but only with respect to nominees for any new positions created by such increase, if it shall be delivered to the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not later than the close of business on the 10th day following the day on which such public announcement is first made by the Corporation.

6. Only persons nominated in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 3 shall be eligible to be elected as directors or members of the Nominating Committee at an Annual Meeting. The chairman of the meeting shall have the power and the duty to determine whether a nomination to be brought before the meeting has been made in accordance with the procedures set forth in these Bylaws and, if any proposed nomination is not in compliance with these Bylaws, to declare that such defectively proposed nomination shall not be presented for member action at the meeting and shall be disregarded.

7. For purposes of these Bylaws, "public announcement" shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Associated Press or a comparable national news service.

Section 4. Notice of Meetings.

Written notice of the place, date, and time of all meetings of the members shall be given, not less than ten (10) nor more than sixty (60) days before the date on which the meeting is to be held, to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, except as otherwise provided herein or required by law (meaning, here and hereinafter, as required from time to time by the DGCL or the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation). The notice of any special meeting of members shall also state the purpose or purposes for which such meeting is called.

When a meeting is adjourned to another time or place, notice need not be given of the adjourned meeting if the time and place, if any, thereof, and the means of remote communications, if any, by which members and proxy holders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned meeting is announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken; provided, however, that if the date of any adjourned meeting is more than thirty (30) days after the date for which the meeting was originally noticed, or if a new record date is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of the place, if any, date, and time of the adjourned meeting and the means of remote communications, if any, by which members and proxy holders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned meeting shall be given in conformity herewith. At any adjourned meeting, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the original meeting without regard to the presence of a quorum at such adjournment.

Section 5. Quorum.

The presence of the holder of the Class A Membership, in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum with respect to any matter on which the holder of the Class A Membership is entitled to vote pursuant to the Certificate of Incorporation, or any meeting called to vote on such matters.

With respect to any matter on which the holders of Class B Memberships are entitled to vote pursuant to the Certificate of Incorporation, or any meeting called to vote on such matters, the presence of holders of Class B Memberships, in person or by proxy, representing one-third of the votes entitled to be cast on such matters, shall constitute a quorum. If a quorum shall fail to attend any meeting, the chairman of the meeting or, in his or her absence, the Chairman of the Board of Directors or the President may adjourn the meeting to another place, if any, date or time.

Section 6. Organization.

Such person as the Board of Directors may have designated or, in the absence of such a person, the Chairman of the Board of Directors or, in his or her absence, such person as may be chosen by the holder of the Class A Membership, shall call to order any meeting of the members and act as chairman of the meeting. In the absence of the Secretary of the Corporation, the secretary of the meeting shall be such person as the chairman appoints.

Section 7. Conduct of Business.

The chairman of any meeting of members shall determine the order of business and the procedure at the meeting, including such regulation of the manner of voting and the conduct of discussion as seem to him or her in order.

Section 8. Proxies and Voting.

At any meeting of the members, every member entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law filed in accordance with the procedure established for the meeting. Any copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reliable reproduction of the writing or transmission created pursuant to this paragraph may be substituted or used in lieu of the original writing or transmission for any and all purposes for which the original writing or transmission could be used, provided that such copy, facsimile telecommunication or other reproduction shall be a complete reproduction of the entire original writing or transmission.

Section 9. Written Consent of Members in Lieu of Meeting.

Except as otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, any action required to be taken at any annual or special meeting of members of the Corporation, or any action which may be taken at any annual or special meeting of the members, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the number of members that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all members entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the Corporation by delivery to its registered office in Delaware, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the Corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of members are recorded. Delivery made to the Corporation's registered office shall be made by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

Every written consent shall bear the date of signature of each member who signs the consent and no written consent shall be effective to take the corporate action referred to therein unless, within sixty (60) days of the date the earliest dated consent is delivered to the Corporation, a written consent or consents signed by a sufficient number of members to take action are delivered to the Corporation in the manner prescribed in the first paragraph of this Section.

ARTICLE III--BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Section 1. General. The Board of Directors shall be comprised of such persons, who shall be subject to such qualifications, shall be appointed in such manner and shall have and exercise such powers, as provided in the Certificate of Incorporation.

Section 2. Quorum. A majority of the total number of directors then in office shall constitute a quorum of the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Attendance at Board Meetings.

Members of the Board of Directors or any committee who are physically present at a meeting of the Board of Directors or any committee may adopt as the procedure of such meeting that, for quorum purposes or otherwise, any member not physically present but in continuous communication with such meeting shall be deemed to be present. Continuous communication shall exist only when, by conference telephone or similar communications equipment, a member not physically present is able to hear and be heard by each other member deemed present, and to participate in the proceedings of the meeting.

Section 4. Regular Meetings.

The Board of Directors shall hold regular meetings at such times as the Board of Directors may determine from time to time.

Section 5. Special Meetings.

Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called by the Chairman of the Board of Directors or the President, and shall be called by the Secretary upon the written request of three Directors. The Secretary shall give at least one hour's notice of such meetings either by announcement on Change or by call letter.

Section 6. Certain Rights and Restrictions.

The right of any person to vote, participate or take any action in any capacity as a member of the Board of Directors or any committee, panel or other body shall be subject to such requirements and restrictions as may be provided herein, in the Certificate of Incorporation and in the Rules.

ARTICLE IV--COMMITTEES AND DEPARTMENTS

Section 1. General.

To the fullest extent permitted by law and the Certificate of Incorporation, the Board of Directors shall have the power to appoint, and to delegate authority to, such committees of the Board of Directors as it determines to be appropriate from time to time.

Section 2. Additional and Standing Committees.

In addition to such committees as may be authorized by the Board of Directors from time to time, the Corporation shall have such additional and standing committees, which shall be comprised of such persons having such powers and duties, as provided in the Rules. Any person may be disqualified from serving on or participating in the affairs of any committee to the extent provided in the Rules.

Section 3. Departments.

The Corporation shall have such departments as are authorized in or in accordance with the Rules.

ARTICLE V--OFFICERS

Section 1. General.

The Corporation shall have such officers, with such powers and duties, as provided herein and in the Certificate of Incorporation.

Section 2. Chairman of the Board.

The Chairman of the Board of Directors of CBOT Holdings shall, whenever he or she is serving as a member of the Board of Directors of the Corporation, be the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

Section 3. President.

The President shall be the Chief Executive Officer of the Corporation. Subject to the provisions of these Bylaws and to the direction of the Board of Directors, he or she shall have the responsibility to carry on the day to day activities of the Corporation, subject to the Board's authority to review the activities of the President and determine the policies of the Corporation, and for the general management and control of the business and affairs of the Corporation and shall perform all duties and have all powers which are commonly incident to the office of chief executive and which are delegated to him or her from time to time by the Board of Directors.

Section 4. Officers Other Than President.

The Board of Directors shall appoint such Vice Presidents as it may deem necessary or desirable for the efficient management and operation of the Corporation. The Executive Vice President and any other Vice Presidents shall be responsible to the President. The Board of Directors shall also appoint such other officers as may be necessary. The Board of Directors may prescribe the duties and fix the compensation of all such officers and they shall hold office during the will of the Board of Directors.

Section 5. Bonding of Employees.

The President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary, Treasurer and Assistant Treasurer shall be placed under bond of $50,000 each, premiums to be paid out of the general funds of the Corporation; and such other employees of the Office of the Secretary, who handle funds of the Corporation, shall be bonded in the sum of $5,000 each, premiums to be paid out of the general funds of the Corporation.

Section 6. Secretary.

The Secretary shall perform such duties as may be delegated to him or her by the Board of Directors or the President. In addition he or she shall be charged with the following specific duties:

(a) To take charge of the books, papers, and corporate seal of the Corporation;

(b) To attend all meetings of the Corporation and the Board of Directors, and to keep official records thereof;

(c) To give notices when required of all Board of Directors and membership meetings;

(d) To conduct the correspondence of the Corporation under the direction of the proper officers;

(e) To furnish to the Chairman of every Special Committee a copy of the resolution whereby such Committee was created;

(f) To post all notices which may be required to be posted upon the bulletin board;

(g) To keep his or her office open during usual business hours;

(h) To see that the rooms and property of the Corporation are kept in good order;

(i) To attest, upon behalf of the Corporation, all contracts and other documents requiring authentication;

(j) To permit members to examine the records of the Corporation upon reasonable request; and

(k) To post on the bulletin board from time to time the names of all warehouses, the receipts of which are declared regular for delivery, and also, upon direction of the Board of Directors, to post any fact tending to impair the value of receipts issued by such warehouses.

Section 7. Assistant Secretaries.

Assistant Secretaries shall perform such duties as the Secretary or the Board of Directors may require, and shall act as Secretary in the absence or disability of the Secretary.

Section 8. Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall have general charge of all funds belonging to the Corporation, and shall be charged with the following specific duties:

(a) The Treasurer shall receive from the Secretary deposit of funds belonging to the Corporation. Checks in amounts over $10,000 shall be signed by either the President, the Chief Financial Officer, the Treasurer, the Secretary or the Assistant Secretary and countersigned by the Chairman of the Board of Directors, a Vice Chairman of the Board of Directors or one (1) of the three (3) other elected members of the Executive Committee;

(b) To make an annual report to the Corporation of all receipts and disbursements; and

(c) To keep all of his or her accounts in permanent books of account belonging to the Corporation, which books shall at all times be open to the examination of the Board of Directors or any committee thereof.

Section 8. Assistant Treasurer.

The Assistant Treasurer shall perform such duties as the Treasurer or the Board of Directors may require, and shall act as Treasurer in the absence or disability of the Treasurer.

ARTICLE VI--NOTICES

Section 1. Notices.

Except as otherwise specifically provided herein or required by law, all notices required to be given to any member, director, committee member, officer, employee or agent shall be in writing and may in every instance be effectively given by hand delivery to the recipient thereof, by depositing such notice in the mails, postage paid, or by sending such notice by prepaid telegram or mailgram. Any such notice shall be addressed to such member, director, committee member, officer, employee or agent at his or her last known address as the same appears on the books of the Corporation. The time when such notice is received, if hand delivered, or dispatched, if delivered through the mails or by telegram or mailgram, shall be the time of the giving of the notice.

Section 2. Waivers.

A written waiver of any notice, signed by a member, director, committee member, officer, employee or agent, whether before or after the time of the event for which notice is to be given, shall be deemed equivalent to the notice required to be given to such member, director, committee member, officer, employee or agent. Neither the business nor the purpose of any meeting need be specified in such a waiver.

ARTICLE VII--MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. Facsimile Signatures.

Facsimile signatures of any officer or officers of the Corporation may be used whenever and as authorized by the Board of Directors or a committee thereof.

Section 2. Corporate Seal.

The Board of Directors may provide a suitable seal, containing the name of the Corporation, which seal shall be in the charge of the Secretary. If and when so directed by the Board of Directors or a committee thereof, duplicates of the seal may be kept and used by the Treasurer or by an Assistant Secretary or Assistant Treasurer.

Section 3. Reliance upon Books, Reports and Records.

Each director and each member of any committee designated by the Board of Directors, shall, in the performance of his or her duties, be fully protected in relying in good faith upon the books of account or other records of the Corporation and upon such information, opinions, reports or statements presented to the Corporation by any of its officers or employees, or committees of the Board of Directors so designated, or by any other person as to matters which such director or committee member reasonably believes are within such other person's professional or expert competence and who has been selected with reasonable care by or on behalf of the Corporation.

Section 4. Fiscal Year.

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall be as fixed by the Board of Directors from time to time.

Section 5. Time Periods.

Except as otherwise specifically provided, in applying any provision of these Bylaws which requires that an act be done or not be done a specified number of days prior to an event or that an act be done during a period of a specified number of days prior to an event, calendar days shall be used, the day of the doing of the act shall be excluded, and the day of the event shall be included.

ARTICLE VIII--INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

Section 1. Right to Indemnification.

Each person who was or is made a party or is threatened to be made a party to or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (hereinafter a "proceeding"), by reason of the fact that he or she is or was a Director, officer, committee member or employee of the Corporation or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a Director, officer, trustee, committee member or employee of another corporation or of a partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, including service with respect to an employee benefit plan (hereinafter an "indemnitee"), whether the basis of such proceeding is alleged action in an official capacity as a Director, officer, trustee, committee member or employee or in any other capacity while serving as a Director, officer, trustee, committee member or employee, shall be indemnified and held harmless by the Corporation to the fullest extent authorized by the DGCL, as the same exists or may hereafter be amended (but, in the case of any such amendment, only to the extent that such amendment permits the Corporation to provide broader indemnification rights than such law permitted the Corporation to provide prior to such amendment), against all expense, liability and loss (including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines, ERISA excise taxes or penalties and amounts paid in settlement) reasonably incurred or suffered by such indemnitee in connection therewith; provided, however, that, except as provided in Section 3 of this Article VIII with respect to proceedings to enforce rights to indemnification, the Corporation shall indemnify any such indemnitee in connection with a proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such indemnitee only if such proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

Section 2. Right to Advancement of Expenses.

The right to indemnification conferred in Section 1 of this Article VIII shall include the right to be paid by the Corporation the expenses (including attorney's fees) incurred in defending any such proceeding in advance of its final disposition (hereinafter an "advancement of expenses"); provided, however, that, if the DGCL requires, an advancement of expenses incurred by an indemnitee in his or her capacity as a Director or officer (and not in any other capacity in which service was or is rendered by such indemnitee, including, without limitation, service to an employee benefit plan) shall be made only upon delivery to the Corporation of an undertaking (hereinafter an "undertaking"), by or on behalf of such indemnitee, to repay all amounts so advanced if it shall ultimately be determined by final judicial decision from which there is no further right to appeal (hereinafter a "final adjudication") that such indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified for such expenses under this Section 2 or otherwise. The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in Sections 1 and 2 of this Article VIII shall be contract rights and such rights shall continue as to an indemnitee who has ceased to be a Director, officer, committee member or employee and shall inure to the benefit of the indemnitee's heirs, executors and administrators.

Section 3. Right of Indemnitee to Bring Suit.

If a claim under Section 1 or 2 of this Article VIII is not paid in full by the Corporation within sixty (60) days after a written claim has been received by the Corporation, except in the case of a claim for an advancement of expenses, in which case the applicable period shall be twenty (20) days, the indemnitee may at any time thereafter bring suit against the Corporation to recover the unpaid amount of the claim. If successful in whole or in part in any such suit, or in a suit brought by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the indemnitee shall be entitled to be paid also the expense of prosecuting or defending such suit. In (i) any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification hereunder (but not in a suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to an advancement of expenses) it shall be a defense that, and (ii) in any suit brought by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the Corporation shall be entitled to recover such expenses upon a final adjudication that, the indemnitee has not met any applicable standard for indemnification set forth in the DGCL. Neither the failure of the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) to have made a determination prior to the commencement of such suit that indemnification of the indemnitee is proper in the circumstances because the indemnitee has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in the DGCL, nor an actual determination by the Corporation (including its Board of Directors, independent legal counsel, or its members) that the indemnitee has not met such applicable standard of conduct, shall create a presumption that the indemnitee has not met the applicable standard of conduct or, in the case of such a suit brought by the indemnitee, be a defense to such suit. In any suit brought by the indemnitee to enforce a right to indemnification or to an advancement of expenses hereunder, or brought by the Corporation to recover an advancement of expenses pursuant to the terms of an undertaking, the burden of proving that the indemnitee is not entitled to be indemnified, or to such advancement of expenses, under this Article VIII or otherwise shall be on the Corporation.

Section 4. Non-Exclusivity of Rights.

The rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses conferred in this Article VIII shall not be exclusive of any other right which any person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, the Corporation's Certificate of Incorporation, Bylaws, agreement, vote of members or disinterested Directors or otherwise.

Section 5. Insurance.

The Corporation may maintain insurance, at its expense, to protect itself and any Director, officer, committee member, employee or agent of the Corporation or another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any expense, liability or loss, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such expense, liability or loss under the Delaware General Corporation Law.

Section 6. Indemnification of Agents of the Corporation.

The Corporation may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, grant rights to indemnification and to the advancement of expenses to any agent of the Corporation to the fullest extent of the provisions of this Article VIII with respect to the indemnification and advancement of expenses of directors and officers of the Corporation.

Section 7. Corporation Defense Expenses.

Any member or member firm who fails to prevail in a lawsuit or any other type of legal proceeding instituted by that member or member firm against the Corporation or any of its officers, Directors, committee members, employees or agents must pay to the Corporation all reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, incurred by the Corporation in the defense of such proceeding. Any member or member firm required to compensate the Corporation pursuant to this section shall be assessed interest on such amount at the rate of Prime plus one percent (1%), which interest shall accrue from the date such amount was demanded in writing after the member or member firm failed to prevail in a lawsuit or any other type of legal proceeding against the Corporation.

ARTICLE IX--AMENDMENTS

The Board of Directors is expressly empowered to adopt, amend or repeal the Bylaws of the Corporation; provided that any change to the matters set forth in Section (D)(2)(a) of Article IV of the Certificate of Incorporation shall also require the approval of Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members as specified therein. Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members shall also have power to adopt, amend or repeal the Bylaws of the Corporation; provided, however, that any adoption, amendment or repeal of the Bylaws of the Corporation by Series B-1 Members and Series B-2 Members shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast on any such properly presented proposal at any annual or special meeting of the members of the Corporation.

Membership

157.00 Business Conduct Committee - (See 542.00) (08/01/94)

158.00 Floor Governors Committee - (See 543.00) (08/01/94)

159.00 Membership Committee - All applications for membership shall be referred to the Membership Committee. The Membership Committee, in its discretion, may require an applicant who resides in the continental United States to appear in person for an examination either before the full committee, a duly authorized subcommittee thereof, or a representative of the Member Services Department. The Committee may also impose different requirements for other applicants in lieu of personal appearance.

The Membership Committee, by a majority vote of its members present at a duly constituted meeting, shall approve or deny the admission of the applicant to membership. A decision of the Membership Committee to deny the application may be appealed to the Regulatory Compliance Committee. 102 (12/01/03)

159.01 Membership Committee Panels - The Chairman of the Membership Committee may appoint panels of Committee members to hold duly constituted meetings, in accordance with Rule 159.00, for the purpose of approving or denying applications for membership. Any such panel must consist of not fewer than three members of the Committee. (08/01/94)

165.01 Regulatory Compliance Committee - The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint a Regulatory Compliance Committee, which shall be comprised of the following voting members:

- Three members of the Board, all of whom shall be Full Members or Associate Members; and

- The chairmen of the Arbitration, Business Conduct, Financial Compliance, Floor Conduct, Floor Governors and Membership Committees.

Each year the Chairman of the Board shall appoint, from among the Board members on the Committee, the Chairman of the Regulatory Compliance Committee for a one-year term, provided that the term of the first Committee chairman so appointed shall expire in January 1995.

The Regulatory Compliance Committee shall be responsible for (a) the approval of legislative priorities and responses to legislative and regulatory initiatives; (b) the determination of membership capital requirements; (c) the establishment of risk management policies; (d) the establishment of membership criteria; (e) hearing appeals from denials of membership applications; (f) the monitoring of compliance policies; and (g) establishing ranges for penalties and fines for violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Association.

The Committee shall instruct the Office of Investigations and Audits to administer a statement of Member's Rights to each member (or employee of a member) who is the subject of an investigation. (See below.)

Members of the Committee shall be appointed by the Chairman of the Board with the approval of the Board. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall fill any vacancy in the Board members serving on the Committee by appointing another member of the Board to serve on the Committee.

STATEMENT OF MEMBER'S RIGHTS
APPURTENANT TO EXCHANGE PROCEEDINGS

The Chicago Board of Trade ("Exchange" or "CBOT") is a self-regulatory organization subject to supervisory regulation of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC"). In order to fulfill its self-regulatory obligations the Exchange is required by the CFTC to undertake certain surveillance activities and to maintain an enforcement staff that prosecutes possible violations of Exchange rules before Exchange committees. At the CBOT these responsibilities are carried out by the Office of investigations and Audits ("OIA") pursuant to CBOT Regulations 170.01 and 170.02.

Investigations may be initiated by staff, members, the CFTC of the public. When an investigation is completed, an Investigations Report concerning the alleged violation is prepared and submitted to the appropriate Exchange disciplinary committee for review and action. An Investigation Report is a privileged document and not subject to disclosure, although the essential elements of an Investigative Report include a summary of the case and evidence gathered by OIA, along with an OIA recommendation on whether to proceed.

A member, member firm or any other person subject to questioning during an investigation is afforded the following rights, in addition to those rights contained in Chapter 5 of the Exchange Rulebook:

1) The right to be represented by counsel during questioning and at any subsequent proceeding before an Exchange committee. Regulation 540.03(g).

2) The right to be informed of the general act or conduct which is the subject of the investigation, in so far as is determinable at the time of questioning.

3) The right not to answer any question, if the answer would convict or tend to convict the person of any State of Federal law. Rule 548.00.

4) The right to examine any statements or documents which are relevant to the issued charges, excluding privileged work product and the Investigative Report. Regulation 540.03(a).

5) The right to call relevant witnesses at any hearing and, for those witnesses within the jurisdiction of the Association, compel their attendance.

6) The right of one peremptory (for no reason) challenge to the presence of a member of an Exchange disciplinary committee impaneled to hear the matter and unlimited challenges for cause.

In addition, members, member firms or any other persons subject to questioning during an investigation should be aware that Section 9(a)(4) of the Commodity Exchange Act makes it a felony to willfully falsify or conceal a material fact, to make a false, fictitious or fraudulent statement, or to knowingly make or use a false document to any representative of the Exchange, including OIA employees, who are performing their official duties.

I hereby acknowledge that I have read this Statement of Member's Rights this _____ day of _____, 20 _____.

170.00 Departments - The Board, or the President with the approval of the Board, is authorized to establish and maintain such departments as may be deemed necessary from time to time, and the Board shall make all needful Regulations applicable thereto. All such departments shall be under the supervision of the President, who shall be responsible to the Board. 81 (08/01/94)

170.01 Office of Investigations and Audits - Under authority of Rule 170.00 there is established a Department of the Association to be known as the Office of Investigations and Audits. The Office shall function under the supervision of an individual who shall be at least a Vice President of the Association. The Office of Investigations and Audits shall initiate and conduct investigations and audits on behalf of the President and Chief Executive Officer and on behalf of the Association. No employee of such office shall have any interest in the business of any member, member firm, or other person with trading privileges. The individual who supervises such Office shall function also as a liaison officer between the Business Conduct Committee and the Financial Compliance Committee and the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. 1785 (08/01/94)

170.02 Office of Investigations and Audits - All officers, committees and departments of the Association shall be entitled to use and shall make the fullest possible use of the services provided by the Office of Investigations and Audits consistent with their respective responsibilities and special needs, and the President shall work out and establish policies and procedures governing the initiation and handling of needed investigations, audits and Exchange business. All such policies and procedures shall be consistent with and not in conflict with the following declared policies of the Board:

(a) All information obtained by the Office of Investigations and Audits regarding market positions and identity of traders shall be considered confidential, regardless of source, and shall be disclosed only to the Chairman or acting Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee and/or the Financial Compliance Committee, and authorized Exchange employees, and shall be disclosed to the Business Conduct Committee and/or the Financial Compliance Committee sitting as a committee when and after the individual in charge of the Office of Investigations and Audits or the Chairman or acting Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee and/or the Financial Compliance Committee shall have reason to believe that such Committee would or should take preventive or disciplinary action if such information were presented to it. This shall not preclude the Business Conduct Committee and/or the Financial Compliance Committee from ordering investigations or audits to be made at any time for the special purpose of obtaining information regarding the market position and identity of any trader or traders, and in such cases the Office of Investigations and Audits shall report fully and completely to the Committee any and all such information so obtained or in its possession.

(b) It shall be considered a breach of trust for any employee of the Office of Investigations and Audits or authorized Exchange employee to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, to any unauthorized person, any confidential, commercially sensitive, or non-public information, including any information regarding the market position, financial condition, or identity of any trader or firm or to disclose the name of any customer of one firm to any other firm, except as provided for in paragraph (a) hereof or when required in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association or of the Board, or in response to a duly authorized subpoena, or in response to a request or demand by any administrative or legislative body of government having jurisdiction of the subject matter and authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board of Directors. Such information shall not be divulged by any employee of the Office of Investigations and Audits or authorized Exchange employee without the prior approval of the individual responsible for supervision of the Office of Investigations and Audits. 1786 (07/01/02)

170.03 Department of Member Services - Under the authority of Rule 170.00 there is established a Department of Member Services. The function of such Department shall be (1) to act in accordance with Regulations of the Board and policies and procedures established by the Membership Committee and (2) to develop and process information in behalf of the Board, the Membership Committee, the Business Conduct Committee and all other Committees and Departments of the Association. The services of such Department shall not, however, be used in connection with the investigation of market positions nor shall it demand information from which knowledge of market positions could be obtained. The Department shall function under the supervision of a Vice President who shall be a full time employee of the Association. No employee of such Department shall have an interest in the business of any member or member firm. 1787 (08/01/94)

170.04 Department of Member Services - Any irregularities that may be found by the Department incidental to its routine analysis of financial statements shall be immediately reported to the Financial Compliance Committee. Except as otherwise provided, all financial information obtained by the Department shall be considered confidential and shall be disclosed only to the appropriate committee or department requesting the information or to an Officer of the Association. 1788 (08/01/94)

170.05 Department of Member Services - The Board, Committees and Departments of the Association shall make the fullest possible use of the services provided by the Department of Member Services consistent with their respective responsibilities and special needs, and in cooperation with such Department shall work out and establish policies and procedures governing the use of such services. 1789 (08/01/94)

180.00 Emergencies

(a) The Board, upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members voting at a meeting where a quorum is deemed present and at least one-third of the full Board is physically present, may adopt an emergency Regulation or Resolution which shall supersede and supplant all contrary or inconsistent Rules, Regulations, Resolutions or Rulings. Notice of the adoption of an emergency Regulation or Resolution shall be posted promptly on the floor of the Exchange.

(b) An emergency Regulation or Resolution shall expire upon the happening of any of the following events:

(i) the Board shall have voted to rescind the emergency Regulation or Resolution in the same manner as for its adoption;

(ii) the Commodity Futures Trading Commission shall have failed to authorize the extension of the emergency Regulation or Resolution within thirty (30) days after its adoption for a period not to exceed sixty (60) additional days; or

(iii) the Board or the Members of the Association shall have failed to adopt the emergency Regulation or Resolution in accordance with Rules 107.00 or 132.00 during the time period when the emergency is in effect.

(c) All Exchange contracts shall be subject to the exercise of these emergency powers by the Board as well as the exercise by the Clearing Services Provider of the powers reserved to it by its policies, Rules and Regulations.

(d) The Term "emergency" shall include all emergency circumstances now or hereafter referenced in the Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission thereunder, and all other circumstances in which an emergency can lawfully be declared by the Board.

(e) Except as otherwise stated in an emergency Regulation or Resolution adopted hereunder, the powers exercised by the Board under this Rule shall be in addition to and not in derogation of the authority granted by the Rules and Regulations to a committee or officer of the Association to take action as specified therein. (01/01/04)

180.01 Physical Emergencies - In the event the physical functions of the Association are, or are threatened to be, severely and adversely affected by a physical emergency such as but not limited to fire or other casualty, bomb threats, substantial inclement weather, power failures, communications or automated system breakdowns, or transportation breakdowns, either the Chairman, the President, or in their absence a member of the Executive Committee or another officer of the Exchange, is authorized to take such action as he shall deem necessary or appropriate to deal with such emergency including but not limited to suspending trading, provided that no trading suspension shall continue for more than five days without the approval of the Board under Rule 180.00; restoring trading; temporarily extending, limiting or changing the hours of trading; and extending the last day of trading and the delivery dates for expiring contracts. In addition, an officer of the Exchange, or his designee, may take such action as he shall deem necessary or appropriate to deal with a physical emergency, even if the Chairman and the President are not absent, if such authority has been delegated by the Chairman and the President. (06/01/00)

180.02 Emergency Actions Under Rule 180.00 - Pursuant and subject to the provisions of Rule 180.00, the Board may take or direct such actions as it deems necessary or appropriate to meet an emergency, including but not limited to such actions as:

(a) limited trading to liquidation only, in whole or in part;

(b) limited trading to liquidation only, except new sales for delivery;

(c) extending or shortening the time for the expiration of trading;

(d) extending the time for delivery;

(e) ordering liquidation of contracts;

(f) ordering the fixing of settlement prices;

(g) ordering the reduction of positions;

(h) ordering the transfer of positions, and the money, securities and property securing such positions, held on behalf of customers by a member, to another member or members willing to assume such positions;

(i) extending, limiting or changing the hours of trading;

(j) suspending trading;

(k) changing or removing daily price fluctuation limits;

(l) modifying or suspending any of the Rules and Regulations. (08/01/94)

188.01 Governing Members Possessing Material, Non-Public Information - - No member of the Association who is a member of the Board of Directors or a Committee of the Association knowingly shall use or disclose, for any purpose other than the performance of such member's official duties as a member of the Board of Directors or any such Committee, material, non-public information obtained as a result of such member's participation on the Board of Directors or any such committee. (08/01/94)

188.02 Service on Board of Directors, Disciplinary Committees, Oversight Committees and Arbitration Panels--No person shall serve on any disciplinary committee (i.e., Appellate Committee, Business Conduct Committee, Financial Compliance Committee, Floor Governors Committee, Floor Conduct Committee or Hearing Committee), oversight committee (i.e. Regulatory Compliance Committee), arbitration panel or the Board of Directors of the Association:

1) who is found by a final decision or settlement agreement (or absent a finding in the settlement agreement if any acts charged included a disciplinary offense) to have committed a disciplinary offense, as defined in Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("Commission") Regulation 1.63 (a) (6); or

2) whose Commission registration in any capacity has been revoked or suspended; or

3) who is subject to an agreement with the Commission or any self-regulatory organization not to apply for registration; or

4) who is subject to a denial, suspension or disqualification from serving on a disciplinary committee, oversight committee, arbitration panel or governing board of any self-regulatory organization as that term is defined in Section 3(a)(26) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; or

5) who has been convicted of any felony listed in Section 8a(2) (D) (ii) through (iv) of the Commodity Exchange Act; for a period of three years from the date of such final decision or for such time as the person remains subject to any suspension, expulsion or has failed to pay any portion of a fine imposed for committing a disciplinary offense, whichever is longer.

All terms used herein shall be defined consistent with Commission Regulation 1.63(a). (11/01/94)

188.03 Exchange Liability -

A. Except as provided in the Commodity Exchange Act and/or the regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and except in instances where there has been a finding of willful or wanton misconduct, gross negligence, bad faith or fraudulent or criminal acts, in which case the party found to have engaged in such misconduct cannot invoke the protection of this provision, neither the Exchange nor any of its directors, officers, employees, agents or consultants shall have or incur any liability whatsoever to its members, any persons associated therewith, their customers or any third parties related thereto or their successors, assigns, or representatives, for any loss, damage, cost, claims or expense (including but not limited to indirect, incidental or consequential damages) that arise out of the use or enjoyment of the facilities or services afforded by the Exchange, any interruption in or failure or unavailability of any a such facilities or services, any action taken or omitted to be taken with respect to the business of the Exchange or any information or data provided or withheld by the Exchange. Such limitation of liability shall apply to all claims, whether in contract, tort, negligence, strict liability or otherwise.

The Exchange makes no warranty, express or implied, as to the results to be obtained by any person or entity from the use of any data or information transmitted or disseminated by or on behalf of the Exchange. The Exchange makes no express or implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose or use with respect to any data or information transmitted or disseminated by or on behalf of the Exchange.

B. Subject to the limitations set forth above, neither the Exchange nor any of its directors, officers, employees, agents or consultants shall have or incur any liability whatsoever to its members, their customers or any third parties associated therewith, or their successors, assigns, or representatives, for any loss, damage, cost or expense (including but not limited to indirect, incidental or consequential damages) incurred by members or customers as a result of any failure, malfunction, fault, delay, omission, inaccuracy, interruption or termination of service in connection with the furnishing, performance, operation, maintenance or use of or inability to use all or any part of any Exchange systems. Such limitation of liability shall apply regardless of the cause of such systems failure even if due to Exchange error, omission or negligence. Further, such limitation of liability shall apply to all claims, whether in contract, tort, negligence, strict liability or otherwise.

Additionally, the Exchange, its directors, officers, employees, agents or consultants shall have or incur absolutely no liability whatsoever for any errors or inaccuracies in information provided by any Exchange systems or for any losses resulting from unauthorized access or any other misuse of any Exchange systems by any person.

C. As used in this regulation, the term "systems" includes, but is not limited to, electronic order entry/delivery, trading through any electronic means, electronic communication of market data or information, workstations used by members and authorized employees of members, price reporting systems and any and all terminals, communications networks, central computers, software, hardware, firmware and printers relating thereto.

D. As used in this regulation, the term "Exchange" shall mean the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, as well as any entity in which the Board of Trade is now or will become a general partner, a member, or a shareholder, including but not limited to Ceres Trading Limited Partnership, C.B.T. Corporation, and Chicago Board Brokerage, Inc. (08/01/97)

188.04 Conflicts of Interest -

(a) Relationship with a Named Party in Interest

(1) Nature of Relationship. A member of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee, the Regulatory Compliance Committee, the Appellate Committee, the Hearing Committee, the Business Conduct Committee, the Floor Governors Committee, the Financial Compliance Committee, or the Floor Conduct Committee must recuse himself from such body's deliberations and voting on any matter involving a person or entity that is identified by name as a subject of the matter ("named party in interest"), except with regard to summary penalties for violating rules relating to decorum, attire, floor recordkeeping or submission of trade data to the Exchange or the Clearing Services Provider, where such member:

(i) is the named party in interest;

(ii) has a family relationship with the named party in interest. A family relationship includes the member's spouse, former spouse, parent, child, sibling, grandparent, grandchild, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece or in-law;

(iii) is an employer, employee, or fellow employee of the named party in interest; or

(iv) has a direct and substantial financial relationship with the named party in interest, but not including relationships limited to executing futures or options transactions opposite each other.

When a CTR violation is not treated as a summary offense, and the preliminary penalty is not more than $5,000, a member of the CTR Subcommittee or the Business Conduct Committee must only recuse himself from deliberations and voting on the recommendation, issuance or settlement of charges against a member firm if the committee member is a principal or employee of that member firm.

(2) Recusal. Prior to the consideration of any matter involving a named party in interest, each member who believes that he has a relationship of the type specified in section (a)(1) of this Regulation must voluntarily recuse himself from deliberations and voting on the matter. If the member is not sure if his relationship meets the criteria specified in section (a)(1), he must disclose the relationship to the designated Exchange staff liaison who will determine whether recusal is required based on the information provided by the member.

(b) Financial Interest in an Emergency Action

(1) Nature of Interest. A member of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee, or the Business Conduct Committee must recuse himself from such body's deliberations and voting with regard to recommending or taking action to address an emergency, as defined in CFTC Regulation 40.1, if the member knowingly has a direct and substantial financial interest in the result of the vote based upon either Exchange or non-Exchange positions that could reasonably be expected to be affected by the action.

(2) Recusal. Prior to the consideration of an emergency action, each member who believes that he has such a financial interest must voluntarily recuse himself from deliberations and voting on the matter, except as provided in section (c). If the member is not sure if a financial interest, of which he has knowledge, is direct and substantial, he must disclose the interest to the designated Exchange staff liaison who will determine whether recusal is required based on the information provided by the member.

In determining whether a financial interest is direct and substantial, a member should consider the following positions: (a) those held in accounts in which he has an ownership interest; (b) those held in accounts for which he directs trading; (c) those which he knows are held in proprietary accounts of any firm of which he is an employee or principal, as defined in CFTC Regulation 3.1(a); and (d) those which he knows are held in customer accounts of any firm of which he is an employee or principal.

(c) Participation in Deliberations

A member of the Board of Directors, the Executive Committee, or the Business Conduct Committee may participate in deliberations prior to a vote to recommend or take emergency action, from which he otherwise would be required by section (b)(2) to recuse himself, if the deliberating body determines that such participation is necessary for such body to achieve a quorum in the matter, or if the member has unique or special expertise, knowledge or experience in the matter. If such a member participates in deliberations, he must recuse himself from voting on the matter.

(d) Business Conduct Committee Surveillance of Expiring Contracts

A member of the Business Conduct Committee must recuse himself from the Committee's deliberations and voting with regard to all matters relating to its surveillance of expiring futures contracts, except with regard to recommending or taking action to address an emergency, which is governed by paragraph (b) above, if the member personally owns or controls positions in the expiring futures contract or in its corresponding options contract.

(e) Documentation

The Board of Directors or the relevant committee must reflect in its minutes: (a) the names of all members who attended the meeting in person or who otherwise were present by electronic means, and (b) the names of any members who recused themselves from deliberating or voting on any matter.

* Note: Members of the Board of Directors may be required to recuse themselves from deliberations and voting for other reasons or in other circumstances than those discussed above, as required by Delaware corporate law. (01/01/04)

189.01 Limitation of Liability of Index Licensors or Administrators -

A. No Index Licensor or Administrator shall have any liability for any loss, damages, claim or expense arising from or occasioned by any inaccuracy, error or delay in, or omission of or from, (i) any index or index information or (ii) the collection, calculation, compilation, maintenance, reporting or dissemination of any index or index information, resulting either from any negligent act or omission by the Exchange, any Related Entity or any Index Licensor or Administrator or from any act, condition or cause beyond the reasonable control of the Exchange, any Related Entity or any Index Licensor or Administrator, including, but not limited to, flood, extraordinary weather conditions, earthquake or other act of God, fire, war, insurrection, riot, labor dispute, accident, action of government, communications or power failure, or equipment of software malfunction.

B. No Index Licensor or Administrator makes any express or implied warranty as to results that any person or party may obtain from using any index or index information, for trading or any other purpose. Each Index Licensor and Administrator makes no express or implied warranties, and disclaims all warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose or use, with respect to any such index or index information.

C. For purposes of this regulation, "Related Entity" includes, but is not limited to, any subsidiary, affiliate or related partnership or entity of the Chicago Board of Trade, including without limitation, Ceres Trading Limited Partnership, the Exchange's Clearing Services Provider, and C-B-T Corporation.

D. For the purpose of this regulation, "Index Licensor or (and) Administrator" includes, but is not limited to, any person who:

1. licenses to the Exchange the right to use (i) an index that is the basis for a futures or futures option contract made available for trading on or through the facilities of the Exchange or a Related Entity or (ii) any trademark or service mark associated with such an index;

2. collects, calculates, compiles, reports and/or maintains such an index or index information relating to such an index;

3. provides price data or evaluations used in the calculation of such an index including, but not limited to, the entities identified in Appendix 19 of these Rules and Regulations

4. provides facilities for the dissemination of an index or index information; and/or

5. is responsible for or participates in any of the activities described above. (01/01/04)

189.02 Limitation of Liability -

A. Neither the Exchange nor any Related Entity shall have any liability for any loss, damages, claim or expense arising from or occasioned by any inaccuracy, error or delay in, or omission of or from: (i) any index or index information or (ii) the collection, calculation, compilation, maintenance, reporting or dissemination of any index or index information, resulting either from any negligent act or omission by the Exchange, any Related Entity or any Index Licensor or Administrator or from any act, condition or cause beyond the reasonable control of the Exchange, any Related Entity or any

Index Licensor or Administrator, including, but not limited to, flood, extraordinary weather conditions, earthquake or other act of God, fire, war, insurrection, riot, labor dispute, accident, action of government, communications or power failure, or equipment or software malfunction.

B. Neither the Exchange nor any Related Entity makes any express or implied warranty as to results that any person or party may obtain from using any index or index information for trading or any other purpose. The Exchange and its Related Entities make no express or implied warranties, and disclaim all warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose or use, with respect to any such index or index information.

C. Nothing in this regulation shall limit the applicability of the Commodity Exchange Act or the regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

D. For purposes of this regulation, "Related Entity" includes, but is not limited to, any subsidiary, affiliate or related partnership or entity of the Chicago Board of Trade, including without limitation, Ceres Trading Limited Partnership, the Exchange Clearing Services Provider, and C-B-T Corporation.

E. For the purpose of this regulation, "Index Licensor or (and) Administrator" includes any person who:

1. licenses to the Exchange the right to use (i) an index that is the basis for a futures or futures option contract made available for trading on or through the facilities of the Exchange or a Related Entity or (ii) any trademark or service mark associated with such an index;

2. collects, calculates, compiles, reports and/or maintains such an index or index information relating to such an index;

3. provides price data or evaluations used in the calculation of such an index including, but not limited to, the entities identified in Appendix 19 of these Rules and Regulations;

4. provides facilities for the dissemination of an index or index information; and/or

5. is responsible for or participates in any of the activities described above. (01/01/04)

Resolution - The following Resolution was adopted by the Board of Directors on June 24,1987:

WHEREAS, the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago ("Board of Trade") has consistently followed a policy of trading options contracts on all liquid futures contracts to the maximum extent permitted by federal law and regulation; and

WHEREAS, it is the unanimous consensus of this Board of Directors that options on futures contracts have proven to be a successful product of great benefit to both the membership and public market participants; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors this day approved and recommended for membership approval an agreement to establish a joint venture with the Chicago Board Options Exchange which includes commitments regarding future trading on options on futures contracts;

THEREFORE, BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED: That it is the unanimous consensus of this Board of Directors and the recommendation of this Board to future Boards of Directors that the policy of establishing options on liquid futures contracts to the maximum extent permissible by law be continued when in the best interest of the membership and the public.

Membership

Chapter 2
Membership

Ch2 Applicants

200.00 Applicants for Membership - Any individual, other than an employee of the Association, at least twenty-one years of age, of good character, reputation, financial responsibility and credit who satisfies the Membership Committee that such individual is suitable to assume the responsibility and privileges of membership shall be eligible. 100 (08/01/94)

201.00 Application for Membership - Each application for membership shall be in writing and filed with the Exchange. All applicants for membership shall be investigated as to the representations contained in the application. Upon receipt of the application for membership, the Secretary shall, within fifteen days thereafter, make available to members of the Association the name of the applicant, and shall post the same information on the bulletin board for a period of at least ten days after such notification to the membership.

201.00A Examination Requirement - Individuals applying for membership, who have not evidenced a broad experience in the commodity industry, will be required to pass a general futures examination covering the basics of the commodity industry before their membership application can be approved. 47R (12/01/02)

201.01 Responsibilities of Applicant for Membership and His Sponsors - Any undue delay by an applicant or his sponsors in the submission of documents required for processing of the membership application or any undue delay by the applicant or his sponsors in appearing may be deemed as a withdrawal of the membership application. 1807A (08/01/94)

201.02 Maintenance of Membership Qualifications

1. Each applicant for membership, in accordance with the provisions of Regulation 203.01, member and member firm immediately shall notify the Association, in writing, upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

   - Such member's suspension or expulsion from any other contract market or self-regulatory organization;

   - Such member's plea of guilty to or conviction of any felony.

   Failure to so notify the Association within ten days shall be an act detrimental to the Association. For the purpose of this regulation, "felony" shall mean any criminal sanction that is punishable by imprisonment of more than a year or a fine in excess of $10,000.

   Upon the Association's receipt of notification, by whatever means, of the occurrence of any of the above-referenced events, the matter shall be referred to the Membership Committee, which immediately shall review the matter to determine if there is sufficient basis to recommend that membership status be reconsidered. The Membership Committee shall advise the Chairman of the Association of its determinations in this regard.

2. The Chairman of the Association, upon the advice of the Membership Committee, is authorized to take summary action pursuant to this regulation, when immediate action is necessary to protect the best interests of the marketplace, without affording prior opportunity for hearing. The following procedures shall apply to such actions:

   (a) The respondent shall, whenever practicable, be served with a notice before the action is taken. If prior notice is not practicable, the respondent shall be served with a notice at the earliest possible opportunity. The notice shall:

      (1) State the action,

      (2) Briefly state the reasons for the action, and

      (3) State the effective time and date and the duration of the action;

   (b) The respondent shall have the right to be represented by legal counsel or any other representative of his choosing in all proceedings subsequent to any summary action taken;

   (c) The respondent shall be given an opportunity for a subsequent hearing, within five business days, before the Membership Committee. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the following requirements:

      (1) The hearing shall be promptly held before disinterested members of the hearing body after reasonable notice to the respondent. No member of the hearing body may serve on that body in a particular matter if he or any person or firm with which he is affiliated has a financial, personal or other direct interest in the matter under consideration.

      (2) Formal rules of evidence need not apply, but the hearing shall not be so informal as to be unfair;

      (3) The respondent shall have the right to invoke Rule 548.00, if applicable;

      (4) The Member Services Department shall be a party to the hearing and shall present its case on those matters which are the subject of the hearing;

      (5) The respondent shall be entitled to appear personally at the hearing and to be represented by counsel;

(6) The respondent shall be entitled to cross-examine any person(s) appearing as witness(es);

(d) Within five business days following the conclusion of the hearing, the Membership Committee shall render a written decision based upon the weight of the evidence contained in the record of the proceeding and shall provide a copy to the respondent. The decision shall include:

(1) A description of the summary action taken;

(2) The reasons for the summary action;

(3) A brief summary of the evidence produced at the hearing;

(4) Findings and conclusions;

(5) A determination that the summary action should be affirmed, modified, or reversed; and

(6) A declaration of any action to be taken pursuant to the determination specified in (5) above and the effective date and duration of such action.

3. After the hearing conducted pursuant to Section 2(c) above is held before the Membership Committee, the following additional provisions shall apply.

The Regulatory Compliance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of Rule 540.00 and Regulation 540.05, shall consider the Membership Committee's findings and recommendations, as well as the record developed before the Membership Committee, at the next regularly scheduled meeting of the Regulatory Compliance Committee or at a meeting specially called by the Chairman as the Chairman may direct. The member under review shall have the opportunity to appear before and address the Reguatory Compliance Committee solely with regard to the record made before the Membership Committee; the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall not be required to entertain any new evidence absent a showing that such evidence could not reasonably have been presented previously to the Membership Committee. Upon full consideration of all the evidence before it, the Regulatory Compliance Committee may confirm the member's good standing status, restrict the member's membership status, deny the member's floor access, issue fines, or recommend to the Board of Directors that the member should be expelled or prohibited from association with any member or member firm.

4. The Regulatory Compliance Committee shall vote by secret ballot to take any action pursuant to this regulation. If two-thirds of the members present and voting cast votes in favor of such action, the action shall be adopted. (03/01/01)

202.00 Approval for Membership - If a majority of the Membership Committee present and voting cast affirmative votes, the applicant shall be approved. The power to deny such applications is expressly reserved to the Regulatory Compliance Committee. 103 (07/01/03)

202.01 Delegation of Authority to Approve Change in Status Request - The Chairman of the Membership Committee or a member of the Membership Committee who has been designated by the Membership Committee Chairman, or upon delegation by the Chairman, the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Service Department, will have the power to approve the request of a Full or Associate Member, a Membership Interest Holder or a Full Member of the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange to obtain additional Full or Associate Memberships, Membership Interests, or to change his or her delegate status. The power to deny such a request is expressly reserved to the Regulatory Compliance Committee.

For the purpose of this regulation, the Chairman may not delegate approval authority to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department when the following factors are present:

1. The applicant has answered affirmatively to any question in the "Disciplinary Action" section of the application;

2. The applicant has indicated on the application that he or she is indebted to any member or member firm;

3. The applicant has indicated that he or she has a negative net worth; or

4. The applicant has trading privileges on the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange only.

The foregoing provisions shall not apply to a Full Member or Full Member Delegate of the Exchange who was initially approved for membership pursuant to Regulation 202.01A, unless such applicant intends to become a Full Member or Full Delegate solely for the purpose of becoming a regular member of the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE") pursuant to Rule 210.00 and Article FIFTH(b) of the CBOE's Certificate of Incorporation. (11/01/99)

202.01A Investor Application - Any individual who wishes to acquire a membership or membership interest for investment purposes only shall file an investor application as prescribed by the Exchange. The name of the individual investor applicant will be posted and made available to the membership in accordance with the provisions of Rule 201.00. The application will be subject to approval by the Chairman of the Membership Committee or, upon delegation by the Chairman, the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department. The power to deny such an application is expressly reserved to the Regulatory Compliance Committee. An individual who is approved as an investor and who subsequently wishes to engage in trading activities on the Exchange will be subject to filing and approval of a long form membership application as prescribed by the Exchange. (06/01/04)

202.02 Procedures for Hearings on Preliminary Denials by the Membership Committee - In connection with all hearings conducted with respect to preliminary denials of applications for membership or any other denial by the Membership Committee, the following procedures shall be followed:

(a) The respondent shall be entitled in advance of the hearing to examine all books, documents, or other tangible evidence in the possession or under the control of the Association upon which the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department will rely in presenting the issue(s) contained in the Preliminary Denial Letter or which are relevant to that (those) issue(s). Respondent shall make its request to examine any materials by submitting it in writing to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department as soon as practicable. At least ten (10) business days in advance of the hearing, the respondent shall submit to the hearing officer, with a copy to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department, copies of all documents which the respondent intends to rely upon in presenting his or her case, as well as the names of any witnesses the respondent intends to call.

(b) The Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department shall be entitled in advance of the hearing to examine all books, documents, or other tangible evidence in the possession or under the control of the respondent which will be relied upon by the respondent in presenting the issue(s) contained in the Preliminary Denial Letter or which are relevant to those issues. The Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department shall make its request to examine any materials by submitting it in writing to the respondent as soon as practicable. At least ten (10) business days in advance of the hearing, the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department shall submit to the hearing officer, with a copy to respondent, copies of all documents which the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department intends to rely upon in presenting its case, as well as the names of any witnesses the Department intends to call;

(c) Any dispute over a request to examine any book, document. or other tangible evidence in the possession or under the control of either party shall be submitted to the Chairman of the Committee for resolution only after the parties have made all reasonable attempts to resolve the dispute among themselves;

(d) If objected to or upon its own motion, the hearing panel may refuse to consider any book, record, document or other tangible evidence which was not made available to the opponent of the evidence or was not disclosed in accordance with this paragraph. The panel may also exclude the testimony of any witness whose name was not submitted to the opponent of the witness as provided above. The hearing panel may consider such evidence or testimony upon a clear showing that such evidence was not ascertainable by due diligence at least ten (10) business days in advance of the hearing and that there was insufficient time prior to the hearing to bring such evidence to the attention of the opposing party;

(e) The hearing shall be promptly held before disinterested member of the Membership Committee or any duly appointed Subcommittee thereof after reasonable notice to the parties. No member of the Membership Committee may serve on a hearing panel in a particular matter if he or she or any person or firm with which he or she is affiliated has financial, personal or other direct interest in the matter under consideration. After service of the preliminary denial letter, both parties to the hearing are prohibited from making any ex parte contacts with any member of the Membership Committee. For the purpose of this paragraph, an "ex parte contact" shall mean any communication, either written or oral, which relates directly or indirectly to the issue to be heard and which is made to a member of the Membership Committee who will be a member of the panel which shall decide the issue.

(f) Formal rules of evidence need not apply, but the hearing shall not be so informal as to be unfair;

(g) The respondent shall have the right to invoke Rule 548.00, if applicable;

(h) The Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department shall be a party to the hearing and shall present its case on those issues which are the subject of the hearing;

(i) The respondent shall be entitled to appear personally at the hearing and to be represented by counsel;

(j) The parties shall be entitled to cross-examine any person(s) appearing as witness(es);

(k) The parties shall be entitled to call witnesses and to present such evidence as may be relevant to he issue(s) presented;

(l) Pursuant to Rule 545.00, all persons within the jurisdiction of the Association who are called as witnesses shall be obliged to appear at the hearing and/or to produce evidence;

(m) Substantially verbatim record of the hearing, capable of being accurately transcribed, shall be made and shall become part of the record of the proceeding. (07/01/97)

202.03 Membership Committee's Preliminary Decisions - All preliminary decisions rendered by the Membership Committee shall be in writing and be based upon the weight of the evidence contained in the record of the proceeding. A copy of the decision shall be provided to the respondent and shall include:

(a) The issue(s) presented to the Committee;

(b) The response submitted by the applicant or member, if any, or a summary of the answer;

(c) A brief summary of the evidence produced at the hearing;

(d) A statement of findings and conclusions with respect to the issue(s) presented;

(e) A declaration containing the Committee's preliminary decision;

(f) All such decisions shall be rendered within thirty business days after the conclusion of the hearing, unless, by virtue of the complexity of the issue or other special circumstances, additional time is required;

(g) The Committee shall give respondent reasonable notice of the date on which its recommendation, based on its preliminary decision, will be forwarded to the Regulatory Compliance Committee for its consideration. (07/01/97)

203.01 Procuring a Membership or Membership Interest - An individual who wishes to procure a membership privilege may do so either prior or subsequent to being approved for a particular membership status. A person who has acquired a membership privilege prior to being approved for a particular membership status as provided in Regulation 249.01 shall become a member or membership interest holder following such approval upon signing the appropriate register of the Association. A person approved for a particular membership status prior to acquiring a membership or membership interest shall become a member or membership interest holder if within six (6) months after he/she has been notified of such approval, or within such extension of said period as may be granted by the Exchange, he/she shall procure a membership or membership interest and sign the appropriate register of the Association; otherwise his/her approval for a particular membership status shall be deemed vacated. (03/01/01)

204.00 Membership Obtained by Fraud - A membership obtained by fraudulent representations or concealment shall be disposed of by the Board in accordance with Rule 257.00. 106 (08/01/94)

205.00 Agreement to Observe Rules and Regulations - Applicants for membership shall be required to sign a written agreement to observe and be bound by the Charter, Rules, and Regulations of the Association, and all amendments subsequently made thereto. 107 (08/01/94)

205.01 Acquisition of Class A Units of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership - Any person or entity who acquires ownership of a membership or a membership interest after July 17, 1992 shall, simultaneously with the acquisition of ownership of such membership or membership interest, purchase a Class A unit of limited partnership interest of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership, a Delaware limited partnership, of the appropriate sub-class (as set forth in Section 3.8 of the Agreement of Limited Partnership governing Ceres Trading Limited Partnership) from the person or entity from which he, she or it is acquiring ownership of the membership or membership interest (the "Transferor"), or if such Transferor does not own a unit of limited partnership interest of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership, from the General Partner of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership. The proceeds payable to a Transferor who does not own a unit of limited partnership interest of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership shall be equal to (a) the aggregate proceeds paid by the Purchaser for the membership or membership interest plus a unit of limited partnership interest reduced by (b) the amount paid to the General Partner for such unit of limited partnership interest under Section 10.3(b) of the Agreement of Limited Partnership. The acquisition of ownership of a membership or membership interest shall constitute a request of the acquirer that the books and records of Ceres Trading Limited Partnership reflect the acquirer's admission as a substituted limited partner thereof, and shall constitute the acquirer's agreement to be bound by the Agreement of Limited Partnership. (08/01/94)

206.02 Gratuities - No member of the Association shall employ any employee of the Association or of the Clearing Services Provider, for any service outside the hours of regular employment by the Association or such Clearing Sevices Provider, without having first obtained the approval therefor of the President of the Exchange, or of the Clearing Services Provider, as the case may be, and registering therewith the name of said employee, the nature of the services rendered, and the amount of said compensation.

No member shall give any compensation or gratuity to an employee of the Clearing Services Provider unless the giving of such compensation or gratuity be first submitted in writing to the Clearing Services Provider and approved.

No member, member firm or employee thereof shall directly or indirectly give or offer to give any compensation or gratuity in excess of $250 (or having a reasonable aggregate value in excess of $250) per person per year to any employee of the Association. Employees of the Association are forbidden to accept any compensation or gratuity in excess of $250 from any member, member firm or employee thereof for any service rendered or to be rendered unless the giving of such compensation or gratuity be first submitted in writing to the President and approved. A gift of any kind is considered a gratuity.

No member, member firm or employee thereof, shall give or offer to give gratuities to any other member, member firm or employee thereof in an amount exceeding that which may be considered reasonable and proper under normal business practices as determined by the Business Conduct Committee. The giving or offering to give gratuities to a member, member firm or employee thereof is not to become a vehicle to obtain Exchange related business in a non-competitive fashion. Failure to comply with this Regulation may be deemed an act detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Association. (01/01/04)

207.00 Office Address - Every member shall register with the Secretary an address and subsequent changes thereof where notices may be served. 128 (08/01/94)

207.01 Primary Clearing Member - Every member shall register the name and clearing house number of his or her Primary and Secondary Clearing Member with the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department. If applicable, the registration shall include the name and clearing house number of any division of the clearing member firm. In addition, every member shall notify the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department of any changes in his or her Primary and/or Secondary Clearing Member, including the name and clearing house number of the division thereof if applicable. (07/01/97)

208.00 Conducting Business Under a Firm Name - An individual may conduct his business under a firm name provided it is clearly stated on all letterheads, statements, and other business forms that the individual is the sole owner of the firm. 132 (08/01/94)

208.01 Conducting Business Under a Firm Name - An individual conducting business under a firm name as a sole proprietor pursuant to Rule 208.00 shall submit a statement to the Department of Member Services of this Association giving the name, address, and nature of the business conducted. The member shall report immediately any change in the required information. 1803 (08/01/94)

209.00 Indemnification of Association - In any legal proceeding brought against the Association and alleging its failure to prevent, detect or require certain conduct of a member or registered eligible business organization, which conduct or inaction is alleged to be in violation of any law or of the Rules and Regulations of the Association, such member or registered eligible business organization shall indemnify and hold the Association harmless for the full amount of any expense (including attorney's fees), judgment or settlement paid by it in respect to such proceeding. 134 (04/01/98)

209.01 Floor Trading Permits - The Board of Directors may at any time in its discretion establish a limited number of floor trading permits as needed to promote orderly and liquid markets in new and existing contracts. Such permits shall convey to qualified individuals a temporary right to trade as principal and/or broker for others in designated contracts on the floor of the Exchange. Such permits shall not be convertible into memberships or membership interests or carry any other rights or incidents not expressly specified in creating such permits. (08/01/94)

In the exercise of these privileges, such persons shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Association and to all duties and obligations imposed upon members, registered firms or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided, however, that the Board may exempt such persons from any such duty or obligation which, in its sole judgement, is incompatible or in conflict with, or is unrelated to, the activities performed by them. (08/01/94)

209.03 Product Sponsor Programs - The Board of Directors may at any time in its discretion establish product sponsor programs as needed to promote orderly and liquid markets in new contracts. A product sponsor program shall convey to qualified members and member firms such inducements as the Board may grant in return for a product sponsor's participation in a particular contract market. A product sponsor program shall not create any interests or carry any other rights or incidents thereto which are not expressly specified in creating the program. (08/01/94)

209.04 CBOT mini-sized Contract Permit Holders' Trading Privileges - Floor Access Members of the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange ("Mid Am") who are on record as of September 1, 2001 and who remain Floor Access Members thereafter, at least for as long as Mid Am continues to have contracts listed for trading, thereby shall be classified as CBOT mini-sized Contract Permit Holders. These Permit holders will be eligible to trade as principal and as broker for others in CBOT mini-sized Corn, Soybean, and Wheat futures and in Rough Rice futures and futures options contracts on the Exchange Floor. Such persons may communicate from the Exchange Floor with non-member customers in the same manner as members may do so, but only with respect to CBOT mini-sized Corn, Soybean and Wheat contracts and Rough Rice contracts.

In the exercise of these privileges, such persons shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Association and to all duties and obligations imposed upon members, registered firms or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided, however, that the Association may exempt such persons from any such duty or obligation which, in its sole judgement, is incompatible or in conflict with, or is unrelated to, the activities performed by them.

The Board or a Committee designated by the Board may, in its discretion, impose fees, charges and assessments upon Permit Holders pursuant to this regulation. (04/01/03)

209.05 Membership In OneChicago, LLC - Each holder of Full, Associate, COM, GIM or IDEM member trading privileges is a member of OneChicago, LLC, and to the extent provided in OneChicago rules, becomes bound by OneChicago rules and subject to the jurisdiction of OneChicago by accessing or entering any order into the OneChicago System. (11/01/02)

210.00 Full Member CBOE "Exercise" Privilege - In accordance with the Agreement entered into on September 1, 1992 (the "1992 Agreement") between the Exchange and the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE"), Eligible CBOT Full Members who maintain all appurtenant trading rights and privileges of a Full Membership, including any new trading rights or privileges granted, assigned or issued to a CBOT Full Membership to the extent such right or privilege is deemed under the provisions of such Agreement to be appurtenant to the CBOT Full Membership, are eligible to become regular members of the CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b) of CBOE's Certificate of Incorporation. - ("Article Fifth(b)"),

(a) A CBOT Full Member may delegate all of his trading rights and privileges of Full Membership to an individual who will then be eligible to become a regular CBOE member pursuant to Article Fifth(b); provided, however, if a CBOT Full Member delegates some, but not all, of the appurtenant trading rights and privileges of Full Membership, then neither the member nor the delegate will be eligible to be a CBOE regular member pursuant to Article Fifth(b). No person who is not either an Eligible CBOT Full Member or an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate (See Rule 221.00(g)) shall knowingly apply to become, or knowingly remain, a regular member of CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b).

For purposes of the 1992 Agreement, an "Eligible CBOT Full Member" means an individual who at the time is the holder of one of the One Thousand Four Hundred and Two (1,402) CBOT Full Memberships existing on the date of the 1992 Agreement and who is in possession of all trading rights and privileges appurtenant to such CBOT Full Membership. In the event a CBOT Full Membership is registered for a partnership, corporation or other entity, only the individual who is the holder of such CBOT Full Membership and who is in possession of all trading rights and privileges appurtenant to such CBOT Full Membership shall be deemed to be an "Eligible CBOT Full Member." "Trading rights and privileges appurtenant to such CBOT Full Membership" means (1) the rights and privileges of a CBOT Full Membership which entitle a holder or delegate to trade as principal and broker for others in all contracts traded on the CBOT, whether by open outcry, by electronic means, or otherwise during any segment of a trading day when trading is authorized; and (2) every trading right or privilege granted, assigned or issued by CBOT after the effective date of the 1992 Agreement to holders of CBOT Full Membership, as a class, but excluding any right or privilege which is the subject of an option granted, assigned or issued by CBOT to a CBOT Full Member and which is not exercised by such CBOT Full Member.

(b) In accordance with the Agreement entered into on December 17, 2003, between the Exchange and the CBOE (the "2003 Agreement"), and consistent with, and in furtherance of, the 1992 Agreement, the CBOT will issue upon written request to any individual, partnership, corporation or other entity that owns one of the One Thousand Four Hundred and Two (1,402) CBOT Full Memberships an "Exercise Right Privilege," which is the Exercise Right that, to the extent provided in the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the 2003 Agreement, has been unbundled from the other rights and privileges appurtenant to a CBOT Full Membership in order to enable the unbundled Exercise Right Privilege to be bought, sold or leased separate and apart from such CBOT Full Membership.

In accordance with the Agreement entered into on August 7, 2001 between the Exchange and the CBOE (the "2001 Agreement") and the related Agreement entered into on October 7, 2004 among the Exchange, CBOT Holdings and the CBOE (the "2004 Agreement"), and consistent with, and in furtherance of, the 1992 Agreement and the 2003 Agreement, upon completion of the proposed strategic restructuring of CBOT an individual shall be deemed to be an Eligible CBOT Full Member within the meaning of Paragraph (a) above only if the individual: (i) is the owner of 27,338 shares of Class A common stock of CBOT Holdings (whether restricted or unrestricted and without regard to any series thereof, such number being subject to anti-dilution adjustment in the event the Class A common stock is subject to a stock split, reverse split, stock dividend or other stock distribution made to existing shares); (ii) is the owner of one Series B-1 membership in the CBOT Subsidiary; (iii) is in possession of all of the other rights and privileges appurtenant to a CBOT Full Membership, (iv) meets the applicable membership and eligibility requirements of the CBOT and is deemed to be a "CBOT Full Member" under the Rules and Regulations then in effect and (v) if a CBOT Full Membership is one in respect of which the CBOT has issued the Exercise Right Privilege, the individual must also be in possession of one Exercise Right Privilege. The holder of a CBOT Full Membership in respect of which an Exercise Right Privilege has not been issued shall qualify as an Eligible CBOT Full Member if the requirements of the 1992 Agreement are satisfied, without having to possess an Exercise Right Privilege.

Exercise Right Privileges may be separately bought, sold, leased, or otherwise transferred and may be unbundled and rebundled with CBOT Full Memberships in respect of which an Exercise Right Privilege been issued, for purposes of qualifying the holder thereof as an Eligible CBOT Full Member. The unbundling and issuance, and the sale, lease or transfer of an Exercise Right Privilege by a CBOT Full Member shall not effect the status of such CBOT Full Member as a CBOT Full Member under these Rules, except to the extent otherwise provided in this Rule 210.00 and Rule 221.00. For purpose hereof, the words "possess" and "in possession of" shall be deemed to include possession by ownership or lease, or as a nominee.

(c) In connection with the sale or transfer of a CBOT Full Membership, or upon completion of the proposed restructuring of the CBOT the Series B-1 membership in the CBOT subsidiary, in which the associated Exercise Right Privilege has been previously issued by the Exchange and sold or transferred to a third party, the seller or transferor and the purchaser or transferee shall acknowledge in writing in a manner acceptable to the Exchange that the CBOT Full Membership or the Series B-1 membership in the CBOT subsidiary, as applicable, being transferred or acquired does not have associated with it an Exercise Right Privilege and therefore such purchaser or transferee, or such purchaser's or transferee's subsequent transferees, may not become a regular member of CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b) without otherwise possessing the Exercise Right Privilege and upon completion of the proposed restructuring of the CBOT, 27,338 shares of Class A common stock of CBOT Holdings (subject to anti-dilution adjustment, as applicable). A copy of such written acknowledgement shall be maintained by the CBOT in accordance with applicable document retention policies and procedures. The ownership of every Exercise Right Privilege shall be recorded in the books and records of the Exchange. No claim of ownership of an Exercise Right Privilege shall be recognized, and no sale, lease or other transfer of an Exercise Right Privilege or of any interest therein shall be valid or effective for any purpose whatsoever, unless and until it is duly reflected in the books and records of the CBOT. Subject to the foregoing, persons and entities who are not Members of the Exchange or any subsidiary or parent thereof or otherwise the holders of Membership Interests of the Exchange or any subsidiary or parent thereof, including, without limitation, the CBOE, shall be free to purchase and to hold, lease or sell Exercise Right Privileges, and notwithstanding anything else to the contrary in Regulation 249.01 or any other Rule or Regulation of the Exchange, shall not be obligated to apply or qualify for membership at the Exchange solely for the purposes of purchasing, holding, leasing or selling Exercise Right Privileges.

(d) Without limiting the application of other Rules and Regulations of the Exchange to Exercise Right Privileges, for purposes of clarity, Rules 252.00 and 276.00 and Regulation 249.01 shall be deemed to apply to Exercise Right Privileges, and the holders, transferors and transferees thereof, in the same manner as Memberships and Membership Interests, and, in each case, the holders, transferors and transferees thereof, unless the context requires otherwise, and except that the CBOE shall be permitted to make one or more offers to purchase a substantial number of Exercise Right Privileges from the holders thereof and to acquire and own Exercise Right Privileges purchased in such offers without regard to the requirements of Regulation 249.01 other than the requirements of Regulation 249.01 reasonably related to the filing and settlement of claims against the proceeds of any such purchase by the CBOE pursuant to Rule 252.00, which shall in all circumstances apply to purchases of Exercise Right Privileges by the CBOE. In addition, the CBOE shall not be obligated to pay to the CBOT a transfer fee pursuant to Rule 243.00 upon consummation of one or more transactions in connection with any offer by it to purchase a substantial number of Exercise Right Privileges. For purposes of this Paragraph (d), a "substantial number of Exercise Right Privileges" shall mean an amount equal to the greater of (1) 20% of the Exercise Right Privileges then in existence, whether bundled or unbundled from CBOT Full Membership, and not held by the CBOE and (2) 50 Exercise Right Privileges.

211.00 Associate Memberships - Associate Members shall be allowed to trade, as hereinafter provided, all existing and prospective future contracts and options contracts which shall be listed from time to time in the Government Instruments Market; Index, Debt and Energy Market; and Commodity Options Market categories pursuant to Rule 290.00. An Associate Member shall have the right, subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Association, to trade as principal and as broker for others and to solicit orders from others on the Floor of the Exchange, in all eligible contracts and options as designated above. Associate Memberships shall not carry with them the attributes of full memberships of the Association under the Fifth Article of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Chicago Board Options Exchange. (08/01/94)

212.00 Reciprocal Trading Privileges with LIFFE -

(a) (1) Subject to the provisions of the Link Agreement with LIFFE and the LIFFE rules, one who owns or is registered for an undelegated Full or Associate Membership and is authorized by the Association for these purposes may (A) enter the trading floor of the LIFFE market, (B) trade contracts in the terms of Designated CBOT Contracts on the trading floor of the LIFFE market and (C) communicate from the trading floor of the LIFFE market to persons not on that floor, with respect to Designated CBOT Contracts.

(2) A member who trades contracts in the terms of Designated CBOT Contracts on the trading floor of the LIFFE market shall be eligible for member transaction fees assessed by the Exchange on positions transferred to the Clearing House.

(3) During any period when the rights granted by this Rule are being exercised at LIFFE, the membership may not be used by anyone to trade on the floor of the Exchange.

(b) (1) Subject to the provisions of the Link Agreement with LIFFE and the rules and regulations of the Association, a member of LIFFE or a trader registered with a member of LIFFE (but not a leaseholder) who is authorized by LIFFE for these purposes, may (A) enter the floor of the Exchange, (B) trade contracts in the terms of Designated LIFFE Contracts on the floor of the Exchange and (C) communicate from the Floor of the Exchange with persons not on the Floor of the Exchange, with respect to Designated LIFFE Contracts.

(2) The primary clearing member of such a person, referred to in (b)(1) above, shall guarantee his obligations under Rules 252.00 and 253.00.

(3) Upon revocation of such a person's primary clearing authorization, the Secretary shall give written notice thereof to all members and delegates. Thereafter, all members and delegates who may have claims against him may file claims in the same manner as provided in Rules 252.00 and 253.00 of the Association. The primary clearing member shall be responsible for the payment of those claims allowed by the Board and not satisfied promptly by such a person whose primary clearing authorization has been revoked. (06/01/97)

213.00 Assessments and Fees - Associate Members shall be responsible for all operating assessments and exchange service fees as if a full member of the Association. 863 (08/01/94)

214.00 Obligations and Duties - Associate Members shall be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Association including all specific duties and obligations imposed on them by the Rules and Regulations, as well as those duties and obligations imposed upon members, registered firms or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided, however, the Board may exempt Associate Members from any such duty or obligation which is incompatible with or in conflict with or unrelated to, the activities performed by them. 864 (08/01/94)

215.00 Associate Members Committee - There will be an elected Committee of Associate Members whose purpose will be to represent the rights and privileges of the Associate Membership and to promote those rights and privileges to the mutual benefit of the general membership.

The Committee shall consist of fifteen (15) Associate Members elected on the Annual Election date by the Associate Membership. At the first election following the adoption of this Rule, eight members will be elected for a two-year term and seven members will be elected for a one-year term. Thereafter, seven members will begin a new two-year term each even-numbered year and eight members will begin a new two-year term each odd-numbered year. The Committee will select its Chairman and Vice Chairman. The Chairman of this Committee will be the liaison to the Chairman of the Board of Directors. 865 (08/01/94)

217.00 Applicants - Applicants for Associate Memberships shall be approved in the same manner and under the same conditions and procedures as are applicants for full membership. 867 (08/01/94)

219.00 Communications From Floor - Associate Members may communicate from the Floor of the Exchange during business hours with non-member customers in the same manner as members, but only with respect to eligible futures contracts or options as defined in Rule 211.00. 869 (08/01/94)

220.00 Violations - In addition to being bound to comply with the Rules and Regulations of the Association to which all members are bound, unless exempted by the Board under Rule 214.00, it shall be an offense against the Association for an Associate Member to:

(1) Execute a trade in any futures contracts or options that are not eligible as defined in Rule 211.00;

(2) Place an order on the Floor of the Exchange for the execution of any futures contracts or options that are not eligible as defined in Rule 211.00; or

(3) Engage in words or deeds which represent, or are reasonably calculated to represent, that he is a holder of a full membership. 870 (08/01/94)

221.00 Delegation - An individual member may delegate the rights and privileges of Full and/or Associate Memberships to an individual (a "delegate") upon the following terms and conditions:

(a) The delegate shall first be approved by the Exchange under the standards of Rule 200.00 and shall sign a written agreement to observe and be bound by the Charter, Rules, and Regulations of the Association, and all amendments subsequently made thereto: Provided, however, an approved delegate having no outstanding disciplinary penalties and no restrictions pursuant to Rule 511.00 or 512.00 shall remain approved to enter a new delegation agreement within six (6) months following the termination of the previous delegation agreement. The Exchange may, in its discretion, grant extensions of this six (6) month approval period.

(b) The delegation agreement, any amendment thereto, and any termination, revocation, or renewal thereof, shall be in writing in such form as the Exchange may prescribe, and a copy thereof shall be filed by the member with the Exchange as a precondition to its effectiveness: Provided, however, the delegation agreement shall be null and void automatically upon the happening of any of the following events:

(1) Loss of any of the qualifications for entering a delegation agreement, such as sale of the membership of the member or expulsion of the member or the delegate; or

(2) The suspension of the member by the Association within three months of the date of the filing of the delegation agreement by the member with the Exchange;

(c) (1) The member shall remain liable (for an amount up to, but not in excess of, the value of the seat the member has leased) for the debts, acts and delinquencies of the delegate arising from the delegate's exercise of rights and privileges of membership. The membership so delegated may be sold to satisfy any such liability in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Association. Delegation shall not relieve the member of any of his obligations or liabilities which he might otherwise have by the virtue of being a member of the Association to other members of the Association;

(2) Upon the termination or expiration of the delegation agreement, the Secretary shall make notice thereof available to the membership. Thereafter, all members and delegates who may have claims against the delegate may file claims in the same manner as provided in Rule 252.00 of the Association. The member entering into a delegation agreement shall be responsible for the payment of those claims allowed by the Board and not satisfied promptly by the delegate, but only to the extent of the value of the membership so delegated;

(d) A delegate shall not be entitled to register under Rule 230.00 for an eligible business organization, except as otherwise provided in Rule 230.00 and Regulation 230.02;

(e) The Finance Committee, in its discretion, may impose fees, charges and assessments upon members and delegates under this Rule; and

(f) Upon the filing of a delegation agreement or renewal notice with the Exchange, notice thereof shall be posted promptly on the bulletin board, and shall be made available upon request to the Membership and to the primary clearing member for the member party to the delegation agreement.

(g)(i) In accordance with the Agreement entered into on September 1, 1992 ("the 1992 Agreement") between the Exchange and the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE"), only an individual who is an "Eligible CBOT Full Member" or an "Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate", as those terms are defined in the 1992 Agreement, is a "member" of the Exchange within the meaning of paragraph (b) of Article Fifth of CBOE's Certificate of Incorporation ("Article Fifth(b)") and only such individuals are eligible to become and to remain regular members of the CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b). No person who is not either an Eligible CBOT Full Member or an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate shall knowingly apply to become, or knowingly remain, a regular member of CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b).

(g)(ii) For purposes of the 1992 Agreement, an "Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate" means the individual to whom a CBOT Full Membership is delegated (leased) and who is in possession of all trading rights and privileges appurtenant to such CBOT Full Membership. "Trading rights and privileges appurtenant to such CBOT Full Membership" means (1) the rights and privileges of a CBOT Full Membership which entitle a holder or delegate to trade as principal and broker for others in all contracts traded on the CBOT, whether by open outcry, by electronic means, or otherwise, during any segment of a trading day when trading is authorized; and (2) every trading right or privilege granted, assigned or issued by CBOT after the effective date of this Agreement to holders of CBOT Full Memberships, as a class, but excluding any right or privilege which is the subject of an option granted, assigned or issued by CBOT to a CBOT Full Member and which is not exercised by such CBOT Full Member.

(g)(iii) In accordance with the Agreements entered into on August 7, 2001 and December 17, 2003 respectively, between the Exchange and the CBOE and the Agreement entered into on October 7, 2004 among the Exchange, CBOT Holdings and the CBOE, and consistent with, and in furtherance of, the 1992 Agreement, upon completion of the proposed strategic restructuring of the CBOT, an individual delegate of such CBOT Full Membership shall be deemed to an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate only if the individual: (i) in possession of 27,338 shares of Class A common stock of CBOT Holdings (whether restricted or unrestricted and without regard to any series thereof, such number being subject to anti-dilution adjustment in the event the Class A common stock is subject to a stock split, reverse split, stock dividend or other stock distribution made to existing shareholders); (ii) is in possession of one Series B-1 membership in the CBOT subsidiary; (iii) holds one of the items listed above in (i) or (ii) through delegation rather than ownership; (iv) is in possession of all of the other rights and privileges appurtenant to a CBOT Full Membership; (v) meets the applicable membership and eligibility requirements of the CBOT and is deemed to be a "CBOT Full Member Delegate" under the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange then in effect and (vi) if a CBOT Full Membership is one in respect of which the CBOT has issued the Exercise Right Privilege, an individual delegate of such CBOT Full Membership shall be deemed to be an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate only if the individual is also in possession of one Exercise Right Privilege. The delegate of a CBOT Full Membership in respect of which an Exercise Right Privilege has not been issued shall qualify as an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate if the requirements of the 1992 Agreement are satisfied, without having to possess an Exercise Right Privilege.

Exercise Right Privileges may be separately bought, sold, leased, or otherwise transferred and may be unbundled and rebundled with the lease of CBOT Full Memberships in respect of which an Exercise Right Privilege has been issued, for purposes of qualifying the delegate thereof as an Eligible CBOT Full Member Delegate. For purpose hereof, the words "possess" and "in possession of" shall be deemed to include possession by ownership or lease, or as a nominee.

(g)(iv) In connection with the delegation (lease) of a CBOT Full Membership, or upon completion of the proposed restructuring of the CBOT the Series B-1 membership in the CBOT subsidiary in which the associated Exercise Right Privilege has been previously issued by the Exchange and sold or transferred to a third party, the delegation agreement contemplated in Paragraph (b) above shall provide, among other things, that the delegate acknowledges that the CBOT Full Membership or the Series B-1 membership in the CBOT subsidiary, as applicable being delegated (leased) does not have associated with it an Exercise Right Privilege and therefore such delegate may not become a regular member of CBOE pursuant to Article Fifth(b) without otherwise possessing the Exercise Right Privilege.

221.01 Delegation by Deceased Member's Estate - The legal representative of a deceased member's estate, during the pendency of probation of the deceased member's estate, may delegate such deceased member's trading privileges in accordance with Rule 221.00. Upon transfer of the estate assets to the deceased member's heirs, the provisions of Regulation 249.01 shall apply. (08/01/94)

221.02 Floor Access of Delegating Members and Delegates

(a) A full or associate member who has delegated the rights and privileges of his only membership, or of all his memberships, for any of the three trading segments, pursuant to Rule 221.00, and who does not hold a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge, shall not have physical access to the Floor of the Exchange for such trading segment(s) during the effective period of such delegations; provided that this Regulation shall not apply to "Twenty-Five Year Members" as described in Regulation 301.10.

Provided further, that members of the Board of Directors who have delegated the rights and privileges of their only membership, or of all of their memberships, may have physical access to the Floor of the Exchange to the same extent as do "Twenty-Five Year Members" as described in Regulation 301.10.

(b) A delegate who does not hold a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge shall not have physical access to the Floor of the Exchange during the trading segment(s) in which he is not entitled to the rights and privileges of membership. (07/01/99)

221.03 Minimum Delegation Term - No delegation agreement shall have a term of less than thirty (30) days. The foregoing limitation shall not apply to delegation agreements for Full Member Delegates who will utilize their memberships solely for the purpose of becoming a regular member of the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE") pursuant to Rule 210.00 and Article FIFTH(b) of the CBOE's Certificate of Incorporation. (11/01/99)

221.05 Delegates' Clearing Members -

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) below, no delegate may receive clearing authorization from any Primary Clearing Member, or from any other Clearing Member, pursuant to Rule 333.00 without first having:

(a) obtained written permission from his/her member-delegator; and

(b) filed such written permission with the Department of Member Services.

(2) In the event that a delegate cannot obtain written permission from his/her member-delegator before he or she receives clearing authorization from a new Primary Clearing Member, such delegate may nevertheless obtain such clearing authorization if the new Primary Clearing Firm executes and submits to the Department of Member Services a suretyship agreement inuring to the benefit of the member-delegator and in a form approved by the Exchange. However, the delegate must obtain his/her member-delegator's permission within 30 days of changing Primary Clearing Members. If the delegate does not obtain the permission within that period, he or she will be denied access to the floor. The delegate will not be able to regain access to the floor until such permission is submitted to the Department of Member Services. (04/01/99)

221.07 Voting Rights - No Full Member or Associate Member may delegate (within the meaning of Rule 221.00) to any other person the voting rights associated with their membership; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prohibit a member from naming as their proxy a person or persons designated as such by the Corporation in connection with any annual or special Meeting of the Membership.

221.08 Requirements for Delegates of Membership Interests* - The Board, in its discretion, may require that each person who is granted status as a delegate of a COM, GIM or IDEM Membership Interest pursuant to a delegation agreement entered into on or after (effective date to be determined), execute up to a specified percentage, not to exceed 20%, or a specified number not to exceed 200 of such person's round turn principal transactions per month in one or more contracts designated by the Board.

The Board may establish different proportions or levels applicable to each membership interest category, and any such proportion or level shall be applied in uniform fashion to every delegate in each respective membership interest category. Consistent with these standards, the Board may alter such proportion or level at any time.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this regulation or the directives of the Board adopted pursuant to this regulation may be considered an act detrimental to the welfare of the Association. Effective June 1, 1984. (08/01/94)

221.09 Delegation of Firm-Owned Memberships and Membership Interests - An eligible business organization registered as a member firm under Rule 230.00 may delegate the rights and privileges of a firm-owned membership or membership interest to an individual ("delegate") upon the terms and conditions set forth in Rule 221.00, but only if the membership being leased is not necessary to satisfy the requirements for registration as a member firm or, if applicable, as a clearing member firm, except as otherwise provided in Rule 230.00 and Regulation 230.02. (07/01/04)

221.10 Indemnification of Delegators - To the extent consistent with the Association's claims Rules and Regulations, the Board of Directors shall honor and enforce valid indemnifications given by a clearing member to a member or membership interest holder who delegates the rights and privileges of his membership or membership interest (the "delegator") in connection with the delegator's potential liability under Rule 221.00 (c). The indemnification shall be in writing in such form as the Exchange may prescribe. (08/01/94)

221.11 Delegation by Trust - A trust may delegate the rights and privileges of any membership(s) or membership interest(s) held by the trust upon the terms and conditions set forth in Rule 221.00. (07/01/95)

222.00 Multiple Membership - A member may own more than one membership in his name, and a member firm may own the title and value of more than one membership pursuant to Regulation 249.01(b). 872 (08/01/94)

224.00 Trades of Non-Clearing Permit Holders - Each permit holder's Primary Clearing Member is responsible for the payment of the permit holder's dues, fees and assessments. (08/01/94)

225.00 General Enabling Rule for Market Maker Programs - The Chief Executive Officer of the Exchange shall have the authority to approve the implementation of Market Maker programs, pursuant to which Market Makers would be authorized to maintain two-sided markets, for products in the municipal bond complex, the equity index complex, and all products launched after December 31, 1999. To the extent that the terms of any such Market Maker program may be in conflict with any Rules or Regulations of the Exchange, such terms shall supersede such Rules or Regulations. However, nothing in this Rule shall alter or waive a member's responsibility to comply with provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act or Rules or Regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission unless exempted by the Commission. (04/01/01)

230.00 Registration - An eligible business organization as determined by the Exchange may be a member firm of the Exchange with respect to all contracts if one Full Membership, held in the name of any principal or employee thereof is registered on behalf of the firm. Provided, however, that four (4) Full Memberships and two (2) Associate Memberships must be held in the name of any principals or employees thereof, and registered on behalf of the firm, in order for the eligible business organization to be a member firm under Regulation 230.02, Category (3) "other Non-FCM-Non-clearing". An eligible business organization as determined by the Exchange, which is wholly owned by one or more members or member firms, which wholly owns a member firm, or which is wholly owned by the same parent company(ies) as a member firm, may be a member firm of the Exchange only with respect to those contracts in which Associate Members have trading privileges if one Associate Membership, held in the name of any principal or employee thereof is registered on behalf of the firm. Those individuals who desire to register their memberships on behalf of an eligible business organization shall make application to the Exchange, giving therein such information as may be requested. If the application is granted, their memberships shall be registered for the benefit of the eligible business organization, and such eligible business organization shall be entitled to member firm privileges with respect to all contracts or only with respect to contracts in which Associate Members have trading privileges, as the case may be.

A member firm may be a CBOT Clearing Member and entitled to clearing privileges with respect to all contracts, pursuant to the membership registration requirements of Rule 703.00. All such memberships shall be registered hereunder in the manner described above, and under the criteria prescribed in Rule 703.00. Member firms shall be subject to all requirements and prohibitions contained in the Rules and Regulations applicable to members, and in such cases, all registered members shall be subject to discipline and their memberships subject to sale by the Exchange for the acts or delinquencies of the firm for which they are registered. All such designations may be terminated at any time by the Exchange, or by the registered members with the written approval of the Exchange.

All memberships described above that are owned by a Regulation 230.02, Category (2b), (3) or (6) member firm: (1) may be delegated upon the terms and conditions set forth in Rule 221.00; or (2) may be held in the name of a principal or employee of, and registered on behalf of, another member firm which is wholly owned by such member firm, which wholly owns such member firm, or which is wholly owned by the same parent company(ies) as such member firm. During the term of any such delegation or registration on behalf of another member firm, the Category (2b) or (3) member firm owning the membership(s) will not be entitled to member firm transaction fees. In addition, no Category (6) member firm will be entitled to member firm transaction fees. However, any such Category (2) or (3) member firm, and Category (6) member firms, will remain subject to all applicable Exchange Rules and Regulations, including the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6. 226 (11/01/04)

Notwithstanding any other Regulation, any member or membership interest holder who is associated as a partner, shareholder, member, officer, manager, employee, or consultant with any entity or natural person that is or should be registered as an Introducing Broker, Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Trading Advisor or Commodity Pool Operator, as those terms are defined in Section 1a of the Commodity Exchange Act and/or 17 C.F.R. 1.3, may not solicit orders of others from the Floor of the Exchange unless the entity or natural person for which or for whom the member is soliciting orders is also a member firm or a member of the Exchange. (09/01/03)

230.02 Registration of Membership for Eligible Business Organizations - An individual desiring to register a membership for an eligible business organization under Rule 230.00 shall submit an application giving the name of the eligible business organization and the business in which it is engaged, and any other information requested by the Exchange. The application must also show that the member is a principal or employee of the eligible business organization. In addition, the application must designate the type of business activity, as measured by the following list, for which registration is requested:

(1a) Registered Futures Commission Merchant ("FCM") - Clearing.

(1b) Registered FCM - Non-clearing.

(2a) Non-FCM - Clearing.

(2b) Non-FCM - Non-clearing. (Must be wholly-owned by members or members and employees of the firm; or must have a business purpose deemed appropriate by the Exchange, including cash grain firms, financial institutions, market markers designated by the Exchange, proprietary trading firms or other forms of business approved by the Exchange.)

(2c) Non-FCM - Non-clearing Associate Member affiliate of another member firm ("member firm affiliate")

(3) Other Non-FCM-Non-clearing (Commodity pools, hedge funds, or other collective investment vehicles).

(4) e-cbot member firm. (Solely for purposes of Chapter 9B, the owner of an Associate Membership or the delegate of a Full or Associate Membership shall be entitled to register under Rule 230.00 for an eligible business organization, solely to conduct non-clearing business on e-cbot.)

(5) Sole Proprietor - Clearing

(6) Investment only

If activity level (1a), (1b) or (2a) has been designated, the member shall submit the following financial information of the eligible business organization: a certified financial statement prepared by an independent Certified Public Accountant as of the most recent fiscal year end, and a financial statement (which need not be certified) which is current as of the most recent preceding calendar month end. If activity level (2b), (2c), (3), (4) or (6) is designated, the member shall submit such financial information of the eligible business organization that may be required, in the discretion of the Exchange. A member who is applying to be a Sole Proprietor CBOT Clearing Member shall submit a financial statement in the form designated by the Exchange.

The Exchange may in its discretion waive or modify the foregoing requirements in the case of changes in registration necessitated by reorganization of firms currently registered with the Exchange.

Approval is required for a registered eligible business organization changing or expanding its type of business to a higher level of business activity as set forth above. An eligible business organization requesting approval to operate as a type (1a), (1b) or (2a) firm which was previously registered as any other type firm must first submit the financial information required for approval as a type (1a), (1b) or (2a) firm as specified above.

The Exchange may in its discretion grant temporary approval in the case of changes in registration necessitated by reorganization of firms currently registered with the Exchange.

Upon receipt of an application for new firm registration for an eligible business organization, the Secretary shall, within fifteen days thereafter, make available to the membership the name of the eligible business organization, and shall post the same information on the bulletin board for a period of at least ten days after such notification to the Membership.

No member may register his or her membership for more than one eligible business organization.

Except as provided herein regarding e-cbot member firms, or as provided in Rule 230.00, no member may register his or her membership for any eligible business organization under the Rules of this Exchange, where such membership is or becomes delegated under the provisions of Rule 221.00.

An eligible business organization which has been conditionally approved for member firm status shall have six (6) months after the date that it was notified of such approval, or within such extension of siad period as may be granted by the Exchange, to satisfy any conditions or contingencies imposed on such approval. If the conditions or contingencies are not satisfied by the applicable deadline, the Exchange's approval of the eligiblie business organization for member firms status shall be deemed void. 1060 (11/01/04)

230.03 Designated Persons -

(a) Subject to approval by the Association, which approval is in the absolute discretion of the Association, each eligible business organization ("member") of the Association shall designate one or more senior managerial employees responsible for the member's financial, compliance, operational and ultimate supervisory obligations and activities as a member. Such individuals must either: (i) have a membership registered on behalf of the member, or (ii) be registered with the Association by the member as a "Designated Person". A Designated Person shall be subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Association as if a member; provided, however, that a Designated Person shall not be liable for the actions and/or omissions of other employees, agents or independent contractors if the member of the Designated Person demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Association that all of his or her relevant conduct on behalf of the member was performed in good faith with reasonable care.

(b) Any individual not a registered member or Designated Person or nonmember eligible business organization which holds more than a 25% financial interest in a member eligible business organization ("member") or who exercises actual control over the management of the member may, at the Association's sole discretion, be required to execute a Consent to Jurisdiction in such form as may be prescribed by the Association. Upon the member's request, the Membership and Financial Compliance Committees may exempt individuals and/or eligible business organizations from this requirement for good cause shown. (04/01/98)

230.04 Cooperative Association of Producers - A lawfully formed and conducted cooperative association of producers having adequate financial responsibility, engaged in any cash commodity business, conforming to the following requirements:

FIRST: The Cooperative Association must have not less than 75 per centum of the voting capital stock or membership capital, in good faith owned and controlled, directly or indirectly by producers of agricultural products;

SECOND: The Cooperative Association, if organized without capital stock, shall not allow a member of the Cooperative Association more than one vote, or if organized with capital stock, the Cooperative Association shall not pay dividends on any class of capital stock in excess of 8 per cent per annum cumulative;

THIRD: The Cooperative Association shall not, during any fiscal year, deal in the products of non- members of the Cooperative Association to an amount greater in value than such as is handled by it for members of the Cooperative Association;

FOURTH: The Cooperative Association, not more frequently than semi-annually, may pay out of its accumulated or current earnings and savings, patronage dividends to members of the Cooperative Association only and upon the basis of business transacted with such members for the period covered by transactions in which such earnings and savings have accrued; and

FIFTH: The Cooperative Association, if organized under the Cooperative Laws of any state, or recognized as a cooperative association of producers by the United States Government, or any agency thereof; may be a member firm of the Association with respect to all contracts and may be entitled to do business in cash grain on the Floor, by virtue of a membership held in the name of one of its duly authorized representatives and registered under Rule 230.00 on behalf of the cooperative association. A member who desires to designate such a cooperative association of producers for that purpose shall make application to the Membership Committee, giving therein such information as may be requested

(Rule 230.00). Such designation may be terminated at any time by the Board, or by such member with the written approval of the Exchange. A cooperative association of producers shall be subject to all requirements and prohibitions contained in the Rules and Regulations applicable to members (except as may be exempted by the Commodity Exchange Act and the regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission issued thereunder) and in such cases the member shall be subject to discipline and the membership subject to sale by the Board for the acts or delinquencies of the cooperative association. 1062 (04/01/98)

230.05 Additional Seat Requirement A firm registered under Regulation 230.02, Category (3) may take up to eighteen months from the date of its registration approval to complete the registration of its six required memberships. However, no such firm will be approved for member firm status until such time as it has purchased, or has registered on its behalf, at least one Full Membership and one Associate Membership.

A firm registered under Regulation 230.02, Category (1a), (1b), (2a), or (2b) may take up to eighteen months from the date that it has designated a commodity pool or hedge fund for member transaction fee treatment, pursuant to Regulation 450.02D, in which to complete registration of the six memberships required for this purpose. In order to initiate this designation process, the firm must have at least one Full Membership and one Associate Membership owned or registered on its behalf.

Until such time as the six membership requirement has been met, the Category (3) member firm and the qualified commodity pool or hedge fund of Category (1a), (1b), (2a) and (2b) member firms will continue to be charged exchange transaction fees at the non-member level. Once the membership requirements have been completely satisfied, the Exchange will grant an adjustment to the appropriate member fee level via a fee credit. This adjustment period will not exceed eighteen months. If the member firm takes more than eighteen months to register the required seats, the Exchange will grant an adjustment only for the eighteen months immediately prior to completion of the registration requirements. (02/01/04)

230.06 Eligible Business Organization Status Upon Death or Withdrawal of Registered Member - Upon the death or withdrawal of a member whose membership is registered on behalf of an eligible business organization, where such death or withdrawal would result in failure of the eligible business organization to meet the requirements of Rule 230.00, Rule 703.00, Regulation 230.02 or Regulation 230.05, the Exchange may, upon application of the registered eligible business organization, grant the eligible business organization an extension of privileges under the applicable Rules and Regulations for such period and under such conditions as the Exchange may fix. Upon the death or withdrawal of a member whose membership is registered on behalf of an eligible business organization, the eligible business organization shall, within five business days of such death or withdrawal, notify the Exchange of the departure of its registered member. Failure to comply with the provisions of this Regulation shall be referred to the Business Conduct Committee, for possible disciplinary action pursuant to Rule 540.00. 1063 (04/01/98)

230.07 Primary Clearing Member Permission for Member Registration - A member may register his or her membership for an eligible business organization under Rule 230.00, if that eligible business organization is not his or her Primary Clearing Member, only if he or she has written permission to do so from his or her Primary Clearing Member. Such written permission of the Primary Clearing Member must be filed with the Member Services Department. (04/01/98)

230.08 Doing Business in Firm (or Trade) Name - No member may conduct business with the public as a partnership under a firm name unless the partnership has at least one general partner other than such member; provided, however, that if by death or otherwise, the member becomes the sole general partner of the firm, he or she may continue business in the firm name for such period as may be allowed by the Exchange. 1070 (04/01/98)

230.09 Formation of Partnerships or Limited Liability Companies - When a member intends to form a partnership or admit other individuals to an existing partnership, he or she shall notify the Secretary in writing to that effect. On receipt of such notice from a member, the Secretary shall cause the same to be posted upon the bulletin board of the Association. A member shall promptly notify the Secretary of the retirement of any partner from the member firm partnership or of the dissolution of such partnership.

When a member intends to form a limited liability company or admit other individuals to an existing limited liability company, he or she shall notify the Secretary in writing to that effect. On receipt of such notice from a member, the Secretary shall cause the same to be posted upon the bulletin board of the Association. A member shall promptly notify the Secretary of the retirement of any other member from the member firm limited liability company or of the dissolution of such limited liability company. (04/01/98)

230.10 Suspended or Insolvent Members - A member shall not form a partnership or limited liability company nor, unless permitted by the Regulatory Compliance Committee, continue in a partnership or limited liability company with any of the following:

(a) A member whose membership privileges have been suspended by the Association;

(b) Any person who has been expelled from the Association as permitted by

Rule 560.00;

(c) An insolvent person; or

(d) Any previous member of the Association against whom any member holds a claim which arises out of transactions made during the time of such membership and which have not been released or settled. (04/01/98)

230.11 Discipline of Partners or Members of Limited Liability Companies - A member of the Association who is a general partner of a member firm of the Association is liable to the same discipline and penalties for any act or omission of said firm as for his or her own personal act or omission, but the Regulatory Compliance Committee may, in its discretion, by a vote of not less than two-thirds of its members present, relieve him or her from the penalty therefor.

A member of the Association who is also a member of a limited liability company which is a member firm of the Association is liable to the same discipline and penalties for any act or omission of said firm as for his or her own personal act or omission, but the Regulatory Compliance Committee may, in its discretion, by a vote of not less than two-thirds of its members present, relieve him or her from the penalty therefor. 1076 (04/01/98)

230.12 Dissolution of Partnership or Limited Liability Company - Whenever it shall appear to the Regulatory Compliance Committee that a member has formed a partnership or limited liability company or has become an officer, employee, or stockholder of a corporation or established an office or headquarters or is individually, or through any member of his or her firm, interested in a partnership or other business organization, or has formed any business connection whatever whereby the interest or good repute of the Association may suffer, the Regulatory Compliance Committee may require the dissolution of any such partnership or limited liability company or discontinuance of such business office, or headquarters, or business connection as the case may be. (04/01/98)

230.13 Relations Controlling Policy - Whenever it shall appear to the Regulatory Compliance Committee that a member individually or through his or her firm or a partner or partners therein, has such a business connection with a corporation or other business organization that the corporation or other business organization dominates the business of the member or firm or controls the policy of such business, the Regulatory Compliance Committee may require the discontinuance of such business connection. (04/01/98)

230.14 Delegation of Approval Authority - The Chairman of the Membership Committee, or a member of the Membership Committee who has been designated by the Membership Committee Chairman or the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department upon delegation by the Chairman, will have the authority to approve the application of a Full or Associate Member to register his or her membership for an eligible business organization under Rule 230.00 and the regulations thereunder; provided that the eligible business organization is currently registered in accordance with Rule 230.00. The power to deny such applications is expressly reserved to the Regulatory Compliance Committee. With respect to firm-owned Full and Associate Memberships under Regulation 249.01(b), the Chairman of the Membership Committee or a member of the Membership Committee who has been designated by the Membership Committee Chairman may determine that such memberships are needed by the registered eligible business organization to carry out its business at the Association.

For the purpose of this regulation, the Chairman may not delegate approval authority to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department when the applicant has answered affirmatively to any question in the "Disciplinary Action" section of the Member Firm Registration application. (12/01/98)

230.15 Financial Requirements - (See Reg. 285.05) (04/01/97)

230.17 Changes in Organization - Any change in the organizational structure of a member firm requires the Exchange's prior approval. Organizational changes shall include, but not be limited to: i) a corporation, limited liability company, general partnership, limited partnership or sole proprietorship which changes to another form; or ii) replacement of any general partner or member of any limited liability company. Any failure to comply with this Regulation and any such change in organizational structure that does not comply with the requirements to be a member firm shall be referred to the Business Conduct Committee for possible disciplinary action pursuant to Rule 540.00. The Exchange may grant the member firm a period of time in which to come into compliance with the requirements for member firm status. The Business Conduct Committee may also determine whether such a member firm is entitled to member transaction fees for any time period in which the firm fails to comply with requirements. (04/01/98)

231.00 Ownership and Registration of Associate Memberships - With the approval of the Membership Committee ownership of title and value of an Associate membership of an individual, approved under Rules 200.00, 201.00, 159.00, and 202.00, may be vested in an eligible business organization registered in accordance with Rule 230.00 provided that all of the provisions of Regulation 249.01 - Transfer of Membership - are complied with, where applicable.

Associate memberships may be registered on behalf of an eligible business organization pursuant to Rule 230.00. 875 (04/01/98)

Ch2 Assessments and Fees

240.00 Assessments - The Board, prior to the Annual Meeting and quarterly thereafter during each year, shall levy upon the membership such assessments as it may deem necessary or advisable to meet any anticipated operating deficit of the ensuing quarter and any actual deficit of the preceding quarter and such assessment as the Board may deem necessary or advisable to meet any capital expenditures of the ensuing quarter, including the retirement of mortgage indebtedness encumbering the Board of Trade Building. It shall be the duty of the President to prepare and submit to the Board, in advance of the meeting at which any such assessment is levied, a detailed budget showing the deficit, if any, for the preceding quarter and the amount of each such assessment proposed to be levied. Each such quarterly assessment shall be billed to the members as near the beginning of the quarter as may be practicable and shall become due and payable within thirty days after such billing. 108 (08/01/94)

241.00 Members in Military Service - The Board shall have authority to remit the assessments of a member during the period in which such member is in the military service of the United States, as such service is defined in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief Act of 1940, as passed by Congress and as it may be amended. 108B (08/01/94)

241.01 Dues of Members in Military Service - In accordance with the authority granted the Board under the provisions of Rule 241.00 no assessment of a member shall be remitted under Rule 241.00 except under the following conditions:

1. Each petition for the benefits of Rule 241.00 will be considered on its merits.

2. No petition will be considered unless accompanied with funds sufficient to pay all dues up to and including the full month in which the Board acts on the request.

3. No petition will be approved unless the petitioner became a member of the Association prior to January 1, 1953.

4. When a petition is granted the member is required to notify the Secretary promptly of the termination of his military service. 1844A (08/01/94)

242.00 Neglect to Pay Assessment - Any member who neglects to pay his assessment, or installments thereof, within thirty days after such assessment, or installments thereof, has been called for payment may be suspended until such assessment, or installments thereof, is paid. If a member neglects to pay such assessment, or installments thereof, during a period of six consecutive months, his membership may be disposed of by the Board in accordance with Rule 257.00. 109 (08/01/94)

243.00 Transfer Fees - No transfer of membership may be consummated unless the transferee pays to the Association a transfer fee. The amount of this fee is established from time to time, by the Board of Directors. The transfer fee so collected shall be used to purchase, retire or redeem indebtedness to finance improvements to the Board of Trade Buildings or to pay the cost of such improvements. The transfer fee described in this Rule 243.00 shall not apply when the transferor is the estate of a deceased member or membership interest holder and the transferee is the decedent's spouse or the decedent's child. 111 (07/01/98)

243.01 Sale and Transfer of Membership Privileges - Each individual submitting an application for membership shall include with the application a non-refundable application fee established by the Board. The application fee described in this Regulation 243.01 shall not apply when the applicant is the spouse or the child of a deceased member or membership interest holder. The application fee will also not apply when a deceased member or membership interest holder's membership or membership interest is held in trust pursuant to Regulation 249.01(i), the applicant is the spouse or the child of the decedent, and under the terms of the trust, the applicant is the successor trustee to the deceased member or membership interest holder. 1807 (04/01/98)

Ch2 Purchase and Sale or Transfer of Membership or Membership Interest

249.01 Purchase and Sale or Transfer of Membership or Membership Interest - Membership status in this Exchange is a personal privilege, not subject to sale or transfer except as herein authorized.

(a) Purchase and Sale of Memberships and Membership Interest by Individuals -

(i) When an individual wishes to sell his full or associate membership or membership interest, he shall sign an offer to sell including an offer price, in such form as shall be prescribed by the Exchange.

When an offer is matched to a bid, the member or registered eligible business organization may receive the sale proceeds prior to the expiration of the claims period or the resolution of any claims by depositing treasury bills with the Association, equivalent to the sale price of the membership or membership interest. All amounts deposited shall be available, without restriction, to satisfy claims against the departing member or the registered eligible business organization under this Chapter. In lieu of a deposit, the member or registered eligible business organization may file a clearing firm guaranty, letter of credit, or such other form as the Association may permit, equivalent to the sale price of the membership or membership interest, for the satisfaction of claims.

(ii) Any individual who wishes to purchase a full or associate membership or membership interest subsequent to his approval for a particular membership status shall execute and deliver to the Department of Member Services a bid to purchase such membership or membership interest, in such form as may be prescribed by the Exchange. The bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check representing an earnest money deposit in the amount of fifteen percent of the bid, by an irrevocable letter of credit in the amount of fifteen percent of the bid, or by an agreement on a form prescribed by the Exchange and executed by a clearing member of the Association as provided in this section (ii).

Any individual who wishes to purchase a full or associate membership or membership interest prior to his approval for a particular membership status shall execute and deliver to the Department of Member Services a bid to purchase such membership or membership interest, in such form as may be prescribed by the Exchange. The bid shall be accompanied by a check in the amount of the applicable transfer fee. The bid shall also be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of such bid or by an agreement on a form prescribed by the Exchange and executed by a clearing member of the Association which shall provide that in the event the prospective purchaser's bid is matched to an offer, as provided in section (iii) below, and the prospective purchaser fails to make payment in the amount of his bid by 5:00 p.m. of the next business day following the day on which he was notified by the Department of Member Services that his bid was matched to an offer, such clearing member shall purchase the membership or membership interest in question for the full amount of such bid.

The bid shall contain an agreement by such individual to take no recourse against the Association in the event he is not approved for membership, except as may be permitted under Section 8c of the Commodity Exchange Act as amended and a release of the Association of any claim or right that such individual would otherwise have had by reason of such failure to be so elected. The bid also shall contain an agreement by such individual that he or she consents to and accepts the Exchange's jurisdiction with respect to any disciplinary action or other matter within the purview of any Exchange committee from the date of purchase of a membership or membership interest until the date the individual is approved for membership status or, if such individual fails to be approved for membership status, until the date of a sale of the membership or membership interest is effected in accordance with this regulation. With respect to the purchase of a membership which will be registered pursuant to Rule 230.00 for the benefit of an eligible business organization which is not currently a member firm, a consent to jurisdiction also must be executed on behalf of the firm. The consent to jurisdiction shall expressly state that the Exchange may hold the membership or membership interest pending the disposition of any proceeding before any Exchange Committee and apply the proceeds from the sale of the membership or membership interest toward the satisfaction of any decision that may be rendered against the individual or firm.

Nothing herein shall be construed in any way to limit the Exchange's jurisdiction over all individuals and firms which have been approved for membership. If any purchase of a membership or membership interest is being financed by a person other than the purchaser, such purchaser shall file satisfactory proof as required by the Department of Member Services that the financing party is aware of the provisions of this Regulation and Rule 252.00.

(iii) The Department of Member Services shall post continually on the Bulletin Board the lowest offer to sell and the highest bid to buy full and associate memberships and membership interests, respectively. In the event of a match between any such bid and offer, the Department of Member Services shall notify the purchaser and the seller. In the event there are two bids and/or two offers in the same amount, the oldest offer shall be matched to the oldest bid. Title and value of the membership or membership interest shall be transferred to the purchaser upon payment being effected in the full amount of the bid.

In the event that the prospective purchaser fails to make payment in the amount of his bid by 5:00 p.m. of the next business day following the day on which he was notified by the Department of Member Services that his bid was matched to an offer, the clearing member who has executed an agreement to purchase the membership or membership interest as provided in section (a)(ii) of this Regulation shall make payment in the full amount of the bid by 5:00 p.m. of the business day following the day upon which payment was due from the prospective purchaser. Upon becoming the owner of the title and value of the membership or membership interest, the clearing member shall either sell or transfer the membership or membership interest or cause the membership or membership interest to be registered on its behalf in accordance with Rule 230.00 of these Rules and Regulations.

Failure to fulfill the obligations set forth in said agreement shall constitute acts detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association.

Within ten (10) business days of notice to the purchaser by the Department of Member Services that his or her bid has been matched to an offer, each purchaser of a full or associate membership who is not a full or associate member in good standing, and each purchaser of a membership interest who is not a full or associate member, membership interest holder or nominee thereof, or delegate in good standing, shall file with the Department of Member Services an application for the appropriate membership status, in such form as may be prescribed by the Exchange, in order to be eligible for approval for membership status. Such form shall include an agreement by the applicant to take no recourse against the Association in the event he or she is not approved for a particular membership status, except as may be permitted under Section 8c of the Commodity Exchange Act as amended and a release of the Association of any claim or right that such individual would otherwise have had by reason of such failure to be so elected. No person may exercise the rights of a particular membership status until he or she is approved for such membership status in accordance with these rules.

(iv) If a purchaser of a membership or membership interest fails to file an application with the Department of Member Services as required in paragraph (iii) above, is not approved for membership status, or if for any reason his application is withdrawn, the Exchange shall retain the transfer fee and the purchaser shall assume all risk of gain or loss from the resale of the membership or membership interest purchased by him. The purchaser shall take all necessary steps to effect a sale of the membership or membership interest purchased by him within thirty (30) days of notification of his failure to be approved for membership status, withdrawal of his application, or the purchase of the membership or membership interest if he failed to file an application.

(v) If the purchaser fails to effect a sale within the time period specified in paragraph (iv) above, the Department of Member Services shall effect a sale at the price of the highest bid to purchase then on file with the Department of Member Services on the next business day following the thirtieth (30) day after notification of his failure to be approved for membership status, withdrawal of his application, or the purchase of the membership or membership interest if he failed to file an application. If on the next business day following the thirtieth day after such notification, withdrawal, or purchase if he failed to file an application, there is no bid to purchase on file with the Department of Member Services, the membership or membership interest shall be offered for sale by the Exchange at the same price as the lowest offer to sell then on file with the Department of Member Services. Such offer shall be matched with a bid in accordance with Regulation 249.01(a)(iii). The total amount realized from the sale of the membership or membership interest shall be remitted to the unsuccessful applicant in full satisfaction of all obligations of the Association, subject to Exchange Rule 252.00.

(vi) An individual whose offer to sell his only membership or membership interest has been accepted by a purchaser, shall not make any Exchange contracts after the date of such consummation of the transfer.

An individual whose membership or membership interest status was terminated through a sale in accordance with this paragraph (a), and who was a member or membership interest holder in good standing, not subject to any Exchange investigation, charges, suspension or disciplinary action at the time of such sale, shall remain eligible, for a period of six (6) months following such sale, to purchase another membership or membership interest under the provisions of this paragraph (a), to be the transferee of a membership or membership interest pursuant to subparagraphs 249.01(b) (c) or (d) or to become a delegate, in accordance with provisions of Regulation 202.01. The Exchange may, in its discretion, grant extensions to this six (6) month approval period.

(b) Transfer by member firm

(i) A member firm may own a full or associate membership held in the name of an individual member, provided that (i) the individual member is a principal or employee of such member firm; and (ii) the principal or employee's membership is registered on behalf of such member firm pursuant to Rule 230.00, except as otherwise provided in Rule 230.00. Additionally. a member firm may own GIM, COM and IDEM membership interests held in the name of individual members who are full-time employees of such firm. In such circumstances, the member firm shall be entitled to transfer such membership or membership interest, and to receive the net proceeds from transfer of such membership or membership interest after satisfaction of all claims against the individual member, or against the member firm, in accordance with Rules 252.00 and 253.00.

(ii) A member firm that owns a full membership, associate membership or membership interest may transfer such membership or membership interest to another principal or employee of the member firm, or of another member firm as permitted by Rule 230.00, by delivering to the Department of Member Services a report of intention to transfer upon such form as shall be prescribed by the Exchange. In addition, with respect to the transfer of a full or associate membership, the firm must deposit with the Department of Member Services ar amount equal to the weighted average of all full or associate membership sales for the preceding calendar month, as appropriate. With respect to the transfer of a membership interest, the firm must deposit the greater of $50,000 or an amount equal to the weighted average of all GIM, COM or IDEM sales, for the preceding calendar month, as appropriate. Such amount may be deposited in cash, treasury bills, or such other form as the Exchange may permit. All amounts deposited shall be available, without restriction, to satisfy claims agi3inst the departing individual member or against the member firm. In lieu of a deposit, a firm rnay file a clearing firm guaranty for the satisfaction of claims in an amount that accords with the formulas set forth in this sub-paragraph. Should the departing individual member b? leaving the employ of. the member firm, the application for membership or transfer documents of the transferee must be submitted to the Exchange within thirty (30) days from the termination date of the departing individual member. The Exchange may, in its discretion, grant extensions of this 30 day period. No such extension shall exceed 60 days total lengih for any individual.

(iii) Nothing herein shall preclude or impair the right of the Exchange to impose discipline upon the member firm that owns the membership or for which the membership is registered, or upon the individual member, or to dispose of the membership or membership interemst of any individual member, for the acts or delinquencies of the member firm that owns the membership or for which the membership is registered,or for the acts or delinquencies of the individual member, in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

(iv) An individual member whose only remaining membership or membership interest has been transferred in accordance with this paragraph (b) shall not make any Exchange contracts after the date of such transfer.

(v) In the event that a member firm that owns a full or associate membership or membership interest is acquired by another member firm through the purchase of 100% of the pa-tnership or limited liability company property or corporate stock, the acquiring member firm may transfer such membership or membership interest to another individual member who is an employee of the acquiring member firm pursuant to the procedures set forth in sub-paragraph (ii), above.

A member firm that owns a full or associate membership or membership interest ma) transfer such membership or membership interest to a principal or employee of another mem3er firm which is its wholly-owned subsidiary, a parent entity which owns 100% of the member firm, or a sister entity that is 100% owned by its parent entity, pursuant to the procedures set forth in sub-paragraph (ii), above. Each such transfer of a GIM Membership Interest shall count toward the two transfers specified in Rule 296.00 (2).

(vi) The parties to the transfer set forth in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph may elect not to deposit a sum of money or file a clearing firm guaranty agreement as provided ti-erein. in which case the transferee shall, for a period of time equal to that set forth in paragraph (e) of this Regulation, be ineligible to exercise any of the rights and privileges of the trznsferred membership or membership interest and, during this time and no other, all claims as set forth in sub-paragraph (ii) of this paragraph against the transferor shall be filed. If such cI3ims are filed the transferee shall remain ineligible until the claims are satisfied or otherwise disposed. In order to satisfy claims set forth in sub-paragraph (ii), which have been properly filed and allowed by the Exchange, as provided by the Rules and Regulations, the trE nsferred membership or membership interest may be sold by the Exchange. In the event of such sale and after the claims have been paid, the remaining surplus, if any, of the proceed; of sale shall be paid to the member firm upon execution by it of a release which is satisfactclry to the Exchange. In order to preclude the sale of the membership or membership interest by the Exchange for the satisfaction of claims, and for the transferee to become immediate1q eligible to exercise the rights and privileges of the transferred membership or membership interest, the member firm may, in the alternative, deposit a sum of money or file a clearing firm guaranty as provided in sub-paragraph (ii) above.

(vii) An individual member whose membership or membership interest status was te:-minated through a transfer in accordance with this paragraph (b), and who was a member or membership interest holder in good standing, not subject to any Exchange investigation, charges, suspension or disciplinary action at the time of such transfer, shall remain eligible, for a period of six (6) months following such transfer, to acquire another membership or membership interest. The Exchange may, in its discretion, grant extensions of this six (6) month approval period.

(c) Transfer by member under loan agreement -

(i) Whenever, under the Rules and Regulations, a registered eligible business organization is required to register a certain number of full or associate memberships or is required to maintain memberships for other purposes, such eligible business organization may execute with an employee, approved for membership under this Chapter, a loan agreement in such form as the Association may prescribe, advancing to such employee the cost of membership and providing for the enforced repayment of such advance. The employee may transfer his membership to another employee of the same registered eligible business organization, approved for membership under this Chapter, upon the deposit with the Department of Member Services of an amount equal to the sum specified in sub-paragraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of this Regulation. All amounts so deposited shall be available, without restriction, to satisfy claims under this Chapter. Should the transferor be leaving the employ of the registered eligible business organization, the application for membership of the transferee must be submitted to the Association within thirty (30) days from the termination date of the transferor.

(ii) Transfer under this paragraph (c) except as provided in sub-paragraph (i) hereof, shall be governed by the provisions of paragraph (a) of this Regulation.

(d) Transfer within family -

(i) It shall be permissible, under the Rules and Regulations, to transfer a full or associate membership or membership interest between members of the same family (a spouse, parent, sibling, child, grandparent, grandchild, aunt, uncle or in-laws), or a decedent's membership or membership interest within the same family, provided such transferee is approved for the appropriate membership status under this Chapter and a clearing firm guaranty is filed, or sum of money as described in paragraph (b) is deposited with the Department of Member Services in order to satisfy claims.

(ii) The parties to the transfer may elect not to deposit a sum of money as provided in paragraph (b), in which case the transferee shall, for a period of time equal to that set forth in paragraph (e) of this Regulation, be ineligible to exercise any of the rights and privileges of the transferred membership or membership interest, and during this time and no other, all claims against the transferor shall be filed. If such claims are filed the transferee shall remain ineligible until the claims are satisfied or otherwise disposed. In order to satisfy claims against the transferor, which have been properly filed and allowed by the Association, as provided by the Rules and Regulations, the transferred membership or membership interest may be sold by the Association. In the event of such sale and after the claims have been paid, the remaining surplus, if any, of the proceeds of sale shall be paid to the transferee, or his legal representative, upon execution by him of a release which is satisfactory to the Association. In order to preclude the sale of the membership or membership interest by the Association for the satisfaction of claims, and to become immediately eligible to exercise the rights and privileges of the transferred membership or membership interest, the transferee may, in the alternative, comply with the provisions of sub-paragraph (i), hereof.

(iii) Transfer under this paragraph (d), except as provided in sub-paragraph (i) and (ii) hereof, shall be governed by the provisions of paragraph (a) of this Regulation.

(e) Notice of membership sale or transfer and filing claims -

(i) On the first and sixteenth calendar day of each month (or if the first or sixteenth is not a business day on the following business day ("notice days")), the Secretary shall post on the bulletin board located on the Exchange floor a notice listing each sale or transfer of a membership, each termination or expiration of a delegation agreement, each termination of an individual member registration and each termination of a member firm registered in accordance with the provisions of Rule 230.00 that occurred during the period beginning on the preceding notice day and ending on the business day preceding the current notice day. The Secretary shall also make this information available to the membership. The last day for filing claims pursuant to Rule 253.00 against the proceeds of the sale or transfer of a membership, the termination of an individual member registration, a termination of a member firm or pursuant to Rule 221.00 (c)(2) against a delegate whose delegation agreement has terminated or expired is the business day immediately preceding the notice day that follows the notice day on which the Secretary posts a notice on the bulletin board announcing such sale or transfer or such termination or expiration of a delegation agreement. The Exchange shall hold the proceeds from the sale or transfer of a membership until such time as the relevant claims period has run and/or any disputed claims have been resolved.

(ii) Upon the effective date of sale or transfer of an individual's sole membership, all Exchange contracts of the seller or transferor shall mature, and if not settled, shall be closed out as in the case of insolvency, unless the same are assumed or taken over by another member of the Association.

(iii) The name of a member whose membership or membership interest has been disposed of by the Board shall be posted as in the case of a voluntary sale and such posting shall have the same effect in respect to open contracts and unmatured debts and obligations of the former member as in the case of a voluntary sale.

(f) Sale by Legal Representative -

(i) The membership or membership interest of a deceased member or membership interest holder may be sold pursuant to an offer to sell executed by the executor, administrator or other duly qualified and appointed legal representative of his estate.

(ii) The full or associate membership or membership interest of a member or membership interest holder who has been adjudicated incompetent may be sold pursuant to an offer to sell executed by his duly appointed guardian, conservator or other duly qualified legal representative.

(g) Indirect Exchange of Memberships -

(i) A member may exchange an associate membership for a full membership (an "AM Swap"), a full membership for an associate membership (an "FM Swap"), a GIM membership interest for an associate membership (a "GIM to AM Swap"), a GIM membership interest for a full membership (a "GIM to FM Swap"), a COM membership interest for an associate membership (a "COM to AM Swap"), a COM membership interest for a full membership (a "COM to FM swap") a COM membership interest for an IDEM membership interest (a "COM" to IDEM Swap"), an IDEM membership interest for an associate membership (an "IDEM to AM swap"), an IDEM membership interest for a full membership (an "IDEM to FM swap") or an IDEM membership interest for a COM membership interest (an "IDEM to COM Swap"), by signing an offer to exchange in such form as shall be prescribed by the Exchange. The offer to exchange shall specify the category of membership being relinquished (the "relinquished membership"); the category of membership the exchanging member wishes to acquire (the "replacement membership"), and the "Price Differential" at which the exchange is to be effected (as described below).

The offer to exchange shall be accompanied by: (1) In the case of an AM, GIM to AM, GIM to FM, COM to AM, COM to FM, IDEM to AM or IDEM to FM Swap, a certified or cashier's check in the amount of the Price Differential, or an agreement of a clearing member of the Association as described in section (a)(ii) of this Regulation; and (2) an agreement of a clearing member of the Association to pay to the Association in cash upon demand the amount of any assessments or claims against the exchanging member's relinquished membership according to Rule 252.00 up to the value of the relinquished membership at the time the exchange is accepted. For this purpose, the value of the relinquished membership will be the bid price for such membership. In the case of a COM to IDEM Swap or an IDEM to COM Swap, the offer to exchange shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of the Price Differential, or an agreement of a clearing member of the Association as described in section (a)(ii) of this Regulation if the value of the relinquished membership exceeds the value of the replacement membership. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, the value of the relinquished membership will be the bid price for such membership and the value of the replacement membership shall be the offer price of such membership.

(ii) The Department of Member Services shall post continually on the Bulletin Board the highest Price Differential for AM, GIM to AM, GIM to FM, COM to AM, COM to FM, COM to IDEM, IDEM to AM, IDEM to FM and IDEM to COM swaps, and the lowest Price Differential for FM swaps. In the event there are two or more AM swaps, two or more FM swaps, two or more GIM to AM Swaps, two or more GIM to FM Swaps, two or more COM to AM Swaps, two or more COM to FM Swaps, two or more IDEM to AM swaps two or more IDEM to FM Swaps, or two or more COM to IDEM Swaps (or IDEM to COM swaps) offered at the same Price Differential, the oldest offer shall be listed first.

(iii) The Department of Member Services shall notify an exchanging member that the member's offer to exchange has been accepted when (1) the difference between the bid price for memberships in the category of the relinquished membership and the offer price for memberships in the category of the replacement membership equals (2) the Price Differential for the offer to exchange. Upon notification of acceptance of the offer to exchange, the Department of Member Services shall cause the Association to acquire the relinquished membership from the exchanging member, sell the relinquished membership at its bid price, acquire the replacement membership at its offered price, and transfer the replacement membership to the exchanging member. The exchanging member shall pay the applicable transfer fee not later than 5:00 p.m. of the first business day following acceptance of the offer to exchange.

(iv) If, prior to acceptance of an offer to exchange, the posted Price Differential for AM Swaps matches the posted Price Differential for FM Swaps, the Department of Member Services will notify the respective members and will effect a direct exchange of their memberships according to paragraph (h) below.

(v) Title and value of the relinquished membership shall pass to the Association, and title and value of the replacement membership shall be transferred to the exchanging member, upon notification by the Association that the exchange offer has been accepted.

(vi) The proceeds from the sale of the relinquished membership shall be applied to payment for the replacement membership. Any excess proceeds shall be applied in the manner specified in Rule 252.00 to satisfy assessments and claims against the relinquished membership. The exchanging member shall only be entitled to the replacement membership and any excess proceeds (subject to application of Rule 252.00); in no event shall the exchanging member be entitled to demand receipt of the proceeds from the sale of the relinquished membership in lieu of receipt of the replacement membership.

(vii) If the exchanging member in an AM, GIM to AM, GIM to FM, COM to AM, COM to FM, IDEM to AM, IDEM to FM, COM to IDEM, or IDEM to COM swap fails to make payment for the Price Differential by 5:00 p.m. of the next business day following the day on which the member was notified by the Department of Member Services that the member's offer to exchange was accepted, the exchanging member shall forfeit ownership of the title and value of the replacement membership and the clearing member who has executed an agreement to purchase the membership as provided in section (a)(ii) of this Regulation shall make such payment by 5:00 p.m. of the next business day following the day upon which payment was due from the exchanging member. Upon such payment, the clearing member shall be the owner of the title and value of the replacement membership. The clearing member shall either sell or transfer the replacement membership or cause the replacement membership to be registered on its behalf in accordance with Rule 230.00 of these Rules and Regulations. The clearing member shall account to the exchanging member for the portion of the replacement membership bid price paid from the proceeds from the sale of the relinquished membership.

Failure to fulfill the obligations set forth in said agreement shall constitute acts detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association.

(viii) The person who purchases the relinquished membership from the Association and the person who sells the replacement membership to the Association shall follow the procedures specified in section (a) or (b) of this regulation as applicable. Exchanges under this section (g), except as provided herein, shall be governed by the provisions of this Chapter.

(h) Direct Exchange of Memberships -

(i) A member in good standing may transfer (1) an associate membership in direct exchange for a full membership of another member, (2) a full membership for an associate membership of another member, (3) a GIM membership interest for an associate membership of another member, (4) a GIM membership interest for a full membership of another member, (5) a COM membership interest for an associate membership of another member, (6) a COM membership interest for a full membership of another member, (7) an IDEM membership interest for an associate membership of another member, (8) an IDEM membership interest for a full membership of another member, (9) an IDEM membership interest for a COM membership interest of another member or (10) a COM membership interest for an IDEM membership interest of another member. The exchanging members shall jointly execute and deliver to the Department of Member Services an agreement of direct exchange in such form as may be prescribed by the Exchange and setting forth the agreed Price Differential between the memberships. The agreement shall be accompanied by (1) a check from each member in the amount of the applicable transfer fee, (2) a certified or cashier's check for the Price Differential, and (3) for each member, an agreement of a clearing member of the Association to pay to the Association in cash upon demand the amount of any assessments or claims against the exchanging member's relinquished membership according to Rule 252.00 up to the value of the relinquished membership at the time the exchange is accepted. For this purpose, the value of the relinquished membership shall be the average of the posted bid and offer prices for such memberships; provided that if there is either no posted bid or no posted offer, the value shall be the price paid in the last sale of such memberships. Title and value of the memberships shall be transferred to the respective exchanging members upon notification from the Department of Member Services that it has accepted the exchange.

(ii) Exchanges under this section (h), except as provided herein, shall be governed by the provisions of this Chapter.

(i) Transfer to a Trust -

(i) A member or membership interest holder (collectively referred to as "member" under this section) or a member's personal representative (including his or her agent under a durable power of attorney) may transfer his or her membership(s) or membership interest(s) to a trust of which the member is a grantor, if: (1) while the member is living and competent, the member is the sole trustee of the trust, (2) the member retains the right to revoke the trust during his or her life, and (3) all beneficiaries of the trust are members of the grantor's family who would be eligible for a family transfer from the grantor pursuant to section (d) of this regulation.

(ii) A trust shall take the membership subject to all of the rules of the Exchange, including Rules 230.00 and 252.00; however, Rule 252.00 shall not apply to the transfer of a membership or membership interest to a trust wherein the member/grantor is the trustee. The transfer of a GIM membership interest to a trust wherein the member/grantor is the trustee shall not constitute a transfer under Rule 296.00(1).

(iii) The interests in the membership that inure to the beneficiaries of the trust shall be subject to all of the rules of the Exchange; the Exchange's rights with respect to the membership shall be superior to those of the beneficiaries; and the Exchange shall have no liability to the beneficiaries of the trust in the event of the mishandling of the trust assets by the trustee. The grantor and the trustee (and any successor) shall each provide in the form provided by the Exchange an acknowledgement that the trust takes the membership subject to all of the rules of the Exchange and that the trust is in compliance with the requirements of this regulation.

(iv) The trustee (and any successor), if not already a member, shall be required to qualify for membership and satisfy the requirements of Chapter 2 of these Rules and Regulations.

(v) The grantor's liability to the Exchange under Rule 209.00 shall continue with respect to any claim arising out of an act or omission occurring prior to such transfer, and the membership will continue to be treated as the asset of the grantor for the purposes of Rule 209.00 and for otherwise meeting any obligations to the Exchange arising out of the grantor's use of the membership prior to the transfer to the trust, including fines imposed with respect to conduct occurring prior to the transfer.

A membership or membership interest held in a trust of which the member/grantor is the sole trustee may be temporarily transferred, subject to the provisions of section (j) of this regulation, to an individual within the member/grantor's same family, as defined in section (d)(I) of this regulation.

(vi) A membership held in trust may not be registered for member firm privileges.

(vii) Subparagraph (vi) shall not apply to self-owned registered memberships, provided that the member demonstrates, to the satisfaction of the Association and before the membership is placed in trust, that the declaration of the trust into which the membership will be transferred incorporates by express reference the Rules and Regulations of the Association.

This subparagraph shall have no effect on the provision of Regulation 249.01(j)(iv) that prohibits the use of a membership that is the subject of a revocable intra-family transfer for member firm privileges.

(viii) The transfer shall be revoked and the membership shall revert to the transferor upon official notice to the Exchange that the trust has been revoked.

(j) Notwithstanding the provisions of section (d) of this regulation pertaining to permanent family transfers, a member or membership interest holder may temporarily transfer his or her respective membership or membership interest to a member of his or her immediate family, as defined in section (d)(i) of this regulation, who shall be subject to all Exchange Rules and Regulations.

Transfers under this section shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(i) The transferor may revoke the transfer upon written notice to the transferee, and a copy thereof shall be filed by the transferor with the Member Services Department as a precondition to its effectiveness. The transferee shall remain approved for membership under the same conditions which are applicable in the event of a termination of a delegation agreement, as set forth in Rule 221.00(a).

(ii) The transfer shall be revoked and the membership or membership interest shall revert to the transferor's estate or conservator upon official notice of the death or formally declared incompetence of the transferor.

(iii) Upon election to membership, the transferee shall be treated as a member for all purposes, except that the transferee shall have no authority to sell, transfer or assign the membership or membership interest. The right to vote on all matters subject to a ballot vote among the general membership will remain with the transferor. A Full or Associate Member shall not be ineligible for elective office or committee appointments based on such member's having temporarily transferred his or her Full or Associate Membership pursuant to this section (j).

(iv) While a transfer under this section is in effect, the membership involved would not qualify the transferee for elective office and the membership may not be registered under Rule 230.00 for member firm privileges.

(v) The provisions of Rule 221.00(c) shall apply to the transferor and the transferee in the same manner that those provisions apply to a member and his delegate.

(vi) The transferor may sell or transfer the membership at any time in accordance with the provisions of this regulation. The family transfer shall automatically be null and void upon such a sale or transfer by the transferor. The proceeds of the sale of the membership will be distributed to the transferor following the settlement of all claims pursuant to Rule 252.00

(vii) The transfer of a GIM membership interest under this section shall not constitute a transfer under Rule 296.00(1).

(viii) In the case of a membership or membership interest held in trust pursuant to subsection (i), the trustee may transfer the membership or membership interest in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph (j). The trustee shall have the rights, duties and obligations of a transferor as provided by this subsection (subject to the provisions of subsection (i)). Where the transferor is the trustee of a membership or membership interest held in trust pursuant to subsection (i), and either (1) the trustee revokes the transfer; (2) the settlor is officially declared dead or (3) the settlor is decreed to be legally incompetent by a court of proper jurisdiction, then the membership or membership interest shall automatically revert to the trustee. (10/01/04)

250.01 Sale and Transfer of Membership Privileges - A member or his legal representative desiring to sell his membership or membership interest shall deliver to the Department of Member Services a signed authorization of sale which is notarized or otherwise officially authenticated, or a telecopy thereof, in the form prescribed below. The authorization of sale shall contain a specific offer price. The member must also deliver to the Department of Member Services a signed consent to jurisdiction in a form prescribed by the Exchange before his authorization of sale will be accepted. With respect to the sale of a firm-owned membership, the consent to jurisdiction must be signed by the last member holding the membership and, if the sale would terminate the firm's member firm status, a consent to jurisdiction must also be executed on behalf of the firm. The consent to jurisdiction form provides that the member and, if applicable, the member firm, consents to and accepts the Association's jurisdiction with respect to any potential or current disciplinary matter of which the Association is aware or becomes aware prior to the distribution of proceeds and further that the Exchange may retain all of the proceeds from the sale of the member's seat pending the outcome of any disciplinary action. The following shall apply to persons elected to membership and to registered member firms for a period of five years after the termination of such individual's or firm's membership status. Each such individual and firm:

- Remains responsible for any violations of Exchange rules and regulations committed while a member or member firm; and

- Agrees to have any disputes which arose while a member or member firm and which relate to or arose out of any transaction upon the Exchange or membership in the Exchange, resolved in accordance with Exchange rules and regulations.

An individual wishing to purchase a membership or membership interest shall inform the Department of Member Services in such form as shall be prescribed by the Exchange of his desire to purchase a membership or membership interest. When the purchaser's bid has been matched with an offer to sell, the purchaser shall sign a confirmation of purchase and shall by 5:00 p.m. of the next business day following the day on which he was notified by the Department of Member Services that his bid was matched to an offer deposit with the Department of Member Services the balance, if any, owing on the purchase price on the membership or membership interest.

250.02 Memberships Held Under Regulation 249.01(b) - The title and value of a membership procured under Regulation 249.01(b) is owned by the member firm acquiring it, but the personal privileges of that membership can only be exercised by one of the member firm's principals or employees who has been approved by the Exchange, except as otherwise provided in Rule 230.00. For that reason, the member firm may to designate a qualified individual to exercise the personal privileges of that membership. Any such designation may be terminated by the member firm at any time. In that event, the individual's right to exercise the personal privileges of that membership terminates immediately and automatically. In the event that an individual wrongfully exercises any personal privilege of membership after termination, the member firm shall remain responsible for that individual's liabilities and actions until written notice of the termination has been posted on the bulletin board. 1806 (01/01/04)

250.03 Power-of-Attorney - In connection with membership transfers and delegations, a power-of- attorney is permitted to be used only for the following functions;

1. To submit a bid to purchase a membership or membership interest.

2. To sign the membership register.

3. To execute, amend, terminate or file a delegation agreement. (08/01/94)

251.00 Membership Transfer - All purchases or sales of membership privileges shall be made pursuant to Regulations adopted by the Exchange and no commission or other compensation for services in connection with the purchase or sale of a membership in the Association shall be paid. 127 (08/01/94)

251.01 Member Under Investigation - No member may transfer his membership privilege by intrafamily transfer and no member firm may transfer a firm-owned membership from one member employee to another employee under Regulation 249.01(b), unless the approval of the Regulatory Compliance Committee is first secured, when the member is under investigation by any standing committee or by a special committee appointed under the provisions of Rule 541.00 or when charges are preferred against him or when he is under suspension for causes other than default, insolvency, or non-payment of assessments. 1835 (08/01/94)

252.00 Proceeds of Membership -

(a) ORDER OF DISTRIBUTION. Upon any transfer of membership, whether made by a member voluntarily or by the Board, the proceeds shall be applied to the following purposes and in the following order of priority:

(1) FIRST, the payment of all debts owed to the Clearing Services Provider, if the membership transferred was registered for a Clearing Member in order to qualify the clearing Member for clearing status pursuant to Rule 703.00, by the member whose membership is transferred. With respect to any other membership, the Exchange shall have the first priority for the debts described in paragraph (2) below, and the Clearing Services provider shall have the second priority.

(2) SECOND, the payment of all debts owed to the Exchange by such member, including, but not limited to, dues, assessments, service fees and fines.

(3) THIRD, the payment to such member's Primary Clearing Member or Members, as specified in Rule 333.00, of all claims filed under Rule 253.00 for trading losses of such member arising out of Transactions on Change, and which claims have been allowed by the Board.

(4) FOURTH, the payment to other Clearing Members of all claims filed under Rule 253.00 for trading losses of such member arising out of Transactions on Change, and which claims have been allowed by the Board.

(5) FIFTH, the payment to members and member firms of all claims filed under Rule 253.00 for money owed on loans which had been made to the member whose membership was transferred, exclusively for the purpose of financing the purchase of such membership, and which had been promptly recorded with the Secretary of the Association, and which claims have been allowed by the Board.

(6) SIXTH, the payment to members and member firms of all claims filed under Rule 253.00 otherwise arising from Member's Contracts, exclusive of personal debts which are not related to the conduct of business as a broker, trader or commission merchant, and which claims have been allowed by the Board. Provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to a membership subject to Regulation 249.01(b) or 249.01(c).

(b) PRO RATA PAYMENT. If the proceeds of a transfer of membership are insufficient to pay all filed claims allowed by the Board, such claims, within the priorities listed in (a) above, shall be paid pro rata, except as provided in (e) below.

(c) SURPLUS, IF ANY. Claims which are not filed during the period specified in Regulation 249.01 but which would otherwise qualify under (a) above may, if allowed by the Board, be paid out of any surplus after all other claims allowed by the Board have been paid in full and shall be paid in preference to claims referred to in (e) below. The remaining surplus, if any, of the proceeds of a transfer of membership, after payment of all claims allowed by the Board under this Rule, shall be paid to the person whose membership is transferred, or to his legal representatives, upon the execution by him or them of a release or releases satisfactory to the Board.

(d) VALUATION.

(1) Claims which have not matured at the time of the transfer of the membership may be treated as though they had matured, and the amount due may be fixed and determined by the Board on the basis of market values or such other basis as the Board deems to be fair and just.

(2) If a claim is contingent or the amount that will ultimately be due cannot be immediately ascertained and determined, the Board may reserve and retain such amount from the proceeds as it deems appropriate, pending determination of the amount due on the claim.

(3) A claim shall be allowed by the Board only for the amount due after credit is given for the proceeds of the sale of any collateral held by the claimant of the fair value of such collateral as determined by the Board, The Board may require, before passing on the claim, that all such collateral be sold.

(e) CLAIMS OF PARTNERS. Claims growing out of transactions between partners, who are members of the Association, shall not share in the proceeds of the membership of one of such partners until all other claims as allowed by the Board have been paid in full.

(f) RIGHTS OF CREDITORS OF DECEASED, INCOMPETENT, SUSPENDED, OR EXPELLED MEMBER. The death, incompetency, expulsion or suspension of a member shall not affect the right of creditors under the provisions of this Rule.

(g) DEATH OR INCOMPETENCY OF CREDITOR MEMBERS. When a member is in debt to another member, the death or incompetency of the creditor member or the transfer of his membership either by his estate or by the Board, shall not affect the rights of the creditor member, his firm, corporation, or estate, to share in proceeds of the membership of the debtor member under this Rule, in the same manner and to the same extent as if the creditor member had not died, become incompetent or his membership had not been transferred.

(h) DEBTS EXISTING AS OF THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF THIS RULE AS AMENDED. Within 20 business days after the effective date of this Rule, as amended, all members and member firms shall notify the Secretary of the Association of all member debts outstanding as of the effective date which debts have arisen out of members' contracts had between the parties thereto in the ordinary course of business. The Secretary shall record such debts. All recorded debts still remaining unpaid at the time of the transfer of the debtor's membership, if allowed by the Board, shall be included in Category 3 of this Rule to be paid pro rata if necessary along with claims under that category, provided such debts are determined by the Board to have arisen out of members contracts had between the parties thereto in the ordinary course of business. The notice to the Secretary shall include the debtor member's acknowledgment of the debt; provided, however, that any contested debts will be provisionally recorded by the Secretary. (01/01/04)

252.00A Claims Filed by Corporations - Your Rules and Claims and Insolvencies Committees concur in the attorney's opinion that a corporation cannot share in the proceeds of the sale of memberships against which the corporation has filed claims (even claims filed prior to the cancellation of the registration of its officer's membership) after the member has cancelled the registration of his membership for the benefit of the corporation, leaving no other member registered for the corporation. 3R (08/01/94)

252.00B Interpretation of Rule 252(e) - The Rules Committee has interpreted Rule 252(e) as follows:

Where a partnership is the primary or other clearing member for one of its member partners, such partnership may make claims against the proceeds from the sale of such partner's membership under the provisions of Rule 252.00(a) (3) or (4) for trading losses. A partnership may make claims against the proceeds from the sale of a partner's membership under Rule 252.00(a) (5) where such loan had been made exclusively for the purpose of financing the purchase of the partner's membership. (08/01/94)

253.00 Filing Claims - A member to establish his claim and to become entitled to his rights under Rule 252.00 of this Chapter to share in the proceeds of a membership, shall file a statement of his claim during the period specified in Regulation 249.01. Claims if not so filed and allowed by the Board may be paid out of any surplus after all claims allowed by the Board have been paid in full and shall be paid in preference to claims referred to in Rule 252.00(e) of this chapter. 113 (08/01/94)

253.01 Pending Arbitration - In the event an Exchange arbitration action is pending against a member who sells his membership, the entire proceeds from such membership sale shall be reserved and retained by the Exchange towards satisfaction of any resulting arbitration award in accordance with Rule 252.00. However, prior to the arbitration hearing, a selling member whose sale proceeds are being held by the Exchange pending the outcome of an arbitration may make application to the Executive Committee who, upon such application, shall have the discretion to authorize release to the selling member of any of the proceeds in excess of the amount claimed in the arbitration and claims filed pursuant to Rule 252.00. (08/01/94)

255.00 Deceased or Incompetent Member - When a member dies, or when a conservator is appointed for him or his estate, his membership may be disposed of by the Board in accordance with Rule 257.00. If the deceased or incompetent member has neglected to pay assessments, Rule 242.00 shall apply to the disposition of his membership by the Board. 115 (08/01/94)

256.00 Expelled Member - When a member is expelled or becomes ineligible for reinstatement, his membership may be disposed of forthwith by the Board. 116 (08/01/94)

257.00 Disposal of Memberships - The Board may elect to dispose of a membership in accordance with, and as provided by, these Rules, by adopting a resolution to purchase from a member such member's membership (and any associated common stock of CBOT Holdings). The Corporation shall purchase from such member as of the date specified in the resolutions of the Board such membership (and any associated common stock of CBOT Holdings) for consideration equal to the average of the highest bid and lowest offer for the applicable class of membership (and any associated common stock of CBOT Holdings) as reported by the Membership Department as of such date. If there is not both a bid and offer reported for the applicable class of membership (and any associated common stock of CBOT Holdings) as of such date, the consideration shall be equal to the last reported sale price for such class of membership (and any associated common stock of CBOT Holdings). All claims against, or amounts owed by, such member shall be settled in accordance with these Rules prior to the payment of any consideration under this Rule 257.00 to such member.

Ch2 Insolvency

270.00 Insolvency - A member, or any other person with trading privileges, who fails to perform his contracts, is insolvent, or is the subject of petition for bankruptcy, or whose membership is registered for a member firm which fails to perform its contracts, is insolvent, or is the subject of a petition for bankruptcy, shall immediately inform the Secretary in writing that he or his firm or corporation is unable to meet his or its engagements, and prompt notice thereof shall be given to the Association. Subject to the provisions of Regulation 540.06, he shall thereby become suspended from membership until, after having settled with his creditors or the creditors of his firm or corporation, he has been reinstated by the Board.

If a clearing member firm learns that any of the above-specified conditions apply to a member or member firm whose trades it clears, the clearing member firm must also immediately provide written notice thereof to the Secretary, and prompt notice thereof shall be given to the Association. For purposes of this provision, a clearing member firm will be deemed to have learned of such conditions, if a member who is registered for the firm, and is also a general partner of a partnership, an officer or director of a corporation, or a manager of a limited liability company, has actual knowledge thereof.

Nothing in this Rule shall preclude disciplinary action for the violation of any Rule or Regulation of the Association which contributed to the condition for which the person is suspended under this Rule. (06/1/00)

270.01 Restrictions on Operations - The Financial Compliance Committee shall advise the Chairman or Acting Chairman of the Board whenever it appears that a member, registered eligible business organization, wholly-owned affiliate of such member or registered eligible business organization or any other person with trading privileges is insolvent; is failing to meet the minimum capital requirements of the Association and cannot demonstrate its ability to achieve compliance; is in such financial condition that it cannot be permitted to continue in business with safety to its customers, its creditors, or the Association; or such other condition or practice exists which may adversely affect the safety of funds or positions carried for others. Upon the receipt of such advice, the Chairman or Acting Chairman may, subject to the provisions of Regulation 540.06, impose any restriction upon the operations of a member, registered eligible business organization, wholly-owned affiliate or any other person with trading privileges as he deems appropriate in the circumstances, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Restrictions upon the solicitation and or acceptances of new positions or new accounts;

(b) In the case of positions or funds not otherwise protected by law which are carried for the benefit of others, restrictions upon the uses to which such positions or funds may be applied, and

(c) Restrictions upon the carrying of funds or positions of others on an omnibus account basis.

Any member, registered eligible business organization, their wholly-owned affiliates, or persons with trading privileges failing or refusing to comply promptly with a restriction imposed by the Chairman shall be fined, suspended, or expelled by the Board.

Nothing in this Regulation shall preclude disciplinary action for the violation or any Rule or Regulation of the Association which contributed to the condition for which restrictions are imposed under this Regulation. 1794 (04/01/98)

271.00 Announcement of Suspension - Whenever a member, registered eligible business organization or any other person with trading privileges has been suspended pursuant to Regulation 540.06, the Secretary shall immediately announce to the Association the suspension of such member, eligible business organization, or other person. If such suspension is modified or rescinded after hearing, the Secretary shall announce the revised action to the membership. 120 (04/01/98)

272.00 Insolvent Member - When announcement is made of a suspension of a member, firm or corporation pursuant to the Rules and Regulations, members have Exchange contracts with the member, firm or corporation may proceed to close the same on the Exchange or in the best available market, except insofar as the By-Laws and Resolutions of the Clearing House are applicable and provide the method of closing. Should a contract not be closed, as above provided, the price of settlement shall be fixed by the Regulatory Compliance Committee.

Such suspended member, firm or corporation shall upon request of any customer immediately arrange for the transfer of each open position of such customer to such other person, firm or corporation as such customer may designate. 121 (08/01/94)

272.01 Bankruptcy of a Member or Non-Member - Whenever an order for relief under the Bankruptcy Code as defined in Regulation 272.02 is entered for a member, firm or corporation, or for a non-member, members having Exchange contracts with the bankrupt member or non-member may proceed to close the same on the Exchange in accordance with the provisions of Rule 272.00. (08/01/94)

272.02 Deliveries in Bankruptcy Situation -

(a) For purposes of this Regulation:

(i) The term "customer" shall mean any person for whom a member carries an Exchange futures contract except a non-public customer as that term is defined in CFTC Regulation 190.01(bb).

(ii) The term "debtor" shall mean any member with respect to which an order for relief is entered under the Bankruptcy Code.

(iii) The term "order for relief" means the filing of a petition in bankruptcy in a voluntary case and the adjudication of bankruptcy in an involuntary case.

(iv) The term "tender" with respect to a notice of delivery shall mean, in the case of a short clearing member that has presented such a notice to the Clearing Services Provider, the assignment of such notice by the Clearing Services Provider to a long clearing member, and, in the case of a long clearing member, the acceptance by such member of such notice from the Clearing Services Provider if such notice is not transferred by such long clearing member within the time permitted under the Rules of the Association or the Clearing Services Provider.

(b) This Regulation shall apply only in the event and under the circumstances set forth in paragraph (c) hereof, and only in the event that the opposite clearing member referred to in said paragraph (c) is not itself a debtor.

(c) Notwithstanding any provisions of the Exchange Rules or the policies, Rules or Regulations of the Clearing Services Provider to the contrary, the requirements set forth in this paragraph (c) shall apply in the event that any member becomes a debtor, and that at that time such member carries for a customer any Exchange futures contract in the current delivery month with respect to which the underlying physical commodity has not become a part of the debtor's estate on the date of the entry of the order for relief, and with respect to which:

(i) trading has ceased on the date of the entry of the order for relief; or (ii) notice of delivery has been tendered on or before the date of the entry of the order for relief; or

(iii) trading ceases before such futures contract can be liquidated by the trustee of the debtor's estate.

In such circumstances, any customer for whose account such member is holding any such futures contract shall make delivery of and receive payment for, or receive delivery of and make payment for, the physical commodity as required to fulfill such contract directly between the customer and the opposite clearing member identified by the Clearing Services Provider as the party to whom delivery should be made or from whom delivery should be taken by such customer, in accordance with the policies, Rules and Regulations of the Clearing Services Provider. Such opposite clearing member shall receive delivery of and make payment for, or make delivery of and receive payment for, such commodity in accordance with the policies, Rules and Regulations of the Clearing Services Provider; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall prevent such customer and such opposite clearing member from settling any such contract on such terms as may be mutually agreed upon.

(d) The making or taking of delivery or payment with respect to any futures contract in accordance with paragraph (c) shall discharge in full the obligations of such customer and such opposite clearing member to the debtor and to every other person with respect thereto, but shall not discharge the debtor from any of its obligations with respect to such contract except to the extent that such delivery or payment is made.

(e) Nothing contained in this Regulation shall relieve any customer of its obligation to make or take delivery under any Exchange futures contract for the sole reason that delivery must be made to or taken from a commodity broker which is a debtor. (01/01/04)

273.00 Investigation - Every person suspended under the provisions of Rule 270.00 shall immediately afford every facility required by the Office of Investigations and Audits for the investigation of his affairs, and shall, after the announcement of his suspension, file with the Office of Investigations and Audits a written statement covering all information required by the Office of Investigations and Audits, including a complete list of his creditors and amount owing to each. 122 (08/01/94)

273.01 Insolvency - When the Financial Compliance Committee from any preliminary investigations or otherwise, has reason to suspect that any member of the Association is threatened with insolvency, it shall co-operate with such member, in any feasible manner not contrary to the Rules and Regulations of the Association, to save such member from open and judicial bankruptcy. When this is not practicable, the Committee shall then take such other action as will in its judgment assist in securing a prompt, efficient, and economic administration of the member's assets for the bankrupt, as well as for the members of the Association and customers of such bankrupt, who are creditors. Nothing herein, however, shall authorize such Committee to bind the Association to any pecuniary obligation. 1815 (08/01/94)

274.00 Reinstatement - When a person suspended under the provisions of this Chapter applies for reinstatement, the Secretary shall make notice thereof available to the membership and shall post notice thereof, upon the bulletin board at least fifteen days prior to the consideration by the Board of such application. The applicant shall furnish to said Board the list of his creditors, a statement of the amounts originally owing and the nature of the settlement in each case. The application shall be heard in accordance with Regulation 540.03.

If the applicant fails to receive the approving vote of two-thirds of the members of the Board present, the applicant shall be entitled to be balloted for at two subsequent regular meetings of the Board to be designated by himself; provided, however, that the three ballots to which the applicant shall be entitled, shall be within six months from the date of his suspension, or until such time as the membership is sold, or within such further extended time for settlement as may have been granted by the Board. 124 (05/01/01)

275.00 Suspended or Expelled Member Deprived of Privileges - (See 561.00) (08/01/94)

276.00 Suspended Member-Time for Settlement - If a person suspended under the provisions of this Chapter fails to settle with his creditors and fails to apply for reinstatement within (30) thirty days from the date of his suspension, or within such further time as the Board may grant, or fails to obtain reinstatement as elsewhere herein provided, his membership may be disposed of by the Board in accordance with Rule 257.00.

The Board may, by a two-thirds vote of the members present, extend the time of settlement for periods not exceeding one year each. 123 (06/01/99)

277.00 Discipline During Suspension - (See 562.00) (08/01/94)

278.00 Suspension for Default - Where a member, or any other person with trading privileges, fails or refuses to (a) perform an Exchange contract with (b) pay obligations arising out of such contracts to another member, or (c) pay obligations owed to the Association, the defaulting member, on complaint of the other member or, in the case of a debt owed to the Association, of the Treasurer of the Association, shall, subject to the provisions of Regulation 540.06, be suspended until the contract is performed or the debt satisfied. Registered firms and corporations shall be deemed members under this Rule. Application for reinstatement shall allege, under oath, that all such debts have been discharged, and notice of such application shall be posted on the bulletin board fifteen days prior to the hearing of such application pursuant to Rule 274.00.

Nothing in this Rule shall preclude disciplinary action for the violation of any Rule or Regulation of the Association which contributed to the condition for which the member is suspended under this Rule. 130 (12/01/96)

278.01 Arbitration of Default - If the member alleged to be in default pursuant to Rule 278.00 denies the default, he shall be entitled to have the claim arbitrated. If the claim is admitted or established by a final arbitration award, the defaulting member shall be suspended until he has satisfied and discharged the debts owing to members on Exchange contracts. (08/01/94)

285.01 Financial Questionnaire - Each member, registered eligible business organization or wholly-owned affiliate of such member or registered eligible business organization shall furnish to the Business Conduct Committee or the Financial Compliance Committee, at such times as the Committee may designate, an answer to a financial questionnaire in such form as the Committee may prescribe. 1781 (04/01/98)

285.02 Audits - The Business Conduct or Financial Compliance Committee may require any member, registered eligible business organization or its wholly-owned affiliates carrying margin accounts for customers or transacting business involving the purchase and sale of cash commodities for customers, to cause to be made as of the date of an answer to a financial questionnaire, an audit of his or its assets, liabilities, accounts and affairs, including securities held for safekeeping, in accordance with such audit requirements as may be prescribed by said Committee, and to file with said Committee a statement to the effect that such an audit has been made and that the answers to the questionnaire are in accord therewith.

Such statement shall in the case of any such member of the Association not a partner of a registered partnership, a manager of a registered limited liability company, nor an officer of a registered corporation, be signed by such member. In the case of a registered partnership, such statement shall be signed by two general partners of the partnership, one of whom must be a member of the Association. In the case of a registered corporation, such statement shall be signed by at least two of the bona fide, active executive officers of the corporation, one of whom must be a member of the Association whose membership is registered on behalf of the corporation. In the case of a registered limited liability company, such statement shall be signed by at least two managers of the limited liability company, one of whom must be a member of the Association whose membership is registered on behalf of the limited liability company. In the case of a wholly-owned affiliate of a member, registered partnership, registered limited liability company or registered corporation, such statement must be signed as indicated above, as well as by an active executive officer of the wholly-owned affiliate. The statement must also certify that a copy of it has been made available to each general partner in the case of partnerships, to each of the members of a limited liability company and in the case of corporations each member of the Association whose membership is registered on behalf of the corporation.

The signature of a partner of such partnership, a member of such limited liability company or an officer of such corporation, may be waived by the Committee at the discretion of the Committee.

Such above statement shall in all cases be attested to by the auditors and a copy of the report of the audit signed by the auditors shall be retained as part of the books and records of the member, registered partnership or registered corporation. 1782 (04/01/98)

285.03 Notification of Capital Reductions - Any CBOT clearing member, or firm that has been approved to deliver against a CBOT contract must > notify the Exchange in writing within two business days of any event or series of events, including any withdrawal, advance, loan or loss that, on a net basis, causes a twenty percent (20%) or more reduction of its net capital, or in the case of a Sole Proprietor clearing member or an agricultural regular firm, its Net Worth as last reported by submission of a financial statement. (01/01/04)

285.04 Restrictions on Operations - (See 270.01) (08/01/94)

285.05 Financial Requirements -

A. All member firms that are registered as Futures Commission Merchants must comply with the requirements set forth in the following CFTC Regulations:

1. 1.10 - Financial reports

a. In addition to the requirements set forth in CFTC Regulation 1.10 each member FCM must:

1. File with the Exchange unaudited monthly financial statements including an unaudited monthly financial statement as of the firm's fiscal year end; and

2. Submit with the certified year-end financial statement a reconciliation between the certified financial statement and the unaudited monthly financial statement as of the firm's fiscal year end; and

3. For all financial statement filings, submit a Statement of Income (Loss) for the period between the date of the most recent financial statement or, at the option of the member, the most recent certified financial statement filed with the Exchange; and

4. Each member FCM must promptly submit to the Exchange, unless specifically exempted, copies of any financial statements (for example, Focus Reports) submitted to any other futures or securities exchange, self-regulatory organization, Clearing Services Provider or federal government agency.

b. Statement Certification and Attestation Requirements:

1. For a member FCM which is a registered partnership, financial report must be signed in a manner as determined by the Exchange (i.e. - electronic or manual) by the individual designated as the Chief Financial Officer (or as having these responsibilities), in accordance with Chicago Board of Trade Regulation 230.03(a), provided that he is a general partner.

2. For a member FCM which is any type of eligible business organization other than a partnership, financial reports must be signed in a manner as determined by the Exchange (i.e. - electronic or manual) by the individual designated as the Chief Financial Officer (or as having these responsibilities) in accordance with Chicago Board of Trade Regulation 230.03(a).

3. An attestation letter must accompany all audited financial reports which are filed with the Exchange, as well as any financial reports which are not filed electronically. The attestation letter must certify that copies of the financial reports must be made available to: (a) each member of the Chicago Board of Trade whose membership is registered for the FCM: (b) each individual designated by the FCM, in accordance with Regulation 230.03(a): and (c) each general partner in the case of a partnership.

4. The signature of the Chief Financial Officer, or the person who has these responsibilities, may be waived by the Exchange, at the discretion of the Exchange. In the event of such waiver, an FCM will be required, in the case of a partnership, to have a general partner sign the financial reports. In the case of any other type of eligible business organization, the FCM will be required to have the Chief Executive Officer sign the financial reports. In either event, this individual must either be a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, or must have been designated by the FCM, in accordance with Regulation 230.03(a).

5. Financial report audited by an independent public accountant must be attested to by the independent public accountant.

6. Financial reports which are filed through Exchange-approved electronic transmission must be accompanied by the CBOT assigned Personal Identification Numbers (PINS) of the authorized signers. The PIN number will constitute and become a substitute for the manual signature of the authorized signer to the electronically filed financial report. The PIN is a representation by the authorized signer that, to the best of his or her knowledge, all information contained in the statement being transmitted under the PIN is true, correct and complete.

7. The unauthorized use of a CBOT assigned Personal Identification Number for electronic attestation by an unauthorized party is forbidden.

2. 1.12 - Maintenance of minimum financial requirements by futures commission merchants; and

3. 1.16 - Qualifications and reports of accountants; and

4. 1.17 - Minimum financial requirements for futures commission merchants and introducing brokers; and

5. 1.18 - Records for and relating to financial reporting and monthly computation by futures commission merchants; and

6. 1.20 through 1.30 - Customers' Money, Securities, and Property; and

7. 1.32 - Segregated account; daily computation and record; and

8. 30.7 - Treatment of foreign futures or foreign options secured amount.

Notwithstanding the foregoing requirements, the CBOT may impose additional accounting, reporting, financial and/or operational requirements as determined necessary.

B. Each non-FCM Clearing Member firm must file with the Exchange a certified year-end financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year end. In addition, such a firm is also required to file, within 45 days of the statement dates, unaudited quarterly financial statements for each of the three quarters that do not end on the firm's year end.

C. Sole Proprietor Clearing Members must file with the Exchange unaudited quarterly financial statements within 45 days of the statement dates.

D. For firms that are regular to deliver agricultural products see Appendix 4E.

E. For firms that are regular to deliver Rough Rice see Appendix 37D.

In addition, any FCMs, Non-FCMs, or Sole Proprietors who are CBOT Clearing Members must comply with any additional minimum financial requirements or financial statement filing requirements imposed on such members by the Exchange, or by the Clearing Services Provider, pursuant to a Clearing Services Agreement.

Exchange staff may grant exceptions to the financial requirements imposed by this Regulation, unless required by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, for good cause, if it is determined that such exceptions will not jeopardize the financial integrity of the Exchange, or the Clearing Services Provider, as applicable. (10/01/03)

285.08 Financial Arrangements - Each member who makes an arrangement to finance his transactions must identify to the Exchange the source of the financing and its terms. The Exchange must be informed immediately of the intention of any party to terminate or change any such arrangement. (12/01/94)

285.09 Trading Associations - Each member who makes an arrangement to be on the floor of the Exchange for the purpose of making discretionary trading decisions and executing discretionary trades for a firm must ensure that the firm is registered as a member firm of the Exchange. (11/01/03)

286.00 Trades of Non-Clearing Members - On the first business day of each month each clearing member who is creditor of any member as a result of debts related to the conduct of business as a broker, trader or commission merchant shall report to the Business Conduct Committee the name of each member whose unsecured indebtedness to him is in the amount of five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more. The Business Conduct Committee is authorized to furnish to any clearing member, on written request, the names of all members or member firms, to whom a specified member is indebted as reported hereunder, and the names of members and member firms as reported pursuant to Rule 252.00(h).

The phrase "unsecured indebtedness" as used in the rules means the amount of indebtedness in excess of collateral security valued in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 3 and 4 of Regulation 431.02.

Failure of a member or member firm to report such indebtedness may be considered to be an act detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Association under the provisions of Rule 504.00 and may be relied on by the Board of Directors in deciding not to allow a claim for such indebtedness under Rules 252.00 and 253.00. (08/01/94)

287.00 Advertising - No member shall publish any advertisement of other than strictly legitimate business character. 604 (08/01/94)

291.00 GIM Membership Interest - A GIM Membership Interest is a personal right, which shall entitle the holder thereof to trade as principal and broker for others in all contracts listed in the GIM pursuant to Regulation 290.02. In addition, the holder of a GIM Membership Interest may communicate from the Floor of the Exchange with persons not on the Floor of the Exchange in the same manner as may members, but only with respect to contracts traded in the GIM. An eligible business organization may own a GIM Membership Interest on behalf of an individual nominee who is a full-time employee of the eligible business organization, provided that the Membership Committee determines that such GIM Membership Interest is needed by the eligible business organization to carry on its business at the Association and that all rights and obligations of the GIM Membership Interest shall remain the exclusive responsibility of the individual nominee. An eligible business organization which owns a GIM Membership Interest may transfer it from one nominee to another individual employee of the eligible business organization who has been duly approved for membership subject to the provisions of Regulation 249.01(b).

(A) A GIM Membership Interest shall not carry any voting rights on any matter which is the subject of a ballot vote of the general membership.

(B) GIM Membership Interest holders, annually, may elect a Committee consisting of 11 GIM Membership Interest holders, including a Chairman thereof. The Chairman of this Committee shall be liaison to the Chairman of the Board.

(C) In the event of full liquidation of the Association, the holder of a GIM Membership Interest shall share in the proceeds from dissolution in an amount equal to eleven percent (.11) of a full member's share. No holder of a GIM Membership Interest shall have the right to share in any other distribution made by the Association.

(D) No GIM Membership Interest shall carry with it the attributes of membership in the Association under the Fifth Article of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Chicago Board Options Exchange.

(E) Each holder of a GIM Membership Interest shall be responsible for paying all dues, fees and assessments that are applicable to full memberships for each GIM Membership Interest held.

(F) Each GIM Membership Interest may be sold or delegated according to the Rules and Regulations applicable to the sale and delegation of full and associate memberships. No GIM Membership Interest may be registered on behalf of an eligible business organization.

(G) Each person who seeks to purchase or be delegated a GIM Membership Interest shall make application according to the Rules and Regulations governing applications for full and associate membership. Each such applicant shall be considered eligible to assume the rights and obligations of a GIM Membership Interest according to the procedures and standards that apply to full and associate members, as set forth in the Rules and Regulations.

(H) Each holder of a GIM Membership Interest shall be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Association including all specific duties and obligations imposed on such holders by the Rules and Regulations, as well as those duties and obligations imposed upon members or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided however, the Board may exempt holders of GIM Membership Interests from any such duty or obligation which is incompatible with, or in conflict with or unrelated to the duties performed by them. All references to "members" and "membership" in the Rules and Regulations shall apply with equal force to holders of GIM Membership interest and GIM Membership Interests, respectively, unless superseded or specifically negated by this Rule or by Rule 290.00 or Rule 294.00 or the Regulations thereunder. (04/01/98)

292.00 IDEM Membership Interest - An IDEM Membership Interest is a personal right, which shall entitle the holder thereof to trade as principal and broker for others in all contracts listed in the IDEM pursuant to Regulation 290.03. In addition, the holder of an IDEM Membership Interest may communicate from the Floor of the Exchange with persons not on the Floor of the Exchange in the same manner as may full members, but only with respect to contracts traded in the IDEM. An eligible business organization may own an IDEM Membership Interest on behalf of an individual nominee who is a full-time employee of the eligible business organization, provided that the Membership Committee determines that such IDEM Membership Interest is needed by the eligible business organization to carry on its business at the Association and that all rights and obligations of the IDEM Membership Interest shall remain the exclusive responsibility of the individual nominee. An eligible business organization which owns an IDEM Membership Interest may transfer it from one nominee to another individual employee of the eligible business organization who has been duly approved for membership subject to the provisions of Regulation 249.01(b).

(A) An IDEM Membership Interest shall not carry any voting rights on any matter which is the subject of a ballot vote of the general membership.

(B) IDEM Membership Interest holders, annually, may elect a Committee consisting of 11 IDEM Membership Interest holders, including a Chairman thereof. The Chairman of this Committee shall be liaison to the Chairman of the Board.

(C) In the event of full liquidation of the Association, the holder of an IDEM Membership Interest shall share in the proceeds from dissolution in an amount equal to one-half of one percent (.005) of a full member's share. No holder of an IDEM Membership Interest shall have the right to share in any other distribution made by the Association.

(D) No IDEM Membership Interest shall carry with it the attributes of membership in the Association under the Fifth Article of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Chicago Board Options Exchange.

(E) Each holder of an IDEM Membership Interest shall be responsible for paying all dues, fees and assessments that are applicable to full memberships for each IDEM Membership Interest held.

(F) Each IDEM Membership Interest may be sold or delegated according to the Rules and Regulations applicable to the sale and delegation of full and associate memberships. No IDEM Membership Interest may be registered on behalf of a eligible business organization.

(G) Each person who seeks to purchase or be delegated an IDEM Membership Interest shall make application according to the Rules and Regulations governing applications for full and associate membership. Each such applicant shall be considered eligible to assume the rights and obligations of an IDEM Membership Interest according to the procedures and standards that apply to full and associate members, as set forth in the Rules and Regulations.

(H) Each holder of a IDEM Membership Interest shall be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Association including all specific duties and obligations imposed on such holders by the Rules and Regulations, as well as those duties and obligations imposed upon members or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided however, the Board may exempt holders of IDEM Membership Interests from any such duty or obligation which is incompatible with, or in conflict An eligible business organizationith or unrelated to the duties performed by them. All references to "members" and "membership" in the Rules and Regulations shall apply with equal force to holders of IDEM Membership Interest and IDEM Membership Interests, respectively, unless superseded or specifically negated by this Rule or by Rule 290.00 or Rule 294.00 or the Regulations thereunder. (04/01/98)

293.00 COM Membership Interests - A COM Membership Interest is a personal right, which shall entitle the holder thereof to trade as principal and broker for others in all contracts listed in the COM pursuant to Regulation 290.04. In addition, the holder of a COM Membership Interest may communicate from the Floor of the Exchange with persons not on the Floor of the Exchange in the same manner as may full members, but only with respect to options contracts traded in the COM. An eligible business organization may own a COM Membership Interest on behalf of an individual nominee who is a full-time employee of the eligible business organization, provided that the Membership Committee determines that such COM Membership Interest is needed by the eligible business organization to carry on its business at the Association and that all rights and obligations of the COM Membership Interest shall remain the exclusive responsibility of the individual nominee. An eligible business organization which owns a COM Membership Interest may transfer it from one nominee to another individual employee of the eligible business organization who has been duly approved for membership subject to the provisions of Regulation 249.01(b).

(A) A COM Membership Interest shall not carry any voting rights on any matter which is the subject of a ballot vote of the general membership.

(B) COM Membership Interest holders, annually, may elect a Committee consisting of 11 COM Membership Interest holders, including a Chairman thereof. The Chairman of this Committee shall be liaison to the Chairman of the Board.

(C) Upon the inception of options trading on the Exchange, and in the event of full liquidation of the Association, the holder of a COM Membership Interest shall share in the proceeds from dissolution in an amount equal to one-half of one percent (.005) of a full member's share. No holder of a COM Membership Interest shall have the right to share in any other distribution made by the Association.

(D) No COM Membership Interest shall carry with it the attributes of membership in the Association under the Fifth Article of the Certificate of Incorporation of the Chicago Board Options Exchange.

(E) Each holder of a COM Membership Interest shall be responsible for paying all dues, fees and assessments that are applicable to full memberships for each COM Membership Interest held.

(F) Each COM Membership Interest may be sold or delegated according to the Rules and Regulations applicable to the sale and delegation of full and associate memberships. No COM Membership Interest may be registered on behalf of an eligible business organization.

(G) Each person who seeks to purchase or be delegated a COM Membership Interest shall make application according to the Rules and Regulations governing applications for full and associate membership. Each such applicant shall be considered eligible to assume the rights and obligations of a COM Membership Interest according to the procedures and standards that apply to full and associate members, as set forth in the Rules and Regulations.

(H) Each holder of a COM Membership Interest shall be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Association including all specific duties imposed on such holders by the Rules and Regulations, as well as those duties and obligations imposed upon members or other approved persons under the Rules and Regulations; provided however, the Board may exempt holders of COM Membership Interests from any such duty or obligation which is incompatible with, or in conflict with or unrelated to the duties performed by them. All references to "members" and "membership" in the Rules and Regulations shall apply with equal force to holders of COM Membership Interest and COM Membership Interests, respectively, unless superseded or specifically negated by this Rule or by Rule 290.00 or Rule 294.00 or the Regulations thereunder.

Transfer Restrictions on GIM Memberships / One-Half Associate Memberships-At the Effective Time, each GIM Membership and one-half Associate Membership shall be subject to the restrictions, conditions and limitations set forth below.

(1) Non-Transferred GIM Memberships. Except as otherwise provided below, a holder of a GIM Membership that has not been sold or transferred prior to the Effective Time ("Non-Transferred GIM Memberships") may continue as a GIM Membership holder following the Effective Time with all the privileges and obligations such Membership entails. However, in the event that any Non-Transferred GIM Membership is sold or transferred after the Effective Time, such Non-Transferred GIM Membership shall be treated as a Transferred GIM Membership (as defined in clause (2) below). This limitation shall not apply when (x) the transferor is the estate of a deceased Non-Transferred GIM Membership holder and the transferee is the decedent's spouse and (y) the Non-Transferred GIM Membership has not already been transferred pursuant to this sentence.

Furthermore, a member firm may assign any GIM membership that it owns to two consecutive nominees following the nominee who was assigned such Membership as of January 26, 1986, and still retain the status of such membership as a Non-Transferred GIM Membership.

(2) Transferred GIM Memberships/One-Half Associate Memberships. One-half Associate Memberships and Non-Transferred GIM memberships that have been sold or transferred after the Effective Time in a manner other than as permitted in clause (1) above (collectively, "Transferred GIM Memberships") shall not be permitted to exercise the trading rights and privileges associated with the GIM Memberships.

None of the foregoing shall preclude the holders of Transferred GIM Memberships or Non-Transferred GIM Memberships from exercising their right to convert their GIM Membership into an one-half Associate Membership and to exchange two one-half Associate Memberships in exchange for an Associate Membership in accordance with the terms of Article IV D.3 of the Certificate of Incorporation.

Non-Transferred GIM Membership holder and the transferee is the decedent's spouse and (y) the Non-Transferred GIM Membership has not already been transferred pursuant to this sentence.

(2) Transferred GIM Memberships/One-Half Associate Memberships. One-half Associate Memberships and Non-Transferred GIM memberships that have been sold or transferred after the Effective Time in a manner other than as permitted in clause (1) above below (collectively, "Transferred GIM Memberships") shall not be permitted to exercise the trading rights and privileges associated with the GIM Memberships; provided that Transferred GIM Memberships shall retain the right to be converted into a one-half Associate Memberships, but shall have no further rights or privileges associated with the GIM Membership. Except as set forth below, Transferred GIM Memberships shall carry no privileges of a Membership, including but not limited to trading and voting privileges.

None of the foregoing shall preclude the holders of Transferred GIM Memberships or Non-Transferred GIM Memberships from exercising their right to convert their GIM Membership into an one-half Associate Membership and to redeem two one-half Associate Memberships in exchange for an Associate Membership.

Interpretation - The Board of Directors adopted the following on April 17, 1990 as a formal rule interpretation which confirms established Exchange practice:

"A person shall achieve Full Membership status (i.e. - Full Membership voting rights and trading privileges) only through the purchase of a Full Membership.

The foregoing shall not affect the existing Exchange provisions for the delegation, member firm transfer, or intra-family transfer of Full Memberships." (08/01/94)

Exchange Floor Operations and Procedures

Chapter 3
Exchange Floor Operations and Procedures

Ch3 Exchange Halls

300.00 Exchange Halls - The Board shall provide Exchange Halls which shall be open for trading during such hours as the Board of Directors shall designate. For the purpose of Exchange rules, Exchange Halls may be deemed to include an approved automated order entry facility. Complete jurisdiction over the Exchange Halls, all parts of the building and any automated systems of the Association is vested in the Board. 69 (08/01/94)

301.00 Admission to the Floor - No one but a member shall make any transaction or execute orders in securities or commodities traded in or upon the Floor of the Exchange. No one but a member shall be admitted to the Floor of the Exchange, except as provided by Regulations adopted by the Regulatory Compliance Committee. 259 (08/01/94)

301.01 Non-Members - No non-member shall be admitted to the Floor of the Exchange except as provided in this Chapter 3. Persons not wearing a valid badge shall not be admitted to the floor of the Exchange. 1370 (08/01/94)

301.02 Guest Badges - The Safety and Security Department may, upon application of a member, issue a badge to a guest of the Exchange or, upon its own initiative, issue a badge to a guest permitting access to the floor of the Exchange. 1371 (08/01/94)

301.03 Guests - All guests of a member shall be accompanied by a member while on the Exchange Floor and shall obey all Rules and Regulations respecting floor conduct established herein for members. Members shall be responsible for all violations of the Chicago Board of Trade Rules and Regulations committed by their guests and for resulting fines. 1372 (08/01/94)

301.04 Press - Annual courtesy cards to the Press, permitting admission to the Exchange Hall, may be issued and recalled by the written authorization of the Communications Department. 1373 (08/01/94)

301.05 Floor Clerks - With the prior approval of the Floor Conduct Committee, or designated Exchange staff pursuant to delegated authority, a non-member employee of a member or member firm registered under Rule 230.00 may be admitted to the Exchange Floor upon the payment by the employer of such periodic fees as may be established by the Finance Committee. No floor clerk shall be permitted to enter the Exchange Floor without a badge. Floor clerks may perform only such services and other clerical, telephone and informational duties as may be specifically permitted by the Regulatory Compliance Committee. (See Appendix 3B.)

Floor clerks are strictly prohibited from soliciting orders. Floor clerks may not be registered as an Associated Person except as provided in Regulation 301.07. They may communicate orders to the pit from their position or communications instrument by use of hand signals or verbal notification. When communicating orders in either fashion, a record must immediately be made and time-stamped in accordance with Regulation 465.01.

Floor clerks are not permitted to run on the Exchange Floor or in the corridors of the building and shall at all times maintain decorum. The Floor Conduct Committee may recall floor clerk badges for cause and may exclude from the Floor any non-member employee of any member.

The responsibility of conduct and appearance of employees on the Exchange Floor shall be that of the member employer.

Notwithstanding Rule 420.00, nonmembers holding a Floor Clerk badge or a Broker Assistant badge shall not have any interest whatsoever in a commodity futures or commodity options account which contains positions in contracts traded on the Exchange or the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange. No member or member firm may jointly hold such an account with a nonmember Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant, and no member firm may accept or carry any such account in which a nonmember Floor

Clerk or Broker Assistant holds any interest. Provided, however, that the following shall apply to any person who has Associate Membership, Membership Interest, or permit holder status on the Exchange or Membership status on the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange and who also holds a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge:

Such person shall not trade for, or carry in his account or an account in which he has any interest, any positions in contracts traded on the Exchange or the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange except for those contracts which he is entitled to trade as principal or broker for others by virtue of his Membership, Membership Interest or permit holder status as referenced above. However, a Member, Membership Interest Holder or permit holder who holds a Broker Assistant badge, and who stands in an area designated for broker assistants outside of a financial futures or financial options pit, may carry in his account or an account in which he has an interest, any positions in contracts traded on the Exchange or the MidAmerica Commodity Exchange, provided that the orders for such positions are placed through the normal customer order flow process.

These provisions shall not be interpreted to prohibit an individual from being employed as a Floor Clerk or a Broker Assistant simply because another family member is a member of the Exchange who trades for his or her own personal account, whether such individual is employed by the family member or by another member. However, Floor Clerks and Brokers Assistrants are strictly prohibited from initiating trades or advising on the initiation of trades for a family member's account or any other account.

Violations of this Regulation shall be cause for suspension or revocation of a person's floor access privileges and for suspension or expulsion of his employer, or such other action as the Floor Conduct Committee may deem appropriate, in accordance with the applicable procedures set forth in Chapter 5. In the event a floor clerk is registered as an Associated Person in violation of this Regulation, after notice and for good cause shown, the Floor Conduct Committee may cause such floor clerk's floor access keycard to be immediately deactivated and take whatever other disciplinary action it deems necessary consistent with this Regulation. Upon termination of the Associated Person status, a floor clerk's keycard may be reactivated.

A non-clearing member holding a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge shall be required to notify his Primary Clearing Member, as defined in Rule 333.00, of the name, address and immediate supervisor of the member or member firm by whom he is employed as a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant. Upon a Primary Clearing Member's revocation of clearing authorization in accordance with Rule 333.00(c), the Primary Clearing Member immediately shall give written notice to the member or member firm who employs a non-clearing member as a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant that the non-clearing member's clearing authorization has been revoked. A non-clearing member holding a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge shall be denied floor access privileges upon the revocation of clearing authorization by his Primary Clearing Member. The floor access privileges of a non-clearing member who holds a Floor Clerk or Broker Assistant badge may be reinstated upon the filing of a release with the Member Services Department by the non-clearing member's Primary Clearing Member in accordance with Rule 333.00(d). (04/01/97)

301.06 Floor Access by Annual Election Candidates and Non-Member (Public) Directors -

The following are permitted physical access to the Floor of the Exchange:
a) Candidates in the current year's Annual Election who:

- Have been nominated either by the Nominating Committee or by petition pursuant to Rule 102.00; and

- Do not already have Exchange Floor access by virtue of a membership privilege.

b) Non-member (public) Directors on the Association's Board.

Individuals who are admitted to the Exchange Floor pursuant to this regulation shall not be authorized thereby to execute trades or to perform any other functions which are reserved to members or clerks on the Exchange Floor. (06/01/00)

301.07 Floor Clerk-Special Badges - The Floor Conduct Committee, or designated Exchange staff pursuant to delegated authority, may issue special badges authorizing non-member employees of members or member firms to perform the duties of a "Floor Clerk" as defined in Regulation 301.05. Such authorization shall be for a specific period not to exceed two weeks. The Member Firm Staff Services Department shall maintain proper records of these authorizations.

When such non-member employees are Associated Persons, such authorization may be granted for a specific period not to exceed three business days but only if the employer demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Floor Conduct Committee, or designated staff pursuant to delegated authority, that it temporarily lacks enough available Floor Clerks to meet its business needs. No particular employee can be so authorized for more than three days in any calendar month. Applicants for membership may be issued special badges by the Exchange Services Department for a period of ten business days. (08/01/94)

301.08 Trainee Non-Members - The Floor Conduct Committee, or designated Exchange staff pursuant to delegated authority, shall, upon written request signed by a member and directed to the Secretary, issue badges to trainee non-member employees of members or member firms, authorizing admission of such trainees to the Exchange Hall. Such authorization shall be limited to a thirty-day period as to any trainee and no member or member firm shall be allowed to have more than one trainee on the Exchange Floor at any one time. Trainees may perform the duties of a "Floor Clerk" as defined in Regulation 301.05. The member or member firm which is the employer of the trainee shall be responsible for his conduct while he is on the Floor. The Member Firm Staff Services Department shall maintain proper records of these authorizations. No member or member firm shall use the provisions of this Regulation to avoid the purchase of a membership. 1377 (08/01/94)

301.10 Twenty-Five Year Member - When a member who has been a member for twenty-five years or more transfers his Membership privilege or delegates the rights and privileges of his Membership under Rule 221.00, said member shall be issued an Honorary Membership Badge by the Secretary's Office which will entitle the former member to access to the Trading Floor (with the exception of the Trading Pits), and to remain on the Association's mailing lists. 1379 (11/01/94)

301.11 AP - With the prior approval of the Floor Conduct Committee, or designated Exchange staff pursuant to delegated authority, an Associated Person and an applicant for membership may be admitted to the Floor of the Exchange for the limited purpose of observing various Floor activities of the members and other privileged non-members who have been allowed access to the Floor. Such admittance shall be limited to a period of two weeks (ten business days). 1380 (08/01/94)

301.12 Membership Floor Access Badges - Any member, membership interest holder or delegate whose floor access trading privileges have been revoked, suspended or lawfully discontinued for any reason must return the floor access membership badge and access card to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services Department within 30 days from the termination of floor access privileges. Any failure to comply with this Regulation will be referred to the Floor Conduct Committee.

Willful possession of a membership floor access badge or access cards by anyone not then entitled to the privileges of that membership shall be an act detrimental to the Association. (09/01/00)

305.00 Exchange Floor Fines - (See 519.00) and (See 520.00A) (08/01/94)

310.00 Time and Place for Trading - Dealings upon the Exchange shall be limited to the hours during which the Exchange is open for the transaction of business, and no member shall make any transaction in securities with another member except at the post designated for the particular security in which the transaction is made and no member shall make any transaction for future delivery of a commodity except in the pit assigned to trading in such commodity, except as provided in Regulations 331.05, 444.01, 444.03, and Chapter 9B. No member shall make, in the rooms of the Association, a transaction with a non-member, in any commodity or in any security admitted to dealing on the Exchange; but this Regulation shall not apply to transactions with an employee of the Association or of the Clearing Services Provider engaged in carrying out arrangements approved by the Regulatory Compliance Committee to facilitate the borrowing and lending of money. 258 (01/01/04)

310.01 Access to Trading Pit - Trading in any commodity or option thereon shall be limited to an area specified by the Exchange Services Department. Non-members shall not be authorized to enter the trading areas except as otherwise provided in the Rules and Regulations. (08/01/94)

311.00 Hours for Trading - (See 1007.00) (08/01/94)

311.00A Hours for Trading - Your Rules and Floor Committees have given careful consideration to reports of trading outside of the hours prescribed and recommend enforcement of Rule 1007.00. We feel that disciplinary action is warranted on any infractions.

Strict observance of the above requires that after the closing bell no orders should be transmitted to the Floor, nor should any orders be accepted by brokers for filling, nor should any public wire orders be sent to the pit,-all such being reported back to senders 'received too late, market closed.'

All members should caution clients who want orders filled on or near the close to enter such orders to be filled 'about the close,' so that the broker may handle them properly. On the last trading day of a current month it is essential that all orders to close contracts reach the traders in sufficient time to permit filling without congestion.

Members who trade the options underlying the Soybean Meal, Soybean Oil, Oat and Silver Futures markets may enter futures orders during the respective futures markets' "closing call rotations" providing that the futures orders are entered for the purpose of hedging an option position. 13R (04/01/99)

312.01 Holidays - The following days are declared to be holidays, to wit: New Year's Day (January 1), Martin Luther King, Jr. Day (3rd Monday in January), Washington's Birthday (3rd Monday in February), Good Friday, Memorial Day (last Monday in May), Independence Day (July 4), Labor Day (1st Monday in September), Thanksgiving Day (4th Thursday in November) and Christmas Day (December 25).

When any such holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday next following shall be considered such holiday. When any such holidays fall on Saturday, the Friday immediately preceding shall be considered such holiday. 1937 (12/01/99)

313.00 Sundays or Holidays - When a contract in commodities matures on Sunday, or on a holiday, performance thereof shall be made on the preceding business day. 256 (08/01/94)

320.02 Wire and Other Connections - The privilege of telephonic or other wire connection between the office of a member and the Exchange shall not be enjoyed as a right of the member, but shall rest in the discretion of the Exchange.

The Exchange, in its discretion may grant or withhold such privilege from a member, and, in its discretion, without being obliged to assign any reason or cause for its action, may disconnect or cause to be disconnected any apparatus or means for such communication or may deprive any member of the privilege of using any public telephone or means of communication installed by the Exchange for the use of members. This Regulation shall not apply to wire or other connections relating to the Exchange's e-cbot system. 1031 (09/01/00)

320.03 Decisions of Exchange - Every decision of the Exchange, whereby a member is deprived of any such privilege, shall be immediately posted upon the bulletin board in the Exchange, and every member shall be deemed to have notice thereof.

No member shall, after such notice shall have been posted directly or indirectly furnish to the member named therein any facilities for communication between the office of the member so named and the Floor of the Exchange or between the office of the member so named and the office of any other member. 1032 (10/01/94)

320.04 Consent Required for Wires - No member shall establish or maintain wire connection of any description whatsoever or permit wireless communication between his office and the office of any nonmember corporation, firm, or individual transacting a banking or brokerage business, without having first obtained the approval of the Exchange therefor.

The applications for such connections or means of communication shall be in a form prescribed by the Exchange.

The use of public telephone or telegraph service in such manner as to amount to private connection shall be deemed to be within this Regulation. 1033 (08/01/94)

320.05 Registration with Exchange - Every such means of communication shall be registered with the Exchange, together with the telegraphic, telephonic, or wireless calls used in connection therewith; the Exchange may make such requirements governing said matters as it shall deem necessary or desirable. 1034 (08/01/94)

320.06 Notice of Discontinuance of Communications - Notice of the discontinuance of any such means of communication shall be promptly given to the Exchange; and the Exchange shall have power, at any time in its discretion, to order any such means of communication discontinued.

No such communication shall be other than by means of a wire or wireless system approved by the Exchange. 1035 (08/01/94)

320.08 Conduct of Private Offices - The Exchange is empowered to examine into the conduct of all private offices or places of business receiving the continuous market quotations of the Association, and, in such places where the Exchange shall deem the continuance of such service detrimental to the best interests of this Association, the Exchange shall forthwith order a discontinuance of the quotations and shall report the facts immediately to the Finance Committee, which shall take whatever further action is necessary to uphold the good name and dignity of this Association. 1040 (08/01/94)

320.09 Telephone Wires and Television - No member of this Association shall, by messenger, signal, telephone, telegraph, or any other means whatsoever, convey or transmit continuously the market quotations from the Floor of the Exchange to any person, firm, or corporation located off the Floor of the Exchange, except with the permission and pursuant to the requirements of the Exchange. This does not prohibit ordinary conversation where dissemination of quotations is not contemplated.

Such permission for telephone wires, if granted, shall be subject to charges as prescribed by Regulation 320.13. Such permission for closed-circuit television, if granted, shall be subject to charges as may be prescribed by the Finance Committee. 1041 (08/01/94)

320.12 Radio Broadcasting -

(a) No member, firm, corporation or employee thereof shall transmit, by any kind of radio service, any market quotations, either securities, futures, cash grain on spot or to arrive, or any market information or gossip without the approval of the Exchange.

(b) No quotations except those prevailing at the opening of the market; and at each thirty minutes thereafter; and at the close of the market, may be used for broadcasting.

(c) Radio broadcasting stations must name the periods at which the quotations prevailed and designate them as furnished by the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago.

(d) No member, firm, corporation, or employee thereof shall in any manner claim or be given credit for furnishing information for radio service, except as provided in section (c) of this Regulation.

(e) Upon application, the Exchange may grant permission to individuals, firms, corporations, or employees thereof, to furnish the quotations of this Association to radio stations. The name of the individual, firm, corporation, or employees thereof, may be mentioned at the beginning and at the end of each period at which quotations are broadcast. In case there is more than one request to furnish this service at any location, the Exchange may divide the time equally upon a yearly basis. 1044 (08/01/94)

320.13 Commodity and Commodity Option Quotations - The transmission by private wire or other means of market quotations of any commodity or commodity option made on the Exchange shall be subject to the approval and control of the Exchange. Such quotations shall include all bids, asks, and market prices of any commodity or commodity option traded on the Exchange each business day between the opening of trading in such commodity or option and until thirty minutes after the close of such trading. Such quotations constitute valuable property of the Board of Trade which are not within the public domain. The transmission and receipt of such quotations shall be subject to such conditions, including the payment of applicable fees, as the Exchange shall impose. Failure to comply with such conditions shall subject any member receiving or distributing such quotations to disciplinary action including suspension from the Association. (08/01/94)

320.14 Transactions Made at other than Current Market - Transactions made at a price above that at which the same futures contract or options series is offered, or below that at which such futures or options contract is bid, are not made at the current market price for such futures or options contracts and shall be disallowed by the action of any two members of the relevant Pit Committee. If so disallowed, such transactions shall not be reported or recorded by the Exchange or, if already reported, shall be cancelled. A determination on whether a price(s) should be disallowed must be made within 10 minutes after the Pit Committee has been notified that the price has been called into question, otherwise the quote(s) in question must stand. A determination pursuant to this Regulation to disallow a transaction shall be final. (05/01/97)

320.15 Market Quotations - The reporter in each pit shall be the judge of what constitutes a proper range of quotations to be sent out, subject to the supervision of the Pit Committee in the respective pits.

Quotations sent out must be based on transactions made in the open market. The term "open market" means a bid or an offer openly and audibly made by a public outcry and in such a manner as to be open to all members in the pit at the time.

It is not permissible for members to reform a trade by changing the price at which orders have been filled, nor to report as filled orders that have not been filled. Any quotations based on a transaction made in the open market, already distributed or sent out over the wire, shall not be cancelled except as provided by Regulations 320.17, 320.18 and 320.14. (08/01/94)

320.16 Fast Quotations - Whenever price fluctuations in the pit(s) are rapid and the volume of business is large, the pit reporter, upon authorization of the Pit Committee Chairman or his designated representative from the Pit Committee, shall cause the "FAST" symbol to be used in conjunction with all Exchange quotation displays and records. (The "FAST" symbol shall be abbreviated "F" when used on Exchange quotation and display devices.) The Pit Committee shall determine at what time "FAST" market conditions began and terminated. When a market is designated "FAST", the Pit Reporter shall endeavor to activate a "FAST" market indicator clearly visible to the entire trading floor.

All prices in the range between those quoted immediately prior to and immediately following the "FAST" market designation are considered officially quoted whether or not such prices actually appear as trades on Exchange quotation displays and records. There shall be no discontinuances.

The consequence of "FAST" market conditions is that a penetrated limit order may not be able to be executed at the specified limit price.

In the event that a dispute arises concerning the execution of an order, the fact that a market was designated "FAST" shall constitute evidence that market conditions were rapid and volatile. A "FAST" designation does not nullify or reduce the obligations of the floor broker to execute orders with due diligence according to the terms of the order. Trading activities which violate the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange remain violations under "FAST" market conditions. (08/01/94)

320.17 Authority of Pit Committees over Quotation Changes and Insertions -

(a) The Pit Committee Chairmen, Vice Chairmen or their Pit Committee designees may change an opening range only within 30 minutes after the opening of the commodity.

(b) The Pit Committee Chairmen, Vice Chairmen or their Pit Committee designees may change a closing range only within 15 minutes after the closing of the commodity.

(c) The Pit Committee Chairmen, Vice Chairmen or their Pit Committee designees may authorize the insertion of a quotation which affects a high or low at any time prior to 15 minutes after the closing of the commodity.

(d) The Pit Committee Chairmen, Vice Chairmen or their Pit Committee designees may authorize any quotation change or insertion which does not affect an open, high, low or close at any time prior to the opening of the commodity on the next business day.

No Pit Committee member may authorize any quotation change, insertion or cancellation, if such individual has a personal or financial interest in such change, insertion or cancellation.

All quotation changes, insertions, or cancellations must be authorized by at least two Pit Committee members. However, if there is only one Pit Committee member who does not have a personal or financial interest in a change, insertion or cancellation, that one Pit Committee member may authorize such change, insertion or cancellation.

When a Pit Committee member is requested to authorize a quotation change, insertion or cancellation, the relevant pit shall be notified of such request. 1037 (09/01/96)

320.17B Authority of Pit Committees over Quotation Changes and Insertions - Futures Options (Puts and Calls) - In respect to Quotation Changes and Insertions under Regulation 320.17, the Pit Committee may change a closing range only within 30 minutes after the close of each Futures Options contract (Puts and Calls) and may authorize the insertion of a quotation which affects a high and low at any time prior to 30 minutes after the close of each Futures Options contract (Puts and Calls). (08/01/94)

320.18 Authority of the Market Report Department and the Regulatory Compliance Committee over Quotation Changes and Insertions -

(a) The Market Report Department may review and authorize any request for a quotation change or insertion which was not reviewed by the Pit Committee or which is not encompassed by Regulation 320.17.

320.19 Opening and Closing Orders - For open outcry Regular Trading Hours, orders entered prior to or on the opening (or resumption) of the market, as applicable and orders effected by such opening (or resumption) orders, as applicable shall not be required to be executed at a specified price due to the unique and rapid market conditions existing during an opening or a resumption. Similarly, orders entered for execution on the close of the market and orders effected by such closing orders shall not be required to be executed at a specific price due to the unique and rapid market conditions existing during a close.

If stop orders are elected within the opening or resumption range, floor brokers who are unable to execute those orders within the opening or resumption range, as applicable, while diligently acting in conformity with the rules and regulations of the Association, shall not be held liable. Stop orders elected during the opening (or resumption) range automatically become market orders and should be executed at the prevailing market, which may or may not be within the opening (or resumption) range. If stop orders are elected within the closing range, floor brokers who are unable to execute such orders, while diligently acting in conformity with the rules and regulations of the Association, shall not be held liable. (09/01/98)

321.00 Price Limits - The Regulatory Compliance Committee at any time, upon ten hours' notice by Regulation, may provide that there shall be no trading during any day in any grain, provisions, or cottonseed oil for delivery in any specified month at prices more than a fixed limit above or below the average closing price of the preceding business day. 83 (C.R. 1008.01) (08/01/94)

325.02 Foreign Crop Reports - When a member, employing a crop reporter, receives from the reporter a statement concerning foreign crop conditions to which publicity is given, the member shall file immediately a verbatim copy of the report in the office of the Secretary. 1802

330.00 Floor Brokers - A member, who executes orders for another member and who is not a clearing member, must immediately give up the name of a clearing member. A floor broker trading for a member shall be liable as principal for the performance of the contract except that in the case of commodities his liability shall terminate when the transaction is accepted by the principal. 200 (01/01/04)

330.00A Brokers and Clearing Members - Trades between clearing members must be confirmed within one hour by depositing at the office of the Clearing Services Provider a check slip or memorandum giving the name of the buyer and seller, the commodity sold, the amount thereof, the delivery month, and the purchase price. 4R (01/01/04)

330.01 Floor Broker and Floor Trader Registration - No member may execute any trade on the floor of the Exchange for any other person unless the member is registered or has been granted a temporary license as a floor broker, nor may a member execute any trades on the floor of the Exchange for his or her own account unless the member is registered or has been granted a temporary license as a floor trader, or has been granted a temporary license as a floor broker to act as a floor trader, in accordance with Section 4f of the Commodity Exchange Act and Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulations 3.11 and 3.40, and such temporary license or registration has not been terminated, revoked or withdrawn.

A floor broker or floor trader shall be prohibited from engaging in any activities requiring registration, or from representing himself to be registered or the representative or agent of any registrant, during the period of any suspension of registration or membership privileges or the denial of floor access. Willful failure to comply with this Regulation may be deemed an act detrimental to the interest of the Association. (08/01/94)

330.02 Maintenance of Floor Broker and Floor Trader Registration - Each member registered as a floor broker or floor trader must promptly submit to the Exchange any changes in the information contained in such member's registration application (Form 8-R) or any supplement thereto. All floor brokers and floor traders must review their registration information every three years in accordance with Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("CFTC") Regulation 3.11(d). Additionally, the Exchange shall periodically require such members to confirm that their floor broker registration applications contain complete and accurate information.

Requests for withdrawal of floor broker or floor trader registration must be made on Form 8-W and filed with the National Futures Association and the Association in accordance with CFTC Regulation 3.33.

All registered floor brokers and floor traders must comply with Appendix B to Part 3 of the CFTC's Regulations - Statement of Acceptable Practices with respect to Ethics Training. In this regard, all registered floor brokers and floor traders shall become familiar with, and keep abreast of changes to, the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, rule interpretations issued by the Exchange, and relevant provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act and CFTC Regulations. (12/01/01)

330.03 Broker Associations - Two or more Exchange members with floor trading privileges, of whom at least one is acting as a floor broker, shall be required to register with the Exchange as a Broker Association, within ten days after establishment of the Broker Association, if they: (1) engage in floor brokerage activity on behalf of the same employer, (2) have an employer and employee relationship which relates to floor brokerage activity, (3) share profits and losses associated with their brokerage or trading activity, or (4) regularly share a deck of orders.

The Broker Association shall file its registration statement in a form provided by the Exchange. Such registration statement shall specifically disclose whether the members of the broker association share commissions, profits, losses or expenses associated with their brokerage or trading activity with each other or with any other individual or entity. In addition, such registration statement shall disclose whether or not the members of the broker association have any other business relationships with one another, whether related or unrelated to Exchange business. Members of the broker association shall be required to provide information regarding such other business relationships, including books and records relating to such businesses, upon the request of OIA. Any registration information provided to the Exchange which becomes deficient or inaccurate must be updated or corrected promptly.

A member of a Broker Association shall be prohibited from receiving or executing an order unless the Broker Association is registered with the Exchange.

Members of a broker association may not share profits or losses associated with their personal trading activity by direct or indirect means.

No registered broker association or member thereof shall permit a non-member or non-member firm to have any direct or indirect profit or ownership interest in a registered broker association. Moreover, no registered broker association or member thereof shall permit a member who is not involved in the pre-execution or execution of customer orders to have any direct or indirect profit or ownership interest in a registered broker association.

The Board may establish limits on the percentage of trading between a member of a broker association and (1) other members of broker associations with which he is affiliated; or (2) members of other broker associations which are positioned contiguously to his broker association in the trading pit.

Any such limits established by the Board shall take account of liquidity and such other conditions, from contract to contract, and shall only apply to the most active month or months of any contract. Compliance shall be measured separately for each full calendar month.

The Regulatory Compliance Committee may grant exceptions to the percentage limits on intra-association or contiguous association trading in circumstances where a broker association can demonstrate that compliance with the limits may reduce liquidity or impede the creation of new business in the affected market. (04/01/98)

330.04 Registration of Members Trading in U.S. Treasury Bond Futures - Each Exchange member with floor trading privileges who customarily stands on the top step of the U.S. Treasury Bond futures pit shall be required to register with the Exchange, identifying his affiliation, location and occupation or duties. Such individuals shall file their registration statements in a form provided by the Exchange. Any registration information provided to the Exchange which becomes deficient or inaccurate must be updated or corrected promptly. (09/01/94)

331.01 Price of Execution Binding - The price at which a transaction for commodities is executed on the Exchange shall be binding. A member shall not guarantee the price of execution to any customer, but a floor broker's or clearing firm's error in the handling of a customer order may be resolved by a monetary adjustment or in accordance with Regulation 350.04. 1841 (03/01/04)

331.01a Acceptable Orders - Market orders to buy or sell, closing orders to buy or sell, spread orders, straight limit orders to buy or sell, and straight stop orders to buy or sell shall be permitted during the last day of trading in an expiring future. Time orders, contingency orders of all kinds, market on close intermonth spread orders involving an expiring future and cancellations that reach the Trading Floor after 11:45 a.m. on the last day of trading in an expiring future may involve extraordinary problems and hence will be accepted solely at the risk of the customer. This Regulation shall only apply to open outcry Regular Trading hours. 32R (09/01/98)

331.02 Acceptable Orders - The following orders are acceptable for execution in this market.

(1). Market order to buy or sell - A market order is an order to buy or sell a stated amount of commodity futures contracts at the best price obtainable.

(2). Closing orders to buy or sell - A closing order to buy or sell is a market order which is to be executed at or as near the close as practicable or on the closing call in a call market.

(3). Limit order to buy or sell - A limit order is an order to buy or sell a stated amount of commodity futures contracts at a specified price, or at a better price, if obtainable.

(4). Stop order to buy or sell - A stop order to buy becomes a market order when the stop price is bid or a transaction in the commodity futures contracts occurs at or above the stop price. A stop order to sell becomes a market order when the stop price is offered or a transaction in the commodity futures contract occurs at or below the stop price.

(5). Stop limit order to buy or sell (where the price of the limit is the same as the stop price only) - A stop limit order to sell becomes a limit order executable at the limit price or at a better price, if obtainable when a transaction in the commodity futures contract is offered or occurs at or below the stop price. A stop limit order to buy becomes a limit order executable at the limit price or at a better price, if obtainable when a transaction in the commodity futures contract is bid or occurs at or above the stop price.

(6). DRT ("Disregard Tape" or "Not Held") Order - An order giving the floor broker complete discretion over price and time in execution of a trade, including discretion to execute all, some or none of the order. It is understood the floor broker accepts such an order solely at the risk of the customer on a "not held" basis.

(7). All-Or-None order to buy or sell - An order to be executed only for its entire quantity at a single price and with a size at or above a predetermined threshold. Such orders must be executed in accordance with Regulation 331.03.

Orders other than those listed above will be accepted solely at the broker's discretion on a not held basis. This Regulation shall only apply to Regular and Night trading hours. (07/01/00)

331.03 All-Or-None Transactions - Board of Directors shall determine the minimum thresholds for and the commodities in which All-Or-None transactions shall be permitted. The following provisions shall apply to All-Or-None trading:

(a) A member may request an All-Or-None bid and/or offer for a specified quantity at or in excess of the applicable minimum threshold designated. The request shall be made during the hours of regular trading in the appropriate trading area.

(b) A member may respond by quoting an All-Or-None bid or offer price. A bid or offer in response to an All-Or-None request shall be made only when it is the best bid or offer in response to such request, but such price need not be in line with the bids and offers currently being quoted in the regular market.

(c) A member shall not execute any orders by means of an All-Or-None transaction unless the order includes specific instructions to execute an All-Or-None transaction or the All-Or-None bid offer is the best price available to satisfy the terms of the order.

(d) An All-or-None bid or offer may be accepted by one or more members provided that the entire quantity of the All-or-None order is executed at a single price and that each counterparty to the order accepts a quantity at or in excess of the designated minimum counterparty threshold. Each order executed opposite an All-or-None order must be for a quantity that meets or exceeds the minimum counterparty threshold. Separate orders may not be bunched to meet the minimum counterparty threshold.

(e) The price at which an All-Or-None transaction is bid, offered or executed will not elect conditional orders (e.g., limit orders, stop orders, etc.) in the regular market or otherwise affect such orders.

(f) All-or-None transactions must be reported to the reporter in each pit who shall designate the price quotes for All-Or-None transactions as All-or-None price quotes.

(g) Under no circumstances shall All-or-None orders to buy and sell both be executed in their entirety opposite each other.

(h) All-or-None transactions are permitted in the following contracts subject to the listed minimum quantity threshold.

Contract	All-or-None Minimum	Counterparty Minimum
10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures	1,000	100
10-Year Interest Rate Swap/ 10-Year T-Note spread	7,500	250
10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options	1,000	100
5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures	1,000	100
5-Year Interest Rate Swap/ 5-Year T-Note spread	1,000	100
5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options	1,000	100

2-Year Treasury Note futures	200	50
10-Year Municipal Note Index futures	100	25
5-Year Treasury Note futures	2,000	10% of order
5-Year Treasury Note/ 10-Year Treasury Note futures spread	2,000	10% of order
30 Day Fed Funds futures (All-or-None orders may be executed only in contract months that have less than 30,000 contracts of open interest.)	1,000	100
2-Year Treasury Note futures options (including inter-commodity and intra-commodity spreads)	2,500	100
5-Year Treasury Note futures options (including inter-commodity and intra-commodity spreads)	2,500	100
10-Year Treasury Note Futures Options (including inter-commodity and intra-commodity spreads.)	2,500	100
30-Year Treasury Bond futures options (including inter-commodity and intra-commodity spreads)	2,500	100

All-or-None intra-commodity spread transactions may be executed in permitted contracts provided that each leg of the spread meets the All-or-None threshold for that contract. However, All-or-None intra-commodity spreads and inter-commodity spreads involving 10-Year Treasury Note Futures Options may be executed provided that at least one 10-Year Treasury Note Option leg of the spread order meets the designated All-or-None minimum order quantity and that one leg of each such spread transaction meets the designated counterparty minimum. (04/01/04)

331.04 Execution of Simultaneous Buy and Sell Orders for Different Account Owners - A member who has received both buying and selling orders from different account owners for the same commodity and the same delivery month or, for options, the same option, may execute such orders for and directly between such account owners provided that the member shall first bid and offer openly and competitively by open outcry at the same price, stating the number of contracts. If neither the bid nor the offer is accepted within a reasonable time, the orders may then be matched by the member in the presence of a member of the Pit Committee. If either the bid or the offer is accepted in part, the remainder of the orders may be matched pursuant to the requirements of this Regulation. The member making the trade shall clearly identify it on the order or other document used to record the trade, shall note thereon the time of execution to the nearest minute, and shall present such record to such member of the Pit Committee for verification and initialing. (10/01/02)

331.05 Block Trade Transactions - The Board of Directors may designate any contract initially listed for trading on or after December 31, 1999 as eligible for Block Trade transactions under this Regulation 331.05 and shall determine the minimum size thresholds for the contracts in which Block Trade transactions are permitted. In determining the minimum size threshold, the Board of Directors shall take into consideration (to the extent available) the size distribution of transactions in the contract, the size distribution of transactions in the related cash or over-the-counter markets, and all other information relevant to transaction size in the relevant contract. The hours of operation of the Block Trade facility shall be determined by the Board of Directors.

Members may enter into transactions outside of the Exchange's central markets, at prices mutually agreed, with respect to contracts that have been designated by the Exchange for such purpose, provided that the following conditions are satisfied:

a) Each buy or sell order underlying a Block Trade must (i) state explicitly that it is to be, or may be, executed by means of a Block Trade and (ii) be at least for the minimum transaction size as determined by the Board of Directors. Orders may not be aggregated in order to achieve the minimum transaction size.

b) The price at which a Block Trade is executed must be fair and reasonable in light of (i) the size of such Block Trade; (ii) the price and size of other trades in the same contract at the relevant time; and (iii) the price and size of trades in other relevant markets, including without limitation the underlying cash market or other related futures markets, at the relevant time. The price at which a Block Trade is executed shall not affect conditional orders such as limit orders or stop orders. The price at which a Block Trade is executed shall not be used in establishing settlement prices.

c) Each nonmember customer to a Block Trade transaction must qualify as an "eligible contract participant", as that term is defined in Section 1a (12) of the Commodity Exchange Act, provided that, if any Block Trade is entered into on behalf of customers by a commodity trading advisor registered under the Act, including without limitation any investment advisor registered as such with the Securities and Exchange Commission that is exempt from regulation under the Act or Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulations thereunder, or a foreign person performing a similar role or function subject as such to foreign regulation, with total assets under management exceeding $50 million, the individual customers need not so qualify.

d) Each Block Trade executed pursuant to this Regulation must be cleared through the clearing members. Information identifying the relevant contract, contract month, price, quantity, time of execution and counterparty clearing member for each Block Trade must be reported to the Exchange within five minutes immediately following execution of such Block Trade. The Exchange will publicize information identifying the trade as a Block Trade and identifying the relevant contract, contract month, price, and quantity for each Block Trade immediately after such information has been reported to the Exchange.

e) Each clearing member and member that is party to a Block Trade shall record the following details on its order ticket: the contract (including the delivery or expiry month) to which such Block Trade relates; that the trade is a Block Trade; the number of contracts traded; the price of execution; the time of execution; the identity of the counterparty; and, if applicable, details regarding the customer for which the Block Trade was executed. Upon request by the Exchange, such clearing member or member shall produce satisfactory evidence, including without limitation the order ticket referred to in the preceding sentence, that the Block Trade meets the requirements set forth in this Regulation. (09/01/03)

332.00 Orders Must Be Executed in The Public Market - All orders received by any member of this Association, firm or corporation, doing business on Change, to buy or sell for future delivery any of the commodities dealt in upon the Floor of the Exchange (except when in exchange for cash property or when executed pursuant to Regulation 331.05) must be executed competitively by open outcry in the open market in the Exchange Hall during the hours of regular trading and, except as specifically provided in Regulations 331.03, 331.04, 331.05 and 350.10, under no circumstances shall any member, firm or corporation assume to have executed any of such orders or any portion thereof by acting as agent for both buyer and seller either directly or indirectly, in their own name or that of an employee, broker or other member of the Association; provided, that on transactions where brokers as agents for other members meet in the execution of orders in the open market and without prearrangement unintentionally consummate a contract for the one and same clearing member principal, such transactions shall not be considered in violation of this Rule. 202A (07/01/03)

332.01 Open Market Execution Requirement - All futures transactions resulting in change of ownership (except those involving the exchange of futures in cash transactions) must be made in the open market in the manner prescribed by Rules 332.00 and 310.00. 1866 (08/01/94)

332.01A Bidding and Offering Practices - Bidding and offering practices on the Floor of the Exchange must at all times be conducive to competitive execution of orders, as required by Rule 332.00. Bids or offers of 'all the way to,' 'all you have up (or down) to, 'everything you have up (or down) to,' and similar expressions, are not conducive to competitive execution of orders, and are expressly deemed to be in violation of Rule 332.00. 47R (08/01/94)

332.01B Conformation with Section 1.39 of The Commodity Exchange Act - The Board of Directors at their regular meeting held on Tuesday, September 6th, 1955, ruled that inasmuch as the Chicago Board of Trade has no Rule that conforms to Section 1.39 of the Commodity Exchange Act, Rule 332.00 of the Board's Rules and Regulations prevails. 28R (08/01/94)

332.02 Trade Data - Each member executing transactions on the Floor of the exchange shall enter or cause to be entered on the record of those transactions an indicator designating the time bracket within the trading session in which each execution occurred. Each clearing member shall enter only the bracket information submitted to the clearing member by the member executing the trades in the designated form on the record of transactions submitted to the Clearing Services Provider. The brackets and their designations will be as follows:

7:00-7:15 a.m.	A	11:30-11:45 a.m.	S	5:00-5:15 p.m.	A

11:15-11:30 a.m.	R			9:15-9:30 p.m.	R

The first time bracket in the trading session of each respective commodity will be less than 15 minutes, as determined by the Regulatory Compliance Committee for each particular contract, and will be designated by a "dollar" sign "$".

The last time bracket in the trading session of each respective commodity will be one minute or less, as determined by the Regulatory Compliance Committee for each particular contract, and will be designated by a "percent" sign "%"; provided however, that each respective contract market's close may be expanded or reduced by an amount of time which shall not exceed one minute due to unique market conditions on a particular trade date as determined in the discretion of each commodity's Pit Committee; any closing period other than that established by the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall be communicated to the market at least five minutes prior to the commencement of the revised close for that date.

The modified closing call in the trading session of each respective commodity will be designated by a "pound" sign "#".

If the member executing the trades does not submit a bracket designation to the clearing member, the clearing member shall enter "?" as the bracket designation when submitting the record of such transaction to the Clearing Services Provider. 1979 (01/01/04)

332.03 Lost Orders - Any broker who has reason to believe that an order has been lost or misplaced, shall immediately notify the Secretary of the Exchange, who shall thereupon have the matter investigated. (08/01/94)

332.04 Records of Floor Traders - Each member executing transactions on the Floor of the Exchange for his or her personal account [Type 1 trades as defined in CFTC Regulation 1.35(e)] must execute such transactions on the Floor of the Exchange using pre-printed sequentially pre-numbered trading cards. A new trading card must be used at the beginning of each time bracket as designated in Regulation 332.02.

Each member must record the transactions in exact chronological order of execution on sequential lines of the trading card (no lines may be skipped). Provided, however, that if lines remain after the last execution recorded on a trading card, the remaining lines must be marked through. All transactions which are recorded on a single trading card must be recorded on the same side of such trading card. No more than six transactions may be recorded on each trading card.

The trading cards must contain pre-printed member identification which will include, but will not be limited to, the trading acronym and the full name of the member. The trading cards must also contain preprinted bracket designations. (01/01/96)

332.041 Accountability of Trading Cards - Each member executing transactions on the Floor of the Exchange, and his clearing member(s), shall establish and maintain procedures that will assure the complete accountability of all pre-printed sequentially pre-numbered trading cards used by such member on a daily basis. Such trading cards must be distinguishable from other trading cards used by the member during a one week period. (08/01/94)

332.05 Card Collection - At such times and in such manner as designated by the Regulatory Compliance Committee, each member shall provide his clearing member with trading documents which are relied upon for transactional information necessary for submission to the clearing system containing those trades that have been executed thus far during that day. Trading documents include trading cards of members' personal and proprietary trades, trading cards of one member reflecting trades of another member (CTI 3 pursuant to CFTC Regulation 1.35 (e)) and floor order tickets.

A member may correct any errors on trading documents by crossing out erroneous information without obliterating or otherwise making illegible any of the originally recorded information. Alternatively, with regard to trading cards only, a member may correct any errors by rewriting the trading card. However, if a trading card is rewritten to correct erroneous information, the member shall provide his clearing member with the top ply of the original trading card, or in the absence of plies, the original trading card, which has been subsequently rewritten, in accordance with the same collection schedule designated by the Regulatory Compliance Committee for trading documents relied upon for clearing purposes.

Following the collection of the above-stated documents, the clearing member shall ensure that all such documents receive an Exchange-designated time stamp upon collection. (12/01/96)

332.06 Records of Proprietary Orders - Immediately upon receipt on the Floor of the Exchange of an order from a proprietary or house account (Type 2 trades as defined in CFTC Regulation 1.35(e)) each member or registered eligible business organization shall prepare a written record of the order. It shall be dated and time stamped when the order is received and shall show the account designation.

Such written records of proprietary orders of both clearing and non-clearing member firms need not be prepared if the members executing such transactions on the Floor of the Exchange are employed by such member firms and meet the recordkeeping requirements set forth in Regulation 332.04. However, such members must register with the Exchange and may not trade for their personal accounts. The executing members may record proprietary orders in this manner if they have initiated such orders, or if their employing firm has placed proprietary orders with them for execution. (10/01/00)

332.07 Accountability of Trading Documents - A member is accountable for all documents used in the execution of trades, including trading cards used for his personal account and other documents used by the member in the execution of trades made for others.

Floor brokers who record flashed order executions on broker cards must record on the broker card, the corresponding clearing firm number and order ticket number for every flashed order execution. In addition, floor brokers who record flashed order executions on broker cards must use non-erasable ink and may correct any errors by crossing out the erroneous information without obliterating or otherwise making illegible any of the originally recorded information. (12/01/96)

332.08 CTR Recordkeeping and Data Entry Requirements - Pursuant to Regulations 332.02, 332.04, 332.041, 332.05, 332.06 and 332.07 and 332.09, each member and member firm shall keep, in an accurate and complete manner, all books and records required to be made or maintained under the Rules and Regulations regarding submission of data to the Exchange or the Clearing Services Provider for CTR purposes. All trade data submissions must be done in a correct and timely manner.

Trade data includes, but is not limited to, the time bracket, executing broker, opposite broker, transaction type, customer type indicator ("CTI") code [as defined in CFTC Regulation 1.35 (e)], trade timing and trade sequencing information.

If the member executing the trade does not provide the required data to the clearing member, the clearing member shall enter "?" as the designation when submitting the record of such transaction to the Clearing Services Provider. If the trade cannot clear without the specific information, it is the clearing firm's obligation to enter a "?" designation and to obtain promptly from the member who executed the trade the complete and correct information concerning the trade. (01/01/04)

332.09 Member Trading for Another Member on the Trading Floor -

(a) At the time of execution, every order, which is not reduced to writing, that a member receives from another member who is present on the trading floor must be recorded. The member executing the order must record the time of execution to the nearest minute on the trading card or other document used to record the trade and must return this card or document to the initiating member.

    A member placing a verbal order, except for orders involving options-futures combinations and other spread trades where the initiating member personally executes at least one leg of the spread, shall simultaneously make a written record of the order and record the time of placement to the nearest minute. The order and the time shall be recorded on the member's trading card, which shall be in sequence with other trading cards used by that member. The trading card used to record the placement of the verbal order and the trading card or document used to record the execution of the order must be submitted together to the clearing member by the member placing the order or designated representative in accordance with the collection schedule established by the Exchange.

(b) Every written order that is initiated by a member for his own account while on the Exchange floor must be dated and time stamped upon transmission for execution, and when returned or, in the case of an arbitrage or a flashed transaction, when confirmed or cancelled. (08/01/94)

332.10 Prohibition of Trading or Placing Verbal or Flashed Orders from the Clerks Step in Financial Futures and Options Contracts - Any Exchange member who performs the functions of a floor clerk or broker assistant who also stands in the area designated for broker assistants in any financial future or option pit which is clearly defined as the area behind the top step is prohibited from placing verbal orders or flashed orders for his personal account while standing in that location. Such members are also prohibited from executing trades while standing in this location. For the purposes of this Regulation, trading is defined as executing trades for one's personal account, an account of another member or a customer. Such members may only enter orders for their personal accounts by placing such orders through the normal customer order flow process which requires that the member leave the pit to place an order. (07/01/97)

332.11 Changers - The Exchange shall permit a clearing firm to act as a changer, subject to the provisions below, for the purpose of engaging in changing transactions involving CBOT mini-sized Corn, mini-sized Soybean or mini-sized Wheat futures contracts and their full-sized counterparts. A changing transaction involves the purchase or sale of a commodity between a changer and another member, which on the part of the changer is part of a spreading transaction between a mini-sized contract and its corresponding full-sized contract.

A. Application and Notices

1. A clearing member firm desiring to act as a changer for one or more of the mini-sized contracts specified in this Regulation, shall make an application to the Exchange, in the manner prescribed by the Exchange. The Exchange may approve changers consonant with the needs of the Exchange, considering such matters as liquidity in the relevant contracts, space and physical facilities required for changing, financial capability of the applicant, the number and character of the relevant contracts, and the number and capacity of changers already in a particular commodity.

2. A changer shall notify the Exchange of the names of its changer's representatives who will accept orders for changing transactions, and any changes thereto.

3. A changer shall file with the Exchange, notice of any limitations on the extent to which it will make its services available, and of any changes to such limitations, one day prior to their effective date. The Exchange may disapprove any such limitations.

B. Execution of Changing Transactions

1. A changer shall maintain a representative on the trading floor at all times during trading hours to accept orders for changing transactions.

2. A member may give an order to a changer's representative, who shall immediately place such order for execution in the pit for the relevant full-sized contract. A changer may not unreasonably refuse to accept any order that is consistent with its authorization to act as a changer.

3. If filled, the member placing the order and the changer's representative shall be deemed to have executed a changing transaction wherein the full-sized commodity purchased (sold) has been sold to (bought from) the member placing the order, on and subject to the rules of the Exchange.

4. When a changer purchases (sells) a full-sized commodity, it may mark up (down) the price of the purchase (sale) when making the corresponding sale to (purchase from) the member placing the order, by the amount of its changing fee. The changer shall disclose the amount of its current changing fee, prior to accepting any particular order for a changing transaction.

5. Rule 336.00, Bids and Offers in Commodities Subject to Partial Acceptance, shall not apply to the execution of a changing transaction.

C. Recordkeeping and Clearing

1. An order for a changing transaction must be documented and time-stamped in the same manner as a customer order, in accordance with Regulation 465.01.

2. A changer shall clear its changing transactions through an account exclusively designated for such purpose. This changing account at all times shall be evenly spread between the relevant mini-sized contracts and their full-sized counterparts. However, changer accounts which have e-cbot transactions pending for clearing on the next trade date are exempted from the evenly spread requirement.

3. All changing transactions shall be clearly identified as such by appropriate accounts or symbols on all records of the changer and on the records submitted for clearing.

D. Fees - Changers may be obligated to pay changer transaction fees to the Exchange, in such amounts, at such times, and in such manner as the Exchange may prescribe.

E. Miscellaneous

1. No changer's representative shall enter into a changing transaction in which he appears as the executing member on each side of the transaction.

2. If applicable, a member futures commission merchant shall disclose to its customers that the price at which a trade is executed on the Exchange may include a changer's fee, and, that the amount of the changing fee, if included in a transaction price, shall be disclosed to a customer upon request.

3. No member or employee of a member shall require, induce or attempt to induce, either directly or indirectly, a floor broker or member to execute any transaction through a changing transaction or to utilize the services of a particular changer or changer's representative.

4. No member may give a market order, a priced order, or a discretionary order, to a changer's representative except by open outcry, nor without first seeking a bid or offer, nor without executing as much as possible in the pit at prices which such member reasonably expects to be the best available. Members may not enter priced orders with a changer that are off the current market in both the mini-sized contract and its corresponding full-sized contract.

5. No member shall give orders to a changer's representative for quantities that he could reasonably expect to execute in the pit for the relevant mini-sized contract. (04/01/03)

333.00 Trades of Non-Clearing Members -

(a) PRIMARY CLEARING MEMBER. Each non-clearing member who executes trades on Change must have one and only one Primary Clearing Member who will accept and clear the member's personal trades. A written authorization must be on file with the Member Services Department authorizing such non-clearing member, without qualification, to submit trades through such Primary Clearing Member, and designating such clearing member as the non-clearing member's Primary Clearing Member. Such Primary Clearing Member acts as Commission merchant for the non-clearing member. Such Primary Clearing Member, acting as commission merchant, shall be liable upon all trades made by the non-clearing member for the account of the Primary Clearing Member (unless authorization is revoked as provided in (c) below) and shall be a party to all disputes arising from trades between the authorized non-clearing member and another member or member firm made for the account of the Primary Clearing Member.

(b) OTHER CLEARING MEMBERS. A non-clearing member may have one or more clearing members, in addition to his Primary Clearing Member, through whom he may also clear his trades, provided he has written permission to do so from his Primary Clearing Member. However, as provided in Rule 252.00, such clearing member's claims shall be subordinated to the claims of the Primary Clearing Member(s). Such written permission of the Primary Clearing Member must be filed with the Member Services Department. Written authorization from the other clearing member, authorizing the nonclearing member to make trades on Change for the account of the clearing member, must also be filed with the Member Services Department. Thereafter, such clearing member acting as commission merchant, shall be liable upon all trades made by the non-clearing member for the account of the clearing member (unless authorization is revoked as provided for in (c) below) and shall be a party to all disputes arising from trades between the authorized non-clearing member and another member or member firm made for the account of the clearing member.

(c) REVOCATION OF AUTHORIZATION. A revocation of authorization, either by a Primary Clearing Member or another clearing member, must, to be effective, be in writing and be posted by the Secretary upon the bulletin board of the Exchange. A non-clearing member whose Primary Clearing Member has revoked authorization shall be denied access to the Floor until another clearing member has designated itself as the non-clearing member's Primary Clearing Member, pursuant to (a) above. Revocation of a non-clearing member's authorization to execute transactions through the e-cbot system shall be in accordance with 9B.08.

(d) The non-clearing member will not be permitted to submit a new primary clearing member authorization or clear trades through a new primary clearing member until such time as the former primary clearing member files a release with the Member Services Department. A primary clearing member who has revoked primary clearing member status to a non-clearing member must give the non-clearing member release upon the non-clearing member's request when the non-clearing member has obtained a new primary clearing member unless (1) the non-clearing member has current debts related to the conduct of business as a broker, trader or commission merchant at the primary clearing member equal to or greater than the amount specified in Rule 286.00; or (2) the clearing member is the guarantor under an existing valid guarantee of a loan which had been made to the non-clearing member exclusively for the purpose of financing the purchase of the non-clearing member's membership, such guarantee in an amount equal to or greater than the amount specified in Rule 286.00.

(e) PRIORITY OF DEBTS FOR PURPOSES OF RULE 252.00. Upon transfer of the non-clearing member's membership, any indebtedness owed to a former Primary Clearing Member at the time of revocation which was incurred subsequent to authorization and which continues to be owed such former Primary Clearing Member(s) shall be paid in the chronological order of revocation (oldest debt first), in the manner and to the extent allowed under Rule 252.00. 204 (11/01/03)

333.01 Error Accounts -

(a) Each non-clearing member who acts as a floor broker or is registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission or a registered futures association as a floor broker (i) shall maintain a personal account with his Primary Clearing Member into which he places brokerage errors; (ii) may maintain personal error accounts at one or more secondary clearing members, in addition to his Primary Clearing Member, provided he has written permission to do so from his Primary Clearing Member on file with Member Services Department.

(b) Each clearing member who carries an error account agrees to accept and clear the broker's trades involving brokerage errors. A written authorization must be filed with the Member Services Department authorizing the broker, without qualification, to submit trades involving brokerage errors through such clearing member. Such clearing member shall be liable upon all trades involving brokerage errors that are submitted to the error account (unless authorization is revoked as provided herein) and shall be a party to all disputes involving trades between the broker, in his capacity as a broker, and another member or member firm that may ultimately be submitted to the error account. Revocation of authorization granted pursuant to this Regulation must be filed in writing with the Member Services Department and will become effective when written notice thereof is posted on the Exchange bulletin board by the Secretary. (08/01/94)

333.03 Funds in Trading Accounts Carried by Clearing Members - The following shall apply to trading accounts which are carried for non-clearing members by clearing members pursuant to Rule 333.00:

(a) If a non-clearing member trades in excess of written limits prescribed by the carrying clearing member, and/or if the non-clearing member is alleged to have engaged in reckless and unbusinesslike dealing inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade, the disposition of any and all funds in the applicable trading accounts(s) may be suspended by the carrying clearing member, or by the Association through the Board of Directors, Executive Committee, Floor Governors Committee or Arbitration Executive Committee pending a determination by the Arbitration Committee regarding the appropriateness of the non-clearing member's conduct.

Any Arbitration Committee decision to release trading account funds to the non-clearing member shall include the payment of interest by the clearing member to the non-clearing member as determined by the Arbitration Committee.

(b) Either the carrying clearing member or the Association may direct that the disposition of trading account funds be suspended pursuant to subparagraph a) of this regulation. However, if such suspension is initiated by the clearing member the suspension will be subject to review within one business day by the Board or one of the Committees designated in paragraph (a). The purpose of this review will be determine if sufficient grounds exist to warrant continuation of the suspension pending a final determination by the Arbitration Committee. Association proceedings in this regard will be conducted in accordance with Regulation 540.60 "Procedures for Member Responsibility Actions". (05/01/94)

335.00 Bids and Offers in Commodities Subject to First Acceptance - Any offer made on Change to buy or sell any commodity for future delivery is subject to immediate acceptance by any other member. All such offers shall be general offers and shall not be specified for acceptance by particular members. 254 (08/01/94)

336.00 Bids and Offers in Commodities Subject to Partial Acceptance - If an offer is made on Change (the Exchange) to buy or sell any specified quantity of any commodity for future delivery, such offer shall be deemed an offer to buy or sell all or any part of such specified quantity and, if not immediately accepted for the entire quantity, it may be accepted for a quantity less than specified. Orders or offers to buy or sell a specified quantity or none shall not be allowed, except as specifically provided in Regulation 331.03. 255 (07/01/00)

336.01 Guaranteeing Terms of Execution - Any member or member firm who receives an order to buy or sell a futures contract or option on a futures contract for execution on the Exchange is prohibited from directly or indirectly guaranteeing the execution of the order or any of its terms such as the quantity or price. A member may only report an execution that has occurred as a result of open outcry or has been effected through an Exchange approved automated order entry facility.

This regulation shall not be construed to prevent a member or member firm from assuming or sharing in the losses resulting from an error or mishandling of an order. (08/01/94)

337.01 Orders Involving Cancellations Accepted on a 'Not Held' Basis - All orders involving cancellations that reach the Trading Floor 10 minutes or less before the opening or resumption of the market, as applicable and all orders involving cancellations that reach the Trading Floor 10 minutes or less before the close of the market may involve extraordinary problems and hence will be accepted solely at the risk of the customer on a 'not held' basis.

All orders must be received by the floor broker within a reasonable time prior to the opening, the resumption or the close of the market, as applicable. Such other orders not received by the floor broker within a reasonable time prior to the opening, the resumption or the close of the market will be accepted solely at the risk of the customer on a 'not held' basis. 1847 (09/01/98)

350.00 Trade Checking Penalties - (See 563.00) (08/01/94)

350.01 Failure to Check Trades - If any member, firm or corporation is unable with diligent effort to check any future delivery transaction made with another member, firm or corporation, then such transaction shall be closed out for the account of whom it may concern by the member, firm or corporation claiming the contract at the earliest reasonable opportunity in order to establish any claim for loss because of such failure to check by the other party to the contract. 1811 (08/01/94)

350.02 Responsibility For Customer Orders - A floor broker or clearing member shall exercise due diligence in the handling and execution of customer orders. The Exchange's Arbitration Committee is authorized to determine whether a broker or clearing firm fulfilled their obligations and whether an adjustment is due to the customer. The Committee may consider the nature of the order and existing market conditions, including the existence of a "FAST" market, at the time the broker or clearing member acted or failed to act. However, a "FAST" designation does not nullify or reduce the obligations of the floor broker to execute orders with due diligence according to the terms of the order.

Except in instances where there has been a finding of willful or wanton misconduct, in which case the party found to have engaged in such conduct cannot avail itself of the protections in this provision, neither floor brokers nor member firms, or other persons acting as agents nor any of their officers, directors or employees, shall be liable for any loss, damage or cost (including attorney's fees and court costs), whether direct, indirect, special, incidental, consequential, lost profits or otherwise of any kind, regardless or whether any of them has been advised or is otherwise aware of the possibility of such damages, arising out of the use or performance of the CBOT's Electronic Order Routing System, any component(s) thereof, or any fault, failure, malfunction or other alleged defect in the Electronic Order Routing System, including any inability to enter or cancel orders, or any fault in delivery, delay, omission, suspension, inaccuracy or termination, or any other cause in connection with the furnishing, performance, maintenance, use of or inability to use all or any part of the Electronic Order Routing System, including but not limited to, any failure or delay in transmission of orders or loss of orders resulting from malfunction of the Electronic Order Routing System, disruption of common carrier lines, loss of power, acts or failures to act of any third party, natural disasters or any and all other causes.

The foregoing shall apply regardless of whether a claim arises in contract, tort, negligence, strict liability or otherwise. The foregoing limitations are cumulative and shall not limit or restrict the applicability or any other limitation or any rule, regulation or bylaw of the Exchange or the Clearing House. The foregoing shall not limit the liability of any floor broker or member firms, or other person acting as agent or any of their respective officers, directors or employees for any act, incident, or occurrence within their control.

If any of the foregoing limits on the liability of the floor brokers or member firms or other persons acting as agents or any of their officers, directors or employees should be deemed to be invalid, ineffective, or unenforceable and a customer sustains a loss, damage or cost (including attorney's fees and court costs) resulting from use of the Electronic Order Routing System, the entire liability of the floor brokers or member firms and their agents or any of their officers, directors or employees shall not exceed the brokerage commissions and any other charges actually paid by the customer.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions, this provision shall in no way limit the applicability of any provision of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended, and Regulations, thereunder. (01/01/99)

350.03 Identification of Floor Trading Personnel and Floor Traders - Every member is required to wear an identification badge issued by the Association in a prominent position and in proper fashion to be admitted to the Trading Floor and must so wear the badge at all times while he is on the Trading Floor. Failure to wear a badge shall be considered an act detrimental to the welfare of the Association (Rule 504.00). 1955 (08/01/94)

350.04 Outtrades and Errors and Mishandling of Orders -

A. Outtrades - If a floor broker discovers, either intraday or interday, that all or some portion of a customer order was executed but cannot be cleared, the broker shall do one of the following:

1. Re-execute the order in the market and adjust the customer by check if the re-execution price is worse than the original execution price. If the re-execution price is better than the original execution price, the customer is entitled to the better price.

2. Assign the opposite side of the portion that cannot be cleared to his or her error account and assign a fill to the customer at the execution price. The floor broker shall not liquidate the assigned position until at least ten minutes have elapsed after the execution of the order giving rise to the outtrade and, in any event, after the bracket period in which the outtrade arose has ended. These liquidation restrictions shall not apply to a liquidation during a Modified Closing Call. Any profits resulting from the liquidation of the assigned position belong to the floor broker, and may be retained or disbursed to whomever he chooses, in his discretion.

B. Unfilled or Underfilled Orders - If a broker fails to execute an order or underbuys or undersells on an order, the broker shall do one of the following:

1. Execute the order or the remainder of the order in the market and adjust the customer by check if the customer is filled at a price less favorable than that to which he was entitled but for the error or mishandling. If the order is filled at a more favorable price, the customer is entitled to the better price.

2. Execute the order or the remainder of the order in the market. If the order, or the remainder of the order, is filled at a worse price than that to which it was entitled but for the error or mishandling, the broker may allocate the fill to his error account and assign the opposite side of the order to his error account at the price to which the customer was entitled. If the order is filled at a more favorable price, the customer is entitled to the better price.

C. Wrong Month or Wrong Strike Executions

When an order has been executed in the wrong contract month or strike price and the erroneous transaction has been placed in the broker's or firm's error account, the error may be corrected by one of the following:

1. Execution of the order in accordance with its terms, with an adjustment by check if the order is executed at a worse price as a result of the mishandling of the order.

2. Execution of a spread transaction, in accordance with Regulation 352.01, whereby one leg of the spread represents the correct execution of the order and the other leg offsets the erroneous position in the error account.

D. Wrong Side of Market Executions

When an order has been executed on the wrong side of the market and the erroneous execution has been placed in the broker's or firm's error account, the error may be corrected as follows:

Execution of the order in accordance with its terms, with an adjustment by check if the order is executed at a worse price as a result of the mishandling of the order.

If a broker overbuys or oversells on an order, the customer is not entitled to any of the excess. A position that has been established in an erroneous or mishandled attempt to execute a customer order must be placed in the error account of the broker or firm responsible for the error or mishandling. Any profits resulting from the liquidation of the trades placed in a broker's or firm's error account belong to the relevant broker or firm, and may be retained or disbursed to whomever they choose at their discretion

In accordance with Regulation 336.01, no broker shall guarantee, directly or indirectly, the execution of an order, or any of its terms, except in the case of a bonafide error or mishandling. (03/01/04)

350.05 Floor Practices - The following acts are detrimental to the welfare of the Association (except as permitted under Regulation 331.05):

(a) for a floor broker to purchase any commodity for future delivery, purchase any call commodity option or sell any put commodity option for his own account, or for any account in which he has an interest, or for those accounts falling within the exception of paragraph (c) of this Regulation, while holding an order of another person for the purchase of any future, purchase of any call commodity option, or sale of any put commodity option, in the same commodity which is executable at the market price or at the price at which such purchase or sale can be made for the member's own account or the account in which he has an interest, or for those accounts falling within the exception of paragraph (c) of this Regulation.

(b) for a floor broker to sell any commodity for future delivery, sell any call commodity option or purchase any put commodity option for his own account, or for any account in which he had an interest, or for those accounts falling within the exception of paragraph (c) of this Regulation, while holding an order of another person for the sale of any future, sale of any call commodity option, or purchase of any put commodity option in the same commodity which is executable at the market price or at the price at which such sale or purchase can be made for the member's own account or the account in which he has an interest, or for those accounts falling within the exception of paragraph (c) of this Regulation;

(c) for a floor broker to execute a transaction in the trading pit for an account over which he has discretionary trading authority.

The above restriction shall not apply to:

1. transactions for another member of the Exchange;

2. transactions for members of the floor broker's family which include; spouse, parent, child, grandparent, grandchild, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, niece, or inlaw;

3. transactions for proprietary accounts of member firms.

(d) for a member to disclose at any time that he is holding an order of another person or to divulge any order revealed to him by reason of his relationship to such other person, except pursuant to paragraph (c) of this Regulation, in the legitimate course of business or at the request of an authorized representative of the Exchange or of the Commission; the mere statement of opinions or indications of the price at which a market may open or resume trading does not constitute a violation of the Association's Rules and Regulations; however, nothing herein shall alter or waive a member's responsibility to comply with existing provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act, Commission Rules, and the Rules and Regulations of the Association; furthermore, it shall be a violation of this Regulation for any individual to solicit or induce a member to disclose order information in a manner prohibited by this Regulation;

(e) for a member to take, directly or indirectly, the other side of any order of another person revealed to him by reason of his relationship to such other person, except with such other person's prior consent and in conformity with Exchange rules or except for transactions done in accordance with

Regulation 350.04 to resolve bonafide errors or outtrades;

(f) for a member to make any purchase or sale which has been pre-arranged;

(g) for a member to withhold or withdraw from the market any order or part of an order of another person for the convenience of another member;

(h) for a member to execute any order after the closing bell is sounded except in a call market close;

(i) for a member to buy and sell as an accommodation at any time or, except as specifically provided in Regulations 331.03, 331.04 and 350.10, to use one order to fill another order, or any part thereof;

(j) for parties to a transaction to fail to properly notify the pit recorder of the price at which trades have been consummated;

(k) for a floor broker to allocate executions of orders in any manner other than an equitable manner.

(l) for a member to initiate during the same trading session a transaction for future delivery in a CBOE 50 or CBOE 250 Stock Index future(s) for his or her own account, or for any account in which he or she has an interest, or for the account of his or her family including spouse, parents, children, grandparents, grandchildren, brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, nephews, nieces and in-laws, and to execute as a floor broker any order for future delivery in a CBOE 50 or CBOE 250 Stock Index future(s). This restriction shall not apply to any transaction made by the member to offset a transaction made in error by the same floor member. (03/01/04)

350.06 Give-Ups - A member must have prior permission from a clearing member to give-up its name for a trade executed on the Exchange. For give-up orders, the executing clearing member must first clear the trade and then transfer it in accordance with Regulation 444.01(f). A floor broker is prohibited from giving up in the pit a name other than the executing clearing member placing the order. Give-up orders are prohibited when used as a pricing mechanism in connection with cash market contracts. Pricing in connection with cash market contracts must be done only on a versus-cash basis pursuant to the requirements of Regulation 444.01. (11/01/97)

350.07 Checking and Recording Trades - Members must within fifteen minutes after each transaction confirm with the opposite member trader every execution of a futures transaction with respect to executing member, price, quantity, commodity, future and respective clearing members. Members must within fifteen minutes after each transaction confirm with the opposite member trader every execution of an options transaction with respect to executing member, premium, quantity, option series, and respective clearing members. Each record of transactions must show the relevant foregoing information and also must include and clearly identify the date and appropriate time bracket, and the opposite executing member.

In addition, each member who, on the Floor of the Exchange receives a customer's or options customer's order which is not in the form of a written record including the account identification, order number and date and time, to the nearest minute, such order was received on the floor of the Exchange, shall immediately upon receipt thereof prepare a written record of such order, including the account identification and order number, and shall record thereon the date and time, to the nearest minute, such order is received.

Non-erasable ink must be used to record all such information. (11/01/94)

350.08 Notification of Unchecked Trades - Any clearing firm that is unable with diligent effort to check a transaction with another member, shall notify the floor member who executed the transaction. Such notice shall be given prior to the following day's Regular Trading Hours opening or resumption, as applicable. In the case of agricultural contracts, such notice shall be given no later than twenty minutes prior to the following day's opening or resumption, as applicable.

In all cases, such notice shall be given in sufficient time as to allow the floor member to make provisions for any adjustment. In the case of agricultural contracts, the floor member will have resolved his trades by no later than twenty minutes prior to the relevant opening or resumption, as applicable.

The opening range or resumption range, as applicable, of the following day's Regular Trading Hours market shall be the limit of liability as a result of an unchecked trade. (09/01/98)

350.10 Exemption for Certain Joint Venture Products - Notwithstanding any other provisions of these Rules and Regulations, a member who simultaneously holds orders on behalf of different principals to buy and sell any of the inter-regulatory or intermarket spreads designated below, may execute such spread orders for and directly between principals; provided that the member shall first offer such spread orders competitively by open outcry in the open market (a) by both bidding and offering at the same price, and neither such bid nor offer is accepted or (b) by bidding and offering to a point where such offer is higher than such bid by not more than the minimum permissible price fluctuation applicable to such spread orders and neither such bid nor offer is accepted. If any such order is not accepted within a reasonable amount of time, then the member may, execute such order for and directly between the principals. The following requirements must also be met in the execution of such spread orders:

(1) The member who executes such order must do so in the presence of a Chicago Board Options Exchange Floor Official, who is a member qualified to trade Joint Venture futures contracts.

(2) Such member shall clearly identify all such spreads on his trading card or similar record by appropriate symbol or descriptive words and shall note on such card or record the exact time of execution. Such member shall thereupon promptly present said card or record to the Floor Official for verification and initialing.

(3) No futures commission merchant or floor broker who receives any of the inter-regulatory or intermarket spread orders designated below from another person shall take the other side of such spread orders, except with such other person's prior consent.

This Regulation applies to the following spread strategies:

(a) inter-regulatory strategies involving a CBOE 50 and/or CBOE 250 Stock Index future(s) spread against a Standard and Poor's 100 and/or Standard and Poor's 500 option(s) traded on the Chicago Board Options Exchange;

(b) intermarket futures spreads involving a CBOE 50 Stock Index future(s) spread against a CBOE 250 Stock Index future(s); or

(c) any other inter-regulatory or intermarket spread designated under this Regulation by the Board of Directors of the Association. (08/01/94)

350.11 Resolution of Outtrades - Outtrades shall be resolved in accordance with Regulation 350.04 or by issuing a check in an amount agreed to by the members making the trade(s).

A. Price Outtrades

When an outtrade exists due to a discrepancy as to price, members making the trade may choose to resolve the discrepancy by electing either of the two prices in question, if they agree that the trade was executed at that price.

If an outtrade involves a price discrepancy between a local and a broker, and the members cannot agree on the price of execution, the price recorded by the broker shall be used to clear the trade.

If an outtrade between locals or an outtrade between brokers involves a price discrepancy, and these members cannot agree on the price of execution, the buyer's price shall be used to clear the trade.

B. Quantity Outtrades

When an outtrade exists due to a discrepancy as to quantity, members making the trade may choose to resolve the discrepancy by electing either of the two quantities in question, if they agree that the trade was executed in that quantity.

If any outtrade between locals involves a quantity discrepancy and these members cannot agree on the quantity that was executed, the higher quantity shall be used to clear the trade.

A broker may assign the opposite side of any excess quantity on his order, which he believes that he has executed, to his error account, pursuant to Regulation 350.04, and he may agree to the clearing of the transaction according to the quantity recorded by the other member, whether the other member was a broker or a local.

C. Bona Fide Contract Month, Strike, Put vs. Call and Side of Market (Buy vs. Buy or Sell vs. Sell) Outtrades

When an outtrade exists due to a discrepancy as to the contract month, strike price, whether an option trade involved a put or a call, or side of the market, and any party who executed a customer order believes that the order has been executed in accordance with its instructions, the outtrade may be resolved in any one of the following ways:

1. The trade may be busted. If a broker re-executes his order, any losses incurred by the customer as a result of the delay in execution must be adjusted by check. If the order is executed at a more favorable price, the customer is entitled to the better price.

2. The members making the trades(s) may agree that either trade or both trades may be cleared in accordance with the members' recorded trade data.

3. A broker may assign the opposite side of his own order to his error account, pursuant to Regulation 350.04, and he may agree to the clearing of the transaction according to the terms of the other member's recorded trade data, whether the other member was a broker or a local.

4. If both members were brokers, they may both assign their respective trades to their error accounts, pursuant to Regulation 350.04.

A customer shall not be entitled to any portion of any profits realized by a local who was on the opposite side of an outtrade between the local and the customer's broker, as a result of the local's liquidation of his position. Such profits belong to the local, and may be retained or disbursed to whomever he chooses, in his discretion. If the local chooses to disburse any portion of such profits to the broker, and the broker's customer has received a fill in accordance with the broker's recorded trade data, the broker is not obligated to offer such profits to this customer.

It shall be an offense against the Association for members to prearrange a trade to reconcile an outtrade.

Nothing herein shall in any way limit a member's right to submit an outtrade to Exchange arbitration if an outtrade cannot be resolved by agreement. (03/01/04)

352.01 Spreading Transactions - A spread transaction involving options, or the purchase and sale of different futures, at a price or yield difference or simultaneously at a separate price for each side of the spread is permitted on this Exchange provided:

1. that each side of the spread (the purchase of one future and the sale of another future) is for the same account, or in the case of spreads in options, all sides are for the same account. Provided that, when an order has been executed in the wrong month, wrong strike price or wrong commodity, and the erroneous transaction has been placed in the broker's or firm's error account, the error may be corrected by a spread transaction in which one leg of the spread offsets the position in the error account and the other leg is the correct execution of the order. Provided further that the liability of the floor broker or FCM shall be determined in accordance with Regulation 350.04.

2. that all sides of the spread are priced at prices within the daily trading limits specified in Regulation 1008.01;

3. that the spread is offered by public outcry in the pit assigned to the commodity(ies) or option(s) involved.

4. that the transaction shall be reported, recorded and publicized as a spread in the ratio in which it was executed.

5. that when such transactions are executed simultaneously, the executing member on each side of the transaction shall designate each part of the trade as a spread on his cards by an appropriate word or symbol clearly identifying each part of such transaction.

6. that for options the spreads must conform to one of the following definitions, any multiple or combination of these strategies, or any generally accepted relationship between options and the underlying futures, including but not limited to:

   a. Vertical and Horizontal Spreads. Short one call (put) and long another call (put) with a different strike price and/or expiration month.

   b. Straddles. Short (long) puts and calls in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   c. Conversions and Reverse Conversions. Short (long) calls, long (short) puts, and long (short) futures in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   d. Butterflies. Two vertical spreads which share one common strike price.

   e. Boxes. Long a call and short a put at one strike price and short a call and long a put at another strike price.

   f. Synthetic Straddles. Long (short) futures and short (long) calls or long (short) puts in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   g. Ratio Spreads. Long calls (puts) and short calls (puts) in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   h. Ratio Writes. Short calls (puts) and long (short) futures in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   i. Ratio Purchases. Long calls (puts) and short (long) futures in a generally accepted spread ratio.

   j. Synthetic Futures. Long calls (puts) and short puts (calls) in a generally accepted spread ratio.

7. that in executing a ratio spread, a member shall bid or offer by open outcry either both the spread portion at a price difference and the remaining portion (i.e., the "tails") at a specific price for each, or the entire ratio spread at a separate price for each side of the transaction. A ratio spread and if applicable each part of it must be executed competitively by open outcry in accordance with this regulation and Rule 332.00. A bid or offer for a ratio spread is subject to partial acceptance in ratioed units in accordance with Rule 336.00.

8. that for spread transactions at a yield difference the following conditions are met:

   a. one side of the spread is a yield-based futures contract, i.e. where the final contract settlement price is calculated by subtracting a yield measurement from 100.

   b. the sides are priced at the price spread implied by the yield spread.

   c. the prices for Short, Medium, and Long Term U.S. Treasury Note and U.S. Treasury Bond futures are those implied for 8% coupon, semi-annual non-amortizing instruments with exactly two, five, ten, and twenty years remaining maturity as calculated and published by the Exchange.

   d. the prices for the yield-based futures contracts are calculated by subtracting the yield from 100.

   e. the yields are quoted in increments no smaller than one half basis point.

   f. the Regulatory Compliance Committee has designated the spread for trading on a yield basis.

Brokers may not couple separate orders and execute them as a spread, nor may a broker take one part of a spread for his own account and give the other part to a customer on an order. (08/01/00)

352.01A Unacceptable Spread Orders - Certain orders that involve the trading of different contracts, when the contracts involved are traded in different designated trading pits and when the resulting positions do not offset to reduce economic risk, do not represent legitimate spreading transactions and are specifically deemed to be unacceptable orders. Such transactions must be executed on separate orders in the respective designated trading areas. The foregoing provisions apply to, but are not limited to, the following examples:

There are separate trading pits for options and futures. An order to buy a put (or sell a call) and sell the underlying future establishes a short position only, and therefore there is no offsetting feature. An order to sell a put (or buy a call) and buy the underlying future establishes a long position only, and therefore there is no offsetting feature. These orders are unacceptable as spread orders. (08/01/94)

352.02 Joint Venture Intermarket and Inter-Regulatory Spreads - - Notwithstanding any other provisions of these Rules and Regulations to the contrary, the following principles shall apply to spreading transactions involving Joint Venture Products.

1. Futures spreads involving CBOE 50 and/or CBOE 250 Stock Index futures contracts may be bid or offered at a differential and if so bid or offered, such spreads may not be separated into their individual components.

2. Inter-Regulatory spread strategies involving CBOE 50 or CBOE 250 Stock Index futures spread against Standard and Poor's 100 or Standard and Poor's 500 options traded on the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE") may be bid or offered at a differential. If such spreads are bid or offered at a differential, they may not be separated into individual parts. The futures side of such spreads must be priced within the daily quotation range. The price of the options side of such spreads shall not touch the best bid or offer contained in the CBOE order book but may touch but shall not go through the current best bid or offer prevailing in the trading crowd. The prices for both sides of such spreads shall be disseminated immediately and shall be identified as a spread. The price differential shall also be disseminated immediately.

3. Inter-Regulatory spreads involving CBOE 50 and/or CBOE 250 Stock Index futures contracts spread against Standard and Poor's 100 and/or Standard and Poor's 500 options may be executed in any location in the Standard and Poor's 100 or the Standard and Poor's 500 option pit(s).

4. Joint Venture inter-regulatory or intermarket spreads may not be used to establish opening prices for Joint Venture futures contracts. (08/01/94)

360.01 Pit Supervisory and Enforcement Authority of the Respective Pit Committees - In conjunction with the Floor Conduct Committee, it shall be the function and duty of the Pit Committees to supervise and enforce decorum within their respective trading pits.

1. Supervision and Enforcement of Pit Decorum.

Each Pit Committee shall have the authority over its respective pit to issue a decorum ticket to any individual who has committed a decorum offense within the pit. This authority is in addition to the authority given to the Floor Conduct Committee in Regulation 519.01 A ticket may be initiated by any member of the Pit Committee in accordance with the Pit Committee member's duty to enforce decorum standards within the pit. Additionally, any Exchange member may request that a ticket be initiated for an alleged decorum offense that occurs within a trading pit by requesting that a Pit Committee member in that pit issue a ticket. Non-members may request that a ticket be initiated for alleged decorum violations involving physical abuse or harassment.

For decorum offenses that do not involve a physical altercation, disorderly conduct or harassment, the ticket will reflect a warning or summary fine in accordance with Ruling 520.00A. The recipient of a summary fine may pay the summary fine or request a hearing before the Floor Conduct Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 through 540.05. Tickets involving a physical altercation, disorderly conduct or harassment will be referred to the Floor Conduct Committee, which will hold a hearing. The initiator of the ticket, the recipient of the ticket and any party involved in the decorum incident may be required to appear at the hearing held before the Floor Conduct Committee. Failure to comply with a request to appear before the Floor Conduct Committee may be deemed an act detrimental to the welfare of the Exchange.

Each ticket issued by a Pit Committee shall be authorized by two Pit Committee members, including at least one officer. Tickets shall be submitted to designated Exchange staff who shall give the individual written notification of the ticket, including any summary fine or requirement to appear before the Floor Conduct Committee.

It shall be the function and duty of the Pit Committees to supervise and enforce trading etiquette within their respective trading pits.

2. Supervision and Enforcement of Pit Etiquette Standards

Each pit, by and through its Pit Committee, shall be responsible for determining the nature and extent of its pit etiquette standards, subject to the approval of the Floor Governors Committee. A pit etiquette ticket may be initiated by any member of the Pit Committee in accordance with the Pit Committee member's duty to enforce etiquette standards within the pit. Additionally, any Exchange member may request that a member of the Pit Committee issue an etiquette ticket to any member who had allegedly violated the pit's etiquette standards. Each etiquette ticket must, however, be authorized by an officer of the Pit Committee to be valid. An officer who initiates a ticket cannot also authorize the ticket.

The issuance of an authorized etiquette ticket does not, in itself, constitute a violation of an Exchange Rule or Regulation. However, the Pit Committee can, at any time, choose to refer an egregious etiquette violation, or a pattern of etiquette violations, to the Floor Governors Committee. Prior to making such referral, the recipient of the ticket will be required to appear before the Pit Committee. A simple majority of a Pit Committee quorum shall be required to refer an etiquette matter to the Floor Governors Committee.

Tickets referred to the Floor Governors Committee will serve as the basis of OIA's investigation, and the tickets may be submitted as evidence in support of OIA's case before the Floor Governors Committee. However, OIA will conduct its own distinct investigation of the matter. The Floor Governors Committee may impose disciplinary action pursuant to the general provisions of Exchange Rule 500.00 (Inequitable Proceedings) and/or Rule 504.00 (Acts Detrimental to the Welfare of the Association). 414.00 Trades of Non-Clearing Members - - (See 286.00) and (See 431.00) (08/01/94)

416.01 Correspondent Accounts - Each registered eligible business organization must maintain a complete listing of all correspondent accounts carried on its books. Such list shall be promptly provided to authorized representatives of the Association. Information for each correspondent account must include name and address, classification of the account as customer or house, regulated or non-regulated. 1780A (04/01/98)

416.02 Members Responsible for Correspondents - Members doing business with correspondents must keep themselves well informed regarding their financial standing and shall immediately report to the Secretary any information that does in any way indicate that a correspondent is insolvent, or threatened with insolvency, or guilty of any irregularities or practices affecting the good name of the Association. 1043 (08/01/94)

416.02A Correspondents - In May, 1935, the Rules Committee ruled that the word "correspondents" as it is used in Regulation 416.02 means the following:

1. A correspondent, under the provisions of Regulation 170.07 is a person, firm or corporation (member or non-member) transacting a banking or a brokerage business connected by telephone or telegraphic wire or wireless connection with the office of a member.

2. A non-clearing member who solicits and turns over security or future delivery orders to a clearing member for execution, is a correspondent of the clearing member whether or not his office is connected by telephonic, telegraphic wire connections to that of the clearing member.

3. Under the provisions of Regulation 416.02, any member doing business with correspondents has the responsibilities therein outlined. 17R (08/01/94)

416.04 Correspondent Accounts - Consistent with its duties under Rule 542.00, the Business Conduct Committee may require that the identities and positions of the beneficial owners of any correspondent account be immediately disclosed to the Business Conduct Committee or to authorized representatives of the Association. If disclosure is not provided and the Business Conduct Committee determines that such failure to provide information is an impediment to the Committee in the discharge of its duties under Rule 542.00, appropriate summary action may be ordered up to and including immediate liquidation of all or a portion of the positions in the correspondent account. Any such summary action shall be taken in accordance with the procedures set forth in Regulation 540.06. (08/01/94)

416.05 Limitations On Acceptance of Agent Business - No member FCM shall solicit or accept any options order for execution on the Exchange which has been solicited, accepted or serviced by any person who is not registered as an associated person of such member FCM. Provided, however, that at such time as any futures association registered under Section 17 of the Commodity Exchange Act has determined to provide for the regulation of the options-related activity of its members in a manner equivalent to that required of contract markets by the Commission, any FCM member of such futures association may solicit or accept options orders for execution on the Exchange in the same manner as FCMs which are members of the Exchange.

Further, no member FCM may solicit or accept options orders from any person whom it has reason to believe may be soliciting options orders in contravention of this Regulation or Regulation 33.3 or the Commission. (08/01/94)

417.01 Notice and Processing of Transfer of Accounts - When a commission merchant goes out of business, or closes one or more offices, or withdraws ordinary facilities for transacting business from one or more offices, the following shall apply:

Upon the transfer of customer accounts in commodity futures contracts by a member or registered eligible business organization, to any other futures commission merchant (member or non-member), the transferor shall immediately give written notice of the transfer to the Secretary of the Association. Such written shall notice shall contain: (1) the name and address of the transferee; (2) the date of the transfer; (3) the number of customer accounts; (4) the net equity of customer funds, and (5) a statement certified by the member, or by a general partner or executive officer whose membership is registered for the transferor, that (a) the transferor has provided prior notice of the transfer to each customer whose account is thus transferred and (b) the transfer has been preceded by reasonable investigation of the transferee by the transferor and that the transferee is a suitable recipient of the transferred accounts.

Upon the transfer of customer accounts by a non-member of the Association, to any member or registered eligible business organization, the transferee shall immediately notify the Secretary in writing that such transfer has occurred and such written notice shall identify the transferor, the date of transfer, the number of customer accounts, and the net equity of customer funds being transferred to such member or registered eligible business organization.

A member or registered eligible business organization, acting as a transferor or transferee, must be able to facilitate a bulk transfer of accounts by use of an automated system as prescribed by the Association.

This regulation applies to all transfers of customer accounts involving members or registered eligible business organizations, who or which are closing facilities unless they are initiated at the unsolicited request of the customers. 1809C (04/01/98)

418.01 Non-Members' Accounts - When a non-clearing member has trading authority over a non-members account carried on a disclosed basis he shall so inform the clearing member carrying the account.

Non-clearing members may be permitted to carry both omnibus and disclosed accounts with clearing members provided that when the non-clearing member used both types of accounts, he shall guarantee the clearing member carrying any disclosed accounts against any loss in such accounts.

The non-clearing member must notify the carrying member that he is carrying both omnibus and disclosed accounts. 1819 (08/01/94)

419.00 Trading for Employees - No member shall accept orders or clear trades for a non-member who is employed by another member nor shall another member accept orders or clear trades for a member who is employed by another member when the name of the employer appears in the transaction. 205 (08/01/94)

420.00 Trading by Employees - No member shall accept marginal accounts of any employee, whether member or non-member, of the Association or of the Clearing Services Provider or of another member unless written consent of the employer be first obtained. 206 (01/01/04)

420.01 Gratuities - (See 206.02) (08/01/94)

420.01A Elective Officers and Non-Member Directors - For purposes of Rule 420.00, Elective Officers and non-member Directors of the Association shall not be considered employees of the Association. (08/01/94)

421.00 Confirmation to Customers - A commission merchant who makes a trade for a member or non-member customer shall confirm the trade to the customer no later than the business day following the day upon which the transaction was consummated. Such confirmation shall be in writing and shall show the commodity or security bought or sold, the amount, the price, and the name of the other party to the contract, and, in the case of a commodity, the delivery month. A non-resident member may give to his customer the name of his resident commission merchant in lieu of the name of the other party to the contract, subject to the right of the customer to receive the name of the other party to the contract upon request.

Where a trade is made by a branch office of a resident member, such branch office being outside of Illinois, the branch office may confirm the trade to the customer without giving the name of the other party to the contract, provided the confirmation has prominently printed or stamped thereon the words, "Name of other party to contract furnished on request." 207 (08/01/94)

421.01 Confirmations - A confirmation of a commission merchant to the customer need not contain the name of the other party to the contract, provided the confirmation has prominently printed or stamped thereon the words, "name of other party to contract furnished on request." 1845 (08/01/94)

421.02 Options Confirmations -

(a) A commission merchant who makes an options trade for a member or non-member customer shall confirm the trade to the customer no later than the business day following the day upon which the transaction was consummated. Such confirmation shall be in writing and shall indicate the customer's account identification number; a separate listing of the amount of the premium and all other commissions, costs and fees; the option series; the expiration date; and the date of the transaction.

(b) In addition, upon the expiration or exercise of any commodity option, each commission merchant must furnish to each customer holding any such option which has expired or been exercised, not later than the next business day, a written confirmation statement which shall include the date of such occurrence, a description of the option involved, and in the case of exercise, the details of the futures position which resulted therefrom.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Regulation, a commodity options transaction that is executed for a commodity pool (investment company) need be confirmed only to the operator of the commodity pool.

(d) With respect to any account controlled by any person other than the customer for whom the account is carried, each commission merchant shall promptly furnish in writing to such other person the information set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Regulation. (08/01/94)

421.03 Average Price Orders - Member firms may confirm to customers an average price when multiple execution prices are received on an order or series of orders for futures, options or combination transactions. An order or series of orders executed during the same trading day at more than one price may only be averaged pursuant to this regulation if each order is for the same account or group of accounts and for the same commodity and month for futures, or for the same commodity, month, put/call and strike for options.

Any member or member firm that accepts an order pursuant to this regulation must comply with requirements of this regulation and all order recordation requirements.

Upon receipt of an execution at multiple prices for any order subject to this regulation, an average price will be computed by multiplying the execution prices by the quantities at those prices divided by the total quantities. An average price for a series of orders will be computed based on the average prices of each order in that series.

Each Clearing firm that confirms to a customer an average price, must indicate on the confirmation and monthly statement that the price is not an execution price. (10/01/01)

421.05 Allocation of Exercise Notices - The Clearing Services Provider, in an equitable, random manner, shall assign exercise notices tendered by options purchasers to clearing members holding open short options positions; and each clearing member and commission merchant, in an equitable, random or proportional manner, shall assign exercise notices it receives on behalf of customer accounts to such customer accounts holding open short options positions. (01/01/04)

422.00 Investment Company Accounts - (See 507.00) (08/01/94)

423.00 Discretionary Orders - No member or registered eligible business organization shall permit any employee, whether member or non-member, to exercise discretion in the handling of any transaction for a customer for execution on this Exchange, unless prior written authorization for the exercise of such discretion has been received. A discretionary order is defined as an order that lacks any of the following elements: the commodity, year and delivery month of the contract, number of contracts, and whether the order is to buy or sell.

All partners of a registered partnership, all managers and members of a registered limited liability company and all officers of a registered corporation, shall be considered employees of their firm or corporation for purposes of these discretionary rules and regulations. 151 (04/01/98)

423.01 Discretionary Accounts - It shall be a violation of this regulation for any member or registered eligible business organization

1. To accept or carry an account over which the member or employee thereof exercises trading authority or control for another person in whose name the account is carried, without-

   a. obtaining a signed copy of the Power of Attorney, trading authorization, or other document by which such trading authority or control is given;

   b. sending direct to the person in whose name the account is carried a written confirmation of each trade as provided in Rule 421.00 and a monthly statement showing the exact position of the account, including all open trades figured to the market; and

   c. reflecting the discretionary nature of the account on all statements sent to the account owner.

2. To accept or carry an account over which any third party individual or organization other than the person in whose name the account is carried exercises trading authority or control, without -

   a. obtaining a signed copy of the Power of Attorney, trading authorization, or other document by which such trading authority or control is given; and

   b. obtaining a written acknowledgment from the person in whose name the account is carried that he has received a copy of the account controller's disclosure document, prepared pursuant to CFTC Regulation 4.31, or a written statement explaining why the account controller is not required to provide a disclosure document to the customer.

   (The above acknowledgement of paragraph b. need not be obtained (i) when the person in whose name the account is carried and the individual given trading authority or control are of the same family; or (ii) when the person given trading authority or control is (A) a member, (B) an officer, partner, member, manager or managerial employee of the eligible business organization carrying the account; (C) a bank or trust company organized under federal or state laws or (D) an insurance company regulated under the laws of any state; or (iii) when the account is carried in the name of (A) an employee benefit plan subject to ERISA or organized under the laws of any state (B) an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, (C) a bank or trust company organized under federal or state law, (D) an insurance company regulated under the laws of any state; or (E) an exempt organization, as defined in section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, with net assets of more than $100 million.)

3. To accept or carry the account of a non-member who has given trading authority to a member unless the member carrying the account requires that all orders entered for the account be executed by an individual or individuals other than the member to whom such trading authority is given. This requirement shall not apply where the non-member customer and the member having such trading authority are of the same family. This Regulation shall only apply to open outcry Regular and open outcry Night Trading Hours.

4. For purposes of this Regulation, a person does not exercise trading authority or control if the person in whose name the account is carried or the account controller specifies (1) the precise commodity interest to be purchased or sold, and (2) the exact amount of the commodity interest to be purchased or sold. Provided the foregoing provisions are met, the provisions of this Regulation shall not apply to discretion as to the price at which or the time when an order shall be executed.

The provisions of this Regulation relate only to transactions executed on this Exchange. 1990 (04/01/98)

423.01B Discretionary Trading - The increasing utilization of trading by programmed recommendations, whether by computer, charts or by any means, has brought several questions to the Rules Committee regarding discretion. These methods tend to create situations requiring the use of discretion and the Rules Committee recommends that member firms treat all such accounts as discretionary accounts unless the member can be certain that the customer(s) has given specific instructions, including price limits and any subsequent price changes relative to orders placed in connection with such trading.

In connection with the above, your attention is called to Rule 423.00 and Regulations 423.01 through 423.03 all having to do with the handling of discretionary accounts. 41R (08/01/94)

423.02 Presumption That Trades Are Pursuant to Discretionary Authority - Every trade in an account over which any individual or organization other than the person in whose name the account is carried exercises trading authority or control shall be rebuttably presumed to have been made pursuant to such trading authority or control. The Power of Attorney, trading authorization or other document by which any individual or organization other than the person in whose name an account is carried exercises trading authority or control over such account can be terminated only by a written revocation signed by the person in whose name the account is carried; by the death of the person in whose name the account is carried; or, where the individual or organization that exercises authority or control over the account is the member carrying the account or an employee thereof, by written notification from the member to the person in whose name the account is held that such member will no longer act pursuant to such trading authorization as of the date provided in the notice. 1991 (08/01/94)

423.03 Supervision of Discretionary Trading by Employees - A Power of Attorney or trading authorization signed by the customer and naming the employee to whom trading authority is given will be considered written authorization of the customer with respect to any discretionary transaction handled by such employee pursuant to such Power of Attorney or trading authorization.

Each account with respect to which an employee has discretionary authority must be given daily supervision by the employer, or by a partner or officer or such other person designated as a compliance officer if the employer is an eligible business organization, to see that trading in such account is not excessive in size or frequency in relation to financial resources in that account. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply where only one employee of an eligible business organization member firm has discretionary authority if that individual is also the only principal who supervises futures trading activity.

No employee who has not been registered for a minimum of two continuous years as an Associated Person (AP) under CFTC Regulations may exercise the discretion permitted by Rule 423.00. The foregoing requirement may be waived in particular cases by the Business Conduct Committee upon a showing by the applicant of experience equivalent to such a two-year registration. 1992 (04/01/98)

423.04 Customer Orders During Concurrent Sessions - For orders involving concurrently traded contracts, the customer may choose to designate whether the order is to be executed in the open outcry market or on e-cbot. (01/01/04)

423.05 - Anti-Money Laundering - Each member futures commission merchant shall develop and implement a written anti-money laundering program, approved in writing by senior management, that is reasonably designed to achieve and monitor the member FCM's compliance with the applicable requirements of the Bank Secrecy Act (31 U.S.C. 5311, et. seq.), and the implementing regulations promulgated thereunder by the Department of the Treasury and, as applicable, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. Such anti-money laundering program shall, at a minimum:

1. Establish and implement policies, procedures and internal controls reasonably designed to assure compliance with the applicable provisions of the Bank Secrecy Act and the implementing regulations thereunder;

2. Provide for independent testing for compliance to be conducted by member FCM personnel or by a qualified outside party;

3. Designate an individual or individuals responsible for implementing and monitoring the day-to day operations and internal controls of the program; and

4. Provide ongoing training of appropriate personnel.

Member FCMs must also supervise and ensure that their guaranteed introducing brokers are in compliance with the anti-money laundering provisions contained in this Regulation. (06/01/03)

Ch4 Position Limits and Reportable Positions
425.01 Position Limits -
(a) For the purposes of this Regulation, the following are definitions of titles used in position limit chart-

Spot Month - Spot month futures-equivalent position limit net long or net short effective at the start of trading on the first business day prior to the first trading day of the spot month.

Single Month - Futures-equivalent position limit net long or net short in any one month other than the spot month.

All Months - Position limit net long or net short in all months and all strike prices combined. Note: Long futures contracts, long call options, and short put options are considered to be on the long side of the market while short futures contracts, long put options, and short call options are considered to be on the short side of the market. For each commodity, the futures-equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregated to determine compliance with the net long or net short same side position limits.

Reportable Futures Level - Reportable futures position in any one month.

Reportable Options Level - Reportable options position in any one month in each option category. Note: Option categories are long call, long put, short call, and short put.

Net Equivalent Futures Position - Each option contract has been adjusted by the prior day's risk factor, or delta coefficient, for that option which has been calculated by the Board of Trade Clearing Corporation.

For the purpose of this Regulation:

(i) An option contract's futures-equivalency shall be based on the prior day's delta factor for the option series, as published by the Board of Trade Clearing Corporation. For example, 8 long put contracts, each with a delta factor of 0.5, would equal 4 futures-equivalent short contracts.

(ii) Long futures contracts shall have a delta factor of +1, and short futures contracts shall have a delta factor of -1.

(iii) Long call options and short put options shall have positive delta factors.

(iv) Short call options and long put options shall have negative delta factors.

(v) An eligible option/option or option/futures spread is defined as an intra-month or inter-month position in the same Chicago Board of Trade commodity in which the sum of the delta factors is zero.

(b) Except as provided in Regulations 425.03, 425.04 and 425.05, the maximum positions which any person may own, control, or carry are as follows:

(Note: All position limits and reportable positions are in number of contracts and are based on futures or *Net Equivalent Futures Positions.

#1 Additional futures contracts may be held outside of the spot month as part of futures/futures spreads within a crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, do not exceed the all months combined limit. In addition, a person may own or control additional options in excess of the futures-equivalent limits provided that those option contracts in excess of the futures-equivalent limits are part of an eligible option/futures spread.

#2 No more than 500 futures-equivalent contracts net on the same side of the market are allowed in a single month in all strike prices combined. Additional options contracts may be held as part of option/options or option/futures spreads between months within the same crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, does not exceed the all months combined limit. The futures-equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregated to determine compliance with these net same side single month position limits.

#3 No more than 5,500 futures-equivalent contracts net on the same side of the market are allowed in a single month in all strike prices combined. Additional options contracts may be held as part of option/option or option/futures spreads between months within the same crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, does not exceed the all months combined limit. The futures-equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregated to determine compliance with these net same side single month position limits.

#4 No more than 3,500 futures-equivalent contracts net on the same side of the market are allowed in a single month in all strike prices combined. Additional options contracts may be held as part of option/option or option/futures spreads between months within the same crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, does not exceed the all months combined limit. The futures-equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregated to determine compliance with these net same side single month position limits.

#5 In the last five trading days of the expiring futures month, the speculative position limit for the July futures month will be 200 contracts and for the September futures month the limit will be 250 contracts.

#6 No more than 1,000 futures-equivalent contracts net on the same side of the market are allowed in a single month in all strike prices combined. Additional options contracts may be held as part of option/option or option/futures spreads between months within the same crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, does not exceed the all months combined limit. The futures/equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregated to determine compliance with these net same side single month position limits.

#7 No more than 3,000 futures-equivalent contracts net on the same side of the market are allowed in a single month in all strike prices combined. Additional options contracts may be held as part of option/option or option futures spreads between months within the same crop year provided that the total of such positions, when combined with outright positions, does not exceed the all months combined limit. The futures-equivalents for both the options and futures contracts are aggregate to determine compliance with these net same side single month limits.

#8 In the last five trading days of the expiring futures month in May, the speculative position limit will be 600 contracts if deliverable supplies are at or above 2,400 contracts, 500 contracts if deliverable supplies are between 2,000 and 2,399 contracts, 400 contracts if deliverable supplies are between 1,600 and 1,999 contracts, 300 contracts if deliverable supplies are between 1,200 and 1,599 contracts, and 220 contracts if deliverable supplies are below 1,200 contracts. Deliverable supplies will be determined from the CBOT's Stock of Grain report on the Friday preceding the first notice day for the May contract month. For the purposes of these regulations, one mini-sized Wheat contract shall be deemed to be equivalent to one-fifth of a corresponding Wheat contract.

#9 The aggregate position limit in CBOT mini-sized Dow/sm/ ($5 multiplier) futures and CBOT DJIA/sm/ futures and options is 50,000 DJIA/sm/ contracts, net long or net short in all contract months combined. For the purposes of these regulations, one mini-sized Dow/sm/ ($5 multiplier) contract shall be deemed to be equivalent to one-half of a DJIA/sm/ futures contract.

#10 The net long or net short positions in Corn, Soybean, or Wheat contracts may not exceed their respective position limits. The net long or net short positions in mini-sized Corn, mini-sized Soybeans, or mini-sized Wheat may not exceed their respective position limits. The aggregate net long or net short positions in Corn and mini-sized Corn, Soybeans and mini-sized Soybeans, or Wheat and mini-sized Wheat contracts may not exceed their respective position limits. For the purposes of these regulations, one mini-sized Corn, one mini-sized Soybeans, or one mini-sized Wheat contract shall be deemed to be equivalent to one-fifth of a corresponding Corn, Soybeans, or Wheat contract.

#11 The reporting level for the primary contract is separate from the reporting level for the mini-sized contract. Positions in any one month at or above the contract level indicated trigger reportable status. For a person in reportable status, all positions in any month of that contract must be reported. For the purpose of these regulations, positions are on a contract basis

#12 The Chicago Board of Trade reserves the right to adjust spot month and aggregate position limits in the When Issued (WI) 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract based upon changes in the announced auction amount of 2-Year U.S. Treasury Notes. At no time will the spot month speculative position limit be allowed to exceed 17.5 percent of the announced auction size.

Except for the interest of a limited partner or shareholder (other than the commodity pool operator) in a commodity pool, ownership, including a 10% or more financial ownership interest, shall constitute control over an account except as provided in Regulation 425.05.

The maximum positions which any person, as defined in Regulation 425.01 (c), may own or control shall be as set forth herein. However, with respect to the maximum positions which a member firm may carry for its customers, it shall not be a violation of the limits set forth herein to carry customer positions in excess of such limits for such reasonable period of time as the firm may require to discover and liquidate the excess positions or file the appropriate hedge or exemption statements for the customer accounts in question in accordance with Regulations 425.03 and 425.04. For the purposes of this regulation, a "reasonable period of time" shall generally not exceed one business day for those positions that are not subject to the provisions of Regulations 425.03 and 425.04.

However, for any option position that exceeds position limits for passive reasons such as a market move or exercise assignment, the person shall be allowed one business day to liquidate the excess position without being considered in violation of the limits. In addition, if at the close of trading, an option position exceeds position limits when evaluated using the previous day's delta factors, but does not exceed the limits when evaluated using the delta factors for that day's close of trading, then the position shall not constitute a position limit violation.

Note: The Commodity Futures Trading Commission has imposed speculative position limits on Corn, Oats, Soybean, Wheat, Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal futures contracts as provided in Part 150 of CFTC Regulations.

(c) The term "net" shall mean the long or short position held after offsetting long futures positions against short futures positions. The word "person" shall include individuals, associations, partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations and trusts.

(d) The foregoing limits on positions shall not apply to bona fide hedging positions which meet the requirements of Regulations 425.02 and 425.03, nor to positions subject to particular limits granted pursuant to Regulation 425.04.

(e) The Board, or a Committee authorized by the Board may direct any member or registered eligible business organization owning, controlling or carrying a position for a person whose total position as defined in subsection (f) below exceeds the position limits as set forth in subsection (b) above or as specifically determined pursuant to Regulations 425.03 or 425.04 to liquidate or otherwise reduce the position.

(f) In determining whether any person has exceeded the position limits specified in subsection (b) of this Regulation or those limits determined pursuant to Regulations 425.03 or 425.04, or whether a position is a reportable position as set forth in subsections (b) and (g) herein, all positions in accounts for which such person by power of attorney or otherwise directly or indirectly controls trading, except as provided in Regulation 425.05, shall be included with the positions held by such person. Such limits upon positions shall apply to positions held by two or more persons acting pursuant to an expressed or implied agreement or understanding, the same as if the positions were held by a single person.

(g) If a person owns, controls or carries a position equal to or greater than the number of contracts specified in subsection (b) above long or short in any one month, then all such futures and options on such futures contract owned, controlled or carried by that person, whether above the given level or not, shall necessarily be deemed reportable positions. Every member or registered eligible business organization shall report each and every reportable position to the Office of Investigations and Audits at such times and in such form and manner as shall be prescribed by the Business Conduct Committee.

(1) On or before the first day on which any position must be reported as provided above, the member or registered eligible business organization carrying the position must furnish to the Office of Investigations and Audits a report, in the form, manner and content prescribed by the Business Conduct Committee, identifying the owner of the account for which the position must be reported and all persons associated with the account as described in subsection (f) above.

(2) Every member or registered eligible business organization must report each and every reportable position and provide the report required in subsection (1) above for each person within any account carried on an omnibus basis, unless, upon application of the member or registered eligible business organization to the Business Conduct Committee, the nonmember omnibus account specifically is approved to report directly to the Office of Investigations and Audits. 425.02 Bona Fide Hedging Positions -

(a) General Definition. Bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions in futures or options shall mean positions in a contract or positions in options on a contract for future delivery on this Exchange, where such positions normally represent a substitute for positions to be taken at a later time in a physical marketing channel, and where they are economically appropriate to the reduction of risks in the conduct and management of a commercial enterprise, and where they arise from:

(1) The potential change in the value of assets which a person owns, refines or merchandises or anticipates owning, refining or merchandising,

(2) The potential change in the value of liabilities which a person owes or anticipates incurring, or

(3) The potential change in the value of services which a person provides, purchases or anticipates providing or purchasing.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no positions of a person shall be classified as bona fide hedging unless their purpose is to offset price risks incidental to that person's commercial cash or spot operations and such positions are established and liquidated in an orderly manner in accordance with sound commercial practices and unless the provisions of Regulation 425.03 have been satisfied.

(b) Enumerated Hedging Positions. For purposes of Regulation 425.03, the definition of bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions in subsection (a) above includes, but is not limited to, the following specific positions:

(1) Sales of any commodity for future delivery, purchases of any put options on futures contracts and/or sales of any call options on futures contracts, which do not exceed in quantity:

(i) Ownership of the same cash commodity by the same person, and

(ii) Fixed-price purchases of the same cash commodity by the same person.

(2) Purchases of any commodity for future delivery, sales of any put options on futures contracts and/or purchases of any call options on futures contracts, which do not exceed in quantity:

(i) Fixed-price sales of the same cash commodity by the same person; and

(ii) The quantity equivalent of fixed-price sales of the cash products and derivative products of such commodity by the same person.

(3) Sales and purchases of commodities for future delivery or of options on contracts for future delivery described in subsections (b)(1) and (b)(2) may also be offset by the same or other quantities of a different cash commodity, provided that the fluctuations in the value of the position for future delivery or of the commodity underlying the option contract are substantially related to the fluctuations in the value of the actual cash position.

(c) Non-Enumerated Hedging Positions. The Board, or a Committee authorized by the Board, may recognize positions other than those enumerated in subsection (b) as bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions, in accordance with the general definition of bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions in Regulation 425.02(a), upon the filing of a satisfactory initial statement in accordance with Regulation 425.03. Such positions may include:

(1) Short-hedging positions (including long put options or short call options) of unsold anticipated positions in the same cash commodity by the same person;

(2) Long-hedging positions (including long call options or short put options) of unfilled anticipated requirements of the same cash commodity by the same person;

(3) Short or long cross-hedging positions, provided that the fluctuations in the value of the positions for future delivery or the commodity underlying the options positions are substantially related to the fluctuations in the value of the anticipated cash positions; or

(4) Any other positions in commodities for future delivery or options on futures contracts, including those established under the concept of "delta-ratio hedging", under such terms and conditions as the Board, or a Committee authorized by the Board, may specify.

(d) Cash positions described in subsections (b) and (c) above shall not include those positions or portions of positions which are bona fide hedging positions in futures or economically appropriate hedging positions in options pursuant to Regulations 425.02 and 425.03.

Note: Corn, Oats, Soybean, Soybean Oil, Soybean Meal and Wheat futures contracts are subject to Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 1.3(z), which defines bona fide hedging transactions and positions. (10/01/00)

425.03 Reporting Requirements For Bona Fide or Economically Appropriate Hedging Positions in Excess of Limits -

(a) Initial Statement. Every member or registered eligible business organization which owns, controls, or carries positions on behalf of a person who seeks classification of such positions as bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions must file a statement satisfactory to designated staff or a Committee authorized by the Board in order to classify such positions as bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions within the meaning of Regulation 425.02. The initial statement of the member or registered eligible business organization filed on behalf of a person shall be filed no later than 10 business days after the day on which the person's position exceeds the speculative limit for each contract specified in Regulation 425.01 (a), and shall include:

(1) A description of the kinds of intended positions and their potential size;

(2) A statement affirming that the kinds of intended positions are bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions; and

(3) With respect to the kinds of intended positions that are described as non-enumerated hedging positions under Regulation 425.02(c), a justification that the kinds of intended positions are consistent with the definition of bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions within the meaning of Regulation 425.02(a).

(b) Supplemental Statements. Whenever there is a material change in the information provided in the person's most recent statement pursuant to this Regulation, a supplemental statement which updates and confirms previous information shall be filed with designated staff or a Committee authorized by the Board by every member or registered eligible business organization owning, controlling or carrying such person's position. The supplemental statement shall be filed no later than 10 business days after the day on which the person's position exceeds the level specified in the most recent statement.

(c) A Committee or designated staff authorized by the Board will monitor bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions. The initial and supplemental statements prescribed in subsections (a) and (b) above must be submitted to the Office of Investigations and Audits and shall be maintained on a confidential basis. The Board, or a Committee or designated staff authorized by the Board may request additional relevant information necessary to ensure compliance with this Regulation 425.03. (10/01/00)

425.04 Exemptions From Position Limits -

(a) The Board, or a Committee authorized by the Board, may establish particular position limits on those positions of a person normally known as "spreads, straddles or arbitrage," including:

(1) intramarket spreads;

(2) intermarket spreads;

(3) cash-futures arbitrage, where "cash" is defined as spot or forward positions; or

(4) eligible option/option or option/futures spreads as defined in Regulation 425.01.

In addition, the Board or a Committee authorized by the Board, may establish, on a case by case basis, particular maximum position limits on certain risk management positions in interest rate, stock index and currency futures and options, including:

(1) Long positions (futures, long calls, short puts) whose underlying commodity value does not exceed the sum of:

(i) Cash set aside in an identifiable manner, or any of the following unencumbered instruments so set aside, with maturities of less than 1 year: U.S. Treasury obligations; U.S. agency discount notes; commercial paper rated A2 or better by Standard & Poors and P2 or better by Moody's; banker's acceptances; or certificates of deposit, plus any funds deposited as margin on such positions; and

(ii) Accrued profits on such positions held at the futures commission merchant.

(2) Long positions (futures, long calls) whose underlying commodity value does not exceed the sum of:

(i) The value of equity securities, debt securities, or currencies owned and being hedged by the trader holding such futures or option position, provided that the fluctuations in value of the position used to hedge such securities are substantially related to the fluctuations in value of the securities themselves; and

(ii) Accrued profits on such positions held at the futures commission merchant.

(3) Short calls whose underlying commodity value does not exceed the sum of:

(i) The value of securities or currencies underlying the futures contract upon which the option is based or underlying the futures contract upon which the option is based or underlying the option itself and which securities or currencies are owned by the trader holding such option position; and

(ii) The value of securities or currencies whose price fluctuations are substantially related to the price fluctuations of the securities or currencies underlying the futures contract upon which the option is based or underlying the option itself and which securities or currencies are owned by the trader holding such option position.

Risk management positions eligible for particular position limits under this Regulation do not include those considered as bona fide or economically appropriate hedging positions as defined in Regulation 425.02.

(b) Requirements for Exemptions from Position Limits. Every member or registered eligible business organization which owns, controls or carries positions on behalf of a person who wishes to make purchases or sales of any commodity for future delivery or any option on a contract for future delivery in excess of the position limits then in effect, shall file statements on behalf of the person with the Exchange, in such form and manner as shall be prescribed by the Board, or by a Committee authorized by the Board, in conformity with the requirements of this subsection.

(1) Initial Statement. Initial statements concerning the classification of positions normally known in the trade as "spreads, straddles or arbitrage," or risk management positions, as described in subsection (a) above, for the purpose of subjecting such positions to particular position limits above those specified in Regulation 425.01 (a), shall be filed with designated staff or Committee authorized by the Board no later than 10 business days after the day on which such positions exceed the position limits then in effect. Such statements shall include information necessary to enable the Board, or a Committee authorized by the Board, to make a determination that the particular kinds of intended positions should be eligible for a higher position limit, including, but not limited to:

(i) A description of the specific nature and size of positions for future delivery or in options on contracts for future delivery and offsetting cash, forward or futures positions, where applicable, and affirmation that intended positions to be maintained in excess of the limits set forth in Regulation 425.01 (a) will be positions as set forth in subsection (a) above; and

(ii) In the case of risk management positions, information on the cash portfolio being managed and/or any cash or cash market instruments held in connection with the intended risk management position, as well as other information relevant to the conditions specified in subsection (a) above. Of particular interest are whether the cash market underlying the futures or option market has a high degree of demonstrated liquidity relative to the size of the positions, and whether there exist opportunities for arbitrage which provide a close linkage between the cash market and the futures or options market in question; and whether the positions are on behalf of a commercial entity, including parents, subsidiaries or other related entities, which typically buys, sells or holds the underlying or a related cash market instrument.

(2) Supplemental Statements. Whenever there is a material change in the information provided in the person's most recent statement pursuant to this Regulation, a supplemental statement which updates and confirms previous information shall be filed with designated staff or a Committee authorized by the Board by every member or registered eligible business organization owning, controlling or carrying such person's position. The supplemental statement shall be filed no later than 10 business days after the day on which the person's position exceeds the level specified in the most recent statement.

(c) A Committee or designated staff authorized by the Board will monitor the positions maintained by persons who have obtained particular position limits under the provisions of this Regulation. The initial and supplemental statements prescribed in subsections (b)(1) and (b)(2) above must be submitted to the Office of Investigations and Audits and shall be maintained on a confidential basis. The Board, or a Committee or designated staff authorized by the Board, may request additional relevant information necessary to ensure compliance with this Regulation 425.04, and may, for any good reason, amend, revoke or otherwise limit the particular position limits established.

(d) The provisions of this Regulation 425.04 shall not apply to Corn, Oats, Soybean, Wheat, Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal futures and options contracts traded on the Exchange. (10/01/00)

425.05 Exemption from Aggregation for Position Limit Purposes -

(a). Positions carried for an eligible entity as defined in Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 150.1(d), in a separate account or accounts of an independent account controller, as defined in Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 150.1(e) may exceed the position limits set forth in Regulation 425.01 to the extent such positions are positions not for the spot month and which are carried for an eligible entity as defined by Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 150.1 or such other persons as the Commission deems exempt pursuant to Regulation 150.3, in the separate account or accounts of an independent account controller provided however, that the overall positions held or controlled by each such independent account controller may not exceed the limits specified in Regulation 425.01.

(b) Additional Requirements for Exemption of Affiliated Entities - If the independent account controller is affiliated with the eligible entity or another independent account controller, each of the affiliated entities must:

1) Have and enforce, written procedures in place to preclude such account controllers from having knowledge of, gaining access to, or receiving data about, trades of other account controllers. Such procedures must include document routing, and other procedures or security arrangements, including separate physical locations, which would maintain the independence of their activities provided, however, that such procedures may provide for the disclosure of information which is reasonably necessary for an eligible entity to maintain the level of control consistent with the fiduciary responsibilities and necessary to fulfill its duty to supervise diligently the trading done on its behalf;

2) Trade such accounts pursuant to separately developed and independent trading systems and market such trading systems separately; and

3) Solicit funds for such trading by separate Disclosure Documents that meet the standards of Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 4.21.

(c) Upon request by the Board or a Committee authorized by the Board or such person responsible for the supervision of the Office of Investigations and Audits, any person claiming an exemption from speculative position limits under this Regulation must provide to the Exchange such information as specified in the request relating to the positions owned or controlled by that person; trading done pursuant to the claimed exemption; the futures, options, or cash market positions which support the claim of the exemption; and the relevant business relationships supporting a claim of exemption. - - Such positions must be initiated and liquidated in an orderly manner.

For purposes of this regulation, all positions in accounts for which a person, by power of attorney or otherwise, directly or indirectly controls trading shall be included with the positions held by such person. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to positions held by two or more persons acting pursuant to an expressed or implied agreement or understanding, the same as if the positions were held by a single person.

Nothing herein shall limit the jurisdiction of the Exchange. (04/01/04)

430.00 Deposits by Customers - A member acting as commission merchant for a customer (member or non-member) may require from such customer a deposit, as indemnity against liability, and subsequent deposits to the extent of any adverse fluctuations in the market price. Such deposits must be made with the commission merchant within a reasonable time after demand, and, in the absence of unusual circumstances, one hour shall be deemed a reasonable time. The failure of the customer to make such deposit within such time, shall entitle, but shall not obligate, the commission merchant to close out the trades of the defaulting customer. If the commission merchant is unable to effect personal contact with the customer, a written demand left at the office of the customer, during business hours, shall be deemed sufficient. 209 (08/01/94)

431.00 Margins - No member may accept or carry an account for a customer, whether a member or non-member, without proper and adequate margin. The Exchange shall fix minimum margin requirements.

The provisions of the foregoing paragraph do not apply to a non-clearing member who makes his own trades or who on the Floor gives his orders for trades which are exclusively for his own account and pays the brokerage thereon. 210 (08/01/94)

431.00A Permit Holder Interpretation - The term 'non-clearing member' in paragraph 2 of Rule 431.00 should be interpreted to include Permit Holders. (08/01/94)

431.01 Margins - Non-Clearing Members - A non-clearing member who makes his own futures trades or who on the Floor gives his orders for futures trades which are exclusively for his account shall be subject solely to the provisions of this Regulation. All futures transactions in such account shall be margined to the market. 1822B (08/01/94)

431.02 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall at all times be those requirements currently in effect. Changes in margin requirements shall be effective on all transactions.

1. Transferred to Regulations 431.03 and 431.05.

2. Clearing members may carry contracts for future delivery for foreign and domestic correspondents on a gross margin basis as provided in Paragraph 3 of Regulation 431.03, but only to the extent that such contracts are those of customers and non-customers of the foreign and domestic correspondents.

3. If stocks, bonds or similar collateral, which must be free from liens and from any impediments to negotiability, are deposited with a member specifically to secure transactions which are executed on this Exchange, the current market value less the applicable haircut as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c)(2)(vi) may be considered as margin value to such transactions.

   A registered futures commission merchant shall not accept as margin, pledge, hypothecate, assign or factor any customer owned warehouse receipt other than a warehouse receipt that is eligible for delivery in satisfaction of futures contracts at a contract market.

4. Foreign currencies or foreign government securities which are deposited with a member for margin purposes must be reported at the current rate of exchange to the dollar equivalent. The margin value will be determined by Regulation 431.02 paragraph 3.

5. In computing minimum margin requirements for any customer equities or impairment resulting from change in market prices shall be regarded as money equivalents.

6. No member shall extend any credit or give any rebate or gratuity of any kind to any person for the purpose of circumventing or evading minimum margin requirements.

7. It shall be incumbent upon each member to require satisfactory evidence that all hedging trades are bona fide hedging trades. A letter from a customer so stating will be considered "satisfactory evidence" under this paragraph unless there is reason to suspect otherwise.

8. An account shall be entitled to spread margins, whenever said account is in a spread position. The carrying member shall designate spread position on his margin records.

9. When a correspondent member's account with the clearing member consists of trades which are spreading trades, such account may be carried as a spreading account by the clearing member.

10. It shall be incumbent upon each member financing purchases of cash grain for country elevator customers to require satisfactory evidence that funds so loaned are not used to margin future contracts other than for the purpose of hedging cash grain.

    When a customer states that funds required to fully margin his account are being transmitted at once, the member may consider this assurance in lieu of cash for a reasonable period. Members are required to keep written records of all margin calls, whether made in writing or by telephone.

11. Members shall not accept orders for new trades from a customer, unless the minimum initial margin on the new trades is deposited and unless the margin on old commitments in the account equals or exceeds the initial requirements on hedging and spreading trades and/or the maintenance requirements specified in Regulations 431.03 and 431.05 on all other trades. If the customer has a credit in excess of the initial margin requirements on all old commitments in his account, this may be used as part or all of the initial margins required on new commitments. However, credits in excess of maintenance margins and less than initial margin requirements may not be used.

12. No customer shall be permitted to make withdrawals from an account when the margin therein is less than the minimum initial margin specified in Regulations 431.03 and 431.05 or when the withdrawals would impair such minimum requirements.

13. No member may carry for a customer spreading transactions when the customer's account, figured to the market, would result in a deficit. Minimum maintenance margins required on other transactions are specified in Regulations 431.03 and 431.05. When a customer's account drops below the maintenance margin level, the account must be brought back to initial margin requirements. The failure of a member to close the customer's account before it results in such deficit or undermargined condition shall not relieve the customer of any liability to the member, nor shall such failure on the part of a member amount to an extension of credit to the customer if the member in the exercise of reasonable care has been unable to close the account without incurring such deficit or undermargined condition.

14. A member may use his discretion in permitting a customer having an established account to trade during any day without margining each transaction, provided the net position resulting from the day's trading is margined as required by Rules 286.00, 431.00 and Regulations 431.02, 431.03 and 431.05.

15. When a customer switches an open interest in the same grain from one future to another and the orders for the purchase and sale are placed simultaneously, no additional margins need be required by his commission merchant because of such switch. However, if such orders are not placed simultaneously, the new position should be margined on the basis of minimum initial margin requirements.

16. A bona fide hedger, in financial instruments, reporting positions on a gross basis pursuant to Regulation 705.01, must pay appropriate margins on the gross positions reported during the delivery month. 1822 (12/01/03)

431.02A Hedging Transactions - WHEREAS, Regulation 431.02(7) makes it incumbent "upon each member to require satisfactory evidence that all hedging trades are bona fide hedging trades," and

WHEREAS, Regulation 431.02(7) further states that "a letter from a customer so stating will be considered 'satisfactory evidence' unless there is reason to suspect otherwise;"

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that whenever a non-member customer of a member or member firm carries in its hedging account an open position in any Board of Trade futures contract exceeding speculative position limits established by the Association, it shall be incumbent upon the member or member firm to satisfy itself, and to be able to confirm to the Business Conduct Committee that the open position of such non-member customer, to the extent that it exceeds such speculative position limits, represents bona fide hedging transactions.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be published as a Ruling of the Association. 42R (08/01/94)

431.03 Margin on Futures -

Under the provisions of Rule 431.00, the Exchange shall, from time to time, determine the minimum initial and maintenance margins for futures transactions, including hedging and spreading transactions. (12/01/03)

431.03B Margins-The Rules Committee was asked the following questions:

(1) Is it permissible for a carrying broker to maintain an account with a bank where it is specified that the deposits therein are made at the request of a particular client - such funds not necessarily being those of the client.

(2) Is it permissible to maintain such an account, limiting it to the amounts deposited by such client.

The Committee is unanimously of the opinion that these practices are a violation of the Association's minimum margin Rules and Regulations. They constitute the extending of credit for margins. 40R (08/01/94)

431.04 Notice of Undermargined Omnibus Accounts-(See 285.05) (08/01/94)

431.05 Margin on Options-Under the provisions of Rule 431.00, the Board hereby establishes that minimum margins for option transactions will be determined by the *Standard Portfolio Analysis of Risk- (SPAN-) margin calculations, or as otherwise determined by the Exchange.

(12/01/03)

431.06 Margin on Options-Non-Clearing Members--A non-clearing member who makes his own option trades or who on the Floor gives his orders for option trades which are exclusively for his account shall be subject solely to the provisions of the *Standard Portfolio Analysis of Risk-margin (SPAN-).

For all long option positions premium must be paid in full when the position is initiated.

(12/01/03)

*"SPAN-" and "Standard Portfolio Analysis of Risk-" are trademarks of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange. The Chicago Mercantile Exchange assumes no liability in connection with the use of SPAN by any person or entity.

432.00 Customers' Securities--The improper use of a customer's securities is inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade. 211 (08/01/94)

433.00 Agreement for Use of Securities--An agreement between a member and a customer, authorizing the member to pledge securities, either alone or with other securities carried for the account of the customer, either for the amount due thereon or for a greater amount, or to lend such securities, does not justify the member in pledging or loaning more of such securities than is fair and reasonable in view of the indebtedness of said customer to said member.

No form of general agreement between a member and a customer shall warrant the member in using securities carried for the customer for delivery on sales made by the member for his own account, or for any account in which the firm or corporation of said member or of any general or special partner therein is directly or indirectly interested. 212 (08/01/94)

433.01 Construction of Rules 432.00 and 433.00--A customer's wholly owned securities and/or excess collateral (securities in excess of the approximate amount required to enable the member carrying the account to finance it) must be segregated in a manner which clearly identifies their ownership. The member carrying the account shall keep a record of the location of such segregated securities and the means by which their ownership may be identified. When such securities are in the custody of another broker, the member carrying the account shall keep such other broker fully informed at all times as to the specific securities to be segregated. This Regulation applies to both odd lots and round lots. (08/01/94)

443.00 Exempt Transactions--The provisions of the Rules and Regulations respecting member rates of commission and brokerage rates shall be superseded not later than March 4, 1978. 219A (08/01/94)

444.01 Transfer Trades; Exchange of Futures for Physicals and Give-up Transactions--Transfer trades, or office trades, are defined and limited to trades made upon the books of a commission merchant for the purpose of: (a) transferring existing trades from one account to another within the same office where no change in ownership is involved; or, (b) transferring existing trades from the office of one commission merchant to the office of another commission merchant where no change in ownership is involved, provided that no such transfer may be made for the purpose of evading and avoiding delivery on such trades and provided further that if such transfer is made after receipt from the Clearing Services Provider of a notice of intention to deliver applicable to such trades, then the notice of intention to deliver must be passed through the Clearing Services Provider along with the trades so transferred and the Clearing Services Provider shall thereupon pass the notice of intention to deliver to the commission merchant to whom such transfer has been made and delivery shall be taken by such commission merchant; or, (c) exchanging futures for cash commodities or in connection with cash commodities transactions; or, (d) exchanging futures for, or in connection with, swap transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.04; or, (e) exchanging futures for, or in connection with, over-the-counter derivative transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.06; or (f) to establish the prices of cash commodities; or, wheat, (g) correcting errors on cleared trades, provided the original trade documentation confirms the error and the special clearing code or screen designated by the Board of Directors has been used to identify these transfers; or (h) reporting Block Trade transactions for any contract that is eligible for Block Trade transactions under Regulation 331.05; or (i) transferring trades executed on behalf of another commission merchant from the account of the executing commission merchant to the account of the other commission merchant customer where no change of ownership is involved, provided that the special clearing code or screen designated by the Board of Directors has been used to identify these transfers. The Business Conduct Committee ("BCC") or designated staff pursuant to delegated authority, may, in its discretion, upon written request, exempt a transfer trade from the requirements of this provision providing that the transfer trade is made for the purpose of combining the positions held by two or more commodity pools which are operated by the same commodity pool operator and traded by the same commodity trading advisor, pursuant to the same strategy, into a single account so long as the transfer does not result in the liquidation of any open positions, and the pro rata allocation of interests in the consolidating account does not result in more than a de minimis change in the value of the interest of any pool participant. Additionally, the BCC, or designated staff pursuant to delegated authority, in its discretion, upon written request, may exempt such other transfers in connection with or as a result of, a merger, asset purchase, consolidation or similar non-recurring transaction between two or more entities where one or more entities become the successor in interest to one or more other entities.

Give-up transactions must be transferred in accordance with the procedure provided in subparagraph (h) above. In the case of give-up transactions, the commission merchant ("executing commission merchant") executing a trade on behalf of another commission merchant (the "carrying commission merchant") (including such carrying commission merchant's customers) must submit the trade to the Clearing Services Provider for clearing, and remains responsible for the clearing and settlement of such trade as prescribed by the Clearing Services Provider. Executing commission merchants and carrying commission merchants must utilize an automated invoicing system for commission payments resulting from give-up transactions, as determined by the Board of Directors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the executing commission merchant, carrying commission merchant and, as applicable, the customer on the account at the carrying commission merchant for which the trade is executed, may by agreement set out their respective obligations and financial responsibility to one another relating to the transfer of the trade.

The exchange of futures in connection with cash commodity transactions or of futures for cash commodities or the exchange of futures for, or in connection with, swap transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.04, or the exchanging of futures for, or in connection with, over-the-counter derivative transaction involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.06 may be made at such prices as are mutually agreed upon by the two parties to the transaction.

All transfer trades made between the offices of two commission merchants and all office trades made in connection with cash commodity transactions or the exchange of futures for cash commodities or the exchange of futures for, or in connection with, swap transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.04 or the exchange of futures for, or in connection with, over-the-counter derivatives involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.06 shall be designated by proper symbol as transfer or office trades and must be cleared through the Clearing Services Provider in the regular manner.

Transfer trades must be made at the same price or prices which appear on the books of the transferring commission merchant, and the transfer must also show the date when such trade or trades were originally made; however, the BCC, or designated staff pursuant to delegated authority, in its discretion, upon written request, may permit the transfer of positions at settlement price if such transfer is made as a result of, or in connection with, a merger, asset purchase, consolidation or similar non-recurring transaction where the entity to which the positions are transferred becomes the successor in interest to the entity from which the transfer originated. All such transfers shall retain the original trade date of the positions. Additionally those transfers involving a debtor as defined by and in accordance with Regulation 272.02 shall retain the original trade date for purposes of delivery but shall be entered on the books of the transferee at the settlement price on the day of the transfer. In addition, each party to transfer trade transactions shall file with the Clearing Services Provider a memorandum stating the nature of the transaction, whether the transaction has resulted in a change of ownership, the kind and quantity of cash commodity, swap, or over-the counter derivative if any is involved, the kind, quantity and price of the commodity future, the name of the opposite Clearing member, if any, and such other information as the Clearing Service Provider may require. 1809A (03/01/04)

444.01A Transfer Trades and Inter-Market Spreads - - Owing to the fact that some questions have arisen as to what may properly be handled in the way of give-ups, as office trades or transfer trades, particularly in connection with the new Commodity Exchange Act, the Directors have found it necessary to clarify this situation with certain interpretations which will be mailed to all members shortly. In the meantime, there is one point which seems important because of the past custom of the trade, and we wish to call attention to it. In case a house has spread orders between markets at a guaranteed difference, such as buying Winnipeg or Minneapolis or Kansas City and selling Chicago at a fixed difference, it has been customary in the past in the event they found some other house going the other way at the same difference to exchange futures in the two markets in order to consummate the spread. In other words, this was done by give-ups rather than by pit executions. Under the new interpretation, such a give-up is not permissible, inasmuch as it involves a change of ownership and is not a give-up against a cash transaction, as interpreted by the Commodity Exchange Act or the Board of Trade Rules. Accordingly, it will not be permissible to exchange futures in the form of give-ups under such circumstances, which will compel the actual filling of these limited spreads by means of pit executions.

While this appears to work a certain amount of hardship, it seems to be required in order to conform to the law and to the Rules of the Association; and, accordingly, attention is directed to it in order to avoid possible confusion where spreads are being worked between two markets. (08/01/94)

444.01B Prohibition on Exchange of Futures for Cash Commodities and on Exchange of Futures for, or in Connection with, Swap Transactions and on Exchange of Futures for, or in connection with, OTC Agricultural Transactions Involving Multi-Parties--The exchange of futures for cash commodities or in connection with cash commodity transactions or the exchange of futures for, or in connection with, swap transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.04 may occur only when the buyer of the futures contracts is the seller of the cash commodity or swap and the seller of the futures contracts is the buyer of the cash commodity or swap. However, a Member Firm may facilitate, as principal, the cash commodity component of an Exchange for Physical(EFP) on behalf of a customer provided that the Member Firm can demonstrate that the cash commodity transaction was passed through to the customer that received the futures position as part of the EFP transaction. The exchange of futures for, or in connection with, over-the-counter derivative transactions involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.06 occur only when the buyer and seller of the futures contracts are the opposing sides to the OTC transaction and have respectively, the short and long market expose associated with the OTC transaction. All such transactions must be submitted to the Clearing Services Provider clearing house by a clearing firm acting on its own behalf or for the beneficial account of a customer who is a party to the transaction. (03/01/04)

444.02 Clearance of Exchanges of Futures for Physicals Transactions, of Exchanges of Futures for, or in Connection with, Swap Transactions, and of Exchange of Futures for, or in Connection with, OTC Transactions - With respect to the futures portion of an exchange of future for physical transaction or an exchange of futures for swap transaction involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.04 or an exchange of futures for an over-the-counter derivative transaction involving those futures designated in Regulation 444.06, clearing firm on opposite sides of the transaction must subsequently approve the terms of the transaction, including the clearing firm (division), price, quantity, commodity, contract month and date prior to submitting the transaction to the Clearing Services Provider. (03/01/04)

444.03 Transfer Trades in a Delivery Month--During the delivery month and 2 business days prior to the first delivery day, (or in the case of crude petroleum during position month) transfer trades for the purpose of offsetting existing positions where no change of ownership is involved are prohibited when the date of execution of the position being transferred is not the same as the transfer date. Positions carried at different houses for the same owner 2 business days prior and to a delivery month and thereafter (or in the case of crude petroleum during position month) are required to be offset in the pit or through the normal delivery process. The receiving firm has the responsibility to assure compliance with this regulation. (08/01/94)

444.04 Exchange of Futures for, or in Connection with, Swap Transactions Involving U.S. Treasury Bond Futures, 10-year U.S. Treasury Note Futures, 5-year U.S. Treasury Note Futures, 2-year U.S. Treasury, Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index futures, 10-Year Municipal Note Index Futures, 10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures and 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures --An exchange of futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (EFS) consists of two discrete, but related, transactions; a swap transaction and a futures transaction. At the time such transaction is effected, the buyer and seller of the futures must be, respectively, the seller and the buyer of the swap. The swap component shall involve the commodity underlying the futures contract (or a derivative, by-product or related product of such commodity). The quantity covered by the swap must be approximately equivalent to the quantity covered by the futures contracts. (03/01/04)

444.05 Transfer Trades for the Purpose of Offsetting, mini-sized Dow/SM/ Futures ($5 multiplier) and CBOT(R) Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ (DJIA/SM/) Futures. With the consent of the account controller, a clearing member may offset and liquidate long mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) positions against short DJIA/SM/ futures positions, or short mini- sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) positions against long DJIA/SM/ futures positions, held in the same contract month and year and in the same account in a ratio of 2 (two) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) contracts to 1 (one) DJIA/SM/ contract. The clearing member shall notify the Clearing Services Provider of offsetting positions by submitting reports to the Clearing Services Provider in such form and manner as the Clearing Services Provider shall specify. The positions being offset shall be transferred to a holding account at the Clearing Services Provider and long and short positions in the same contract month in the holding account will be netted, thus reducing the number of open positions in such contract. (01/01/04)

446.06 Exchange of Futures For, Or in Connection with, OTC Transactions Involving Corn, Soybeans, Soybean Meal, Soybean Oil, Wheat, Oat and Rice Futures - - An exchange of futures for, or in connection with, an over-the-counter (OTC) derivative transaction (an EFR transaction) consists of two discrete, but related, transactions; an OTC derivative transaction and a futures transaction. At the time such transaction is effected, the buyer and seller of the futures contracts must be the opposing sides to the OTC transaction and have, respectively, the short and long market exposure associated with the OTC transaction. The OTC transaction shall involve the commodity underlying the futures contract (or a derivative, by-product or related product of such commodity). The quantity covered by the OTC transaction must be approximately equivalent to the quantity covered by the futures contracts. The OTC component of an EFR must comply with any applicable regulatory requirements prescribed by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. (07/01/03)

450.00 Exchange Services Fees -

(a) members, membership interest holders and member firms. Each Full and Associate Member (hereinafter referred to as "Members"), Membership Interest Holder and member firm shall be obligated to pay, at such times and in such manner as the Exchange or e-cbot, in accordance with the fee schedule set forth in Appendix 4A. In that Appendix the applicable rate specifications shall be per contract/per side, and the applicable volume specifications shall be per calendar month.

(1) Open auction fee caps - with respect to open auction trades for a Full or Associate Member's own account, the maximum of fees paid by any Full or Associate Member shall be $20,000 per year per person who initiates and executes the trades. With respect to open auction trades for the proprietary account of a Regulation 230.02, Category (1a), (1b), (2a), (2b) or (2c) member firm or a member firm affiliate as defined in Regulation 450.02 D, which are initiated and executed by the same Member or Membership Interest holder, the maximum of fees paid by any such member firm or member firm affiliate shall be $20,000 per year per person who initiates and executes the trades.

(2) Open auction floor broker fee - Open auction trades executed by a Member or Membership Interest holder as a floor broker for others shall incur a floor brokerage charge of 5 cents per contract/per side. Provided, however, that this charge shall not apply to trades which are both initiated and executed by the same Member or Membership Interest holder for the account of a Member or Membership Interest holder, or the proprietary account of a member firm. The maximum of fees paid by any Full or Associate Member executes trades as a floor broker for others and also initiates and executes open auction trades for his or her own account, the maximum of fees paid by such Full or Associate Member for all such open auction trades collectively shall be $20,000 per year.

(3) Firm-owned memberships - Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section (a), the fees applicable with respect to Memberships and Membership Interests which are owned by member firms shall be equivalent, in the following categories, to those which the Exchange prescribes for delegates:

(i) Trades for such Member's or Membership Interest holder's own account, in cases where the individual is not a principal of the member firm which owns his/her Membership or Membership Interest. For purposes of this paragraph, an individual shall be deemed a principal of a member firm if he/she holds a majority ownership interest in that firm and/or meets other such criteria as the Exchange may prescribe by regulation; and

(ii) Trades executed by such Member or Membership Interest holder on behalf of any account other than the proprietary account or a customer account of the member firm owner of the Membership Interest.

(b) non-members. Each member or registered eligible business organization handling the funds of non-member customers shall include, in the statements to such customers, fees for the open auction and e-cbot transactions executed for the accounts of such customers in accordance with the fee schedule set forth in Appendix 4A. In that Appendix, the applicable rate specifications shall be per contract/per side, and the applicable volume specifications shall be per calendar month.

All such fees collected from non-member customers shall be remitted by the member or registered eligible business organization at such times and in such manner as the Exchange or e-cbot, as applicable, may prescribe.

(c) surcharges, In addition to the fees referenced in sections (a) and (b) of this Rule, surcharges in the following categories will apply as specified in Appendix 4A:

- Licensed contract fees;
- Exchange for Physicals ("EFP") and Exchange for Swap ("EFS") surcharges;
- Non-trade allocation fees (for exercises, deliveries, assignments and expirations);
- Block Trading surcharges.

(d) appendix incorporated within rule. Appendix 4A is incorporated by reference as part of this Rule 450.00 to the extent that the fee provisions in Sections (a) through (c) hereof are specified further in Appendix 4A.

(e) mini-sized contracts. e-cbot fees for mini-sized contracts shall be at such rates as the e-cbot Board may prescribe.

(f) electronic order routing and floor performance efficiency fees. In addition to the other applicable fees specified in this Rule, a fee of 5 cents per contract may apply to transactions resulting from orders which are routed to the Exchange Floor and which are subject to floor performance efficiency standards specified by the Exchange.

(g) revenue. The Board of Directors of the Exchange or of e-cbot ("the applicable Board") shall have the authority in its discretion to suspend any of the fees specified in this Rule at any time during a fiscal year upon making a determination that year-to-date Exchange revenue have attained a sufficient level to render the further collection of such fees unwarranted.

(h) reports. Each member or registered eligible business organization subject to the provisions of this Rule shall submit to the Exchange such reports as the applicable Board may deem necessary for the administration of this Rule.

(i) enforcement. No member or registered eligible business organization shall be obligated to the Exchange for the payment of Exchange Services Fees attributable to non-member transactions except to the extent that such fees are collected from non-member customers; provided, however, that each member or registered eligible business organization responsible for the collection of Exchange Services Fees shall make a bona fide and diligent effort to collect such amounts and shall not have the right, without prior approval of the Exchange, to release or forgive any indebtedness of a non-member to the Exchange for Exchange Service Fees. In the event of delinquencies in the payment of Exchange Service Fees by a non-member, the applicable Board in its discretion may order that further trading in the accounts of such non-member shall be for liquidation only until the indebtedness is paid.

(j) special assessments. This Rule shall not be construed to supersede Rule 240.00 in any way nor to abrogate the responsibility and right of the Board to levy such additional assessments, charges or fees upon the membership as may be necessary to meet the obligations of the Exchange. 136 (07/01/04)

450.01 Exchange Service Fees - Payment of the Exchange Service Fee in respect to transactions executed by a Member, Membership Interest Holder, or Delegate on the Floor as a floor broker for the account of others, under Rule 450.00, must be remitted to the Exchange's Accounting Department within thirty days commencing from the date of the Exchange's invoice to the member. Failure to pay the invoiced transaction fees within the prescribed thirty days may result in the suspension (pursuant to the provisions of Exchange Regulation 540.06) of the defaulting member's membership privileges, including floor access and the benefit of member transaction fees.

Payment of the Exchange Service Fee in respect to transactions for Members' Membership Interest Holders' or Delegates' own accounts or Member firms' accounts, under Rule 450.00, must be remitted to the Exchange's Accounting Department by the member firm clearing such transactions within twenty-one days commencing from the date of the Exchange's invoice to such clearing member firm.

No member or registered eligible business organization shall identify on its statements to nonmember customers any charge as an "Exchange Service Fee" unless the amount shown is actually due and payable to the Association under Rule 450.00. (04/01/00)

450.01A Exchange Service Fees - BE IT RESOLVED, that Regulation 450.01 be adopted with effective date of April 1, 1974 for Exchange Service Fees on member transactions and May 1, 1974 for Exchange Service Fees on non-member transactions. (08/01/94)

450.02A Member's Own Account - For the purpose of implementing Rule 450.00, the term "member's own account" shall refer only to those commodity futures or commodity options trading accounts that are wholly owned by and held in the name of one or more members. For any account held by more than one member, all trades made for such account shall pay transaction fees equal to the highest fee required of any of the individual participants in the account, in accordance with Regulation 450.02E. An account owned by and held in the name of a non-member spouse or other relative of a member shall not be considered a member's account. (01/01/02)

450.02B Member's Own Account in Trust - For the purpose of Rule 450.00, a commodity futures or commodity options trading account placed in trust shall be deemed a "members own account" if the following are true:

(1) the member is the sole settlor of the trust; and

(2) the member is one of the trustees of the trust and as such trustee, has sole control over the investment-making decisions of the trust; and

(3) the beneficiaries of the trust include only the member, the member's spouse and/or the member's descendants; and

(4) the trust declaration expressly incorporates the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, as may be amended; and

(5) the interest in the trust that inures to the beneficiaries of the trust shall be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, as may be amended; and

(6) the non-member trustee, if any, expressly agrees in the trust declaration, to be subject to all Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, as amended.

The member must provide the Exchange, via the Member Services Department, a copy of the trust declaration creating the trust described in the preceding sentence as well as any amendments thereto along with a letter from an attorney stating that in the attorney's opinion, the trust created is designed to achieve the estate planning objectives of the member. Upon the member's death or if the member is adjudged incompetent, any commodity futures or commodity options trading account placed in trust pursuant to this section by such member will be treated as a non-member trading account for purposes of implementing Rule 450.00. (01/01/02)

450.02C(i) Member Firm's Proprietary Account - For the purpose of implementing Rule 450.00, the term "member firm's account" shall refer only to those commodity futures or commodity options trading accounts that are wholly owned by and held in the name of the member firm. The term "member firm" shall refer only to a firm registered with the Exchange pursuant to Regulation 230.02. For an account to qualify as member firm proprietary account, delegates and individuals who are non-members with respect to the contracts being traded, who initiate and/or enter trades on behalf of the proprietary account must meet the following requirements:

(1) may not provide trading capital for the account; and

(2) may not have responsibility to provide capital based on trading losses; and

(3) for individuals that are not issued a W-2 (or comparable documentation in jurisdictions other than the United States) the firm must have a written agreement detailing the full terms of their compensation agreements; and

(4) may not contribute subordinated debt, unless the individual is a partner or shareholder of the member firm; and

(5) gross trading profits and losses must be reported in the firm's income statement.

Any account that does not meet the above criteria will be considered a joint account with a non-member entity or individual and therefore, must comply with Regulation 450.02E. (11/01/03)

450.02C(ii) Individual Member's Trading Account - For purposes of implementing Rule 450.00, for an account to qualify as an individual member's account or a joint account of individual members, where the trades are executed on e-cbot, delegates or individuals who are non-members with respect to the contract being traded, who initiate and/or enter trades on behalf of the account must meet the following requirements:

(1) may not provide trading capital for the account; and

(2) may not have responsibility to provide capital based on trading losses; and

(3) the individual member must have a written agreement detailing the full terms of the non-member trader's compensation; and

(4) the trader may not make a loan to the individual member for the purposes of providing trading capital.

A member that is trading on the floor may designate up to a maximum of two clerks who may execute trades initiated by the member and executed through e-cbot. Such trades will be eligible for fees at the individual member rate (level 1).

Any account that does not meet the above criteria will be considered a joint account with a non-member entity or individual, and therefore must comply with Regulation 450.02E. (11/01/03)

450.02C(iii) Firm Owner Trading a Proprietary Account - In cases where a non-member owner or partner, including limited liability partners, of a member firm trades a member firm proprietary account, and where the owner/trader's compensation is tied to the profitability of the specific proprietary account(s), in order for the trades in such proprietary account to receive member fee treatment, the owner/trader must maintain at least $200,000 in the trading account(s) and the $200,000 must be available to support the trading activity on the Exchange. If the owner/trader does not maintain the requisite $200,000, the account will be considered a joint account between the member firm and the non-member owner/trader, and thereby the transaction fees will be determined in accordance with Regulation 450.02E. (11/01/03)

450.02D Member Firm Affiliates and Designated Passive Investor Entities

(i) Member Firm Affiliates - For purposes of this regulation, the term "member firm affiliate" shall mean a non-Futures Commission Merchant, non-clearing entity which is wholly owned by one or more member firms, which wholly owns a member firm, or which is wholly owned by the same parent company(ies) as a member firm. For purposes of this regulation, the term "member firm" shall refer only to a firm registered with the Exchange pursuant to registration categories (la), (1b), (2a) or (2b) of Regulation 230.02.

(a) A member firm affiliate may lease a Full or Associate Membership on its own behalf, thereby qualifying for delegate fee treatment (i.e., the applicable member firm fee plus the applicable delegate fee) with respect to its transactions on the Exchange.

(b) A member firm which owns one or more Full Memberships in addition to those required for its own registration under Rule 230.00, and/or any Associate Membership(s), (hereinafter "non-qualifying memberships") may designate such a non-qualifying membership to make its member firm affiliate eligible for member firm transaction fee treatment. A non-qualifying membership may not be designated for more than one member firm affiliate at any given time.

(c) A member firm that has at least four (4) Full Memberships and two (2) Associate Memberships registered on its behalf, including any Full Memberships required for its own registration under Rule 230.00, may designate any number of its member firm affiliates for member firm transaction fee treatment. A member firm whose proprietary trading on the Exchange includes only agricultural contracts may, at its option, designate for member firm transaction fee treatment any number of its member firm affiliates whose proprietary trading on the Exchange also includes only agricultural contracts, if the member firm has at least five (5) Full Memberships registered on its behalf.

(ii) Member Firm Designation of Passive Investor Entities - A member firm that is registered with the Exchange pursuant to registration categories (1a), (1b), (2a) or (2b) of Regulation 230.02, and that has at least four (4) Full Memberships and two (2) Associate Memberships registered on its behalf including any Full Memberships required for its own registration under Rule 230.00, and/or member firm affiliates of a category (1a), (1b), (2a) or (2b) member firm, or a member firm registered with the Exchange pursuant to registration category (3) of Regulation 230.02, may designate, for member firm transaction fee treatment, up to a total of five non-FCM, non-clearing passive investor entities, where the member firm or member firm affiliate exercises trading control over, or is under common trading control with, such entities, or in addition with respect to a category (3) member firm, which wholly owns such entities. For purposes of this regulation, a "passive investor entity" is defined as a commodity pool, hedge fund, or other collective investment vehicle.

If a Regulation 230.02, category (1a), (1b), (2a) or (2b) member firm and/or its member firm affiliates, or (3) member firm wishes to designate more than five passive investor entities as described in this paragraph (ii), there must be an additional four (4) Full Memberships and two (2) Associate Memberships registered on the member firm's behalf, in order for the member firm and/or member firm affiliates to be eligible to designate up to a total of six additional such entities.

(iii) Provisions Applicable to Designations of Member Firm Affiliates and Passive Investor Entities - All designations of member firm affiliates and passive investor entities, as described in paragraphs (i) and (ii) above, shall be subject to the following provisions:

(a) In order to become effective, the designation must be documented with, and approved by, the Exchange in such manner as the Exchange prescribes.

(b) Upon such designation, the member firm affiliate or passive investor entity shall be subject to the Exchange's jurisdiction and to all duties and obligations imposed upon members and member firms under the Rules and Regulations; provided, however, that the Exchange may exempt such member firm affiliates or passive investor entities from any such duty or obligation which, in the Exchange's sole judgment, is incompatible or in conflict with, or is unrelated to, the activities of the member firm affiliate or passive investor entity.

(c) The Exchange may withdraw its approval of such designation for good cause.

(d) A non-qualifying membership or all of the four (4) Full Memberships and two (2) Associate Memberships, or five (5) Full Memberships pursuant to paragraph (i)(c), registered on behalf of a Regulation 230.02, category (1a), (1b), (2a), (2b) or (3) member firm will be subject to sale by the Exchange for the acts or delinquencies of the member firm for which they are registered and/or for the acts or delinquencies of any member firm affiliate or passive investor entity that has been designated by the member firm under this regulation.

(e) Upon the sale or transfer of a non-qualifying membership or any of such four (4) Full Memberships or two (2) Associate Memberships, or five (5) Full Memberships pursuant to paragraph (i)(c), claims may be filed pursuant to Rule 253.00 against the member firm for which the membership is registered and/or against any member firm affiliate or passive investor entity that has been designated by the member firm under this regulation. (04/01/04)

450.02E Joint Accounts - Any account where profits and/or losses are shared by more than one party (member or non-member), shall pay Exchange transaction fees based on the highest rate applicable of any of the account's participants. In addition, a trading account that is funded by a loan shall be deemed a joint account between the borrower and the lender unless it can be demonstrated that the terms of the loan represent a reasonable interest rate, not affected by the profits and/or losses generated in the account. Further, the terms of the loan cannot suggest that the loan need not be paid back in the event of losses. (10/01/02)

450.02F Transaction Fees for e-cbot Member Firms - Delegate transaction fee rates shall apply to eligible business organizations which are e-cbot member firms pursuant to Regulation 230.02 based on a delegated Full or Associate Membership or a firm-registered Associate Membership. (12/01/03)

450.02G Fees in Connection with Firm-Owned Memberships and Membership Interests - - For purposes of Rule 450.00(a)(3), an individual utilizing a firm-owned Membership or Membership Interest shall be treated as a member (rather than as equivalent to a delegate) to the extent that such individual executes, or initiates and executes, as applicable, trades on behalf of the proprietary account or a customer account, as applicable, of an affiliate of the member firm which owns his/her Membership or Membership Interest.

For purposes of this regulation, the term "affiliate" shall mean a member firm affiliate as defined in Regulation 450.02D. For purposes of this regulation, the term "member firm" shall refer only to a firm registered with the Exchange pursuant to registration categories (1a), (1b), (2a), (2b) or (3) of Regulation 230.02. (11/01/03)

450.02H e-cbot Trades Executed by a Non-Member Terminal Operator - In order for an individual Member or Membership Interest holder to receive member transaction fee rates as specified in Rule 450.00(c)(1) for trades executed by a non-member terminal operator, such non-member terminal operator must have accessed the e-cbot system under a subgroup ID different from that of the member account owner and may not otherwise have access to the member account owner's open transactions. (07/01/03)

450.02I Category (3) Fees - Member firms qualified under Regulation 230.02 Category (3) will be granted the same fee treatment as the proprietary accounts of Category (1a), (1b), (2a) and (2b) member firms where the trade is either initiated or executed by a non-member. (11/01/03)

* 450.04 Exchange Service Fees - Adjustments - Exchange Service Fee adjustments may be granted to or required of member firms which have made overpayments to or underpaid the Exchange for any reason. The Exchange will only grant adjustments to member firms for the overpayment of exchange service fees for a period of up to six months [one year] back from the month-end preceding the date when a rebate request is made by the firm. The Exchange will only require member firms to make adjustments for the underpayment of exchange service fees for a period of up to two [three] years back from the end of the audit period selected by the Exchange. Interest and or costs may be assessed in accordance with policies established by the Exchange. (08/01/04)

* Additions underlined; deletions bracketed effective 01/01/05

450.05 Fees -- Members and member firms will be granted lower fees than non-members. (11/01/00)

450.06 Member Fee Cap Clarification - The maximum amount of fees paid of $25,000 as described in Rule 450.00 (a) applies only to trades executed on the Exchange trading floor and not to trades executed through e-cbot. (01/01/02)

Ch4 Adjustments

460.01 Errors and Mishandling of Orders - (See 350.04) (08/01/94)
460.02 Checking and Reporting Trades - (See 350.02) (08/01/94)
460.03 Failure to Check Trades - (See 350.01) (08/01/94)
460.04 Price of Execution Binding - (See 331.01) (08/01/94)

465.01 Records of Customers' Orders - Immediately upon receipt in the sales office of a customer order each member or registered eligible business organization shall prepare a written record of the order. It shall be dated and time-stamped when the order is received and shall show the account designation, except that in the case of a bunched order the account designation does not need to be recorded at that time if the order qualifies for and is executed pursuant to and in accordance with CFTC Regulation 1.35(a-1)(5). The order shall also be time-stamped when it is transmitted to the Floor of the Exchange and when its execution, or the fact that it is unable to be executed, is reported from the Floor of the Exchange to the sales office. All time-stamps required by this paragraph shall show the time to the nearest minute.

Immediately upon receipt on the Floor of the Exchange of a customer order, each member or registered eligible business organization shall prepare a written record of the order. It shall be dated and time-stamped when the order is received on the Floor and shall show the account designation, except that in the case of a bunched order the account designation does not need to be recorded at that time if the order qualifies for and is executed pursuant to and in accordance with CFTC Regulation 1.35(a-1)(5). The order shall also be time-stamped:

(a) when it is transmitted to the floor broker if it is not transmitted immediately after it is received on the Floor, and

(b) if the written order is transmitted to the floor broker, when the order is received back from the floor broker, or

(c) if the order is transmitted to the floor broker verbally or by hand signals, when a report of its execution, or the fact that it is unable to be executed, is received from the floor broker.

Only time-stamps which are specified by the Exchange and synchronized with the Exchange Floor master clock may be used on the Exchange Floor.

It shall be an offense against the Association to manipulate or tamper with any time-stamp on the Exchange Floor, so as to put it out of synchronization with the master clock. Records of customer orders executed through the Exchange's e-cbot system shall be governed by Regulations 9B.11 and 9B.18.

Any errors on written records of customer orders prepared on the Floor of the Exchange may be corrected by crossing out the erroneous information without obliterating or otherwise making illegible any of the originally recorded information. (01/01/04)

465.02 Application and Closing Out of Offsetting Long and Short Positions -

(a) APPLICATION OF PURCHASES AND SALES. Except with respect to purchases or sales which are for omnibus accounts, or where the customer or account controller has instructed otherwise, any futures commission merchant, subject to the Rules of the Exchange, who

(1) Shall purchase any commodity for future delivery for the account of any customer when the account of such customer at the time of such purchase has a short position in the same future of the same commodity on the same market, or

(2) Shall sell any commodity for future delivery for the account of any customer when the account of such customer at the time of such sale has a long position in the same future of the same commodity on the same market, or

(3) Shall purchase a put or call option for the account of a customer when the account of such customer at the time of such purchase has a short put or call option position in the same option series as that purchased, or

(4) Shall sell a put or call option for the account of a customer when the account of such customer at the time of such sale has a long put or call option position in the same option series as that sold shall on the same day apply such purchase or sale against such previously held short or long futures or options position, as applicable, and shall promptly furnish such customer a statement showing the financial result of the transactions involved.

(b) CLOSE OUT AGAINST OLDEST POSITION. In all instances where the short or long futures or options position in such customer's account immediately prior to such offsetting purchase or sale is greater than the quantity purchased or sold, the futures commission merchant shall apply such offsetting purchase or sale to such portion of the previously held short or long position as may be specified by the customer. In the absence of specific instructions from the customer, the futures commission merchant shall apply such offsetting purchase or sale to the oldest portion of the previously held short or long position. Such instructions also may be accepted from any person who, by power of attorney or otherwise, actually directs trading in the customer's account unless the person directing the trading is the futures commission merchant (including any partner thereof), or is an officer, employee, or agent of the futures commission merchant. With respect to every such offsetting transaction that, in accordance with such specific instructions, is not applied to the oldest portion of the previously held futures or options position, the futures commission merchant shall clearly show on the statement issued to the customer in connection with the futures or options transaction, that as a result of the specific instructions given by or on behalf of the customer the transaction was not applied in the usual manner i.e., against the oldest portion of the previously held futures or option position. However, no such showing need be made if the futures commission merchant has received such specific instructions in writing from the customer for whom such an account is carried.

(c) IN-AND-OUT TRADES; DAY TRADES. Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) above, this Regulation shall not be deemed to require the application of purchases or sales closed out during the same day (commonly known as "in-and-out trades" or "day trades") against short or long positions carried forward from a prior date.

(d) EXCEPTIONS. The provisions of this Regulation shall not apply to:

(1) Purchases or sales constituting "bona fide hedging transactions" as defined in C.F.T.C. Regulation 1.3(z).

(2) sales during a delivery period for the purpose of making delivery during such delivery period if such sales are accompanied by instructions to make delivery thereon, together with warehouse receipts or other documents necessary to effectuate such delivery.

(3) Purchases or sales held in error accounts, including but not limited to floor broker error accounts, and purchases or sales identified as errors at the time they are assigned to an account that contains other purchases or sales not identified as errors and held in that account ("error trades"), provided that:

(i) Each error trade does not offset another error trade held in the same account;

(ii) Each error trade is offset by open and competitive means on or subject to the rules of a contract market by not later that the close of business on the business day following the day the error trade is discovered and assigned to an error account or identified as an error trade, unless at the close of business on the business day following the discovery of the error trade, the relevant market has reached a daily price fluctuation limit and the trader is unable to offset the error trade, in which case the error trade must be offset as soon as practicable thereafter; and

(iii) No error trade is closed out by transferring such an open position to another account also controlled by that same trader.

(e) _____ required by paragraph (a) of this Regulation may be furnished to the customer or account controller by means of electronic transmission, in accordance with CFTC Regulation 1.33(g). (11/01/04)

465.02A Exchange's No Position Stance on FCM's Internal Bookkeeping Procedures - The Exchange takes no position regarding the internal bookkeeping procedures of a commission merchant who, for the convenience of a customer, may hold concurrent long and short position in the same commodity, month (and strike price). This does not relieve the commission merchant of its responsibilities under Regulation 465.02 of offsetting the position for Exchange reporting purposes (i.e., Large Trader, Open Interest and Long Positions Eligible for Delivery) and promptly furnishing the customer a purchase and sale statement showing the financial result of the transactions involved. (08/01/94)

465.03 Orders and Cancellations Accepted On A 'Not Held' Basis - (See 337.01) (08/01/94)

465.04 Records of Floor Order Forms - Clearing Members shall establish and maintain procedures that will assure the complete accountability of all floor order forms used on the Exchange Floor. Machine and handwritten orders are required to be machine sequentially prenumbered and maintained by the firm in sequential order (except as otherwise provided in Regulation 465.05). (10/01/01)

465.05 Floor Order Forms - All floor orders must be in a form approved by the Floor Governors Committee or an employee of the Office of Investigations and Audits designated by the Floor Governors Committee.

Floor order forms must be machine sequentially prenumbered and contain the following machine preprinted information:

(1) the name of the Clearing Member (except as provided below);

(2) bracket designations,

(3) a space designated for the customer account number; and

(4) a space designated for the executing broker identification. (10/01/01)

Should a Clearing Member authorize a customer to enter orders directly with a floor broker in accordance with Appendix 3B(F), the Clearing Member, at its sole discretion, may authorize the floor broker to enter the Clearing Member's name on a floor order ticket that does not include the pre-printed name of the Clearing Member. In such circumstances, the floor broker must utilize machine sequentially pre-numbered orders that include the machine pre-printed acronym of the floor broker, and the floor broker must assure the complete accountability of all floor order forms used on the Exchange Floor.

465.06 Broker's Copy of Floor Orders - Upon request, a clearing firm must provide its broker, in an expeditious and reasonable manner, with a copy of every floor order he is asked to execute. (08/01/94)

465.07 Designation of Order Number Sequences - To facilitate Exchange monitoring of order flow volume, the Exchange may prescribe particular sequences of order form numbers for member firms to use in specified areas of the Exchange Floor. (07/01/94)

465.08 Post-Execution Allocation - All trades entered and executed in accordance with CFTC Regulation 1.35(a-1)(5) regarding orders eligible for post-execution allocation, must be allocated in sufficient time to meet the trade submission requirements of the Clearing Services Provider for the trade date of the order. (01/01/04)

466.00 Orders Must be Executed in the Public Market - (See 332.00) (08/01/94)

Ch4 Offices and Branch Offices

475.00 Offices and Branch Offices - Member firms and member sole proprietors may establish offices other than main offices. All offices of member firms and member sole proprietors and employees thereof shall be subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Association, and shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Business Conduct Committee in connection therewith; provided, however, that the Business Conduct Committee may exempt such offices and employees from any such Rule or Regulation which is incompatible with, in conflict with or unrelated to the functions performed by them. The term "branch office" shall include each branch office or wholly-owned subsidiary of the member firm that solicits, accepts, or services Commodity Futures Contracts or Options and/or is listed by the member firm as a branch office with the National Futures Association.

A branch office must conduct business under the same name as the parent firm or corporation. 129 (01/01/99)

Ch4 APs and Other Employees

480.01 APs - An Associated Person ("AP") is an employee of a member sole proprietor or member firm who solicits, accepts or services business other than in a clerical capacity in commodity futures and commodity options, and who has been granted registration as an Associated Person ("AP") by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) or the National Futures Association (NFA) pursuant to the Commodity Exchange Act. (08/01/94)

480.02 Employers Responsible for APs - Employers, in all instances, shall be responsible for the acts and omissions of their APs and branch office managers. (08/01/94)

480.09 Other Employees - The Business Conduct Committee may require that the name, remuneration, term of employment and actual duties of any employee of a member or of a member firm shall be stated to the Committee, together with such other information with respect to the employee as the Committee may deem requisite. The Committee may, in its discretion, disapprove of said employment, remuneration or term of employment. (08/01/94)

480.10 Supervision - Any willful act or omission by which a member fails to ensure compliance with the rules, regulations and bylaws of the Association by such member's partners, employees, agents or persons subject to his supervision shall constitute an offense against the Association by the member.

Any willful act or omission by which a member firm fails to ensure compliance with the rules, regulations and bylaws of the Association by such member firm's partners, directors, officers, employees or agents shall constitute an offense against the Association by the member firm. (07/01/95)

Ch4 Options Transactions

490.00 Application of Rules and Regulations - Unless specifically negated or unless superseded, each Rule or Regulation of the Association pertaining to transactions in future delivery contracts shall apply with equal force and effect to transactions in options. (08/01/94)

490.02 Option Customer Complaints - Each commission merchant engaging in the offer or sale of options pursuant to these Rules and Regulations shall, with respect to all written option customer complaints and oral option customer complaints which result in, or which would result in an adjustment to the option customer's account in an amount in excess of one thousand dollars:

(1) Retain all such written complaints and make and retain written records of all such oral complaints; and

(2) Make and retain a record of the date the complaint was received, the employee who serviced the account, a general description of the matter complained of, and what, if any, action was taken by the commission merchant in regard to the complaint. (08/01/94)

490.03 Supervision Procedures - Each commission merchant engaging in the offer or sale of options pursuant to these Rules and Regulations shall adopt and enforce written procedures pursuant to which it will be able to supervise adequately each option customer's account, including but not limited to, the solicitation of such account; provided that, as used in this Regulation, the term "option customer" does not include another commission merchant. (08/01/94)

490.03A Introducing Brokers Guaranteed by Member FCMs/Supervision Procedures - The Board of Directors in a special polling held on Friday, February 3, 1984 approved the following Resolution of the Member Services Committee pursuant to Regulation 490.03 of the Association.

WHEREAS, The Commodity Futures Trading Commission has provided by regulation that introducing brokers operating pursuant to a guarantee agreement with an FCM be permitted to solicit and/or accept orders for exchange-traded options if the Exchange of which the guarantor FCM is a member has adopted rules which govern the commodity option related activity of the guaranteed introducing broker; and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of certain members to permit the solicitation and/or acceptance of Chicago Board of Trade options by introducing brokers guaranteed by a member FCM;

NOW THEREFORE, be it -

RESOLVED, that each Rule or Regulation of the Association pertaining to the options sales practices of members or their employees shall apply with equal force and effect to the options sales practices of introducing brokers who are operating pursuant to a guarantee agreement with a member FCM and such member FCM shall be fully responsible therefor, and that this Resolution shall remain in effect until rescinded by a vote of the members or until such time as the National Futures Association or other registered futures association adopts rules which are approved by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission to govern the commodity option related activity of such guaranteed introducing brokers. (08/01/94)

490.05 Disclosure - Each commission merchant engaging in the offer or sale of options pursuant to these Rules and Regulations shall enforce the following requirements pertaining to disclosure statements:

(1) Prior to opening an options account for an options customer, each commission merchant must furnish the options customer with a separate written risk disclosure statement, as set forth and described in Commodity Futures Trading Commission Regulation 33.7, and receive from the options customer an acknowledgement, signed and dated by the options customer, that he received and understood the disclosure statement.

(2) Each disclosure statement and acknowledgement must be retained by the commission merchant in accordance with applicable Regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

(3) Prior to the entry into an options transaction pursuant to these Rules and Regulations, each commission merchant or the person soliciting or accepting the order therefor must provide each options customer with all of the information required under the disclosure statement; Provided, further, that the commission merchant must provide current information to an options customer if the information provided previously has become inaccurate.

(4) Prior to the entry into an options transaction pursuant to these Rules and Regulations, each options customer or prospective options customer shall, to the extent the following amounts are known or can reasonably be approximated, be informed by the person soliciting or accepting the order therefore of the amount of the premium, commissions, costs, fees and other charges to be incurred in connection with the options transaction, as well as the strike price and all costs to be incurred by the options customer if the option is exercised; in addition, the limitations, if any, on the transfer of an options customer's account to a commission merchant other than the one through whom the options transaction is to be executed shall also be provided in writing.

(5) For the purposes of this Regulation, a commission merchant shall not be deemed to be an options customer. (08/01/94)

490.06 Promotional Material - Each commission merchant engaging in the offer or sale of futures and options pursuant to these Rules and Regulations shall promptly make available upon request to the Office of Investigtions and Audits all promotional material pertaining to trading in such futures and options.

For the purposes of this Regulation, the term "promotional material" includes:

(1) any text of a standardized oral presentation, or any communication for publication in any newspaper, magazine or similar medium, or for broadcast over television, radio, or other electronic medium, which is disseminated or directed to a customer or prospective customer concerning a commodity futures or option transaction;

(2) any standardized form of report, letter, circular, memorandum or publication which is disseminated or directed to a customer or prospective customer; and

(3) any other written material disseminated or directed to a customer or prospective options customer for the purpose of soliciting a futures or options order, including any disclosure statement. (08/01/94)

490.07 Sales Communication - Each commission merchant engaging in the offer or sale of futures and options pursuant to these Rules and Regulations is prohibited from making fraudulent or high-pressure sales communications relating to the offer or sale of such futures and options. (08/01/94)

490.09 Reports by Commission Merchants - Each commission merchant shall make and submit such reports showing options positions held by any of its customers, in such form as may be required from time to time by the Office of Investigations and Audits or the Business Conduct Committee. Specifically, and without limiting the authority of the Office of Investigations and Audits or the Business Conduct Committee under this Regulation, all information needed to comply with Part 16 of the Commission's Regulations (17 CFR Part 16) may be collected from any member. (08/01/94)

Chapter 5
Disciplinary Proceedings

Chapter 5
Disciplinary Proceedings

Ch5 Offenses

500.00 Inequitable Proceedings - It shall be an offense against the Association to violate any Rule or Regulation of the Association or any policy, Rule or Regulation of the Clearing Services Provider to which CBOT Clearing members are subject pursuant to a Clearing Services Agreement between the Exchange and such Clearing Services Provider, regulating the conduct or business of members, or any agreement made with Association, or engage in fraud, dishonorable or dishonest conduct, or in conduct or proceedings inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade, or make default relating to the delivery of contracts traded for future delivery (unless such default was unintentional). 141 (01/01/04)

501.00 Fictitious Transactions - It shall be an offense against the Association to create fictitious transactions or to give an order for the purchase or sale of futures or options the execution of which would involve no change in ownership, or to execute such an order with knowledge of its character. 142 (08/01/94)

502.00 Demoralization of Market - Purchases or sales of commodities or securities, or offers to purchase or sell commodities or securities, made for the purpose of upsetting the equilibrium of the market and bringing about a condition of demoralization in which prices will not fairly reflect market values, are forbidden and any member who makes or assists in making such purchase or sale or offers to purchase or sell with knowledge of the purpose thereof, or who, with such knowledge shall be a party to assist in carrying out any plan or scheme for the making of such purchases or sales or offers to purchase or sell, shall be deemed to be guilty of an act inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade. 143 (08/01/94)

503.00 Misstatements - It shall be an offense against the Association to make a misstatement upon a material point to the Board, or to a Standing or Special Committee, or to the Executive Committee, or to the Clearing Services Provider, or on an application for membership.

If, after notice and opportunity for hearing in compliance with Regulation 540.02 and 540.03, the Hearing Committee finds that a member, prior to his application for membership, has been guilty of a fradulent, dishonorable, or dishonest act and that the facts and circumstances thereof were not disclosed on his application for membership, the member may be expelled or suspended in accordance with this chapter. 144 (01/01/04)

504.00A Transactions in Warehouse Receipts - Rule 504.00

It has come to the attention of the Directors that certain member firms have entered into contracts for the purchase and/or sale for deferred delivery of warehouse receipts for grain in store in Chicago.

In the opinion of the Directors, this practice is unusual and irregular and is in violation of various Rules and Regulations of the Association and is detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association under Rule 504.00.

You are hereby notified that members are liable to discipline if they enter into contracts for the purchase or sale for deferred delivery of grain in store in Chicago or of warehouse receipts issued against grain in elevators located in the Chicago Switching District.

This interpretation does not affect the purchase and sale of grain for future delivery consummated in accordance with the Rules and Regulations relating to futures contracts; nor sales in store when payment and delivery is made on the following day nor the purchase and sale of warehouse receipts on a 'when delivered' basis entered into after the expiration of trading in a contract and requiring performance on or before the end of the delivery month. 3R (08/01/94)

505.00 Commodity Exchange Act - Any member or any registered eligible business organization adjudged guilty of a violation of the Commodity Exchange Act or of any Regulation or Order thereunder, by the final decision in a federal administrative or judicial proceeding may be deemed to have violated Rule 504.00 of the Association. 603 (04/01/98)

506.00 Reckless Dealing - Reckless and unbusinesslike dealing is inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade. 146 (08/01/94)

507.00 Investment Trust Corporation - Participation by a member, or by a firm or corporation, registered under the provisions of these Rules and Regulations, in the formation or management of investment trust corporations, or similar organizations, which in the opinion of the Board involve features which do not properly protect the interests of investors therein, may be held to be an act detrimental to the interests or welfare of the Association. 148 (08/01/94)

508.00 Circulation of Rumors - The circulation in any manner of rumors of a sensational character by a member, in any case where such act does not constitute fraud or conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade, is an act detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Association.

Members shall report to the Secretary any information which comes to their notice as to the circulation of such rumors. 149 (08/01/94)

519.01 Committee Procedure -

(a) FLOOR CONDUCT COMMITTEE.

(i) The Floor Conduct Committee may impose minor penalties against members for decorum offenses committed by such members or by any person or persons for whom such members are responsible. The Floor Conduct Committee may impose minor penalties for the offenses set forth in Regulation 520.00A. Minor penalties for the purpose of this Regulation shall be defined as a warning, fines not exceeding $5,000 for any one offense and/or access denial not to exceed five days. A respondent may request a hearing by filing a written request for a hearing with the Exchange Services Department within ten (10) business days after the penalty is imposed; the Floor Conduct Committee shall hear the matter in accordance with Regulation 540.02 through 540.05. The decision of the Floor Conduct Committee may be appealed to the Appellate Committee as provided in Regulation 519.02(d). Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a consent to the warning or fine. Unless a hearing is requested, if a fine is not paid within thirty (30) days after it was due, the Floor Conduct Committee may, without hearing, revoke the badge or suspend the floor privileges of a floor clerk for whose conduct the fine was imposed.

(ii) The Floor Conduct Committee pursuant to this Regulation may impose minor penalties for disorderly conduct, intentional physical abuse, sexual harassment and the use of profane or obscene language. The Floor Conduct Committee, in its discretion, may impose a fine not to exceed $5,000, in addition to any access denial, for any violation within its jurisdiction regardless of the number of the offense.

(iii) Any member or individual with floor access privileges who has received a Floor Conduct Committee Notice of Rule(s) Violation ("ticket") for a decorum offense of Disorderly Conduct, Intentional Physical Abuse, Sexual Harassment and/or Use of Profane or Obscene Language and, during the same trading session, engages in a further Rule or Regulation violation relating to Disorderly Conduct, Intentional Physical Abuse, Sexual Harassment and/or Use of Profane or Obscene Language may, in addition to other sanctions (including, but not limited to, fines, suspensions and expulsions imposed by the Association pursuant to the Rules and Regulations) be immediately and summarily removed from the Exchange trading floor and denied trading floor access for the remainder of the trading session pursuant to the following procedures:

(1) Certification by the Chairman of the Pit Committee (or, in the Chairman's absence, by a Vice Chairman of the Pit Committee) that the individual has continued to engage in Disorderly Conduct, Intentional Physical Abuse, Sexual Harassment and/or Use of Profane or Obscene Language after having previously received a Floor Conduct Committee Notice of Rule (s) Violation ("ticket") for the same offense in the same trading session; and

(2) Approval of such summary action by a member of the Floor Governors Committee and a member of the Board of Directors or by two members of the Board of Directors, provided that no individual granting such approval shall have been involved in the altercation.

Additionally, should the first such offense be of such a serious nature, the individual similarly may be denied trading floor access for the duration of the trading session pursuant to the above procedure.

(b) CTR SUBCOMMITTEE.

(i) The Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee and the Chairman of the Floor Governors Committee may each appoint at least two members of their respective Committees to serve on a joint CTR Subcommittee. The CTR Subcommittee shall, by a majority vote, elect a Chairman. The CTR Subcommittee shall address violations involving the accurate and complete maintenance of books and records, including errors or omissions in the submission of Computerized Trade Reconstruction Data. In fulfilling its responsibilities, the CTR Subcommittee shall have the same authority granted to the Business Conduct Committee and the Floor Governors Committee in Rules 542.00 and 543.00, respectively, to issue preliminary charges and to conduct hearings with regard to specified penalties, and shall have the same authority granted to such Committees to impose penalties pursuant to settlement agreements in accordance with Regulation 540.09.

(ii) The CTR Subcommittee may, without hearing, impose minor penalties against members or member firms for violations of Regulations 332.02, 332.04, 332.041, 332.05, 332.06, 332.07, 332.08 or 332.09 that are within the jurisdiction of either the Floor Governors Committee or the Business Conduct Committee. Minor penalties for the purpose of this subparagraph shall be defined as fines not exceeding $1,000 for any one offense.

(iii) Following is the schedule of minor penalties the CTR Subcommittee may impose pursuant to subparagraph (ii); however, this schedule is non-binding, and the CTR Subcommittee, in its discretion, may impose a fine not to exceed $1,000 for any violation within its jurisdiction regardless of the number of the offense:

ERRORS OR OMISSIONS IN BRACKETING	1st Offense	$ 100 fine
TRADES:	2nd Offense	$ 250 fine
	3rd Offense	$ 500 fine
	4th Offense	$1,000 fine
ERRORS OR OMISSIONS IN SUBMISSION OF	1st Offense	$ 100 fine
COMPUTERIZED TRADE RECONSTRUCTION	2nd Offense	$ 250 fine
DATA:	3rd Offense	$ 500 fine
	4th Offense	$1,000 fine

(iv) The Floor Governors Committee may, without hearing, impose minor penalties against members for intra-association or contiguous association trading in excess of the percentages permitted by the Board pursuant to Regulation 330.03. Minor penalties for the purpose of this subparagraph shall be defined as fines not exceeding $5,000 for any one offense.

(v) Following is the schedule of minor penalties the Floor Governors Committee may impose pursuant to subparagraph (iv); however, this schedule is non-binding, and the Floor Governors Committee, in its discretion, may impose a fine not to exceed $5,000 for any violation within its jurisdiction regardless of the number of the offense

1st Offense	$ 500 fine
2nd Offense within 24 months	$1,000 fine
3rd Offense within 24 months	$2,500 fine
Any subsequent offense within 24 months	$5,000 fine

(vi) At the time of an offense of the type set forth in subparagraph (iv), or as soon thereafter as practical, a representative of the Office of Investigations and Audits, shall upon the authorization of one member of the Floor Governors Committee, issue a ticket to the offender notifying the member or member firm that the Floor Governors Committee may impose a summary penalty in accordance with this regulation or may issue charges against the member or member firm and impose penalties as authorized in Rule 543.00. A representative of the Office of Investigations and Audits shall submit a copy of the ticket to the Floor Governors Committee. The Committee shall then determine whether to summarily impose a minor penalty or to issue charges. The Committee shall also have the authority to summarily impose minor penalties or to issue charges for the types of offenses set forth in subparagraph (iv) on the basis of reports presented to the Committee by the Office of Investigations and Audits.

(vii) A respondent may request an appeal of a minor penalty by filing a written request for a hearing with the Office of Investigations and Audit within ten (10) business days after the penalty is imposed. The CTR Subcommittee shall hear the matter and its decision shall be final and may not be appealed. Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a consent to the fine.

(viii) Whenever the CTR Subcommittee summarily imposes a minor penalty against a member or member firm, the member or member firm shall be given written notification of the penalty. The notice shall inform the member or member firm of the right to appeal the penalty to the CTR Subcommittee and the consequences of a failure to pay a fine if no hearing is requested.

(ix) Nothing contained herein shall be construed to limit or restrict the powers and authority of the Business Conduct Committee or the Floor Governors Committee. (05/01/02)

519.02 Floor Conduct Committee -

(a) The Chairman of the Association may, with the consent of the Board, appoint members to a Floor Conduct Committee. Members of the Committee may not be members of the Floor Governors Committee.

(b) Meetings. The Floor Conduct Committee shall determine the time and place of its meetings and the manner and form in which such meetings shall be conducted. In the interest of efficiency, the Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee may appoint panels of Floor Conduct Committee members to hold duly constituted meetings. Any such panel shall consist of three or more members of the Floor Conduct Committee. The majority vote of such a panel of the Committee shall be the official act or decision of the Committee. The Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee shall determine for each meeting, in his or her sole discretion, whether a panel or the full Floor Conduct Committee shall convene.

(c) Duties of Committee. It shall be the function and duty of the Floor Conduct Committee to ensure decorum on the Floor of the Exchange in regard to decorum offenses set forth in Regulations 520.00A, 519.00A, 519.05 and 519.07 and in accordance with Rule 519.00 and Regulation 519.01. Floor Conduct Committee members shall issue a ticket to an offender notifying him that the Floor Conduct Committee has imposed a warning or fine as described in Regulations 520.00A, 519.00A and/or 519.05 and in accordance with Rule 519.00 and Regulation 519.01 for such violations which occur in the trading pits, including the steps leading into the pit. The ticket requires the signature of two members of the Floor Conduct Committee.

The Committee shall have the authority to discipline a member or other person with trading privileges found to have violated any Rule or Regulation within its jurisdiction by reprimand, by denial of the privileges of the Floor of the Exchange not to exceed five (5) days and/or by the imposition of a fine not to exceed $5,000.

Pit Committee members shall be considered members members of the Floor Conduct Committee for the sole purpose of issuing tickets for decorum offenses within their pit in accordance with Regulation 360.01.

The Floor Conduct Committee shall be responsible for issuing badges to and recalling badges from all non-members, except as otherwise provided within the Rules and Regulations.

(d) Appeal. A member, member firm, or other person with floor privileges, may appeal from the decision of the Committee by filing with the Secretary of the Association, within ten business days after the Committee's decision is sent to the respondent, a Notice of Appeal to the Appellate Committee requesting a review by the Appellate Committee of all or part of the Committee's decision.

(e) Offense Against the Association. Any member of the Association, member firm, or other person with floor privileges who fails to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective shall be charged with an offense against the Association, and if found guilty, shall either be fined, suspended, or expelled by the Board.

(f) Hold-over Member. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding, and the term of one or more of the members expires, such member or members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A hold-over member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of his successor or his successor's right to participate in all other Committee business. (02/01/04)

519.03 Bracketing Violations - The Floor Governors Committee may levy fines for violations of Regulation 332.02, pertaining to the recording of bracket data, in accordance with the Summary Procedures as provided in Regulation 519.01(b). (08/01/94)

519.05 Weapons Prohibition - No weapons shall be permitted on the Exchange Floor or in the lobby area adjacent to the Exchange Floor. Any violation of this Regulation shall be deemed a decorum offense and penalties may be imposed pursuant to Rule 519.00 and Regulation 519.01. (08/01/94)

519.06 Submission of Computerized Trade Reconstruction Data - The Floor Governors Committee may levy fines for violations of Regulation 545.02, 332.04, 332.041, 332.05, 332.06, 332.07, 332.08, and 332.09, pertaining to the accurate and complete maintenance of books and records, including the submission of Computerized Trade Reconstruction data, in accordance with the Summary Procedures as provided in Regulation 519.01(b). (07/01/95)

519.07 Sexual Harassment - Sexual harassment will not be tolerated on the Floor or Halls of the Exchange. Sexual harassment consists of unlawful verbal or physical conduct directed at a person when that conduct is based on that person's sex and has a substantial adverse effect on him or her in the workplace. Such conduct may include, but is not limited to, the following:

1. requests for sexual favors that may or may not be accompanied by threats or promises of preferential treatment with respect to an individual's employment status;

2. verbal, written or graphic communications of a sexual nature, including lewd or sexually suggestive comments, off-color jokes of a sexual nature or displays of sexually explicit pictures, photos, posters, cartoons, books, magazines or other items; and

3. patting, pinching, hitting or any other unnecessary contact with another person's body or threats to take such action.

Any violation of this Regulation shall be deemed a decorum offense and penalties may be imposed pursuant to Rule 519.00 and Regulation 519.01. (01/01/96)

519.08 TradeTalk Violations - A member may not use the TradeTalk message board, which is generally accessible to all members connected to the MemberNet website, to post any material which is knowingly false or inaccurate, contains foul, vulgar, or abusive language, is defamatory, degrading, libelous, threatening, harassing, obscene, invasive of a person's privacy, discusses illegal activities, or violates any law. Any violation of this Regulation shall be deemed a decorum offense.

A member shall receive a written notification from the Floor Conduct Committee if it has reason to believe that he may have committed a TradeTalk violation, and he shall be directed to appear before the Floor Conduct Committee prior to the imposition of any penalty described herein. However, any failure to appear after receiving such written notification shall be deemed a consent to any penalty that the Floor Conduct Committee shall subsequently impose pursuant to this Regulation.

The Floor Conduct Committee may impose a denial of access to TradeTalk for up to 90 days for the first TradeTalk offense, and a denial of such access for up to 180 days for a second or subsequent offense. In addition, the Floor Conduct Committee may impose a permanent denial of access to TradeTalk, in its discretion, in egregious circumstances.

The decision of the Floor Conduct Committee shall be final, and may not be appealed.

In addition, the Floor Conduct Committee shall be authorized to remove any message from TradeTalk, at any time and in advance of any related hearing for denial of access of TradeTalk, if the Committee determines that such message is inappropriate under the standards set forth in the TradeTalk Terms and Conditions of Use. (09/01/04)

520.00 Smoking - Smoking of cigarettes and other smoking materials is prohibited in the Exchange Halls (during trading hours or business days). Any member, or any person affiliated with a registered eligible business organization who violates this Rule shall be guilty of an offense against the Association and, in the case of persons affiliated with a registered eligible business organization, such firm may also be found guilty of an offense against the Association. 164 (04/01/98)

520.00A Exchange Floor Fines - Designated Exchange staff shall impose a fine of $25 to $5,000, as directed by the Floor Conduct Committee for each violation of Rules, Regulations, directives or guidelines issued by the Floor Conduct Committee relating to smoking and other use of tobacco products, badges, food and beverage, dress code, decorum, and guests and visitors on the Exchange Floor.

The following schedule of fines is approved; however, this schedule is non-binding, and the Floor Conduct Committee, in its discretion, may impose a fine not to exceed $5,000, in addition to any access denial, for the violations set forth below regardless of the number of the offense.

The procedure for the imposition of a fine shall be as follows:

Floor Conduct Committee members, Security Guards or Pit Committee members (in accordance with Regulation 360.01) shall issue a ticket to the offender a decorum for offense. The ticket requires the signature of two Committee members.

The Committee members may issue a directive to designated Exchange staff to impose a fine in the amount stated in the directive. Fines for offenses may be imposed on a member committing a violation, or upon a member or member firm for a violation committed by an employee of such member or member firm.

Designated Exchange staff shall give the member or member firm written notification of the fine. The notice shall inform the member or member firm of the right to request a hearing and the consequences of a failure to pay the fine if no hearing is requested.

Property offenses, for the purpose of this Ruling 520.00A, shall include sitting or standing on floor booths, standing on chairs or stools on the trading floor, extending telephone cords across an aisle, defacing property, or any other action which may damage property or impede communications or traffic on the trading floor.

For purposes of this Ruling, the fine shall have been imposed as of the date that the written notice is delivered to the member or member firm. (02/01/04)

521.00 Floor Access - Upon receipt by the Association of actual notice that any member or registered eligible business organization, or any other person with trading privileges, has entered a plea of guilty to or has been adjudged guilty of a violation of any criminal statute involving moral turpitude, the Chairman of the Board may order an investigation (unless already in progress) to ascertain whether violations of the Rules and Regulations have occured, and the Board may, when immediate action is necessary to protect the best interests of the marketplace, and subject to the provisions of Regulation 540.06, forthwith deny access to the trading floor to such person or registered eligible business organization until the investigation, including any disciplinary proceedings, is concluded.

The issues in a Regulation 540.06 hearing under this Rule are limited to (1) whether or not the member or registered eligible business organization, or other person with trading privileges, has entered a plea of guilty to or has been adjudged guilty of a violation of any criminal statute involving moral turpitude, and (2) whether or not immediate action is necessary to protect the best interests of the marketplace. (04/01/98)

540.00 Proceedings Before The Board - The Board may review decisions of the Appellate Committee, and may agree to hear disciplinary matters referred to it by the Appellate Committee or the Hearing Committee. Whenever the respondent shall have had an opportunity to present evidence or legal defenses in connection with the pending matter before any Standing or Special Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, and the jurisdiction of the Board is based upon either an appeal by the respondent from the decision of such Committee or is a referral of the matter by such Committee to the Board, the Board shall not entertain any new evidence or new legal defenses not raised before such Committee except upon a clear showing by the respondent that such new evidence or new legal defense did not exist or was not ascertainable by due diligence at the time of the Committee proceedings, and that there was insufficient time within the intervening period prior to the hearing of the Board for the respondent to bring such new evidence or legal defense to the attention of such Committee.

After hearing all the witnesses and the respondent, if he desires to be heard, the Board shall determine whether to affirm, reverse, modify or remand the decision of the Committee under review and may impose penalties in accordance with Rule 560.00. The finding of the Board shall be final and conclusive when rendered.

If the respondent has not been given notice and opportunity for hearing, pursuant to Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, before a disciplinary committee, the Board may, rather than holding a hearing remand the matter to the appropriate disciplinary committee. 155 (08/01/94)

540.00A Committee Authority To Refer Matters for Investigation - Any Committee of the Association which in the course of its activities discovers a possible violation of the Rules and Regulations of the Association may, refer the matter to the Office of Investigations and Audits or the appropriate disciplinary committee. 39R (08/01/94)

540.01 Review Of Investigation Report - The disciplinary committee shall promptly review each investigation report. In the event the disciplinary committee determines that additional investigation or evidence is needed, it shall promptly direct the enforcement staff to conduct its investigation further. Within a reasonable period of time not to exceed 30 days after the receipt of a completed investigation report, the disciplinary committee shall take one of the following actions:

(a) If the disciplinary committee determines that no reasonable basis exists for finding a violation or that prosecution is otherwise unwarranted, it may direct that no further action be taken. Such determination must be in writing and contain a brief statement setting forth the reasons therefor.

(b) If the disciplinary committee determines that a reasonable basis exists for finding a violation which should be adjudicated, it shall direct that the person alleged to have committed the violation be served with a notice of charges and shall proceed in accordance with these regulations. (08/01/94)

540.02 Notice and Answer in Connection with Disciplinary Proceedings -

(a) Prior to the imposition of any penalty by the Board of Directors or a committee under the Rules and Regulations, the respondent shall be served with a statement of charges either personally or by leaving the same at his or its office address during business hours or by mailing it to him at his place of residence, which charges shall:

(1) State the acts, practices, or conduct in which the respondent is believed to have engaged;

(2) State the Rule or Regulations believed to have been violated;

(3) Advise the respondent that he or it is entitled to be represented by an attorney;

(4) Advise the respondent that he or it is entitled to a hearing.

(5) State the period of time, which in no event shall be less than five (5) business days after the service of the charges, within which a hearing on the charges may be requested;

(6) Advise the respondent that failure to request a hearing within the period stated, except for good cause, shall be deemed a waiver of the right to a hearing; and

(7) State the penalty which will be imposed if a hearing is waived.

(b) If the respondent elects to answer the charges, such answer shall be filed within five (5) business days after the date of service of the charges, or within such further time as the Board of Directors or the appropriate Committee in its discretion deems proper.

The answer shall be in writing, signed by the respondent, and filed with the Office of Investigations and Audits; except that in connection with proceedings initiated under Rule 519.00 or Regulation 519.01 by the Floor Conduct Committee, such answers shall be filed with the Exchange Services Department. (08/01/94)

540.03 Procedures for Hearings on Charges - In connection with all hearings on charges, except those held pursuant to Regulation 540.05:

(a) The respondent shall be entitled in advance of the hearing to examine all books, documents, or other tangible evidence in the possession or under the control of the Association which is to be relied upon by the Office of Investigations and Audits or Exchange Services Department in presenting the charges contained in the notice of charges or which are relevant to those charges;

(b) At least ten (10) business days in advance of the hearing, the respondent shall submit to the Office of Investigations and Audits copies of all documents which the respondent intends to rely on in presenting his case and shall provide the Office of Investigations and Audits with a list of, and make available for inspection by the Office of Investigations and Audits, all books, records, names of witnesses, and other tangible evidence which the respondent intends to rely on; except that in any hearing held pursuant to Rule 519.00 or Regulation 519.01 by the Floor Conduct Committee, the documents and lists shall be submitted to and the books, records and other tangible evidence shall be made available for inspection by the Exchange Services Department. The hearing body, in its discretion, may refuse to consider any books, records, documents or other tangible evidence which was not made available or witnesses whose names were not submitted to the Office of Investigations and Audits, or the Exchange Services Department pursuant to this section. However, the hearing body will consider such evidence upon a clear showing that such evidence was not ascertainable by due diligence at least ten (10) business days in advance of the hearing and that there was insufficient time prior to the hearing to bring such evidence to the attention of the Office of Investigations and Audits or the Exchange Services Department.

(c) The hearing shall be promptly held before disinterested members of the hearing body after reasonable notice to the respondent. No member of a disciplinary body may serve on that body in a particular matter if he or any person or firm with which he is affiliated has a financial, personal or other direct interest in the matter under consideration.

(d) Formal rules of evidence need not apply, but the hearing shall not be so informal as to be unfair;

(e) The respondent shall have the right to invoke Rule 548.00, if applicable;

(f) The Office of Investigations and Audits shall be a party to the hearing and shall present its case on those charges and penalties which are the subject of the hearing; or in the case of any hearing held pursuant to Rule 519.00 or Regulation 519.01 by the Floor Conduct Committee, the Exchange Services Department shall be a party to the hearing and shall present its case on those charges and penalties which are the subject of the hearing.

(g) The respondent shall be entitled to appear personally at the hearing and to be represented by counsel;

(h) The respondent shall be entitled to cross-examine any person(s) appearing as witness(es);

(i) Subject to the provisions of Rule 540.00, the respondent shall be entitled to call witnesses and to present such evidence as may be relevant to the charges;

(j) Persons within the jurisdiction of the Association who are called as witnesses shall be obliged to appear at the hearing and to produce evidence (see 545.00);

(k) If the hearing is held at the request of the respondent, a substantially verbatim record of the hearing, capable of being accurately transcribed, shall be made and shall become part of the record of the proceeding. (10/01/95)

540.04 Disciplinary Decisions - All disciplinary decisions rendered pursuant to the Rules and Regulations shall be in writing and be based upon the weight of the evidence contained in the record of the proceeding. A copy of the decision shall be provided to the respondent and shall include:

(a) The charges, or a summary of the charges;

(b) The answer, if any, or a summary of the answer;

(c) A brief summary of the evidence produced at the hearing or, where appropriate, incorporation by reference of the investigation report;

(d) A statement of findings and conclusions with respect to each charge, including the specific Rules and Regulations which the respondent is found to have violated;

(e) A declaration of any penalty imposed and the effective date of the penalty;

(f) A statement that the respondent shall pay the cost of the transcription of the record of the hearing if an appeal or petition for review to the Commission is requested by the respondent.

All such decisions shall be rendered within thirty business days after the conclusion of the hearing, unless, by virtue of the complexity of the case or other special circumstances, additional time is required. (08/01/94)

540.05 Appeals from a Decision of a Disciplinary Committee - The following procedures shall apply to appeals to the Appellate Committee and the Board from the decisions of any Committee from which appeals are allowed under the Rules and Regulations.

(a) An appeal by the respondent from the decision of a committee or a referral of the matter by such committee to the Appellate Committee shall be heard by the Appellate Committee as provided in Regulations 540.02 and 540.03. Provided, however, that whenever the respondent shall have had an opportunity to present evidence or legal defenses in connection with the pending matter before any Standing or Special Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, the appeal shall be heard solely on the record of the proceedings before such committee, the written exceptions filed by the parties and the oral or written arguments of the parties. Further, the Appellate Committee shall not entertain any new evidence or new legal defenses not raised in the prior proceeding except upon a clear showing by the respondent that such new evidence or new legal defense did not exist or was not ascertainable by due diligence at the time of the proceedings, and that there was insufficient time within the intervening period prior to the hearing of the Appellate Committee for the respondent to bring such new evidence or legal defense to the attention of the committee.

The Appellate Committee shall not reverse any finding of a Standing or Special Committee or reverse or reduce any sanction imposed by a Standing or Special Committee unless the Appellate Committee determines that the finding or sanction is "clearly erroneous."

(b) Subject to the provisions of Rule 540.00, an appeal shall be heard by the Board solely on the record before the Committee, the written exceptions filed by the parties; and the oral and written arguments of the parties;

(c) Within thirty days after the conclusion of the hearing of the appeal, or within such additional time as may be necessary by virtue of the complexity of the case or other special circumstances, the Appellate Committee or the Board shall issue a written decision and provide a copy to the respondent. The decision shall include a statement of findings and conclusions with respect to each charge or penalty reviewed, including the specific rules which the respondent was found by the Committee to have violated, and the effective date of the disciplinary penalties, if affirmed, or of any modified penalties.

(d) No member of the Board or Appellate Committee shall hear an appeal if such member participated in any prior stage of the disciplinary proceeding or if he or any person or firm with which he is affiliated has a financial, personal, or other direct interest in the matter. (10/01/97)

540.06 Procedures For Member Responsibility Actions - The Chairman or Acting Chairman of the Association, upon the advice of the Floor Governors Committee, Financial Compliance Committee or Business Conduct Committee, has jurisdiction to take summary action when immediate action is necessary to protect the best interests of the marketplace or membership, without affording an opportunity for a prior hearing ("member responsibility actions"). The following procedures shall apply to such actions:

(a) The respondent shall, whenever practicable, be served with a notice before the action is taken. If prior notice is not practicable, the respondent shall be served with a notice at the earliest possible opportunity. The notice shall:

(1) State the action;

(2) Briefly state the reasons for the action, and

(3) State the effective time and date and the duration of the action;

(b) The respondent shall have the right to be represented by legal counsel or any other representative of his choosing in all proceedings subsequent to any summary action taken;

(c) The respondent shall be given an opportunity for a subsequent hearing, within five business days, before the Floor Governors Committee, Financial Compliance Committee or the Business Conduct Committee. The hearing shall be conducted in accordance with the requirements of Regulation 540.03 (c)-(j);

(d) Within five business days following the conclusion of the hearing, the body before which the hearing is held shall render a written decision based upon the weight of the evidence contained in the record of the proceeding and shall provide a copy to the respondent. The decision shall include:

(1) A description of the summary action taken;

(2) The reasons for the summary action;

(3) A brief summary of the evidence produced at the hearing;

(4) Findings and conclusions;

(5) A determination that the summary action should be affirmed, modified, or reversed; and

(6) A declaration of any action to be taken pursuant to the determination specified in (5) above and the effective date and duration of such action.

The Chairman or Acting Chairman of the Association has jurisdiction to reverse summary action taken against an individual member pursuant to Rule 270.00 or Rule 278.00, or against a member firm pursuant to Regulation 416.04, at any time prior to a hearing held pursuant to this Regulation, or, if no hearing is held, prior to the expiration of five business days after the summary action is taken, without the prior approval of the Financial Compliance Committee or the Business Conduct Committee, if the affected member or member firm demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Chairman or Acting Chairman that the condition which was the basis for the action no longer exists. (07/01/97)

540.07 Finality Of Disciplinary Decisions And Member Responsibility Actions - All disciplinary decisions rendered or member responsibility actions taken pursuant to the Rules and Regulations shall be final and conclusive when rendered, unless appealable, in which case the decision shall become final the first business day after the time for appeal has passed, if no appeal is taken, or when the decision of the appeals body is rendered.

The person or body rendering such decision shall determine the effective date of such action. Provided, however, that the effective date shall be at least fifteen (15) days after written notice is delivered to the person against whom the action is taken, and to the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, except that such action may become effective prior to that time if:

(1) The action was taken according to the provisions of Regulation 540.06;

(2) The person against whom the action is taken has consented to the sanction to be imposed; or

(3) The action was taken by the Secretary under Rule 563.00. (08/01/94)

540.08 Offers of Settlement - Any member, member firm or other person who is the subject of charges filed before the Board or who has filed an appeal of a disciplinary action with the Board, may submit a written offer of settlement in connection with such proceedings to the President. The President is authorized to consider such settlement offers, negotiate alternative provisions therein, and recommend to the Board that it either accept or reject any settlement offer. The Board, by majority vote of a duly convened quorum, has the sole authority to accept or reject any such settlement offer. If an offer of settlement is accepted by the Board, it shall issue a written decision specifying the rule violations it has reason to believe were committed and any penalty to be imposed. Where applicable, the decision also shall include a statement that the respondent has accepted the penalties imposed without either admitting or denying the rule violations.

The member, member firm or other person who submits a written settlement offer to the President may withdraw it at any time before final acceptance by the Board. If a settlement offer is withdrawn or is rejected by the Board, the person submitting such offer neither shall be deemed to have made any admission nor shall in any manner be prejudiced by having submitted the settlement offer.

Any member, member firm or other person who is the subject of charges before the Appellate Committee or who has filed an appeal of a disciplinary action with the Appellate Committee, may submit a written offer of settlement in connection with such proceedings to the Appellate Committee. The Appellate Committee is authorized to consider such settlement offers, negotiate alternative provisions therein, and either accept or reject any settlement offer. If an offer of settlement is accepted by the Committee it shall issue a written decision specifying the rule violations it has reason to believe were committed and any penalty to be imposed. Where applicable, the decision shall also include a statement that the respondent has accepted the penalties imposed without either admitting or denying the rule violations.

The member, member firm or other person who submits a written settlement offer to the Appellate Committee may withdraw it at any time before final acceptance by the Committee. If a settlement offer is withdrawn or rejected by the Committee, the person submitting such offer neither shall be deemed to have made any admission nor shall in any manner be prejudiced by having submitted the settlement offer.

Each settlement offer presented to the Board or to the Appellate Committee shall be deemed to incorporate the following terms:

(1) Respondent acknowledges that the Office of Investigations and Audits will have the opportunity to present its views on the proposed settlement to the President, the Board, or the Appellate Committee, as applicable; and

(2) Respondent waives any objection to having the Board or the Appellate Committee, as applicable, hear the case even it the Board or the Appellate Committee has previously considered and rejected a settlement offer. (08/01/97)

540.09 Offers of Settlement - Any member, member firm, their wholly-owned affiliates or other person who is the subject of preliminary charges issued by the Business Conduct Committee, Financial Compliance Committee or Floor Governors Committee ("respondent"), may submit a written offer of settlement in connection with such proceedings to the Business Conduct Committee, Financial Compliance Committee, Floor Governors Committee or the Hearing Committee. The Business Conduct Committee, Financial Compliance Committee, Floor Governors Committee and Hearing Committee are authorized to consider such settlement offers, negotiate alternative provisions therein, and either accept or reject any settlement offer. When preliminary charges are pending before the Hearing Committee, before a hearing begins, the Committee that issued the charges has the sole authority to consider settlement offers. Once the Hearing Committee has begun hearing evidence, the Hearing Committee has exclusive settlement authority. The Business Conduct Committee, Financial Compliance Committee, Floor Governors Committee and Hearing Committee may, in their discretion, permit a respondent to accept a penalty without either admitting or denying any rule violations upon which the penalty is based. If an offer of settlement is accepted by any such Committee, it shall issue a written decision specifying the rule violations it has reason to believe were committed and any penalty to be imposed. Where applicable, the decision also shall include a statement that the respondent has accepted the penalties imposed without either admitting or denying the rule violations.

Each settlement offer presented to any such Committee shall be deemed to incorporate the following terms:

(1) Respondent acknowledges that the Office of Investigations and Audits will have the opportunity to present its views on the proposed settlement to the Committee; and

(2) Respondent waives any objection to having the appropriate Committee hear the case even if that Committee has previously considered and rejected a settlement offer.

The member, member firm, wholly-owned affiliate or other person who submits a written settlement offer to any such Committee may withdraw it at any time before final acceptance by the Committee. If a settlement offer is withdrawn or rejected by any such Committee, the person submitting such offer neither shall be deemed to have made any admission nor shall in any manner be prejudiced by having submitted the settlement offer. (08/01/97)

540.10 Disciplinary Jurisdiction Over Agricultural Regular Firms - In addition to the disciplinary authority of the Hearing Committee, Appellate Committee, Business Conduct Committee and Financial Compliance Committee over agricultural regular firms, as set forth in paragraphs (f) and (g) of Rule 542.00 and paragraphs (f) and (g) of Rule 551.00, each of these Committees may discipline an agricultural regular firm for violation of any Rules and Regulations by imposing a fine on such firm, and/or by revoking the firm's regularity status. Subject to and in accordance with Regulation 540.08, an agricultural regular firm that is the subject of charges filed before the Board or that has filed an appeal of a decision with the Appellate Committee or the Board, may submit a written offer of settlement in connection with such proceeding to the Appellate Committee or, in matters before the Board, to the President of the Association. (08/01/94)

540.11 Appellate Committee -

(a) Membership. Each year the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint from those members of the Association who currently serve or who shall have previously served as an elective officer of the Association and who shall not be a member of a standing disciplinary committee, to serve as a member of the Appellate Committee. The Committee shall consist of five (5) members, at least one of whom is currently an elective officer of the Association. A vacancy in the Committee shall be filled by appointment by the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board.

(b) Meetings and Quorum. The Appellate Committee shall determine the time and place for its meetings and the manner and form in which its meetings shall be conducted. The attendance of three (3) Appellate Committee members shall constitute a quorum of the Committee. The majority vote of the quorum of the Appellate Committee shall be the official act or decision of the Committee.

(c) Duties of the Committee. It shall be the function of the Committee to serve as the appellate body in review of disciplinary decisions of committees of the Association or, upon referral by such committee to hear the matter, in accordance with Regulation 540.05. After hearing all the witnesses and the respondent, if he/she decides to be heard, the Committee shall determine whether the respondent is guilty of the offense or offenses charged. If the Committee determines that the accused is guilty, the Committee may impose penalties in accordance with Rule 560.00.

(d) Appeal. The findings of the Appellate Committee shall be final and conclusive when rendered, although subject to review by the Board of Directors in accordance with Regulation 540.05(b) upon the request of the Board or upon referral by the Committee. A request that the Board review a decision must be made:

- if on the motion of the Board, upon review of the notice of the decision in the materials for the first regularly scheduled Board meeting not less than twenty (20) days after the date of the decision;

- if by the Appellate Committee, within fifteen (25) days of the date of the decision; and

- if by a person against whom the decision has been rendered within ten (10) days of the date he receives the decision.

(e) Offense Against The Association. Any member of the Association, member firm, or other person with trading privileges who fails to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective shall be charged with an offense against the Association, and if found guilty, shall either be fined, suspended or expelled by the Board.

(f) Oath. Every member of the Appellate Committee shall take an oath not to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, any information acquired by such member in his capacity as an Appellate Committee member if such information is confidential, commercially sensitive, or non-public, except when required in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association or of the Board, or in response to demand by an authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board of Directors.

(g) Holdover Member. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding and the term of the members expires, the members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A holdover member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall continuation in office impair the appointment of a successor Committee or the successor Committee's right to participate in all other Committee business.

(h) Associate Members as Appellate Committee Members. Associate Members of the Exchange are eligible for appointment to the Appellate Committee as full voting members, provided that such Associate Member qualifies pursuant to paragraph (a) of this Regulation, and further provided that Associate Members shall not be eligible to serve as Chairman of the Committee. The Committee shall at no time have more than two Associate Members on the Committee. (08/01/94)

540.12 Hearing Committee -

(a) Membership. The Hearing Committee shall consist of twenty-one (21) individual members of the Association appointed each year by the Chairman of the Board with the approval of the Board. For all purposes under these Rules, the Hearing Committee shall be considered a disciplinary committee. Hearing Committee members shall have previously served on the Board, the Business Conduct Committee, the Floor Governors Committee, the Financial Compliance Committee or the Arbitration Committee, but no person shall be a member of the Committee who, at the same time, is a member of the Board or any other standing disciplinary committee. A panel of seven members shall be selected from the Committee for each hearing, in a manner established by the Committee, consistent with the requirements of Regulation 540.14. Each panel shall, by a majority vote, elect a Chairman.

(b) Hearing Executive Committee. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint a Chairman of the entire Committee, along with two other members from among the members of the Committee, to serve as a Hearing Executive Committee.

(c) Meetings and Quorum. The Hearing Committee shall determine the time and place of its meetings and the manner and form in which its meetings shall be conducted. The attendance of four Hearing Committee members shall constitute a quorum of the Committee. The majority vote of the quorum of the Hearing Committee shall be the official act or decision of the Committee.

(d) Duties of the Committee. The Hearing Committee shall conduct disciplinary hearings pursuant to the Rules and Regulations of the Association. Following notice and answer in accordance with Regulation 540.02, the Hearing Committee shall conduct hearings in connection with proceedings initiated under Rule 542.00(f), Rule 551.00(f) and Rule 543.00(d). Procedures for the hearing shall be in accordance with Regulation 540.03. After hearing all the witnesses and the respondent, if he/she decides to be heard, the Committee shall determine whether the respondent is guilty of the offense or offenses charged. If the Hearing Committee determines that the accused is guilty, the Committee may impose penalties in accordance with the rule pursuant to which the proceedings were initiated. In the event there is a finding of multiple violations of any Rules or Regulations, it shall be within the Committee's discretion to apply its suspension powers either in a consecutive or concurrent manner.

(e) Appeal. A member, member firm, person with trading privileges or agricultural regular firm may appeal from the decision of the Committee by filing with the Secretary of the Association within ten (10) business days after the Committee's decision is sent to the respondent a Notice of Appeal to the Appellate Committee requesting a review by the Appellate Committee of all or part of the Committee's decision.

(f) Offense Against the Association. Any member, member firm, other person with trading privileges or agricultural regular firm who fails to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective shall be charged with an offense against the Association, and if found guilty, shall either be fined, suspended or expelled by the Board.

(g) Oath. Every Hearing Committee member shall take an oath not to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, any information acquired by such member in his official capacity as a Hearing Committee member if such information is confidential, commercially sensitive, or nonpublic, except when required in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association or of the Board, or in response to a request or demand by an administrative or legislative body of government having jurisdiction of the subject matter and authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board of Directors.

(h) Hold-over Member. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding, and the term of one or more of the members expires, such member or members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A holdover member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of a successor or the successor's right to participate in all other Committee business. (12/01/94)

540.13 Application of Rules and Regulations - The provisions of this Chapter shall apply to all members, registered partnerships and corporations, their wholly-owned affiliates, other persons with trading privileges, agricultural regular firms, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employee or Associated Person of any such individual or firm, unless specifically exempted. (07/01/97)

540.15 Failure to Pay a Disciplinary Fine - When the Treasurer of the Association certifies to a Committee that imposed a fine that such fine is due and has not been paid, the person who was ordered to pay the fine shall be suspended from all membership privileges (including but not limited to floor and electronic access, member transaction fees and the right to lease a membership or membership interest), subject to Regulation 540.06, until the Treasurer certifies to the Committee that the fine has been paid. (06/01/94)

541.00 Special Investigations By Board - If at any time the Board shall have reason to suspect that any member, member firm, or other person with trading privileges, has been guilty of any offense against the Association and no investigation has been initiated into the matter, the Board shall direct the Office of Investigations and Audits to conduct an investigation and shall direct the appropriate disciplinary committee, or if necessary appoint a Special Committee outside of its own number, to review the investigation as to whether there is just ground for such suspicion. If the Committee decides that there is just ground for such suspicion, it shall direct that charges be filed with the Board as provided in Rule 540.00. (08/01/94)

542.00 Business Conduct Committee -

(a) Membership. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint the members of the Business Conduct Committee. Only members of the Association who are not Directors or Officers of the Association shall be eligible for appointment as members of the Committee. All Committee Members shall be Full Members except that one Committee Member may be an Associate Member. Four members shall be appointed for staggered three-year terms. Additional members may be appointed for one-year terms, but no more than four such members may be appointed. Terms currently in effect at the time of adoption of this amended Rule shall continue to be in effect until they expire. At the time this amended Rule becomes effective, a member shall be appointed to serve a term expiring February 1, 1984. Each year the Chairman of the Board shall appoint one member of the Committee for a three-year term and may appoint no more than four members for one-year terms, except that for February 1, 1984, and every third year thereafter, the Chairman of the Board shall appoint two members of the Committee for three-year terms and may appoint no more than four members for one-year terms. A vacancy in the Committee shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner as provided above, except that unexpired one-year terms may be left vacant at the discretion of the Chairman of the Board. The President shall be an ex officio member of the Committee.

(b) Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Committee. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman of the Committee from among the members of the Committee. The Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be appointed to serve as Chairman and Vice Chairman for a one-year term.

(c) Oath of Members. Every member of the Committee shall take an oath not to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, any information acquired by such member in his official capacity if such information is confidential, commercially sensitive or non-public, including any information regarding the market position, financial condition, or identity of any trader or firm, except when required in connection with his official duties, or in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association, or of the Board, or in response to a duly authorized subpoena, or in response to a request or demand by an administrative or legislative body of government having jurisdiction of the subject matter and authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board.

(d) Quorum. The attendance of three members at a meeting shall constitute a quorum. The actions of a majority of the members present shall be the actions of the Committee.

(e) Business Conduct Committee on Particular Matter. If the Business Conduct Committee shall determine that it is improper for any or all of its regular members to serve during the consideration and decision of any particular matter, or if any or all the regular members shall be unable to serve during the consideration and decision of any particular matter, the Business Conduct Committee may request the Chairman of the Board to appoint an alternate or alternates to sit throughout the investigation, hearing, and decision of such matter. The Chairman of the Board shall have the power to appoint any member or members as such alternate or alternates. When so appointed such alternate or alternates shall, with respect to such particular matter, have all the powers and duties of the regular member or members for whom he is or they are acting, and the "Committee on Particular Matter," consisting of such alternate or alternates, and the remaining regular members of the Business Conduct Committee, if any, shall with respect to such particular matter have all the duties and powers of the regular Business Conduct Committee. During such period as a Committee or Committees on a Particular Matter or Matters are functioning, the regular Business Conduct Committee and the regular members thereof shall continue to have all the powers and to perform all the duties concerning matters not under consideration by a Committee or Committees on Particular Matters.

(f) Duties of Committee. The Committee shall determine the manner and form in which its proceedings shall be conducted. The Committee shall provide for the prevention of manipulation of prices and the cornering of any commodity on the Exchange, and shall also have general supervision of the business conduct of members, member firms, any other persons with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliates, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individual or firm, particularly insofar as such conduct affects (1) non-member customers; (2) the public at large; (3) the State Government; (4) the Federal Government; (5) public opinion; and (6) the good name of the Association. The Committee shall also have general supervision, other than financial supervision, over all agricultural regular firms and their employees, member and non-member alike, with respect to each such firm's compliance with the Association's Rules and Regulations pertaining to its regularity. The Committee in performing its duties may investigate the dealings, transactions and financial condition of members, member firms, any other persons with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliates, agricultural regular firms, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individual or firm, and may examine their books and papers upon request. The Committee may employ such auditors and other assistants as it may deem necessary, and all expenses incident thereto shall be payable from the funds of the Association.

The Committee shall have the authority to charge a member, member firm, person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or any employee or associated person of any such individual or firm alleged to have violated any Rule or Regulation within its jurisdiction and may impose any one or more of the following preliminary penalties: a reprimand, a cease and desist order, a fine not to exceed $25,000 for each such violation, and/or restitution. The Committee may also impose upon any such individual member, person with trading privileges, or employee of a member or member firm a preliminary denial of the privileges of the Floor of the Exchange or suspension from membership status for a period not in excess of ninety (90) business days for each such violation. Except in the case of specified penalties, which shall be heard by the Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, proceedings shall be conducted by the Hearing Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03. The specified penalties which shall be heard by the Committee shall be defined as a reprimand, fines not exceeding $5,000.00 for any one violation, and a denial of the privileges of the Floor for a period not exceeding five (5) business days for any one violation. In the event there is a finding of multiple violations of any Rules or Regulations it shall be within the relevant Committee's discretion to apply its denial or suspension powers either in a consecutive or concurrent manner.

A party under a cease and desist order may apply to the Committee to review and terminate such order, provided that such order has been in effect for at least five years prior to application.

The decision of the Business Conduct Committee or the Hearing Committee may be appealed to the Appellate Committee in accordance with Regulation 540.05 by filing with the Secretary of the Association, within ten (10) business days after the decision is sent to the respondent, a Notice of Appeal to the Appellate Committee requesting a review by the Appellate Committee of all or part of the decision.

Any member, member firm, other person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm who fails to appear before the Committee pursuant to its request, or to submit his or its books and records to the Committee at its request, shall be guilty of an offense against the Association.

The Committee may review at any time the operations or procedures of members, member firms, any other persons with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliates, agricultural regular firms, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individuals or firms to assure compliance with the Rules and Regulations of the Association. Whenever such review discloses a condition or practice which, in the Committee's judgment, falls within the provisions of Regulation 270.01 or Regulation 540.06, it shall so advise the Chairman of the Board and recommend such action as it deems appropriate in the circumstances.

(g) Offense Against the Association. It shall be an act detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association for any member of the Association, member firm, other person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm to fail to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective.

(h) Hold-Over Members. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding, and the term of one or more of the members expires, such member or members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A holdover member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of his successor or his successor's right to participate in all other Committee business. (08/01/98)

543.00 Floor Governors Committee-

(a) Membership. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint from the Membership of the Association the members of a Floor Governors Committee who shall not be Directors or Officers of the Association. The Committee shall consist of seven members. Each year the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint one member of the Committee for a term of three years dating from February 1 of such year. Each year, the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board shall also appoint from the Membership two members of the Committee to serve for a one year term dating from February 1 of such year. In addition, each year, beginning with 1985, the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall also appoint from the Membership a member of the Committee for a two year term dating from February 1 of such year. A vacancy in the Committee shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board.

(b) Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Committee. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint a Chairman and a Vice Chairman of the Committee from among the members of the Committee. The Chairman and Vice Chairman shall be appointed to serve as Chairman and Vice Chairman for a one-year term.

(c) Meetings and Quorum. The Floor Governors Committee shall determine the time and place of its meetings and the manner and form in which its meetings shall be conducted. The attendance of four Floor Governors shall constitute a quorum of the Committee. The majority vote of the quorum of the Floor Governors Committee shall be the official act or decision of the Committee.

(d) Duties of the Committee. It shall be the function and duty of the Floor Governors Committee to assure that the practices and conduct of the members of the Association, member firms, other persons with trading privileges, and employees of any such individual or firm on the Floor of the Exchange are in compliance with the Rules and Regulations. Whenever any violation of the Rules or Regulations is suspected by the Committee, and the Committee determines, after investigation by the Office of Investigations and Audits, that action should be taken, the Committee shall provide notice and opportunity for a hearing in compliance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03. The Committee shall have the authority to charge a member, member firm, person with trading privileges, or any employee of any such individual or firm alleged to have violated any Rule or Regulation within its jurisdiction and may impose any one or more of the following preliminary penalties: a reprimand, a cease and desist order, a fine not to exceed $25,000 for each such violation, and/or restitution. The Committee may also impose upon any such individual member, person with trading privileges, or employee of a member or member firm a preliminary denial of the privileges of the Floor of the Exchange or suspension from membership status for a period not in excess of ninety (90) business days for each such violation. Except in the case of specified penalties, which shall be heard by the Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, proceedings shall be conducted by the Hearing Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03. The specified penalties which shall be heard by the Committee shall be defined as a reprimand, fines not exceeding $5,000 for any one violation, and a denial of the privileges of the Floor for a period not exceeding five (5) business days for any one violation. In the event there is a finding of multiple violations of any Rules or Regulations, it shall be within the relevant Committee's discretion to apply its denial or suspension powers either in a consecutive or concurrent manner.

Also fines not to exceed $5,000 for any act may be imposed as specifically authorized in Regulation 519.03.

A party under a cease and desist order may apply to the Committee to review and terminate such order, provided that such order has been in effect for at least five years prior to application.

(e) Appeal. A member, member firm, other person with trading privileges, or any employee of any such individual or firm, may appeal from the decision of the Floor Governors Committee or the Hearing Committee in accordance with Regulation 540.05 by filing with the Secretary of the Association within ten (10) business days after the decision is sent to the respondent a Notice of Appeal to the Appellate Committee requesting a review by the Appellate Committee of all or part of the decision.

(f) Offense Against The Association. It shall be an act detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association for any member of the Association, member firm, other person with trading privileges, or employee of any such individual or firm to fail to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective.

(g) Oath. Every Floor Governor shall take an oath not to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, any information acquired by such member in his official capacity as a Floor Governor if such information is confidential, commercially sensitive, or non-public, except when required in connection with his official duties, or in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association or of the Board, or in response to a duly authorized subpoena, or in response to a request or demand by an administrative or legislative body of government having jurisdiction of the subject matter and authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board of Directors.

(h) Hold-over Member. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding, and the term of one or more of the members expires, such member or members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A holdover member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of his successor or his successor's right to participate in all other Committee business.

(i) Associate Members as Floor Governors. Associate Members of the Exchange are eligible for appointment to the Floor Governors Committee as full voting members, provided that Associate Members shall not be eligible to serve as Chairman of the Committee. The Committee shall at all times have at least two Associate Members on the Committee. (08/01/98)

543.01 Investigations - The President or the Executive Vice-President shall have the authority to order investigations into any complaints made to the Association or into any situation no matter how brought to their attention involving possible violations of the Rules and Regulations of the Association. 1792 (08/01/94)

544.00 Waiver of Hearing - The statement of charges may provide that if the respondent fails, except for good cause, to request a hearing within a specified period of time, which in no event shall be less than five business days after the service of the charges, he shall be deemed to have accepted a penalty stated in the charges. (08/01/94)

545.00 Testimony And Production Of Books And Records - If a member of the Association, member firm, or other person with trading privileges, is required to submit his books and records, or the books and records of his firm, or corporation, or any portion thereof, to the Board, or to any authorized Standing or Special Committee, or to the individual responsible for the supervision of the Office of Investigations and Audits as provided for in Regulation 170.01, or, subject to the provisions of Rule 548.00, to furnish any information to or to appear and testify before, or to cause any of his partners or employees to appear and testify before such Board, or such authorized Committee, or at the request of such individual responsible for the supervision of the Office of Investigations and Audits, it shall be an offense against the Association to fail or refuse to comply with such requirements. 153 (08/01/94)

545.01 Furnishing Information - Pursuant to Rule 545.00 and Regulations 545.02 and 545.03, each clearing member shall furnish to the Board or to any committee or department specified by the Board, such information respecting daily trading, deliveries, exchanges of futures for cash commodities or other activity as the Board deems necessary for compliance by the Association with the provisions of Regulations Sections 16.00 through 16.03 under the Commodity Exchange Act or as required to be made or maintained under the Rules and Regulations. Such data shall be furnished at such times and in such manner and form as the Board or the committee or department acting for the Board may prescribe.

The Business Conduct Committee, the Financial Compliance Committee, or the Floor Governors Committee may, without hearing, impose minor penalties against members or member firms for failure by such members or member firms, or for failure by any persons for whom such members or member firms are responsible, to submit requested routine trade documentation within the respective Committees' jurisdiction in the manner prescribed by the Committee. Minor penalties for the purpose of this Regulation shall be defined as fines not exceeding $1,000 for any one offense.

If the documents requested are one year old or less, they must be produced and submitted to the Office of Investigations and Audits within five (5) business days. If the documents requested are more than one year old and less than five years old, they must be produced and submitted to the Office of Investigations and Audits within ten (10) business days. The Business Conduct Committee, the Financial Compliance Committee, or the Floor Governors Committee may impose a fine of up to $1,000 for each business day thereafter on which the member, member firm or any person for whom such member or member firm is responsible, has not produced and submitted the requested documents to the Office of Investigations and Audits.

A respondent may request an appeal of a minor penalty by filing a written request for a hearing with the Office of Investigations and Audits within ten (10) business days after the penalty is imposed; the Business Conduct Committee, the Financial Compliance Committee, or the Floor Governors Committee shall hear the matter in accordance with Regulations 540.02 through 540.05. The decision of the Business Conduct Committtee, the Financial Compliance Committee, or the Floor Governors Committee may be appealed to the Appellate Committee as provided in Rule 542.00(f) or 543.00(e). Failure to request a hearing shall be deemed a consent to the fine. Unless a hearing is requested, failure to pay a fine within thirty (30) days after the penalty is imposed shall automatically triple the amount of the fine. 1973 (08/01/94)

545.02 Record Keeping - Pursuant to Rule 545.00 and Regulation 545.03, each member and member firm shall keep in an accurate and complete manner all books and records required to be made or maintained under the Rules and Regulations. All books and records required to be kept shall be kept for a period of five (5) years from the date thereof and shall be readily accessible for a period of two (2) years from the date thereof. All reports required to be submitted to the Association or its delegate shall be reported accurately and completely. (08/01/94)

545.03 Record Keeping Qualifications - Each member, member firm and other person with membership privileges shall be required, pursuant to the rules and regulations, to keep, maintain and furnish only those books and records that relate directly to the trading of futures and options contracts, satisfaction of the minimum financial requirements for futures commission merchants and qualifications for membership. (08/01/94)

545.04 Report Transmission Requirement - Each clearing member shall be required to have the ability to electronically transmit any bookkeeping reports to the Clearing Services Provider that are required by such Clearing Services Provider, at such times and in the form and manner designated by the Clearing Services Provider. (01/01/04)

545.05 Maintenance of Telephone Recordings - Members and member firms which record conversations conducted on their Exchange Floor telephone lines shall maintain the resultant recordings for a period of 10 business days following the day when such recordings are made. In addition, all recordings of Exchange Floor headset communications shall be maintained for a period of 10 business days following the day when such recordings are made. (07/01/98)

546.00 Testimony Before Other Exchanges - If the Board shall deem it is to the interest and welfare of the Association, or to the public interest, or in the interest of just and equitable principles of trade, to facilitate the examination by the authorities of another exchange of any transaction in which a member of the Association has been concerned and that the testimony of such member, his partners, or employees, or his books and papers, or the books and papers of his firm, or corporation, or any partner therein are material to such examination, and shall direct such member to appear and testify, or to cause any of his partners or employees to appear and testify, or to produce such books and papers before the authorities of said other exchange, or any committee thereof, for the purposes of such examination, and the member of the Association shall refuse or fail to comply with such direction, he may be adjudged guilty of an act detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Association. 154 (08/01/94)

548.00 Incriminating Evidence - Upon any investigation or trial before the Board, or before any committee, or before any other tribunal of the Association, no member or agricultural regular firm shall be required to answer, or be subject to any penalty for failing to answer any question, when such member or agricultural regular firm shall make oath that the answer, if given, would convict or tend to convict such member or agricultural regular firm of the violation of any law of the United States or any state. 161 (08/01/94)

549.00 Depositions of Witnesses - Upon any investigation authorized under the Rules and Regulations of the Association, the oral depositions of witnesses may be taken. The party under investigation shall be given at least five (5) days written notice of the time of the deposition and place where the witness will be deposed, which may be at any location within the United States. The party under investigation shall have the right to be present in person or by representative at the oral deposition, with right of cross-examination. All oral depositions of witnesses shall be taken under oath, before an officer qualified in the place of the deposition to administer oaths, and the complete testimony of the witnesses shall be transcribed by such officer or by a person under his supervision. Oral depositions taken in accordance with this provision shall be admissible in evidence at any hearing of the board or a Committee, reserving to the party under investigation the right to object at the hearing to the relevancy or materiality of the testimony contained therein. 162 (08/01/94)

550.00 Rehearing - A suspended or expelled member or member firm, and any member or member firm that has been fined, may petition the Appellate Committee for a rehearing. Upon presentation of the petition, the Appellate Committee, by a majority vote, may order a rehearing to determine whether the disciplinary action was the result of false testimony or was otherwise unjust or improper.

The rehearing will be conducted in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03.

If, after a rehearing the Appellate Committee unanimously finds that such member or member firm was mistakenly expelled, suspended, or fined, or that the penalty imposed was excessive, the prior disciplinary action against such member or member firm may be set aside or the penalty mitigated. No prior disciplinary action or penalty shall be set aside or mitigated if any member of the Appellate Committee votes against such action.

The petition of a member or member firm who has been suspended, expelled, or fined, for a rehearing shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange for at least one week prior to its presentation to the Appellate Committee.

A member or member firm whose prior expulsion, suspension, and/or fine is set aside or mitigated in accordance with this Rule shall have no claim in law or equity against the Association or any Director, committee member, officer or employee thereof by virtue of such prior action thus set aside or mitigated.

A rehearing is not a right. An action of the Appellate Committee is final when rendered as provided in Regulation 540.07, but may be reviewed by the Board pursuant to Regulation 540.05. Every suspension, expulsion, or fine will be considered final until set aside or reduced under this Rule. 157 (08/01/94)

551.00 Financial Compliance Committee-

(a) Membership. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint the members of the Financial Compliance Committee. The Committee shall consist of five qualified individuals, whether members or non-member employees of member firms. Each year thereafter, the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint two members of the Committee to serve a term of two years and one member to serve a term of one year. A vacancy in the Committee shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner as provided above, except that unexpired one-year terms may be left vacant at the discretion of the Chairman of the Board.

(b) Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Committee. The Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board, shall appoint a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman of the Committee from among the members of the Committee. The Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall be appointed to serve as Chairman and Vice-Chairman for a one-year term.

(c) Oath of Members. Every member of the Committee shall take an oath not to divulge, or allow or cause to be divulged, any information acquired by such member in his official capacity if such information is confidential, commercially sensitive or non-public, including any information regarding the market position, financial condition, or identity of any trader or firm, except when required in connection with his official duties, or in connection with disciplinary proceedings or other formal proceedings or actions of a duly authorized committee of the Association, or of the Board, or in response to a duly authorized subpoena, or in response to a request or demand by an administrative or legislative body of government having jurisdiction of the subject matter and authority to obtain the information requested, or on behalf of the Association in any proceeding authorized by the Board.

(d) Quorum. The attendance of three (3) members at a meeting shall constitute a quorum. The actions of a majority of the members present shall be the actions of the Committee.

(e) Financial Compliance Committee on Particular Matter. If the Financial Compliance Committee shall determine that it is improper for any or all of its regular members to serve during the consideration and decision of any particular matter, or if any or all the regular members shall be unable to serve during the consideration and decision of any particular matter, the Financial Compliance Committee may request the Chairman of the Board to appoint an alternate or alternates to sit throughout the investigation, hearing, and decision of such matter. The Chairman of the Board shall have the power to appoint, consistent with paragraph (a) above, any member or members as such alternate or alternates.

When so appointed, such alternate or alternates shall, with respect to such particular matter, have all the powers and duties of the regular member or members for whom he is or they are acting, and the "Committee on Particular Matter," consisting of such alternate or alternates, and the remaining regular members of the Financial Compliance Committee, if any, shall with respect to such particular matter have all the duties and powers of the regular Financial Compliance Committee. During such period as a Committee or Committees on a Particular Matter or Matters are functioning, the regular Financial Compliance Committee and the regular members thereof shall continue to have all the powers and to perform all the duties concerning matters not under consideration by a Committee or Committees on Particular Matters.

(f) Duties and Authority of the Committee. The duty of the Committee is to monitor and ensure the capital and financial integrity of members and member firms. The Committee may determine, in its sole discretion, that there is reason to believe that the financial status of a member or member firm represents a condition inconsistent with sound business practices and financial integrity, and may exercise the following authority, without limitation, over the financial organization of members and member firms.

The Committee shall determine the manner and form in which its proceedings shall be conducted. The Committee shall have authority, without limitation, over the financial organization of member firms and the financial inter-relationships between member firms and their wholly-owned affiliated entities, including parents and subsidiaries. The Committee shall also have the authority, without limitation, to supervise the nature of capital formation and the capital compliance of members, member firms, wholly-owned affiliates, any other persons with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individual or firm, particularly insofar as such conduct may have an adverse impact on the member's, member firm's or wholly-owned affiliate's capital or financial stability. The Committee shall also have the authority, without limitation, to supervise the financial organization, nature of capital formation and the capital compliance of all agricultural regular firms and their employees, member and non-member alike.

The Committee in performing its duties may investigate the dealings, transactions and financial interrelationships and condition of members, member firms, wholly-owned affiliates, agricultural regular firms, any other persons with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individual or firm, may examine their books and papers upon request, and, with respect to member firms, may prescribe such capital requirements as it deems appropriate, including, without limitation, requiring the immediate or expeditious infusion of additional capital (subject to the procedures contained herein). Upon approval by the Chairman of the Board, the Committee may employ such experts, auditors, counsel and other assistants as it may deem necessary on a case-by-case basis, and all expenses incident thereto shall be payable from the funds of the Association.

(1) Where immediate action is necessary, the Committee shall have the authority prior to a hearing, only upon written approval by the Chairman of the Board, to take summary action consistent with this rule subject to a subsequent hearing to be held within five (5) days from the date of the summary action in accordance with Regulation 540.06. This hearing, conducted before the Committee or Board, shall follow the requirements of Regulation 540.03(c)-(j).

The member, member firm, person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm will be immediately notified in writing of the Committee's or Board's decision, in the form of an order signed by the Chairman of the Committee and the Chairman of the Board of Directors. Upon written notification of the decision, the respondent may request a hearing to be held within five (5) days. After this hearing, the respondent may appeal the decision to the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors may modify the conditions of the original order.

Alternatively, any such summary order may be appealed directly to the Board of Directors within one business day. The member, member firm, person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm subject to such order must give written notice of appeal to the Secretary immediately upon receipt of the Committee's order; the Board shall hear the appeal within one business day following receipt of said appeal notice or such later date as the Board may establish pursuant to the written waiver of the one business day hearing requirement by the member, member firm, person with trading privileges, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm.

(2) The Committee shall have the authority to charge a member, member firm, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, person with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing broker, or any employee or associated person of any such individual or firm alleged to have violated any Rule or Regulation or written policy within its jurisdiction and may impose any one or more of the following preliminary penalties: a reprimand, a cease and desist order, a fine not to exceed $25,000 for each such violation, and/or restitution. The Committee may also impose upon any such individual member, person with trading privileges, or employee of a member or member firm a preliminary denial of the privileges of the Floor of the Exchange or suspension from membership status for a period not in excess of ninety (90) business days for each such violation. Except in the case of specified penalties, which shall be heard by the Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03, proceedings shall be conducted by the Hearing Committee in accordance with Regulations 540.02 and 540.03. The specified penalties which shall be heard by the Committee shall be defined as a reprimand, fines not exceeding $5,000.00 for any one violation, and a denial of the privileges of the Floor for a period not exceeding five (5) business days for any one violation. In the event there is a finding of multiple violations of any Rules or Regulations it shall be within the relevant Committee's discretion to apply its denial or suspension powers either in a consecutive or concurrent manner.

A party under cease and desist order may apply to the Committee to review and terminate such order, provided that such order has been in effect for at least five years prior to application.

The decision of the Financial Compliance Committee or the Hearing Committee may be appealed to the Appellate Committee in accordance with Regulation 540.05 by filing with the Secretary of the Association, within ten (10) business days after the decision is sent to the respondent, a Notice of Appeal to the Appellate Committee requesting a review by the Appellate Committee of all or part of the decision.

(3) Any member, member firm, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, other person with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm who fails to appear before the Committee pursuant to its request, or to submit his or its books and records to the Committee at its request, shall be guilty of an offense against the Association.

The Committee may review at any time the operations or procedures of members, member firms, wholly-owned affiliates, agricultural regular firms, any other persons with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing brokers, and any employees or associated persons of any such individuals or firms to assure compliance with the Rules and Regulations of the Association. Whenever such review discloses a condition or practice which, in the Committee's judgment, falls within the provisions of Regulation 270.01 or Regulation 540.06, it shall so advise the Chairman of the Board and recommend such action as it deems appropriate in the circumstances.

(g) Offense Against the Association. It shall be an act detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association for any member of the Association, member firm, wholly-owned affiliate, agricultural regular firm, other person with trading privileges, guaranteed introducing broker, or employee or associated person of any such individual or firm to fail to comply with the disciplinary action of the Committee after such action becomes effective.

(h) Hold-Over Members. Whenever the Committee members have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any proceeding, and the term of one or more of the members expires, such member or members may continue in office until the proceeding has ended. A hold-over member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of his successor or his successor's right to participate in all other Committee business. (08/01/04)

560.00 Expulsion and Suspension from Membership - Unless otherwise specifically provided, the penalty of suspension from membership may be inflicted, and the period of suspension determined, by the vote of a majority of the members of the Appellate Committee or the Board present, and the penalty of expulsion from membership or of ineligibility of a suspended member for reinstatement may be inflicted only by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Board present.

At any disciplinary hearing the Appellate Committee or the Board may impose a fine upon any member or member firm for each Rule or Regulation violated. By majority vote of the Appellate Committee members or Directors present, the fine for each Rule or Regulation violated shall not exceed $250,000. The time for payment of any such fine shall be determined by the Appellate Committee or the Board. Failure of any member or member firm to pay the fine during the prescribed period shall be considered an act detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Association. 140 (08/01/94)

560.01 Disciplinary Notice - Any member who is suspended, expelled, denied access to the Floor of the Exchange or otherwise disciplined shall be notified of such action in writing, with notification to the Commodity Futures Trading Commission in a manner permitted by the Commission, within thirty (30) days. The notification shall include the reasons for the Exchange action in the form and manner the Commission prescribes. 1795 (01/01/00)

560.02 Association Bar - Unless otherwise specifically provided, the penalty of a bar from association with any member or member firm may be imposed, and the period of an association bar determined, by the vote of a majority of the members of the Appellate Committee or the Board present. A permanent bar from association may be imposed only by the Board by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Board present. For purposes of this regulation, a bar from association with any member or member firm includes, but is not limited to, a member's acting in the capacity of a partner, officer, director, employee and/or agent of a member or member firm. (08/01/94)

561.00 Suspended or Expelled Member Deprived of Privileges - When a member is suspended by a Committee of the Association or the Board, such member shall be deprived during the term of his suspension of all rights and privileges of membership, but he may be proceeded against by the Board for an offense other than that for which he was suspended.

The expulsion of a member terminates all rights and privileges arising out of his membership, except such rights in respect to the proceeds of the transfer thereof as he may have under the provisions of Chapter 2 hereof. 159 (08/01/94)

562.00 Discipline During Suspension - A member suspended under the provisions of this Chapter may be proceeded against by the Board for any offense committed by him either before or after the announcement of his suspension, in all respects as if he were not under suspension. (08/01/94)

563.00 Trade Checking Penalties - The Floor Conduct Committee may assess a penalty not to exceed $1,000.00 for each day that a member or registered eligible business organization fails to make adequate provisions for the checking of trades that have been rejected by the Clearing Services Provider. Such penalty may be appealed to the Appellate Committee on the ground that it is excessive or unreasonable, and the Appellate Committee may thereupon revoke, modify, or impose a greater or different penalty. (01/01/04)

Chapter 6
Arbitration of Member Controversies

Arbitration of Member Controversies

600.00 Arbitration of Member Controversies - Any controversy between parties who were members at the time such controversy arose and which arises out of the Exchange business of such parties shall, at the request of any such party, be submitted to arbitration in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Exchange. Every member, by becoming such, agrees to arbitrate all such disputes with other members in accordance with this Rule and the regulations prescribed by the Exchange pursuant to this Rule, and further agrees and obligates himself to abide by and perform any awards made thereunder. (06/01/95)

600.01 Member to Member Statute of Limitations - Except as provided in the e-cbot Error Trade policy, a controversy shall be submitted to arbitration within two years from the date the member knew or should have known of the dispute. (01/01/04)

601.00 Arbitration of Customers' Claims and Grievances - The Exchange shall by regulation establish procedures in conformity with Section 5a(11) of the Commodity Exchange Act and Regulations thereunder for the settlement through arbitration of customers' claims and grievances against members and their employees. Every member, by becoming such, agrees to abide by all regulations prescribed by the Exchange pursuant to this Rule, and further agrees to abide by and perform any awards made thereunder. (08/01/94)

601.01 Award of Actual Damages - If an award of actual damages is made against a floor broker in connection with the execution of a customer order, the futures commission merchant that selected the floor broker may be required to satisfy such award. (08/01/94)

601.02 Award of Punitive or Exemplary Damages - Punitive or exemplary damages may be awarded to a customer in addition to losses proximately caused by a floor broker, if the floor broker acted wilfully and intentionally in bringing about the customer's losses. The punitive or exemplary damages may not exceed an amount equal to two times the amount of the actual damages proximately caused by the floor broker. In addition, the futures commission merchant that selected the floor broker may be required to satisfy the award of punitive or exemplary damages if the floor broker fails to do so and only if the futures commission merchant wilfully and intentionally selected the floor broker with the intent to assist or facilities the floor broker's violation. (08/01/94)

602.00 Arbitration of Other Member-Nonmember Controversies - - The Exchange may by regulation establish procedures for the voluntary arbitration of controversies between members and nonmembers arising out of Exchange business, other than customers' claims and grievances, where neither the claim, nor any counterclaim, is in excess of $50,000. Every member, by becoming such, agrees to abide by all regulations which the Exchange may prescribe pursuant to this Rule, and further agrees to abide by and perform any awards made thereunder. (08/01/94)

Ch6 A. Definitions

603.00 Member Defined - For purposes of this Chapter, the term "member" includes all individual members of the Association, and all partnerships, corporations, and cooperative associations registered with the Association pursuant to Rule 230.00 or related regulations. (11/01/94)

603.01 Definitions -

For purposes of this Chapter:

A. "Member" of the Association includes all individual members of the Association, and all partnerships, corporations, and cooperative associations that are registered with the Association pursuant to Rule 230.00 or Regulation 230.17. For purposes of Rule 600.00 and Regulation 620.01(A), "member" shall also be deemed to include the operator or manager of a warehouse or shipping plant that has been declared regular by the Exchange for the delivery of grains, soybean oil or soybean meal in Board of Trade contracts.

B. "Claims or grievance" is any dispute which arises out of any transaction on or subject to the rules of the Exchange (including any transaction on or subject to the Rules of another contract market if such transaction is part of the same cause of action), executed by or effected through a member of the Association, or by or through an employee of a member of the Association, which dispute does not require for adjudication the presence of essential witnesses or third parties over whom the Association does not have jurisdiction and who are not otherwise available. A "claim or grievance" does not include disputes arising from cash market transactions which are not part of or directly connected with any transaction for the purchase or sale of any commodity for future delivery.

C. "Customer" does not include any member of the Association.

D. "Unassociated person" excludes all persons who are either members of or associated with members of the Association, who are employees of the Association, or who are otherwise associated with the Association. For the purpose of customer claims or grievances in connection with this chapter only, "unassociated person" excludes all persons who are members of, or associated with members of, or are employees of, or otherwise associated with, the Association or any other contract market. (08/01/94)

Ch6 B. Organization

610.01 Arbitration Committee - The Arbitration Committee shall consist of twenty-eight (28) individual members of the Association appointed by the Chairman of the Board with the approval of the Board. Seven (7) shall be chosen from each of the following four (4) categories: seven (7) shall be principally engaged as floor traders; seven (7) shall be principally engaged as floor brokers; seven (7) shall be affiliated with brokerage firms; and seven (7) shall be affiliated with commercial firms. Fourteen (14) members shall be appointed for a term to end January, 1992, and fourteen (14) members shall be appointed for a term to end January, 1993. Beginning January, 1992, fourteen (14) members shall be appointed each year for a term of two years. A vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner as is provided above. No person shall be a member of the Committee who, at the same time, is a member of the Board or a member of any standing disciplinary committee. A member of the Arbitration Committee shall not be disqualified to serve on the Committee or any panel thereof due to a change in categories subsequent to his appointment. If the category of a member of the Arbitration Committee should change subsequent to his appointment, he shall be considered for all purposes to be in the category from which he was chosen on the date of his appointment. (08/01/94)

610.02 Administrator of Arbitration - The Administrator of Arbitration ("Administrator") shall be appointed by the President to serve at his will. The Administrator shall assist the Arbitration Committee in the performance of its work, and perform all ministerial duties in connection therewith including the following: he shall receive and file all submissions, pleadings and awards; he shall select unassociated persons to serve on Mixed Panels; he shall schedule and give notice of all hearings, keep a record of all cases, and keep such other books, and memoranda as the Committee shall from time to time direct; he shall receive and disburse all deposits and costs and keep careful and accurate account thereof under the supervision of the Arbitration Committee; and he shall perform all other duties incident to his office. (08/01/94)

610.03 Unassociated Persons - The Administrator shall maintain a list of unassociated persons available to serve as arbitrators on Mixed Panels constituted pursuant to Regulation 620.02 for the arbitration of customers' claims and grievances and other member-nonmember controversies. The Administrator shall from time to time select unassociated persons and place on the list the names of such unassociated persons who are willing to serve as arbitrators. (08/01/94)

Ch6 C. Jurisdiction, Submission, Selection of Arbitrators

620.01 Jurisdiction and Submission -

A. Member Controversies. The Arbitration Committee has jurisdiction to arbitrate all controversies between members arising out of Exchange business. A member party may compel another member party to arbitrate such controversies by delivering to the Administrator a Statement of Claim.

B. *Customer's Claims and Grievances. The Arbitration Committee and Mixed Panels constituted pursuant to Regulation 620.02 have jurisdiction to arbitrate all customer's claims and grievances against any member or employee thereof which have arisen prior to the date the customer's claim is asserted. If the customer elects to initiate an arbitration proceeding of any customer claim or grievance, the member shall submit to arbitration in accordance with these Arbitration Rules and Regulations. The arbitration shall be initiated by delivery to the Administrator of (a) a Statement of Claim and a "Chicago Board of Trade Arbitration Submission Agreement for Customers' Claims and Grievances" signed by the customer or (b) a Statement of Claim and another arbitration agreement between the parties, which agreement conforms in all respects with any applicable requirements prescribed by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. The refusal of any member or employee to sign the ''Chicago Board of Trade Arbitration Submission Agreement for Customer's Claims and Grievances" shall not deprive the Arbitration Committee or a mixed Panel constituted pursuant to Regulation 620.02 of jurisdiction to arbitrate customers' claims under these Arbitration Rules and Regulations. The Committee and Mixed Panels have jurisdiction to arbitrate a counterclaim asserted in such an arbitration, but only if it arises out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject of the customers' claim or grievance and does not require for adjudication the presence of essential witnesses, parties or third persons over whom the Association does not have jurisdiction. Other counterclaims are subject to arbitration by the Committee, or a Mixed Panel, only if the customer agrees to the submission after the counterclaim has arisen.

C. Other Member-Nonmember Controversies. The Arbitration Committee, and Mixed Panels constituted pursuant to Regulation 620.02, have jurisdiction to arbitrate all controversies between members and nonmembers arising out of Exchange business, other than customers' claims and grievances, where neither the claim nor the counterclaim is in excess of $50,000 and where the claim is filed no more than one year after the date of the transaction giving rise to the claim or controversy. Any party may request the arbitration of such controversy by delivering to the Administrator (1) a Statement of Claim and a ''Chicago Board of Trade Arbitration Submission Agreement" signed by all the parties or (2) a Statement of Claim and another arbitration agreement between the parties, which agreement conforms in all respects with any applicable requirements prescribed by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission.

*The following is the text of Regulation 620.01(B) as amended by CFTC Rule 7.201. The legality of Rule 7.201, and thus the obligation of Board of Trade members to arbitrate customer's claims and grievances, has been the subject of litigation between the Board of Trade and one of its member firms against the CFTC since 1982. On December 30, 1986, the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois declared CFTC Rule 7.201 to be invalid as an unconstitutional denial of a member firm's Seventh Amendment right to a jury trial. However, on December 22,1987, the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals overturned the District Court's decision, thereby upholding CFTC Rule 7.201. The Board of Trade, with a member firm, filed with the United States Supreme Court a petition to review the Seventh Circuit's decision. On October 3,1988, the Supreme Court denied the petition. The Supreme Court's ruling, in effect, reaffirms the Seventh Circuit's decision validating CFTC Rule 7.201 and compelling Association members, at the option of the customer, to arbitrate customer disputes arising out of Exchange business. (08/01/94)

620.02 Selection of Arbitrators and Chairman

A. Customers' Claims and Grievances. Prior to the time of a customer's submission of a claim or grievance to the arbitration procedure established herein, he shall be informed that he may elect at the time of submission of the claim or grievance to have his dispute heard by an arbitration panel consisting of members selected pursuant to Subsection C of this Regulation, or by a Mixed

Panel selected pursuant to this Subsection. The customer shall be advised, prior to election of a Mixed Panel

1. that any increased expenses attendant to having such a Mixed Panel shall be borne by the member(s) regardless of the outcome of the arbitration unless the arbitrators determine that the customer acted in bad faith in initiating, or participating in, the arbitration proceeding.

2. that the Mixed Panel may have more or less knowledge in the area of commodities relevant to his claim that a panel composed entirely of members of the Arbitration Committee.

Such Mixed Panel shall be composed of five (5) persons, three of whom shall be unassociated persons, and two of whom shall be members of the Arbitration Committee, both of whom may be from the same category. The unassociated persons on such Mixed Panel shall be chosen by the Administrator by lot from the list of available unassociated persons maintained by the Administrator. The members of the Arbitration Committee shall be selected in a manner to be established by the Committee. Each panel shall be chaired by a member of the Executive Subcommittee of the Arbitration Committee.

B. Other Member-Nonmember Controversies. The provisions of Subsection A of the Regulation shall be applicable to the arbitration of member-nonmember controversies, as well as to the arbitration of customers' claims and grievances.

C. Other Controversies. In the case of controversies between members, or in the event that a customer or nonmember party does not elect a Mixed Panel as outlined in Subsections A and B of this Regulation, the arbitration panel shall consist of five (5) Arbitrators, to be selected from the Arbitration Committee in a manner to be established by the Committee, with at least one Arbitrator to be selected from each category described in Regulation 610.01. Each panel shall be chaired by a member of the Executive Subcommittee of the Arbitration Committee.

D. Executive Subcommittee of the Arbitration Committee. For the purpose of this Regulation 620.02, the Executive Subcommittee of the Arbitration Committee shall consist of one Chairman, one Vice Chairman and three other members, all of whom have been appointed by the Chairman of the Board with the approval of the Board of Directors. One member of the Subcommittee must be principally engaged as a floor trader, one member must be principally engaged as a floor broker, one member must be affiliated with a brokerage firm, and one member must be affiliated with a commercial firm. The Chairman of the Subcommittee may come from any of the four categories cited in the preceding sentence. (11/01/97)

620.03 Special Arbitrators - Where the controversy is of a highly technical nature, if the parties desire, they may arrange between themselves for one or more Special Arbitrators to be convened by the Administrator, in which event such Special Arbitrator or Special Arbitrators shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter. (08/01/94)

620.04 Time Limit for Filing Customers' Claims and Grievances - The Arbitration Committee and Mixed Panels constituted pursuant to Regulation 620.02 do not have jurisdiction to arbitrate customers' claims and grievance which are filed more than one year after the date of the transaction giving rise to the claim or controversy. (08/01/94)

620.05 Time Limit for Filing Claims in Member/Agricultural Regular Firm Controversies - The Arbitration Committee does not have jurisdiction to arbitrate controversies between members and agricultural regular firms which are filed more than one year after the date of the events giving rise to the claim or controversy. (08/01/94)

Ch6 D. Procedure

630.01 Pleadings

A. Form of Pleadings. Pleadings shall be sufficient if they contain information which reasonably informs the other party of the nature of the claim, counterclaim, or defense. The amount of the claim or counterclaim shall be stated where possible. Provided, however, in any controversy submitted between non-members (parties who are neither customers nor members) and members or their employees, the parties shall be deemed to have agreed between themselves that no award upon a claim or counterclaim shall exceed $50,000.

B. Notice. The Administrator shall deliver or mail copies of all pleadings to the parties as soon as practicable.

C. Answer and Counterclaim. The respondent shall have ten (10) business days from receipt of the Statement of Claim in which to file an answer and counterclaim, if any, with the Administrator. If the respondent does not file an answer and counterclaim, if any, within the time prescribed, the respondent will be deemed to have denied the claim and to have waived any counterclaim. The Administrator, in his discretion, may extend the filing period upon request of the respondent.

D. Reply. The claimant shall be given the same opportunity to reply to any counterclaim as was given the respondent to answer. (08/01/94)

630.02 Third Party Actions - In an arbitration between members pursuant to the provisions of Regulation 620.01(A).

1. A party may bring in a third party member against whom a claim is asserted arising out of or in connection with transactions referred to in the pleadings.

2. A member may, in the discretion of the Arbitrators, intervene in a pending arbitration proceeding and become a party if the Arbitrators are satisfied that the claim which he asserts against either or both of the parties arises out of or in connection with the transactions referred to in the pleadings.

3. The procedures to be followed in any third party action shall be determined by the Arbitrators. (08/01/94)

630.03 Cross Claims - In an arbitration between members pursuant to the provisions of Regulation 620.01(A), parties shall have the right to assert cross claims. (08/01/94)

630.04 Representation by Attorney - A party is not required to be represented by an attorney; however, he has the right to be represented by an attorney at his own expense if he so chooses. A party who is represented by an attorney shall so notify the Administrator and shall furnish to him the attorney's name and address. Subsequent papers in the proceeding may be delivered or mailed to the party through his attorney. The arbitrators may award a party all or any portion of the party's reasonable attorneys fees and expenses incurred as a result of another party's frivolous claim or defense. The party so awarded shall submit an affidavit, detailing his attorney fees and expenses, to the Administrator with notice to the opposing party. (08/01/96)

630.05 Time and Place for Hearing - The Administrator shall set a date for the hearing after all pleadings have been filed, and shall notify the parties at least five (5) business days in advance of the time and place, with a copy of the notification to the Arbitrators. All hearings shall be held in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois. If it is determined by the Administrator that it is necessary, for any reason, to postpone the time of hearing, he shall notify the parties. When a new date for hearing is set, the parties shall be notified as soon as practicable and no less than five (5) business days before the hearing unless the time limit is waived. (08/01/94)

630.06 Witnesses, Subpoenas, Depositions - Arbitrators and parties shall have such powers in regard to compelling attendance of witnesses or the production of documents or things, or the taking of depositions, as are provided in the Uniform Arbitration Act of Illinois. (08/01/94)

630.07 Oath of Arbitrators - All Arbitrators shall be sworn faithfully and fairly to hear, examine, and determine all controversies and to make awards according to the best of their understanding. Such oath may be administered by any person authorized to administer oaths. (08/01/94)

630.08 Hearing Procedures

A. The Arbitrators may allow stipulations and establish such other procedures as may simplify the issues and expedite the hearing. The Arbitrators may hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence produced, notwithstanding the failure of a party duly notified to appear or to present evidence.

B. Each of the parties or his attorney shall be permitted to make an opening statement; present witnesses and evidence material to the controversy; cross-examine witnesses, including parties to the arbitration; and present closing arguments orally or in writing as may be determined at the hearing by the Arbitrators. The Arbitrators shall not be bound by formal rules of evidence. The Arbitrators shall receive and consider the evidence of witnesses by affidavit, but shall give it only such weight as they deem it entitled to after consideration of any objections made to its submission. All testimony shall be taken under oath or affirmation. The hearing shall be formally declared closed by the Arbitrators. Such hearings may, however, in the discretion of the Arbitrators, be reopened at any time prior to the making of an award.

C. The Arbitrators may, when they deem it appropriate, record the proceedings in whatever manner they determine. Any party may require the proceedings to be transcribed if he agrees to pay the actual cost of such transcription. The Administrator shall make the necessary arrangements for the taking of a stenographic record whenever such record is requested. (08/01/94)

630.09 Amendments To Pleadings - At any time before the hearings are declared closed, any party may move to amend his pleadings to conform to the evidence and, if the Arbitrators shall permit the amendment, the case shall be determined on the amended pleadings. (08/01/94)

630.10 Adjournments - The Arbitrators may adjourn the hearings from time to time upon the application of either party for good cause or at their own instance. (08/01/94)

630.11 Notice and Communications - Notices shall be given to the parties by the Administrator or otherwise as the Arbitrators may direct. (08/01/94)

630.12 Arbitration Procedures For Claims Under $2,500

A. Where claims of the parties including counterclaims, if any, are under $2,500 in the aggregate, the dispute shall be resolved by the Arbitrators solely upon the pleadings and documentary evidence filed by the parties. A party shall have the right to take the deposition of any other party in the manner and upon terms designated by the Arbitrators.

B. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Regulation, the Arbitrators may request the submission of further evidence in the proceedings, and the Arbitrators may, by a majority vote, call and conduct a hearing if such is deemed to be necessary. (08/01/94)

630.13 Rulings and Awards

A. All rulings and awards shall be by a majority vote of the Arbitrators.

B. The award shall be in writing and signed by the Arbitrators joining in the award. Such award shall be promptly rendered according to the Rules and Regulations of the Association and the laws of the land, and the award shall be final. The Arbitrators shall file the award with the Administrator and the Administrator shall deliver or mail a copy to each party.

C. Failure to comply with an order or award of the Arbitration Committee or to pay the full amount of the award to the Exchange as escrow agent within thirty (30) days of notice of the order or award shall be deemed to be a failure to perform an Exchange contract in accordance with Rule 278.00

The amount of the award placed in escrow with the Exchange plus accrued interest shall be released to the prevailing party ninety-one days after notice of the award is issued unless a timely motion to vacate, modify or correct the award has been filed with a court of competent jurisdiction, in which case the amount shall continue to be held by the Exchange and together with accrued interest shall be disbursed upon the entry of and in accordance with a final order disposing of such motion. (08/01/94)

630.14 Change of Award - On application of a party to the Arbitrators, the Arbitrators may modify or correct the award in accordance with the Uniform Arbitration Act of Illinois. (08/01/94)

Ch6 E. Miscellaneous Provisions

640.01 Fees and Expenses - A schedule of arbitration fees shall be established from time to time by the Arbitration Committee, with the approval of the Board. The Arbitrators, in the award, shall fix expenses and assess fees, in accordance with the Committee's schedule, in whatever manner they deem appropriate, provided that incremental costs associated with the selection of a Mixed Panel by a customer shall be borne by the member regardless of the outcome of the arbitration unless the arbitrators shall determine that the customer acted in bad faith in initiating, or participating in, the arbitration proceeding. Parties shall be notified prior to the submission of a claim of the nature and amount of fees and expenses which may be assessed against the parties to the extent that the amount of such fees and expenses may be determined prior to submission and hearing of the claim. (08/01/94)

640.02 Ex Parte Contacts - Parties are prohibited from making ex parte contacts with any Arbitrator hearing an arbitration between the parties. (08/01/94)

640.03 Holdover Arbitrators - Whenever the Arbitrators have begun to hear or review evidence and argument in any arbitration proceeding, and the term of one or more of the Arbitrators expires, such Arbitrator or Arbitrators shall continue in office until the arbitration proceeding has ended. A holdover member shall not participate in any other Committee business, nor shall his continuation in office impair the appointment of his successor or his successor's right to participate in all other Committee business. (08/01/94)

640.04 Power to Decline Jurisdiction - Arbitrators may decline jurisdiction in any case, except as provided by law. The Arbitrators may, at any time during the proceeding, except as provided by law, and shall, upon the joint request of the parties, dismiss the proceeding. (08/01/94)

640.05 Compliance With Applicable Laws - The Regulations of this Chapter shall be so construed as to comply with applicable mandatory provisions of the Commodity Exchange Act (including Regulations thereunder) and all mandatory provisions of the Uniform Arbitration Act of Illinois and, where in conflict with the mandatory provisions of such Act or Acts, the Acts shall prevail. However, these Regulations, being an integral part of all agreements for the arbitration of disputes pursuant hereto, shall supersede all provisions of the Acts which are waivable by agreement. (08/01/94)

Chapter 7
Clearing

Chapter 7
Clearing

Ch7 Clearing

700.00 Settlement by Clearance - All contracts, including contracts made by members upon behalf of non-members, shall be cleared through the Clearing Services Provider selected by the Exchange, and all such contracts shall be subject to those rules, policies, and procedures of such Clearing Services Provider that are specified by the relevant Clearing Services Agreement, or are otherwise specified by the Exchange. 310 (01/01/04)

701.00 Clearing Services - The Exchange may discontinue the clearance of futures and options contracts through a particular Clearing Services Provider, and select and substitute another Clearing Services Provider or method of clearance. 311 (01/01/04)

701.01 Transfer of Open Positions to Clearing Services Provider - Each clearing member shall comply in all respects with any statement of policy or other notice issued by the Exchange relating to the procedures and processes that must be followed to effectuate the transfer of open positions to any Clearing Services Provider. (08/01/03)

703.00 Clearing Membership - The Clearing Services Provider may prescribe the qualifications of CBOT Clearing Members that may be admitted as Special Clearing Members of the Clearing Services Provider, subject to the provisions of the relevant Clearing Services Agreement. However, no person, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, or any other type of eligible business organization (hereinafter collectively referred to as "Eligible Business Organization") shall become a CBOT Clearing Member until approved by the Exchange, subject to the following conditions:

(a) No Eligible Business Organization shall become CBOT Clearing Member for the purpose of clearing trades for others unless two Full Memberships have been registered on behalf of the firm pursuant to Rule 230.00. Such memberships may be held in the name of any principal or employee of the Eligible Business Organization.

(b) A Sole Proprietor may be a CBOT Clearing Member provided that he clears trades exclusively for his own account.

(c) No Eligible Business Organization may be a CBOT Clearing Member for the purpose of clearing its own trades exclusively unless one Full Membership has been registered on behalf of the firm pursuant to Rule 230.00. Such membership may be held in the name of any principal or employee of the Eligible Business Organization.

(d) A lawfully formed and conducted cooperative association of producers having adequate financial responsibility and which is engaged in any cash commodity business, may become a CBOT Clearing Member provided it meets the registration requirements for Eligible Business Organizations as set forth in this Rule.

(e) A member firm which is also a clearing member firm of the Exchange, or a managerial employee of such firm, shall not be prohibited from owning, controlling, or being a shareholder, member or limited partner in one other clearing member firm provided that when both clearing members are corporations, the second clearing member is a 100% wholly owned subsidiary of the first clearing member corporation and further provided that each clearing member must, in its own right, meet all the conditions and requirements contained in this chapter.

(f) An Eligible Business Organization which is not a clearing member of this Exchange shall not be prohibited from owning and controlling two clearing members, provided that each of the two clearing members is a 100% wholly-owned subsidiary of the Eligible Business Organization and provided that each of the two clearing members meets all of the conditions and requirements contained in this chapter in its own right. (01/01/04)

703.00A Office Location and Operation - A CBOT Clearing Member must operate under the direct supervision of the Sole Proprietor, if it is a Sole Proprietorship, or of a member in good standing having full authority to transact business with the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider, for and on behalf of the Clearing Member, including entering into Exchange and members' contracts, if it is an Eligible Business Organization.

Back-office operations may be located outside Chicago provided the Clearing Member, or applicant for clearing membership, meets any systems requirements, documentation and/or agreements as prescribed by the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider, in order to ensure that the Clearing Member/applicant will be able to comply with the Exchange's and the Clearing Services Provider's rules, policies and procedures. 31R (01/01/04)

704.00 Substitution - Where a future delivery contract is cleared through the Clearing Services Provider

the Clearing Services Provider shall be deemed substituted as seller to the buyer, and shall also be deemed substituted as buyer to the seller, and thereupon the Clearing Services Provider shall have all of the rights and be subject to all of the liabilities of the original parties with respect to such contract. 314 (01/01/04)

705.00 Offsets - Where a clearing member buys and sells the same commodity for the same delivery, and such contracts are cleared through the Clearing Services Provider, the purchases and sales shall be offset to the extent of their equality, and the clearing member shall be deemed a buyer from the Clearing Services Provider to the extent that his purchases exceed his sales, or a seller to the Clearing Services Provider to the extent that his sales exceed his purchases. 315 (01/01/04)

705.01 Reporting (Margins) - A bona fide hedger, in financial instruments, may report positions to the Clearing Services Provider on a gross basis provided appropriate margins are paid during the delivery month, on the gross positions reported, as required by Regulation 431.02. (18) (01/01/04)

705.02 Reporting (Offsets) - A bona fide hedger, in financial instruments, reporting consistently on a gross basis under Regulation 705.01 shall, during a delivery month settle gross positions only by offsetting such positions through trades in the pit. During non-delivery months, and not later than three days prior to the first day of the delivery month, gross positions may be offset as provided for in the Rules of the Exchange. (11/01/03)

706.00 Trades for Customers - Where a Clearing Member makes a futures or options trade for a customer (member or non-member) and the trade is cleared through the Clearing Services Provider, the Clearing Services Provider becomes the principal who is liable to the customer and to whom the customer is liable, subject to the following: (a) the trade shall remain subject to the rules, policies and procedures of the Exchange and, as applicable, the Clearing Services Provider; (b) the trade may be offset against other trades of the Clearing Member as provided in Rule 705.00; (c) if the trade is not offset and the Clearing Member being a seller, tenders a delivery notice to the Clearing Services Provider, the Clearing Member to whom such delivery is assigned shall thereupon be substiuted as buyer in lieu of the Clearing Services Provider; (d) if the trade is not offset, and the Clearing Member, being a buyer, is assigned a delivery, the seller whose delivery is thus assigned shall thereupon be substituted as seller in lieu of the Clearing Services Provider; (e) if the trade is offset, the Clearing Services Provider shall be discharged, and the Clearing Member itself shall be substituted for the Clearing Services Provider as principal. For the purpose of this Rule, the first trades made shall be deemed the first trades offset. 316 (01/01/04)

(08/01/94)

948.00 Volatility Quote - An alternative means of quoting options, or combinations involving options, by bidding or offering the implied volatility. Any transactions quoted in volatility terms will be translated into price terms for clearing purposes by means of a standard options model maintained and disseminated by the Exchange. (08/01/94)

949.01 e-cbot - e-cbot is a screen-based electronic trading system for trading futures and options on futures contracts and such other products as determined by the Exchange pursuant to Chapter 9B. (11/01/03)

*Chapter 9B
e-cbot(R)

Chapter 9B

Ch9B e-cbot(R)

9B.01 Applicability of Rules- The rules and regulations contained in this Chapter govern those Exchange contracts that are traded through the e-cbot system. To the extent that the provisions in this Chapter conflict with rules and regulations in other sections of this Rulebook, this Chapter supersedes such rules and regulations and governs the manner in which contracts are traded through the e-cbot system. Otherwise, contracts traded on the e-cbot system are fully subject to applicable general rules and regulations of the Exchange unless specifically and expressly excluded therefrom. (11/01/03)

9B.02 Hours- The Exchange shall determine the hours during which the e-cbot system shall operate for the trading of each contract or product; however, any agricultural contract or product shall be precluded from trading through the e-cbot system during those hours which are now or in the future designated for trading that contract or product by means of open outcry.

The following additional provisions shall apply with respect to agricultural contracts and agricultural products:

- - The Exchange shall determine e-cbot trading hours only if such hours are between 6:OO p.m. and 6:OO a.m. (Chicago time).

- - e-cbot trading hours outside of the 6:OO p.m. to 6:OO a.m. timeframe shall be subject to approval by a majority of the votes cast by the Full Members and Associate Members at an annual or special meeting called to vote on such proposal. (11/01/03)

98.03 Products- The Exchange shall determine the contracts and/or products which shall be listed through or listed on the e-cbot system, subject to the following restriction: Each existing and prospective agricultural futures and options contract shall be restricted from trading through or being listed on the e-cbot system unless approved by affirmative vote of a majority of votes cast in a vote of the membership pursuant to the Charter of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc., Exhibit A., Section 7. (11/01/03)

9B.04 Direct e-cbot Connection- CBOT clearing member firms are eligible to obtain a direct e-cbot connection. Additionally, CBOT clearing member firms may authorize the extension of a direct e-cbot connection to non-clearing members and non-member customers or affiliates. Such authorizations shall be submitted by the Clearing Member to the Exchange in writing and signed by an authorized officer of the Clearing Member. The Clearing Member guarantees the financial obligations of each person or entity for which it has authorized a direct connection with respect to transactions executed under its Clearing Member Mnemonic; however, for give-out transactions, such guarantee is effective only until such time that the give-out transaction is accepted for clearing by another Clearing Member.

An authorized officer of the non-member for which a Clearing Member authorizes a direct connection must agree in writing that the non-member's use of the e-cbot system is governed by CBOT rules and regulations and that the non-member shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the CBOT.

With respect to each non-member for whom the Clearing Member has authorized a direct connection, the Clearing Member must:

(a) Provide such non-member with information concerning the use of the e-cbot system and the rules and regulations of the Exchange.

(b) Assist the Exchange in any investigation into potential violations of Exchange rules and regulations or the Commodity Exchange Act. Such assistance must be timely and includes, but is not limited to, requiring the non-member to produce documents, to answer questions from the Exchange, and/or to appear in connection with the investigation.

(c) Suspend or terminate the non-member's e-cbot access if the Exchange determines that the actions of the non-member threaten the integrity or liquidity of any contract, violate any Exchange rules or regulations or the Commodity Exchange Act, or if the non-member fails to cooperate in an investigation. If a Clearing Member has actual or constructive notice of a violation of Exchange rules or regulations in connection with the use of the e-cbot system by a non-member for which it has authorized a direct connection and the Clearing Member fails to take appropriate action, the Clearing Member may be found to have committed acts detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Exchange. (11/01/03)

9B.05 ITMs and Responsible Persons- Each person or entity that has a direct connection to e-cbot will request one or more Individual Trade Mnemonics (ITMs) as needed to accommodate the nature and volume of the person's or entity's business. A Responsible Person and one or more Backup Responsible Person(s) must be registered with the Exchange for each ITM. The Exchange, at its sole discretion, may limit the number of, or require additional ITMs and Responsible Persons.

A Responsible Person (or in his absence, the Backup Responsible Person) must be reachable via telephone by the Exchange at all times that any of the ITMs assigned to him are in use. A Responsible Person (or in his absence, his Backup Responsible Person) must:

(a) have the authority, at the Exchange's request, to modify or withdraw any order submitted under an ITM assigned to him; and

(b) immediately identify, at the Exchange's request, the source of any order submitted under an ITM assigned to him. (11/01/03)

9B.06 e-cbot User IDs- Each order entered through an ITM must contain an e-cbot User ID that identifies the participant who entered the order. Each member or non-member with a direct connection must utilize a client application that automatically populates the e-cbot User ID for every order based on the client application login.

Members, non-member employees and proprietary traders of a member or member firm, and non-member employees and proprietary traders of each non-member with a direct connection must have a unique, Exchange assigned, registered e-cbot User ID. Such participants shall be referred to as Registered Users. The e-cbot User ID for all other users need not be registered. Each member or non-member entity with a direct connection shall ensure the accuracy of a Registered User's registration information at all times.

A Registered User shall be subject to the rules of the Exchange, including, but not limited to, the rules of this Chapter and rules relating to order handling, trade practices and disciplinary proceedings. It shall be the duty of the entity or individual who employs the Registered User to supervise such user's compliance with Exchange rules and regulations, and any violation thereof by such Registered User may be considered a violation by the employer. (11/01/03)

9B.07 e-cbot Access from the Trading Floor- Individual members on the trading floor may directly enter e-cbot orders in such products as their membership category permits. Non-member employees of a member firm who do not maintain an associated person registration may enter e-cbot orders on a non-discretionary basis from terminals located within the member firm's booth space. A non-member employee of an individual member may enter non-discretionary e-cbot orders from within a pit solely for the account of his employing member. (11/01/03)

9B.08 Clearing Member Authorization-

(a) Primary Clearing Member - Each non-clearing member or non-member with a direct connection who enters transactions through the e-cbot system must obtain authorization from a Primary Clearing Member. The Primary Clearing Member shall guarantee and assume financial responsibility for all such transactions traded through e-cbot under its Clearing Member Mnemonic. The Primary Clearing Member shall be liable upon all such trades made by the non-clearing member or non-member and shall be a party to all disputes arising from such trades.

(b) Other Clearing Members - A non-clearing member or non-member with a direct connection may be authorized to enter transactions through the e-cbot system by one or more clearing members, in addition to its Primary Clearing Member, in accordance with the requirements of Rule 333.00, provided that written permission has been granted by its Primary Clearing Member. Such other clearing member shall be liable upon all e-cbot trades made by the non-clearing member or non-member under its Clearing Member Mnemonic and shall be a party to all disputes arising from such trades.

(c) Revocation of Clearing Authorization - A clearing member that provides e-cbot trading authorization to a non-clearing member or non-member may revoke such authorization without prior notice. Written notice of the revocation of clearing authorization shall be immediately provided to the Exchange, which shall thereby terminate such connection and cancel all orders of the non-clearing member or nonmember in the e-cbot system under the revoking Clearing Member's Mnemonic. If the revocation is by the Primary Clearing Member, all e-cbot connections of the non-clearing member or non-member shall be terminaled until another clearing member has designated itself as the Primary Clearing Member. Unless otherwise specified by the Primary Clearing Member, a member whose connection to e-cbot has been terminated shall not automatically be denied access to the Floor of the Exchange during Regular Trading Hours. (11/01/03)

9B.09 e-cbot Opening -

(a) During the Pre-Open period designated by the Exchange, traders may enter only Market on Open orders, Limit orders and GTC Limit orders for both outrights and strategies. Order modifiers are not permitted on orders entered during the Pre-Open.

(b) Immediately upon the Market Open, e-cbot will apply an uncrossing algorithm to calculate the price at which the maximum volume will be traded. All orders executed pursuant to the uncrossing algorithm will be executed at a price equal to or better than that at which they were entered. Market on Open orders are processed immediately after the uncrossing. The Exchange does not guarantee the execution of any order at the opening price. (1l/0l/03)

9B.10 e-cbot Orders-

(a) An e-cbot order may contain one of the following designations:

(1) Market orders - Market orders are executed at the best price or prices available in the order book at the time the order is received until the order has been filled in it entirety. However, a market order will not trade outside of the dynamic price limits and any residual volume from an incomplete market order is canceled. Market orders are rejected if the market is not open.

(2) Market on Open (MOO) orders - Market on open orders can only be submitted for futures products, including strategies. Such orders are accepted only during Pre-Open and are intended for execution at the opening market price. MOO orders will be executed by the Trading Host at the opening price calculated after the uncrossing of limit orders in the market when the market opens. If an opening price cannot be calculated for the market when it opens, all MOO orders will be automatically canceled. Any residual MOO orders that are not matched on the opening will be converted automatically to limit orders at the opening price.

(3) Limit orders - Limit orders are orders to buy or sell a stated quantity at a specified price, or at a better price, if obtainable. Unless otherwise specified, any residual volume from an incomplete limit order is retained in the central order book until the end of the day unless it is withdrawn or executed.

(4) Good-Till-Canceled Limit ("GTC") orders - GTC orders are eligible for execution for the current and all subsequent e-cbot trade sessions until executed, canceled or the expiry month expires. GTC orders can be given an expiry date and are valid until the end of trading on that date.

(b) The following order modifiers are permitted:

(1) Minimum Volume - Minimum Volume orders are executed only if there is at least the designated minimum volume available at the stated price or better. If the designated minimum volume cannot be traded, the order is canceled. Any residual volume from a partially executed minimum volume order is retained in the central order book. A Minimum Volume modifier may be used with limit orders, GTC limit orders and market orders.

(2) Complete Volume - Complete Volume orders are executed only if there is sufficient volume available, at the stated price or better, to execute the order in its entirety. If the order cannot be executed in its entirety, the entire order is canceled. A Complete Volume modifier may be used with limit orders and market orders.

(3) Immediate & Cancel - Immediate and Cancel orders are executed against any existing orders at the stated price or better, up to the volume designated on the order. Any residual volume on the order is canceled. An Immediate and Cancel modifier may be used with limit orders.

(c) Strategy Orders and Contingent Multiple Orders

(1) Strategy Orders - e-cbot allows for the creation of recognized strategies, including delta neutral strategies, and for the submission of orders in such strategies.

(2) Contingent Multiple Orders - A Contingent Multiple Order is an order that contains between two and eight component outright orders in up to two products. The permitted product pairs are pre-defined by the Exchange. Trading of any component order is contingent on all component orders being fully executed. Only one futures component is permitted if any component is an option. Each component order can be a limit order or a market order. (11/01/03)

9B.11 Order Entry-

(a) A member or Registered User who is registered as a floor broker or associated person, or in a comparable capacity under applicable law, may enter discretionary or non-discretionary orders on behalf of any account of a clearing member with the prior approval of the clearing member responsible to clear such orders.

(b) A member or Registered User who is not registered as a floor broker or associated person, or in a comparable capacity under applicable law, may enter non-discretionary orders on behalf of customers. Such member or Registered User may enter discretionary or non-discretionary orders for the account of his employer or for his own account provided he does not enter or handle customer orders.

(c) It shall be the duty of each member or Registered User to: (1) submit orders through the e-cbot system under his registered e-cbot User ID and (2) input for each order the correct CTI code and appropriate account designation. A suspense account may be used at the time of order entry provided that a contemporaneous written record of the order, with the correct account designation, is made, time-stamped and maintained in accordance with Regulation 9B.18, and provided that the correct account designation is entered into the clearing system prior to the end of the trading day.

(d) With respect to orders received by a member or Registered User which are immediately entered into the e-cbot system, no separate record need be made. However, if a member or Registeresd User receives an order that is not immediately entered into the e-cbot system, a record of the order including the order instructions, account designation, date, time of receipt and any other information that is required by the Exchange must be made. (11/01/03)

9B.12 Misuse of e-cbot Misuse of the e-cbot system is strictly prohibited. It shall be deemed an act detrimental to the interest and welfare of the Exchange to either willfully or negligently engage in unauthorized access to e-cbot, to assist any individual in obtaining unauthorized access to e-cbot, to trade on the e-cbot system without the authorization of a clearing member, to alter the equipment associated with the system, to interfere with the operation of the system, to use or configure a component of the system in a manner which does not conform to the LIFFE Core Network Acceptable Use Policy set forth in Appendix 9B-1,to intercept or interfere with information provided on or through the system, or in any way to use the system in a manner contrary to the rules and regulations of the Exchange. (11/01/03)

9B.13 Trading Against Customer Orders and Crossing Orders -

(a) Trading Against Customer Orders - During an e-cbot trading session, a member or Registered User shall not knowingly cause to be entered or knowingly enter into a transaction in which he takes the opposite side of an order entered on behalf of a customer, for the member's or Registered User's own account or his employer's proprietary account unless the customer order has been entered immediately upon receipt and has first been exposed on the e-cbot platform for a minimum 5 seconds for outright futures contracts and a minimum of 15 seconds for strategies and options contracts. Such transactions that are unknowingly consummated shall not be considered to have violated this regulation.

(b) Crossing Orders - Independently initiated orders on opposite sides of the market for different beneficial account owners that are immediately executable against each other may be entered without delay provided that the orders did not involve pre-execution communications.

Opposite orders for different beneficial accounts that are simultaneously placed by a party with discretion over both accounts may be entered provided that one order is exposed on the e-cbot platform for a minimum of 5 seconds for outright futures contracts and a minimum of 15 seconds for strategies and options contracts.

An order allowing for price and/or time discretion, if not entered immediately upon receipt, may be knowingly entered opposite a second order entered by the same firm only if the second order has been entered immediately upon receipt and has been exposed on the e-cbot platform for a minimum of 5 seconds for outright futures contracts and a minimum of 15 seconds for strategies and options contracts.

(c) Pre-Execution Communications Prohibited

(i) Pre-execution communications are communications between two market participants for the purpose of discerning interest in the execution of a transaction prior to the entry of an order on the e-cbot platform.

(ii) Pre-execution communications and transactions arising from such communications are prohibited in all products during all hours except as otherwise provided by Regulation 331.05 "Block Trade Transactions." (09/01/04)

9B.14 Good Faith Bids and Offers - A member or Registered User shall not knowingly enter, or cause to be entered, bids or offers into the e-cbot system other than in good faith for the purpose of executing bona fide transactions. (11/01/03)

9B.15 Priority of Execution - Orders received by a member or Registered User shall be entered into the e-cbot system in the sequence received. Orders that cannot be immediately entered into e-cbot must be entered when the orders become executable in the sequence in which the orders were received. (11/01/03)

9B.16 Disciplinary Procedures - All access denials, suspensions, expulsions and other restrictions imposed upon a member or Registered User by the Exchange pursuant to disciplinary procedures contained in Chapters 2 and 5 of the Exchange's rules shall restrict with equal force and effect access to, and use of, the e-cbot system. (11/01/03)

9B.17 Termination of e-cbot Connection - The Exchange, at its sole discretion, shall have the right to summarily terminate the connection of any member or non-member, or the access of any ITM. Additionally, the Exchange, at its sole discretion, shall have the right to direct a member or non-member with a direct connection to immediately terminate access to the e-cbot system of any user. (11/01/03)

98.18 Records of Transactions Effected Through the e-cbot System -All written orders and any other original records pertaining to orders entered through the e-cbot system must be retained for five years. For orders entered into the e-cbot system immediately upon receipt, the data contained in the e-cbot system shall be deemed the original records of the transaction. (11/01/03)

9B.19 e-cbot Limitation of Liability - This Regulation sets forth the disclaimer of warranties and the limitation of liability that shall apply to any provision, use, performance, maintenance or malfunction of the LIFFE CONNECT(R) system for trading on e-cbot:

(1) Disclaimer of Warranties. The CBOT provides any licensed products, access to the interface, the equipment and the trading system "AS IS". Except as specifically provided in any Interface Sublicense and Connection Agreement, the CBOT makes no, and hereby disclaims all, warranties, conditions, undertakings, terms or representations, expressed or implied by statute, common law or otherwise, in relation to any licensed products, equipment or trading system or any part or parts of the same. The CBOT specifically disclaims all implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose and non-infringement. The CBOT further disclaims all warranties, implied or otherwise, relating to any third party materials.

(2) Liability

(i) General Limitation. Excluding a finding of gross negligence or willful misconduct, the CBOT, the agents, subcontractors and licensors of the CBOT, and the officers, directors, and employees of the CBOT, and its agents, subcontractors and licensors, shall have no liability, to any licensee or any other person, under any Interface Sublicense and Connection Agreement or in relation to the use, performance, maintenance, or malfunction of the equipment, any licensed products, or the trading system or any components thereof, for any losses, or other damage or injury, direct or indirect (including, but not limited to, consequential, incidental, and special damages and loss of profits, goodwill or contracts), which arising from negligence or breach of contract or otherwise, and whether or not such person (or any designee thereof) shall have been advised of or otherwise might have anticipated the possibility of such damages.

(ii) Aggregate Liability. In the event the limitation under paragraph (b)(2)(i) above is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, the entire aggregate liability of the CBOT, its agents, subcontractors and licensors, and the officers, directors, and employees of the CBOT and its agents, subcontractors and licensors under or in connection with any Interface Sublicense and Connection Agreement shall not exceed $10,000.

Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions, this Regulation shall in no way limit the applicability of any provision of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended, and Regulations thereunder. (11/01/03)

9B.20 Disclosure Statement - No member or clearing member shall accept an order from, or on behalf of, a customer for entry into e-cbot, unless such customer is first provided with the Uniform Electronic Trading and Order Routing System Disclosure Statement developed by the National Futures Association. (11/01/03)

9B.21 Error Trade Policy - In order to ensure fair and orderly market conditions, the Exchange, or designated staff, may cancel a transaction in accordance with the Error Trade Policy detailed in Appendix 9B-2. (11/01/03)

Chapter 10
Grains

Chapter 10
Grains

Ch10 Trading Conditions

1004.00 Unit of Trading - On future delivery contracts calling for the delivery of commodities, delivery shall be made in the following quantities or multiples thereof:

Wheat, corn, oats and soybeans-5,000 bushels

Other commodities - Units of trading established by these Rules and Regulations

Each delivery of grain may be made up of various lots of grain of the various authorized grades situated in or for shipment from various eligible warehouses or shipping stations, provided that no lot delivered shall contain less than 5,000 bushels of any one grade in any one warehouse or shipping station. 290 (03/01/00)

1005.01A Months Traded In - Trading in wheat, corn and oats is regularly conducted in five different months - March, May, July, September and December but shall be permitted in the current delivery month plus any succeeding months. The number of months to be open at one time shall be at the discretion of the Exchange.

Trading in soybeans is regularly conducted in seven different months - January, March, May, July, August, September and November but shall be permitted in the current delivery month plus any succeeding months. The number of months to be open at one time shall be at the discretion of the Exchange.

Trading in Crude Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal is regularly conducted in eight different months - January, March, May, July, August, September, October and December but shall be permitted in the current delivery month plus any succeeding months. The number of months to be open at any one time shall be at the discretion of the Exchange. 30R (04/01/02)

1006.00 Price Basis - Future delivery contracts on grain shall be in multiples as set by the Board by Regulation. (09/01/94)

1006.01 Price Basis -

A. Soybeans. The minimum fluctuation shall be 1/4 cent, including spreads.

B. Corn. The minimum fluctuation shall be 1/4 cent, including spreads.

C. Wheat. The minimum fluctuation shall be 1/4 cent, including spreads.

D. Oats. The minimum fluctuation shall be 1/4 cent, including spreads.

Settlements are to be calculated to the nearest 1/4 cent. 1972 (09/01/94)

1007.00 Hours for Trading - Hours for trading for future delivery in grains, crude soybean oil and soybean meal shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. except that on the last day of trading in an expiring future the hours with respect to such futures shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon, subject to the provisions of the next succeeding paragraph of this Rule 1007.00.

On the last day of trading in an expiring future, a bell shall be rung at 12 o'clock noon designating the beginning of the close of the expiring future. Trading shall be permitted thereafter for a period not to exceed one minute and quotations made during this time shall constitute the close. The above time constraints do not apply to options contracts which close by public call.

The hours may be shortened or the Exchange may be closed on any day or days pursuant to Regulation adopted by the Board.

Hours for trading for future delivery in other commodities shall be fixed by Regulation adopted by the Board.

No such trading shall take place except in the Exchange Hall or on Exchange facilities including an approved automated order entry facility during such hours as the Board shall designate. The Association shall conform to Chicago time. 252 (04/01/97)

1007.01 The Opening and Closing of Oats Trading - Trading for future delivery in Oats shall be opened and closed with a public call made month by month, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. 1975 (08/01/96)

1007.02 Modified Closing Call - Immediately following the prescribed closing procedure for all futures contracts traded by open outcry, there shall be a two (2) minute trading period (the "modified closing call"). (i) All trades which may occur during regularly prescribed trading hours may occur during the call at prices within the closing range; (ii) no new customer orders may be entered into the call unless such orders are for contracts that also are traded electronically during the call; (iii) cancellations may be entered into the call; (iv) stop, limit and other resting orders elected by prices during the close may be executed during the call; (v) individual members may execute or enter orders for their own accounts in the call; and (vi) member firms, and those entities which are wholly-owned by member firms, that wholly-own member firms, or that are wholly-owned by the same parent company(ies) as member firms, trading for such firms' or entities' own proprietary accounts may initiate trades or enter orders into the call.

Unless otherwise specified by Exchange regulation or policy, the daily settlement price for each contract shall be determined by the relevant Pit Committee at the close of Regular Trading Hours. The settlement price shall be determined by the Pit Committee based upon various factors including, but not limited to (a) the prices that traded during the close; (b) the volume traded at particular prices within the closing range; (c) bids and offers made during the close; (d) the prices at which spreads traded during the close; and (e) the settlement price(s) of related contracts. If the proposed settlement price differs from the midpoint of the closing range for a particular contract, the Pit Committee will document the basis for the deviation from the midpoint. Such documentation must be signed by two members of the Pit Committee. In all cases, however, the Exchange, in its capacity as a Derivatives Clearing Organization, reserves the right to make the final decision on settlement prices. (03/01/04)

1008.01 Trading Limits -

A. Limits. Trading is prohibited during any Trading Day (as defined in Regulation 906.04) in futures contracts of commodities traded on this Exchange at a price or yield higher or lower than either:

1. The settlement price or yield for such commodity on the previous business day, or

2. The average of the opening range or the first trade during the first day of trading in a futures contract, or

3. The price or yield established by the Exchange in an inactive future, plus or minus the following sums with respect to such commodities:

Corn	$.20 per bushel - $1,000
mini-sized Corn	$.20 per bushel - $200
Oats	$.20 per bushel - $1,000
Rough Rice	$.50 per hundredweight - $1,000
Soybeans	$.50 per bushel - $2,500
mini-sized Soybeans	$.50 per bushel - $500
Soybean Meal	$20 per unit of trading - $2,000
Soybean Oil (Crude)	$.02 per unit of trading - $1,200
Wheat	$.30 per bushel - $1,500
mini-sized Wheat	$.30 per bushel - $300

B. Current Month Exclusions. Limits shall not apply to trading in current month contracts on and after the second business day prior to the first day of the current month.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, limits shall remain in effect for purposes of trading agricultural contracts on e-cbot.

The provisions of Paragraph B do not apply to CBOT(R) Dow Jones/SM/ Index futures, which will be governed solely by Paragraph D.

C. Limit Bid; Limit Sellers Definitions. The terms "close on the limit bid" or "close on the limit sellers" are defined as follows:

Limit Bid. Restricted to a situation in which the market closes at an upward price limit on an unfilled bid. When a close is reported as a range of different prices, the last price quoted must be limit bid.

Limit Sellers. Restricted to a situation in which the market closes at a downward price limit on an unfilled offer. When a close is reported as a range of different prices, the last price quoted must be a limit ask.

D. Daily Price Limits and Trading Halts for CBOT Dow Jones Industrial and CBOT mini-sized Dow/SM/ Index Futures. Daily price limits and trading halts of the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ Index and CBOT mini-sized Dow/SM/ Index Futures contracts shall be coordinated with trading halts of the underlying stocks listed for trading in the primary securities market.

For purposes of this regulation, the primary futures contract shall be defined as the futures contract trading in the lead month configuration in the pit, or for those contracts only listed electronically, on the electronic trading system (ETS), and the Executive Committee or its designee shall have the responsibility of determining whether the primary futures contract is limit bid or offered.

For the first day of trading in a newly listed contract, there will be an implied previous business day's settlement price, created by the Exchange for the sole purpose of establishing price limits. The implied settlement price will be created by extrapolating the annualized percentage carry between the two contract months immediately prior to the newly listed contract.

Price Limits: There shall be three successive price limits for each index, Level 1, Level 2, and Level 3, below the settlement price of the preceding regular trading session. Levels 1, 2, and 3 shall be calculated at the beginning of each calendar quarter, using the average daily closing value of each index for the calendar month prior to the beginning of the quarter. Level 1 shall be 10% of such average closing value calculation; Level 2 shall be 20% of such average closing value calculation; Level 3 shall be 30% of such average closing value calculation. For the Dow Jones Industrial Average/sm/, each Level shall be rounded to the nearest fifty points. The values of Levels 1, 2 and 3 shall remain in effect until the next calculation.

Price Limits and Trading Halts During Regular Trading Hours: The following price limits and trading halts shall apply to open outcry and electronic trading during the Exchange's regular trading hours. For purposes of this Regulation, "regular trading hours" are defined for all CBOT Dow Jones stock index contracts to begin with the time of the open for open outcry trading in Dow Jones Industrial Average contracts, and to end with the later of the time of the close of open outcry trading, or the conclusion of any day time electronic trading session that is part of the same trading day.

(a) Level 1:

Except as provided below, the Level 1 price limit shall be in effect until a trading halt has been declared in the primary securities market, trading in the primary securities market has resumed, and fifty percent (50%) of the stocks underlying the DJIA/SM/ Index (selected according to capitalization weights) have reopened. The Level 2 price limit shall apply for all CBOT Dow Jones stock index contracts to such reopening.

Until 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. Eastern time), the trading halt shall be a one-hour trading halt. Between 1:00 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Eastern time), the trading halt shall be a one-half hour trading halt.

The Level 1 price limit shall not apply after 1:30 p.m. Chicago time (2:30 p.m. Eastern time). If the futures contract is limit offered at the Level 1 price limit and a trading halt has not been declared in the primary securities market, the Level 1 price limit shall be lifted and the Level 2 price limit shall apply thereafter.

(b) Level 2:

Except as provided below, the Level 2 price limit shall be in effect until a trading halt has been declared in the primary securities market, trading in the primary securities market has resumed, and fifty percent (50%) of the stocks underlying the DJIASM Index (selected according to capitalization weights) have reopened. The Level 3 price limit shall apply for all CBOT Dow Jones stock index contracts to such reopening.

Until 12:00 noon Chicago time (1:00 p.m. Eastern time), the trading halt shall be a two-hour trading halt. Between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. Eastern time), the trading halt shall be a one-hour trading halt. After 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. Eastern time), the trading halt declared in the primary securities market will remain in place for the rest of the primary securities market trading day.

(c) Level 3:

The Level 3 price limit shall be in effect during all regular trading hours.

Trading Halts: If the primary futures contract for the DJIA/sm/ is limit offered at either the Level 1 or Level 2 price limit as described above and there is a trading halt declared in the primary securities market, trading shall be halted for all Dow Jones/sm/ Index futures contracts that have reached their respective price limits. In the event that trading in the primary securities market resumes after a trading halt, trading in each of the Dow Jones/SM/ Index futures contracts (that have halted) shall resume only after fifty percent (50%) of the stocks underlying the DJIA/SM/ Index (selected according to capitalization weights) have reopened. The next applicable price limit enumerated above shall apply to the reopening indexes and to those indexes that had not reached their previous respective price limits during the period of the halt.

If after 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. Eastern time), the primary futures contract for the DJIAsm is limit offered at the Level 2 price limit, or if the primary futures contract for the DJIAsm is limit offered at the Level 3 price limit at any time during regular trading hours, and the primary securities market declares a trading halt for the rest of its trading day, the Exchange will also declare a trading halt for the rest of its regular trading hours for all Dow Jonessm Index futures contracts that have reached their respective price limits.

In the event that e-cbot trades occur through the price limits described above, any such trades may be busted with the approval of the Exchange.

Price Limits During Non-Regular Trading Hours: When e-cbot is open for trading during non-regular trading hours, there shall be a price limit of 10% of the average daily closing value of the index for the calendar month prior to the beginning of the quarter. The value of this limit shall remain in effect until the next calculation. This price limit shall apply above or below the previous trading day's settlement price. (10/01/04)

1008.01A Trading Limits - The Crude Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal Committee has been asked to interpret the following sentence:

"These provisions (trading limits) shall not apply to trading in the current month on or after the first notice day thereof."

The question that arises is whether this means the first business day of the delivery month or the first notice day of the contract which would be the last business day of the previous month.

The Committee is of the opinion that it is the intention of the Regulations that the meaning of the sentence includes the first notice day which is the last business day of the month preceding the delivery month. 36R (09/01/94)

1008.02 Trading Limit Corrections - Daily trading limits determined pursuant to Regulation 1008.01A (1) may be corrected as specified in this regulation only in cases where the applicable settlement price is related to an erroneous closing price quotation.

Such a correction may be made:

- - only to the level which would have been specified had the error not occurred; and

- - only if the error is identified prior to the next day's opening of trading.

Such a correction may be adopted by approvals of the relevant Pit Committee Chairman, or the Pit Committee Vice Chairman in the absence of the Pit Committee Chairman, and the Chairman or Vice Chairman of the Regulatory Compliance Committee within 15 minutes after the closing of the applicable futures contract or within 30 minutes after the closing of the applicable futures option contract. Thereafter, such a correction may be adopted by approval of the Regulatory Compliance Committee.

No such correction may be made after the next day's opening of trading. (09/01/94)

1009.01 Last Day of Trading of Delivery Month - Wheat and Oats - No trades in wheat or oat futures deliverable in the current month shall be made after the business day preceding the 15th calendar day of that month. Any contracts remaining open after the last day of trading must be either:

(a) Settled by delivery no later than the seventh business day following the last trading day.

(b) Liquidated by means for a bona fide exchange of futures for the actual cash commodity or an over-the-counter transaction, no later than the sixth business day following the last trading day. (01/01/03)

1009.02 Last Day of Trading of Delivery Month-Corn and Soybeans - No trades in corn and soybean futures deliverable in the current month shall be made after the business day preceding the 15th calendar day of that month. Any contracts remaining open after the last day of trading must be either:

(a) Settled by delivery no later than the second business day following the last trading day (tender on business day prior to delivery).

(b) Liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of futures for the actual cash commodity, or an over-the-counter transaction, no later than the business day following the last trading day. 1832a (07/01/03)

1010.01 Margins on Futures - (See 431.03) (09/01/94)

1012.01 Position Limits - (See 425.01) (09/01/94)

Ch10 Delivery Procedures

1035.00 Scope of Chapter - Commodities bought or sold for future delivery under Exchange contracts shall be delivered and accepted in accordance with the provisions of this Chapter. Any Regulation or Ruling which is inconsistent with the requirements or procedures set forth in this Chapter 10 is hereby superseded by the Chapter to the extent of such inconsistency. 280 (09/01/94)

1036.00 Grade Differentials - Unless otherwise specified, contracts for the sale of wheat, corn, soybeans and oats shall be deemed to call for "contract" wheat, corn, soybeans and oats respectively. Upon such contracts, sellers, at their option, may deliver all or part of the following grades at the following price differentials, provided that lots of grain of any one grade must conform to the minimum lot requirements of Rule 1004.00:

WHEAT GRADE DIFFERENTIALS

At 3c Premium	At Contract Price
No. 1 Soft Red Winter	No. 2 Soft Red Winter
No. 1 Hard Red Winter	No. 2 Hard Red Winter
No. 1 Dark Northern Spring	No. 2 Dark Northern Spring
No. 1 Northern Spring	No. 2 Northern Spring

Wheat which contains moisture in excess of 13.5% is not deliverable.

CORN DIFFERENTIALS

No. 1 Yellow Corn (maximum 15% moisture)	at 1 1/2 cents per bushel over contract price.
No. 2 Yellow Corn (maximum 15% moisture)	at contract price.
No. 3 Yellow Corn (maximum 15% moisture)	at 1 1/2 cents per bushel under contract price.

SOYBEAN GRADE DIFFERENTIALS

U.S. No. 1 Yellow Soybeans (maximum 13% moisture)	at 6 cents per bushel over contract price.
U.S. No. 2 Yellow Soybeans (maximum 14% moisture)	at contract price.
*U.S. No. 3 Yellow Soybeans (maximum 14% moisture)	at 6 cents per bushel under contract price.

* All factors equal to U.S. No. 2 grade or better (including test weight; splits; heat damage; brown, black and/or bicolored soybeans in yellow soybeans) except foreign material (maximum 3%).

OATS GRADE DIFFERENTIALS

No. 1 Extra Heavy Oats	At 7 cents per bushel over contract price.
No. 2 Extra Heavy Oats	At 4 cents per bushel over contract price.
No. 1 Heavy Oats	At 3 cents per bushel over contract price.
No. 2 Heavy Oats	At contract price.
No. 1 Oats	At contract price.

No. 2 Oats (36 Ib. minimum test weight)	At 3 cents per bushel under contract price.
No. 2 Oats (34 Ib. minimum test weight)	At 6 cents per bushel under contract price.

Bright Oats shall carry no additional premium or discount. Oats with more than 14% moisture are not deliverable. (03/01/00)

1036.00A Test Weight Designation for Oats - The Rules Committee has determined that, in the future, warehouse receipts of No. 2 Oats should carry the test weight designation on the face of the receipt. In connection with warehouse receipts currently outstanding which do not contain any such designation, it was determined that unless the designation "36 Ib. minimum test weight" appears on the face of the receipt, that the grade is considered to be 34 Ib. minimum test weight (6 cents per bushel under contract price). In consideration of any holder of outstanding Oat receipts that for some reason are "36 Ib. minimum test weight" and the receipt fails to reflect such, the holder can contact the Registrar's Office for updating the receipt. (09/01/94)

1036.00C Soybean Differentials - The Board has determined that in accordance with Rule 1036.00, No. 1 Yellow Soybeans which contain moisture in excess of 13% but not more than 14% are deliverable at par. (09/01/94)

1036.01 Location Differentials - Unless otherwise specified, contracts for the sale of wheat, corn, soybeans and oats shall be deemed to call for "contract" wheat, corn, soybeans and oats respectively. Upon such contracts, sellers, at their option, may deliver all or part at the following locations at the following price differentials, subject to the differentials for grade outlined in Rule 1036.00, provided that lots of grain of any one grade must conform to the minimum lot requirements of Rule 1004.00:

WHEAT LOCATION DIFFERENTIALS

In accordance with the provisions of Rule 1041.00C, wheat in regular warehouses located within the Chicago Switching District, the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or the Toledo, Ohio Switching District may be delivered in satisfaction of Wheat futures contracts at contract price, subject to the differentials for class and grade outlined above. Only No. 1 Soft Red Winter and No. 2 Soft Red Winter Wheat in regular warehouses located within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching districts may be delivered in satisfaction of Wheat futures contracts at a premium of 10 cents per bushel over contract price, subject to the differentials for class and grade outlined above.

CORN LOCATION DIFFERENTIALS

(See Regulation C1036.01-Location Differentials for Corn futures contracts.)

SOYBEAN LOCATION DIFFERENTIALS

(See Regulation S1036.01-Location Differentials for Soybean futures contracts.)

OATS LOCATION DIFFERENTIALS

In accordance with the provisions of Rule 1041.00B, oats in regular warehouses located within the Chicago Switching District, the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District, the Minneapolis, Minnesota Switching District, or the St. Paul, Minnesota Switching District may be delivered in satisfaction of Oats futures contracts at contract price, subject to the differentials for class and grade outlined above. (06/01/02)

1038.00 Grades - A contract for the sale of commodities for future delivery shall be performed on the basis of the grades officially promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture as conforming to United States Standards at the time of making the contract. If no such United States grades shall have been officially promulgated, then such contract shall be performed on the basis of the grades established by the Department of Agriculture of the State of Illinois, or the standards established by the Rules and Regulations of the Association in force at the time of making the contract. 293 (09/01/94)

1038.01 United States Origin Only - Effective September 1, 1992, a futures contract for the sale of corn, soybeans or wheat shall be performed on the basis of United States origin only upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted. (09/01/94)

1038.02 Deoxynivalenol (Vomitoxin) Limit in Wheat - Effective September 1, 1999, a taker of delivery of wheat shall have the option to request in writing load-out of wheat which contains no more than 5 (five) parts per million of deoxynivalenol (vomitoxin). At the taker's expense, a determination of the level of vomitoxin shall be made at the point of load-out by the Federal Grain Inspection Service or by a third party inspection service which is mutually agreeable to the maker and taker of delivery. (12/01/98)

1041.00 Delivery Points -

A. Corn.

See Rule C1041.00-Delivery Points for Corn futures contracts.

B. Oats. Oats in regular warehouses located within the Chicago Switching District, the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or the Minneapolis, Minnesota or St. Paul, Minnesota Switching Districts may be delivered in satisfaction of oats futures contracts.

C. Wheat. Wheat in regular warehouses located within the Chicago Switching District, the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or the Toledo, Ohio Switching District may be delivered in satisfaction of wheat futures contracts. Only No. 1 Soft Red Winter and No. 2 Soft Red Winter Wheat in regular warehouses located within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts may be delivered in satisfaction of Wheat futures.

D. Soybeans.

See Rule S1041.00-Delivery Points for Soybean futures contracts. (06/01/02)

1041.01 Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District - When used in these Rules and Regulations, the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District will be that area geographically defined by the boundaries of Burns Waterway Harbor at Burns Harbor, Indiana which is owned and operated by the Indiana Port Commission. (09/01/94)

1042.00 Delivery of Commodities by Warehouse Receipts - Except as otherwise provided, delivery of commodities shall be made by the delivery of registered warehouse receipts issued by warehousemen against stocks in warehouses which have been declared regular by the Regulatory Compliance Committee. The Regulatory Compliance Committee by Regulation may prescribe the conditions upon which warehouses and warehousemen may become regular except that in the case of federally licensed warehouses and warehousemen, the Regulatory Compliance Committee may impose only such reasonable requirements as to location, accessibility and suitability as may be imposed on other regular warehouses and warehousemen.

The Regulatory Compliance Committee by Regulation may prescribe conditions not inconsistent with the provisions of this Chapter upon which warehouse receipts issued by regular warehouses shall be deliverable. 281 (02/01/99)

1042.01 Registration of Grain Warehouse Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, grain warehouse receipts must be registered with the official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. Registration of Wheat and Oat warehouse receipts shall also be subject to the following requirements:

1. Warehousemen who are regular for delivery may register warehouse receipts at any time. If the warehouseman determines not to tender the warehouse receipt by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, the warehouseman shall declare the receipt has been withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility. The holder of a registered receipt may cancel its registration at any time. A receipt which has been canceled may not be registered again.

2. Except in the case the delivery on the last delivery day of delivery month, in which case the warehouse receipt must be registered before 1:00 p.m. on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the grain warehouse receipt must be registered before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery. If notice day is the last business day of a week, grain warehouse receipts must be registered before 3:00 p.m. on that day.

3. From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of receipts that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

4. When a warehouseman regains control of his own registered receipt, the warehouseman shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day either cancel the registration of said receipt or declare that said receipt is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said receipt for the warehouseman has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. of the day that the warehouseman regained control of said receipt. (01/01/04)

1043.01 Delivery of Corn and Soybeans by Shipping Certificates - Deliveries of Corn and Soybeans shall be made by delivery of Shipping Certificates issued by Shippers designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Shipping Certificates for Corn and Soybeans using the electronic fields which the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider require to be completed. In order to effect a valid delivery each Shipping certificate must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the Certificate and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by an endorser, of performance by the issuer of the Certificate. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all premium charges have been paid on the commodity covered by the certificate, in accordance with Regulation C1056.01 or Regulation S1056.01, as applicable. (01/01/04)

1043.02 Registration of Corn and Soybean Shipping Certificates - Corn and Soybean Shipping Certificates in order to be eligible for delivery must be registered with the Official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. Registration of Corn and Soybean Shipping Certificates shall also be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Shippers who are regular for delivery may register certificates at any time. If the shipper determines not to tender the shipping certificate by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, the shipper shall declare the certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant. The holder of a registered certificate may cancel its registration at any time. A certificate which has been canceled may not be registered again.

(b) No notice of intention to deliver a certificate shall be tendered to the Clearing Services Provider unless said certificate is registered and in possession of the Clearing member tendering the notice or unless a shipping certificate is registered and outstanding. When a notice of intention to deliver a certificate has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider, said certificate shall be considered to be "outstanding" until its registration is cancelled.

(c) From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of certificates that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any shipping certificates that have been declared withdrawn.

(d) When a registered shipper regains control of a registered certificate calling for shipment from one of his shipping stations, which in any manner relieves him of the obligation to ship corn or soybeans upon demand of a party other than himself, the shipper shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day either cancel the registration of said certificate or declare that said certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said certificate for the shipper has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. of the day that the shipper regained control of said certificate.

(e) The Registrar shall not divulge any information concerning the registration, delivery or cancellation of certificates other than the record posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, except that he shall issue a daily report showing the total number of certificates registered as of 4:00 P.M. on the each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, this daily report will show the names of shippers whose certificates are registered and the location of the shipping stations involved. This report shall not include any shipping certificates that have been declared withdrawn. (01/01/04)

1044.01 Certificate Format - The Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider shall determine the electronic fields which are required to be completed in connection with an electronic shipping certificate.

The electronic shipping certificate obligates the shipper, for value received and receipt of the certificate properly endorsed, and subject to a lien for payment of premium charges, to deliver the specified quantity of the relevant commodity conforming to the standards of the Exchange, and to ship the commodity in accordance with orders of the lawful owner of the certificate and in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. Delivery shall be by water or rail conveyance according to the registered loading capability of the shipper.

Delivery of the electronic shipping certificate to the issuer by the owner of the certificate, for the purpose of shipment of the commodity, is conditioned upon loading of the commodity in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, and a lien is claimed until all loadings are complete and proper shipping documents presented accompanying demand draft for freight and premium charges due which the owner of the certificate agrees to honor upon presentation. (01/01/04)

1045.01 Lost or Destroyed Negotiable Warehouse Receipts

(a) Unless a federal or state law prescribes different procedures to be followed in the case of lost or destroyed warehouse receipts, the following procedures shall be followed. A replacement receipt may be issued upon compliance with the conditions set forth in paragraph (b) of this Regulation. Such replacement receipt must be issued upon the same terms, must be subject to the same conditions, and must bear on its face the number and the date of the receipt in lieu of which it is issued. It must also contain a plain and conspicuous statement that it is a replacement receipt issued in lieu of a lost or destroyed receipt.

(b) Before issuing such replacement receipt, the warehouseman may require the person requesting the receipt to make and file with the warehouseman: (1) an affidavit stating that the requestor is the lawful owner of the original receipt, that the requestor has not negotiated, sold, assigned or encumbered it, how the original receipt was lost or destroyed, and if lost, that diligent effort has been made to find the receipt without success, and (2) a bond in an amount double the value, at the time the bond is given, of the commodity represented by the lost or destroyed receipt.

Such bond shall indemnify the warehouseman against any loss sustained by reason of the issuance of such replacement receipt. The bond shall have as surety thereon a surety company which is authorized to do business, and is subject to service of process in a suit on the bond, in the state in which the warehouse, as named on the warehouse receipt, is located, or at least two individuals who are residents of such state, and each of whom owns real property in that state having a value, in excess of all exemptions and encumbrances, equal to the amount of the bond.

In the alternative, upon the approval of the U.S. Department of Agriculture where applicable, or otherwise upon the approval of the Exchange, a warehouseman may issue a replacement receipt upon the execution of an agreement by the requestor to indemnify the warehouseman against any loss sustained by reason of the issuance of such replacement receipt, in a form acceptable to the warehouseman. (02/01/03)

1046.00 Date of Delivery - Where any commodity is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such commodity may be made by the seller upon such business day of the specified month as the seller may select and, if not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the specified month; provided, however, that the Exchange may, by Regulation pertaining to a particular commodity, prescribe specific days or dates within such specified month on which delivery of such commodity may or may not be made. 284 (09/01/94)

1046.00A Location for Buying or Selling Delivery Instruments - In order to facilitate liquidation of outstanding contracts during the final seven business days of a delivery month (Regulation 1009.03) floor brokers, locals and clearing or non-clearing members who need warehouse receipts or shipping certificates in order to make delivery or who anticipate receiving warehouse receipts or shipping certificates on delivery and wish to dispose of them may meet at 2:00 p.m. on the last day of trading in an expiring future at the cash grain table between the corn and soybean pits to make arrangements for the acquisition or disposition of such receipts or certificates.

All actual deliveries against outstanding futures positions must, in any event, be made by sellers through the Clearing Services Provider and will be received by buyers through the Clearing Services Provider. 34R (01/01/04)

1047.01 Delivery Notices - A seller obligated or desiring to make delivery of a commodity shall issue and deliver to the Clearing Service Provider a delivery notice in the form and manner specified by the Exchange.

The Clearing Services Provider, acting as agent for the seller, shall provide the notice to the buyer.

The seller or its agent shall reduce the notice to written form and retain a copy of the notice for the period of time required by the Commodity Futures Commission.

Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish to each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him for each commodity for which a notice was tendered and shall also inform the issuer of the number of contracts for which each buyer is obligated. Failure of the seller to object to such assignment by 7:00 a.m. on intention day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, shall establish an irrebuttable presumption that the issuance of the delivery notice was authorized by the person in whose name the notice was issued. (01/01/04)

1048.01 Method of Delivery - Delivery notices must be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider which shall assign the deliveries to clearing members (buyers) having contracts to take delivery of the same amounts of the same commodities. The Clearing Services Provider shall notify such clearing members of the deliveries which have been assigned to them and shall furnish to issuers of delivery notices the names of clearing members obligated to accept their deliveries. Clearing Members receiving delivery notices shall assign delivery to the oldest open contracts on their books at the close of business on the previous day (position day). 286 (01/01/04)

1049.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - The requirements of the form of delivery notice, time of delivery, and payment shall be fixed by the Regulatory Compliance Committee. 287 (09/01/94)

1049.01 Time of Issuance of Delivery Notice - Unless a different time is prescribed by Regulation pertaining to a particular commodity, delivery notices must be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on position day except that, on the last notice day of the delivery month, delivery notices for those commodities utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's on-line system may be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider until 10:00 a.m. or 2:00 p.m. for all other commodities, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on intention day. The Clearing Services Provider shall, on the same day, assign the deliveries to eligible buyers as provided in Regulation 1048.01 and shall issue to each such buyer a delivery assignment notice describing the delivery which has been assigned to him. (01/01/04)

1049.01B Interpretation: Sellers' Obligation for Storage Charges - The Directors have issued the following interpretation of Rule 1042.00, Rule 1041.00, and Regulation 1049.01 in connection with the time the responsibility for storage charges changes from seller to buyer.

The responsibility for storage charges shall remain the obligation of the seller until such time as the warehouse receipts or weight certificates are presented to the buyer and payment is made therefore in conformity with the Regulations concerning payment. (09/01/94)

1049.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - Prior to 8:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of each day on which delivery notices may be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider, each clearing member shall report to the Clearing Services Provider, at such times and in such manner as shall be prescribed by the Clearing Services Provider, the amounts of its purchases of the various commodities then eligible for delivery which remain open on its books in accordance with law and with the Rules and Regulations of the Association. Such reports shall show the dates on which such purchases were made, and shall exclude purchases to which the clearing member has applied deliveries assigned to it but which remain open on its books pending receipt of delivery. With respect to omnibus accounts, the reports described above shall show the dates on which such purchases were made, as reflected on the ultimate customers' account statements. (01/01/04)

1049.03 Sellers' Invoices to Buyers - Upon receipt of the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer, the seller shall prepare invoices addressed to its assigned buyers describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer and, in the case of deliveries under Rule 1041.00, the information required in said Rule. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider for that purpose adjusted for applicable premiums, discounts, storage charges, premium charges, premium for FOB conveyance, quantity variations and other items for which provision is made in these Rules and Regulations relating to contracts, and shall be in the form designated by the Exchange. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 10:00 a.m. for those commodities utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's on-line system or 4:00 p.m. for other commodities, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last notice day in the delivery month when a skeleton notice has been delivered to the Clearing Services Provider, in which case invoices for said delivery may be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider until 10:00 a.m. on the last delivery day of the delivery month. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed.

Financial instruments futures contracts will follow the invoicing procedure that is prescribed in the respective contract's invoicing regulation. Delivery invoicing forms for financial instruments futures contracts shall be restricted to that form which the Clearing Services Provider specifically provides.

The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. Unless a different time is prescribed by Regulation pertaining to a particular commodity, buyers obligated to accept delivery must take delivery and make payment and sellers obligated to make delivery must make delivery before 1:00 p.m. of the day of delivery, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken or made and payment made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in according with its rules, policies and procedures. 1639 (01/01/04)

1050.00 Duties of Members - Members shall deliver warehouse receipts, bills of lading, shipping certificates or demand certificates tendered for delivery pursuant to the Rules and Regulations of the Association and in accordance with the assignment thereof to eligible buyers by the Clearing Services Provider, and shall make no other disposition thereof. A member who alters or makes a false endorsement on a notice of assignment of delivery issued by the Clearing Services Provider under Regulation 1048.01, for the purpose of avoiding acceptance of the delivery specified, therein, should be deemed guilty of an act detrimental to the Welfare of the Association. 288 (01/01/04)

1050.01 Failure to Deliver - If a clearing member fails to fulfill its delivery obligation, the non-defaulting clearing member must notify the Clearing Services Provider of such failure as soon as possible. If, and only if, the non-defaulting clearing member notifies the Clearing Services Provider of the failure no later than sixty minutes after the time the delivery obligation was required to have been fulfilled, then the Clearing Services Provider shall pay to the non-defaulting clearing member reasonable damages proximately caused by the default.

The Clearing Services Provider shall not be obligated to either: (1) pay any damages greater than the difference between the delivery price of the specific commodity and the reasonable market price of such commodity at the time delivery was required; or (2) make or accept delivery of the actual commodity; or (3) pay any damages relating to the accuracy, genuineness, completeness, or acceptableness of warehouse receipts, shipping certificates, or any similar documents; or (4) pay any damages relating to the failure or insolvency of banks, depositories, warehouses, shipping stations, or similar organizations or entities that may be involved with a delivery.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member. (01/01/04)

1051.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - No office deliveries of warehouse receipts or shipping certificates may be made by clearing members. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it receives from its customers who are short. 1870 (01/01/04)

1052.00 Delivery of Grain in Cars (Chicago only) - Regular deliveries of contract grades of grain on contracts for future delivery may be made in cars on track during the last three business days in the delivery month subject to the following:

(a) Cars must be within the Chicago District, in a railroad yard where samples are taken by an official grain inspection agency approved by the U.S.D.A.

(b) Cars must be consigned or ordered to a regular warehouse.

(c) Delivery shall not be complete until the grain is unloaded and warehouse receipts or weight certificates are issued therefor unless the buyer elects otherwise. During this time, title to the grain remains in the seller, the purchase price is not payable, and the seller remains liable for any change in grade. The buyer, however, may elect and order the cars unloaded at any other place where they will be weighed provided the buyer makes payment in advance. In making such election and paying in advance the buyer assumes title and all responsibility for any change in grade occuring after the original inspection as provided in subsection (d) of this Rule and for any and all charges occasioned by such election of the buyer.

(d) Grain delivered in cars on track in settlement of futures contracts must be inspected during the last four delivery days of the delivery month by an official grain inspection agency approved by the U.S.D.A. In the event another grade determination is made subsequent to date of tender and the original grade is changed, the delivery will not be disqualified as a result thereof. Price adjustment will be made between the buyer and the seller at the prevailing fair market difference based on the cost of replacement. In the event of a dispute, the Chairman of the Regulatory Compliance Committee will appoint an impartial committee of three to fix a fair and proper differential.

(e) Deliveries of grain in cars shall be made by the tender of delivery notices based on the shippers' certificates of weight (if attached thereto) or railroad weights, or, in the absence of such weights, the marked capacity of the cars.

(f) Where there is an excess or deficit upon delivery, such excess or deficit shall be settled for on the basis of the market price at the time when such excess or deficit becomes known to both parties; provided that the buyer, if he so elects, may cancel the contract as to any deficit.

(g) On all grain tendered under this Rule, the party making the original tender shall keep on file and deliver on request, at tenderer's option, the samples of the official grain inspection agency.

(h) Delivery of wheat, corn, oats or soybeans in cars shall be for quantities of 5,000 bushels or multiples thereof. 283 (03/01/00)

1052.00A Track Deliveries -

1. Under subparagraph (d) of Rule 1052.00 when notices of intention to deliver are issued on the day prior to the three days during which regular deliveries may be made in carlots, the requirement that the delivery notice be accompanied by certificate showing approval by the Illinois State Grain Inspection Department for storage must be attached to the delivery notice will be satisfied if that certificate is furnished the next day.

2. During the last three delivery days of the month split notices of delivery may be tendered, that is to say, part of the notice may cover grain in store and part of the notice may cover grain in cars on track. 14R (03/01/00)

1052.00B Track Deliveries - The matter of the origin of grain which may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts under Rule 1052.00 (Delivery of Grain in Cars), was brought before the Directors. After a discussion upon motion duly made, seconded, and unanimously carried, it was

Resolved, only grain arriving in cars from points outside of the Chicago Switching District and which has not previously been unloaded at a warehouse in the Chicago Switching District may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts under Rule 1052.00; and

Further Resolved, that grain loaded in cars from warehouses in the Chicago Switching District shall not be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts under said Rule 1052.00. 23R (09/01/94)

1052.00C Track Deliveries -

1. The question was submitted to the Directors as to whether or not under Rule 1052.00 (Delivery of Grain in Cars) out-of-town weights can be used on carlot deliveries provided there is an agreement between the buyer and seller. It was the ruling of the Directors and the Rules Committee that under the provisions of this Rule out-of-town weights may not be used even where mutual agreement might exist.

2. The question was submitted to the Directors as to whether deliveries of grain in cars might be settled on the aggregate or on the basis of individual contracts under Rule 1052.00.

   The Directors and the Rules Committee held that the settlement must be made on the individual contracts of 5,000, 2,000, 1,000 bushels or multiples thereof, and may not be settled on the aggregate.

3. The Directors and the Rules Committee have made the following interpretation of Regulation 1047.01 (Delivery Notice). A person issuing a skeleton notice on the last notice day in a delivery month must by 10:00 a.m. on the next day furnish all information which is required on the usual delivery notice. A person re-issuing a skeleton notice on the first position day of a successive delivery month (i.e. -the next calendar month) must furnish all information which is required on the usual delivery notice by 1:00 p.m. on first notice day. 23R (05/01/95)

1054.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - Where a buyer to whom a delivery has been assigned by the Clearing Services Provider under Regulation 1048.01 fails to take such delivery and make payment when payment is due, the seller tendering such delivery shall promptly sell the commodity on the open market for the account of the delinquent. He shall then immediately notify the Clearing Services Provider of the default, the contract price, and the re-sale price, and the Clearing Services Provider shall immediately serve a like notice upon the delinquent. Thereupon the delinquent shall be obligated to pay to the seller, through the Clearing Services Provider, the difference between the contract price and the re-sale price. 289 (01/01/04)

1054.00A Failure to Accept Delivery - Rule 1054.00 provides that when a buyer fails to take delivery and make payment at the prescribed time, the issuer of the delivery shall promptly sell the commodity on the open market for the account of the delinquent.

Does this mean that the seller is to sell the warehouse receipts in the cash market or sell futures in the pit and make a new tender? Also, what is the meaning of the term 'promptly'? If the deliverer, thinking to accommodate the delinquent, waits until 1:10, at which time the market is 5 lower than at 1:00 has he assumed any liability because of the delay? If it is the warehouse receipts which are to be sold out, what determines the market price? Frequently an elevator operator will pay more for his own receipts than for another's; or a processor may pay a higher basis for one grade than another, grade differential to the contrary. If futures are to be sold in the pit, who then is responsible for the mechanics of tender and the assumption of interest?

The Board approved the opinion of the Rules Committee that the seller must have the right to act in either the cash or futures market at his discretion without recourse on the part of the defaulting buyer so long as action is taken prior to 9:45 A.M., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the next business day. 38R (01/01/04)

1054.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - If a clearing member fails to accept delivery, the seller tendering such delivery shall promptly sell the commodity for the account of the buyer. If the proceeds are insufficient to pay the seller the full delivery price, the clearing member failing to accept delivery shall be liable for the difference.

If a clearing member is unable or refuses to make full payment to the seller, the Clearing Services Provider shall bear the seller's loss in the first instance.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member. Failure to accept delivery or make full payment shall also constitute improper conduct. (01/01/04)

1056.01 Storage Rates for Wheat and Oats and Premium Charges for Corn and Soybeans - To be valid for delivery on futures contracts, all warehouse receipts and shipping certificates covering wheat and oats in regular store or corn and soybeans under obligation for shipment must indicate the applicable storage rate or premium charge. No warehouse receipts or shipping certificates shall be valid for delivery on futures contracts unless the storage rates or premium charges on such grain shall have been paid up to and including the 18th calendar day of the preceding month, and such payment endorsed on the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate. Unpaid accumulated storage rates and premium charges at the posted rate applicable to the warehouse or shipping station where the grain is stored or under obligation for shipment shall be allowed and credited to the buyer by the seller to and including date of delivery. 1641

If storage rates or premium charges are not paid on-time up to and including the 18th calendar day preceding the delivery months of March, July and September and by the first calendar day of each of these delivery months, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated storage rates or premium charges multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage rates are paid plus a penalty of 5 percentage points, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that storage is overdue, divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, and the Northern Trust Company.

The storage rates on Wheat and Premium Charges on Corn and Soybeans for delivery shall not exceed 15/100 of one cent per bushel per day.

The storage rates on Oats for delivery shall not exceed 13/100 of one cent per bushel per day.

Ch10 Regularity of Warehouses

1081.01 Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates - Warehouses or shipping stations may be declared regular for the delivery of grain with the approval of the Exchange. Persons operating grain warehouses or shippers who desire to have such warehouses or shipping stations made regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1 of an even year, for a two-year term beginning July 1 of that year, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular grain warehouses or shippers who desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted by the Exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Persons operating grain warehouses or shipping stations who desire to have their daily rate of loading decreased, shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease at which time a notice will be posted by the Exchange. The decrease in the daily rate of loading for the facility will become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted by the Exchange or the day after the number of outstanding certificates at the facility is equal to or less than 20 times the requested rate of loading, whichever is later. Persons operating grain warehouses or shipping stations who wish to have their regular capacity space decreased shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease and such decrease shall be effective once a notice has been posted by the Exchange. Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1 of even years, for the respective years beginning July 1 of those years, and shall be on the same form.

The Exchange may establish such requirements and conditions for regularity as it deems necessary.

The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions for regularity of grain warehouses and shipping stations:

(1) The warehouse or shipping station making application shall be inspected by the Exchange or the United States Department of Agriculture. Where application is made to list as regular a warehouse which is not regular at the time of such application, the applicant may be required to remove all grain from the warehouse and to permit the warehouse to be inspected and the grain graded, after which such grain may be returned to the warehouse and receipts issued therefor.

See Regulation C1081.01(1)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Corn futures contracts.

See Regulation S1081.01(1)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Soybean futures contracts.

(2) Such warehouse shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

See Regulation C1081.01(2)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Corn futures contracts

See Regulation S1081.01(2)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Soybean futures contracts.

(3) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse or shipping station shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 4E. No warehouse or shipping station shall be declared regular until the person operating the same files a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties, or deposits with the Exchange, treasury securities, or other collateral deemed acceptable to the Exchange, in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require. Any such sums shall be reduced by SEC haircuts, as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c)(2)(vi), (vii) and (viii). If the warehouseman/shipper deposits treasury securities or any other collateral with the Exchange, it must execute a security agreement on a form prescribed by the Exchange.

(4) Such warehouse or shipping station shall be provided with modern improvements and appliances for the convenient and expeditious receiving, handling and shipping of grain in bulk.

(5) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse or shipping station shall comply with the system of registration of warehouse receipts or shipping certificates as established by the Exchange, and shall furnish accurate information to the Exchange regarding all grain received and delivered by the warehouse or shipping station on a daily basis, and that remaining in store at the close of each week, in the form prescribed by the Exchange.

(6) Safeguarding Condition of Grain in Warehouses.

(a) The Board of Trade shall designate an agency for registration of public warehouse receipts, and only public warehouse receipts registered with such agency shall be within the provisions of paragraph (b) following.

(b) Whenever in the opinion of the operator of the warehouse any grain stored in a public warehouse under his jurisdiction should be loaded out in order to protect the best interests of the parties concerned, such operator shall notify the agency giving the location and grades of such grain. The agency shall immediately notify an appropriate grain inspection service who shall at once proceed to the warehouse in which the grain is stored and examine it in conjunction with the Superintendent of such warehouse. If the grain inspection service agrees with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, it shall so notify the Registrar of the Chicago Board of Trade. If the grain inspection service does not agree with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, the operator of the warehouse shall have a right to appeal to the Business Conduct Committee of the Board of Trade. If on such appeal the Business Conduct Committee shall agree with the Superintendent that the grain should be moved, the Business Conduct Committee shall so notify the Registrar of the Board of Trade, and the warehouse receipts covering the above specified lot or lots of grain shall no longer be regular for delivery on Board of Trade future contracts. Upon receiving such notice, either from the grain inspection service, or from the Business Conduct Committee, the Registrar shall notify the holder, or holders, or their agents, together with the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, of the total quantity of the grade of grain in question (selecting the oldest registered warehouse receipt for such grain first, then such additional registered warehouse receipts in the order of their issuance as may be necessary to equal such total quantity of grain). When this information reaches the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee he shall appoint a Committee consisting of five disinterested handlers of cash grain, which Committee shall meet at once and after taking into consideration various factors that establish the value of the grade of the receipts held by such owner or owners, shall determine the fair value of the grain, which price shall be that to be paid by the operator. If the price offered is not satisfactory, a Committee appointed by the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee (at the request of such owner), shall procure other offers for such grain, and such offers shall be immediately reported to the owner or his agent. If the owner refuses to accept any such offers, he shall have the two following business days to order and furnish facilities for loading such grain out of store, and during this period the warehouseman shall be obliged to deliver the grain called for by the warehouse receipts, but not more than three (3) days may elapse after notification by the Registrar to the holder of the receipt before satisfactory disposition shall have been made of the grain, either by sale to the operator or by the ordering out and furnishing facilities to load the same, provided the amount of such grain does not exceed 100,000 bushels in any one elevator. If the amount of grain in question exceeds 100,000 bushels, the owner, or owners, of the warehouse receipts shall be allowed forty-eight hours of grace over and above the before mentioned three days for each 100,000 bushels in excess of the first 100,000 bushels.

(c) In the event that the holder of the warehouse receipt, or his agent, fails to move the grain or make other satisfactory disposition of same within the prescribed time, it shall be held for his account, and any loss in grade sustained shall likewise be for his account.

(d) Nothing in the foregoing provisions shall be construed as prohibiting the warehouseman from fulfilling contracts from other stocks under his control.

(7) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse shall promptly, by the proper publication, advise the trade and the public of any damage to grain held in store by it, whenever such damage shall occur to an extent that will render it unwilling to purchase and withdraw from store, at its own cost, all such damaged grain.

(8) The Board shall be assured that the operator or manager of the warehouse or shipping station will agree to conform to Regulation 1049.03.

(9) The proprietor or manager of such warehouse shall permit the Exchange, at any time, to examine the books and records of the warehouse, for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of all kinds of grain which may be on hand at any time. The Exchange shall have the authority to determine the quantity of grain in the elevators and to compare the books and records of the warehouse with the records of the Exchange.

(10) The proprietor or manager of a regular warehouse or shipping station shall give assurance that all grain received in and shipped out of such warehouse shall be weighed under the supervision of an agency approved by the Exchange.

(11) The warehouseman or shipper operating such warehouses or shipping stations shall not engage in unethical or inequitable practices, and shall comply with all applicable federal or state statutes, rules or regulations.

All warehousemen and shippers are and shall be and remain subject to the Rules, Regulations and Rulings of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago on all subjects and in all areas with respect to which the U.S. Department of Agriculture does not assert jurisdiction pursuant to the U.S. Warehouse Act, as amended.

A regular warehouseman or an owner of warehouse receipts can make delivery in a strike bound elevator. The taker of delivery is liable for all storage charges. However, where the owner of warehouse receipts in a strike bound elevator delivered against futures contracts has a bona fide bid for like receipts in a strike free elevator and decides to load the grain out or sell his receipts, the strike bound warehouseman has the option:

(a) to provide that same quantity and like quality of grain in store in another regular warehouse, not on strike, in the same delivery market, or

(b) to provide that same quantity and like quality of grain in store at another location on mutually acceptable terms, or

(c) if no initial agreement can be reached as provided above, the strike bound warehouseman must buy his warehouse receipts back at the bid price in store for that same quantity and like quality of grain in a strike free elevator in the same delivery market or he has the alternative of proceeding as in (a) above. The bid (which must be a basis bid versus futures) referred to in this paragraph must be good for a minimum period of one hour and must be tendered in writing to the strike bound warehouseman between 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. on a business day and prior to 8:30 a.m., but not before 7:30 a.m., on the following business day.

The warehouseman must respond to the bid as outlined above within the time period during which the bid is alive.

Should the warehouseman question the validity of the bid, the question shall be referred to a Standing Committee which shall have been appointed on an annual basis by the Chairman of the Board, with the approval of the Board. The Committee shall consist of three members including one regular warehouseman with suitable alternates. In case the strike bound elevator involved is in a market other than that directly represented by the warehouseman appointed, the Chairman may designate a member in said alternate market who is familiar with cash grain values in that market. The sole duty of the Committee shall be to determine that the bid is bona fide. The Committee shall not express any opinion with respect to the economics of the bid.

Within the context of this Regulation, a strike bound elevator is defined as the facility itself being on strike.

The maximum load-out charge on wheat and oats which has been tendered in satisfaction of the Board of Trade futures contracts shall be 6 cents per bushel.

The maximum premium for FOB conveyance on Corn and Soybean Shipping Certificates which have been tendered in satisfaction of Board of Trade futures contracts shall be 4 cents per bushel.

All fees for stevedoring services to load Corn and Soybeans into barges are to be paid by the issuer of the Corn or Soybean Shipping Certificate.

The premium for FOB conveyance is payable at the time of invoice.

(12) Load-Out Procedures.

A. Load-Out Procedures Grains -

1. Corn and Soybeans; Wheat from Chicago, Burns Harbor and St. Louis; and Oats from Chicago and Burns Harbor. An operator of a regular facility has the obligation of loading grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates giving preference to takers of delivery. When an operator of a facility regular for the delivery of grain receives one or more written loading orders for loading of grain against canceled warehouse receipts or shipping certificates, the operator shall begin loading against them within 3 business days following their receipt. When loadings against written loading orders cannot be completed on the fourth business day following their receipt, the operator shall continue loading against such loading orders on each business day thereafter. All warehousemen and shippers shall outload grain against canceled delivery instruments consecutively without giving preference of the type of delivery instrument, kind of grain or mode of transportation. He shall outload all such products in the order in which suitable transportation, clean and ready to load is constructively placed at his facility by the holder of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate, pursuant to bona fide loading orders previously received, and at the loading rates provided in part B of this Regulation.

2. Wheat from Toledo and Oats from Minneapolis-St. Paul - All warehousmen shall inload and outload all agricultural products consecutively without giving preference to the products owned by him over the products of others, and without giving preference to one depositor over another. He shall inload all such products consecutively in the order in which they arrive at his warehouse, pursuant to the inloading orders previously received so far as the warehouse capacity for grain and grade permits. He shall outload all such product s in the order in which suitable transportation, clean and ready to load is constructively placed at his warehouse by the holder of the warehouse receipt, pursuant to bona fide outloading orders previously received, except as provided in part B of this Regulation.

3. It shall be the responsibility of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder to supply suitable transportation. Hopper cars shall be considered suitable transportation if they can be sampled by pelican in a manner approved by the appropriate grain sampling agency. Trucks and non-suitable hopper cars may be loaded only with the express agreement of the warehouseman.

Constructive placement at a warehouse or shipping station shall be defined as follows:

(1) Rail cars-as defined in the appropriate Railroad Freight Tariff on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission;

(2) Barges-Positioned at an appropriate fleeting service serving the designated delivery point as defined by the Barge Freight Trading Rules (Affreightment) of the National Grain and Feed Association;

(3) Vessels-In possession of the appropriate Federal Grain Inspection Service and/or National Cargo Bureau documents certifying readiness to accept load-out at the designated delivery point.

It shall be the responsibility of the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder to request the warehouseman to arrange for all necessary Federal Grain Inspection Service and stevedoring service. The warehouse receipt or shipping certificate holder may specify the stevedoring service to be called. The warehouseman shall not be held responsible for non-availability of these services.

B. Load-Out Rates for Grain - In the event a regular grain warehouse or shipping station receives written loading orders for load-out of grain against canceled warehouse receipts or shipping certificates, the warehouseman or shipper shall be required to load out grain beginning on the third business day following receipt of such loading orders or on the day after a conveyance of the type identified in the loading orders is constructively placed, whichever occurs later. The rate of load-out for warehouses in Toledo and Minneapolis-St. Paul shall be at the normal rate of load-out for the facility. The load-out rate for warehouses/shipping stations in Chicago and Burns Harbor and for wheat warehouses in St. Louis shall depend on the conveyance and type of grain being loaded and shall not be less than the following per business day:

	Rail Conveyance or Water Conveyance
	(When receipt holder requests in writing individual weights and grades per car load)	(When receipt holder requests in writing batch weights and grades)/1/	Vessel or	Barge
Wheat, Corn, Soybeans	25 Hopper Cars	35 Hopper Cars	300,000 Bushels	3 Barges
Oats	15 Hopper Cars	20 Hopper Cars	180,000 Bushels	2 Barges

/1/ A batch weight and grade shall refer to a buyer's request in writing for 1 weight and 1 grade per 5 rail cars.

Barge load-out rates for corn and soybeans will be at the shipping station's registered daily rate of loading. When wheat and corn or soybeans or when oats and corn or soybeans are in the lineup for loading, the higher loading rate will apply for total barge loadings on that day. However, a warehouseman or shipper is not obligated to load barges of one type of grain that exceeds the daily barge loading rate for that type of grain. Corn and soybeans are considered one type of grain for this regulation pertaining to barge loading rates.

Regular grain warehouses and shipping stations shall not be required to meet these minimum load-out rates when transportation has not been actually placed at the warehouse, transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, a condition of force majeure exists, inclement weather, including severe ice conditions, prevents loading, or stevedoring services are not available in the case of water conveyance. However, the exceptions to load-out requirements shall not include grains or soybeans which have not made grade. If precluded from loading when equipment is available, the warehouseman/shipper shall notify the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day.

In addition, regular warehouses in Toledo and Minneapolis-St. Paul shall not be required to meet the minimum load-out rate for a conveyance when a "like" conveyance has been constructively placed for load-in prior to the "like" conveyance for load-out. However, when a conveyance for load-out is constructively placed after a "like" conveyance for load-in, the warehouse will load-in grain from the "like" conveyance at the normal rate of load-in for the facility. This rate of load-in shall depend on the conveyance(s) being unloaded and shall not be less than the following minimums per business day:

	Rail Conveyance or Water Conveyance
		Vessel or	Barge
Wheat, Corn, Soybeans	35 Hopper Cars	50,000 Bushels	1 Barge
Oats	20 Hopper Cars	50,000 Bushels	1 Barge

Regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-in rates when a condition of force majeure exists, inspection services are not available, inclement weather prevents unloading, or stevedoring services are not available in the case of water conveyance.

Any increased overtime costs and charges for trimming and FGIS to meet minimum load-out requirements shall be borne by warehouseman.

Vessel loading shall require 3 days pre-advice to warehouseman prior to the date of arrival of the vessel. Failure to provide pre advice may delay loading by the same number of days pre-advice is delayed prior to date of arrival of the vessel.

Inability of a warehouse receipt holder to provide conveyance at an elevator in a timely manner will affect load-out of barges accordingly.

For purposes of this regulation, vessel and barge are "like" conveyances.

C. Notification to Warehouse/Shippers - The warehouse operator or shipping station shall load-in and load-out grains in the order and manner provided in parts A and B of this Regulation, except that his obligation to load-out grain to a given party shall commence no sooner than three business days after he receives cancelled warehouse receipts/shipping certificates and written loading orders from such party, even if such party may have a conveyance positioned to accept load-out of grain before that time. If the party taking delivery presents transportation equipment of a different type (rail, barge, or vessel) than that specified in the loading orders, he is required to provide the warehouse operator with new loading orders, and the warehouse operator shall be obligated to load-out grain to such party no sooner than three business days after he receives the new loading orders. Written loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on a given business day shall be deemed to be received on the following business day. Warehouse receipts/shipping certificates cancelled after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to be cancelled on the following business day. Written loading orders must be received no later than two business days after warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled. If the owner decides against loading out grain within two business days after receipts/certificates are cancelled, he may notify the warehouseman/shipper that warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are to be re-issued. In the case of rice, oats, or wheat, if the warehouseman is notified by 12:00 noon, re-issued receipts shall be deliverable by 4:00 p.m. the following business day. Requests to re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

The warehouseman/shipper shall transmit to the Registrar by 11:00 a.m. the name, location of warehouse/shipping facility, and number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed that day. The Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website.

D. Storage and Premium Charges - Storage payments [and Premium Charges] on [grain] wheat and oats to be shipped pursuant to loading orders shall cease on the tenth business day after suitable transportation is constructively placed for load-out or loading is complete, whichever is earlier. Premium charges for corn and soybeans to be shipped pursuant to loading orders shall cease on the business day loading is complete.

E. Records - All warehousemen and shippers shall keep adequate permanent records showing compliance with the requirements of this Regulation. Such records shall at all times be open for inspection by the designated official or officials of the contract market.

F. Certification of Corn, Soybeans and Wheat - Upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of corn, soybeans or wheat against canceled warehouse receipts/shipping certificates, the delivery warehouseman/shipper shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the grain is of U.S. origin only.

G. Barge Load-Out Procedures for Corn and Soybeans - When corn or soybeans represented by shipping certificates are ordered out for shipment by water conveyance, the regular shipper has the obligation to load-out grain at his registered daily rate of loading. The shipper's obligation shall begin to a party no sooner than 3 business days after he receives canceled certificates and written loading orders from the party or 1 business day after the constructive placement of the water conveyance, whichever is later.

(1) All loading orders and shipping instructions received by 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. "To be nominated" (TBN) barge identities are acceptable in loading orders. Load-out shall be in the order in which barge equipment clean and ready to load is constructively placed at the appropriate fleeting service serving the designated delivery point. Load-out of transportation constructively placed on the same day shall be in the order in which loading orders and shipping instructions were received. Notification of loading orders and shipping instructions must be in writing to the shipper.

(2) When loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. on any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of the scheduled loading dates. Scheduled loading dates are estimated based on constructively placed equipment and current loading orders. These dates are subject to change if conditions covered in Regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(5) preclude the shipper from meeting his minimum daily barge load-out rate or if barges for subsequent loading orders are constructively placed. Notification will be by telephone, mail, or fax to the owner. Shipper is required to provide scheduled loading dates at owner's request.

(3) Official grades as loaded into the water conveyance shall govern for delivery purposes.

(4) Official weights as loaded into the barge shall govern for delivery purposes when available. When official weights are available at the shipping station, the shipping certificates are considered a minimum/maximum quantity with overfills/underfills settled by mutual agreement. When official weights as loaded into the barge are not available it is the responsibility of the taker to obtain official weights at the destination. Any other governing weights and methods of obtaining weights and any such other information on the weighing process must be mutually accepted by the maker and taker of delivery before the barge is loaded. When the official weight becomes known for a barge, overfills and underfills will be settled on the market value, expressed as a basis, for grain FOB barge at the barge loading station on the day that the grain is loaded. Before the barge is loaded, the taker and maker of delivery will agree on a basis over or under the nearby futures that overfills and underfills will be settled on. On the day that the weight tolerance becomes known to both parties, the flat price settlement will be established by applying the basis to the nearby futures month settlement price on the day of unloading or the day of loading if origin weights are used. If the day of unloading is the last trading day in the nearby futures month, the next following futures month will be used for settlement. If the day of unload is not a business day, the next following business day will be used to establish the flat price. In order to convert the agreed upon basis on the day that the grain was loaded to a basis relative to the current nearby futures month, the futures spread on the day of loading will be used, provided that, the nearby futures did not close outside of the price limits set for all other futures months. In this case, the spread on the first following business day that the nearby futures closed within the price limits applicable for all other futures months would be used.

(5) The shipper shall not be required to meet his minimum daily barge load-out rate when transportation has not been actually placed at the shipping station, transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, or inclement weather, including severe ice conditions, prevents loading. However, the exceptions to load-out requirements shall not include corn or soybeans that have not made grade. If precluded from loading when equipment is available, the shipper shall notify the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day. Notification shall be by telephone, e-mail or fax to the owner.

(6) For Illinois Waterway barge loading at Burns Harbor, Regulation 1081.01(13)(A.)(a) pertaining to the protection of the Chicago barge rate and inclement weather will apply.

(7) Any expense for making the grain available for loading on the Illinois Waterway will be borne by the party making delivery, provided that the taker of delivery constructively places barge equipment clean and ready to load within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway. If the taker's barges are not constructively placed within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway, the taker shall pay the shipper an amount not to exceed 30/100 of one cent per bushel per day multiplied by the number of calendar days from the fifth business day following the scheduled loading date to the date that the barge is constructively placed, including both dates, but excluding business days the shipper meets his minimum daily barge load-out rate. Requests to cancel loading instructions and re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner

(8) The shipper shall load water conveyance at the shipping station designated in the Shipping Certificate. If it becomes impossible to load at the designated shipping station for three (3) consecutive business days because of an Act of God, fire, flood, wind, explosion, war, embargo, civil commotion, sabotage, law, act of government, labor difficulties or other condition of force majeure, the shipper will arrange for water conveyance to be loaded at another regular shipping station in conformance with the Shipping Certificate and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping station. If the aforementioned condition of impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping stations, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping stations. If conditions covered in this regulation make it impossible to load at the designated shipping station, the shipper shall notify the Registrar's Office in writing of such condition within 24 hours of when the condition of impossibility began.

(9) See Regulation C1081.01(12)G(9)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Corn futures contracts.

See Regulation S1081.01(12)G(9)-Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates for Soybean futures contracts.

(10) In the event less than eleven shipping certificates of a like grade/quality are outstanding at a shipping station the owner of all such outstanding shipping certificates may cancel the shipping certificates and obligate the shipper to provide a market value at which the shipper will either buy back all the canceled shipping certificates or sell the balance of Corn or Soybeans of a like grade/quality to complete a barge loading of at least 55,000 bushels, the choice being at the discretion of the taker of delivery.

(13) Location.

A. Corn. See Regulation C1081.01(13)-Location for Corn futures contracts.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Switching District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for barge loadings for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved from the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the warehouse receipts or shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of warehouse receipts or shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

See Regulation C1081.01(13)-Location for Corn futures contracts.

B. Oats. For the delivery of oats, regular warehouses may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District (subject to the provisions of paragraph A above) or within the Minneapolis, Minnesota or St. Paul, Minnesota Switching Districts.

Delivery in the Minneapolis or St. Paul Switching District must be made "in store" in regular elevators providing barge-loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the average draft of the current barge loadings in the Minneapolis and St. Paul barge-loading districts.

However, deliveries of oats may be made in interior off-water elevators within the Minneapolis or St. Paul Switching District, PROVIDED that the party making delivery makes the oats available upon call within seven calendar days to load into a barge at one river location in the Minneapolis or St. Paul barge-loading district. The party making delivery must declare, within one business day after receiving warehouse receipts and loading orders, the river location at which the oats will be made available. Any additional expense incurred to move delivery oats from an off-water elevator into barges shall be borne by the party making delivery; PROVIDED that the party taking delivery presents barge equipment clean and ready to load within fifteen calendar days from the time warehouse receipts and loading orders are tendered to the delivering party.

Official weights and official grades as loaded into the barge shall govern for delivery purposes.

C. Wheat. For the delivery of wheat, regular warehouses may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District (subject to the provisions of Paragraph A above), within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District, or with respect to only No. 1 Soft Red Winter and No. 2 Soft Red Winter Wheat, within the St. Louis-East St. Louis or Alton Switching Districts.

Delivery in Toldeo must be made "in store" in regular elevators providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

However, deliveries of wheat may be made in off-water elevators within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District PROVIDED that the party making delivery makes the grain available upon call within five calendar days to load into water equipment at one water location within the Toledo, Ohio Switching District. The party making delivery must declare within one business day after receiving warehouse receipts and loading orders the water location at which wheat will be made available.

Any additional expense incurred to move delivery grain from an off-water elevator into water facilities shall be borne by the party making delivery; PROVIDED that the party taking delivery presents water equipment clean and ready to load within fifteen calendar days from the time the grain has been made available.

Official weights and official grades as loaded into the water equipment shall govern for delivery purposes.

Delivery in the St. Louis-East St. Louis or Alton Switching Districts must be "in store" in regular elevators providing barge loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the average draft of the current barge loadings in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton barge loading districts.

D. Soybeans. See Regulation S1081.01(13)-Location for Soybean futures contracts.

(14) Billing

A. Wheat, Corn, Soybeans and Oats (Chicago delivery). The Chicago warehouseman is not required to furnish transit billing on grain represented by warehouse receipt deliveries in Chicago, Illinois. Delivery shall be flat.

B. Oats (Minneapolis, St. Paul delivery).

(1) When oats represented by warehouse receipts delivered in Minneapolis or St. Paul are ordered out for shipment by rail, it shall be the obligation of seller to furnish, no later than when cars are placed or constructively placed at the elevator, to the party taking delivery, inbound Freight Bills (rail tonnage or order equivalent truck or barge tonnage) protecting the applicable proportional rate applicable to Chicago from the warehouse in which the grain is located. The Freight Bills shall be for the kind and quantity of the commodity designated by the warehouse receipt and must permit such commodity to be shipped at the minimum proportional rate applicable to Chicago effective as of the date of shipment from point of origin shown by the Freight Bill.

(a) Delivery at Minneapolis. When delivery is made at an elevator within the Minneapolis Switching District, such Freight Bills must permit one further free transit stop at interior transit points or be accompanied by a check to cover one such transit stop.

(b) Delivery at St. Paul. When delivery is made at an elevator within the St. Paul Switching District, such Freight Bills must permit one further free transit stop at interior transit points, or be accompanied by a check to cover such transit stop, and in addition must also permit movement to industries within the switching limits of Minneapolis at no greater cost than the maximum switching charges between industries located with the switching limits of Minneapolis.

(2) In lieu of the Freight Bills or order equivalent tonnage specified above, seller may furnish to the party taking delivery "short-rate" Freight Bills or make compensation as specified in Section (b).

(a) "Short-rate" Freight Bills (which otherwise conform to the requirements of this Regulation). "Short-rate" Freight Bills shall be accompanied by a certified check, or other acceptable payment, in an amount equal to the difference between the freight charges which would be incurred in shipping the quantity of the commodity from Minneapolis to Chicago (based on the proportional rate applicable in connection with such "short-rate" Freight Bills) and the freight charges for such shipment based on the minimum proportional tariff rate applicable in connection with Freight Bills other than "short-rate" Freight Bills showing shipment from points of origin as of the same date as the "short-rate" Freight Bills furnished.

(b) Compensation in Lieu of Freight Bills or order equivalent tonnage. A certified check or other acceptable payment may be substituted for Freight Bills provided it is in an amount equal to the difference between the freight charges which would be incurred in shipping the commodity from Minneapolis to Chicago based on the flat tariff rate effective as of the date of loading for rail shipment and the charges for such shipment based on the minimum proportional tariff rate effective as of the same date.

(3) Due Bills issued by the Western Weighing and Inspection Bureau may be used when necessary in lieu of Freight Bills that conform to the provisions of this Regulation. Such Due Bills may be surrendered by the seller to the party loading out delivery grain by rail when such Freight Bills are not yet available because of the unloading of the commodity into an elevator during the last few days of the delivery month or on the delivery of "Track" grain. Such Due Bills shall specify the date, origin and rate of the Freight Bills in lieu of which they are issued and shall be completely filled out except for the signature.

(4) The term Freight Bills as used in this Regulation means the recorded inbound paid Freight Bills, authorized duplicates thereof, or tonnage credit slips, conforming to the rules and regulations of Western Trunk Line Tariff No. 331-Z, Fred Ofcky, Agent, ICC No. A-4774, amendments thereto or reissues thereof.

C. Wheat (Toledo and St. Louis delivery). The warehouseman is not required to furnish transit billing on wheat represented by warehouse receipts delivery in Toledo, Ohio, St. Louis, Missouri, East St. Louis, Illinois, or Alton, Illinois. Delivery shall be flat.

D. Corn. See Regulation C1081.01(14)-Billing for Corn futures contracts.

E. Soybeans. See Regulation S1081.01(14)-Billing for Soybean futures contracts.

F. Wheat, Corn, Soybeans and Oats (Burns Harbor Delivery). When grain represented by warehouse receipts delivered in Burns Harbor is ordered out for shipment by rail, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the Chicago rail rate, if lower, which would apply to the owner's destination had a like kind and quantity of grain designated on warehouse receipts been loaded out and shipped from a regular warehouse located in the Chicago Switching District. If grain is loaded out and shipped to an industry in the Chicago Switching District, the party making delivery will protect the minimum, crosstown switch charge in the Chicago Switching District.

When rail loading orders are submitted, the party taking delivery shall state in writing if he elects to receive the applicable rail rates from Burns Harbor or Chicago. If the party taking delivery specifies Burns Harbor, the party making delivery will load rail cars at the Burns Harbor warehouse and will not be required to protect the Chicago rates.

If the party taking delivery specifies Chicago rates, the party making delivery will declare on the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by rail, the warehouse at which the grain will be made available, which is operated by the party making delivery and is located either in the Burns Harbor or the Chicago Switching Districts. If the declared warehouse is located in the Chicago Switching District, the party making delivery will provide only that billing specified in Regulation 1081.01(14)A.

However, if the declared warehouse is located in Burns Harbor and the rail rate from Chicago or the minimum Chicago crosstown switch charge requires protection, the party making delivery will compensate the party taking delivery. The compensation shall be in an amount equivalent to the difference of the freight charges from Burns Harbor and the freight charges which would be applicable had the grain been loaded at and shipped from a warehouse located in the Chicago Switching District to the owner's destination.

(15) Persons operating regular warehouses or shipping stations shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a warehouse's or shipper's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

(16) Persons operating regular warehouses or shipping stations shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse or shipping station was regular.

(17) The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses or shipping stations for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses or shipping stations, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses or shipping stations meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts or shipping certificates issued by such warehouses or shipping stations, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in the relevant market, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (08/01/04)

1081.01A Inspection - Chicago Elevators - Any Grain Warehouses in Chicago, regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations of the Association, shall require inbound and outbound inspections as mandated by the U.S. Grain Standards Act and/or the U.S. Warehouse Act.

Nothing herein shall negate the rights of persons shipping grain into or out of such Warehouses to request and obtain on such grain official sample lot inspections as defined in the U.S. Grain Standards Act, and such inspections or any appeal therefrom, shall be the settlement grade.

When grain is delivered in satisfaction of warehouse or shipping certificate, receipts, the holder of the warehouse receipts or shipping certificates shall be entitled to an official sample lot inspection as defined in the U.S. Grain Standards Act unless otherwise agreed. 3R (03/01/00)

1081.01B Billing When Grain is Loaded Out - The Board makes the following interpretations:

1. Is it then the obligation of the operator of the elevator to have such billing on hand backing all deliveries -or only (as the Regulation seems to state) when such grain is loaded out?

   The Regulations are explicit in stating that billing need be available when such grain is loaded out. The warehouseman makes the decision and takes the risk at the time of delivery and any time until the grain is ordered loaded if he does not have billing.

2. What is meant by equities?

   Equities are defined in the Regulation and do not include values occasioned by changes in freight rates as they would apply to the outboard movement. 43R (09/01/94)

1081.01C Car of Specified Capacity - Where a seller of an 80,000 Ib. capacity car shows conclusively that an 80,000 Ib. capacity car was ordered, and the railroad for its own convenience provided a 100,000 Ib. capacity car, the basis for settlement should be the same as though an 80,000 Ib. capacity car had been supplied. 14R (09/01/94)

1082.00 Insurance - Grain covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery must be insured against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Board of Directors. It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular warehouses to furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected. 292 (08/01/96)

1082.00A Insurance - The warehouseman shall insure grain and soybeans covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against the contingencies provided for in the standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquakes). (09/01/94)

1083.00 Variation Allowed - Deliveries of grain in store may vary not more than one percent from the quantity contracted for: provided, however, that no lot in any one warehouse shall contain less than 5,000 bushels of any one grade. 291 (09/01/94)

1083.01 Excess or Deficiency in Quantity - In the load-out of grain from an elevator or warehouse, the quantity of gross grain covered by the warehouse receipt shall be loaded out, and any excess or deficiency between the quantity of net grain loaded out and the quantity of net grain covered by the warehouse receipt shall be paid for to or by (as the case may be) the elevator or warehouse proprietor or manager at the average market price on the day of load-out: the buyer to pay storage on the net weight covered by the warehouse receipt. In the event that in the final out-turn there is a shortage in the gross quantity called for in the receipt, the net quantity of grain required by the receipt shall be the factor in settlement, and any variation therefrom in the net amount of grain loaded out against the receipt shall be paid for by the elevator or warehouse proprietor or manager to the owner of the receipt at the average market price on the day of load-out. In the load-out of grain the gross quantity of grain, which includes dockage shall not exceed the net quantity by more than one percent.

1084.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular warehouse or shipper may be declared by the Business Conduct Committee, or pursuant to Regulation 540.10, the Hearing Committee to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth. If the designation of a warehouse or shipper as regular shall be revoked, a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts or certificates issued by such house or shipper shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts under the Rules and Regulations.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding warehouse or shipping certificates receipts shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt or shipping certificate chooses not to take load-out during this period, the facility must provide him with another warehouse receipt or shipping certificate at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse or shipping station, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such warehouse receipt or shipping certificate is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with 0an equivalent quantity and quality of the grain designated in the warehouse receipt or shipping certificate at a mutually acceptable location. 1621 (03/01/00)

1085.01 Application for Declaration of Regularity - All applications by operators of warehouses for a declaration of regularity under Regulation 1081.01 shall be on the following form:

(Address, City, State, Zip)
submits this application to the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (hereinafter called "Exchange") for a Declaration of Regularity to issue Warehouse Receipts for delivery of _____ upon contracts
(List Wheat, Oats, or both)
for future delivery for a period beginning on July 1, 20__ and ending Midnight June 30, 20__.

The Warehouseman has a storage capacity of _____bushels of grain. If multiple warehouses exist at the location listed above, please indicate the name of the elevator.

Name of Elevator: _____.

*Please include a copy of the lease or service agreement with application.

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other applicable conditions specified in Regulation 1081.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Warehouseman must:

(1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

(2) submit to the Exchange a tariff listing in detail the rates for the handling and storage of grain; submit promptly to the Exchange all changes in such tariff; and publish and display such tariff.

The maximum storage rates on Wheat and Oats shall not exceed the storage rates defined in Regulation 1056.01. The maximum load-out charge shall not exceed the load-out charge defined in Regulation 1081.01(11).

(3) remove no CBOT registered Wheat and/or Oats from the warehouse unless the warehouse receipts have been previously cancelled by the Registrar's Office.

(4) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the warehouse.

(5) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Exchange or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) may require; and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

(6) insure against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

(7) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/ every even year.

(8) if the Warehouseman leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service agreement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, Warehouseman remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

2. The Warehouse must be:

(1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

(2) Equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious handling of grains in bulk.

3. The Warehouse and Warehouseman must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

AGREEMENTS OF WAREHOUSEMAN

The Warehouseman expressly agrees:

(1) that all grain tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be weighed by an Official Weigher. An Official Weigher shall be a person or agency approved by the Exchange.

(2) that all warehouse receipts to be tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(3) to abide by all of the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the warehousing of commodities deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1081.01, as applicable.

(4) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the Warehouseman's behalf in matters pertaining to Warehouse Receipts.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Warehouseman's declaration of regularity if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6, and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Warehouseman or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(8) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Warehouseman was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1081.01 (17), the Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1081.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of the Wheat or Oats futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Wheat or Oats, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

C1038.01 Grades- (see 1038.00 and 1038.01) (08/01/98)

C1041.01 Delivery Points - Corn Shipping Certificates shall specify shipment from one of the warehouses or shipping stations currently regular for delivery and located in one of the following territories:

A. Chicago and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District - When used in these Rules and Regulations, the Chicago Switching District will be that area geographically defined by Tariff ICC WTL 8020-Series and that portion of the Illinois Waterway at or above river mile 304 which includes the Calumet Sag Channel and the Chicago Sanitary & Ship Canal. When used in these Rules and Regulations, Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District will be that area geographically defined by the boundaries of Burns Waterway Harbor at Burns Harbor, Indiana which is owned and operated by the Indiana Port Commission.

B. Lockport-Seneca Shipping District - When used in these Rules and Regulations, the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District will be that portion of the Illinois Waterway below river mile 304 at the junction of the Calumet Sag Channel and the Chicago Sanitary & Ship Canal and above river mile 244.6 at the Marseilles Lock and Dam.

C. Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District - When used in these Rules and Regulations, the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District will be that portion of the Illinois Waterway below river mile 244.6 at the Marseilles Lock and Dam and at or above river mile 170 between Chillicothe and Peoria, IL.

D. Peoria-Pekin Shipping District - When used in these Rules and Regulations, the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District will be that portion of the Illinois Waterway below river mile 170 between Chillicothe and Peoria, IL and at or above river mile 151 at Pekin, IL. (11/01/01)

Ch10C Regularity of Issuers of Shipping Certificates

C1081.01 Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates -Persons operating grain warehouses or shippers who desire to have such warehouses or shipping stations made regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for a two-year term beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular grain warehouses or shippers who desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted on the floor or the exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

The following shall constitute the requirements and conditions for regularity:

(1) The warehouse or shipping station making application shall be inspected by the Registrar or the United States Department of Agriculture. Where application is made to list as regular a warehouse which is not regular at the time of such application, the applicant may be required to remove all grain from the warehouse and to permit the warehouse to be inspected and the grain graded, after which such grain may be returned to the warehouse and receipts issued therefor.

The operator of a shipping station issuing Corn Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not to exceed:

(a) 20 times his registered total daily rate of loading barges, or in the case of Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching Districts, his registered storage capacity,

(b) and a value greater than 50 percent of the operator's net worth.

The shipper issuing Corn Shipping Certificates shall register his total daily rate of loading barges at his maximum 8 hour loadout capacity in amount not less than:

(a) one barge per day at each shipping station within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District, within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District, within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District, within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District, and within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts, and

(b) three barges per day at each shipping station in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District.

(2) Shippers located in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

C1081.01(3) through C1081.01(12)G(8) - (see 1081.01(3) through 1081.01(12)G(8))

C1081.01(12)G(9) In the event that it has been announced, by the U.S. Coast Guard, after consulting with the Army Corps of Engineers and the River Industry Action Committee, that river traffic will be obstructed for a period of fifteen days or longer as a result of one of the conditions of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) and in the event that the obstruction will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, then the following barge load-out procedures for Corn shall apply to shipping stations upriver from the obstruction:

(a) The maker and taker of delivery may negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance.

(b) If the maker and/or the taker elect not to negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance, then the maker is obligated to provide the same quantity and like quality of grain pursuant to the terms of the shipping certificate(s) with the following exceptions and additional requirements:

(i) The maker must provide loaded barge(s) to the taker on the Illinois River between the lowest closed lock and St. Louis, inclusive, or on the Mid-Mississippi River between Lock 11 at Dubuque, Iowa and St. Louis, inclusive.

(ii) The loaded barge(s) provided to the taker must have a value equivalent to C.I.F. NOLA, with the maker of delivery responsible for the equivalent cost, insurance and freight.

(iii) The taker of delivery shall pay the maker 18 cents per bushel for Chicago and Burns Harbor Switching District shipping certificates, 16 cents per bushel for Lockport-Seneca District shipping certificates, 15 1/2 cents per bushel for Ottawa-Chillicothe District shipping certificates, and 15 cents per bushel for Peoria-Pekin District shipping certificates, as a reimbursement for the cost of barge freight.

(c) In the event that the obstruction or condition of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, but no announcement of the anticipated period of obstruction is made, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails.

C1081.01(13) Location - For the delivery of Corn, regular warehouses or shipping stations may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Switching District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for barge loadings for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved from the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse or shipping station in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

Delivery within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Illinois River maintained by the Corps of Engineers.

Ch10s Delivery Procedures

Ch10S Regularity of Issuers of Shipping

S1081.01 Regularity of Warehouses and Issuers of Shipping Certificates - Persons operating grain warehouses or shippers who desire to have such warehouses or shipping stations made regular for the delivery of grain under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for a two-year term beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular grain warehouses or shippers who desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted on the floor or the exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Applications for a renewal of regularity shall be made prior to May 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994, and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

The following shall constitute the requirements and conditions for regularity:

(1) The warehouse or shipping station making application shall be inspected by the Registrar or the United States Department of Agriculture. Where application is made to list as regular a warehouse which is not regular at the time of such application, the applicant may be required to remove all grain from the warehouse and to permit the warehouse to be inspected and the grain graded, after which such grain may be returned to the warehouse and receipts issued therefor.

The operator of a shipping station issuing Soybean Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not to exceed:

(a) 20 times his registered total daily rate of loading barges, or in the case of Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching Districts, his registered storage capacity,

(b) and a value greater than 50 percent of the operator's net worth.

The shipper issuing Soybean Shipping Certificates shall register his total daily rate of loading barges at his maximum 8 hour loadout capacity in amount not less than:

(a) one barge per day at each shipping station within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District, within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District, within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District, within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District, and within the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts, and

(b) three barges per day at each shipping station in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District.

(2) Shippers located in the Chicago, Illinois and Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

S1081.01(3) through S1081.01(12)G(8) - (see 1081.01(3) through 1081.01(12)G(8))

S1081.01(12)G(9) In the event that it has been announced, by the U.S. Coast Guard, after consulting with the Army Corps of Engineers and the River Industry Action Committee, that river traffic will be obstructed for a period of fifteen days or longer as a result of one of the conditions of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) and in the event that the obstruction will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, then the following barge load-out procedures for soybeans shall apply to shipping stations upriver from the obstruction:

(a) The maker and taker of delivery may negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance.

(b) If the maker and/or the taker elect not to negotiate mutually agreeable terms of performance, then the maker is obligated to provide the same quantity and like quality of grain pursuant to the terms of the shipping certificate(s) with the following exceptions and additional requirements:

(i) The maker must provide loaded barge(s) to the taker on the Illinois River between the lowest closed lock and St. Louis, inclusive, or on the Mid-Mississippi River between Lock 11 at Dubuque, Iowa and St. Louis, inclusive.

(ii) The loaded barge(s) provided to the taker must have a value equivalent to C.I.F. NOLA, with the maker of delivery responsible for the equivalent cost, insurance and freight.

(iii) The taker of delivery shall pay the maker 18 cents per bushel for Chicago and Burns Harbor Switching District shipping certificates, 16 cents per bushel for Lockport-Seneca District shipping certificates, 15 1/2 cents per bushel for Ottawa-Chillicothe District shipping certificates, 15 cents per bushel for Peoria-Pekin District shipping certificates, and 14 1/2 cents per bushel for Havana-Grafton District shipping certificates as a reimbursement for the cost of barge freight.

(c) In the event that the obstruction or condition of impossibility listed in regulation 1081.01(12)(G)(8) will affect a majority of regular shipping stations, but no announcement of the anticipated period of obstruction is made, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails.

S1081.01(13) Location - For the delivery of Soybeans, regular warehouses or shipping stations may be located within the Chicago Switching District or within the Burns Harbor, Indiana Switching District or within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District or in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching Districts.

No such warehouse or shipping station within the Chicago Switching District shall be declared regular unless it is conveniently approachable by vessels of ordinary draft and has customary shipping facilities. Ordinary draft shall be defined as the lesser of (1) channel draft as recorded in the Lake Calumet Harbor Draft Gauge, as maintained by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, minus one (1) foot, or (2) 20 feet.

Delivery in Burns Harbor must be made "in store" in regular elevators or by shipping certificate at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to normal seaway draft of 27 feet.

In addition, deliveries of grain may be made in regular elevators or shipping stations within the Burns Harbor Switching District PROVIDED that:

(a) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by a barge, it will be the obligation of the party making delivery to protect the barge freight rate from the Chicago Switching District (i.e. the party making delivery and located in the Burns Harbor Switching District will pay the party taking delivery an amount equal to all expenses for the movement of the barge from the Chicago Switching District, to the Burns Harbor Switching District and the return movement back to the Chicago Shipping District).

If inclement weather conditions make the warehouse or shipping station located in the Burns Harbor Switching District unavailable for a period of five or more calendar days, the party making the delivery will make grain available on the day following this five calendar day period to load into a barge at one mutually agreeable water warehouse or shipping station located in the Chicago Switching District; PROVIDED that the party making delivery is notified on the first day of that five-day period of inclement weather that the barge is available for movement but cannot be moved form the Chicago Switching District to the Burns Harbor Switching District, and is requested on the last day of this five day calendar period in which the barge cannot be moved.

(b) When grain represented by shipping certificates is ordered out for shipment by vessel, and the party taking delivery is a recipient of a split delivery of grain between a warehouse or shipping station located in Burns Harbor and a warehouse or shipping station in Chicago, and the grain in the Chicago warehouse or shipping station will be loaded onto this vessel; it will be the obligation of the party making delivery at the request of the party taking delivery to protect the holder of the shipping certificates against any additional charges resulting from loading at one berth in the Burns Harbor Switching District and at one berth in the Chicago Switching District as compared to a single berth loading at one location. The party making delivery, at his option, will either make the grain available at one water warehouse or shipping station operated by the party making delivery and located in the Chicago Switching District for loading onto the vessel, make grain available at the warehouse or shipping station in Burns Harbor upon the surrender of shipping certificates issued by other regular elevators or shipping stations located in the Chicago Switching District at the time vessel loading orders are issued, or compensate the party taking delivery in an amount equal to all applicable expenses, including demurrage charges, if any, for the movement of the vessel between a berth in the other switching district. On the day that the grain is ordered out for shipment by vessel, the party making delivery will declare the regular warehouse or shipping station in which the grain will be available for loading.

Delivery within the Lockport-Seneca Shipping District or within the Ottawa-Chillicothe Shipping District or within the Peoria-Pekin Shipping District or within the Havana-Grafton Shipping District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Illinois River maintained by the Corps of Engineers.

Delivery in the St. Louis-East St. Louis and Alton Switching District must be made at regular shipping stations providing water loading facilities and maintaining water depth equal to the draft of the Mississippi River maintained by the Corps of Engineers. (12/01/00)

CBOT(R) MINI-SIZED CORN FUTURES

Ch10mC TRADING CONDITIONS

mC1001.01 Authority - Trading of CBOT mini-sized Corn futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. (04/01/03)

mC1002.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in CBOT mini-sized Corn futures shall be subject to the General Rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to Regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in CBOT mini-sized Corn futures contracts. (04/01/03) mC1003.01 Derivative Markets - Settlement prices shall be set in accordance with this regulation consistent with the settlement prices of the primary market. Contract settlement prices shall be set equal to the settlement prices of the corresponding contracts of the primary market for such commodity. Where a particular contract has opened on the Exchange for which the primary market has established no settlement price, the Clearing Services Provider shall set a settlement price consistent with the spread relationships of other contracts; provided, however, that if the contract is not subject to daily price fluctuation limits then the settlement prices shall be set at the fair market value of the contract at the close of trading. (12/01/03)

mC1004.01 Unit of Trading - On future delivery contracts calling for the delivery of corn, delivery shall be made in 1,000 bushel units or multiples thereof. (04/01/03)

mC1006.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of 1/8 cent per bushel. (04/01/03)

mC1043.01 Deliveries by Mini-sized Corn Certificates - Deliveries of CBOT mini-sized Corn shall be made by delivery of mini-sized Corn Certificates created by the Exchange from Corn Shipping Certificates issued by Shippers designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Shipping Certificates for Corn, utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's on-line system. In order to effect a valid delivery, each Certificate must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the Certificate and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by an endorser, of performance by the shipper. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all premium charges have been paid on the commodity covered by the Certificate, in accordance with Regulation C1056.01.

Mini-sized Corn Certificates may not be cancelled for load-out. Upon the return of five (5) mini-sized Corn Certificates to the Exchange, a registered Corn Shipping Certificate will be delivered by the Exchange to the holder of the five (5) mini-sized Corn Certificates, utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's on-line system. 1105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Crude Soybean Oil may be conducted in the current month and any subsequent months. 2004 (09/01/94)

1106.01 Price Basis - All prices of Crude Soybean Oil shall be basis Decatur, Illinois in multiples of 1/100th of one cent per pound. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. 2005 (09/01/94)

1107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Crude Soybean Oil shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. except that on the last day of trading in an expiring future the hours with respect to such future shall be from 9:30 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Market shall be opened and closed with a public call made month by month, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. 2007 (09/01/94)

1109.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Crude Soybean Oil futures deliverable in the current month shall be made after the business day preceding the 15th calendar day of that month and any contracts remaining open may be settled by delivery after trading in such contracts has ceased; and, if not previously delivered, delivery must be made on the last business day of the month. 2008 (01/01/00)

1109.02 Trading in the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1109.01 of this Chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of (a bona fide) exchange of such current futures for the (actual) cash commodity or an over-the-counter transaction. 2009 (07/01/03)

1110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (09/01/94)

1111.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. 2011 (09/01/94)

1112.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See 425.01) (09/01/94)

1136.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these Regulations shall be Crude Soybean Oil which conforms to the following specifications:

(a) It shall be one of the following types: Expeller pressed, expeller pressed degummed, solvent extracted, or solvent extracted degummed. Mixtures of one type with any other type shall not be deliverable;

(b) It shall contain not more than 0.3% moisture and volatile content;

(c) It shall be lighter in green color than Standard "A" and when refined and bleached shall produce a refined and bleached oil of not deeper color than 3.5 red on the Lovibond scale;

(d) It shall refine with a loss not exceeding 5% as determined by the "neutral oil" method;

(e) It shall have a flash point not below 250 degrees Fahrenheit, closed cup method;

(f) It shall contain no more than 1.5% unsaponifiable matter (exclusive of moisture and volatile matter).

No lower grade shall be delivered in satisfaction of contracts for future delivery. A higher grade may be delivered at contract price except that where the refining loss is less than 5% as determined by the "neutral oil" method, a premium of one percent of the cash market price at the time of loading shall be paid for each one percent under the 5% loss (fractions figured throughout) with a maximum credit of 41-2%.

American Oil Chemists' Society methods shall be followed for sampling and analysis for all tests, except for determining green color, which test shall be the National Soybean Processors Association tentative method.

A tolerance of 150 lbs. of sludge shall be allowed for each trading unit of 60,000 lbs. If the car contains more than 150 lbs. of sludge or if a truck contains more than 125 lbs. of sludge, an allowance shall be made to the Buyer for a total amount of sludge up to 1,000 lbs. at 50% of the price at time of unloading car. Sludge in excess of 1,000 lbs. shall be allowed for at the price at time of unloading car.

Sludge shall be considered to be solid residue which cannot be pumped and squeegeed from the car for the net out-turn weight. 2002 (09/01/94)

1136.02 United States Origin Only - Effective September 1, 1992, a futures contract for the sale of soybean oil shall be performed on the basis of United States origin only upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted. (09/01/94)

1137.01 Official Chemist's Certificates - Certificates for quality analysis by any Official Chemists shall be acceptable and binding on all parties except as otherwise provided.

The official chemists are Woodson-Tenent Laboratories with laboratories located at Memphis, Tenn. and Des Moines, Ia.; and Barrow-Agee Laboratories, Memphis, Tenn. 2029 (10/01/01)

1138.01 Sampling - Samples shall be drawn at time of loading by Official Samplers licensed by the Exchange. The Official Sample shall be 2 one-quart and 1 half-gallon samples. These portions should be packaged in clean, dry and new containers. Either tinned metal containers or high density polyethylene bottles fitted with metal caps having oil resistant cap liners are acceptable. Polythylene containers must be enclosed for shipping in custom-made, close fitting cardboard containers. The sample must be drawn at the time of loading in accordance with A.O.C.S. Official Method for sampling crude oils (C1-47-Continuous Flow and Trier methods) and shall be so indicated on invoice. If the Shipper neglects to provide such a sample at the time of loading or fails to show on invoice than an Official Sample has been taken, a sample drawn at destination shall be official when taken in accordance with the A.O.C.S. Official Methods as noted above. Shipper shall forward to Consignee one of the one-quart portions at no expense to Consignee within one working day of completion of loading and label of sample must designate type of oil and plant destination. The one-half gallon portion (third portion) is to be retained by Shipper as the referee sample for a minimum of thirty days after loading.

Each sample must be accompanied by a certificate in the following form:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago

OFFICIAL SAMPLERS CERTIFICATE

I hereby certificate that sample marked_____was drawn by me on this_____day of_____, 20_____, within 24 hours after loading tank car or truck in accordance with the requirements of Regulation 1138.01 of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, and that it is a fair and true sample of the contents of:

Car/Truck No. (and initial)_____, located at_____ containing approximately_____pounds, of_____

(Expeller pressed. Expeller pressed degummed, Solvent Extracted,_____ _____type Crude Soybean Oil. Solvent Extracted Degummed)

_____Solvent used. That sample was taken in a manner prescribed by the American Oil Chemists Society.

(01/01/00)

1139.01 Weighing - On all deliveries, the weight as determined by an Official Weigher shall be binding on all interested parties. Due allowance shall be made to cover the loss of weight due to sampling, if sample is drawn from weighing. An official weigher is a person or agency approved by the Exchange. 2024 (09/01/94)

1140.01 Grading - Shipper shall have option, and advise warehouse receipt holder of his selection at time of receipt of loading instructions, of having grade determined by one of the following methods:

A. Official Chemist Analysis, shipper to pay the cost.

B. Comparison between consignee's and shipper's analyses.

1. Each party must mail to other party his analysis within 15 days after bill of lading date.

2. If parties do not agree as to quality (refining loss excepted) either one may request analysis by Official Chemist. The findings of the Official Chemist shall be binding on both parties and the cost of such analysis shall be charged to the party against whom the decision results.

3. In case of refining loss, based on the "neutral oil" method, if the difference is not over three tenths of one percent the settlement shall be made on the average of the two, otherwise the retained sample shall be sent to Official Chemist for analysis. If the Official Chemist's results are the mean of the shippers' and consignees' analyses, then the cost shall be shared equally; otherwise, the cost shall be charged to the party against whom the decision results. 2025 (09/01/94)

1141.01 Delivery Points - Crude Soybean Oil may be delivered in satisfaction of Soybean Oil futures contracts from regular warehouses located in Illinois Territory, Eastern Territory, Eastern Iowa Territory, Southwest Territory, Western Territory or Northern Territory as defined in this regulation and at the following price differentials:

(a) Illinois Territory (That portion of the state of Illinois north of latitude 38(degrees)00' N.) .... at contract price.

(b) Eastern Territory (Those portions of the states of Indiana and Kentucky west of the Ohio-Indiana border and its extension and north of latitude 38(degrees)00'N.) . . . at 30/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(c) Eastern Iowa Territory (That portion of the state of Iowa east of longitude 93(degrees)50'W.) . . . at 10/100ths of one cent per pound over contract price.

(d) Southwest Territory (Those portions of the states of Missouri and Kansas north of latitude 38(degrees)00'N. and east of longitude 97(degrees)00'W.) . . . at 35/100ths of one cent per pound over contract price.

(e) Western Territory (Those portions of the states of Iowa west of longitude 93 E 50' W., and Nebraska east of longitude 97 E 00' W.)... at 35/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(f) Northern Territory (Those portions of the state of Minnesota south of latitude 45 E 10' N., and South Dakota south of latitude 45 E 10' N., and east of 97 E 00' W.)... at 55/100ths of one cent per pound under contract price.

(g) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, and for a given Soybean Oil futures delivery territory except the "Illinois Territory:" when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within that Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from that Soybean Oil territory will be at a premium of 10 cents per hundredweight over contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustment.

(h) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, when the "Illinois Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to maximum CBOT 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within the Illinois Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from all other Soybean Oil territories will be at a discount of 10 cents per hundredweight under contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustments.

(i) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, and for a given Soybean Oil futures delivery territory except the "Illinois Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within that Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from that Soybean Oil territory will be at a discount of 10 cents per hundredweight under contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustment.

(j) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, excluding the period September 1 through December 31, when the "Illinois Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean crushing capacity within the Illinois Soybean Oil futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Oil territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Warehouse Receipts issued from all other Soybean Oil territories will be at a premium of 10 cents per hundredweight over contract price in addition to the delivery territorial differential adjustments.

(k) Items (g) through (j) of Regulation 1141.01 shall apply to all CBOT Soybean Oil futures contracts delivered during a one calendar year period beginning with January following the soybean crop year ending August 31, provided that there are on a weekly average at least 150 outstanding Soybean Oil Warehouse Receipts in all Soybean Oil delivery territories combined during that previous soybean crop year.

(l) Based on the adjustments made to territorial delivery differentials during a given calendar year as outlined in items (g) through (k) of Regulation 1141.01, the CBOT shall announce and publish by September 15 of that given calendar year new territorial delivery differentials applicable to all Soybean Oil futures contracts delivered during the next calendar year. 2015 (01/01/04)

1142.01 Deliveries By Warehouse Receipts - Deliveries on Crude Soybean Oil shall be made by delivery of warehouse receipts issued by warehouses which have been designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Crude Soybean Oil warehouse receipts using the electronic fields which the Exchange and the Clearing

Services Provider require to be completed. In order to effect a valid delivery each Crude Soybean Oil warehouse receipt must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute warranty of the genuineness of the warehouse receipt and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by any endorser, of performance by the issuer of the warehouse receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid on the Crude Soybean Oil covered by the warehouse receipt, in accordance with Regulation 1156.01.2012 (12/01/03)

1143.01 Registration of Warehouse Receipts - Warehouse receipts, in order to be eligible for delivery, must be registered with the Official Registrar. Registration of warehouse receipts shall also be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Warehousemen who are regular for delivery may register warehouse receipts at any time. If the warehouseman determines not to tender the warehouse receipt by 4:00 p.m on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the warehouseman shall declare the receipt has been withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility. The holder of a registered warehouse receipt may cancel its registration at any time. A warehouse receipt which has been canceled may not be registered again.

(b) No notice of intention to deliver a warehouse receipt shall be tendered to the Clearing Services Provider unless said warehouse receipt is registered and in the possession of the clearing member tendering the notice or unless a warehouse receipt is registered and outstanding. When a notice of intention to deliver a warehouse receipt has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider, said warehouse receipt shall be considering "outstanding".

(c) From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of warehouse receipts that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

(d) When a regular warehouseman regains control of a registered warehouse receipt issued against stocks in one of his regular warehouses, which in any manner relieves him of the obligation to loadout crude soybean oil upon demand of a party other than himself, the warehouseman shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said warehouse receipt or declare that said warehouse receipt is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the regular warehouse, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said warehouse receipt for the warehouseman has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the warehouseman regained control of said warehouse receipt.

(e) The Registrar shall not divulge any information concerning the registration, delivery or cancellation of warehouse receipts other than the record posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, except that he shall issue a daily report showing the total number of registered warehouse receipts as of 4:00 p.m. on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange Floor and CBOT website, this daily report will show the names of warehousemen whose warehouse receipts are registered and the location of the warehouses involved. The report shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn. 2013 (12/01/03)

1144.01 Receipt Format - The Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider shall determine the electronic fields which are required to be completed in connection with an electronic warehouse receipt.

The electronic warehouse receipt obligates the warehouse operator, for value received and receipt of the warehouse receipt properly endorsed, and subject to a lien for payment of storage charges, to deliver the specified quantity of Crude Soybean Oil conforming to the standards of the Exchange, and to ship such Crude Soybean Oil in accordance with orders of the lawful owner of the warehouse receipt and in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. Delivery shall be by rail or truck according to the registered loading capability of the warehouse.

Delivery of the electronic receipt to the issuer by the owner of the receipt, for the purpose of shipment of Crude Soybean Oil, is conditioned upon loading of Crude Soybean oil in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, and a lien is claimed until all loadings are complete and proper shipping documents presented accompanying demand draft for freight and storage charges due which the owner of the receipt agrees to honor upon presentation. 2012 (12/01/03)

1146.01 Date of Delivery - Where Crude Soybean Oil is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such Crude Soybean Oil may be made by the Seller upon such day of the specified month as the Seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. 2017 (09/01/94)

1147.00 Delivery Notice - (See 1047.00) (09/01/94)

1147.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (09/01/94)

1148.00 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.00) (09/01/94)

1149.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (09/01/94)

1149.01 Time of Issuance of Delivery Notice (See 1049.01) (02/01/03)

1149.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - (See 1049.03) (09/01/94)

1149.04 Payment - Payment shall be made utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's Online System. Payment will be made during the 6:45 a.m. collection cycle, or such other time designated by the Exchange. Thus the cost of the delivery will be debited or credited to a clearing firm's settlement account. Buyers obligated to accept delivery must take delivery and make payment and sellers obligated to make delivery must make delivery during the 6:45 am. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of delivery, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken or made and payment made during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the next banking business day. (12/01/03)

1150.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (12/01/03)

1151.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - No office deliveries of warehouse receipts may be made by clearing members. Where a futures commission merchant has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it receives from its customers who are short. 2009 (12/01/03)

1154.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (09/01/04)

If storage rates are not paid on-time up to and including the 18/th/ calendar day preceding the delivery month of July and by the first calendar day of this delivery month, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated storage rates multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage rates are paid, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that storage is overdue, divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, and the Northern Trust Company.

The storage rates on Crude Soybean Oil shall not exceed 3/10th of one cent per day per 100 pounds. When shipper schedules tank car loading, storage shall continue through the date of surrender of a properly cancelled warehouse receipt and shall begin again on the sixth day after surrender date if loading has not been completed and continue until the oil has been loaded. When shipper schedules truck loading storage, charges shall continue through the date of loading. Regular Soybean Oil warehousemen shall maintain in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange either an office, or duly authorized representative or agent approved by the Exchange, to whom Soybean Oil Storage charges may be paid. 2033 (06/01/01)

rental, etc., shall remain the responsibility of the Seller until payment is made. Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. 2020 (09/01/94)

1156.03 Fees - Sampling: The charge for drawing Official samples shall be $5.00 for each tank car or truck on inbound shipments to a warehouse.

If sampling is ordered at a location where an Official Sampler is not regularly located, all extra costs must be paid by the party ordering the sample.

These charges shall include the cost of delivering the samples to the Official Chemists. 2028 (09/01/94)

1156.04 Loading Charges - The maximum charge for loading tank cars at delivery point shall not exceed 1/40/th/ of one cent per pound and the combined charge for unloading and loading tank cars at delivery point shall not exceed 1/10/th/ of one cent per pound including heating. The maximum charge for loading tank trucks at delivery point shall not exceed 1/25/th/ of one cent per pound. (06/01/01)

Ch11 Regularity of Warehouses

1180.01 Duties of Warehouse Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular warehouses:

(a) To accept Crude Soybean Oil for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Crude Soybean Oil is of contract grade when received at such warehouses, and all space in such warehouses is not already filled or contracted for, to pay no premium on refining loss but to receive allowance for sludge. All inbound freight (including the transit charge necessary to obtain the transit balance rate) shall be prepaid by the depositor of the oil. Upon surrender of the inbound billing to the warehouseman the depositor of the oil shall be furnished with a regular Board of Trade Warehouse Receipt endorsed thereon with the transit balance freight to New York.

(b) To notify the Exchange of any change in the condition of their warehouses.

(c) To insure soybean oil covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

Any loss or damage to oil caused by leakage or discharge from the storage facilities resulting from the cracking, rupture, bursting, collapse, subsidence or disruption of the containing system, or the negligence of the warehouse operator shall be for the account of the warehouse operator, unless such loss or damage by leakage or discharge from the storage facilities is due to causes required to be insured against under this Regulation.

(d) To furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected.

(e) To advise the holder of the warehouse receipts when oil is tendered on a futures contract. the freight rate on the oil upon request to New York, N.Y., or to any other specific destinations; and to forward the oil on the basis of these rates whenever shipping instructions are received if orders are received within three days.

(f) To register their daily load-out rate in jumbo rail tank car equivalents (minimum of 4) with the Exchange. Warehouse Operators shall limit warehouse receipts issued to an amount of soybean oil equal to the lesser of their approved regular space or 30 times the registered daily loading rate for jumbo tank cars times 185,000 pounds.

(g) To ship oil ordered out of the warehouses in Buyer's tank cars, if so arranged and to begin loading out soybean oil on or before the third business day following the date the car is ready for loading or the receipt is cancelled, whichever occurs later, at a daily rate per business day equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading jumbo rail tank cars.

All rail loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Rail loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. When loading against rail loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day, as determined hereunder, cannot be completed on the third following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loading against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro-rata basis on subsequent business days. Loading against all rail orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading of any orders scheduled for a subsequent business day.

(h) To load each tank car to its stenciled capacity upon surrender of sufficient warehouse receipts tendered on futures contracts. Any excess or deficiency from amount of warehouse receipt shall be settled at market price as of date of loading. Warehouse to make sight draft on shipper with Bill of Lading attached for any amounts due them in connection with loading oil, including premium for refining loss, unless otherwise mutually agreed.

(i) To hold tank car after loading free of expense to shipper (except for car rental) until grade is ascertained, and if grade is not of contract grade to unload car and reload oil of contract quality free of expense to shipper, and at all times to keep oil fully insured until car is released to railroad.

(j) To ship oil ordered out of the warehouse in Buyer's tank truck, if so arranged, and to load the oil at a daily rate per business day equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading for jumbo rail tank cars.

All truck loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Truck orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

When loading orders are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 4:00 p.m. the same day of loading dates and tonnage due. Notification will be by telephone, telegraph or teletype.

When a shipper has received one or more truck loading orders he shall begin loading against them not later than the third business day following their receipt. When loading against loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day cannot be completed on the third following business day shipper shall allocate daily loadings against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro rata basis on subsequent business days.

Loading against all truck orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading begins on any orders scheduled for a subsequent business day. Warehouseman will load tank trucks as promptly as possible on the day scheduled. Under no conditions will warehouseman be responsible for truck demurrage as long as it is loaded on day scheduled. Additional loadings may be arranged for by mutual agreement.

(k) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Regulation, on days when both rail cars and trucks are loaded, the warehouseman shall be required to load at a minimum daily rate equal to the equivalent of shipper's registered daily rate of loading rail tank cars.

All rail and truck loading orders received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. When loading against loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day, as determined hereunder, cannot be completed on the third following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loading against such loading orders as equitably possible on a pro-rata basis on subsequent business days. Loading against orders scheduled for a given business day shall be completed before loading of any orders for a subsequent business day.

It shall be the privilege of all regular warehouses to mingle or store together oil which is tenderable on contracts for future delivery under these Regulations, with other oil of like type and to deliver on loading orders oil of any contract type. 2031

(m) Certification of Soybean Oil - Effective September 1, 1992 and upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of soybean oil against canceled warehouse receipts, the delivery warehouseman shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the soybean oil is produced from soybeans of U.S. origin only. Warehouse receipts issued prior to September 1, 1992 will be deliverable against futures contracts beginning September 1992 only if the regular warehouseman provides certification on the warehouse receipt that the U.S. origin-only option is available to the taker of delivery of soybean oil. (01/01/04)

1180.01B Car Ready for Loading - Regulation 1180.01(f) A car is ready for loading when it has been constructively placed and when the shipper has used due diligence in preparing and placing the car on his property for loading. 30R1180.01C Transit vs. Flat Rate (09/01/94)

1180.01C Transit vs. Flat Rate Billing - If warehouseman furnishes transit billing on crude soybean oil applicable to warehouse receipts holder's destination, the warehouse receipt holder shall pay to warehouseman the difference between the transit balance rate and the flat rate. 27R (09/01/94)

1180.01D Freight Differentials - Jumbo Tank Cars - The Board of Directors at its regular meeting held on Tuesday, March 10, 1964, approved the following Ruling recommended by the Crude Soybean Oil and Soybean Meal Committee in light of the reduced rate on jumbo tank cars which became effective on February 9, 1964:

"Effective on March 1964 contracts the freight differentials in Regulations 1141.02 and 1180.02 shall be calculated on the basis of the jumbo tank car rate since it is the lowest lawful carload rate and will be applicable to warehouse receipts bearing no billing and any other warehouse receipts carrying billing that will protect the jumbo tank car rate." 36R (09/01/94)

1180.02 Transit Billing - Transit billing may be applied to shipments at warehouseman's option with warehouseman to get any advantage of such transit application; however, warehouseman must protect the lowest lawful local carload rate from point of loading stated in warehouse receipt to destination indicated in shipping instructions, and such transit billing must allow at least one additional transit beyond delivery points. 2016 (09/01/94)

1180.03 Freight Charges - A warehouseman that is not served by a Class I railroad must compensate the taker of delivery for the switching charge and/or the rail rate to the nearest Class I railroad interchange point for the movement of soybean oil beyond the interchange point by the Class I railroad, if requested by the owner of the soybean oil. The request must be in writing when loading orders and canceled warehouse receipts are presented to the warehouse. (01/01/00)

1181.01 Conditions of Regularity - Warehouses may be declared regular for the delivery of Crude Soybean Oil with the approval of the Exchange. Persons operating bulk oil warehouses who desire to have such warehouses made regular for delivery of Crude Soybean Oil under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1 of an even year, for a two year term beginning July 1 of that year, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular Soybean Oil Warehouses that desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted by the Exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Persons operating Soybean Oil Warehouses who desire to have their daily rate of loading decreased, shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease. The decrease in the daily rate of loading for the facility will become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted by the Exchange or the day after the number of outstanding receipts at the facility is equal to or less than 30 times the requested rate of loading, whichever is later. Persons operating Soybean Oil Warehouses who wish to have their regular capacity space decreased shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease and such decrease shall be effective once a notice has been posted by the Exchange. Applications for renewal of regularity must be made prior to May 1 of even years, for the respective years beginning July 1 of those years, and shall be on the same form.

The Exchange may establish such requirements and conditions for approval of regularity as it deems necessary.

The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions for regularity of Soybean Oil Warehouses:

1) The warehouse making application shall be inspected.

2) Such warehouse shall be within the limitation of an area not east of the Indiana-Ohio boundary; nor south of Louisville, KY.

3) Such warehouse shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

4) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 4E. No warehouse shall be declared regular until the person operating the same files a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

5) Such warehouse shall maintain on-site standard equipment and appliances for the receiving, handling, and shipping of Crude Soybean Oil in bulk, including equipment to issue official origin weight. Official origin weight may be obtained by using one of the following: (1) platform scale (either rail or truck); (2) tank scale; or, (3) batch scale.

6) The warehouseman shall comply with the system of registration of warehouse receipts established by the Exchange. The warehouseman shall furnish accurate information to the Exchange regarding all Crude Soybean Oil received and delivered by the warehouseman on a daily basis, and that remaining in store at the close of each week, in the form prescribed by the Exchange, with the exception of Crude Soybean Oil owned by the warehouseman.

7) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall permit the Exchange, at any time, to examine the books and records of the warehouse for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Crude Soybean Oil which may be on hand at any time. The Exchange shall have the authority to determine the quantity of Crude Soybean Oil in said warehouse and to compare the books and records of warehouse with the records of the Exchange.

8) The warehouseman operating such warehouse shall not engage in unethical or inequitable practices, and shall comply with all applicable laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

9) The warehouseman shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations and orders promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and shall comply with all requirements made by the Exchange because of such Rules and Regulations or orders.

10) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a warehouse's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

11) The operator or manager of such warehouse shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse was regular.

12) If the warehouseman leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, the warehouseman shall submit an indemnification if requested by the Exchange.

13) The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Oil futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Oil, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. 2030(01/01/04)

1181.02 Leasing and Service Arrangements - The warehouseman of a regular warehouse is not required to own the warehouse and may lease the facility from the owner. The warehouseman may also enter into a service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse. The warehouseman shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

In the event that the warehouseman is unable properly to store or load out oil for receipt holders because of another party's ownership of or control over the warehouse, the warehouseman shall, at its own expense, provide each holder of an outstanding receipt with either (a) a replacement warehouse receipt at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials or, if such replacement receipt is unavailable, (b) an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean oil designated in the warehouse receipt at a mutually acceptable location. (09/01/94)

1184.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular warehouse may be declared irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out the prescribed duties of the warehouseman. If the designation of a warehouse as regular shall be revoked a notice of such revocation and the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such house shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Crude Soybean Oil under the Rules and Regulations, shall be posted on the bulletin board.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding warehouse receipts shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt chooses not to take load-out during this period, the facility must provide him with another warehouse receipt at another, mutually acceptable regular warehouse, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such warehouse receipt is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean oil designated in the warehouse receipt at a mutually acceptable location. 2032 (09/01/94)

1185.01 Application for Declaration of Regularity - All applications by operators of warehouses for a Declaration of Regularity under Regulation 1181.01 shall be on the following form:

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other conditions specified in Regulation 1181.01 or duties specified in Regulation 1180.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Warehouseman must:

(1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

(2) submit to the Exchange a tariff listing in detail the maximum rates for the handling and storage of Crude Soybean Oil; submit promptly to the Exchange all changes in such tariff; and publish and display such tariff.

The maximum charges for loading tank cars and trucks at delivery points shall not exceed the loading charges defined in Rule 1156.04. The maximum storage charges on Crude Soybean Oil shall not exceed the storage charges defined in Regulation 1156.01.

(3) remove no CBOT registered Crude Soybean Oil from the warehouse unless the receipts have been previously cancelled by the Registrar's Office.

(4) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the warehouse.

(5) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitation as the Exchange or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) may require; and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

(6) insure against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

(7) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/ every even year.

(8) if the Warehouseman leases the warehouse or has entered into some form of service agreement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the warehouse, Warehouseman remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

(9) notify the Exchange in writing immediately of any change in the maximum 24 hour crushing capacity of soybeans for a soybean processing plant attached to this warehouse.

2. The Warehouse must be:

(1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

(2) connected to a railroad. (See Regulation 1180.03)

(3) equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious handling of Crude Soybean Oil in bulk.

3. The Warehouse and Warehouseman must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility, and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

Agreements of Warehouseman

The Warehouseman expressly agrees:

(1) that all Crude Soybean Oil tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be weighed by an Official Weigher as outlined in Regulation 1139.01 of the Exchange.

(2) that all Crude Soybean Oil tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will, when shipped from Warehouse, be sampled by an Official Sampler, which has been approved by the Exchange, and tested in accordance with Regulation 1140.01 of the Exchange.

(3) that all warehouse receipts to be tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(4) to abide by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the warehousing of Crude Soybean Oil deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1180.01.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Warehouseman's declaration of regularity if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the warehouseman's behalf in matters pertaining to Warehouse Receipts.

(8) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6 and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Warehouseman or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(9) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Warehouseman was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1181.01(13), the Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1181.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Oil futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Oil, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

Ch12 Delivery Procedures

1236.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these Regulations shall be Soybean Meal in bulk which conforms to the following specifications:

48% Protein Soybean Meal, produced by conditioning ground soybeans and reducing the oil content of the conditioned product by the use of hexane or homologous hydrocarbon solvents. Standard specifications are:

Protein	minimum 48.0%
Fat	minimum 0.5%
Fiber	maximum 3.5%
Moisture (when shipped by Processor)	maximum 12.0%

It may contain a non-nutritive inert, non-toxic conditioning agent to reduce caking and improve flowability. In an amount not to exceed that necessary to accomplish its intended effect, but in no case exceed 0.5%. The name of the conditioning agent must be shown as an added ingredient.

Testing methods shall be those approved by the Association of Official Analytical Chemists and American Oil Chemists Society. 2053 (09/01/94)

1236.02 United States Origin Only - Effective September 1, 1992, a futures contract for the sale of soybean meal shall be performed on the basis of United States origin only upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted. (09/01/94)

1237.01 Official Chemists - An official Chemist shall be any chemist who is currently designated as an Official Referee Chemist for Meal by the National Soybean Processors Association. Certificates of quality analysis by an Official Chemist shall be binding on all parties. (09/01/94)

1238.01 Sampling - The official sample will be taken at origin by Automatic Mechanical Sampler (A.O.C.S. Official Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966) or Pneumatic Probe Sampler (A.O.C.S. Official Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966). Shipper shall, on the next business day after loading, mail a portion of the official sample in an air tight container properly identified to the owner at an address specified by the owner when he submits loading orders.

Any shipment testing 12.5% moisture or less based on official sample shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of moisture content. Penalty for excess moisture:

Excess moisture two times delivered market price on date of shipment for excess moisture from 12% to 13% and 21-2 times delivered market price on date of shipment for excess moisture above 13%.

Any shipment testing no more than 0.3% of fiber above the fiber specification (based on official sample adjusted to 12% moisture) shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of fiber content. When the amount of fiber exceeds 3.8% (based on official sample adjusted to 12% moisture), the shipment shall be discounted 1.0% of the delivered market price on date of shipment for each 0.1% fiber in excess of 3.5%.

Any shipment of soybean meal testing within 0.5% of protein below 48% protein (basis official sample moisture 12.0% or less; protein to be calculated on 12.0% moisture basis if official sample moisture exceeds 12.0%) shall not be subject to rejection or penalty on account of protein content. Protein deficiency claims shall be settled between the parties on the basis of two times the delivered market price per unit of protein on date of shipment and shall be calculated on the same moisture basis as for protein rejection.

If the owner's analysis of the official sample indicates quality deficiency, the owner shall submit his analysis and claim in writing to the shipper within 30 days after arrival of car. The shipper shall, within five (5) business days, after receipt of the owner's analysis and claim, report his analysis of the official sample to the owner. In the event that the owner and the shipper do not reach agreement on analysis and/or settlement, the third portion of the official sample shall be sent to an Official Chemist and his analysis will be binding upon both parties for final settlement. The expense of the analysis will be borne by the party in error.

If the owner and the shipper cannot agree that the official sample is representative of the shipment, a representative sample shall be obtained at destination by a disinterested qualified person mutually agreed upon by the owner and shipper. Such destination sample must be obtained within 24 hours of arrival and prior to unloading. "Constructive placement" shall be considered arrival at destination. The official procedure for sampling at destination shall be the Pneumatic Probe Sampler. (A.O.C.S. Method BA 1-38, Rev. 1966) and the sample shall be submitted to an official chemist. The results of his analysis of the destination sample shall be binding on both parties for final settlement. The expense of such sampling and analysis, shall be borne by the owner if the owner insists on destination sampling and analysis unless the shipper has failed to take an official sample at origin, in which event, the expense of taking and analyzing the destination sample shall be borne by the shipper. (09/01/94)

1239.01 Weighing - Weighing and official weights, as defined in the National Soybean Processors Association Trading Rules for the Purchase and Sale of Soybean Meal, shall be binding on all interested parties. (09/01/94)

1241.01 Shipping Plants - Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall specify shipment from one of the plants currently regular for delivery and located in Central Territory, Northeast Territory, Mid South Territory, Missouri Territory, Eastern lowa Territory, or Northern Territory as defined in this Regulation.

The Exchange may declare additional shipping plants regular for delivery which shall apply on all contracts outstanding or made thereafter.

SHIPPING PLANTS

(a) All loadings of soybean meal against Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall be in bulk free on board railroad cars at shipping plants.

(b) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Central Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Illinois and Kentucky) will be at contract price.

(c) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Northeast Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Indiana and Ohio) will be at a premium of $2.00 per ton over contract price.

(d) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Mid South Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in all of Tennessee and Arkansas and that part of Mississippi and Alabama north of a line extending eastward from the Arkansas and Louisiana border) will be at a premium of $7.00 per ton over contract price.

(e) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Missouri Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in Missouri) will be at a premium of $1.50 per ton over contract price.

(f) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Eastern lowa Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in lowa on and South of the main line of the Illinois Central Gulf RR from Dubuque, lowa to lowa Falls, lowa; and on and East of the main line of the Chicago Rock Island RR from lowa Falls to the Chicago & Northwestern RR from Des Moines through Blockton, lowa) will be made at a discount of $4.00 per ton under contract price.

(g) Payment for Shipping Certificates issued in "Northern Territory" (viz.: shipping plants located in that portion of lowa not included in "Eastern lowa Territory") will be at a discount of $3.00 per ton under contract price.

(h) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31 and a given Soybean Meal futures delivery territory except the "Central Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within that Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from that territory will be at a premium of $.50 per ton over contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustment.

(i) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, when the "Central Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to maximum

CBOT 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within the Central Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is less than or equal to 0.5, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from all other territories will be at a discount of $.50 per ton under contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustments.

(j) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31 and a given Soybean Meal futures delivery territory except the "Central Territory," when the weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within that Soybean Meal futures delivery territory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from that territory will be at a discount of $.50 per ton under contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustment.

(k) For a given soybean crop year ending August 31, when the "Central Territory's" weekly (as of Friday) cumulative average ratio of outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates to CBOT maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity within the Central Soybean Meal futures delivery terriory, relative to that ratio for the combined remaining Soybean Meal territories, is greater than or equal to 2.0, payment for Shipping Certificates issued from all other territories will be at a premium of $.50 per ton over contract price in addition to the territorial delivery differential adjustments.

(l) Items (h) through (k) of Regulation 1241.01 shall apply to all CBOT Soybean Meal futures contracts delivered during a one calendar year period beginning with January following the soybean crop year ending August 31, provided that there are on a weekly average at least 150 CBOT outstanding Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates in all Soybean Meal delivery territories combined during that previous soybean crop year.

(m) Based on the adjustments made to territorial delivery differentials during a given calendar year as outlined in items (h) through (I) of Regulation 1241.01, the CBOT shall announce and publish by September 15 of that given calendar year new territorial delivery differentials applicable to all Soybean Meal futures contracts delivered during the next calendar year. (01/01/04)

1242.01 Deliveries by Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates - Deliveries of Soybean Meal shall be made by delivery of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates issued by Shippers designated by the Exchange as regular to issue Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates using the electronic field which the Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider require to be completed. In order to effect a valid delivery each Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate must be endorsed by the holder making the delivery, and transfer as specified above constitutes endorsement. Such endorsement shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the Certificate and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guaranty, by any endorser, of performance by the issuer of the Certificate. Such endorsement also shall constitute a representation that all premium charges have been paid on the Soybean Meal covered by the Certificate, in accordance with Regulation 1256.01.2067 (12/01/03)

1243.01 Registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates - Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates in order to be eligible for delivery must be registered with the Official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. Registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall also be subject to the following requirements:

(a) Shippers who are regular for delivery may register certificates at any time. If the shipper determines not to tender the shipping certificate by 4:00 p.m. on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the shipper shall declare the certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant. The holder of a registered certificate may cancel its registration at any time. A certificate which has been cancelled may not be registered again.

(b) No notice of intention to deliver a certificate shall be tendered to the Clearing Services Provider unless said certificate is registered and in the possession of the clearing member tendering the notice or unless a shipping certificate is registered and outstanding. When a notice of intention to deliver a certificate has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider, said certificate shall be considered to be "outstanding" until its registration is cancelled.

(c) From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of certificates that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any shipping certificates that have been declared withdrawn.

(d) When a registered shipper regains control of a registered certificate calling for shipment from one of his plants, which is any manner relieves him of the obligation of ship meal upon demand of a party other than himself, the shipper shall, by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said certificate or declare that said certificate is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the certificate number and the name and location of the shipping plant, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said certificate for the shipper has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the shipper regained control of said certificate.

(e) The Registrar shall not divulge any information concerning the registration, delivery or cancellation of certificates other than the record posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, except that he shall issue a daily report showing the total number of registered certificates as of 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website, this daily report will show the names of shippers whose certificates are registered and the location of the shipping plants involved. This report shall not include any shipping certificates which have been declared withdrawn. 2069 (12/01/03)

1244.01 Certificate Format - The Exchange and the Clearing Services Provider shall determine the electronic fields which are required to be completed in connection with an electronic shipping certificate.

The electronic shipping certificate obligates the shipper, for value received and receipt of the certificate properly endorsed, and subject to a lien for payment of premium charges, to deliver the specified quantity of Soybean Meal conforming to the standards of the Exchange, and to ship such Soybean Meal in accordance with orders of the lawful owner of the certificate and in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. Delivery shall be by rail or truck according to the registered loading capability of the shipper.

Delivery of the electronic shipping certificate to the issuer by the owner of the certificate, for the purpose of shipment of Soybean Meal, is conditioned upon loading of Soybean Meal in accordance with the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange, and a lien is claimed until all loadings are complete and proper shipping documents presented accompanying demand draft for freight and premium charges due which the owner of the certificate agrees to honor upon presentation. (12/01/03)

1246.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates may be made by the Seller upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month but no later than the second business day following the last day of trading in a delivery month. 2072 (09/01/94)

1247.00 Delivery Notice - (See 1047.00) (09/01/94)

1247.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (09/01/94)

1248.00 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.00) (09/01/94)

1249.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (09/01/94)

1249.01 Time of Issuance of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.c (02/01/03)

1249.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (09/01/94)

1249.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - (See 1049.03) (09/01/94)

1249.04 Payment - Payment shall be made utilizing the electronic delivery system via the Clearing Services Provider's Online System. Payment will be made during the 6:45 a.m. collection cycle, or such other time designated by the Exchange. Thus the cost of the delivery will be debited or credited to a clearing firm's settlement account. Buyers obligated to accept delivery must take delivery and make payment and sellers obligated to make delivery must make delivery during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of delivery, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken or made and payment made during the 6:45 a.m. settlement process, or such other time designated by the Exchange, on the next banking business day. (12/01/03)

1250.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (12/01/03)

1251.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - No office deliveries of soybean meal shipping certificates may be made by clearing members. Where a futures commission merchant has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it receives from its customers who are short. 2064 (12/01/03)

1254.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (09/01/94)

If premium charges are not paid on-time up to and including the 18/th/ calendar day preceding the delivery months of March and September and by the first calendar day of each of these delivery months, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated premium charges multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage rates are paid, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that premium is overdue, divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank, and the Northern Trust Company.

The premium charges on Soyabean Meal for delivery shall not exceed 7 cents per ton per day. 2068 (06/01/01)

1256.03 Payment of Fees - All outloading fees, including weighing, to load Soybean Meal into railroad car, are to be paid by issuer of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate. 2075 (09/01/94)

Ch12 Regularity of Issuers of Shipping Certificates
1290.01 Loading and Shipment of Meal Against Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates -

(a) The operator of a shipping plant issuing Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates shall limit the number of Shipping Certificates issued to an amount not in excess of 15 times its registered total daily rate of loading plus the amount of meal or flakes in store (not limited to meal meeting minimum contract standards). All such meal or flakes in store must be stored in facilities for which the capacity has been registered with the Board of Trade and which have been inspected by the Registrar. The shipper shall register his total daily rate of loading covered hopper cars at not less than 40% nor more than 100% of his maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity. Each plant must be regular for a minimum total daily rate of loading of 200 tons per day.

(b) Each regular plant must also register a daily rate of loading for truck. The daily rate of loading for truck must be registered at not less than 40% of the registered total daily rate of loading for the plant.

(c) Each regular plant shall be required to load-out soybean meal against cancelled Shipping Certificates at a daily rate equivalent to the greater of either its registered total daily rate of loading, or 1/21st of the total amount of soybean meal represented by Shipping Certificates issued by the plant but not yet loaded.

(d) Each regular plant shall be required to load covered hopper cars against Shipping Certificates at a rate not greater than that established in paragraph (c), and trucks at a rate not greater than that determined by multiplying the rate established in paragraph (c) by the share of the registered total daily rate of loading registered by the plant as its daily rate of loading for truck. However, on days when rail and truck loading against Shipping Certificates takes place concurrently, the required daily rate of loading into each conveyance shall be determined by prorating the rate established in paragraph (c).

(e) The shipper shall assess a premium charge of 7 cents per ton per calendar day for each day a Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate is outstanding starting the day after the date of registration by the Registrar. When rail loading orders specify shipment within four business days the premium charge shall continue through the business day following the receipt of loading orders. Otherwise, the premium charge shall continue through the day of rail loading. "Business days" are those on which the Exchange is open for trading Soybean Meal. In the case of shipment by truck, the premium charge shall continue through the day of loading.

(f) The shipper shall maintain, in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange, either an office, or a duly authorized representative or agent approved by the Exchange, where owners of Shipping Certificates may pay premium charges, surrender properly endorsed Shipping Certificates for cancellation and file loading orders and shipping instructions.

(g) Rail Loading Procedures

(1) The owner requesting rail load-out will furnish written rail loading orders and shipping instructions to the shipper by the close of business on the first business day following the date of cancellation of the Shipping Certificates in the Registrar's office. The loading orders shall specify if rail equipment will be the owner's (including leased cars) or shall specify the owner's election as to the type and size of covered hopper car to be ordered by the shipper. The shipper will load covered hopper cars with a capacity of 75 tons or larger. Loadings will be in bulk, and shipments will be subject to the existing freight tariff Rules and Regulations of the railroads on file with the Interstate Commerce Commission at the time of loading. The shipper is responsible for loading suitable railroad owned or leased cars or owner's cars (including leased cars) which are available for loading at the facility. Owner and shipper will cooperate to ensure timely placement and loading of rail equipment or alternate shipping modes.

(2) All loading orders and shipping instructions received prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day. Loading against all rail loading orders dated on a given business day shall be completed before loading begins on any rail loading orders dated on a subsequent business day subject to the provisions of subparagraph 4 of this paragraph.

(3) When rail loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of loading dates and tonnage due. Notification will be by telephone, telex or telefax.

(4) When a shipper has received one or more rail loading orders and shipping instructions, he shall begin loading against them within 4 business days following their receipt, unless the owner requests a deferred loading date in his loading orders. When loadings against rail loading orders cannot be completed on the fourth following business day of their receipt, the shipper shall continue loading against such loading orders on each calendar day thereafter. Shipping instructions are to be provided to the Shipper by the owner 2 business days before loading is to begin. The shipper shall load at the rate specified in paragraph (d) of this Regulation.

(5) When loading against rail loading orders and shipping instructions received by a shipper prior to 2:00 p.m. on a given business day cannot be completed by the fourth following business day, the shipper shall allocate daily loadings against such loading orders as equitably as possible on a pro-rata basis. Starting of loading against small orders may be delayed until the first day when pro-ration entitles such an order to an allocation of a full car, but in such a case loading of the last car against the order shall be accelerated by the same number of days as loading of the first car was delayed.

(6) The shipper shall load cars at the shipping plant designated in the Shipping Certificate. If it becomes impossible to load at the designated shipping plant because of an Act of God, fire, flood, wind, explosion, war, embargo, civil commotion, sabotage, law, act of government, labor difficulties or unavoidable mechanical breakdown, the shipper will arrange for covered hopper cars to be loaded at another regular shipping plant in conformance with the Shipping Certificate and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping plant. If the aforementioned condition of impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping plants, then shipment may be delayed for the number of days that such impossibility prevails at a majority of regular shipping plants.

(7) Rail loading orders involving one or more Shipping Certificates shall be considered as one lot. The minimum amount shipped against each loading order shall be the number of Shipping Certificates specified therein times 100 tons. A tolerance of 5 tons over the total may be shipped to be settled at the market price at the time of shipment of the last car of the order.

(8) Rail cars must be loaded to "full visible capacity" unless tonnage on cancelled shipping certificates does not cover rail car capacity.

(9) The owner will be responsible for whatever demurrage costs that are involved in loading multiple car or trainload shipments. All demurrage charges must be substantiated with a citation of car numbers loaded against cancelled Shipping Certificates either by proper notations on the shipper's average demurrage agreement with the carrier or actual demurrage bills rendered against cars shipped. 2078

(h) Truck Loading Procedures

(1) The owner requesting truck load-out shall furnish written loading orders and shipping instructions to the shipper by the close of business on the first business day following the date of cancellation of Shipping Certificates in the Registrar's Office. The owner shall supply the trucks. Open-top trucks with a minimum capacity of 20 tons must be provided. No vans or trucks with porthole loading shall be acceptable. Owner and shipper shall cooperate to ensure timely placement and loading of truck equipment.

(2) All truck loading orders and shipping instructions received prior to 2:00 p.m on any given business day shall be considered dated that day and shall be entitled to equal treatment. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

(3) When truck loading orders and shipping instructions are received by 2:00 p.m. on any given business day, the shipper will advise the owner of loading dates and tonnage due by 10:00 a.m. the next business day. Notification will be by telephone, telex or telefax.

(4) The shipper shall begin loading against truck loading orders and shipping instructions on the fourth business day after their receipt. The shipper shall load at the rate specified in paragraph (d) of this Regulation.

(5) Truck loading shall occur during normal truck loading hours, as declared in the plant's application for regularity, and on normal business days. "Normal business days" shall be those on which the Exchange is open for trading Soybean Meal futures.

(6) A premium of $3.50/ton shall be applied to all shipments of meal loaded out by truck and shall be payable when shipping orders are filed.

(7) The owner shall present his trucks for loading at the shipping plant designated in the Shipping Certificate by 12:00 noon on the scheduled loading day. If trucks arrive by 12:00 noon, the shipper shall load the same day or be subject to the penalties and procedures specified in subparagraphs (10) and (11) of this paragraph (Truck Loading Procedures). If trucks arrive after 12:00 noon, the shipper shall be under no obligation to load and the owner shall be subject to the penalties and procedures specified in subparagraphs (8) and (9) of this paragraph.

(8) If the owner fails to present his trucks on time on the scheduled loading day, he shall be subject to a grace period until 12:00 noon the next business day and shall not be liable for a penalty up to that time. If the owner fails to present his trucks by 12:00 noon of the business day following the scheduled loading day, he shall be liable for a penalty of $4/ton/day for all meal not loaded out as scheduled.

(9) If, for any reason, the owner is unable to present his trucks for three consecutive normal business days, beginning with the originally scheduled loading day, the shipper may at his election:

i) Load the meal into rail cars for the owner and inform him of rail car numbers, or

ii) Reissue a Shipping Certificate to the owner. If a Shipping Certificate is reissued, the premium charge specified in paragraph (e) of this Regulation shall be assessed retroactively, beginning the day after the business day following the receipt of loading orders.

In these cases the owner is liable for the penalty specified in subparagraph (8) of this paragraph, if any, for two business days. The truck loading premium specified in subparagraph (6) of this paragraph shall be credited against any penalties due or refunded in full if there are no penalties due. If shipper elects either of these options he must promptly notify the owner.

(10) If the shipper fails to load the owner's trucks by 12:00 midnight on the scheduled loading day he shall be subject to a grace period until the next business day and shall not be subject to a penalty up to that time. If the shipper fails to load the owner's truck by 12:00 midnight of the business day following the scheduled loading day, he shall be liable for a penalty of $4/ton/day for all meal not loaded out as scheduled.

(11) If, for any reason, the shipper is unable to load the owner's trucks for three consecutive normal business days, beginning with the originally scheduled loading day, the shipper shall, with the owner's consent, make the meal available for truck load-out on the third day at another regular plant, in conformance with the Shipping Certificate, and will compensate the owner for any transportation loss resulting from the change in the location of the shipping plant.

(12) A tolerance of five tons over the total truck shipment may be loaded and settled at the market price at the time the last truck is loaded.

(i) Change of Election for Mode of Load-Out Due to Unavailability of Rail Cars

The owner may elect to amend rail loading orders to load-out by truck in the event of rail car unavailability. Rail loading orders amended in this manner shall be entitled to equal treatment. A premium of $3.50/ton shall be applied to all shipments of meal loaded-out by truck and shall be payable on the day loading orders were amended to specify the owner's election for load-out by truck.

(j) Certification of Soybean Meal - Effective September 1, 1992 and upon written request by a taker of delivery at the time loading orders are submitted for the delivery of soybean meal against canceled shipping certificates, the shipper shall certify in writing to the taker of delivery on the day that the transportation conveyance is loaded that the soybean meal is produced from soybeans of U.S. origin only. Shipping certificates issued prior to September 1, 1992 will be deliverable against futures contracts beginning September 1992 only if the regular shipper provides certification on the shipping certificate that the U.S. origin-only option is available to the taker of delivery of soybean meal. (05/01/95)

1291.01 Conditions of Regularity - Shipping Plants may be declared regular for the delivery of soybean meal with the approval of the Exchange. Persons operating Soybean Meal shipping plants who desire to have such plants made regular for delivery of Soybean Meal under the Rules and Regulations shall make application for an initial Declaration of Regularity on a form prescribed by the Exchange prior to May 1 of an even year, for a two year term beginning the following July 1, and at any time during a current term for the balance of that term. Regular Soybean Meal shipping plants that desire to increase their regular capacity during a current term shall make application for the desired amount of total regular capacity on the same form. Initial regularity for the current term and increases in regularity shall be effective either thirty days after a notice that a bona fide application has been received is posted by the Exchange, or the day after the application is approved by the Exchange, whichever is later. Persons operating soybean meal shipping plants who desire to have their daily rate of loading decreased, shall file with the Exchange a written request for such decrease. The decrease in the daily rate of loading for the facility will become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted by the Exchange or the day after the number of outstanding certificates at the facility is equal to or less than 15 times the requested rate of loading plus the amount of meal or flakes in store, whichever is later. Persons operating soybean meal shipping plants who wish to have their regular capacity space decreased shall file with Exchange a written request for such decrease and such decrease shall be effective once a notice has been posted. Applications for renewal of regularity must be made prior to May 1 by the Exchange of even years, for the respective years beginning July 1 of those years, and shall be on the same form.

The Exchange may establish such requirements and conditions for approval of regularity as it deems necessary.

The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions of regularity for soybean meal shipping plants:

1. The plant of the shipper making application shall be inspected by the Exchange.

2. Such shipping plant shall be connected by railroad tracks with one or more railway lines.

3. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 4E. No shipping plant shall be declared regular until the person operating the same files a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

4. Such shipping plant shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious shipping of Soybean Meal in bulk in the conveyances for which the plant is registered with the Exchange according to Regulation 1290.01 (a) and (b).

5. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall comply with the system of registration of Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates for Soybean Meal to be shipped in satisfaction of deliveries on futures contracts.

6. No shipper shall engage in any unethical or inequitable practice or fail to comply with any law, Federal or State, or any rule or regulation promulgated thereunder.

7. The shipper shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such processing plant visitations as the Secretary of Agriculture may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations and orders promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, and shall comply with all requirements made by the Exchange because of such Rules and Regulations or orders.

8. The plant must not have been continuously out of operation for the two consecutive years prior to application for regularity or renewal thereof.

9. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of the facility and the stocks of soybean meal which may be on hand at any time. Such examination may be made at any time.

10. Soybean Meal inventory which is covered by shipping certificates tendered for delivery shall be insured against the contingencies provided for in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake) to such an extent and in such amounts as required by the Exchange. The shipper shall furnish the Exchange with either a copy of the current insurance policy or policies, or a written confirmation from the insurance company that such insurance has been effected.

11. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to arbitration procedures, as set forth in Chapter 6, and, with respect to compliance with Rules and Regulations pertaining to a shipping plant's regularity, shall be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations pertaining to disciplinary procedures, as set forth in Chapter 5.

12. The operator or manager of such shipping plant shall consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after such regularity lapses, for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the shipping plant was regular.

13. The Exchange may determine not to approve shipping plants for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular shipping plants, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such shipping plants meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether shipping certificates issued by such shipping plants, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Meal futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Meal, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supple. 2077 (01/01/04)

1294.01 Revocation, Expiration or Withdrawal of Regularity - Any regular shipper may be declared irregular at any time if he fails to carry out the duties of delivery by Soybean Meal Shipping Certificate as prescribed by these Regulations or violate any conditions of regularity. If designation of a shipper as regular shall be revoked, the Exchange shall announce such revocation on the bulletin board of the Exchange and also the period of time, if any, during which the Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates issued by such shipper shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Soybean Meal under the Rules and Regulations.

In the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, or in the event of sale or abandonment of the properties where regularity is not reissued, holders of outstanding shipping certificates shall be given thirty days to take load-out of the commodity from the facility. If a holder of an outstanding shipping certificate chooses not to take load-out during this period, the facility must provide him with another shipping certificate at another, mutually acceptable regular shipping plant, with adjustments for differences in contract differentials. Alternatively, if such shipping certificate is unavailable, the facility must provide the holder with an equivalent quantity and quality of the soybean meal designated in the shipping certificate at a mutually acceptable location. 2079 (09/01/94) and will have_____tons as its registered total daily rate of loading (not less than 40% nor more than 100% of Shipper's maximum 24 hour soybean meal production capacity and a minimum of 200 tons per day). The daily rate of loading for trucks shall be at least_____% (minimum 40%) of the Shipper's registered total daily rate of loading.

* Please include a copy of the lease or service agreement with application.

Conditions of Regularity

A declaration of regularity, if granted, may be revoked by the Exchange whenever the following conditions, or any other conditions specified in Regulation 1291.01 or duties specified in Regulation 1290.01, or any other relevant Rules and Regulations are not observed:

1. The Shipper must:

    (1) submit bonds or letters of credit to the Exchange as it may require.

    (2) not charge premium charges on Soybean Meal under obligation for shipment in excess of the premium charges defined in Regulation 1256.01.

    (3) notify the Exchange immediately of any change in its capital ownership, or any reduction in net worth of 20 percent or more from the level reported in the last financial statement filed with the Exchange, or of any change in the physical condition of the shipping plant.

    (4) make such reports, keep such records, and permit such shipping plant visitation as the Exchange or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may require and comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations of the Exchange and the CFTC.

    (5) insure against the contingencies provided in a standard "All Risks" policy (including earthquake), in such amounts as required by the Exchange.

    (6) submit an application for renewal of a declaration of regularity in writing on or before May 1/st/ every even year.

    (7) if the Shipper leases the shipping plant or has entered into some form of service arrangement pursuant to which an agent or contractor performs the daily operations of the shipping plant, the Shipper remains responsible for compliance with all duties and conditions of regularity and shall be responsible for the conduct of its agents or contractors.

    (8) notify the Exchange in writing immediately of any change in the maximum 24 hour crushing capacity of soybeans at the Soybean Meal shipping plant.

2. The Shipping Plant must be:

    (1) subject to the prescribed examination and approval of the Exchange.

    (2) connected by railroad tracks to one or more railway lines.

    (3) equipped with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious shipping of Soybean Meal in bulk.

3. The Shipping Plant and the Shipper must conform to the requirements of the Exchange as to location, accessibility and suitability as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

Agreements of the Shipper

The Shipper expressly agrees:

(1) that all Soybean Meal tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be weighed by an Official Weigher as outlined in Regulation 1239.01.

(2) that all Soybean Meal Shipping Certificates tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts will be registered with the Registrar of the Exchange.

(3) to abide by all of the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange relating to the shipping of Soybean Meal deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts and the delivery thereof, including the duties set forth in Regulation 1290.01.

(4) to designate a clearing agent in Chicago authorized to act upon the Shipper's behalf in matters pertaining to Shipping Certificates.

(5) that the Exchange may revoke the Shipper's declaration of regularity, if granted, for any breach of these agreements.

(6) that the signing of this application constitutes a representation that the conditions of regularity are complied with and will be observed during the life of the declaration of regularity, and, if found to be untrue, the Exchange shall have the right to revoke the declaration of regularity immediately.

(7) to be subject to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations, the disciplinary procedures set forth in Chapter 5, and the arbitration procedures set forth in Chapter 6, and to abide by and comply with the terms of any disciplinary decision imposed upon the Shipper or any arbitration award issued against it pursuant to the Exchange's Rules and Regulations.

(8) to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five years after regularity lapses for conduct which occurred while the Shipper was regular.

Please be advised that, pursuant to Regulation 1291.01(13), the Exchange may determine not to approve shipping plants for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular shipping plants, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such shipping plants meet the conditions of regularity specified in Regulation 1291.01. Some factors the Exchange may, but is not required to consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether shipping certificates issued by such shipping plants, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Soybean Meal futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Soybean Meal, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply.

1296.01 Regular Shippers - (See Appendix 12A) (09/01/94)

Chapter 13
Oats Futures Options

Chapter 13
Oats Futures Options

Ch13 Trading Conditions

1301.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00.) (09/01/94)

1301.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Oats futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Oats futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/94)

1302.01 Nature of Oats Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Oats futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 1307.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Oats futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (09/01/94)

1302.02 Nature of Oats Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Oats futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 1307.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Oats futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (09/01/94)

1303.01 Trading Unit - One (1) Oats futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade 09/01/94)

1304.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of five (5) cents per Oat futures contract (i.e., 2.50, 2.55, 2.60, etc.) in integral multiples of ten (10) cents per bushel per Oat futures contract (i.e., 2.50, 2.60, 2.70, etc.) and in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per bushel per Oat futures contract (i.e., 2.80, 3.00, 3.20, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of ten cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Oat futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of ten cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that all strikes within 55 cents of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. a. In integral multiples of five cents, at the commencement of trading for options that are traded in months in which Oat futures are not traded, and for standard option months, the business day they become the second deferred month, the following strike prices shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Oat futures contract and the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes. For example, five-cent strike price intervals for the September 2001 contract would be added on June 25, which is the business day after the expiration of the July contract month.

   b. Over time, new five-cent strike prices will be added to ensure that at least five strike prices exist above and below the precious day's trading range in the underlying futures.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

1305.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

1306.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Oats futures options shall be in multiples of one-eighth (1-8) of one cent per bushel of a 5,000 bushel Oats futures contract which shall equal $6.25 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $6.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (09/01/94)

1307.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of an Oats futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

(12/01/03)

1307.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 1307.01 after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading.

(12/01/03)

1307.03 Correction to Option Exercises Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s),or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

1308.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Oats futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

1309.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Oats futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Board or a Committee authorized by the Board may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Oats futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

1310.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Oats futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Oats futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph in Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Oats futures options shall be closed with a public call, made strike price by strike price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. Oats futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

Ch13 Trading Conditions

1311.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

1312.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (09/01/94)

1313.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Oats futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Oats futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

1314.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in an Oats futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Oats futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

Chapter 14
CBOT 5,000 oz. Silver Futures

Chapter 14
CBOT 5,000 oz. Silver Futures

CH14 TRADING CONDITIONS

1401.01 Authority - Trading of Silver futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1402.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Silver futures shall be subject to the general rules and regulations of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the rules and regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 5,000 oz. Silver futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1403.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for Silver shall be five thousand troy ounces. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of five thousand troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

1404.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Silver for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

1405.01 Price Basis - All prices of Silver shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of 10/100 of one cent per troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

1406.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Silver futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:25 p.m. (10/01/04)

1407.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Silver futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1408.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1408.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1407.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

1409.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (10/01/04)

1410.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1411.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/04)

1436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be refined Silver in a bar cast in a basic weight of either 1,000 troy ounces or 1,100 troy ounces (each bar may vary no more than 6% more or less); assaying not less than 999 fineness; and made up of one of the brands and markings officially listed by the Exchange as provided in Regulation 1440.01, current at the date of delivery of such silver. (10/01/04)

1440.01 Brands and Markings of Silver - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of silver bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1440.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Silver Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any silver bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 999 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a silver fineness of not less than 999, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/04)

1440.03 Approved Brands - (See Appendix 14A) (10/01/04)

1440.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all silver must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If silver, is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any silver bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

1440.05 Refiners, Vaults, and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults, and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1440.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of silver and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for silver may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/04)

1441.01 Delivery Points - Silver located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1442.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation 1436.01 and Appendix 14A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on silver futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of silver. Silver in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, each vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery. By the tender of a vault receipt for silver duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the silver shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the silver, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the silver must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the silver. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior silver in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

1443.01 Deposit of Silver with Vaults - Silver in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/04)

1443.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the silver has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number.

Where a clearing member of the Exchange delivers silver in bars on an Exchange contract, but did not order such silver into a regular vault, the clearing member shall, for the purposes of Regulation 1442.01, be deemed the original endorser of the vault receipt, and shall warrant to his transferee and each subsequent transferee that such silver was delivered to the regular vault under the terms of Regulation 1442.01. (10/01/04)

1446.01 Date of Delivery - Where Silver is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such silver may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1448.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/04)

1449.01 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (10/01/04)

1449.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/04)

1449.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

1449.04 Payment - Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

1450.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/04)

1450.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (10/01/04)

1454.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (10/01/04)

1454.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (10/01/04)

1456.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/04)

CH14 REGULARITY OF VAULTS

1480.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Silver for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Silver is ordered into the vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Silver in storage in balance with Silver represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1481.01 Conditions of Regularity - Silver may be delivered against a Silver contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of silver, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Silver and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Silver received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Silver. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Silver in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Silver futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Silver, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

1484.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Silver under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation or expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

Chapter m14
mini-sized Silver Futures

Chapter m14
mini-sized Silver Futures

Chm14 Trading Conditions

m1401.00 Authority - Trading of mini-sized Silver futures as may be prescribed by Regulation. (09/01/03)

m1402.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in mini-sized Silver futures shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in mini-sized Silver futures contracts. (06/01/04)

m1404.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for mini-sized Silver shall be one thousand troy ounces. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of one thousand troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

m1405.01 Months Traded In - Trading in mini-sized Silver for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

m1406.01 Price Basis - All prices of mini-sized Silver shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of 10/100 of one cent per troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04) m1407.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in mini-sized Silver futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:25 p.m. (10/01/04)

m1409.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in mini-sized Silver futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation m1409.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

m1409.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation m1409.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

m1410.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (06/01/04)

m1411.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/01)

m1412.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01)(10/01/01)

m1436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be refined Silver in a bar cast in a basic weight of either 1,000 troy ounces or 1,100 troy ounces (each bar may vary no more than 10% more or less); assaying not less than 999 fineness; and made up of one of the brands and markings officially listed by the Exchange as provided in Regulation m1440.01, current at the date of delivery of such silver. (10/01/01)

m1440.01 Brands and Markings of Silver - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of silver bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/01)

m1440.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Silver Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any silver bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 999 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a silver fineness of not less than 999, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/01)

m1440.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all silver must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If silver is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any silver bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

m1440.05 Refiners, Vaults and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

m1440.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of silver and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for silver may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/01)

m1441.01 Delivery Points - Silver located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/01)

m1442.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation m1436.01 and Appendix m14A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on mini-sized silver futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of silver.

Chm14 Delivery Procedures

Silver in bars must come to the regular vaults directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, eact vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery.

By the tender of a vault receipt for silver duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the silver shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the silver, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the silver must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the silver. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior silver in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

m1443.01 Deposit of Silver with Vaults - Silver in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/01)

m1443.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the silver has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number.

Where a clearing member of the Exchange delivers silver in bars on an Exchange contract, but did not order such silver into a regular vault, the clearing member shall, for the purposes of Regulation m1442.01, be deemed the original endorser of the vault receipt, and shall warrant to his transferee and each subsequent transferee that such silver was delivered to the regular vault under the terms of Regulation m1442.01. (06/01/04)

M1444.01 Form of Warehouse Depository Receipt - The following form of warehouse depository receipt shall be used:

Notice: This receipt expires one year from date of issuance. Return to issuer prior to expiration for reissue or delivery. (10/01/04)

m1446.01 Date of Delivery - Where Silver is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such silver may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/01)

m1447.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (10/01/01)

m1448.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/01)

m1449.01 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (10/01/01)

m1449.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/01)

m1449.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

m1449.04 Payment - Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/01)

m1450.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/01)

m1450.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (01/01/04)

m1451.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/01)

m1454.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (10/01/01)

m1454.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (01/01/04)

m1456.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/01)

Chm14 Regularity of Vaults

m1480.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Silver for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Silver is ordered into the Vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Silver in storage in balance with Silver represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/01)

m1481.01 Conditions of Regularity - Silver may be delivered against a Silver contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of silver, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Silver and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Silver received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Silver. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Silver in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault shall keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in it sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Silver futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Silver, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

m1484.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Silver under the Rules and Regulations.

Chm14 Regularity of Vaults

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Gold for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

1506.01 Price Basis - All prices of Gold shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of $0.10 (10 cents) per troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

1507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Gold futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:30 p.m. (10/01/04)

1509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Gold futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1509.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1509.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

1510.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (10/01/04)

1511.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/04)

1512.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/04)

1536.01 Standards - Each futures contract shall be for 100 fine troy ounces of Gold no less than 995 fineness, cast either in one bar or in 3 one-kilogram bars.

Variations in the quantity of the delivery unit not in excess of five percent of 100 fine troy ounces shall be permitted.

In accordance with the accepted practices of the trade, each bar for good delivery must be of good appearance, easy to handle, and convenient to stack. The sides and bottom should be reasonably smooth and free from cavities and bubbles. The edges should be rounded and not sharp. Each bar, if not marked with the fineness and stamp of an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority must be accompanied by a certificate issued by an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority, stating the serial number of the bar(s), the weight, and the fineness. (10/01/04)

1540.01 Brands and Markings of Gold - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of Gold bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1540.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Gold Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any Gold bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 995 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a Gold fineness of not less than 995, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/04)

1540.03 Approved Brands - (See Appendix 15A) (10/01/04)

1540.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all Gold must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If Gold is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any Gold bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

1540.05 Refiners, Vaults, and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults, and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

1540.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of Gold and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for Gold may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/04)

1541.01 Delivery Points - Gold located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/04)

1542.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts,

the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation 1536.01 and Appendix 15A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on Gold futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of Gold. Gold in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, each vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery. By the tender of a vault receipt for Gold duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the Gold shown on the receipt. Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of one year) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the Gold, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the Gold must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the Gold. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior Gold in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

1543.01 Deposit of Gold with Vaults - Gold in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/04)

1543.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the Gold has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number. (10/01/04)

1546.01 Date of Delivery - Where Gold is sold for delivery in a specified month, delivery of such Gold may be made by the seller upon such day of the specified month as the seller may select. If not previously delivered, delivery must be made upon the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

1547.01 Delivery Notices - (See 1047.01) (10/01/04)

1548.01 Method of Delivery - (See 1048.01) (10/01/04)

1549.01 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See 1049.00) (10/01/04)

1549.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/04)

1549.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

1549.04 Payment -. Payment shall be made on the basis of the number of fine troy ounces of Gold contained and delivered. The fine Gold content of a bar for good delivery is calculated to 0.001 of a troy ounce by multiplying the gross weight and fineness as listed on the vault receipt. Fineness in no case will be more than 0.9999.

Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

1550.00 Duties of Members - (See 1050.00) (10/01/04)

1550.01 Failure to Deliver - (See 1050.01) (10/01/04)

1551.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See 1051.01) (10/01/04)

1554.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.00) (10/01/04)

1554.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (10/01/04)

1556.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/04)

1580.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Gold for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Gold is ordered into the vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Gold in storage in balance with Gold represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1581.01 Conditions of Regularity - Gold may be delivered against a Gold contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of Gold, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Gold and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Gold received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Gold. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Gold in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Gold futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Gold, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

1584.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Gold under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation or expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of silver under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

1586.01 Regular Vaults - (See Appendix 15B) (10/01/04)

mini-size Gold Futures

Chapter m15
mini-sized Gold Futures

Chm15 Trading Conditions

m1501.00 Authority - Trading of mini-sized Gold futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. (09/01/03)

m1502.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in mini-sized Gold futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in mini-sized Gold futures contracts. (06/01/04) m1504.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for mini-sized Gold shall be for 33.2 fine troy ounces of Gold not less than 0.995 fine contained in one bar. Bids and offers may be accepted in lots of 33.2 fine troy ounces or multiples thereof. (10/01/04)

m1505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in mini-sized Gold for future delivery may be conducted in the current calendar month and any subsequent months. (10/01/04)

m1506.01 Price Basis - All prices of mini-sized Gold shall be basis New York, New York, or basis any other location designated by the Exchange, in multiples of $0.10 (10 cents) per fine troy ounce. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/04)

m1507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in mini-sized Gold futures shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 1:30 p.m. (10/01/04)

m1509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in mini-sized Gold futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last two business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation m1509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased; and if not previously delivered, delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. (10/01/04)

m1509.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation m1509.01, outstanding contracts for such delivery may be liquidated by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual cash commodity. Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/04)

m1510.01 Margin Requirements - Margin requirements shall be determined by the Exchange. (See Regulation 431.03) (06/01/04)

m1511.01 Disputes - All disputes between interested parties may be settled by arbitration as provided in the Rules and Regulations. (10/01/01)

m1512.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01)
(10/01/01)

Chm15 Delivery Procedures

m1536.01 Standards - Each futures contract shall be for 33.2 fine troy ounces of Gold no less than 995 fineness contained in no more than one bar.

Variations in the quantity of the delivery unit not in excess of ten percent of 33.2 fine troy ounces shall be permitted.

In accordance with the accepted practices of the trade, each bar for good delivery must be of good appearance, easy to handle, and convenient to stack. The sides and bottom should be reasonably smooth and free from cavities and bubbles. The edges should be rounded and not sharp. Each bar, if not marked with the fineness and stamp of an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority must be accompanied by a certificate issued by an approved refiner, assayer, or other certifying authority, stating the serial number of the bar(s), the weight, and the fineness. (10/01/01)

m1540.01 Brands and Markings of Gold - Brands and markings deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts shall be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Exchange may require such sureties as it deems necessary. The Secretary's Office shall make available a list of the brands and markings of Gold bars which are deliverable. The addition of brands and markings shall be binding upon all such contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/01)

m1540.02 Withdrawal of Approval of Gold Brands or Markings - If at any time a brand or marking fails to meet the requirements adopted by the Exchange or the metallurgical assay of any Gold bars bearing a brand or marking on the official list depreciates below 995 fineness, the Exchange may exclude said brand or marking from the official list unless deliveries of bars bearing said brand or marking are accompanied by certificates of analysis of an official assayer showing a Gold fineness of not less than 995, and such additional bond as the Exchange may deem necessary. Notice of such action shall be posted upon the bulletin board of the Exchange and the official list shall indicate the limitation upon deliveries of said brand or marking. (10/01/01)

m1540.03 Approved Brands - (See Appendix m15A) (10/01/01)

m1540.04 Product Certification and Shipment - To be eligible for delivery on the Exchange, all Gold must be certified as to fineness and weight by an Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or other Exchange approved certifying authority and must be shipped directly from the Exchange approved refiner, assayer, or certifying authority via Exchange approved carriers to Exchange approved vaults.

If Gold is not continuously in the custody of an Exchange approved vault or carrier, the Exchange may require that it be recertified as to fineness and weight to be eligible for delivery.

The Exchange at its sole discretion shall have the authority at any time to have assayed any Gold bars covered by vault receipts delivered against futures contracts. In such an event, costs are to be borne by the Exchange. (10/01/04)

m1540.05 Refiners, Vaults and Assayers - Exchange approved refiners, vaults and assayers may be listed with the Exchange upon approval by the Exchange. The Secretary's Office shall maintain and make available such lists. The addition of refiners and vaults shall be binding upon all contracts outstanding as well as those entered into after approval. (10/01/04)

m1540.06 Cost of Inspection, Weighing, Storage and Delivery - All charges associated with the delivery of Gold and all costs associated with inspections, weighing, and Exchange documentations, through the day of delivery, shall be paid by the delivering party. The delivering party shall pay storage charges through the business day following the day of delivery. The receivers shall pay all charges including storage charges incurred after the business day following the day of delivery.

A holder of an Exchange approved vault receipt for Gold may request recertification at his expense at any time while the unit represented by such receipt is in the Exchange approved vault. Such recertification shall be made by an Exchange approved certifying authority or assayer, selected by such holder. (10/01/01)

m1541.01 Delivery Points - Gold located at regular vaults at points approved by the Exchange may be delivered in satisfaction of futures contracts. (10/01/01)

m1542.01 Deliveries by Vault Receipts - In order to be valid for delivery against futures contracts, the vault receipt must be issued in accordance with the requirements under Regulation m1536.01 and Appendix 15A. The vault receipt must be issued before 4:00 p.m. on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery; however, in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of the delivery month, the vault receipt must be issued before 1:00 p.m. Deliveries on Gold futures contracts shall be made by the delivery of depository vault receipts issued by vaults which have been approved and designated as regular vaults by the Exchange for the storage of Gold. Gold in bars must come to the regular vault directly from an approved source or from another regular vault either on the Chicago Board of Trade or the COMEX Division of the New York Mercantile Exchange, Inc., by insured or bonded carrier.

In order to effect a valid delivery, each vault receipt must be endorsed by the clearing member making the delivery.

By the tender of a vault receipt for Gold duly endorsed for delivery of the lot on an Exchange contract, the endorser shall be deemed to warrant, to his transferee and each subsequent transferee of the receipt for delivery on Exchange contracts, and their respective immediate principals, the genuineness, validity, and worth of such receipt, the rightfulness and effectiveness of his transfer thereof, and the quantity and quality of the Gold shown on the receipt.

Such endorsement shall also constitute a representation that all storage charges have been paid up to and including the business day following the day of delivery. Prepaid storage charges shall be charged to the buyer by the seller for a period extending beyond the business day following the day of delivery (but not in excess of ninety days) pro rata for the unexpired term and adjustments shall be made upon the invoice thereof.

In the event such Exchange member or principal shall claim a breach of such warranty, and such claim relates to the quantity or quality of the Gold, the lot shall be immediately submitted for sampling and assaying to an assayer approved by the Exchange; the Gold must be shipped under bond, and at the owner's expense, to the assayer. The expense of sampling and assaying shall, in the first instance, be borne by the claimant. If a deficiency in quantity or quality shall be determined by the assayer, the claimant shall have the right to recover the difference in the market value and all expenses incurred in connection with the sampling and assaying and any cost of replacement of the Gold. The claimant may, at his option, proceed directly against the original endorser of the vault receipt upon Exchange delivery, or against any endorser prior to claimant without seeking recovery from his immediate deliverer on the Exchange contract, and if the claim is satisfied by the original endorser of the vault receipt, or any other endorser, all the endorsers will be thereby discharged from liability to the claimant. If the claimant seeks recovery from any endorser and his claim is satisfied by such endorser, the party thus satisfying the claim will have a similar option to claim recovery directly from any endorser prior to him. Such claims as are in dispute between members of the Exchange may in each case be submitted to arbitration under the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange.

The liability of an endorser of a vault receipt as provided herein shall not be deemed to limit the rights of such endorser against any person or party for whose account the endorser acted in making delivery on an Exchange contract. If it shall be determined in such arbitration proceeding that any endorser of a vault receipt or the person or party for whom such endorser acted was aware of the breach of warranty or was involved in a plan or arrangement with the original endorser (or his principal) to place such inferior Gold in store in a regular vault for use in deliveries upon Exchange contracts, such endorsers shall not be entitled to recover from any prior endorser for the breach of warranty. (10/01/04)

m1543.01 Deposit of Gold with Vaults - Gold in bars shall be placed into a regular vault accompanied by the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar; and

D. Fineness. (10/01/01)

m1543.02 Issuance of Vault Receipts - After the Gold has been placed in a regular vault, negotiable vault receipts shall be issued to its owners with the following information:

A. Brand or markings;

B. Identification (serial number) of each bar;

C. Weight of each bar;

D. Fineness.

Receipts shall be lettered or numbered consecutively by each vault. No two receipts shall bear the same letter or number. (06/01/04)

m1544.01 Form of Warehouse Depository Vault Receipt - The following form of warehouse depository receipt shall be used:

Chm15 Delivery Procedures

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.

141 W. Jackson Blvd.* Chicago, IL 60604
(312) 435-3592

Original Negotiable Warehouse Depository Receipt

Date Issued: _____ No. _____

The issuer of this instrument will, upon notice and demand, deliver to: _____ or his or its order 33.2 troy ounces of Gold contained in a bar conforming to the delivery specifications contained in the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. Delivery shall be based upon identification markings appearing on said bar. The issuer has not ascertained, and is not responsible for, the authenticity or correctness of markings on, or content, weight or fineness of, said bar. Upon the return of this receipt, properly endorsed, to issuer, and payment of all storage charges pertaining to the Gold represented, for which the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. claims a lien, the Gold will be transferred into the account of the bearer of this certificate.

m1549.02 Buyers' Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See 1049.02) (10/01/01)

m1549.03 Sellers' Invoice to Buyers - In addition to the requirements of 1049.03, the seller shall notify the vault of the transfer of ownership of the indicated vault receipts from the seller to the buyer. The seller will be responsible for the payment of storage charges unless the vault has been notified thereby. (10/01/04)

m1549.04 Payment - Payment shall be made on the basis of the number of fine troy ounces of Gold contained and delivered. The fine Gold content of a bar for good delivery is calculated to 0.001 of a troy ounce by multiplying the gross weight and fineness as listed on the vault receipt. Fineness in no case will be more than 0.9999.

Payment is to be made by a check drawn on and certified by a Chicago bank or by a Cashier's check issued by a Chicago bank. The long clearing member may effect payment by wire transfer only if this method of payment is acceptable to the short clearing member. (10/01/04)

m1554.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See 1054.01) (01/01/04)

m1556.01 Storage and Transfer Fees - Storage charges, transfer fees and in-and-out charges shall be set by each depository vault and the schedule of such charges shall be posted with the Exchange, which shall be notified at least 60 days in advance of any changes in the rate schedule. Except as otherwise provided, all such charges and fees shall remain the responsibility of the seller until payment is made. (10/01/01)

Chm15 Regularity of Vaults

m1580.01 Duties of Vault Operators - It shall be the duty of the operators of all regular vaults:

(a) To accept Gold for delivery on Chicago Board of Trade contracts, provided such Gold is ordered into the Vault by a Clearing Member of the Exchange, and all space in such vaults is not already filled or contracted for.

(b) To notify the Board of Trade of any change in the condition of their vaults.

(c) To release to the bearer of the receipt the bars covered by said receipt upon presentation of the receipt and payment of all storage and outloading charges no later than the business day following compliance with these provisions.

(d) To keep stocks of Gold in storage in balance with Gold represented by its outstanding vault receipts. (10/01/01)

m1581.01 Conditions of Regularity - Gold may be delivered against a Gold contract from any vault designated by the Exchange specifically for the storage of Gold, and may not be delivered except from such vault. The following shall constitute the requirements for regularity, and by accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees to abide by these conditions:

(1) The vault must notify the Exchange promptly of any material change in ownership or condition of its premises.

(2) The vault is required to submit a certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. A letter of attestation must accompany all financial statements signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner or executive officer.

(3) Such vault shall be provided with standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and safe storage of Gold and provide for proper security.

(4) The operator of such vault shall furnish to the Registrar all needed information to enable the Exchange to keep a correct record and account of all Gold received and delivered by the vault daily and of that remaining in store at the close of each week.

(5) The operator of such vault shall accord every facility to the Exchange for the examination of its books or records for the purpose of ascertaining the stocks of Gold. The Exchange shall have the authority to employ experts to determine the quantity and quality of Gold in said vault.

(6) No vault operator shall engage in unethical or inequitable practices, or fail to comply with any laws, Federal or State, or Rules or Regulations promulgated under those laws.

(7) The operator shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such vault visitation as the Board of Trade or the Commodity Futures Trading Commission may prescribe, and shall comply with all applicable Rules and Regulations. The vault must keep all such reports, books and records for a period of five years from the date thereof.

(8) The operator of such vault must give such bonds to the Exchange as may be required by the Exchange.

(9) The vault shall neither withdraw as a regular vault nor withdraw any regular capacity except after a sixty (60) day notice to the Exchange or having obtained the consent of the Exchange.

(10) The vault shall notify the Exchange at least sixty (60) days in advance of any changes in its maximum storage rates, penalty for late storage payment and handling charges.

(11) The Exchange may determine not to approve vaults for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular vaults, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such vaults meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether receipts issued by such vaults, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discover function of Gold futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Gold, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (10/01/04)

m1584.01 Revocation of Regularity - Any regular vault may be declared by the Exchange to be irregular at any time if it does not comply with the conditions above set forth, or fails to carry out its prescribed duties. If the designation of a vault as regular shall be revoked a notice shall be posted on the bulletin board and on the Exchange website announcing such revocation and also the period of time, if any, during which the receipts issued by such vault shall thereafter be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts in Gold under the Rules and Regulations.

By accepting a Declaration of Regularity the vault agrees, in the event of revocation, expiration or withdrawal of regularity, to bear the expenses of the transfer of Gold under bond to another regular vault satisfactory to the holders of its vault receipts. (10/01/04)

U.S. Treasury Bonds

Ch18 Trading Conditions

1801.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

1802.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in long term U.S. Treasury bonds shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in long term U.S. Treasury bonds. 3000 (09/01/00)

1804.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury bonds having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. 3002 (10/01/94)

1805.01 Months Traded In - Trading in long-term U.S. Treasury bonds may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

1806.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($31.25 per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one-thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. 3004 (02/01/01)

1807.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in U.S. Treasury Bonds shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of the trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. 3007 (10/01/94)

1809.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in long term U.S. Treasury bond futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 1809.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. 3008 (10/01/94)

1809.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 1809.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury bonds (Regulation 1842.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for the actual long term U.S. Treasury bonds or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchnage of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. 3009 (03/01/04)

1812.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See 425.01) (10/01/94)

Ch18 Delivery Procedures

1836.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be long term U.S. Treasury bonds which if callable are not callable for at least 15 years or if not callable have a maturity of at least 15 years. All bonds delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity (time to call if callable) of a given issue is calculated in complete three month increments (i.e. 15 years and 5 months = 15 years and 1 quarter) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a bond with this time to maturity (time to call if callable) and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6% according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied times the settlement price to arrive at the amount which the short invoices the long.

U.S. Treasury Bonds deliverable against futures contracts under these regulations must have semi-annual coupon payments.

Interest accrued on the bonds shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of long term U.S. Treasury bonds which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. The Board shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. 3001 (03/01/00)

1842.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against long term U.S. Treasury bond futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 1880.01) in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds in place at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form no later than 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 1880.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account at the long Clearing Member's bank on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the bonds are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange and notify his bank (Regulation 1880.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 1880.01) in payment for delivery of the bonds. Contract grade U.S. Treasury bonds must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. 3011 (01/01/04)

1842.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire or bank access to it is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day on which the bonds were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 1842.01 and 1849.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations 1842.01 and 1849.04 have been complied with. 3014 (10/01/94)

1846.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of U.S. Treasury bonds may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of U.S. Treasury bonds must be made no later th an the last business day of that month. 3012 (10/01/94)

1847.01 Delivery Notices - (See Regulation 1047.01) (10/01/94)

1848.01 Method of Delivery - (See Regulation 1048.01) (10/01/94)

1849.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

1849.03 Seller's Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers, describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

1849.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing House shall be made with the Clearing House in accordance with its By-laws and Resolutions. 3013 (10/01/94)

1849.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing Member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

1850.00 Duties of Members - (See Rule 1050.00) (10/01/94)

1850.01 Failure to Deliver - (See Regulation 1050.01) (01/01/04)

1851.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See Regulation 1051.01) (10/01/94)

10-Year Municipal Note Index Futures

Ch19 Trading Conditions

1901.01 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (11/01/02)

1902.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in CBOT(R) 10-Year Municipal Note Index (the "Index") contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Index futures contracts. (11/01/02)

1904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be $1,000.00 times the Index. (11/01/02)

1905.01 Months Traded - Trading in Index futures contracts may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (11/01/02)

1906.01 Price Basis - The price of Index futures contracts shall be quoted in points. One point equals $1,000.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be 1/32 of one point or thirty-one dollars and twenty-five cents ($31.25) per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/02)

1907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in Index futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring futures contract, the closing time for such future shall be 2:00 p.m. Chicago time (3:00 p.m. New York time) subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (11/01/02)

1909.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Index futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month. If on the last day of trading FT Interactive Data Corporation does not publish a closing Index value, the last day of trading shall be the next business day for which a closing Index value is published. (11/01/02)

1909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 1909.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 1942.01. (11/01/02)

1910.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (11/01/02)

1936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be $1,000.00 times the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading. The Index shall be composed and determined by the Exchange in accordance with the criteria set forth in Regulation 1950.01. The closing value of the Index shall be determined by FT Interactive Data Corporation. (11/01/02)

1942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Index futures contracts shall be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

After trading ceases on the last day of trading, the Clearing Services Provider shall advise clearing members holding open positions in current month Index futures contracts of the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading. Clearing members shall make and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures. The settlement price on the last day of trading is equal to $1,000.00 times the closing value of the Index on the last day of trading.

The final settlement value of the Index on the last day of trading shall be determined as follows:

Final Settlement Value = 100 * [5/r + (1-5/r) *(1 + r/200)/-20/]

where r represents the simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds in the Index for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the simple average yield-to-worst for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.25.

The contract expiration price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thirty-second of a point.

Example: Suppose the simple average yield-to-worst on the last day of trading is 5.50. The final settlement value will be 96.19318. To render this in terms of price point and thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 99-7/32nds and 99-6/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000.00):

99-7/32nds	=	96.21875
Final Settlement Value	=	96.19318
99-6/32nds	=	96.18750

The final settlement value is nearer to 99-6/32nds. Thus, the contract expiration price is obtained by rounding down to 99-6/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thirty-seconds of a price point, the contract expiration price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thirty-second of a point.

On the last day of trading, open contracts will be marked to market based on the closing futures price. A final mark to market will be made on the day the contract expiration price is determined. (12/01/03)

1947.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (11/01/02)

1950.01 Index Composition - The Index shall be constructed by the Exchange in accordance with the following criteria:

(a) General Index Composition-The Index, at all times, shall be composed of no fewer than 100 but no more than 250 municipal bonds that are generally exempt from federal income taxation, including those generally exempt issues whose interest payments may be subject to an alternative minimum tax. The Exchange, in its discretion, may include bonds which meet the following criteria:

1. Size - Each bond shall have a principal value that is equal to or greater than $50 million and shall be a component tranche of a municipal issuance that has a deal size that is equal to or greater than $200 million.

2. Rating - Each bond shall carry an insured or underlying trading of AAA by Standard and Poor's Corporation (S&P) and Aaa by Moody's Investors Service (MIS) upon initial inclusion in the Index. Bonds that fall below an insured or underlying rating of A- by S&P or A3 by MIS or both shall be deleted from the Index immediately.

3. Maturity - Each bond shall have a remaining maturity that is not less than 10 years or more than 40 years from the first calendar day of the corresponding futures contract month.

4. Call Provisions - Each bond may or may not be callable. If callable, the first call date shall be not less than 7 years from the first calendar day of the corresponding futures contract month.

5. Par Issue - Each bond must have a price that is equal to or greater than 90 at its issuance date to be eligible for inclusion in the Index.

6. Private Placements - A bond that is issued as a private placement is not eligible for inclusion in the Index.

7. Coupon - Each bond shall pay semi-annual interest at a fixed coupon rate that is not less than three percent per annum or greater than nine percent per annum.

8. Issuer Limit - No more than five percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be from the same issuer. A bond shall be deemed to have been issued by the same issuer if such bond has the same nominal and generic security, that is, the same ultimate source of payment for debt service, of another bond in the Index. A first or second lien bond of the same generic security shall be defined as having been issued by the same issuer.

9. State Limit - No more than fifteen percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be from within the jurisdictions of the same state, Puerto Rico. or other territorial jurisdictions.

10. Insurance Limit - Each bond may or may not be insured. No more than 40 percent of the number of bonds in the Index shall be insured by Ambac Indemnity Corporation, Financial Guaranty Insurance Corporation, Financial Security Assurance, or MBIA Insurance Corporation.

(b) Index Pricing - FI Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the closing value of the Index each day the municipal bond cash market is open using the following procedures:

1. Component Bond Pricing - FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond in the Index daily. The price of each component bond shall be defined as FT Interactive Data Corporation's fair market value estimation.

   With the exception of the last trading day in the current contract expiration, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond:

   - at 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is open for normal trading hours and is therefore not subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading, or

   - at 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading.

   On the last trading day in the current contract expiration, however, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall price each component bond at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time (3:00 p.m. New York time).

   If the Exchange determines in advance that circumstances in the cash market will occasion either an early halt to cash market trading or an otherwise unscheduled holiday which would impede FT Interactive Data Corporation from pricing the component bonds of the Index, the Exchange may suspend or reschedule the pricing for that day provided that such determination is published before the start of trading on the day in question and provided that such day is not the last day of trading in a contract month.

2. Index Computation - FT Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the daily Index value. FT Interactive Data Corporation shall first determine the price of each component bond in the Index. FT Interactive Data Corporation shall then calculate the simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds by summing the individual yields of the component bonds and dividing by the number of component bonds. The simple average yield-to-worst of the component bonds in the Index shall be rounded to the nearest one-tenth of one basis point and rounded up in the case of a tie. This simple average yield-to-worst will be entered into the pricing algorithm in Regulation 1942.01 to calculate the daily Index value. The daily

Index value shall be rounded to the nearest one thirty-second of a full point. If the Index value is exactly at the midpoint between two thirty-seconds of a point, the Index value shall be rounded up to the nearest one thirty-second.

With the exception of the last trading day in the current contract expiration, FT Interactive Data Corporation shall compute the daily Index value:

- at 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is open for normal trading hours and is therefore not subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading; or

- at 1:00 p.m. Chicago time (2:00 p.m. New York time) when the underlying cash market is subject to an early scheduled halt in cash market trading.

(c) Index Revisions - The Exchange shall revise the Index after 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) on the first business day in the February, May, August and November quarterly cycle. For example, the Index revision for the March futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in November, the index revision for the June futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in February, the index revision for the September futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in May, and the index revision for the December futures contract expiration will occur on the first business day in August. If such day is not an Exchange business day, or is an Exchange business day that is subject to an early halt in cash market trading, the Exchange shall revise the Index shall after 3:00 p.m. Chicago time (4:00 p.m. New York time) on the immediately preceding Exchange business day that is not subject to an early halt in cash market trading. The revised Index will be implemented on the next business day following an Index revision.

The Exchange shall add bonds to the Index as prescribed in Regulation 1950.01(a). The Exchange shall delete bonds from the Index as prescribed in Regulation 1950.01(d).

(d) Bonds no longer meeting all the original selection criteria shall be deleted from the Index.

At Index revisions, no additions to, or deletions from, the Index will be implemented that would have the effect of violating global Index rules with respect to Issuer, State, or Insurance coverage limits.

In the event that more than 250 bonds meet the eligibility criteria for Index inclusion, as stipulated in Regulation 1950.01(a), the Exchange will increase in increments of $1 million the required $50 million principal value for bond eligibility in order to construct an Index that shall be composed of as many bonds as possible without exceeding the 250 bond limit.

The Exchange has final authority over Index composition. (11/01/03)

30-Day Fed Fund Futures

Ch21 Trading Conditions

2101.01 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2102.01 Application of Regulation - Futures transactions in 30-Day Fed Fund futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 30-Day Fed Fund futures. (10/01/94)

2104.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be interest on Fed funds having face value of $5,000,000 or multiples thereof for one month calculated on a 30-day basis at a rate equal to the average overnight Fed funds rate for the contract month. (10/01/94)

2105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 30-Day Fed Fund futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (07/01/03)

2106.01 Price Basis - Prices will be quoted on an index basis, i.e., 100 minus the monthly average overnight Fed funds rate (e.g., a rate of 6.50% is quoted at 93.50). Minimum price fluctuations shall be in increments of one-half of one-hundredth of one percent of five million dollars on a 30 day basis ($20.835 per one-half basis point), rounded up to the nearest cent. (07/01/99)

2107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in 30-Day Fed Fund futures shall be as determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 2:00 p.m. Chicago time subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2109.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading shall be the last business day of the delivery month. (10/01/94)

2109.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 2109.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 2142.01. (10/01/94)

2110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (10/01/94)

2113.01 Strip Transactions - A 30-Day Fed Fund futures strip transaction involving the simultaneous purchase or sale of an equal amount of futures contract months at a differential to the previous settlement prices is permitted on this Exchange provided:

1. that each month of the strip is for the same account. Provided that, when an order has been executed in the wrong month, and the erroneous transaction has been placed in the broker's or firm's error account, the error may be corrected by a spread transaction in which one leg of the spread offsets the position in the error account and the other leg is the correct execution of the order. Provided further that the liability of the floor broker or FCM shall be determined in accordance with Regulation 350.04.

2. that all months of the strip are priced at prices within the daily trading limits specified in Regulation 1008.01.

3. that the strip is offered by public outcry in the pit assigned to 30-Day Fed Fund futures.

4. that the transaction shall be reported, recorded and publicized as a strip.

5. that when such transactions are executed simultaneously, the executing member on each side of the transaction shall designate each part of the trade as a strip on his cards or order by an appropriate word or symbol clearly identifying each part of such transactions.

Brokers may not couple separate orders and execute them as a strip, nor may a broker take one part of a strip for his own account and give the other part to a customer on an order. (10/01/94)

2136.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be 100 minus the average daily Fed funds overnight rate for the delivery month. The average daily Fed funds overnight rate is a simple average of the daily Fed funds overnight rates as determined by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. This simple average will be rounded to the nearest tenth of a basis point and rounded up on the case of a tie.

For days for which the Federal Reserve Bank of New York does not compute a rate (e.g. weekends and holidays), the rate shall be the rate determined on the last business day for which a rate was determined. (08/01/01)

2142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 30-Day Fed Fund futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. The final settlement price will be calculated on the business day that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York releases the overnight Fed funds rate for the last day of trading. The final settlement price shall be 100 minus the average daily Fed funds overnight rate for the delivery month. On the last day of trading open contracts will be marked to market based on the closing futures price. A final mark to market will be made on the day the final settlement price is determined. (12/01/03)

CBOT(R) 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES OPTIONS

CBOT(R) 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES OPTIONS

Ch22 TRADING CONDITIONS

2201.01 AUTHORITY - Trading in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/03)

2201.01 APPLICATION OF REGULATIONS - Transactions in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts (See Rule 490.00). Options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contracts are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/03)

2202.01 NATURE OF CBOT 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES PUT OPTIONS - The buyer of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2207.01), to assume a short position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (04/01/03)

2202.02 NATURE OF CBOT 30-DAY FEDERAL FUNDS FUTURES CALL OPTIONS - The buyer of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2207.01), to assume a long position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (04/01/03)

2203.01 TRADING UNIT - One (1) CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract of a specified contract month on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (04/01/03)

2204.01 STRIKE PRICES - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with strike prices in integral multiples of six and one-quarter basis points (0.0625) per CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract and in integral multiples of twelve and one-half basis points (0.1250) per CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract as follows:

A. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following strike prices in integral multiples of six and one-quarter basis points shall be listed: one with a strike price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures contract and the next ten (10) consecutive higher and the next ten (10) consecutive lower strike prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If a previous day's settlement price is midway between two strike prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten 6-1/4 basis point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following strike prices in integral multiples of twelve and one-half basis points shall be listed: the next five (5) consecutive higher and the next five (5) consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 2204.01A. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least five 12-1/2 basis point striking prices always exist above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 2204.01A.

C. When a new strike price is added for an option contract month, the same strike price will be added to all option contract months for which that strike price is not already listed. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (05/01/03)

2205.01 PAYMENT OF OPTION PREMIUM - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

2206.01 OPTION PREMIUM BASIS - The premium for CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures options shall be in multiples of one quarter of one basis point or ten dollars and forty-one and three-quarters cents ($10.4175) per quarter basis point per contract. One full basis point shall equal forty-one dollars and sixty-seven cents ($41.67) per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $10.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (05/01/03)

2207.01 EXERCISE OF OPTION - The buyer of a CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchanges, on the next business day following the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer.

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option. (12/01/03)

2207.02 AUTOMATIC EXERCISE - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2207.01 all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or such time designated by the Exchange, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. (12/01/03)

2207.03 CORRECTIONS TO OPTION EXERCISE - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

2208.01 EXPIRATION OF OPTION - Unexercised CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. Chicago time on the next business day after the termination of trading (See Regulation 2213.01). (04/01/03)

2209.01 MONTHS TRADED IN - Trading CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/03)

2210.01 TRADING HOURS - The hours of trading for options on CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time on the last trading day of said option contract. CBOT 30-Day Federal Funds options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/03)

2211.01 POSITION LIMITS AND REPORTABLE POSITIONS - (See Regulation 425.01) (04/01/03)

2212.01 MARGIN REQUIREMENTS - (See Regulations 431.05, 431.06) (04/01/03)

2213.01 LAST DAY OF TRADING - Trading in an expiring option contract shall terminate at the same time and date as the underlying futures contract, that is, at 2:00 p.m. Chicago time on the last business day of the underlying contract month. (04/01/03)

Chapter 23
Short Term U.S. T-Notes (2-Year)

Chapter 23
Short Term U.S. T-Notes (2-Year)

Ch23 Trading Conditions

2301.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2302.01 Application of Regulation - Futures transactions in short term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in short term U.S. Treasury Notes.

For the purpose of this chapter, the trading day begins with the commencement of trading on Project A at 2:15 p.m. and ends with the close of trading of regular daytime trading. (10/01/98)

2303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, U.S. Treasury Bonds or U.S. Treasury Notes otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than one year, nine months or longer than two years and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter; and/or

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, one year nine months to two years U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2304.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2305.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Short-Term U.S. Treasury Notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2306.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-quarter of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 rounded up to the nearest 1 cent per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (10/01/94)

+2307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in short term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2309.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in short term U.S. Treasury Note futures deliverable in the current month shall be made following the last business day of the calendar month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 2309.02 after trading in such contract has ceased. (05/01/04)

2309.02 Liquidation after Trading has Ceased - After trading in contacts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes (Regulation 2342.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event be made no later than 12:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on the second business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month as defined in Regulation 2346.01. (03/01/04)

Ch23 Delivery Procedures

2336.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. Treasury Notes which have an original maturity no greater than five years three months and remaining maturity not less than one year, nine months and not more than two years as defined below. All notes delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement or for determining remaining maturity for delivery eligibility, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete one month increments (i.e. 1 year, 10 months, 17 days is taken to be 1 year, 10 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount at which the short invoices the long.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2342.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against short-term U.S. Treasury Notes futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2380.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart 0: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. Chicago time), or by such time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes at his bank inacceptable (to his bank) delivery form by 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time) on delivery day, or by such time designated by the Exchange. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2380.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 2380.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Members' account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2380.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2342.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2342.01 and 2349.04 and that all provisions of Regulations of 2342.01 and 2349.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2346.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of short term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. The delivery month extends to and includes the third business day following the last trading day in the current month. Delivery of short term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (11/01/94)

2348.01 Method of Delivery - (See Regulation 1048.01) (10/01/94)

2349.01 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See Rule 1049.00) (10/01/94)

2349.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

2349.03 Seller's Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing House shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing House to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers, describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing House, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing House by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Board of Directors, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing House by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Board of Directors. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing House shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed, by placing them in buyers' mail boxes provided for that purpose in the Clearing House. (12/01/99)

2349.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payments before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing House shall be made with the Clearing House in accordance with its by-laws and resolutions. (10/01/94)

2349.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

2350.00 Duties of Members - (See Rule 1050.00) (10/01/94)

2350.01 Office Deliveries Prohibited - (See Regulation 1051.01) (10/01/94)

2350.02 Failure to Deliver - (See Regulation 1050.01) (01/01/04)

2354.00 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See Rule 1054.00) (10/01/94)

2354.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See Regulation 1054.01) (01/01/04)

2380.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in short term U.S. Treasury Notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2342.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus, and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). (09/01/00)

2403.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may be in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, callable U.S. Treasury Bonds otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than six and one-half years, or longer than ten years and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter; and/or

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, six and one-half years to ten years U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2404.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2405.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Long-Term U.S. Treasury notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2406.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-half of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (02/01/01)

2407.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in long term U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2409.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in long term U.S. Treasury Note futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month and any contracts

remaining open must be settled by delivery or as provided in Regulation 2409.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. (10/01/94)

2409.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of Delivery Months - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2409.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes or Bonds (Regulation 2442.01) or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or Bonds or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. (03/01/04)

2412.12 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/94)

2436.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. Treasury Notes which have an actual maturity of not less than six and one-half years and not more than ten years. All notes delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete quarter year increments (i.e. 8 years, 10 months, 17 days is taken to be 8 years, 9 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount at which the short invoices the long.

U.S. Treasury Notes deliverable against futures contracts under these regulations must have semi-annual coupon payments.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2442.01 Deliveries of Futures Contracts - Deliveries against long term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2480.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes in place at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form no later than 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2480.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account at the long Clearing Member's bank on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 2480.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2480.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2442.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or thbulletinClearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2442.01 and 2449.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations of 2442.01 and 2449.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2446.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of long term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of long term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (10/01/94)

2447.01 Delivery Notices - (See Regulation 1047.01) (10/01/94)

2448.01 Method of Delivery - (See Regulation 1048.01) (10/01/94)

2449.00 Time of Delivery, Payment, Form of Delivery Notice - (See Rule 1049.00) (10/01/94)

2449.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

2449.03 Sellers Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

2449.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, or such other time designated by the Exchange except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. or such other time designated by the Exchange the next business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its rules, policies and procedures. (01/01/04)

2449.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (10/01/94)

2454.01 Failure to Accept Delivery - (See Regulation 1054.01)(01/01/04)

2480.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in long term U.S. Treasury Notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2442.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). Ch25 Trading Conditions

2501.00 Authority - (See Rule 1701.00) (10/01/94)

2503.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. For example, and without limiting the Board's power, it may extend delivery dates and designate alternative delivery points in the event of conditions interfering with the normal operations of approved facilities.

In the event the Board determines that there exists a shortage of deliverable U.S. Treasury Notes, it may, upon a two-thirds vote under Rule 180.00, take such action as may in the Board's sole discretion appear necessary to prevent, correct or alleviate the condition. Without limiting the foregoing or the authority of the Board under Rule 180.00, the Board may:

(1) designate as deliverable, U.S. Treasury Bonds otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter;

(2) designate as deliverable one or more issues of U.S. Treasury Notes and/or U.S. Treasury Bonds having maturities shorter than four years and two months, or longer than five years and two months and otherwise meeting the specifications and requirements stated in this chapter.

(3) determine a cash settlement based on the current cash value of a 6% coupon rate, five year U.S. Treasury Note, as determined by using the current cash market yield curve for U.S. Treasury securities on the last day of trading. (03/01/00)

2504.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be United States Treasury Notes having a face value at maturity of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or multiples thereof. (10/01/94)

2505.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Medium-Term U.S. Treasury notes futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (03/01/00)

2506.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-half of one thirty-second (1/32) point per 100 points ($15.625 rounded up to the nearest 1c per contract) except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract). Par shall be on the basis of 100 points. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (02/01/01)

2507.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in U.S. Treasury Notes shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 12:00 noon subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (10/01/94)

2509.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in medium term U.S. Treasury Note futures deliverable in the current month shall be made during the last seven business days of that month and any contracts remaining open must be settled by delivery as provided in Regulation 2509.02 after trading in such contracts has ceased. (10/01/94)

2509.02 Liquidation in the Last Seven Days of the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased in accordance with Regulation 2509.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts may be liquidated by the delivery of book-entry U.S. Treasury Notes (Regulation 2542.01) or by mutual agreement by means of bona fide exchange of such current futures for actual U.S. Treasury Notes or comparable instruments, or by mutual agreement by means of a bona fide exchange of such current futures for, or in connection with, a swap transaction (per Regulation 444.04). Such exchange must, in any event, be made no later than the fifth business day immediately preceding the last business day of the delivery month. (03/01/04)

2536.01 Standards - The contract grade for delivery on futures contracts made under these regulations shall be U.S. notes which have an original maturity of not more than 5 years three months and which have a remaining maturity of not less than four years and two months as defined below. To be delivered in the current month, the note must have been issued by the Treasury before the last day of trading in the current month. All notes or bonds delivered against a contract must be of the same issue. For settlement, the time to maturity of a given issue is calculated in complete one month increments (i.e. 4 years, 5 months and 14 days is taken to be 4 years and 5 months) from the first day of the delivery month. The price at which a note with this time to maturity and with the same coupon rate as this issue will yield 6%, according to bond tables prepared by the Financial Publishing Co. of Boston, Mass., is multiplied by the settlement price to arrive at the amount which the short invoices the long.

Interest accrued on the notes shall be charged to the long by the short in accordance with Department of the Treasury Circular 300, Subpart P.

New issues of U.S. Treasury Notes which satisfy the standards in this regulation shall be added to the deliverable grade as they are issued. If during the auction of a note which will meet the standards of this chapter the Treasury re-opens an existing issue, thus rendering the existing issue indistinguishable from the newly auctioned one, the older issue is deemed to meet the standards of this chapter and would be deliverable. The Exchange shall have the right to exclude any new issue from deliverable status or to further limit outstanding issues from deliverable status. (03/01/00)

2542.01 Deliveries on Futures Contracts - Deliveries against medium term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be by book-entry transfer between accounts of Clearing Members at qualified banks (Regulation 2580.01) in accordance with Department of Treasury Circular 300, Subpart O: Book-Entry Procedure. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the month. Notice of intention to deliver shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 8:00 p.m. (Chicago time), or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the second business day preceding delivery day. In the event the long Clearing Member does not agree with the terms of the invoice received from the short Clearing Member, the long Clearing Member must notify the short Clearing Member, and the dispute must be settled by 9:30 a.m. (Chicago time), or such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must have contract grade U.S. Treasury notes at his bank in acceptable (to his bank) delivery form by 10:00 a.m. (Chicago time) or such other time designated by the Exchange on delivery day. The short Clearing Member must notify his bank (Regulation 2580.01) to transfer contract grade U.S. Treasury notes by book-entry to the long Clearing Member's account on a delivery versus payment basis. That is, payment shall not be made until the notes are delivered. On delivery day, the long Clearing Member must make funds available by 7:30 a.m. (Chicago time) or such other time designated by the Exchange, and notify his bank (Regulation 2580.01) to accept contract grade U.S. Treasury notes and to remit federal funds to the short Clearing Member's account at the short Clearing Member's bank (Regulation 2580.01) in payment for delivery of the notes. Contract grade U.S. Treasury notes must be transferred and payment must be made before 1:00 p.m. (Chicago time) or such other time designated by the Exchange, on delivery day. All deliveries must be assigned by the Clearing Services Provider. Where a futures commission merchant as a clearing member has an interest both long and short for customers on its own books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices of intention to deliver as it received from its customers who are short. (01/01/04)

2542.02 Wire Failure - In the event that delivery cannot be accomplished because of a failure of the Federal Reserve wire or because of a failure of either the long Clearing Member's bank or the short Clearing Member's bank access to the Federal Reserve wire, delivery shall be made before 9:30 a.m. on the next business day on which the Federal Reserve wire is operable. Interest shall accrue to the long paid by the short beginning on the day at which the notes were to be originally delivered.

In the event of such failure, both the long and short must provide documented evidence that the instructions were given to their respective banks in accordance with Regulations 2542.01 and 2549.04 and that all other provisions of Regulations of 2542.01 and 2549.04 have been complied with. (10/01/94)

2546.01 Date of Delivery - Delivery of medium term U.S. Treasury Notes may be made by the short upon any permissible delivery day of the delivery month the short may select. Delivery of medium term U.S. Treasury Notes must be made no later than the last business day of that month. (10/01/94)

2547.01 Delivery Notices - (See Regulation 1047.01) (10/01/94)

2549.02 Buyer's Report of Eligibility to Receive Delivery - (See Regulation 1049.02) (10/01/94)

2549.03 Seller's Invoice to Buyers - Upon determining the buyers obligated to accept deliveries tendered by issuers of delivery notices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly furnish each issuer the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer. Thereupon, sellers (issuers of delivery notices) shall prepare invoices addressed to their assigned buyers,describing the documents to be delivered to each such buyer. Such invoices shall show the amount which buyers must pay to sellers in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider, and adjusted for applicable interest payments. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 2:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the day of intention except on the last intention day of the month, where such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly make them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. (01/01/04)

2549.04 Payment - Payment shall be made in federal funds. The long obligated to take delivery must take delivery and make payment before 1:00 p.m. on the day of delivery, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, except on banking holidays when delivery must be taken and payment made before 9:30 a.m. or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the next banking business day. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its rules, policies and procedures. (01/01/04)

2549.05 Buyers Banking Notification - The long Clearing Member shall provide the short Clearing member by 4:00 p.m. (5:00 p.m. EST) on the day of intention, one business day prior to delivery day, with a Banking Notification. The Banking Notification form will include the following information: the identification number and name of the long Clearing Member; the delivery date; the notification number of the delivery assignment; the identification number and name of the short Clearing Member making delivery; the quantity of the contract being delivered; the long Clearing Member's bank, account number and specific Federal Wire instructions for the transfer of U.S. securities. (12/01/01)

2603.01 Derivative Markets - Settlement prices shall be set in accordance with this regulation consistent with the settlement prices of the primary market. Contract settlement prices therein shall be set equal to the settlement prices of the corresponding contracts of the primary market for such commodity. Where a particular contract has opened on the Exchange for which the primary market has established no settlement price, the Clearing Services Provider shall set a settlement price consistent with the spread relationships of other contracts; provided, however, that if the contract is not subject to daily price fluctuation limits then the settlement price shall be set at the fair market value of the contract at the close of trading. (01/01/04)

2604.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be three-month Eurodollar time deposits in the amount of $500,000. (12/01/01)

2605.01 Months Traded In - Trading in mini-sized Eurodollars futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/01)

2606.01 Price Basis - Minimum price fluctuations shall be one-half of one basis point (0.005) of $500,000 on a 90-day basis, or $6.25 per contract. Prices shall be quoted in terms of an index consisting of the difference between the number 100.00 and the three-month Eurodollar yield on an annual basis for a 360-day year. (For example, a deposit rate of 4.50 percent shall be quoted as 95.50.) Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (12/01/01)

2607.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in mini-sized Eurodollar futures shall be determined by the Exchange. (12/01/01)

2609.01 Last Day of Trading The last day of trading in Eurodollar futures contracts, deliverable in the current month, shall be the second London bank business day immediately preceding the third Wednesday of the contract month. On the last day of trading in an expiring future, the closing time for such future shall be 11:00 a.m. (London time)*, subject to the provisions of Regulation 9B.02. (12/01/01)

*This is 5:00 a.m. (Chicago time) except when Daylight Saving Time is in effect in either, but not both, London or Chicago.

2610.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (12/01/01)

2612.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (12/01/01)

2636.01 Standards - Each contract which is not offset prior to the expiration of trading shall be offset with the clearing house on the second London bank business day immediately preceding the third Wednesday of the contract month at a settlement price established by the International Monetary Market for settlement of its corresponding expiring Three-Month Eurodollar Time Deposits futures contract. If the foregoing date for cash settlement is an Exchange holiday, each contract which is not offset prior to the expiration of trading shall be offset with the Clearing Services Provider on the next succeeding Exchange business day. (01/01/04)

2642.01 Deliveries of Futures Contracts - Deliveries against mini-sized Eurodollar futures contracts must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be made on settlement day and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

The Clearing Services Provider will advise clearing members holding open positions in mini-sized Eurodollar futures contracts deliverable in the current month of the final settlement price established for that month, as soon as practicable on settlement day. Clearing members shall then make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures, based on the settlement price. (01/01/04)

2647.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (12/01/01)

2580.01 Banks - For purposes of these regulations relating to trading in U.S. Treasury notes, the word "Bank" (Regulation 2542.01) shall mean a U.S. commercial bank (either Federal or State charter) that is a member of the Federal Reserve System and with capital (capital, surplus, and undivided earnings) in excess of one hundred million dollars ($100,000,000). (10/01/94)

Chapter 27A (Standard Options)
Long Term Treasury Note Futures Options

Ch27A Trading Conditions

A2701.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00) (10/01/94)

A2701.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/00)

A2702.01 Nature of Long Term Treasury Note Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2707.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2702.02 Nature of Long Term Treasury Note Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2707.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2703.01 Trading Unit - One (1) $100,000 face value Long Term Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

A2704.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per Long Term Treasury Note futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive higher and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty-five (25) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

A2705.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A2706.01 Option Premium Basis - The Premium for Long Term Treasury Note futures options

shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one percent (1%) of a $100,000 Long Term Treasury Note futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.0 0 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A2707.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Long Term Treasury Note futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (01/01/04)

A2707.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2707.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2707.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A2708.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Long Term Treasury Note futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2709.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in Long Term Treasury Note futures options for a thirty six month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Both serial and quarterly options may be listed to expire into either front-month or deferred futures as determined by the Board. (06/01/99)

A2710.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Long Term Treasury Note futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Long Term Treasury Note futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/00)

A2711.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

A2712.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (10/01/94)

A2713.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Long Term Treasury Note futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Long Term Treasury Note futures contract, on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Chapter 27B (Flexible Options)
Long Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Chapter 27B (Flexible Options)
Long Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 2702.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 2701.00, 2701.01, 2702.01, 2702.02, 2705.01, 2706.01, 2710.01, 2711.01, 2712.01, and 2714.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch27B Trading Conditions

B2702.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Long Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Long Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 2707.01, 2707.02, 2708.01, and 2713.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B2703.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B2704.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 32nd's of points per Long Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 32nd point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B2707.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2707.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2708.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04) (07/01/01)

B2709.01 Months Traded In - Trading my be conducted in flexible options in any month up through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (05/01/94)

B2713.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2702.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B2715.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B2716.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B2717.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series. If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 2719.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B2719.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the priority period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B2720.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B2721.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 2702.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

Ch28A Trading Conditions

A2801.00 Authority - Trading in put and call options on futures contracts and on commodities may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (10/01/94).

A2801.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (09/01/00)

A2802.01 Nature of U.S. Treasury Bond Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2807.01), to assume a short position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2802.02 Nature of U.S. Treasury Bond Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 2807.01), to assume a long position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A2803.01 Trading Unit - One (1) $100,000 face value U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

A2804.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract as follows: At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract's previous day's settlement price, the next thirty (30) consecutive higher and the next thirty (30) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least thirty (30) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

A2805.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A2806.01 Option Premium Basis - The Premium for U.S. Treasury Bond futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one percent (1%) of a $100,000 U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per /64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A2807.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a U.S. Treasury Bond futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

(01/01/04)

A2807.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2807.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading.

(01/01/04)

A2807.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A2808.01 Expiration of Option- Unexercised U.S. Treasury Bond futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A2809.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in U.S. Treasury Bond futures options for a thirty-six month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Chapter 28B (Flexible Options)
Treasury Bond Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 2802.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 2801.00, 2801.01, 2802.01, 2802.02, 2805.01, 2806.01, 2810.01, 2811.01, 2812.01, and 2814.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch28B Trading Conditions

B2802.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on U.S. Treasury Bond futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 2807.01, 2807.02, 2808.01, and 2813.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B2803.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B2804.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 32nd's of points per U.S. Treasury Bond futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 32nd point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B2807.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2807.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2808.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2902.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B2809.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in flexible options in any month up through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (10/01/94)

B2813.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 2802.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B2815.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B2816.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B2817.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series.

If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 2819.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B2819.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B2820.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B2821.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 2802.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

Chapter 29
Soybean Futures Options

Ch29 Trading Conditions

2901.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00). (10/01/94)

2901.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Soybean futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Soybean futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00). (10/01/94)

2902.01 Nature of Soybean Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 2907.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

2902.02 Nature of Soybean Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 2907.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

2903.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 5,000 bushel Soybean futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

2904.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of ten (10) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.10, 6.20, 6.30, etc) in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.20, 6.40, 6.60, etc.) and in integral multiples of forty (40) cents per bushel per Soybean futures contract (i.e., 6.00, 6.40, 6.80, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of forty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within $1.10 of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of forty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. a. In integral multiples of ten cents, at the commencement of trading for options that are traded in months in which Soybean futures are not traded, and for standard option months, the business day they become the second deferred month, the following strike prices shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean futures contract and the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes. For example, ten-cent strike price intervals for the September 2000 contract month would be added on June 26, which is the business day after the expiration of the July contract month.

b. Over time, new ten-cent strike prices will be added to ensure that at least five strike prices exist above and below the previous day's trading range in the underlying futures.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (09/01/00)

2905.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

2906.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Soybean futures options shall be in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) of one cent per bushel of a 5,000 bushel Soybean futures contract which shall equal $6.25 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $6.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (10/01/94)

2907.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Soybean futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

2907.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 2907.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

2907.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03

2908.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Soybean futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

2909.01 Months Traded - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Soybean futures options

contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Soybean futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

2910.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Soybean futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Soybean futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Soybean futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

2911.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

2912.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (10/01/94)

2913.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Soybean futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

2914.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits -Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Soybean futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Soybean futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

3204.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of one-half cent per pound per Soybean Oil futures contract (i.e., .210, .215, .220, etc.) for all strikes less than thirty cents and in integral multiples of one cent per pound per Soybean Oil futures contract (i.e., .300, .310, .320, etc.) for all strikes greater than or equal to thirty cents (the "first tier"); and in integral multiples of one cent per pound per Soybean Oil futures contract (i.e., .210, ..220, .230, etc.) for all strikes less than thirty cents and in integral multiples of two cents per pound per Soybean Oil futures contract (i.e., .320, ..340, .360, etc.) for all strikes greater than or equal to thirty cents (the "second tier") as follows:

1. a. Per the first tier, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean Oil futures contract and a consecutive series within 5.5 cents above and below that strike (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. Per the second tier, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. Per the first tier, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that all strikes within 5.5 cents of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. Per the second tier, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

3206.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Soybean Oil futures options shall be in multiples of five thousandths (5/1000) of one cent per pound of a 60,000 pound Soybean Oil futures contract which shall equal $3.00 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may be equal to $1.00 or $2.00 per option contract. (10/01/94)

3207.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Soybean Oil futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Service Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

3207.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3207.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

3207.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final (12/01/03)

3208.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Soybean Oil futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

3209.01 Months Traded - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Soybean Oil futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Soybean Oil futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (09/01/00)

3210.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Soybean Oil futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean Oil futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Soybean Oil futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Soybean Oil futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (03/01/00)

3211.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

3212.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (10/01/94)

3213.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Soybean Oil futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Soybean Oil futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

3214.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Soybean Oil futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Soybean Oil futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (12/01/03)

(See Rule 490.00). (10/01/94)

3302.01 Nature of Soybean Meal Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean Meal futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 3307.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Soybean Meal futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean Meal futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Soybean Meal futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

3302.02 Nature of Soybean Meal Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Soybean Meal futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 3307.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Soybean Meal futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Soybean Meal futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Soybean Meal futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

3303.01 Trading Unit - One (1)100 ton Soybean Meal futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

3304.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of five (5) dollars per ton per Soybean Meal futures contract (i.e., 185, 190, 195, etc.) for all strikes less than two hundred dollars and in integral multiples of ten (10) dollars per ton per Soybean Meal futures contract (i.e., 200, 210, 220, etc.) for all strikes greater than or equal to two hundred dollars (the "first tier"); and in integral multiples of ten (10) dollars per ton per Soybean Meal futures contract (i.e., 200, 210, 220, etc.) for all strikes less than two hundred dollars and in integral multiples of twenty (20) dollars per ton per Soybean Meal futures contract (i.e., 200, 220, 240, etc.) for all strikes greater than or equal to two hundred dollars (the "second tier") as follows:

1. a. Per the first tier, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Soybean Meal futures contract, the next ten consecutive higher strikes and the next ten consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. Per the second tier, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

c. Per the first tier, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that at least ten strikes above and below the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures are listed (the "minimum band").

d. Per the second tier, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to insure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

3. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (07/01/03)

3305.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

3306.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Soybean Meal futures options shall be in multiples of five (5) cents per ton of a 100 ton Soybean Meal futures contract which shall equal $5.00 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (10/01/94)

3307.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Soybean Meal futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or at such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

3307.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3307.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or at such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

3307.03 Correction to Option Exercises - Correction to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clercial errror, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

3308.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Soybean Meal futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

3309.01 Months Traded - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Soybean Meal futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading will be the business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Chapter 35B (Flexible Options)
Medium Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Chapter 35B (Flexible Options)
Medium Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 3502.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 3501.00, 3501.01, 3502.01, 3502.02, 3501.01, 3506.01, 3510.01, 3511.01, 3512.01, and 3514.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch35B Trading Conditions

B3502.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Medium Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Medium Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 3507.01, 3507.02, 3508.01 and 3513.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B3503.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B3504.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 64th's of points per Medium Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 64th point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B3507.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange, shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3507.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3508.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3509.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in flexible options in any month through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (10/01/94)

B3513.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3502.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B3515.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B3516.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B3517.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series.

If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 3519.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B3519.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the priority period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B3520.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (02/01/01)

B3521.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 3502.03 is to permit trading in standard option under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

A3601.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Association as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00.) (09/01/00)

A3602.01 Nature of Short Term U.S. Treasury Note Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 3607.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (10/01/94)

A3602.02 Nature of Short Term U.S. Treasury Note Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 3607.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (10/01/94)

A3603.01 Trading Unit - One (1) $200,000 face value Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract at a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (10/01/94)

A3604.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one-quarter (1/4) point per Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, and the next ten (10) consecutive higher and the next ten (10) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten (10) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

A3605.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (01/01/04)

A3606.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall be in multiples of one half of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($15.625) of a Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract which shall equal $2,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract.

If options are quoted in volatility terms, the minimum price fluctuation shall be .10 percent (i.e.-10.0%, 10.1%, 10.2%, etc.) (07/01/03)

A3607.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day.

01/01/04)

A3607.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3607.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading

01/01/04)

A3607.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (01/01/04)

A3608.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (01/01/04)

A3609.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options for a forty-two month period extending from the nearby contract month, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. Both serial and quarterly options may be listed to expire into either front-month or deferred futures as determined by the Board. (06/01/99)

A3610.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/00)

A3611.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01.) (10/01/00)

A3612.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (10/01/94)

A3613.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures put and call options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Short Term U.S. Treasury Note futures contract on the last Friday which precedes by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, or there is a Friday which is not a business day which precedes by one business day the last business day of the month preceding the option month, the last day of trading shall be the first business day prior to such Friday. (07/01/01)

Chapter 36B (Flexible Options)
Short Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Chapter 36B (Flexible Options)
Short Term Treasury Note Flexible Options

Note: The following Flexible option regulations with the exception noted in the second paragraph of Regulation 3602.03 supersede the corresponding standard regulations presented in Part A of this chapter. Regulations 3601.00, 3601.01, 3602.01, 3602.02, 3605.01, 3606.01, 3610.01, 3611.01, 3612.01, and 3614.01 remain in effect for both standard and Flexible options.

Ch36B Trading Conditions

B3602.03 Nature of Flexible Options - Flexible options on Short Term Treasury Note futures shall be permitted in puts and calls which do not have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options.

However, Flexible Options on Short Term Treasury Note futures shall also be permitted in puts and calls which have the same underlying futures contract, same strike price, same exercise style, and same last day of trading as standard options that are not at the time listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. All Flexible Option regulations except 3607.01, 3607.02, 3608.01 and 3613.01 will pertain for these options.*

Trading shall be permitted in any CBOT recognized option/option or option/futures spread involving puts, calls or futures. (09/01/00)

B3603.01 Trading Unit - The minimum size for requesting a quote and/or trading in a flexible option series is 50 contracts, where each contract represents one of the underlying futures contracts at the Chicago Board of Trade. Parties may request a quote and/or trade for less than 50 contracts in order to entirely close out a position in a flexible series.

For a flexible options series, respondents to a request for quote, must be willing to trade at least 50 contracts, with the exception that a respondent may trade less than 50 contracts if the respondent is entirely closing out a position in the series. (07/01/99)

B3604.01 Strike Prices - Strike prices for flexible options must be specified in points and 64th's of points per Short Term Treasury Note futures contract. However, for a Request for Quote (RFQ), strike prices may be specified in one 64th point increments relative to the underlying futures contract. Strike prices cannot be outside the range of the currently listed strike prices for standard options. (06/01/95)

B3607.01 Exercise of Flexible Options - Notification of the intent to exercise a flexible option must be received by the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange. No exceptions to the 6:00 p.m. exercise deadline, or such other deadline designated by the Exchange shall be permitted.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3607.02 Automatic Exercise - After the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money flexible options will be automatically exercised unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange on that day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3608.01 Expiration Date - Flexible option expiration may be specified for any Monday through Friday that is not an Exchange holiday except that expiration may not occur following the last Friday that precedes by at least two business days the last business day of the calendar month preceding the underlying future contract month. Flexible options expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last trading day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (01/01/04)

B3609.01 Months Traded In - Trading may be conducted in flexible options in any month up through the most distant underlying futures contract in which a trade has occurred. (10/01/94)

B3613.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in a flexible option shall be the expiration day.

However, options which meet the criteria given in the second paragraph of Flexible Option Regulation 3602.03 will follow expiration and exercise procedures as specified in the standard option regulations. (05/01/94)

B3615.01 Exercise Style - Flexible options may be American or European exercise style. (10/01/94)

B3616.01 Underlying Futures Contract for Flexible Options - The underlying futures contract for a flexible option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract month of the nearest March quarterly cycle standard futures option expiring on or after the expiration of the flexible option. (10/01/94)

B3617.01 Initiating a Flexible Option Contract Series - The opening of trading in any flexible option series shall occur through the submission of an RFQ or at such time that a trade takes place in the particular flexible option series.

If so desired, participants can submit additional RFQ's for any open series. However, in this situation no priority period (Regulation 3619.01) will exist. (02/01/01)

B3619.01 RFQ Trading Interval - If the submitter of the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series requests either a bid or an offer but not both, then they shall have up to a one minute priority period during which they shall have the sole right to either buy or sell as specified in their RFQ. The exact length of the priority period shall be determined by the Exchange.

If more than one RFQ is the first RFQ of the day in a flexible series, all the RFQ's individually ask for either a bid or an offer but not both, and all the RFQ's collectively are for the same side of the market (all bids or all offers) then the submitters shall jointly share priority during the priority period.

Priority for RFQ's is determined by submission to the RFQ official, except that all RFQ's submitted before the open shall be treated equally. (02/01/01)

B3620.01 Expiration of an RFQ - Trading in a given flexible option series following an RFQ shall remain open for the remainder of the trading session. Trading in a given flexible option series following a transaction in that series shall remain open through the remainder of the trading session in which the transaction was executed and through each subsequent session in which there is open interest in the flexible option series. (002/01/01)

B3621.01 Reporting of Flexible Option Trades - It shall be the responsibility of the participants in a flexible option trade to report the quantities and prices to the flexible pit reporter in a timely manner, including any later trades in open flexible contract term series. (10/01/94)

* The effect of the second paragraph of Regulation 3602.03 is to permit trading in standard options under certain Flexible trading procedures prior to the listing of such options in the standard options pit or on e-cbot. Once and if these options are listed for trading in the standard options pit or on e-cbot, they will be traded only in the standard options pit or on e-cbot subject to standard options trading requirements. Upon such listing, all existing open positions established under Flexible trading procedures shall be fully fungible with transactions in the respective standard option series for all purposes under these regulations.

CBOT Rough Rice Futures

Chapter 37
CBOT Rough Rice Futures

Ch37 Trading Conditions

3700.01 Introduction - This chapter is limited in application to futures trading in rough rice. The procedures for trading, clearing, inspection, delivery, settlement and any other matters not specifically covered herein shall be governed by the Rules and Regulations of the Exchange. (11/01/94)

*3701.01 Contract Specifications - All futures contracts shall be for U.S. No. 2 or better long grain rough rice as the same is established by standards promulgated by the United States Department of Agriculture (U.S.D.A.) at the time of the first day of trading in a particular contract. No heat-damaged kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.0 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. No stained kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.1 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. A maximum of 75 lightly discolored kernels as defined by USDA FGIS Interpretive Line Slide 2.2 are permitted in a 500-gram sample. No other grade is deliverable.

To be deliverable, rough rice shall have a milling yield of not less than 65%, including not less than 48% head rice. Each percent of head rice over or below 55% shall receive a 1.5% premium or discount, respectively, toward the settlement price for long grain rough rice and each percent of broken rice over or below 15% shall receive a .75% premium or discount, respectively. All rough rice shall be of a Southern origin or such other origin as the Exchange may approve. (11/01/03)

3701.02 Trading Months and Hours - Futures contracts shall be traded initially for delivery during the months of September, November, January, March, May and July of each year. The number of months to be open at one time shall be at the discretion of the Exchange. Trading shall be conducted from 9:15 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Chicago Time, except in the expiring contract on the last day of trading when trading shall cease at 12:00 Noon. (11/01/98)

3701.03 Trading Unit - The unit of trading shall be 2,000 hundredweight (200,000 pounds). (11/01/94)

3701.04 Price Increments - All bids and offers shall be in multiples of $.005 per hundredweight. (11/01/94)

3701.05 Daily Price Limits - (See 1008.01) (11/01/94)

3701.06 Termination of Trading - No trades shall be made during the last seven business days of the trading month. Any trades remaining open during this period shall be settled by delivery or a bona fide exchange of futures for the cash commodity or over-the-counter transaction. (01/01/03)

3701.07 Contract Modifications - Contract specifications shall be fixed as of the first day of trading of the contract and must conform to government grading standards in force at that time. If any federal governmental agency issues an order, ruling, directive or law that conflicts with requirements of these regulations, such order, ruling, directive or law shall be construed to become part of these regulations, and all new contracts shall be subject to such governmental orders. (11/01/94)

3701.08 Position Limits and Trading Limits - (See Regulation 425.01) (11/01/94)

3702.01 Delivery by Warehouse Receipts - Deliveries of rough rice shall be made only by delivery of rough rice warehouse receipts issued by warehouses located in the Arkansas counties of Craighead, Jackson, Poinsett, Woodruff, Cross, St. Francis, Lonoke, Prairie, Monroe, Jefferson, Arkansas and DeSha and designated by the Exchange as regular. Rough rice warehouse receipts issued by otherwise regular warehouses licensed under the U.S. Warehouse Act shall be eligible for delivery in satisfaction of Exchange contracts regardless of whether such warehouses are or are not also licensed by any state. In order to effect a valid delivery, each receipt shall (a) be endorsed by holder making delivery; (b) be marked "INSURED"; (c) indicate payment for storage charges up to and including the 18th day of the preceding month; (d) be negotiable; (e) be registered with the registrar of the Exchange; (f) specify the warehouse; and (g) specify the grade, milling yield and quantity of the rough rice stored; and (h) specify that the rough rice meets the CBOT standards for heat-damaged, stained and lightly stained kernels. Unpaid accumulated storage charges shall be allowed and credited to the buyer by the seller up to and including the date of delivery.

Endorsement by the holder shall constitute a warranty of the genuineness of the warehouse receipt and of good title thereto, but shall not constitute a guarantee of performance by the issuer. (10/01/03)

3702.02 Registration of Warehouse Receipts - Registration of rough rice warehouse receipts shall be subject to the following requirements:

A. Warehouses which are regular for delivery may have their warehouse receipts registered at any time with the Official Registrar and in accordance with the requirements issued by the Registrar. If the warehouseman determines not to tender the warehouse receipt by 4.00 p.m. on the day it is registered, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the warehouseman shall declare the receipt has been withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the warehouse receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility. The holder of a registered warehouse receipt may cancel its registration at any time. A warehouse receipt which has been canceled may not be registered again.

B. Except in the case of delivery on the last delivery day of a delivery month, in which case the warehouse receipt must be registered before 1:00 p.m. on the last delivery day of the delivery month, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, the rough rice warehouse receipt must be registered before 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on notice day, the business day prior to the day of delivery. If notice day is the last business day of a week, rough rice warehouse receipts must be registered before 3:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on that day.

C. The Registrar shall issue a daily report showing the total number of warehouse receipts under registration as of 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on each trading day of the week. In addition to the information posted on the Exchange floor and the CBOT website, this daily report shall show the names of warehouses whose receipts are registered. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

D. From his own records, the Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of receipts that are registered and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website. The record shall not include any receipts that have been declared withdrawn.

E. When a warehouseman regains control of his own registered receipt, the warehouseman shall by 4:00 p.m. of that business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, either cancel the registration of said receipt or declare that said receipt is withdrawn but is to remain registered by transmitting to the Registrar the receipt number and the name and location of the warehouse facility, except in the case where a notice of intention to redeliver said receipt for the warehouseman has been tendered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, of the day that the warehouseman regained control of said receipt. (12/01/03)

3702.03 Delivery Dates - For the trading months of January, March, May, July, September and November, delivery may be made by the seller upon any business day of the delivery month the seller may select. Delivery must be made no later than the last business day of the delivery month. (11/01/94)

3702.04 Storage - Rough rice shall be stored in a bin or bins in a warehouse declared regular by the Exchange, and may contain rough rice from one or more different lots of the same quality and milling yield. Rough rice may be added to or withdrawn from such lots, provided any rice added shall be of the same quality and milling yield and shall conform to the specifications of this chapter and any withdrawal shall not reduce the amount of rice stored in such lots to an amount less than the total amount required to satisfy all outstanding warehouse receipts issued thereagainst. (11/01/94)

3702.05 Par Delivery Unit - Par delivery is 2,000 hundredweight (200,000 pounds) of U.S. No. 2 or better long-grain rough rice. A weight variation of 1% shall be permitted, such variation to be priced at the previous day's settlement price if the expiring future is still trading and at the expiration price of the nearest previous future if no expiring future is trading. (11/01/94)

3702.06 Par Delivery Point - The par delivery points for rough rice shall be mill site warehouses within the boundaries of the Arkansas counties of Craighead, Jackson, Poinsett, Woodruff, Cross, St. Francis, Lonoke, Prairie, Monroe, Jefferson, Arkansas and DeSha. Designation as a mill site warehouse shall be determined by the Exchange. Rough rice may be delivered in satisfaction of the rough rice futures contract at rice mill warehouses regular for delivery at the contract price. Rough rice may be delivered at regular warehouses within the twelve-county area which are not at mill sites in accordance with a schedule of discounts established and published by the Exchange pursuant to 3702.07. No warehouse regular for delivery of rough rice shall be located outside the twelve Arkansas counties listed above. (11/01/94)

3702.07 Delivery Differentials - Delivery of rough rice in satisfaction of the rough rice futures contract at regular warehouses other than regular mill site warehouses shall be subject to a delivery differential of -15 cents per hundredweight (cwt.) subject to the following:

1. At the time of filing an initial or renewal application for regularity, a warehouse shall be required to declare whether or not it is a mill site warehouse as defined in Appendix A.

2. If a regular mill site warehouse (non-mill site warehouse) renews regularity as a non-mill site warehouse (mill site warehouse) for a two-year term beginning July 1, the change in the delivery differential will become effective for the new crop delivery month of September within that two-year term.

3. Whenever the Exchange receives a bona fide renewal application for regularity which will cause the warehouse's delivery differential to change for the next crop year, a notice of the receipt of the application will be posted on the floor of the Exchange after the close of the market that day.

4. A warehouse which has been declared regular for delivery as a non-mill site warehouse (mill site warehouse) for a current regularity term ending June 30 may not be declared regular for delivery as a mill site warehouse (non-mill site warehouse) during the balance of that term.

Pursuant to the provisions of this regulation, 3702.06 and Appendix A of these rules and regulation, the Exchange shall publish a list of all regular warehouses and the applicable discount.

3702.08 Delivery and Loading Out - Delivery shall be made on the basis of the actual weight of rough rice loaded into rail cars or trucks. A load-out charge not to exceed the tariff as filed with the Exchange in accordance with 3704.01.H shall be paid by the buyer to cover loading and weighing. The maximum load-out charge for the loading-out of rough rice against a rough rice registered warehouse receipt is 22.222 cents per cwt. which will be subject to an evaluation by the Exchange at the time of renewal of regularity of rice warehouses. An increase or decrease in the maximum load-out charge for rough rice may become effective 30 days after a notice has been posted on the Exchange floor. The notice will state the amount of the maximum load-out charge, the applicable warehouse receipts and the date that the charge will become effective.

Load-outs shall begin not later than the third business day following the day on which loading instructions are given to the warehouseman; provided, however, that the withdrawing party has within that period furnished rail cars or trucks to receive the rice. The warehouseman shall be required to load-out rice at the normal rate of load-out for the facility, but not less than 20 trucks or its equivalent weight loaded-out in rail cars per business day and shall be able to load out the warehouse's entire regular capacity in 45 calendar days or less. A party taking delivery shall receive the quantity ordered loaded out as soon as reasonably possible but no more than 45 calendar days after load-out begins. Rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-out rates when transportation equipment is not clean and load ready, inspection services are not available, a condition of force majeure exists, or inclement weather prevents loading.

In addition, rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet the minimum load-out rate for rail cars when rail cars have been constructively placed for load-in prior to constructive placement of rail cars for load-out. However, when rail cars for load-out are constructively placed after rail cars for load in, the warehouse will load-in grain from the rail cars at the normal rate of load-in for the facility. This rate shall not be less than the equivalent weight of 20 trucks loaded-in from rail cars. Rough rice regular warehouses shall not be required to meet these minimum load-in rates when a condition of force majeure exists, inspection services are not available or inclement weather prevents unloading.

The warehouse operator is not obligated to commence load-out of rough rice to a given party sooner than three business days after he receives canceled warehouse receipts and written loading instructions from such party, even if such party may have a conveyance positioned to accept load-out of rough rice before that time. If the party taking delivery presents transportation equipment of a different type (rail or truck) than that specified in the loading instructions, he is required to provide the warehouse operator with new loading orders, and the warehouse operator shall not be obligated to begin load-out of rough rice to such party sooner than three business days after he receives the new loading orders. Written loading orders received after 2:00 p.m. (Chicago time) on a given business day shall be deemed to be received on the following business day.

The warehouseman upon receipt of the canceled receipts by his agent and loading instructions from the owner by 2:00 p.m. on a given day, shall notify the owner by telex or telefax by 4:00 p.m. on that given day the scheduled day for load-out. The daily tariff load-out rate and the amount of tonnage which is scheduled for load-out before owner's load-out shall also be provided in the notification.

The owner upon acceptance of the scheduled load-out date, and if he so requests on a given day prior to load-out, shall receive a telex or telefax from the warehouseman specifying the amount of tonnage remaining before owner's equipment is loaded.

The warehouseman upon cancellation of loading instructions on any business day prior to the day of actual loading of rice, and if requested by the owner, shall reissue and register warehouse receipts for the amount of rough rice which remains unloaded. Storage fees shall begin on the date of re-issuance of the new warehouse receipts.

Storage charges on rough rice to be shipped pursuant to loading instructions shall cease no later than three calendar days following the day on which canceled warehouse receipts are surrendered or loading instructions are given, whichever occurs later; provided, however, that the owner makes transportation available for loading on the scheduled load-out date or has not canceled loading instructions.

The warehouse operator shall be permitted a two percent deviation above or below the yield of head rice shown on the warehouse receipt issued for delivery on the contract. The warehouse operator shall also be permitted a two percent deviation above or below the total milling yield shown on the warehouse receipt issued for delivery on the contract.

The warehouse operator is responsible for maintaining the milling yield of rice specified on said warehouse receipt, within the stated allowable deviations, for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt and not for sub-lots (i.e. truckloads) of said warehouse receipt. The warehouse operator is also responsible for maintaining the numerical grade of rice specified on said warehouse receipt for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt for the total quantity of rice represented by said warehouse receipt, however, the numerical grade for sub-lots (i.e., truckloads) shall be no more than one numerical grade below the deliverable grade specified in 3701.01. Averaging the grade or milling yield of multiple receipts is not permissible.

When the rough rice is ordered out-of-store, the warehouse operator will be reimbursed by the buyer in cash if the total milling yield or the yield of head rice of the rice loaded out is over the total milling yield or the yield of head rice listed on the warehouse receipt (up to two percent).

Conversely, the warehouse operator will reimburse the buyer in cash if the total milling yield or the yield of head rice of the rice loaded out is under the total milling yield or the yield of head rice listed on the warehouse receipt (up to two percent). Calculations shall be made daily for each receipt loaded out that day and shall be based on the nearby month rough rice future's settlement price on the day of load out. Such payments to or from the warehouse operator for excess or deficit head and broken rice shall be at the premium and discount schedule specified in 3701.01, Contract Specifications. Adjustments on the milling yield of head rice shall be based on an official test.

Both the buyer and the warehouseman will provide for an analysis of the rough rice for grade and milling yield. If there is a disagreement, then a duplicate sample taken at origin shall be analyzed by the Federal Grain Inspection Service (FGIS), or a mutually agreed-upon third party to resolve the disagreement.

Notwithstanding the above, the buyer retains the right, at his expense, to an official sampling and anaylsis by FGIS, or a mutually agreed-upon third party, at orgin, of rough rice loaded-out at any time. (03/01/97)

3702.09 Notice of Intention - A clearing member intending to deliver shall, not later than 4:00 p.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange, on position day, the second business day prior to the intended delivery day, provide to the Clearing Services Provider a notice of intention in the form prescribed by the Exchange. On the last notice day of the delivery month, however, delivery notices may be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider until 2:00 p.m., or such other time designated by the Exchange. No intra-office delivery may be made. If a clearing member has both long and short interest on its books, it must tender to the Clearing Services Provider such notices as it receives from its customers who are short. Prior to the opening of the market of the following business day, the Clearing Services Provider shall pass such notice to the clearing member having the oldest long contract as of the close of trading on the day of receipt by the Clearing Services Provider of the notice of intent (position day).

Upon receipt of the names of the buyers obligated to accept delivery from him and a description of each commodity tendered by him which was assigned by the Clearing Services Provider to each such buyer, the seller shall prepare invoices addressed to its assigned buyers describing the amount which buyers must pay to the seller in settlement of the actual deliveries, based on the delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider for that purpose adjusted for applicable premiums, discounts, storage charges, quantity variations and other items for which provision is made in these rules and regulations and other items for which provision is made in these rules and regulations relating to contracts. Such invoices shall be delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 4:00 p.m. on notice day or such other time designated Exchange. Upon receipt of such invoices, the Clearing Services Provider shall promptly made them available to buyers to whom they are addressed. A buyer receiving such an invoice from the Clearing Services Provider shall, not later than 1:00 p.m. of the following day, or such other time designated Exchange present the invoice at the office of the seller by whom it was issued together with a certified check for the amount due, and thereupon warehouse receipts shall be delivered by the seller to the buyer.

3703.01 Weighing - Weighing shall be done in accordance with the current custom of the trade. The official shipped weight so obtained shall be final provided, however, that railroad weights shall be acceptable and shall be final if the negotiable warehouse receipt holder and the seller so agree in writing. (11/01/94)

3703.02 Storage Charges - Storage charges on rough rice shall not exceed such charges as have been filed with the Exchange in accordance with 3704.01H. (which shall be designed to cover costs of storage, insurance and taxes).

No rough rice warehouse receipts shall be valid for delivery on futures contracts unless the storage charges shall have been paid up to and including the 18/th/ day of the preceding month and such payment endorsed on the rough rice warehouse receipt. Unpaid accumulated storage charges at the posted tariff applicable to the warehouse where the rough rice is stored shall be allowed and credited to the buyer by the seller to and including date of delivery.

If storage charges up to and including the 18/th/ calendar day preceding the delivery months of March, July and September and are not paid by the first calendar day of any such delivery month, a late charge will apply. The late charge will be an amount equal to the total unpaid accumulated storage charges multiplied by the "prime interest rate" in effect on the day that the accrued storage charges are paid, all multiplied by the number of calendar days that storage is overdue divided by 360 days. The term "prime interest rate" shall mean the lowest of the rates announced by each of the following four banks at Chicago, Illinois, as its "prime rate": Bank of America-Illinois, Bank One, Harris Trust & Savings Bank and the Northern Trust Company.

Storage on rough rice shall not exceed 34/100 of a cent per hundredweight per day.

Regular Rough Rice warehousemen shall maintain in the immediate vicinity of the Exchange either an office, or a duly authorized representative or agent which is a registered clearing member of the Exchange to whom Rough Rice storage charges must be paid. (11/01/03)

3704.01 Conditions of Regularity for Warehouses - The following shall constitute the minimum requirements and conditions for regularity of Rough Rice warehouses:

A. The warehouse shall at all times meet standards of construction, sanitation and dust control, insurability and physical maintenance applicable generally to commercial warehouses.

B. It shall be situated with respect to transportation facilities deemed adequate by the Exchange.

C. It shall be located in such states as the Exchange may designate from time to time as delivery locations for Rough Rice.

D. It shall be in good financial standing and credit, and shall meet the minimum financial requirements and financial reporting requirements set forth in Appendix 37D. It shall file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require. The Exchange may, at its option, waive bond requirements.

E. It shall maintain all licenses required by state or federal law.

F. It shall have standard equipment and appliances for the convenient and expeditious receiving, handling and shipping of Rough Rice in bulk, in railroad cars, and in trucks, and shall be properly safeguarded and patrolled.

G. It shall cooperate with the Exchange's system of registration of negotiable warehouse receipts and furnish to the Exchange all needed information to enable it to keep a correct record and account of all Rough Rice remaining in store and receipts issued as of the close of each week.

H. It shall file its tariffs listing in detail the maximum charges for the handling and storage of Rough Rice, and thereafter it shall file with the Exchange any proposed changes in such tariffs. The effective date of the change will be on the first day of the month that follows a two-month time period after the day a written notice of the change is received by the Exchange.

I. It shall not engage in unethical conduct, or fail to be operated in accordance with accepted commercial practices or fail to comply with governmental statutes, rules and regulations governing warehouses and the commodities stored therein.

J. It shall make such reports, keep such records, and permit such warehouse visitations and examinations of documents as the Exchange, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission pursuant to Commission Regulation 1.44(a) - (c) and the United States Department of Justice may prescribe or undertake; it shall comply with all applicable rules, regulations and orders promulgated by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission and with all requirements established by the Exchange because of such rules or orders.

K. The Exchange may determine not to approve warehouses for regularity or increases in regular capacity of existing regular warehouses, in its sole discretion, regardless of whether such warehouses meet the preceding requirements and conditions. Some factors that the Exchange may, but is not required to, consider in exercising its discretion may include, among others, whether warehouse receipts issued by such warehouses, if tendered in satisfaction of futures contracts, might be expected to adversely affect the price discovery function of Rough Rice futures contracts or impair the efficacy of futures trading in Rough Rice, or whether the currently approved regular capacity provides for an adequate deliverable supply. (01/01/04) thereafter, for the respective years beginning July 1, 1994 and every even year thereafter, and shall be on the same form.

As part of its application for regularity, the warehouseman expressly agrees to consent to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Exchange for five (5) years after regularity lapses for conduct pertaining to regularity which occurred while the warehouse was regular.

3704.03 Duties of Warehousemen - It shall be the duty of operators of all regular warehouses:

A. RESERVED

B. To notify the Exchange of any change in the condition of their warehouse which might materially affect their physical or financial ability to continue to meet the requirements for regularity under these rules and regulations. Any warehouse must immediately notify the Exchange of any material reduction of its capital, including the incurring of a contingent liability which would materially affect capital should such liability become fixed. Such notice must be in writing and signed by an officer of the warehouse.

   For purposes of this requirement, a reduction amounting to twenty percent (20%) or more from the total capital reported as of the last date for which a financial statement was filed under this requirement shall be deemed material. In determining total capital, there shall be taken into consideration equities and deficits in all proprietary accounts properly included in the determination of net worth.

C. To insure adequately and fully commodities covered by warehouse receipts tendered for delivery against loss by fire, tornado and the contingencies provided for in the standard form of "extended coverage" endorsements or policies. Commodities shall be deemed so insured when the warehouse shall maintain such insurance for the benefit of all depositories of grain under tariffs, rules or regulations authorized and promulgated under the authority of the United States Warehouse Act. In any warehouse declared regular by the Exchange, the charge for insurance on commodities delivered on futures contracts shall be limited to a maximum of $1.00 per $100.00 evaluation annually. Any charges for insurance in excess of this amount shall be paid by the warehouseman.

D. To remove no commodity covered by negotiable warehouse receipts registered with the Exchange from the designated warehouse or, if appropriate, from the designated bond save at the request of the negotiable warehouse receipt holder upon surrender of the receipt.

E. To register with the Exchange all negotiable warehouse receipts relating to commodities for which the warehouse is declared regular and to cancel such registrations before releasing property.

F. To have a representative in Chicago, Illinois authorized and known to the Exchange to act in matters pertaining to negotiable warehouse receipts including shipping instructions.

G. To load vehicles furnished by holders of negotiable warehouse receipts of the Exchange within the time specified by these rules and regulations.

H. To furnish the Exchange with copies of policies or certificates of insurance under which deliverable commodities in the warehouse are insured.

I. To deliver commodities ordered out of the warehouse in buyer's vehicles within such times as specified by these rules and regulations showing no preference in out-loading, unless conditions such as acts of God, fire, flood, windstorm, explosion or other force majeure interfere therewith; provided, the warehouse shall make no charge for storage after three days following receipt of the load-out order notwithstanding delivery is prevented because of such act of God, etc.

   If no time period for out-loading is set forth in the rules or regulations of a given contract, load-out under such contract shall occur not later than three business days after vehicles are ready for loading, except as provided herein.

J. To inspect the transportation facilities furnished by the negotiable warehouse receipt holder. If, in the warehouseman's judgement, cleaning is necessary, he shall immediately notify the receipt holder and thereafter abide by the holder's instructions.

K. To load each vehicle to its capacity providing sufficient negotiable warehouse receipts are tendered.

L. To bear the costs of all expenses contingent upon transfer of title of the warehoused commodity to another regulated warehouse satisfactory to the owners of such commodity in the event of expiration or revocation of regularity or in the event of abandonment or sale of the properties where regularity is not reissued. (11/01/94)

3704.04 Safeguarding Condition Of Stored Commodities -

A. Whenever in the opinion of the operator of the warehouse any commodity stored in a public warehouse under his jurisdiction should be loaded out in order to protect the best interests of the parties concerned, such operator shall notify the Exchange giving the location and grades of such commodity. The Exchange shall immediately notify an appropriate inspection service which shall at once proceed to the warehouse in which the commodity is stored and examine it in conjunction with the operator of such warehouse. If the inspection service agrees with the operator that the commodity should be moved, it shall so notify the Registrar. If the inspection service does not agree with the operator that the commodity should be moved, the operator of the warehouse shall have the right to appeal to the Business Conduct Committee of the Exchange. If on such appeal the Business Conduct Committee shall agree with the operator that the commodity should be moved, the committee shall so notify the Registrar, and the warehouse receipts covering the above specified lot or lots shall no longer be regular for delivery on futures contracts. Upon receiving such notice, either from the inspection service or from the Business Conduct Committee, the Registrar shall notify the holder, or holders, or their agents, together with the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, of the total quantity of the grade of commodity in question (selecting the oldest registered warehouse receipt first, then such additional registered warehouse receipts in the order of their issuance as may be necessary to equal such total quantity of the commodity).

When this information reaches the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee, he shall appoint a Committee consisting of five disinterested handlers of the cash commodity. This Committee shall meet at once and after taking into consideration various factors that establish the value of the grade of the receipts held by such owner or owners, shall determine the fair value of the commodity, which price shall be that to be paid by the operator. If the price offered is not satisfactory, a Committee appointed by the Chairman of the Business Conduct Committee (at the request of such owner), shall procure other offers for such commodity, and such offers shall be immediately reported to the owner or his agent. If the owner refuses to accept any such offers, he shall have the two following business days to order and furnish facilities for loading the commodity out of store, and during this period the warehouse shall be obliged to deliver the commodity called for by the warehouse receipts, but not more than three (3) days may elapse after notification by the Registrar to the holder of the receipt before satisfactory disposition shall have been made of the commodity, either by sale to the operator or by the ordering out and furnishing facilities to load the same, provided the amount of such commodity does not exceed 20,000 hundredweight of rough rice in any one warehouse. If the amount of commodity in question exceeds such amount, the owner, or owners, of the warehouse receipts shall be allowed forty-eight hours of grace over and above the aforementioned three days for each additional 20,000 hundredweight.

B. In the event that the holder of the warehouse receipt, or his agent, fails to move the commodity or make other satisfactory disposition of same within the prescribed time, it shall be held for his account, and any loss in grade sustained shall likewise be for his account.

C. Nothing in the foregoing provisions shall be construed as prohibiting the warehouseman from fulfilling contracts from other stocks under his control. (11/01/94)

3704.05 Damage To Commodity In Store - Notice - The operator of a warehouse shall promptly advise the Exchange of any damage to a commodity held in store by it whenever such damage shall

occur to an extent that will render it unwilling to purchase and withdraw from store, at its cost, all such damaged commodity. (11/01/94)

3704.06 Revocation of Regularity - Any declaration of regularity may be withdrawn by the Exchange at any time if the warehouse does not comply with the conditions above set forth or fails to carry out prescribed duties; providing, however, the Exchange has theretofore given notice to the warehouseman of the deficiencies and a reasonable time, under the circumstances, to cure them.

If the designation is revoked, the Exchange shall post such revocation on the bulletin board together with the period of time, if any, during which the negotiable warehouse receipts issued by the warehouse will be deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts.

Once such period of time, if any, has expired, and the negotiable warehouse receipts issued by the warehouse are no longer deliverable in satisfaction of futures contracts, the warehouse shall bear the cost of the transfer of the warehoused commodity to another regulated warehouse, in accordance with 3704.03, paragraph L. (11/01/94)

3704.07 Federal Warehouses - In compliance with the provisions of Section 5a(7) of the Commodity Exchange Act, providing that the commodity may be delivered from a warehouse subject to the United States Warehouse Act, 7 U.S.C. Sections 241-273, a receipt issued under that Act shall be accepted for delivery on any futures contract provided the commodity represented by the receipt meets contract specifications and the warehouse issuing the receipt meets the requirements imposed by this chapter on all other warehouses. (11/01/94)

3704.08 Finality of USDA Or Other Required Inspection Certificate - The Exchange assumes no responsibility and disclaims all liability on account of the grade, quantity or specifications of any commodity delivered on the basis of a USDA or other required inspection certificate. Such certificate shall constitute conclusive evidence of the grade, quantity or other specifications of the commodity described therein. (11/01/94)

3705.01 Delivery Through Clearing Services Provider - All deliveries on maturing contracts shall be made through the Clearing Services Provider. The Clearing Services Provider shall prescribe such forms and requirements for initiating and completing delivery as are consistent with this chapter and the various contract specification chapters. (12/01/03)

3705.02 Payment Upon Delivery - The receiver of a Notice of Intention from the Clearing Services Provider shall present the delivery invoice at the office of the deliverer not later than 1:00 p.m. on the next business day, i.e., delivery day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, together with a certified or cashier's check drawn on a Chicago bank, and shall receive therefore, properly endorsed, warehouse receipts or shipping certificates in accordance with the Notice and any other contract documents required under these rules and regulations.

If said delivery day is a banking holiday, delivery and payment must be made before 9:30 a.m. the next banking business day, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, and the seller shall be responsible for storage charges up to and including that banking holiday. Adjustments for differences between contract prices and delivery prices established by the Clearing Services Provider shall be made with the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with its Regulations. (12/01/03)

3705.03 Necessity Of Possession Of Documents - The deliverer shall at such time as the Notice of Intent is delivered to the Clearing Services Provider have possession of all documents (except a warehouse receipt in the case of a redelivery) necessary to make good delivery. (12/01/03)

3705.04 Suspended Member Out Of Line For Delivery - When a clearing member who has open purchases is suspended from the Clearing Services Provider for default or insolvency, he shall be deemed out of line for delivery and tender shall be made to the buyer obligated upon the next oldest contract. Also, if tender be made to a buyer who is thereafter suspended for default or insolvency before delivery is accepted, the Notice shall be withdrawn and another immediately served upon the buyer obligated upon the next oldest contract. (12/01/03)

3705.05 Failure to Deliver - A clearing member who has not tendered a Notice on or before 8:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day in a delivery month on which such notice is permitted shall be in default. Failure to make delivery shall constitute improper conduct.

If a clearing member fails to fulfill its delivery obligation, the non-defaulting clearing member must notify the Clearing Services Provider of such failure as soon as possible. If, and only if, the non-defaulting clearing member notifies the Clearing Services Provider of the failure no later than sixty minutes after the time the delivery obligation was required to have been fulfilled, then the Clearing Services Provider shall pay to the non-defaulting clearing member reasonable damages proximately caused by the default.

The Clearing Services Provider shall not be obligated to either: (1) pay any damages greater than the difference between the delivery price of the specific commodity and the reasonable market price of such commodity at the time delivery was required; or (2) make or accept delivery of the actual commodity; or (3) pay any damages relating to the accuracy, genuineness, completeness, or acceptableness of warehouse receipts, shipping certificates, or any similar documents; or (4) pay any damages relating to the failure or insolvency of banks, depositories, warehouses, shipping stations, or similar organizations or entities that may be involved with a delivery.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member. (12/01/03)

3705.06 Failure To Accept Delivery -

If a clearing member fails to accept delivery, the seller tendering such delivery shall promptly sell the commodity for the account of the buyer. If the proceeds are insufficient to pay the seller the full delivery price, the clearing member failing to accept delivery shall be liable for the difference.

If a clearing member is unable or refuses to make full payment to the seller, the Clearing Services Provider shall bear the seller's loss in the first instance.

All delivery obligations of a clearing member to another clearing member, which are not fulfilled by the clearing member, shall be deemed an obligation of the defaulting clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider. These obligations must be fulfilled to the Clearing Services Provider within sixty minutes of the time the obligations were required to be fulfilled to the non-defaulting clearing member.

Failure to accept delivery or make full payment shall also constitute improper conduct. (12/01/03)

3705.07 Transfer Of Cash For Futures After Termination Of Contract - Subject to the Exchange approval, a transfer of cash merchandise for futures may be permitted during the contract month after termination of the contract.

Such transfer of cash for futures shall be cleared through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal procedures and shall be made at the prices as are mutually agreed upon by the two parties to the transaction. Such transfers shall be clearly designated by proper symbol as transfer transactions and shall be recorded by the Exchange and the clearing member to the transactions, and proper notice given to the membership. Each party to such transaction must satisfy the Exchange that the transaction is bona fide and must file with the Clearing Services Provider all memoranda necessary to establish the nature of the transaction, the kind and quantity of the cash commodity, the kind, quantity and price of the commodity future, the names of all clearing members to the transaction and such other information as the Clearing Services Provider or Exchange may require.

Such transfer of cash for futures shall bear the normal commission charges pursuant to deliveries. (12/01/03)

3705.08 Risk Of Loss And Charges -

A. Title and the risk of loss or damage pass to the buyer at the time of delivery of the warehouse receipts.

B. The deliverer shall be responsible for all warehouse charges until the time when title passes and thereafter the receiver shall be responsible.

C. The receiver shall be responsible for all inspection and weighing charges at load-out. (11/01/94)

Ch38 Trading Conditions

3801.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00). (04/01/04)

3801.01 Application of Regulations -Transactions in put and call options on Rough Rice futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on Rough Rice futures contracts (See Rule 490.00). (04/01/04)

3802.01 Nature of Rough Rice Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) Rough Rice futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 3807.01), to assume a short position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Rough Rice futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (04/01/04)

3802.02 Nature of Rough Rice Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) Rough Rice futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration, (subject to Regulation 3807.01), to assume a long position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) Rough Rice futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (04/01/04)

3803.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 2,000 hundredweight Rough Rice futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (04/01/04)

3804.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices (the "strikes") in integral multiples of twenty (20) cents per hundredweight per Rough Rice futures contract (i.e., 7.80, 8.00, 8.20, etc.) and in integral multiples of forty (40) cents per hundredweight per Rough Rice futures contract (i.e., 8.00, 8.40, 8.80, etc.) as follows:

1. a. In integral multiples of twenty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: one with a strike closest to the previous day's settlement price of the underlying Rough Rice futures contract, the next five consecutive higher and the next five consecutive lower strikes (the "initial band"). If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two strikes, the closest price shall be the larger of the two.

   b. In integral multiples of forty cents, at the commencement of trading for an option contract, the following strikes shall be listed: the next four consecutive strikes above the initial band.

   c. In integral multiples of twenty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that all strikes within $1.10 of the previous day's trading range of the underlying futures contract are listed (the "minimum band").

   d. In integral multiples of forty cents, over time, strikes shall be added as necessary to ensure that the next four consecutive strikes above the minimum band are listed.

   e. No new strikes may be added by these procedures in the month in which an option expires.

2. All strikes will be listed prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedures for the introduction of strikes as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

3806.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for Rough Rice futures options shall be in multiples of $0.0025 per hundredweight of a 2,000 hundredweight Rough Rice futures contract which shall equal $5.00 per contract.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (04/01/04)

3807.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a Rough Rice futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (04/01/04)

3807.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 3807.01, after the close on the last day of trading, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (04/01/04)

3807.03 Corrections to Option Exercises - Corrections to option exercises may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (04/01/04)

3808.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised Rough Rice futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (04/01/04)

3809.01 Months Traded - Trading may be conducted in the nearby Rough Rice futures options contract month plus any succeeding months, provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which Rough Rice futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the February option contract is the March futures contract. (04/01/04)

3810.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on Rough Rice futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the closing time for such options shall be the same as the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Rough Rice futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring Rough Rice futures options shall be closed with a public call made striking price by striking price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. On all other days, Rough Rice futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and striking prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (04/01/04)

3812.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (04/01/04)

3813.01 Last Day of Trading - No trades in Rough Rice futures options expiring in the current month shall be made after the close of trading of the Regular Daytime open outcry trading session for the corresponding Rough Rice futures contract on the last Friday which precedes, by at least two business days, the last business day of the month preceding the option month. If such Friday is not a business day, the last day of trading shall be the business day prior to such Friday. (04/01/04)

3814.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Trading is prohibited during any day except for the last day of trading in a Rough Rice futures option at a premium of more than the trading limit for the Rough Rice futures contract above and below the previous day's settlement premium for that option as determined by the Clearing Services Provider. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (04/01/04)

Chapter 39
Bund Futures

Chapter 39
Bund Futures

Ch39 Trading Conditions

3901.01 Authority - Trading in Bund futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

3902.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Bund futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Bund futures. Bund futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

3904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be Bundesanleihen (Bunds) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany, having face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof, and having remaining term to maturity between 8 years 6 months and 10 years 6 months. (04/01/04)

3905.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Bund futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

3906.01 Price Basis - The price of Bund futures contracts shall be quoted in points and hundredths of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

3907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in Bund futures shall be determined by the Exchange. Trading in an expiring Bund futures contract shall cease at 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/04)

3909.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in a Bund futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month. If the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the last trading day of said Bund futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day. (04/01/04)

3909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 3909.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 3942.01. (04/01/04)

3910.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

3912.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (04/01/04)

3936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 8 years 6 months and 10 years 6 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 3942.01. The price, P, at which any Bund that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

3942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Bund futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 3936.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 3936.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

where n is the number of Bunds that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\, i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 3936.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. Bobl Futures

Bobl Futures

Ch40 Trading Conditions

4001.01 Authority - Trading in Bobl futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

4002.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Bobl futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Bobl futures. Bobl futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

4004.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be Bundesanleihen (Bunds) and Bundesobligationen (Bobls) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany, having face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof, and having remaining term to maturity between 4 years 6 months and 5 years 6 months. (04/01/04)

4005.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Bobl futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

4006.01 Price Basis - The price of Bobl futures contracts shall be quoted in points and hundredths of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

4007.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in Bobl futures shall be determined by the Exchange. Trading in an expiring Bobl futures contract shall cease at 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/04)

4009.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in a Bobl futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month. If the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the last trading day of said Bobl futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day. (04/01/04)

4009.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4009.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4042.01. (04/01/04)

4010.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

4012.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (04/01/04)

4036.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund) or Bundesobligation (Bobl) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 4 years 6 months and 5 years 6 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4042.01. The price, P, at which any Bund or Bobl that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund or Bobl, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund or Bobl will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund or Bobl that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

4042.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Bobl futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 4036.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 4036.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

where n is the number of Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\, i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds and Bobls that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 4036.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. (04/01/04)

Schatz Futures

Ch41 Trading Conditions

4101.01 Authority - Trading in Schatz futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/04)

4102.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in Schatz futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in Schatz futures. Schatz futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/04)

4104.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be Bundesanleihen (Bunds), Bundesobligationen (Bobls), and Bundesschatzanweisungen (Schatz) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany, having face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof, and having remaining term to maturity between 1 year 9 months and 2 years 3 months. (04/01/04)

4105.01 Months Traded In - Trading in Schatz futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (04/01/04)

4106.01 Price Basis - The price of Schatz futures contracts shall be quoted in points and halves of one hundredth of one point. One point shall equal EUR 1,000, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one hundredth (0.01) of one point, or EUR 10 per contract, except for intermonth spreads, for which the minimum price fluctuation shall be one half of one hundredth (0.005) of one point, or EUR 5 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/04)

4107.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in Schatz futures shall be determined by the Exchange. Trading in an expiring Schatz futures contract shall cease at 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/04)

4109.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in a Schatz futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month. If the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the last trading day of said Schatz futures contract shall be the second Frankfurt business day that precedes the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day. (04/01/04)

4109.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4109.01), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4142.01. (04/01/04)

4110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (04/01/04)

4112.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (04/01/04)

4136.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be any Bundesanleihe (Bund), Bundesobligation (Bobl), or Bundesschatzanweisung (Schatz) issued by the Federal Republic of Germany that has:

(a) face value at maturity of one hundred thousand euros (EUR 100,000) or multiples thereof;

(b) original issue size of at least two billion euros (EUR 2,000,000,000);

(c) remaining term to maturity between 1 year 9 months and 2 years 3 months as of the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month (or, if the tenth calendar day of the contract's delivery month is not a Frankfurt business day, then the Frankfurt business day immediately following the tenth calendar day).

Determination of contract final settlement price shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4142.01. The price, P, at which any Bund, Bobl, or Schatz that meets contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price shall be:

P = M / CF , where:

M is the market price of said Bund, Bobl, or Schatz, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the last trading day of said futures contract, as determined and furnished to the Exchange by the Exchange's approved price data provider. Said market price shall be represented in points and hundredths of points, and par shall be on the basis of 100 points.

CF is a conversion factor, computed and published by the Exchange, that reflects the price (per face value at maturity of one euro (EUR 1)) at which said Bund, Bobl, or Schatz will yield 6% per annum.

If the Exchange's approved price data provider fails to report said market price on the last day of trading for any Bund, Bobl, or Schatz that meets contract grade, then the contract final settlement price shall be based upon market prices, as of 12:30 p.m. Central Europe time on the next Frankfurt business day for which prices are reported by the Exchange's approved price data provider, for all Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade. (04/01/04)

4142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against Schatz futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, contract final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the Exchange's approved price data provider has furnished to the Exchange market prices for the last day of trading for all Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade (as prescribed in Regulation 4136.01). For exceptions to this schedule, see Regulation 4136.01.

The contract final settlement value shall be determined as:

EUR 1,000 x Minimum{P\\1\\...P\\i\\...P\\n\\}

where n is the number of Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade, and the P\\i\\ , i = 1 through n inclusive, are the prices at which Bunds, Bobls, and Schatz that meet contract grade shall enter into determination of the contract final settlement price (as prescribed in Regulation 4136.01).

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one thousandth (0.001) of a price point, i.e., the nearest EUR 1. In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent thousandths of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest thousandth of a price point. Chapter 42
WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note Futures

Chapter 42
WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note Futures

Ch42 Trading Conditions

4201.01 Authority - Trading in When Issued (WI) 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (05/01/04)

4202.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures. WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (05/01/04)

4204.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading for a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall be approximately $500,000 notional par value of a 2-year U.S. Treasury note regularly scheduled for auction during the contract's delivery month.

The phrases "regularly scheduled" and "regularly schedule," as used here and elsewhere in this chapter in reference to auctions of 2-year U.S. Treasury notes, will describe any note that is scheduled (i) to be auctioned within a given calendar month and (ii) to be issued with a dated date that coincides with the last day of said calendar month. A tentative schedule of forthcoming auctions is published quarterly, generally in the first week of February, May, August, and November, by the Office of Domestic Finance of the U.S. Treasury Department. (05/01/04)

4205.01 Months Traded In - Trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (05/01/04)

4206.01 Price Basis - The price of WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contracts shall be quoted on an index basis of 100 minus the yield of the 2-year Treasury note auction regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month (e.g., a yield of 6.50% is quoted at 93.50). One basis point (0.01) shall be equal to $92.92. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one quarter of one basis point (0.0025), which is equal to $23.23. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (05/01/04)

4207.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be determined by the Exchange. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct.

Trading in an expiring WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall cease at 5:00 p.m. New York time on the contract's last day of trading. (05/01/04)

4209.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day in an expiring WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract shall be the day of the auction of 2-year U.S. Treasury notes regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contact, then the last day of trading in the WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract with the corresponding delivery month shall automatically become the business day preceding the last calendar day of the delivery month. (05/01/04)

4209.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4209.01 of this chapter), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4242.01. (05/01/04)

4210.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (05/01/04)

4212.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (05/01/04)

4236.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be 100 minus the final settlement yield of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 4204.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 4209.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement yield shall be the outcome of the 2-year U.S. Treasury note auction regularly scheduled during the contract's delivery month, as published by the U.S. Treasury Department, rounded to the nearest one quarter (1/4) of one basis point.

In the event that the final settlement yield is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one basis point, the final settlement yield will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of one basis point.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, then the final settlement yield for the contract with the corresponding delivery month shall be the 2-year Treasury constant maturity yield for the contract's last day of trading (as specified under this contingency in Regulation 4209.01), as published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in its Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release ("Selected Interest Rates"). Said Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release generally will be published on the first business day following the last day of trading. (05/01/04)

4242.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Final settlement yield shall be calculated on the last day of trading, after the U.S. Treasury Department has announced the auction result.

If the U.S. Treasury Department cancels a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or postpones by at least one business day a regularly scheduled 2-year note auction, or declines to regularly schedule the auction of a 2-year note in a delivery month for which the Exchange already has listed a WI 2-Year U.S. Treasury Note futures contract, then the final settlement yield shall be calculated after the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has published the pertinent Daily Update to the H.15 Statistical Release (as specified under this contingency in Regulation 4236.01). (09/01/00)

4303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (11/01/97)

4304.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be $10.00 times the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM). The Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) is a price-weighted composite index of 30 stocks. (11/01/97)

4305.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are March, June, September and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (11/01/97)

4306.01 Price Basis - The price of the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures shall be quoted in points. One point equals $10.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one point per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/97)

4307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures shall be determined by the Board.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (11/01/97)

4308.01 Price Limits and Trading Halts - (See Regulation 1008.01) (11/01/97)

Index futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the trading day immediately preceding the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 4342.03). (11/01/97)

4309.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 4309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4342.01. (11/01/97)

4310.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (11/01/97)

4312.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (11/01/97)

Ch 43 Delivery Procedures

4336.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 4342.02) of the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 4342.03). (11/01/97)

4342.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index Futures contract must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 4342.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Services Provider in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 4342.02). (12/01/03)

4342.02 Final Settlement Price - The final settlement price shall be determined on the final settlement day. The final settlement price shall be $10 times a Special Open Quotation (SOQ) of the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index based on the opening prices of the component stocks in the index, or on the last sale price of a stock that does not open for trading on the regularly scheduled day of final settlement (as described in Regulation 4342.03).

If the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") does not open on the day scheduled for the determination of the final settlement price, then the NYSE-stock component of the final settlement price shall be based on the next opening prices for NYSE stocks. (11/01/97)

4342.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the third Friday of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) is not published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) is scheduled to be published. (11/01/97)

4347.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04.) (11/01/97)

4402.01 Nature of CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index Futures Put Options- The buyer of one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 4407.01), to assume a short position in one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (11/01/97)

4402.02 Nature of Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index Futures Call Options -The buyer of one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 4407.01), to assume a long position in one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (11/01/97)

4404.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one hundred (100) index points per CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average Index futures contract and in integral multiples of two hundred (200) index points per CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract as follows:

A. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in one hundred point intervals shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average Index futures contract and the next twenty consecutive higher and the next twenty consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty one hundred point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in two hundred point intervals shall be listed: the next ten consecutive higher and the next ten consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 4404.01(A). Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten striking prices in two hundred point intervals always exist above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 4404.01(A).

C. At the end of each quarterly cycle, the Exchange shall reset every listed month's strike prices to conform with Regulation 4404.01(A) and Regulation 4404.01(B). The newly calculated strike price band will be based on the final settlement price on the last business day of the quarterly cycle of the underlying futures contract. The Exchange will delist all previously listed strike prices that are not one of the newly calculated strike prices, provided that the strike to be delisted has neither call nor put open interest.

D. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (11/01/03)

4405.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

4406.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be in multiples of one-half (1/2) of one index point of a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures contract which shall equal $5.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $5.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (11/01/97)

4407.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (12/01/03)

4407.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 4407.01, for options with quarterly expirations, all in-the-money2 options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, or such other time designated by the Exchange, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 4407.01, for options with non-quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the last day of trading, or such other time designated by the Exchange, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider.

For options with quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the business day following the last day of trading. For options with non-quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (12/01/03)

4408.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options with quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading.

Unexercised CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options with non-quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading. (11/01/97)

4409.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are January through December at the discretion of the Exchange; provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the October or November option contract is the December futures contract. (01/01/98)

4410.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on CBOT Dow Jones Industrial

/2/ An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call than the exercise price for the option.

Average(SM) Index futures contracts shall be determined by the Board. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. On the last day of trading in an expiring option, the expiring CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be closed with a public call, made strike price by strike price, conducted by such persons as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (11/01/97)

4411.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (10/01/00)

4412.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (11/07/97)

4413.01 Last Day of Trading - For options expiring on the quarterly cycle, trading shall terminate at the same date and time as the underlying futures contract. For options that expire in months other than those in the quarterly cycle, options trading shall terminate on the third Friday of the option contract month, at the end of the regular trading session. If that day is not an Exchange business day, options trading shall terminate on the first preceding business day. (11/01/97)

4414.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Option premium limits for the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index futures options shall correspond to the daily trading limit in effect at that time for the underlying futures contract as specified in Regulation 1008.01F. There shall be no trading in any option contract during a period in which trading in the underlying future is halted as specified in Regulation 1008.01F. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (11/01/97)

4414.02 Trading Halts on e-cbot - There shall be no trading in any option contract during e-cbot trading hours when the CBOT Dow Jones Industrial Average(SM) Index primary futures contract is limit bid or limit offered at the e-cbot price limit. (09/01/00)

10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures

Chapter 49
10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures

Ch49 Trading Conditions

4901.01 Authority - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (11/01/01)

4902.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (11/01/01)

4904.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be the notional price of the fixed-rate side of a 10-year interest rate swap that has notional principal equal to $100,000, and that exchanges semiannual interest payments at a fixed rate of 6% per annum, measured according to a 30/360 daycount convention, for floating interest rate payments, based on the 3-month London interbank offered rate (hereafter, LIBOR) and measured according to an actual/360 daycount convention, and that otherwise conforms to the terms prescribed by the International Swap and Derivatives Association, Inc. (hereafter, ISDA) for the purpose of computing the daily fixing of ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps. (06/01/02)

4905.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (11/01/01)

4906.01 Price Basis - The price of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be quoted in points. One point equals $1,000.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one thirty-second (1/32) of one point or thirty-one dollars and twenty-five cents ($31.25) per contract except for intermonth spreads, where minimum price fluctuations shall be in multiples of one-fourth of one thirty-second point per 100 points ($7.8125 per contract. Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/02)

4907.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said futures contract, subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. That is, on the last day of trading in an expiring future, a bell shall be rung at 11:00 a.m. New York time designating the beginning of the close of the expiring future. Trading shall be permitted thereafter for a period not to exceed one minute, and quotations made during this time shall constitute the close. Following the above-described closing procedure, the Modified Closing Call will be conducted in accordance with Regulation 1007.02. The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously or in such other manner as the Regulatory Compliance Committee shall direct. (06/01/02)

4909.01 Last Day of Trading - The last trading day of a 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be the second London business day before the third Wednesday of the contract's delivery month. (11/01/01)

4909.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading has ceased in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month (in accordance with Regulation 4909.01 of this chapter), outstanding contracts shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 4942.01. (11/01/01)

4910.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (11/01/01)

4912.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (11/01/01)

Ch49 Delivery Procedures

4936.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 4904.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 4909.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 10-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap for the last day of trading, as published on the last day of trading on Reuters page ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. Dollar interest rate swaps). Determination of the final settlement price on the basis of said ISDA Benchmark Rate shall be as prescribed in Regulation 4942.01 of this chapter.

Hereafter in this chapter, the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 10-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap shall be referenced as "the ISDA Benchmark," and ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps) shall be referenced as "Reuters".

If Reuters fails to report the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading on the last day of trading, then the final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark for the next available business day to be reported by Reuters. (06/01/02)

4942.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading after Reuters has published the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading. Generally, such publications will occur at 11:30 a.m. New York time on the last day of trading. For exceptions to this, see 4936.01.

The final settlement value shall be determined as follows:

$$\text{Final Settlement Value} = $100{,}000 * [6/r + (1\text{-}6/r)*(1 + 0.01*r/2)/\text{-}20/]$$

where r represents the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.25.

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one quarter of one thirty-second of a price point.

Example: Suppose the ISDA Benchmark on the last day of trading is 5.50. The final settlement value will be $103,806.81. To render this in terms of price points and quarters of thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 103-25.75/32nds and 103-26/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000) --

103-26/32nds	=	$ 103,812.50
Final settlement value	=	$ 103,806.81
103-25.75/32nds	=	$103,804.6875

The final settlement value is nearer to 103-25.75/32nds. Thus, the final settlement price is obtained by rounding down to 103-25.75/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one thirty-second of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of a thirty-second of a price point. (12/01/03)

4947.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (11/01/01)

Chapter 50
10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Ch50 Trading Conditions

5000.01 Authority - Trading in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (12/01/02)

5001.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00.) Options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (12/01/02)

5002.01 Nature of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5007.01), to assume a short position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (12/01/02)

5002.02 Nature of 10-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5007.01), to assume a long position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (12/01/02)

5003.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (12/01/02)

5004.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one (1) point per 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract, the next twenty-five (25) consecutive higher and the next twenty-five (25) consecutive lower strike prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty-five (25) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

5005.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (12/01/03)

5006.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($1,000.00) of a 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (07/01/03)

5007.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be automatically exercised in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer.

Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option.

5008.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the day of termination of trading. (See Regulation 5013.01.) (12/01/03)

5009.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/02)

5010.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said option contract subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. 10-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Exchange shall direct. 5110.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03). (07/01/02)

5112.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01). (07/01/02)

Ch51 Delivery Procedures

5136.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price of the unit of trading (as defined in Regulation 5104.01 of this chapter) on the last day of trading (as defined in Regulation 5109.01 of this chapter).

The final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 5-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap for the last day of trading, as published on the last day of trading on Reuters page ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. Dollar interest rate swaps). Determination of the final settlement price on the basis of said ISDA Benchmark Rate shall be as prescribed in Regulation 5142.01 of this chapter.

Hereafter in this chapter, the ISDA Benchmark Rate for a 5-year U.S. dollar interest rate swap shall be referenced as the "the ISDA Benchmark," and ISDAFIX1 (or other Reuters page as shall be designated by ISDA for the purpose of publishing and disseminating ISDA Benchmark Rates for U.S. dollar interest rate swaps) shall be referenced as "Reuters".

If Reuters fails to report the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading on the last day of trading, then the final settlement price shall be based upon the ISDA Benchmark for the next available business day to be reported by Reuters. (07/01/02)

5142.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be made by cash settlement through the Clearing Services Provider following normal variation margin procedures. Generally, final settlement value (defined below) shall be calculated on the last day of trading after Reuters has published the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading. Generally, such publications will occur at 11:30 a.m. New York time on the last day of trading. For exceptions to this, see 5136.01.

The final settlement value shall be determined as follows:

$$\text{Final Settlement Value} = $100{,}000 * [\ 6/r + (\ 1-6/r)*(1 + 0.01*r/2)^{-10}\ ]$$

where r represents the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading, expressed in percent terms. For example, if the ISDA Benchmark for the last day of trading is five and one quarter percent, then r is equal to 5.250.

The final settlement price shall be the final settlement value, so determined, rounded to the nearest one quarter of one thirty-second of a price point.

Example: Suppose the ISDA Benchmark on the last day of trading is 5.500. The final settlement value will be $102,160.02. To render this in terms of price points and quarters of thirty-seconds of price points, note that it is between 102-05/32nds and 102-05.25/32nds (where each price point equals $1,000) --

102-05.25/32nds	$102,164.0625
Final settlement value	$ 102,160.02
102-05/32nds	$ 102,156.25

The final settlement value is nearer to 102-05/32nds. Thus, the contract expiration price is obtained by rounding down to 102-05/32nds.

In the event that the final settlement value is at the exact midpoint between any two adjacent quarters of one thirty-second of a price point, the final settlement price will be obtained by rounding up to the nearest one quarter of a thirty-second of a price point. (12/01/03)

5147.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04) (07/01/02)

Chapter 52
5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Chapter 52
5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Options

Ch52 Trading Conditions

5200.01 Authority - Trading in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (12/01/02)

5201.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this Chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00.) Options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (12/01/02)

5202.01 Nature of 5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5207.01), to assume a short position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (12/01/02)

5202.02 Nature of 5-Year Interest Rate Swap Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5207.01), to assume a long position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month at a strike price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. (12/01/02)

5203.01 Trading Unit - One (1) 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract of a specified contract month on the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (12/01/02)

5204.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one-half (1/2) point per 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract. At the commencement of trading for such option contracts, the following striking prices shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures contract, the next fifteen (15) consecutive higher and the next fifteen (15) consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time, new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least fifteen (15) striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price on the underlying futures. All new striking prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day.

The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of strike prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (04/01/04)

5206.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be in multiples of one sixty-fourth (1/64) of one point ($1,000.00) of a 5-Year Interest Rate swap futures contract which shall equal $15.625 per 1/64 and $1,000 per full point.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $15.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (07/01/03)

5207.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures option may exercise the option on any business day up to and including the day such option expires by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. In-the-money options that have not been liquidated or exercised on the last day of trading in such option shall be automatically exercised in the absence of contrary instructions delivered to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m. Chicago time, or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading by the clearing member representing the option buyer.

Corrections to option exercises, including automatic exercises, may be accepted by the Clearing Services Provider after the 6:00 p.m. deadline and up to the beginning of final option expiration processing provided that such corrections are necessary due to: (1) a bona fide clerical error, (2) an unreconciled Exchange option transaction(s), or (3) an extraordinary circumstance where the clearing firm and customer are unable to communicate final option exercise instructions prior to the deadline. The decision whether a correction is acceptable will be made by the President of the Clearing Services Provider, or the President's designee, and such decision will be final. (12/01/03)

An option is in-the-money if the settlement price of the underlying futures contract is less in the case of a put, or greater in the case of a call, than the exercise price of the option.

5208.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the day of termination of trading. (See Regulation 5013.01.) (12/01/03)

5209.01 Months Traded In - Trading in 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options may be scheduled in such months as determined by the Exchange. (12/01/02)

5210.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures shall be determined by the Board. Trading in an expiring option contract shall cease at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the last trading day of said option contract subject to the otherwise applicable provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. 5-Year Interest Rate Swap futures options shall be opened and closed for all months and strike prices simultaneously or in such a manner as the Exchange shall direct. (12/01/02)

5211.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (12/01/02)

5212.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (12/01/02)

5213.01 Last Day of Trading - Trading in an expiring option contract shall terminate at the same time and date as the underlying futures contract, that is, at 11:00 a.m. New York time on the second London business day before the third Wednesday of the underlying futures contract's delivery month. (12/01/02)

Ch53 Trading Conditions

5301.01 Authority - Trading in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by regulation. (04/01/02)

5302.01 Application of Regulation - Futures transactions in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) contracts. CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) futures are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (04/01/02)

5303.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If the delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (04/01/02)

5304.01 Unit of Trading -- The unit of trading shall be $5.00 times the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/. The Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ is a price-weighted index of 30 of the largest and most liquid U.S. stocks. (04/01/02)

5305.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are March, June, September and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (04/01/02)

5306.01 Price Basis - The price of CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) futures shall be quoted in index points. One index point is worth $5.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be one point per contract ($5.00). Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (04/01/02)

5307.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5.00 multiplier) shall be determined by the Board.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the Exchange shall direct. (04/01/02)

5308.01 Price Limits and Trading Halts - (See Regulation 1008.01.) (04/01/02)

5309.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the trading day immediately preceding the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5342.03). (04/01/02)

5309.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 5309.01 of this chapter, outstanding contracts for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 5342.01. (04/01/02)

/1/ "Dow Jones/SM/", "The Dow/SM/", Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/" and "DJIA/SM/" are service marks of Dow Jones & Company, Inc. and have been licensed for use for certain purposes by the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. The CBOT's futures and futures option contracts based on the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ are not sponsored, endorsed, sold or promoted by Dow Jones/SM/, and Dow Jones/SM/ makes no representation regarding the advisability of trading in such products.

5310.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03.) (04/01/02)

5312.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01.) (04/01/02)

Ch 53 Delivery Procedures

5336.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5342.02) of the CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ ($5 multiplier) on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5342.03). (04/01/02)

5342.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contract must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 5342.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinafter provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT(R) mini-sized Dow/SM/ futures ($5 multiplier) contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Corporation in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5342.02). (12/01/03)

If the designated primary market for a component stock does not open on the day scheduled for the determination of the final settlement price, then the final settlement price shall be based on the next opening price for the component stock.

If a component stock does not trade on the day scheduled for determination of the final settlement price while the primary market for the stock is open for trading, the last sale price of the stock will be used to calculate the final settlement price. (04/01/02)

5342.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the third Friday of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ is not scheduled to be published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones Industrial Average/SM/ is scheduled to be published. (04/01/02)

5401.00 Authority - (See Rule 2801.00) (02/01/04)

5401.01 Application of Regulations - Transactions in put and call options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter which are exclusively applicable to trading in put and call options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts. (See Rule 490.00) (02/01/04)

5402.01 Nature of CBOT mini-sized Dow Futures Put Options - The buyer of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures put option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5407.01), to assume a short position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures put option incurs the obligation of assuming a long position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a put option buyer. (02/01/04)

5402.02 Nature of CBOT mini-sized Dow Futures Call Options - The buyer of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures call option may exercise his option at any time prior to expiration (subject to Regulation 5407.01), to assume a long position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was purchased. The seller of one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures call option incurs the obligation of assuming a short position in one (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month at a striking price set at the time the option was sold, upon exercise by a call option buyer. 5403.01 Trading Unit - One (1) CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract of a specified contract month on the Chicago Board of Trade. (02/01/04)

5404.01 Striking Prices - Trading shall be conducted for put and call options with striking prices in integral multiples of one hundred (100) index points per CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract and in integral multiples of two hundred (200) index points per CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract as follows:

A. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in one hundred point intervals shall be listed: one with a striking price closest to the previous day's settlement price on the underlying CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract and the next twenty consecutive higher and the next twenty consecutive lower striking prices closest to the previous day's settlement price. If the previous day's settlement price is midway between two striking prices, the closest price shall be the larger of the two. Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least twenty one hundred point striking prices always exist above and below the previous day's settlement price in the underlying futures.

B. At the commencement of trading for quarterly and non-quarterly expirations, the following strike prices in two hundred point intervals shall be listed: the next ten consecutive higher and the next ten consecutive lower strike prices above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 5404.01(A). Over time new striking prices will be added to ensure that at least ten striking prices in two hundred point intervals always exist above and below the strike price band as stipulated in Regulation 5404.01(A).

C. At the end of each quarterly cycle, the Exchange shall reset every listed month's strike prices to conform with Regulation 5404.01 (A) and Regulation 5404.01(B). The newly calculated strike price band will be based on the final settlement price on the last business day of the quarterly cycle of the underlying futures contract. The Exchange will delist all previously listed strike prices that are not one of the newly calculated strike prices, provided that the strike to be delisted has neither call nor put open interest.

D. All new strike prices will be added prior to the opening of trading on the following business day. The Exchange may modify the procedure for the introduction of striking prices as it deems appropriate in order to respond to market conditions. (02/01/04)

5405.01 Payment of Option Premium - The option premium must be paid in full by each clearing member to the Clearing Services Provider and by each option customer to his futures commission merchant at the time that the option is purchased, or within a reasonable time after the option is purchased. (02/01/04)

5406.01 Option Premium Basis - The premium for CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options shall be in multiples of one index point of a CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contract which shall equal $5.

However, when both sides of the trade are closing transactions, the option premium may range from $1.00 to $4.00 in $1.00 increments per option contract. (02/01/04)

5407.01 Exercise of Option - The buyer of a CBOT mini-sized Dow futures option may exercise the option on any business day prior to expiration by giving notice of exercise to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on such day. (02/01/04)

5407.02 Automatic Exercise - Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 5407.01, for options with quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider. Notwithstanding the provisions of Regulation 5407.01, for options with non-quarterly expirations, all in-the-money options shall be automatically exercised after 6:00 p.m. on the last day of trading, unless notice to cancel automatic exercise is given to the Clearing Services Provider

For options with quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the business day following the last day of trading. For options with non-quarterly expirations, notice to cancel automatic exercise shall be given to the Clearing Services Provider by 6:00 p.m., or by such other time designated by the Exchange, on the last day of trading. (02/01/04)

5408.01 Expiration of Option - Unexercised CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options with quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the business day following the last day of trading.

Unexercised CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options with non-quarterly expirations shall expire at 7:00 p.m. on the last day of trading.

5409.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are January through December at the discretion of the Exchange; provided however, that the Exchange may determine not to list a contract month. For options that are traded in months in which CBOT mini-sized Dow futures are not traded, the underlying futures contract is the next futures contract that is nearest to the expiration of the option. For example, the underlying futures contract for the October or November option contract is the December futures contract. (02/01/04)

5410.01 Trading Hours - The hours of trading of options on CBOT mini-sized Dow futures contracts shall be determined by the Exchange. On the last day of trading in an expiring option the closing time for such option shall be the same as the underlying futures contract, subject to the provisions of the second paragraph of Rule 1007.00. (02/01/04)

5411.01 Position Limits and Reportable Positions - (See Regulation 425.01) (02/01/04)

5412.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.05) (02/01/04)

5413.01 Last Day of Trading - For options expiring on the quarterly cycle, trading shall terminate at the same date and time as the underlying futures contract. For options that expire in months other than those in the quarterly cycle, options trading shall terminate on the third Friday of the option contract month, at the end of the regular trading session. If that day is not an Exchange business day, options trading shall terminate on the first preceding business day. (02/01/04)

5414.01 Option Premium Fluctuation Limits - Option premium limits for the CBOT mini-sized Dow futures options shall correspond to the daily trading limit in effect at that time for the underlying futures contract as specified in Regulation 1008.01D. There shall be no trading in any option contract during a period in which trading in the underlying future is halted as specified in Regulation 1008.01D. On the first day of trading, limits shall be set from the lowest premium of the opening range. (02/01/04)

5414.02 Trading Halts on e-cbot - There shall be no trading in any option contract during e-cbot trading hours when the CBOT mini-sized Dow primary futures contract is limit bid or limit offered at the e-cbot price limit. (02/01/04)

5415.01 Disclaimer -

CBOT(R) Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index (SM) Futures/1/

Ch56 Trading Conditions

5601.01 Authority - Trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures may be conducted under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by Regulation. (11/01/01)

5602.01 Application of Regulations - Futures transactions in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) ("DJ-AIGCI(SM)") futures contracts shall be subject to the general rules of the Exchange as far as applicable and shall also be subject to the regulations contained in this chapter, which are exclusively applicable to trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures. CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts are listed for trading by the Exchange pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission exchange certification procedures. (11/01/01)

5603.01 Emergencies, Acts of God, Acts of Government - If delivery or acceptance or any precondition or requirement of either, is prevented by strike, fire, accident, act of government, act of God or other emergency, the seller or buyer shall immediately notify the Chairman. If the Chairman determines that emergency action may be necessary, he shall call a special meeting of the Board and arrange for the presentation of evidence respecting the emergency condition. If the Board determines that an emergency exists, it shall take such action under Rule 180.00 as it deems necessary under the circumstances and its decision shall be binding upon all parties to the contract. (11/01/01)

5604.01 Unit of Trading - The unit of trading shall be $100.00 times the Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) Futures Price Index which corresponds to each futures contract.

The Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) (DJ-AIGCI(SM)) is a liquidity and world production, dollar-weighted, arithmetic average of prices of up to 23 exchange-traded physical commodity futures contracts which satisfy specified criteria. The futures price index is calculated as the fair value of the basket of futures contracts in the DJ-AIGCI(SM) for a specific contract month. The futures price index is identical to the calculation of the weighted average value (WAV1) of the lead futures in the DJ-AIGCI(SM) divided by four (4) and rounded to one decimal place. The futures price index incorporates no rolling forward of futures contracts and is quoted only until the expiration of the corresponding DJ- AIGCI(SM) futures contract. For any January contract, the futures price index shall be determined using the prior year's DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications. February through December contracts shall use the current year's DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications. The DJ-AIGCI(SM) specifications criteria, calculation, and roll procedures are defined in the Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) Handbook. (09/01/02)

5605.01 Months Traded In - The months listed for trading are January, February, April, June, August, October and December, at the discretion of the Exchange. (11/01/01)

5606.01 Price Basis - The price of the CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures shall be quoted in points. One point equals $100.00. The minimum price fluctuation shall be 0.1 (1/10) points per contract ($10.00 per contract). Contracts shall not be made on any other price basis. (11/01/01)

5607.01 Hours of Trading - The hours of trading for future delivery in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures shall be determined by the Exchange.

The market shall be opened and closed for all months simultaneously, or in such other manner as the

Exchange shall direct. (11/01/01)

5608.01 Price Limits and Trading Halts - There are no price limits for CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures. (11/01/01)

5609.01 Last Day of Trading - The last day of trading in CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts deliverable in the current delivery month shall be the eleventh business day of the contract month (as described in Regulation 5642.03). (11/01/01)

5609.02 Liquidation During the Delivery Month - After trading in contracts for future delivery in the current delivery month has ceased, in accordance with Regulation 5609.01 of this chapter, outstanding contract for such delivery shall be liquidated by cash settlement as prescribed in Regulation 5642.01. (11/01/01)

5610.01 Margin Requirements - (See Regulation 431.03) (11/01/01)

5636.01 Standards - The contract grade shall be the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5642.02) of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index on final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5642.03). (11/01/01)

5642.01 Delivery on Futures Contracts - Delivery against the CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contracts must be made through the Clearing Services Provider. Delivery under these regulations shall be on the final settlement day (as described in regulation 5642.03) and shall be accomplished by cash settlement as hereinunder provided.

Clearing members holding open positions in a CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures contract at the time of termination of trading shall make payment to and receive payment through the Clearing Corporation in accordance with normal variation settlement procedures based on a settlement price equal to the final settlement price (as described in Regulation 5642.02). (12/01/03)

5642.02 Final Settlement Price - The final settlement price shall be based on a special quotation of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index which corresponds to the expiring contract as the close of business on the final settlement day (as described in Regulation 5642.03). This special quotation will consist of the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index which corresponds to the expiring contract calculated using the settlement prices of the component futures on final settlement day, except as noted below.

If an exchange that a component or components of the futures price index is trading on is not open on the final settlement day because of a scheduled closing, then the contribution to the final settlement price for the affected component or components shall be based on the settlement quotation of the first preceding trading day.

If a component contract month's settlement price on the final settlement day is unavailable because of an unanticipated and/or unannounced closure of the component contract market, then the price of such component contract to be used in calculating the final settlement price shall be the next available settlement price.

If the settlement price of a component contract is a limit bit or offer on the final settlement day, then that contract's contribution to the final settlement price is deferred up to ten business days. In the event that a component contract's settlement price is a limit bid or offer on the final settlement day, the price to be used is the first settlement price after the final settlement day that is not a limit bid or offer. If the settlement price is a limit bid or offer for ten consecutive business days following the final settlement day, the contract's settlement price on the tenth subsequent business day shall be used as the contract's contribution to the final settlement price. (11/01/01)

5642.03 The Final Settlement Day - The final settlement day shall be defined as the eleventh business day of the contract month, or if the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index is not published for that day, the first preceding business day for which the Dow Jones-AIG Futures Price Index was published. (11/01/01)

5647.01 Payment - (See Regulation 1049.04.) (11/0101)

5648.01 Disclaimer - The CBOT Dow Jones-AIG Commodity Index(SM) futures and futures options are not sponsored, endorsed or sold by Dow Jones, American International Group, AIG or any of their affiliates. None of Dow Jones, American International Group, AIG or any of their affiliates makes any representation or warranty, express or implied, to the owners of or counterparts to the futures and futures options or any member of the public regarding the advisability of investing in securities or commodities generally or in the futures or futures options particularly. APPENDIX 3A - GUIDELINES FOR GUESTS AND VISITORS WHILE ON THE EXCHANGE FLOOR OF THE CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE

1. Bringing guests on the Exchange Floor is a privilege extended to all members who comply with the Rules pertaining thereto.

2. Guests shall be admitted to the Exchange Floor between 1/2 hour before the opening on each Floor and 1/2 hour after the close on each Floor.

3. No more than 50 guests shall be allowed on the Exchange Floor at any one time during trading hours.

4. A member may reserve a time for five guests, which reservation will be held no longer than ten minutes. Such reservation privileges will be denied if they are abused.

5. Guests must be accompanied by a member at all times. Both the guest and the host member will sign on to and off of the Floor. The guest will wear, on visible display, a guest badge. The member will be responsible for the guest's conduct on the Floor.

6. A) A guest may remain on the Floor for a period of 30 minutes; if he has not signed out, he will be paged. It will be the member's responsibility to see that the guest leaves the Floor within five minutes of being paged and that the guest returns the badge to the Service Desk on the 4th Floor. Failure to return the guest badge immediately will subject the member to a minimum fine of twenty-five dollars.

B) At the end of the initial 30 minutes, a guest may ask to extend his visit for (a) subsequent period(s) of 30 minutes, although such extension(s) will not be granted if there are more than 50 guests on the Floor at any one time.

C) If necessary, an All Day Guest Pass may be obtained for a foreign visitor, firm executive, firm branch employee, customer or consultant (and other persons with the approval of the Floor Conduct Committee Chairman) by completing a short application form at the fourth floor Service Desk. Except for the 30-minute time limit, the same guidelines apply to All Day Guests, including the requirement that they be accompanied at all times by a member.

7. No privileges other than admittance to the Floor may be extended to a guest. A guest is specifically prohibited from performing any functions of an employee of a member or of a member firm. Entering a trading pit, using a telephone, using the market display equipment and blocking the area are also prohibited.

8. Guests of management for business purposes only shall be allowed in the Exchange Floor.

9. The President of the Exchange may issue special permits beyond the above limit (five individuals) when he deems it in the interest of the Exchange to do so. On a case-by-case basis, he may schedule admission to the Floor for small groups who have made appropriate arrangements.

(Tour Groups: can be no larger than 12, can visit between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m., must be escorted at all times, are limited to 15 minutes per tour, will be limited to no more than two groups on the Floor at any one time, and all such groups must be coordinated through the Communications Department.)

10. No other guests of staff members may be allowed on the Exchange Floor.

11. Members shall accompany guests in the Member's cafeteria.

12. No guests may be allowed on the Exchange Floor more than five times in one month.

13. A member who has leased out his or her only membership(s) and who has been a member for at least 25 years is eligible to bring guests on the trading floor in accordance with these guidelines.

14. Members who violate and/or allow their guest(s) to violate any of these guidelines may be denied visitor's privileges for a period of up to six months and/or fined appropriately.

APPENDIX 3B - INSTRUCTIONS FOR FLOOR CLERK ACCESS TO THE FLOOR OF THE BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO

Please be advised that access to the Floor of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago (hereinafter referred to as the Exchange) is a right of membership. Associate Members and GIM, IDEM and COM Membership Interest Holders have floor access rights only with respect to specified contracts (See Rules 211.00, 291.00, 292.00 and 293.00). Any and all access by non-members is solely a privilege extended by the membership for the strictly limited purposes outlined below. Any violation of any of these instructions shall be just cause for the revocation of the privilege.

Functions and Responsibilities of Floor Clerks on the Exchange Floor:

A. Floor Clerks and Trainee-Floor Clerks may perform only the following duties and no others while on the Floor of the Exchange:

1. Receive messages (including trading cards and written orders) from their employers or members representing such employers;

2. Deliver said messages (including trading cards and written orders) and communicate orders to the pit from their position or communication instrument by use of hand signals or verbal communication;

3. Write broker's cards from endorsed orders, endorse orders from broker's cards and write the brokers' acronym on the broker's order, during trading hours on the Exchange Floor and for a reasonable period of time thereafter;

4. Operate order processing terminals;

5. Receive and write up orders from, and report order status to, their employers and their employers' duly registered Associated Persons, Introducing Brokers, proprietary traders and customers with respect to commodities traded on the Floor;

6. Communicate information of any nature directly to an individual Member, provided that the information communicated may only concern a contract which is within that individual Member's membership category;

7. Communicate information of any nature to a trader who is trading for the proprietary account of the clerk's member firm employer or for the proprietary account of a firm which has one of the following relationships to the clerk's member firm employer:

- 100% parent firm;

- Wholly owned subsidiary; or

- Affiliate through a common 100% parent firm;

8. Provide market information (not the clerk's own personal opinion) regarding activities on the Floor to any of the following:

- duly registered Associated Persons of the clerk's member firm employer;

- duly registered Introducing Brokers of the clerk's member firm employer; and

- established customers of the clerk's member firm employer;

For the purposes of this section 8., an "established customer" shall be defined as an individual or entity which has an open and active trading account with the clerk's member firm employer.

A clerk may initiate contact with any of the foregoing to provide market information provided that the clerk expresses no personal opinion regarding market direction or specific trades.

A clerk may relay the opinions of a member or of the clerk's member firm employer with the prior approval of such member or member firm employer to any of the following:

- duly registered Associated Persons of the clerk's member firm employer;

- duly registered Introducing Brokers of the clerk's member firm employer; and

- established customers of the clerk's member firm employer.

9. Initiate contact with a customer of the clerk's member firm employer to report the status of that customer's order;

Floor Clerks and Trainee-Floor Clerks may not, while on the Floor of the Exchange, perform any other duties except those explicitly prescribed above. The following Exchange Floor activities are permissible only for members and only with respect to the contracts in which they have membership privileges. The following activities are prohibited for Floor Clerks and Trainee Floor Clerks:

1. Soliciting customer business;

2. Trading for their own accounts or having any interest in a trading account, except as prescribed in Regulation 301.05;

3. Being an RCR or an Associated Person, a Commodity Pool Operator or a Commodity Trading Advisor under the Commodity Exchange Act.

4. Initiating orders or trades of any sort, including arbitrage;

5. Exercising discretion of any sort with respect to any order, including arbitrage;

6. Loitering by or in the trading pits;

7. Being compensated on a commission or per contract basis.

B. Trade Checkers (only) may perform only the following duty and no others while on the Floor of the Exchange.

1. Check and reconcile trades of, for, and on behalf of their member firm employers. Absent extraordinary circumstances, the Floor Governors Committee would expect such Trade Checkers to be off the Floor of the Exchange by 10:30 a.m.

This 10:30 a.m. limitation does not apply to floor clerks who are employed by individual members.

Trade Checkers may not, while on the Floor of the Exchange, perform any other duties except that explicitly prescribed above. The following is a list of the most common abuses of the Trade Checker privilege:

1. Loitering by or in the trading pits or congregating in unassigned areas;

2. Communicating in any manner with members or member firms;

3. Entering verbal orders with members or member firms;

4. Trading for their own accounts;

5. Being or acting in any other capacity, including chartist, with a member or member firm;

6. Being an RCR or Associated Person under the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act of 1974.

C. Personnel

1. Emergency Personnel - See Floor Clerks and Trainee-Floor Clerks (Paragraph A above);

2. Summer Personnel - See Floor Clerks and Trainee-Floor Clerks (Paragraph A above);

D. Registered Commodity Representatives (RCRs) and Applicant Observers may perform only the following duty and no other while on the Floor of the Exchange:

1. Observe the various floor activities of the members and other privileged non-members who have been allowed access to the Floor. Such observation shall be limited to a period of two weeks (ten market days).

RCR Observers and Applicant Observers may not, while on the Floor of the Exchange, perform any other duties except that explicitly prescribed above. The following are the areas most prone to abuse and which the RCR Observer and Applicant Observer must be especially aware of:

1. Loitering by or in the Trading pits or congregating in unassigned areas;

2. Answering phones;

3. Placing verbal orders with members of member firms;

4. Writing orders;

5. Trading for their own accounts;

6. Being or acting in any other capacity, including chartist, with a member or member firm.

E. The Floor Conduct Committee has established a special broker assistant badge, in addition to a regular floor clerk badge, and has set up the following guidelines to be used in issuing this special badge.

A broker assistant badge will only be issued for the following purposes:

- a broker having a high volume of orders and who needs an assistant to hold and sort the orders;

- Consistent with these duties, a broker assistant also may communicate market information by means of hand signals and verbal communication.

A badge will not be issued if used for the following reasons:

- card counting - if a floor clerk is a card counter, he/she must quickly enter and take the cards and count them outside of the pit and;

- Information - a floor clerk who obtains information about other brokers or another commodity.

Please keep in mind that the abuses of the floor clerk badge will still be upheld for those issued a broker assistant badge, as follows:

1. Loitering by or in the trading pits or congregating in unassigned areas.

2. Not properly displaying their assigned floor badges.

3. Trading for their own accounts.

4. Being or acting in any other capacity, including chartist, with a member or member firm. A limited exception to this provision applies, only with respect to agricultural markets, as follows. Clearing firms may arrange with floor brokers to place clearing firm floor clerks in pits to perform broker assistant responsibilities for such floor brokers when conditions of high volume/high volatility occur. Such arrangements must be registered with the Exchange as prescribed by the Exchange. Under these arrangements, clearing firms will continue to be responsible for these clerks' supervision and compensation. When conditions of high volume/high volatility are not present, such clerks will return to their normal duties on behalf of their clearing firm employers.

5. Being an Associated Person under the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended by the Commodity Futures Trading Commission Act of 1974.

The committee advises members that the Board of Directors gave fining authority to the Floor Conduct Committee of up to $500 for conduct violations of Floor Employees of Members. The fining authority begins December 21, 1981.

Your cooperation in this matter would be greatly appreciated.

F. The Exchange has established guidelines regarding the use of headsets in the Trading Pits:

1. Brokers' Assistants and Floor Clerks with headset privileges shall be subject to all applicable CBOT Rules and Regulations, including Rule 301.00; Regulations 301.01, 301.05 and 310.01; and this Appendix. In addition, members who either sponsor or employ an individual utilizing a headset are responsible for ensuring that the sponsored or employed individual complies with the Exchange's Headset Policy.

2. All members and member firms are eligible to receive authorization to utilize headsets. The authority to govern the administration of the use of headsets (including who has authorization and where an authorized individual may utilize the headset apparatus) rests with the Floor Committee. The Floor Committee should establish fair and equitable guidelines for administering the use of headsets, and when administering its guidelines, the Floor Committee should consult with the relevant Pit Committee. The Floor Committee shall not arbitrarily deny any member or member firm the use of a headset.

3. Headsets may be worn by Brokers' Assistants, Floor Clerks, and Members who have been authorized by the Floor Committee. "Brokers' Assistants" and "Floor Clerks" as used in preceding sentence may include members and membership interest holders who do not have membership privileges in the contract for which the headset is being utilized.

4. A Broker's Assistant or Floor Clerk wearing a headset may communicate order information and fill information but may not communicate his or her personal opinion regarding activities in the trading pit including, but not limited to, interpretations of technical or fundamental market factors or perspective with respect to member trading sentiment or trading bias. Any other information may be communicated via a headset if the information has been conveyed to the headset operator directly by a member (providing that the member conveying the information has trading privileges in the relevant underlying market). In addition, Brokers' Assistants and Floor Clerks wearing headsets may communicate via a headset any market information that is clearly within the respective pit's "public domain". In other words, individuals who are wearing headsets may communicate any market information that has been "publicly" exposed to the respective trading pits. The member sponsor or member employer of the individual wearing the headset is responsible for the content and nature of any headset communications.

Only members on the floor may communicate with non-members located off the floor for the purposes of communicating or receiving market news and personal opinion regarding interpretations of technical or fundamental market factors or perspective with respect to a member's trading sentiment or trading bias. This level of communication is restricted to members with trading privileges in the respective contract who are located on the floor communicating with other members or non-members located either on or off of the trading floor.

5. Headsets may communicate between trading pits and from pit to Exchange floor booth spaces in any CBOT(R) trading room. This includes COM Membership Interest Holders communicating with a floor broker or the floor broker's broker assistant in a futures pit for the purposes of entering futures orders.

Direct communication via headsets located in or around the Exchange's trading pits to and from off-site locations is only allowed provided the individual assigned to a headset adheres to the following requirements when communicating with any individual off the Exchange floor:

- Headset communications shall be permissible between the DowSM pits and the floors of other exchanges which trade equity-related products.

- An individual member located outside a trading pit (e.g., at a floor booth or in an off-site office) may communicate via headset with a member or clerk in or around a trading pit provided that the individual member has trading privileges in the contract which is traded in the pit which the individual accesses.

- Members off the floor can enter orders via headsets for their customer, proprietary and personal accounts provided they have trading privileges in the respective contract.

- Members off the floor utilizing headsets for the purposes of entering customer orders directly into the pit must comply with Exchange audit trail regulations previously mandated by the CFTC which require that customer orders be: recorded on member firm floor order tickets; contain the account identification of the customer; contain an exchange designated time stamp upon receipt and upon confirmation of an execution. The Exchange provides a telephonic link between the booth and the pit to allow for a floor broker to communicate directly with a member who is located off the floor, while simultaneously allowing personnel at the member firm's booth to record the required audit trail information.

- Floor brokers who utilize headsets in conjunction with an electronic order routing/endorsement system are not required to maintain a booth to pit link provided that customer orders are entered electronically and the order entry system provides the requisite audit trail.

- Floor brokers receiving orders from another member not present on the Exchange Floor may record such trades on their trading cards in lieu of obtaining an order ticket. However, the executing member must record the order instructions, account designation, and execution time on the member's order.

- Only Members located on the floor may communicate with non-members located off the floor for the purpose of placing orders for the member's personal trading account or the member firm's proprietary account in CBOT contracts and non-CBOT markets.

- Members or members' broker assistants located on the floor may communicate with non-members located off of the trading floor to accept orders or instructions to change orders from the non-member for agricultural and financial futures and options contracts. The requisite audit trail requirements must be met utilizing the booth to pit link unless the FCM authorizes the executing floor broker to accept the non-member's order without the booth to pit link. Under such authorization of the FCM, the executing floor broker is responsible for meeting all audit trail requirements including: recording customer orders on member firm floor order tickets; recording the account identifier of the customer; and time stamping the customer order upon receipt and upon confirmation of an execution.

  Member firms may also permit member or non-member employees (including APs) located off the floor to communicate orders for its proprietary or customer accounts directly to a floor broker or his broker assistant without requiring the booth to pit link upon the member firm's sole discretion. Under this provision, the floor broker would be responsible for capturing the required audit trail information.

6. Any and all headset communications must be voice recorded by the member or member firm authorized to use the headset(s). Members and member firms are permitted to utilize their own recording devices, providing that the devices meet reasonable standards with respect to quality and reliability, or members and member firms may utilize an Exchange administered voice recording system for a fee to be paid to the Exchange by the member or member firm utilizing the Exchange's system.

7. For reasons relating to the general safety and space concerns that arise out of the use of wired headsets, the Floor Committee is encouraged to facilitate, as the development of technology permits, a movement to a wireless headset only environment.

8. Authorization to use a headset does not entitle the authorized individual to a particular spot or site within a pit. In addition, Floor Clerks utilizing headsets may not loiter in the trading pits and must exit the trading pits when they are not conducting business. (06/01/01)

APPENDIX 3C - DRESS CODE

APPENDIX 3-C - DRESS CODE

Members and member firms must make every effort to ensure that their employees and guests conform to the Chicago Board of Trade's Dress Code, as hereafter defined. The Dress Code is designed to provide a safe and businesslike atmosphere on the trading floor for all members and employees; an individual may be refused access to the trading floor for violating the Dress Code. Members and Member firms are subject to fines and/or other disciplinary measures imposed by the Floor Conduct Committee for individual violations of the dress code and violations of the dress code by their employees.

The Chicago Board of Trade Dress Code requires "Business Dress Attire" to be worn at all times on the trading floor-not only during trading hours. "Business Dress Attire" is defined as conventional and businesslike attire which is neat, clean and presentable; does not pose a safety hazard or distraction to the wearer or others; and that which conforms to the following provisions:

A) Jackets (Suit Coat, Blazer or a Trading Jacket as prescribed by the Association) must be worn on the trading floor by Members and employees at all times. No trading jackets from other Exchanges are allowed on the floor. Guests may not wear trading jackets on the Exchange floor during trading hours. The display of patches or buttons with crude or offensive slogans is prohibited.

B) Badges, as prescribed by the Association, designating Member trading and access rights and non-member affiliation and access rights must be worn at all times. Badges must be worn in plain view, on the upper front of the jacket (not inside pockets or attached to lower pockets.) Badges from other Exchanges are prohibited. The wearing of out-dated, unauthorized or lapsed membership badges from the Exchange is prohibited. Badges must not be defaced, altered, or affixed with stickers or pictures not approved by the Association.

C) Men must wear ties (bow ties or neckties) at all times on the trading floor, with the exception of days when there is an early close for any part of the Exchange. Ties must be in good condition, knotted in a conventional manner, and drawn up to at least the second button from the collar. Collared shirts that can be worn with a tie must be worn at all times on the trading floor and must be neat, presentable and businesslike. Shirts must be clean, neat, presentable, tucked in and buttoned up to at least the second button from the collar. Golf-type shirts are permitted. Turtleneck sweaters for men are not allowed. Crewneck sweaters worn over a collared shirt are permitted if a necktie is visible; a trading jacket must also be worn. Shirts with offensive, crude or distracting slogans or pictures are prohibited. Pants or slacks must be neat, presentable and businesslike. Work pants, athletic pants and blue jeans are prohibited.

D) Women must wear pants, skirts or dresses that are neat, presentable, and businesslike. Skirts may be no shorter than two inches above the knee and must be significantly longer than the trading coat. Full, generously cut, businesslike split skirts may be worn. Shirts, blouses, sweaters or other tops must be neat, presentable, and businesslike. Shirts with offensive, crude or distracting slogans or pictures are prohibited. Work pants, athletic pants and blue jeans are prohibited. Attire should not expose the body in an inappropriate manner (e.g. bare midriffs, backs or thighs.)

E) Shoes must be worn at all times. Shoes must neither be of a design nor worn in a manner which presents a safety hazard. Slippers and sandals with no backs are prohibited. Women may wear slingback or open-toe sandals that are businesslike. High platform shoes or high heeled shoes or boots with soles and/or heels greater than three inches are not permitted. Athletic shoes are permitted. Shoes must be in neat condition and must be tied or fastened at all times.

F) Shirts: T-Shirts, sweatshirts, athletic jerseys, hooded shirts, flannel shirts, hospital scrubs and shirts bearing messages, advertisements, pictures or slogans are prohibited. Attire should not expose the body in a manner inappropriate for business (e.g. bare midriffs, chests, or backs.)

G) Pants: The following are all prohibited: blue jeans, stone washed jeans, bib overalls, fatigues, tie dyes, shorts of any kind, tightly fitting stretch pants, spandex pants, bicycling pants, painter pants, sweat pants, athletic/exercise pants, pants with elastic at the ankles, tights worn in lieu of pants, pants with slogans, advertisements, or work loops, and any pants shorter than 2 inches above the ankle.

H) Piercing & Jewelry: Jewelry may not be worn if it presents a safety hazard to the wearer or others.

I) Miscellaneous: All headgear or head coverings are prohibited, except for religious reasons. Sunglasses are prohibited unless they have prescription lenses.

In Summary: All dirty, frayed, faded, torn, badly wrinkled, revealing or unbusinesslike clothing is prohibited. All clothing intended for athletic activity or appropriate for manual labor is prohibited. Attire, worn by members, employees or their guests, which exposes the body in a manner inappropriate for a business atmosphere is prohibited from the trading floor at all times.

While the foregoing is comprehensive and employers and security staff shall enforce the dress code as defined above, they are not limited to the specific examples given. 02/01/02

APPENDIX 3G - GUIDELINES - BADGE VALIDATION AND RETURN

1. In each of the following circumstances, the referenced individual's membership floor access badge must be returned to the Member Services and Member Firm Staff Services ("Member Services") Department as indicated if the transaction involves the individual's only membership or all of his/her memberships:

   a. A membership seller within 30 days the effective date of the membership sale; (Membership sale proceeds will not be released to the seller unless the badge has been returned).

   b. A membership transferor within 30 days after the transfer has occurred.

   c. A membership delegator within 30 days after the effectiveness of the delegation agreement.

2. Each membership delegate must return the applicable delegate badge to the Member Services Department within 30 days after the delegation agreement's termination or expiration.

3. Upon the effective date of any Exchange suspension of membership privileges, the suspended individual must return his/her membership floor access badge to the Member Services Department within 30 days of the effective date of the suspension for the suspension's duration.

4. Upon the termination or expiration of any delegation agreement, the Exchange will delete the terminated delegate's identifying acronym from Exchange computer records after the delegate's 30-day grace period expires.

5. Only Exchange-issued badges will be permissible for floor access. Sewn-on badges will not be permissible.

6. No member, membership interest holder or delegate will be relieved of responsibility for returning the badge, even if lost, without specific approval of the Floor Conduct Committee.

   All cases involving lost membership floor access badges should be referred to the Member Services Department which shall have the authority to issue a replacement badge. Member Services will issue a replacement badge only to individuals with valid membership floor access privileges and who are current in their dues. Any problems or unusual circumstances involving a lost membership floor access badge will be referred to the Floor Conduct Committee.

   All cases involving lost floor clerk badges will be referred to the Co-Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee. No floor clerk will be issued a replacement badge or be relieved of responsibility for returning the badge without specific approval of the Co-Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice Chairman of the Floor Conduct Committee.

7. Floor clerk badge applicants must present acceptable identification when filing their applications. Exchange staff will verify member's co-signatures on floor clerk badge applications and will process such applications in no less than 24 hours after receipt.

PROCEDURES FOR RELIEF REQUESTS/FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS

Procedures for Relief Requests Under CBOT Regulation 285.05 Financial Requirements and Related CFTC Regulations

A member FCM that has filed any relief request with the Exchange need not file such request with the CFTC. The Exchange will promptly advise the CFTC of the request and use its best efforts to provide the CFTC with all pertinent information available to the Exchange. "Relief request" means a request--

1. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(d) for exemption from the minimum debt/equity ratio;

2. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(e) to withdraw equity capital;

3. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(f)(2)(ii) for approval of consolidation;

4. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(f)(1)(v)(B) for approval of terms in a secured demand note relating to conditions for the making of a demand;

5. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(h)(2)(vii) to prepayment of subordinated borrowings;

6. under CFTC Regulation 1.17(h)(4) for approval of emergency subordination;

7. under CFTC Regulation 1.10(e) approval of a change in fiscal-year election; or

8. under CFTC Regulation 1.10(f) and Section 1.16(f) for a filing extension.

Appendix 4C

APPENDIX 4E - MINIMUM FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS FOR AGRICULTURAL REGULARITY

The minimum financial requirements for firms which are regular to deliver agricultural products are:

1. Working Capital - (current assets less current liabilities) must be greater than or equal to $2,000,000. Firms which do not have $2,000,000 in Working Capital must deposit with the Exchange $5,000 per contract which it is regular to deliver, up to a maximum of $2,000,000, less SEC haircuts, as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c)(2)(vi), (vii) and (viii) plus 3% in the event of liquidation;

2. New Worth - (Total assets less total liabilities) divided by the firm's allowable capacity (measured in contracts) must be greater than $5,000; The net worth of a firm regular to deliver corn or soybeans must be greater than or equal to $5,000,000. The operator of a shipping station issuing corn or soybean shipping certificates may only issue new shipping certificates when the total value of all outstanding shipping certificates and the new shipping certificates, at the time of issuance of the new shipping certificates, does not exceed 50% of net worth;

3. Each firm which is regular to deliver agricultural products is required to file a yearly certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. Each such firm is also required to file within 45 days of the statement date an unaudited semi-annual financial statement. However, each operator of a shipping station issuing corn or soybean shipping certificates is required to file within 45 days of the statement dates unaudited quarterly financial statements for each of the three quarters which do not end on such firm's year-end. In addition, the Exchange may request additional financial information as it deems appropriate;

4. A Letter of Attestation must accompany all unaudited financial statements. The Letter of Attestation must be signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner, executive officer, or managerial employee who has the authority to sign financial statements on behalf of the firm and to attest to their correctness and completeness.

5. For the requirements for notification of capital reductions, see Regulation 285.03.

6. Any change in the organizational structure of a firm that is regular for delivery requires that the firm notify the Exchange prior to such change. Changes in organizational structure shall include, but not be limited to, a corporation, limited liability company, general partnership, limited partnership or sole proprietorship that changes to another form. Prior to any such change occurring, the firm is also required to notify the Exchange in writing of any name change.

APPENDIX 4F

LETTER OF CREDIT STANDARDS

For Corn and Soybeans Only

CBOT Regulation 1081.01 requires, as a condition for regularity, that issuers of shipping certificates for certain commodities must file a bond and or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

1. The regular firm is required to secure a letter of credit, naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary, for 100% of the current market value of the shipping certificates issued.

2. The regular firm is required to monitor the value of the outstanding certificates issued using the futures spot month settlement price. Whenever the amount of the letter of credit falls below 80% of the current market value for certificates issued, the regular firm must increase the amount of the letter of credit, or obtain a new letter of credit, for an amount equal to 100% of the current market value of outstanding certificates, by 5:OO p.m. (Central Time) on the first business day following the relevant futures settlement.

3. Prior to additional shipping certificates being issued, the regular firm must increase the amount of the letter of credit, or secure a new letter of credit, for 100% of the current market value of all shipping certificates which are outstanding as well as all shipping certificates which will be issued.

4. The Exchange will accept letters of credit only from banks with a Moody's Investor Service counter party credit rating of A or above or a Standard and Poor's short-term counter party rating not lower than A-2.

5. The letter of credit must be irrevocable, it must provide for payment within the time specified by the Exchange, and it must be able to be drawn upon unconditionally.

6. The letter of credit must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

7. The expiration date of a letter of credit may not occur during any relevant futures delivery cycle.

APPENDIX 4G

LETTER OF CREDIT STANDARDS

For Agricultural Products except Corn and Soybeans

CBOT Regulation 1081.01, and amended Regulations 1181.01, 1291.01, and 3704.01 require, as a condition for regularity, that Warehousemen must "file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require."

The following is a list of the recommended conditions with respect to a firm obtaining a letter of credit to meet the financial requirements of regularity:

a. The regular firm is required to secure a letter of credit, naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary, for such sum and subject to such conditions the Exchange may require.

b. The Exchange will accept letters of credit only from banks with a Moody's Investors Service counterparty credit rating of A or above or a Standard and Poor's short-term counterparty rating not lower than A-2.

c. The letter of credit must be irrevocable, must provide for payment within the time specified by the Exchange, and must be able to be drawn upon unconditionally.

d. The letter of credit must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

e. The expiration date of a letter of credit may not occur during any relevant futures delivery cycle.

APPENDIX 4H

BOND STANDARDS

For Agricultural Products except Corn and Soybeans

CBOT Regulations 1081.01, 1181.01, 1291.01, and 3704.01 require, as a condition for regularity, that Warehousemen must "file a bond and/or designated letter of credit with sufficient sureties in such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require."

The following is a list of the required conditions with respect to the bond that a Warehouseman must obtain to meet the financial requirements of regularity*:

a. The Warehouseman is required to secure a bond naming the Chicago Board of Trade as its beneficiary for such sum and subject to such conditions as the Exchange may require.

b. The bond must be in the form approved by the Exchange.

c. The Exchange will accept bonds only from insurance companies that have been rated by one of the following rating agencies: AM Best, Standard & Poor's, or Moody's Investors Service. The following are the minimum credit ratings that are acceptable.

1. AM Best: B++

2. Standard & Poor's: A-

3. Moody's Investor Service: A3

* The Exchange will continue to accept USDA bonds in order for Warehousemen to meet the bonding requirements for Wheat, Oats and Rice. If the amount specified in the USDA bond does not meet the Exchange's requirement, an additional bond must be issued for the amount that is not covered by the USDA bond. The additional bond must meet the requirements specified in a. through c.

LIFFE CORE NETWORK ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

1. Permitted Purpose

Except as otherwise agreed by LIFFE, those Persons authorized to use the Core Network in relation to the CBOT Electronic Exchange ("Users") shall use the Core Network solely for purposes of participating in, accessing or obtaining information from the CBOT Electronic Exchange via an Interface with the Equipment.

2. Compliance with Laws

Users shall use the Core Network in accordance with all applicable laws and regulation is and any additional reasonable requirements as LIFFE may deem necessary to protect the Core Network. Without limiting the foregoing, Users shall not use, transmit, distribute or store via the Core Network any data, information or other material ("Data") which (i) infringes or otherwise violates any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other intellectual property of any individual or entity; (ii) is pornographic, obscene, or exploitative of a minor; (iii) is menacing, malicious, illegally threatening or defamatory; or (iv) violates export laws or otherwise violates any applicable treaty, law or regulation.

3. Harmful Activities

Users shall not use the Core Network to transmit, distribute or store any Data or undertake any other activities that may be harmful to or otherwise interfere with (i) the Core Network or the use thereof by any other User or other authorized user of the Core Network, or (ii) any system, network or equipment of LIFFE or any third party, including: (i) intercepting or attempting to intercept Data or other transmissions passing over the Core Network; (ii) forwarding chain letters; (iii) sending multiple e-mails or large transmissions that could reasonably be expected to annoy or harass or to impose a disproportionately large load on, or degrade the functionality of, the Core Network (e.g., "mail bombing"); (iv) sending any e-mail containing misleading or incorrect headers or information rendering the origin of the e-mail unclear or deceptive; (v) sending bulk or unsolicited e-mail messages ("spamming"), either directly or by relaying; or (vi) transmitting any virus, worm or Trojan Horse.

4. Security

4.1 Users shall not violate or attempt to violate the security of the Core Network or interfere or attempt to interfere with LIFFE's systems, networks, authentication measures, servers or equipment or with the use of or access to the Core Network by any other User or any other authorized user of the Core Network. Such prohibited activity includes (i) logging into a server where access is not authorized; (ii) probing, scanning, or testing the security or vulnerability of the Core Network or other networks; and (iii) attempting to gain access via the Core Network to any account or computer resource not belonging to such User ("spoofing").

4.2 Users shall not monitor Data or traffic on the Core Network except via a Trading Application or Interface.

*Applicable as of trade date November 24, 2003 in connection with implementation of the LIFFE CONNECT(R) system for trading on e-cbot.

5. Enforcement

Except as may be agreed between LIFFE and the CBOT, LIFFE shall have no obligation to monitor or exercise control over any Data transmitted, distributed or stored by any User via the Core Network. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE reserves the right to monitor and control activities undertaken via the Core Network.

6. Responsibility

Each User is fully responsible for all uses of the Core Network undertaken (i) by such User or (ii) via such User's Trading Application or Interface.

*APPENDIX 9B-2

e-cbot ERROR TRADE POLICY

The CBOT's error trade policy is designed to preserve the integrity of CBOT product markets by striking an appropriate balance between trade certainty and erroneous price discovery. The policy provides a mechanism to promptly address transactions that are executed at obviously erroneous prices substantially inconsistent with the last trade price of the contract or alternative determination of the contract's fair value. This policy does not relieve market participants from potential financial responsibility or liability for the execution of trades that are deemed an "error trade" if their actions caused financial loss to other parties whose transactions were busted.

1. Invoking the Error Trade Policy

If an e-cbot user believes that he executed a trade through e-cbot at a price that was in error, he must contact e-cbot Market Operations ("e-cbot Operations") at (312) 347-4600 without delay. If e-cbot Operations is not notified within five minutes of the execution time of the asserted error trade, the trade will stand. A third party or e-cbot Operations may also call a trade into question within five minutes of the execution. Trades called into question within five minutes will be evaluated in accordance with sections 2 and 3 of this policy. However, e-cbot Operations has the authority, but not the obligation, to consider trades reported after the five minute deadline provided the trade price in question is grossly (i.e. multiple points) out of line with the last trade price or alternatively determined fair value of the respective contract.

Trades resulting from quantity errors generally will not be called into question.

2. Trade Price Within the "No Bust Range"

If a futures transaction is asserted to be at a price that is in error, the trade shall not be considered for review by e-cbot Operations unless the price of the asserted error trade is greater than the designated number of ticks (as outlined in Appendix 9B-3)from the reference price. The reference price will be the last trade price preceding the entry of the error trade or an alternatively determined fair value of the contract. Fair value for futures contracts may be determined by the last trade price, preceding settlement price, spread relationships and/or other variables deemed relevant by e-cbot Operations. However, during side-by-side hours the reference price on a downside (upside) move will never be higher (lower) than the low (high) of the pit traded price for an equivalent contract during the time period that the prices of the contracts were disjointed. During non-side-by-side hours, the reference price will never be higher (lower) than the low (high) of an equivalently traded contract.

If an option trade is asserted to be at a price that is in error, the trade shall not be considered for review by e-cbot Operations unless the price of the asserted error trade conforms to the following guidelines:

1. Trades must be greater than 2 ticks above or below the theoretical price in order to be busted.

2. Trades greater than 2 ticks away from the theoretical price, but less than 20 ticks away from the theoretical price, must be greater than 20% above or below the theoretical price, in order to be eligible to be busted.

3. Trades greater than 20 ticks above or below the theoretical price (40 ticks for the Soybean complex and Dow complex), may be busted even if the tick disparity is less than 20% of the theoretical value.

If an asserted trade entry error results in trade executions at multiple price levels, the last trade price (if used to determine the reference price) shall be the last trade price prior to the entry of the alleged error trade.

*Applicable as of trade date November 24, 2003 in connection with implementation of the LIFFE CONNECT(R) system for trading on e-cbot

If the asserted error trade is the first trade in a contract that has not previously been opened, e-cbot Operations will determine a fair value estimate for the contract, which then will be gauged against the error trade range to determine the final status of the trade.

If e-cbot Operations contacts a member user regarding a suspicious order and the user states that the order is entered correctly, the order (if subsequently executed) may only be called into question by a third party.

Trades that are executed outside of the daily price limits will be busted by e-cbot Operations irrespective of whether the trade(s) falls within the "no bust range" established above.

3. Trade Price Outside of the "No Bust Range"

If the price of the asserted error trade is more than the specified number of ticks from the reference price, e-cbot Operations will send a broadcast message to the user community indicating that the trade has been called into question. If the asserted error trade is outside of the specified tick range and involves only two parties, e-cbot Operations will attempt to contact the parties to the transaction. If both parties agree to bust or re-price the transaction, e-cbot Operations shall send a broadcast message to the user community and an alert to the quote vendor network indicating that the trade was busted or re-priced.

If there is more than one contra-party to the order asserted to have been executed in error, e-cbot Operations will gauge the erroneous transactions against the error trade range to determine the final status of the trades.

4. e-cbot Operations Authority to Halt Markets

e-cbot Operations shall have the authority to halt markets in any contract during extraordinary circumstances where there has been a major market movement without any apparent economic or fundamental basis for movement to have occurred.

5. Decisions of e-cbot Operations

A. e-cbot Operations will review the circumstances surrounding the alleged error trade to determine whether it should be deemed an error trade and busted. However, subject to the mutual agreement of both parties, the trade may be re-priced in line with the contract's fair value. If the trade is repriced to a level that is below a sell limit price or above a buy limit price, and the customer rejects the trade, the trade must be placed in the error account of the customer's clearing firm. Parties to these transactions are permitted to make cash adjustments to settle losses that occur as a result of the error trade. Should parties to a disputed transaction be unable to mutually resolve financial disputes arising from such transactions, arbitration facilities are available through the Exchange. The Arbitration Committee may hold the party who entered the order that resulted in the error trade financially responsible for losses that occur as a result of the busted trade(s).

   Trade certainty and the timely resolution of error trades are critical objectives of this policy. Therefore, if parties to a disputed transaction do not agree to the terms of resolution, e-cbot Operations reserves the final authority to determine the disposition of the questioned transaction.

   During side-by-side trading hours, e-cbot Operations shall, unless impracticable, make its determination within 10 minutes of the broadcast message regarding the potential error trade. During non side-by-side trading hours, e-cbot Operations shall, unless impracticable, make its determination within 15 minutes of the broadcast message regarding the potential error trade. The decisions of e-cbot Operations shall be final, and e-cbot Operations shall send a broadcast message and an alert to the quote vendor network indicating whether the trade was busted, re-priced or allowed to stand.

B. In making its determination, e-cbot Operations may consider relevant factors including, but not limited to: market conditions immediately before and after the transaction; the prices of related contracts; whether one or more parties to the trade believe the trade was executed at a valid price: the extent to which the transaction appeared to trigger contingency orders and other trades; information related to the e-cbot Operations by third parties.

6. Procedures for Correcting Error Trades

In the event a trade is busted, the parties to the transaction must reverse the transaction through applicable clearing house procedures. e-cbot Operations will notify OIA regarding any situation where a party fails to claim or misclear trades in a timely manner. Such failure may be deemed a violation of Rule 504.00, Acts Detrimental to the Welfare of the Association.

Under no circumstances shall the parties to an alleged error trade be permitted to reverse the error by entering into a prearranged transaction.

If the trade called into question is determined not to be an error trade, the parties to the trade are permitted to mutually agree upon cash adjustment: any such adjustment must be reported to e-cbot Operations.

Spreads

Because of the autoleg feature of the e-cbot system, spreads may be executed such that one leg of the spread is determined to be an error trade and the other leg is deemed to have been executed at a good price. In such circumstances, the party who enters an outright order that causes an error trade on an autolegged spread will be deemed to be the counterparty to the good leg of the spread (see Appendix 9B-4). The parties to the transactions will reverse and claim the transactions as indicated through the applicable clearing house procedures.

7. Arbitration Procedures

Arbitrations relating to asserted error trades are limited to trades that are determined by e-cbot Operations to be an error trade. A notice of intention to arbitrate must be filed within ten business days after the date of the error trade. The party that caused the error may be held responsible for realized losses incurred by parties whose trades were busted as a result of the error.

8. Error Trade Fees

The party responsible for the error must pay a $1,000 fee for each of the first two error trades, $3,000 for the 3/rd/ error trade, and $5,000 for each subsequent error trade within a calendar year.

EXAMPLE OF AUTOLEG ERROR

Trader "A" has a spread order in the book to buy June Bonds and sell September Bonds. (Please note that when you enter a spread order into the system, it assigns prices to the individual legs and the order is included in the outright order books.) Trader "B" has an order to sell June Bonds.

Trader "C" makes an error by entering a bid in the September contract (he intended to bid June). Trader C's bid for September matches against Trader A's sell September portion of the spread, which triggers Trader A's buy June portion of the spread to match against Trader B's sell June order.

The September trade between Trader C and Trader A is determined to be an error trade. The June trade between A and B is executed at an economically justifiable price.

The September leg is determined to be an error trade and is busted. Trader C is then required to claim the June leg executed for Trader A.

Summary

June Bonds		Sep Bonds
Buy	Sell	Buy	Sell
A	B	C	A

Trader C is cause of error

Trader A vs. B = good price
Trader A vs. C = bad price
Trader A vs. C leg is determined to be an error trade and is busted
Trader A vs. B leg is reversed and Trader C is required to claim the trade so that Trader B is not harmed.

APPENDIX 10G - GRAIN LOAD-OUT PROCEDURES

The following is a general outline of procedures for the load-out of grain covered by Chicago Board of Trade ("CBOT") registered warehouse receipts/shipping certificates. The procedures are based upon a combination of CBOT Rules and Regulations and trade practice. Where applicable, CBOT Rules and Regulations are cited.

1. Cancellation of the Warehouse Receipt/Shipping Certificate

   a. To initiate the load-out process, the receipt/certificate holder, or owner, requests his clearing firm to cancel the warehouse receipt/shipping certificate at the CBOT Registrar's Office or requests load-out using the electronic form provided by the Cleaning House's Online System.

   b. Warehouse receipts/shipping certificates cancelled after 4:00 p.m. shall be deemed to be cancelled on the following business day.

   c. The next step for the owner of cancelled rice, oats or wheat warehouse receipts is to surrender them to the regular warehouseman or his representative agent in Chicago. The agent must be a registered clearing member of the CBOT, be located in the vicinity of the CBOT and be available during business hours (except Exchange holidays). Business hours are 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday - Thursday and 8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. on Friday.

   d. At this time, the warehouseman/shipper, at his option, may require the owner to pay storage/premium and insurance charges that have accumulated up to and including the date of surrender. (See items 6(a) and (b) below.) The warehouseman's/shipper's agent shall accept these payments during business hours.

   e. At this time, the warehouseman, at his option, may also require the owner to pay the warehouseman or his agent a load-out fee of up to 6 cents per bushel. A fobbing charge of 4 cents per bushel was already paid at the time of delivery of corn and soybean shipping certificates. (The maximum load-out/fobbing fee, subject to change, is 6 cents per bushel for receipts and 4 cents per bushel for certificates.)

   f. If the owner decides against loading out grain within two days after canceling warehouse receipts/shipping certificates, he may notify the warehouseman/shipper that warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are to be re-issued. In the case of rice, oats or wheat, if the warehouseman is notified by 12:00 noon, re-issued receipts shall be deliverable by 4:00 p.m. the following business day. Requests to re-issue receipts/shipping certificates more than two business days after receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

   g. The Registrar bills the owner's clearing firm a cancellation fee per receipt/certificate. (Internal policy of CBOT's Registrar's Office.)

2. Submission of Written Loading Orders.

   a. The owner provides the warehouseman/shipper with written loading orders that identify the vessel, barge, or number of rail cars that will take delivery of the grain, and that specify the grade and estimated number of bushels to be loaded. "To be nominated" (TBN) barge identities are acceptable in loading orders.

   b. Written loading orders must be received no later than two business days after warehouse receipts/shipping certificates are cancelled.

   c. The owner will notify the warehouseman/shipper of loading orders. All loading order received by 2:00 p.m. on a given business days shall be considered dated that day. Orders received after 2:00 p.m. on a business day shall be considered dated the following business day.

   d. When loading orders are received by 2:00 p.m. of any given business day, the warehoueman/shipper will advise the owner by 10:00 a.m. the following business day of the scheduled loading dates and tonnage due. Notification of scheduled loading dates and any changes in scheduled loading dates will be by telephone, e-mail or telefax to the owner.

3. Arrangement of Transportation Conveyance.

   a. Next, the owner arranges for proper conveyance of the grain to be loaded out with a carrier; the conveyance may be rail cars, barge, or vessel, and must be clean and ready-to-load.

   b. An owner requesting vessel load-out, having surrendered canceled receipts/certificates and tendered written loading orders to the warehouseman/shipper, is entitled to the warehouse's/shipper's current scheduled load-in and load-out lineups, provided the owner gives to the warehouseman/shipper the identity of the vessel and the estimated-time-of-arrival no more than 5 calendar days prior to constructive placement of the vessel.

In addition, an owner is entitled to receive updated information, upon request, on the warehouse/shipping station scheduled load-in and load-out lineups.

d. The carrier or its agent notifies the warehouseman/shipper of the "constructive placement" of the conveyance. The term "constructive placement" is defined in CBOT Regulations 1081.01(12)A3 (1), (2) and (3). Only the warehouseman/shipper can order the conveyance to the warehouse/shipping station for actual placement for loading.

e. The warehouseman/shipper is not responsible for the failure of the carrier to present clean, ready-to-load conveyance to the warehouseman/shipper.

4. Request for Grain Inspection or Stevedoring Service.

a. The owner may, at his option and expense, request the warehouseman/shipper to arrange inspection and weighing service provided by the Federal Grain Inspection Service ("FGIS").

b. In case of water load-out (barge or vessel), the owner should request the warehouseman/shipper to arrange stevedoring service. In this regard, the owner may designate to the warehouseman/shipper the stevedoring service he would like to use.

c. The warehouseman/shipper does not control the availability of the FGIS and the stevedoring services.

5. Actual Load-Out.

a. The warehouseman/shipper shall transmit to the Registrar by 11:00 a.m. the name, location of warehouse/shipping facility, and number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed that day. The Registrar shall maintain a current record of the number of delivery vessels/barges/rail cars constructively placed and shall be responsible for posting this record on the Exchange Floor and the CBOT website.

b. The warehouseman/shipper must load-out all conveyances in the order of their constructive placement. Load-out of transportation constructively placed on the same day shall be in the order in which loading orders were received. An operator of a regular facility in Chicago, Burns Harbor, along the Illinois Waterway, and St. Louis has the obligation of loading grain represented by warehouse receipts or shipping certificates giving preference to takers of delivery.

c. The warehouseman/shipper informs the owner of the time of loading completion and the release time of the conveyance to the carrier.

d. The warehouseman/shipper must advise the owner of any load-out difficulties. Inclement weather may delay loading.

e. The owner should be familiar with the tariff of the warehouse/shipping station where the load-out is to occur.

f. Any expense for making the grain available for loading on the Illinois Waterway will be borne by the party making delivery, provided that the taker of delivery constructively places barge equipment clean and ready to load within five (5) business days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway. If the taker's barges are not constructively placed within five (business) days following the scheduled loading date of the barge on the Illinois Waterway, the taker shall pay the shipper an amount not to exceed 30/100 of one cent per bushel per day multiplied by the number of calendar days from the fifth business day following the schedule loading date to the date that the barge is constructively placed, including both dates, but excluding business days the shipper meets his minimum daily barge load-out rate. Requests to cancel loading instructions and re-issue recepits/shipping certificates more than two business days after recepits/shipping certificates are cancelled are subject to mutual agreement. All fees for re-issuance are payable by the owner.

6. Final Settlement of All Charges By Invoice

a. The owner pays the warehouseman/shipper storage/premium charges that have accumulated up to and including the 10th business day after constructive placement of the conveyance or the date of loading completion, whichever is earlier, for wheat and oats, or up to and including the date of loading for corn and soybeans. If the owner paid storage/premium charges when he surrendered the cancelled warehouse receipt/shipping certificate he now pays storage/premium charges that have accumulated since that time as invoiced.

b. The owner pays the warehouseman/shipper for the FGIS service and the stevedoring company for stevedoring service as invoiced. The owner is responsible for charges incurred for stevedoring service, except, all fees for stevedoring services to load corn and soybeans into barges are to be paid by the issuer of the corn or soybean shipping certificate.

c. With some exceptions for Burns Harbor delivery, the owner pays all transportation costs, including switching charges and demurrage, if any, to the appropriate transportation company.

*/ The outline provided above is intended to serve only as a general guide to grain load-out procedures; certain of the discussed obligations of the warehouseman/shipper and owners may not apply in a particular situation or may be open to negotiation between the parties. Care has been taken in the preparation of this outline, but there is no warranty or representation expressed or implied by the Chicago Board of Trade or its member firms as to the accuracy or completeness of the material herein. In particular, CBOT rules and regulations may be revised from time to time. Accordingly, current rules and regulations, if applicable, should be consulted when there is a question about load-out. Please be advised that the U.S. Warehouse Act, as amended, or a state law may also apply to, or govern, a particular situation. If you have legal questions concerning load-out, we recommend that you consult your legal counsel. 06/01/03

The minimum financial requirements for firms which are regular to deliver Rough Rice are:

1. Working Capital - (current assets less current liabilities) must be greater than or equal to $1,000,000. Firms which do not have $1,000,000 in working capital must deposit with the Exchange $5,000 per contract which they are regular to deliver, up to a maximum of $1,000,000 less SEC haircuts, as specified in SEC Rule 15c3-1(c) (2) (vi), (vii) and (viii) plus 3% in the event of liquidation.

2. Net Worth - (Total assets less total liabilities) divided by the firm's allowable capacity (measured in contracts) must be greater than $5,000.

3. Each firm which is regular to deliver Rough Rice is required to file a yearly certified financial statement within 90 days of the firm's year-end. Each such firm is also required to file within 90 days of the statement date an unaudited semi-annual financial statement. In addition, the Exchange may request additional financial information as it deems appropriate;

4. A Letter of Attestation must accompany all financial statements. The Letter of Attestation must be signed by the Chief Financial Officer or if there is none, a general partner, executive officer, or managerial employee who has the authority to sign financial statements on behalf of the firm and to attest to their correctness and completeness.

5. For the requirements for notification of capital reductions, see Regulation 285.03.

6. Any change in the organizational structure of a firm that is regular for delivery requires that the firm notify the Exchange prior to such change. Changes in organizational structure shall include, but not be limited to, a corporation, limited liability company, general partnership, limited partnership or sole proprietorship that changes to another form. Prior to such change occurring, the firm is also required to notify the Exchange in writing of any name change.

For other applicable provisions, see Appendix 4G, "Letter of Credit Standards" and Appendix 4H, "Bonding Standards."

Re: Restructuring Transactions

Ladies and Gentlemen:

We are acting as special Delaware counsel to CBOT Holdings, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("CBOT Holdings"), and Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Company"), in connection with the demutualization and restructuring of the Company (the "Restructuring Transactions"). As described in the Registration Statement on Form S-4, Registration No. 333-72184 (as amended and supplemented, the "Registration Statement"), filed by CBOT Holdings, which is currently a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "Commission") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), the Restructuring Transactions include, inter alia: (i) the merger of the Company with a wholly owned subsidiary of CBOT Holdings (the "Merger"), as a result of which the outstanding memberships in the Company will be converted into Class B memberships in the Company, (ii) the distribution by the Company to the members of the Company of a dividend (the "Dividend") of shares of common stock, par value $.001 per share, of CBOT Holdings (the "Common Stock") to be distributed immediately following the effective time of the Merger, and (iii) the adoption of an Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (the "Restated Certificate") and Amended and Restated Bylaws (the "Restated Bylaws") of the Company, as well as the adoption and amendment of various Rules of the Company.

As described in the Registration Statement, the Class B memberships will be issued in five separate series, designated Series B-1, Series B-2, Series B-3, Series B-4 and Series B-5. A maximum of 1,402 Series B-1, Class B memberships, 867 Series B-2, Class B memberships, 128 Series B-3, Class B memberships, 641 Series B-4, Class B memberships and 643 Series B-5, Class B memberships will be issued in the Merger (collectively, the "New Memberships"), and a total of 49,359,836 shares of Common Stock will be issued in the Dividend to be paid immediately after the Merger (the "Shares"). As described in the Registration Statement, the holders of different classes of membership in the Company prior to the Merger will receive different combinations of New Memberships and Shares as a result of the Merger and Dividend. Specifically, members will receive:

1. For each Full Membership, a combination of interests consisting of 9,114, 9,112 and 9,112 shares of Series A-1, A-2 and A-3 Common Stock, respectively, and one Series B-1, Class B membership;

2. For each Associate Membership, a combination of interests consisting of 3,334, 3,333 and 3,333 shares of Series A-1, A-2 and A-3 Common Stock, respectively, and one Series B-2, Class B membership;

3. For each GIM Membership and for each one-half participation in an Associate Membership, a combination of interests consisting of 1,668, 1,666 and 1,666 shares of Series A-1, A-2 and A-3 Common Stock, respectively, and one Series B-3, Class B membership;

4. For each IDEM Membership, a combination of interests consisting of 368, 366, and 366 shares of Series A-1, A-2 and A-3 Common Stock, respectively, and one Series B-4, Class B membership; and

5. For each COM Membership, a combination of interests consisting of 834, 833 and 833 shares of Series A-1, A-2 and A-3 Common Stock, respectively, and one Series B-5, Class B membership.

These five combinations of interests are referred to collectively hereinafter as "Combinations of Interests." The offer and sale of the Combinations of Interests and the Shares are being registered pursuant to the Registration Statement.

For purposes of rendering the opinions expressed herein, we have examined and relied upon the following documents in the forms provided to us by the Company: the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws of the Company, and the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws of CBOT Holdings, in effect as of the date hereof; the Restated Certificate and the Restated Bylaws proposed to be adopted by the Company in the Restructuring Transactions as set forth in the Registration Statement; the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of CBOT Holdings (the "CBOT Holdings Restated Certificate") and the Amended and Restated Bylaws of CBOT Holdings (the "CBOT Holdings Restated Bylaws") proposed to be adopted by CBOT Holdings in the Restructuring Transactions as set forth in the Registration Statement; the Agreement and Plan of Merger dated _____ by and among the Company, CBOT Merger Sub, Inc. and CBOT Holdings (the "Merger Agreement"); the form of resolutions to be adopted by the board of directors of the Company (the "Company Board") to declare the Dividend (the "Dividend Resolutions"); a Certificate executed by the Secretary of the Company relating to certain factual matters and representations made by the Company (the "Secretary's Certificate"); and the Registration Statement. In such examinations, we have assumed the genuineness of all signatures and the conformity to original documents of all documents submitted to us as drafts or copies or forms of documents to be executed. No opinion is expressed with respect to the requirements of, or compliance with, federal or state securities or blue sky laws. We have not reviewed any documents other than those identified above in connection with this opinion. As to any facts material to our opinion, other than those assumed, we have relied without independent investigation on the above-referenced documents and on the accuracy, as of the date hereof, of the matters therein contained.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, and limited in all respects to matters of Delaware law, it is our opinion that when the New Memberships and the Shares, respectively, are issued in the Dividend and the Merger, respectively, as described in the Registration Statement and in accordance with the documents referred to therein and herein, the Shares and the New Memberships will be legally issued, fully paid and nonassessable and, accordingly, the Combinations of Interests consisting of such New Memberships and Shares will be legally issued, fully paid and nonassessable. Our opinion with respect to the nonassessable status of the New Memberships, and of the Combinations of Interests to the extent comprised of New Memberships, does not include dues, fees, fines, charges or other assessments or penalties that may be imposed by the Company on holders of memberships in accordance with and to the extent permitted by the Restated Certificate and Restated Bylaws of the Company, including the rules and regulations of the Company as incorporated into the Restated Bylaws, and we express no opinion concerning the validity or enforceability of any particular right, power, privilege, or obligation of any member of the Company or attaching to any New Membership issued by the Company.

We express no opinion whether the Combinations of Interests constitute a separately issued security for purposes of Delaware law.

We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion as exhibit 5 to the Registration Statement and to the reference to our firm under the heading "Legal Matters" in the Prospectus forming a part thereof. In giving this consent, we do not admit that we are in the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act or the rules and regulations of the Commission.

The opinion is limited to the specific issues addressed herein, and no opinion may be inferred or implied beyond that expressly stated herein. We assume no obligation to revise or supplement this opinion should the applicable law be changed by legislative action, judicial decision or otherwise after the date on which the Registration Statement is declared effective by the Commission.

Very truly yours,

Confidential

SETTLEMENT AGREEMENT

1. The parties hereto agree that this lawsuit and all related claims, lawsuits and controversies between them, asserted or assertable in connection with or arising out of this case, are hereby settled in accordance with the following terms of this Settlement Agreement. The parties agree that the terms of this Settlement Agreement are for the purpose of disposing of disputed claims, and are not an admission of liability on the part of any party hereto.

2. The consideration to be given for this settlement is as follows:

   See Attachment "A" and "B" which are attached hereto and made *a part hereof.

3. The above styled and numbered case shall be resolved by an agreed order of dismissal with prejudice with costs taxed to the party incurring same.

4. Conditioned upon the initial payments due pursuant to Attachments A and B, the parties agree to release, discharge, and forever hold each other harmless from any and all claims, demands, suits, and judgments, known or unknown, fixed or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, which were asserted or assertable in the above case, as of this date, arising from or related to any act or omission or event occurring up to the date of this Agreement. These releases run to the benefit of all attorneys, agents, employees, trustees, officers, directors, shareholders, partners, heirs, assigns, and legal representatives of the parties, in each case only as to acts made solely in such capacity, as well as the parties' majority-owned direct or indirect subsidaries and One Chicago. For clarity, the release with respect to past acts of infringement shall extend to (1) the Board of Trade Clearing Corporation, (2) any suppliers (only to the extent they acted in the capacity of a supplier) of all or a portion of CME's Electronic Futures Exchange (as defined in Attachment A) solely with respect to the acts of making for CME, selling to CME, and offering for sale to CME, all or a portion of CME's Electronic Futures Exchange and (3) any suppliers of all or a portion of CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange (as defined in Attachment B) solely with respect to the acts of making for CBOT, selling to CBOT, and offering for sale to CBOT, all or a portion of CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange.

"Party," if used in these releases, includes all named parties to this Agreement, and all related entities of the parties, including, without limitation, Chicago Mercantile Exchange Holdings Inc. and Chicago Mercantile Exchange Inc.

5. Each signatory hereto warrants and represents that:

(a) He or she has authority to bind the party or parties for whom such person acts except as set forth in paragraph 10(b).

(b) It has the authority to dispose of and/or grant rights with respect to the claims, suits, rights and/or interests which are the subject matter hereto and that such claims, suits, rights and/or interests have not been assigned, transferred or sold.

(6) (a) eSpeed represents and warrants to CBOT and CME that as of the Effective Date, eSpeed is not aware of any claims against CBOT, CME, or their respective majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

(b) ETS represents and warrants to CBOT and CME that as of the Effective Date, ETS is not aware of any claims against CBOT, CME, or their majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

(c) CBOT represents and warrants to eSpeed that as of the Effective Date, CBOT is not aware of any claims against eSpeed or its majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

(d) CBOT represents and warrants to ETS that as of the Effective Date, CBOT is not aware of any claims against ETS or its majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

(e) CME represents and warrants to eSpeed that as of the Effective Date, CME is not aware of any claims against eSpeed or its majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

(f) CME represents and warrants to ETS that as of the Effective Date, CME is not aware of any claims against ETS or its majority-owned direct or indirect subsidiaries, other than the claims that are released and discharged by this Agreement.

7. The parties are authorized to make disclosure of the terms of this Agreement to their respective attorneys, accountants, tax advisors and other persons or entities having a valid commercial interest in the subject matter hereof, provided that prior to any such disclosure, the person or entity to whom such disclosure is made shall agree to keep this Agreement confidential. If any party is sought to be required by judicial or legislative subpoena, notice or other process or demand to furnish information covering the terms of this Agreement, such party shall give as much advance written notice thereof as is reasonably possible to the other parties so that they may, if they so elect, seek protective relief. Notwithstanding the foregoing, eSpeed shall be allowed to disclose the financial terms of this Agreement to licensees for purposes of matters related to most favored licensee provisions.

8. The parties shall make no suggestion that CBOT or CME, by entering into this Agreement, has admitted infringement or validity, nor shall the parties make any suggestion that eSpeed and/or ETS has conceded noninfringement or invalidity. Also, the parties agree to refer to this document as a settlement agreement.

9. If one or more disputes arise with regard to the interpretation and/or performance of this Agreement or any of its provisions, the parties agree to attempt to resolve same by telephone conference with Bud Silverberg, the Mediator who facilitated this settlement. If the parties cannot resolve their differences by telephone conference, then each agrees to schedule one day of mediation with such Mediator within thirty (30) days to resolve the dispute and to share the costs of same equally. If a party refuses to mediate, then that party may not recover attorney's fees and costs in any litigation brought to construe or enforce this Agreement. Otherwise, if mediation is unsuccessful and litigation is brought to construe or enforce this Agreement, then the prevailing party or parties shall be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees, court costs and expenses, including the cost of the mediation.

10. Other terms of this settlement are as follows:

    (a) Attorney's Fees: Each party shall pay its own attorney's fees.

    (b) This Agreement is subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of CBOT by the close of business on August 27,2002.

11. This Settlement Agreement is made and performable in Dallas County, Texas, and shall be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas.

12. Each signatory to this Settlement Agreement has entered into same freely and without duress after having consulted with counsel of his or her choice. Each party hereto has been advised by the Mediator that the Mediator is not the attorney for any party and that each party should have this Agreement reviewed by that party's counsel prior to executing same. All signatories to this Agreement hereby release the Mediator from any and all responsibility arising from the drafting of this Settlement Agreement.

13. All parties agree that faxed signatures shall be sufficient to bind the parties hereto.

14. If either CBOT does not execute this Agreement or the Board of Directors of the CBOT fails to approve this Agreement, then this Agreement shall be binding as between eSpeed, ETS, and CME, provided that those provisions applicable to CBOT shall be null and void.

Signed this 23rd day of August 2002.

ATTACHMENT B

"CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange" shall mean an electronic exchange operated by or for the benefit of CBOT, its majority-owned (directly or indirectly) subsidiaries (the "Subsidiaries"), its successors, and its associated clearing organizations, in each case for the trading and clearing of CBOT's products, (1) where users of the electronic exchange (and/or their agents) can enter bids and offers which are matched by a computer, and (2) which CBOT makes available to its members and/or customers, CBOT controls primary access thereto, and CBOT must provide consent for a third party to gain access thereto. This definition includes One Chicago with respect to futures contracts on individual securities and narrow based security indices. Except with respect to CBOT, its successors, Subsidiaries, and associated clearing organizations, this definition does not include electronic futures exchanges in which CBOT may have an ownership interest, a controlling interest (whether by exercise of voting rights or through an exercise of other interests) and/or operational responsibility.

"Licensed Activities" shall mean an activity by which CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange is used to match bids and offers, together with associated clearing and compliance functions, in each case as defined in the `201 Patent. eSpeed and ETS agree that no license is required for the trading of commodities.

Conditioned upon the payment called for below, eSpeed grants to CBOT a worldwide, non-exclusive, non-transferable, paid-up license, (but without the right to sublicense), to make, have made, and use (but not to sell or offer for sale) an electronic marketplace for conducting Licensed Activities under United States Patent 4,903,201 (the `201 Patent) for the life thereof. For the avoidance of doubt, CBOT shall have the right to transfer this Agreement and license to the successor entitites previously described in CBOT's pending S-4 Registration Statement, provided such parties agree to be bound by all terms hereof and provided that all warranties and representations made herein can be made by such entities.

The license granted herein does not give CBOT the right to license, sell, or offer for sale any software that matches bids and offers for an electronic trading system to any third party, provided that CBOT may do so where proper pursuant to the terms of a license granted to a third party by eSpeed. For convenience of the parties and without resolving any legal issues concerning the following, the parties agree that none of the following shall constitute a sale or offer for sale of any invention claimed in the Patent: selling stock or memberships in the CBOT, leasing or selling equipment to be used with any CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange, or receiving monetary compensation for the use of CBOT's Electronic Futures Exchange.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, the license granted herein shall not allow CBOT to process trades for any third party futures exchange, provided that CBOT may do so where proper pursuant to the terms of a license granted to a third party by eSpeed.

Nothing herein shall be construed to grant any license to (or constitute a waiver of exhaustion of rights with respect to) any intellectual property other than United States Patent no. 4,903,201, either explicitly or by implication.

For the rights and license granted herein, CBOT shall make a lump sum settlement payment (which includes a paid up license fee) to eSpeed of fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000). For the convenience of the parties, and as requested by CBOT, the lump sum settlement payment shall be payable to eSpeed in installments as set forth below:

(i) Within thirty (30) business days following the Effective Date, CBOT shall wire transfer to a bank account specified by eSpeed a first installment in the amount of five million dollars ($5,000,000); and

(ii) On each of the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth anniversaries of the Effective Date, CBOT shall wire transfer to a bank account specified by eSpeed a yearly installment in the amount of two million dollars ($2,000,000), the last such installment to be made on the anniversary of the Effective Date in the year 2007.

EXECUTION

AMENDED AND RESTATED

SOFTWARE LICENSE AGREEMENT

This Amended and Restated Software License Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of August 3, 2004, is among LIFFE ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT, a company incorporated in England and Wales ("LIFFE"), and BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO, INC., a Delaware corporation (the "CBOT"). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in Section 1.

RECITALS

A. LIFFE has devised and developed an automated derivatives trading and order matching system known as "LIFFE CONNECT®" to facilitate the trading of certain securities, futures, and options contracts.

B. LIFFE and the CBOT have heretofore entered into a Software License Agreement dated as of January 10, 2003 (the "Original SLA" and January 10, 2003, the "Original SLA Effective Date"), whereby LIFFE agreed to license to the CBOT the right (a) to use and/or access certain software components of the LIFFE CONNECT system, any Upgrades as LIFFE may provide pursuant to the Managed Services Agreement, and any software that may be developed or provided by LIFFE pursuant to the Development Services Agreement and/or the Managed Services Agreement; and (b) to sublicense the right to use and/or access the API and/or other Interfaces to CBOT Members, Independent Software Vendors, Quote Vendors, and other Persons wishing to participate in the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

C. LIFFE and the CBOT also entered into a Development Services Agreement, dated as of March 5, 2003 (the "Development Services Agreement"), whereby LIFFE agreed to provide to the CBOT a variety of services supporting the creation and implementation of LIFFE CONNECT as a platform for the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

D. As of May 13, 2003, LIFFE and the CBOT entered into a Managed Services Agreement (the "Original MSA"), pursuant to which LIFFE has agreed to provide to the CBOT a variety of information technology, operational, and other services supporting the ongoing operation of LIFFE CONNECT as a platform for the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

E. LIFFE and the CBOT further entered into a Relocation Services Agreement, dated as of August 15, 2003 (the "Relocation Services Agreement"), whereby LIFFE has agreed to establish a LIFFE data centre in a specified location in Chicago, Illinois and, commencing upon a yet to be determined date, to provide to the CBOT a variety of additional services supporting the creation, implementation and future operation of such data centre.

F. Subsequent to the execution of the agreements described above, the CBOT requested that LIFFE (i) permit the CBOT to utilize the Trading System to host electronic trading of certain derivatives products listed by one or more of the Minneapolis Grain Exchange, The Board of Trade of Kansas City, Missouri, Inc. and Winnipeg Commodity Exchange Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of WCE Holdings Inc. (each, a "Hosted Exchange" and, collectively, the "Hosted Exchanges"); and (ii) provide to the CBOT various services in relation to such hosting (the "Hosting Arrangement").

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

G. Furthermore, as of April 23, 2004, LIFFE and the CBOT entered into Amendment No. 1 to the Software License Agreement, pursuant to which the CBOT is permitted to offer [], futures and options on futures for trading via the Licensed Technology (the "[] Arrangement").

H. To accommodate the Hosting Arrangement, incorporate into the main body of such document the terms of Amendment No. 1 to the Software License Agreement, and to effect other amendments to the Original SLA agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT, LIFFE and the CBOT desire to amend and restate the Original SLA on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

I. As of the Amendment Effective Date, LIFFE and the CBOT are additionally entering into an Amended and Restated Managed Services Agreement (the "Managed Services Agreement") to accommodate the Hosting Arrangement and effect additional amendments to the Original MSA agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT.

J. This Agreement is supplemental to and shall be read in conjunction with the Managed Services Agreement and, to the extent applicable, the Development Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement.

In consideration of the recitals and the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, the Parties hereto (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties") agree as follows:

"Wagner License" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 17.2.

2. License

2.1 Grant of License. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, LIFFE hereby grants to the CBOT a non-transferable right and license (the "License"):

(a) from the Original SLA Effective Date to the Go Live Date, to use and/or access the Licensed Technology as necessary for purposes of carrying out any rights or obligations of the CBOT pursuant to any Development Services Agreement; and

(b) from the Go Live Date to the effective date of termination of this Agreement, (i) to use and/or access the TRS Technology for purposes of operating the CBOT Electronic Exchange and the CBOT Open Outcry Facility; (ii) to use and/or access the Licensed Technology (excluding the TRS Technology) solely for purposes of operating the CBOT Electronic Exchange; (iii) to sublicense the right to use and/or access the Interfaces and Non-Restricted Documentation relating thereto to facilitate the participation in the CBOT Electronic Exchange of Market Participants (other than the Hosted Exchanges and the Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants); and

(c) from the Amendment Effective Date to the effective date of termination of this Agreement, to sublicense to each Hosted Exchange (x) the right to use and/or access the API, certain Documentation relating thereto, and any additional Documentation as may be agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT, as is appropriate in the context of the Hosting Arrangement and as agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT, solely for purposes relative to the Hosted Products, and (y) the right to sublicense to Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants the right to use and/or access the API, certain Non-Restricted Documentation relating thereto, and any additional Non-Restricted Documentation as may be agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT, to facilitate the participation in the CBOT Electronic Exchange by such Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants.

2.2 Hosting. Except as specifically provided in Section 2.1 above, the CBOT shall not use the Licensed Technology, or any component thereof, to facilitate the trading of any derivative product, physical commodity or financial instrument listed by (a) any U.S. domiciled "organized exchange," "board of trade" or "trading facility" (as each such term is defined in the Commodity Futures Modernization Act of 2000) under the jurisdiction of the CFTC, other than the CBOT, or (b) any other third party exchange, board of trade, association, communication network, alternative trading system, trading facility or trading platform. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing limitation of the scope of the License shall not apply to Trading Applications.

2.3 Hosted Products. Schedule L attached hereto sets forth those derivatives products of each Hosted Exchange which LIFFE and the CBOT have agreed may be listed on and traded via the CBOT Electronic Exchange (collectively, the "Hosted Products"). Any and all additions to Schedule L as the CBOT may propose shall (a) be addressed via the Change Control Procedures, (b) consist only of Products Within CBOT Non-Exclusive Field of Use, and (c) until such time as the Wagner/eSpeed Patent can no longer be infringed, fall within the relevant categories of products specified in the eSpeed Covenants.

3. Scope of License

The Parties acknowledge that (a) they will be making a significant investment in the customization and implementation of the Licensed Technology to trade products listed by the CBOT and the Euronext.liffe Exchanges, respectively, and (b) carrying out their obligations under this Agreement and any Development Services Agreement and/or Managed Services Agreement will necessitate access to the Confidential Information of the other Party relating to such other Party's respective products, technologies, and business methodologies. Therefore, in accordance with and subject to Sections 3.1 – 3.6 below, the License is:

(i) during the Exclusivity Period, (x) exclusive, to the extent set forth in Section 3.1, with respect to use of the Licensed Technology in connection with Products Within CBOT Exclusive Field of Use; and (y) non-exclusive with respect to use of the Licensed Technology in connection with Products Within CBOT Non-Exclusive Field of Use; and

(ii) after the Exclusivity Period, non-exclusive with respect to use of the Licensed Technology in connection with any futures or options products.

3.1 Exclusive License Granted to CBOT. In order to preclude free riding on the significant investment by the CBOT in the customization of LIFFE CONNECT pursuant to any Development Services Agreement, and to protect the Confidential Information of the CBOT and other intellectual property concerning the CBOT's products, technologies, and business methodologies, LIFFE agrees that, subject to Sections 3.3 and 4, Products Within CBOT Exclusive Field of Use will not be made available for trading on LIFFE CONNECT:

(a) by (i) the Euronext.liffe Exchanges and (ii) any derivatives trading market which becomes comprised in the Euronext N.V. Group of Companies after the Original SLA Effective Date, to the extent that such derivatives trading market is not already trading Products Within CBOT Exclusive Field of Use at the time that it becomes comprised in the Euronext N.V. Group of Companies (but, for the avoidance of doubt, no clearing, settlement, or custody-related activities of the Euronext N.V. Group of Companies shall be deemed to violate the foregoing limitations); or

(b) as a consequence of the licensing of LIFFE CONNECT by LIFFE to a U.S. domiciled "organized exchange," "board of trade" or "trading facility" (as such terms are defined in the Commodity Futures Modernization Act of 2000) under the jurisdiction of the CFTC, as such CFTC jurisdiction is established as of the Original SLA Effective Date, whether or not such exchange, board of trade or trading facility is a member of or becomes comprised in the Euronext N.V. Group of Companies (but, for the avoidance of doubt, such limitations shall not apply in respect of any other exchange, board of trade, association, communication network, alternative trading system, trading facility or trading platform, whether or not its products are made available for trading in the U.S. and/or to U.S. investors).

3.2 Scope of CBOT License.

3.2.1 General Restrictions. In recognition of the significant investment that LIFFE has made in the customization and implementation of the Licensed Technology to trade products listed by the Euronext.liffe Exchanges, and to protect the Confidential Information of LIFFE, and subject to Sections 3.2.2 and 3.4, the CBOT agrees that the license granted hereunder does not include the right to use the Licensed Technology in connection with Products Outside CBOT Field of Use.

3.2.2 Eurodollars.

3.2.2.1 Payment. The CBOT may make available for trading on the Licensed Technology the CBOT's existing U.S. $500,000 notional value Eurodollar futures contracts provided that if, during any calendar quarter, the [] in such CBOT Eurodollar futures contracts on the Licensed Technology exceeds [], then the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE an amount equal to []

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

The CBOT shall make any such payment by the end of the month immediately following the end of the relevant calendar quarter. The CBOT's obligations under this Section 3.2.2.1 shall apply in respect of CBOT Eurodollar futures contracts traded on the Licensed Technology up to and including [].

3.2.2.2. Audit. LIFFE shall have the right, at its own expense, to commission an independent third party professional organization (the "Auditor") to audit the CBOT's performance of its obligations under Section 3.2.2.1 and to provide the results of such audit to ("[]"). The CBOT shall cooperate fully with any such audit and shall provide the Auditor access to all relevant books and records, during normal business hours or as otherwise agreed by the Parties. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the information that may be disclosed by the Auditor to LIFFE and [] shall be subject to Section 15 and will be limited to (a) the amount that was paid to LIFFE by the CBOT in respect of each calendar quarter forming the subject of the audit and (b) the amount that should properly have been paid to LIFFE by the CBOT during each such calendar quarter.

3.3 Third Party Licensees.

3.3.2 Other Licensees. LIFFE will take all commercially reasonable steps (including pursuing court proceedings) to ensure that neither any licensee of LIFFE CONNECT other than the CBOT, nor any other Person, contravenes the exclusivity limitations set forth in Section 3.1. For the avoidance of doubt, preparatory work up to the date on which products are made available for trading in the live market may be undertaken within the Exclusivity Period by any licensee of LIFFE CONNECT or any other Person without triggering LIFFE's obligations under the preceding sentence.

3.4 Exclusivity Period. Subject to Section 3.5, the field of use and exclusivity limitations set forth in Sections 3.1 and 3.2.1 shall take effect upon the Original SLA Effective Date and will remain in force until [] (the "Exclusivity Period"). Thereafter, subject to Section 2.2, the CBOT shall be permitted to make any futures and options products available for trading via the Licensed Technology on a non-exclusive basis. For the avoidance of doubt, preparatory work up to the date on which products are made available for trading in the live market undertaken within the Exclusivity Period will not constitute a breach of the field of use or exclusivity limitations of Sections 3.1, 3.2 or 3.3.

3.5 [] In the event that LIFFE terminates this Agreement in accordance with Section 12.2, then the CBOT shall not, during the Termination Notice Period, make available for trading on the Licensed Technology (a) any product that is listed by one or more of the Euronext.liffe Exchanges, as of the date upon which notice of termination is given by LIFFE, or (b) any product that (i) one or more of the Euronext.liffe Exchanges has publicly announced, prior to the date notice of termination is given by LIFFE, it intends to launch and (ii) is not traded by the CBOT on the Licensed Technology or hosted as Hosted Products as of the date of any such notice of termination is given by LIFFE.

3.6 Acknowledgement. As of the Original SLA Effective Date and the Amendment Effective Date, (a) LIFFE is not subject to any agreements which would materially affect its ability to grant the License, and (b) the CBOT is not subject to any agreements which would materially affect its ability to comply with the License.

4. Restrictions on Use

4.1 Software.

4.1.1 General Restrictions. The CBOT may (a) use and/or access the Software on the Equipment, only at the Locations set forth in Schedule B, and (b) have and make available for use only four (4) run-time copies of the Trading Host. With respect to all Software installed or otherwise located at or accessible from the CBOT's Premises and any other Software to which the CBOT is provided access, the CBOT agrees:

(a) not to, and not to permit any other Person to, copy, modify, decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble or otherwise reduce to a humanly perceivable form, combine with any other works, including any hardware or software facilitating the voice activation of any component of the Licensed Technology, make any attempt to discover the source code of, create derivative works based on, translate, market, sell, or distribute the Software or otherwise make the Software available to any third party, without the prior written consent of LIFFE, except as provided in Sections 2 and 4.1;

(b) not to, and not to permit any other Person to, remove or alter in any manner any trademarks, trade names, copyright notices or other proprietary or confidentiality notices or designations, of LIFFE or any other Person, contained or displayed in or on the Software; or

(c) to ensure that neither the CBOT nor any other Person (excluding LIFFE) introduces any Malicious Code into the Software or otherwise uses the Software to further any illegal purpose.

For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to any Software to which the CBOT has access, the CBOT shall neither provide or allow [] access, nor permit any other Person to provide or allow [] access, to such Software or any portion thereof.

4.1.2 Copies. Subject to Sections 4.1.1 and 6.2.2.3, the CBOT may not copy the Software, except that the CBOT may, for archival or backup purposes, make a reasonable number of copies of Software installed or otherwise located at the CBOT's Premises. All copies of the Software are subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The CBOT shall (i) ensure that all trademarks, trade names, copyright notices and other proprietary and confidentiality notices or designations, of LIFFE or any other Person, contained or displayed in or on the Software are reproduced on all Software copies created by the CBOT; (ii) maintain a current and accurate record of the number of copies made and of the specific location of each such copy; and (iii) ensure that all backup copies are marked as such and are not used for any purpose other than as backup in the event of damage or destruction of other copies.

4.2 Documentation.

4.2.1 Non-Restricted. The CBOT may (a) distribute Non-Restricted Documentation to actual and prospective Market Participants and to other Persons for purposes related to the operation of the CBOT Electronic Exchange by or on behalf of the CBOT; (b) create as many copies of the Non-Restricted Documentation as reasonably necessary for the purposes set forth in Section 4.2.1(a); (c) permit Market Participants (other than the Hosted Exchanges) to copy such Non-Restricted Documentation to the extent allowed by the Interface Sublicense Agreements; and (d) permit prospective Market Participants to copy any Non-Restricted Documentation which is designed primarily for the purpose of marketing the CBOT Electronic Exchange. To facilitate the Hosting Arrangement, the CBOT may additionally permit Hosted Exchanges (i) to distribute Non-Restricted Documentation to their respective actual and prospective Hosted Exchange Participants, (ii) to create as many copies of the Non-Restricted Documentation as reasonably necessary to effect such purpose, (iii) to permit Hosted Exchange Participants to copy such Non-Restricted Documentation to the extent allowed by the Interface Sublicense Agreements, and (iv) permit prospective Hosted Exchange Participants to copy any Non-Restricted Documentation designed primarily for the purpose of marketing the trading of Hosted Products via the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

4.2.2 Restricted. The CBOT (a) may create only the number of copies of the Restricted Documentation specified in Part 2(b) of Schedule A; and (b) shall maintain a current record of (x) the number of copies of such Restricted Documentation made by the CBOT, (y) the Persons given access to each item of Restricted Documentation, and (z) the current location of each item of Restricted Documentation.

4.2.3 General Limitations. All copies of the Documentation are subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. The CBOT shall ensure that all trademarks, trade names, copyright notices and other proprietary and confidentiality notices or designations, of LIFFE or any other Person, are reproduced on all copies of the Documentation (both Restricted and Non-Restricted). The CBOT agrees not to, and not to authorize any other Person to: (a) except as permitted in Sections

4.2.1, 4.2.2 and/or 15, as applicable, copy, modify, create derivative works based on, translate, market, sell, or distribute the Documentation, or otherwise make the Documentation available to any third party, without the prior written consent of LIFFE; or (b) remove or alter in any manner any trademarks, trade names, copyright notices or other proprietary or confidentiality notices or designations contained or displayed in the Documentation.

5. Interface Sublicense Agreements

5.1 Interface Sublicense Agreements. Each CBOT Member, ISV, QV, or any additional Person (excluding Hosted Exchanges) wishing to interface with the API and/or another Interface and to participate in the CBOT Electronic Exchange shall be required by the CBOT to enter into, and provide to the CBOT (or, if executed by an Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participant as addressed in Section 6.2.3, the applicable Hosted Exchange), an executed copy of the "Interface Sublicense Agreement," in the form attached hereto as Schedule E (each, as executed by the CBOT and a Market Participant or by a Hosted Exchange and an Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participant, an "Interface Sublicense Agreement"). Amendments to any Interface Sublicense Agreement may be made only upon LIFFE's prior written consent. Upon the written request of LIFFE, the CBOT shall promptly provide to LIFFE copies of a current, fully executed Interface Sublicense Agreement for each Market Participant (including any and all Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants) authorized to gain access to one or more of the Interfaces.

5.2 Enforcement. In respect of all Market Participants (other than Hosted Exchanges), the CBOT:

(a) shall enforce each Market Participant's compliance with the terms of the Interface Sublicense Agreement;

(b) shall provide LIFFE written notice of any violation by a Market Participant or any other Person of any Interface Sublicense Agreement, immediately upon becoming aware of any such violation;

(c) shall provide LIFFE written notice of the termination (specifying the effective date of termination) of any Interface Sublicense Agreement, immediately upon the CBOT receiving or giving notice of such termination;

(d) shall, upon the termination of any Interface Sublicense Agreement, provide LIFFE any reasonable assistance as LIFFE may request in facilitating either the return to LIFFE of, or the destruction of and certification of the destruction of, all Licensed Technology in the possession of the relevant Market Participant, at the CBOT's expense; provided, however, that such Market Participant (i) shall be required only to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on the Market Participant's electronic backup media created by such Market Participant in the normal course of business; and (ii) shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 15 of this Agreement;

(e) shall provide LIFFE written notice promptly upon becoming aware of any acts or omissions of any Person, in addition to those required to be reported pursuant to Section 5.2(b), which the CBOT believes, in its reasonable judgment, (i) might jeopardize or prejudice the rights of LIFFE or its suppliers in the Licensed Technology; (ii) would result in the Licensed Technology being confiscated, seized, requisitioned, taken in execution, impounded or otherwise taken from any location; or (iii) threaten the security or operations of the Licensed Technology;

(f) shall provide LIFFE written notice promptly upon becoming aware of any claim, demand, or cause of action brought against the CBOT by a Market Participant or any other Person, or any subpoena served upon the CBOT or any employee, officer or director thereof, which relates to (i) any Interface Sublicense Agreement, or (ii) the Licensed Technology or any component thereof; and

(g) shall not repossess or disable any Software located at any premises owned or controlled by any Market Participant, and shall enforce its rights under the Interface Sublicense Agreements so as not to permit any Person (other than LIFFE or LIFFE's designee) to repossess or disable any Software located at any premises owned or controlled by any Market Participant, notwithstanding Section 5.2(a).

6. Hosting Agreements

6.1 Agreements with Hosted Exchanges. In the event the CBOT wishes to enter into a Hosting Arrangement with any Hosted Exchange, the CBOT shall, prior to the Hosting Go Live Date in respect of such Hosted Exchange, enter into a written agreement with such Hosted Exchange governing (a) any permitted use of and/or access to the API by the Hosted Exchange, and (b) the hosting services and any related services to be provided to such Hosted Exchange (each such agreement, as executed by the CBOT and a Hosted Exchange, a "Hosting Agreement"). Upon the written request of LIFFE, the CBOT shall promptly provide to LIFFE an accurate and complete copy of a current, fully executed Hosting Agreement for each Hosted Exchange.

6.2 Content Requirements.

6.2.1 Hosted Products. Each Hosting Agreement shall (a) specify in a schedule to the Hosting Agreement the Hosted Products in respect of the relevant Hosted Exchange, and (b) provide that the CBOT will deliver Hosting Services to the Hosted Exchange only in respect of the Hosted Products set forth in the Hosting Agreement as of the effective date of such Hosting Agreement unless the CBOT has agreed in writing to the delivery of Hosting Services in regard to any additional products.

6.2.2 LIFFE Property.

6.2.2.1 General. Each Hosting Agreement shall obligate the relevant Hosted Exchange to comply with terms that are (a) consistent in all material respects with the applicable terms of the Interface Sublicense Agreement, (b) consistent in all material respects with those requirements relating to the specific use, protection, ownership and return of LIFFE Property, by the Hosted Exchange and its Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants (as applicable), imposed upon the CBOT in this Agreement and in the Managed Services Agreement, and (c) no less protective of LIFFE's interests than the applicable provisions of this Agreement and the Managed Services Agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the CBOT must require each Hosted Exchange to agree to comply with all obligations imposed upon the CBOT in Sections 4, 7 (excluding 7.1(a)), 9, 13.1, 14.1 and 15 of this Agreement and Sections 5, 6, 7 (excluding 7.2(a), but including applicable dependencies set forth on Schedule J thereto), 8, 14.1, 15.1 and 16 of the Managed Services Agreement in respect of the Hosted Exchange and, as applicable, its Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants.

6.2.2.2 Equipment. Without limiting the generality of Section 6.2.2.1, each Hosting Agreement will (a) provide for the right of LIFFE, at its option, to replace, disable and/or repossess Equipment, at premises owned or controlled by the Hosted Exchange and/or any of its Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants, as applicable, as set forth in Section 9 of this Agreement and Sections 5.1.2 and 5.2.1 of the Managed Services Agreement, and (b) impose upon the Hosted Exchange the requirements of the CBOT set forth in Section 5.3 of the Managed Services Agreement, in respect of the Hosted Exchange and its respective Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants, and in regard to those CBOT Controlled Sites comprised of locations owned or controlled by the Hosted Exchange and/or any of its Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants, as applicable.

6.2.2.3 Software. Without limiting the generality of Section 6.2.2.1, with respect to any Software to which the Hosted Exchange is provided access the Hosted Exchange (a) must agree to comply with all obligations imposed upon the CBOT in Section 4.1.1, and (b) may make one copy of each version of the API that may be delivered to the Hosted Exchange, which copy shall be used exclusively for back-up purposes; provided, however, that no Hosted Exchange will be permitted to possess or copy the Trading Host or to make copies of any Software other than as provided in this Section 6.2.2.3.

6.2.3 Interface Sublicense Agreements. Each Hosting Agreement (a) shall provide that the Hosted Exchange shall require each Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participant to enter into and provide to the Hosted Exchange or the CBOT a current, fully executed Interface Sublicense Agreement (with any such modifications to which LIFFE may consent in writing), and (b) shall otherwise impose upon the Hosted Exchange each and every obligation of the CBOT stated in Section 5 in respect of the Hosted Exchange and its Exclusive Hosted Exchange Participants, as applicable*; provided*, however, that the Hosting Agreement may permit all notices to LIFFE required by Section 5.2 to be delivered by a Hosted Exchange to the CBOT, which shall then have the burden of providing such notices to LIFFE under Section 5.2.

6.2.4 Fees. Each Hosting Agreement shall provide for the payment by the relevant Hosted Exchange to the CBOT of such fees as are, at a minimum, equal to those Hosting Fees for such Hosted Exchange specified in Schedule I.

6.2.5 Suspension. Each Hosting Agreement shall provide that if a Hosted Exchange fails to pay to the CBOT any sums due under such Hosting Agreement, then, without prejudice to any other remedy available to the CBOT or any third party beneficiary of such Hosting Agreement, the CBOT may, upon fourteen (14) days prior written notice to such Hosted Exchange, suspend both the license granted to the Hosted Exchange under the Hosting Agreement and all Hosting Services delivered to such Hosted Exchange, provided that the Hosted Exchange has not paid such sums within the fourteen (14) day notice period. Any such suspension shall continue until such time, following payment to the CBOT of the overdue amounts, as LIFFE and the CBOT agree that reinstatement of the Hosting Services is reasonably practicable.

6.2.6 Term and Termination. The Hosting Agreement shall include term and termination provisions that (a) do not in any manner conflict with those set forth in Sections 11 and 12 hereof or Sections 12 and 13 of the Managed Services Agreement and (b) provide for the automatic termination of the Hosting Agreement upon the expiration and/or termination of this Agreement and/or the Managed Services Agreement. In particular, the Hosting Agreement shall provide that (i) a Hosted Exchange may terminate its Hosting Agreement without cause on twelve (12) months prior written notice, (ii) either party to the Hosting Agreement may terminate the Hosting Agreement immediately upon written notice to the other party if the other party commits a breach of any of its material obligations under the Hosting Agreement and fails to remedy such material breach within thirty (30) days of receipt of written notice thereof, and (iii) either party may terminate the Hosting Agreement on thirty (30) days notice upon the insolvency of the other party. For the avoidance of doubt, the Parties acknowledge that any termination of a Hosting Agreement shall not in any manner alter or otherwise affect the term of this Agreement or of the Managed Services Agreement.

6.2.7 Third Party Licenses. Each Hosting Agreement shall require the Hosted Exchange to (a) enter into and comply with the terms and conditions of those third party licenses set forth as Schedule G Parts 7 ([]), 9 ([]), and 11 ([]); and (b) acknowledge and agree that any rights or remedies to be pursued by the Hosted Exchange in respect of any Third Party Software shall be pursued against the third party licensor (and not LIFFE or the CBOT).

6.2.8 Trading Rules. Each Hosting Agreement shall provide that the rules of the Hosted Exchange regarding the trading of Hosted Products via the CBOT Electronic Exchange may not conflict with the Hosting Agreement, and the CBOT shall ensure that no such rules conflict with this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement or the Relocation Services Agreement.

6.2.9 Compliance with Laws. Each Hosting Agreement shall require the Hosted Exchange to use good faith efforts to comply with all applicable laws and regulations relating to the operation of the Hosted Exchange.

6.2.10 Third Party Beneficiary. LIFFE shall be a third party beneficiary of each Hosting Agreement, and shall thereby be entitled to receive the rights of the CBOT and enforce the provisions of each Hosting Agreement against the Hosted Exchange, or any other Person, to the same extent as if LIFFE had been a signatory to each Hosting Agreement; provided, however, that (a) nothing contained in any Hosting Agreement shall impose directly upon LIFFE any of the obligations of the CBOT set forth therein; and (b) LIFFE shall not be entitled to receive those rights of the CBOT in respect of which no corresponding right of LIFFE or obligation of the CBOT exists under this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement (including termination of the Hosting Agreement and payment under the Hosting Agreement other than payment of any amounts due in respect of any Hosting Transition Period) and rights and obligations of the CBOT in respect of CBOT Property (as defined in this Agreement).

6.3 Enforcement. The CBOT:

(a) shall, subject to Section 6.6.2 in respect of amounts owed during any Hosting Transition Period, enforce each Hosted Exchange's compliance with the terms of the Hosting Agreement that affect or correspond to LIFFE's rights or the CBOT's obligations under this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement;

(b) shall provide LIFFE written notice of any violation, by a Hosted Exchange or any other Person, of any Hosting Agreement that affects or corresponds to LIFFE's rights or the CBOT's obligations under this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement, immediately upon becoming aware of any such violation;

(c) shall provide LIFFE written notice of the termination (specifying the effective date of termination) of any Hosting Agreement (a "Hosting Agreement Termination Notice"), immediately upon the CBOT receiving or giving notice of such termination;

(d) shall, upon the termination of any Hosting Agreement, provide LIFFE any reasonable assistance as LIFFE may request in facilitating either the return to LIFFE of, or the destruction of and certification of the destruction of, all Licensed Technology in the possession of the relevant Hosted Exchange, at the CBOT's expense; provided, however, that the Hosted Exchange (i) shall be required only to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on the Hosted Exchange's electronic backup media created by the Hosted Exchange in the normal course of business; and (ii) shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 15 of this Agreement;

(e) shall provide LIFFE written notice promptly upon becoming aware of any acts or omissions of any Hosted Exchange, in addition to those required to be reported pursuant to Section 6.3(b), which the CBOT believes, in its reasonable judgment, (i) might jeopardize or prejudice the rights of LIFFE or its suppliers in the Licensed Technology or the Equipment; (ii) would result in the Licensed Technology or the Equipment being confiscated, seized, requisitioned, taken in execution, impounded or otherwise taken from any location; or (iii) threaten the security or operations of the Licensed Technology or Equipment;

(f) shall provide LIFFE written notice promptly upon becoming aware of any claim, demand, or cause of action brought against the CBOT by a Hosted Exchange or any other Person, or any subpoena served upon the CBOT or any employee, officer or director thereof, which relates to (i) any Hosting Agreement, or (ii) the Licensed Technology or the Equipment or any component thereof; and

(g) shall not repossess or disable any Software or Equipment located at any Hosted Exchange's Premises, and shall enforce its rights under the Hosting Agreements so as not to permit any Person (other than LIFFE or LIFFE's designee) to repossess or disable any Software or Equipment located at any Hosted Exchange's Premises.

6.4 Acknowledgement. Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, the Parties acknowledge and agree that, as between LIFFE and the CBOT,

(a) the CBOT shall bear all risks associated with (i) any and all services provided by the CBOT (and/or by LIFFE, on the CBOT's behalf) to a Hosted Exchange and/or in respect of the Hosted Products, including all Hosting Services; (ii) the expansion of the License and such other amendments to the Original SLA made to accommodate the Hosting Arrangement; and (iii) the expansion of LIFFE's Services obligations under the Original MSA to facilitate hosting of the Hosted Products.

(b) In furtherance of Section 6.4(a), the Parties acknowledge and agree that (i) the Service Targets and Credits and Bonuses set forth in the Managed Services Agreement will not be amended for purposes of accommodating hosting of the Hosted Products; provided, however, that the Service Targets may be amended in accordance with Paragraph 2.3 of Schedule A to the Managed Services Agreement; and (ii) the limitations on LIFFE's liability (including, but not limited to, the $[] limitation on LIFFE's cumulative liability) under this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, and the Relocation Services Agreement, shall not be increased in any respect.

6.5 Marks. The CBOT shall not, via the Hosting Agreement or otherwise, sublicense to any Hosted Exchange any portion of the rights granted to the CBOT under the Managed Services Agreement to use the Marks (as defined in the Managed Services Agreement).

6.6 Termination of Hosting Agreement.

6.6.1 Hosting Fees. In the event of termination of any Hosting Agreement, Hosting Fees with respect to the relevant Hosted Exchange, shall, subject to Section 6.6.3, continue to accrue in accordance with Schedule I for a period, immediately following the delivery of a Hosting Agreement Termination Notice pursuant to Section 6.3(c) (the "Hosting Transition Period"), of,

(a) in the event the Hosted Exchange has exercised its right to terminate the Hosting Agreement without cause, (i) twelve months or (ii) such alternative time period as LIFFE, pursuant to the CBOT's direction, continues to deliver Services in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange; provided, however, that the CBOT shall notify LIFFE at least fifteen (15) days in advance of the date upon which LIFFE is to cease providing such Services; or

(b) in the event the Hosting Agreement has been terminated by reason of material breach, insolvency, or such other grounds for termination as are equivalent to those set forth in Section 12.3.2 of this Agreement and notwithstanding any prior notification by the relevant Hosted Exchange of its intention to terminate the Hosting Agreement without cause, the later of (i) thirty (30) days and (ii) such alternative time period as the CBOT may direct LIFFE to continue to deliver Services in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange; provided, however, that the CBOT shall notify LIFFE at least fifteen (15) days in advance of the date upon which LIFFE is to cease providing such Services; or

(c) notwithstanding Section 6.6.1(a) and (b), such duration as LIFFE delivers Services in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange, pursuant to a requirement, decision, or order of a regulatory or governmental authority, arbitration panel or court of competent jurisdiction.

Upon the expiration of the Hosting Transition Period, the accrual of Hosting Fees with respect to such Hosted Exchange shall end, and, subject to Section 6.6.2, the CBOT shall be obligated to pay to LIFFE all accrued Hosting Fees.

6.6.2 Collection. Notwithstanding Section 6.6.1, except in the event of termination by a Hosted Exchange on grounds of material breach by the CBOT, which breach is not a result of a material breach by LIFFE of its obligations to the CBOT in respect of the Hosted Exchange, if a Hosted Exchange fails to pay to the CBOT amounts equivalent to the Hosting Fees payable to LIFFE in respect of such Hosted Exchange for the Hosting Transition Period or any portion thereof (the "HTP Fees"), then the CBOT shall

(a) within fifteen (15) days following the date the relevant HTP Fees were due to be paid under the relevant Hosting Agreement, (i) provide to LIFFE written notice of such nonpayment, signed by a senior representative of the CBOT and setting forth the specific amount of the HTP Fees that are overdue, and (ii) remit to LIFFE all HTP Fees paid by the Hosted Exchange to the CBOT for the relevant period prior to such date;

(b) promptly commence and carry out good faith efforts to collect the unpaid HTP Fees, which efforts shall, in the event the aggregate unpaid Hosting Fees due to LIFFE in respect of such Hosted Exchange exceed the Minimum Quarterly Payment specified to be paid in respect of such Hosted Exchange during the Initial Term, include (i) filing a claim based on the Hosted Exchange's breach of the Hosting Agreement with the appropriate authorities and (ii) prosecuting such claim to either judgment or a reasonable settlement or other compromise approved by LIFFE in advance, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed*;* and

(c) pay to LIFFE all overdue HTP Fees collected from the relevant Hosted Exchange, in addition to those paid pursuant to Section 6.6.2(a)(ii) above, in gross (i.e., without any reduction for attorneys fees, costs or other amounts incurred by the CBOT), promptly following the CBOT's receipt thereof.

6.6.3 Termination Costs. In the event of termination of any Hosting Agreement, the CBOT shall be obligated to reimburse LIFFE for any and all costs and expenses (a) incurred by LIFFE solely as a result of the termination of such Hosting Agreement, and (b) for which LIFFE is contractually obligated as of the termination of such Hosting Agreement, including any Connection Services Charges.

6.7 CBOT's Acquisition of Hosted Exchange. If, during the term of this Agreement, the CBOT acquires all or substantially all of the assets, or one hundred percent (100%) of the equity interests, of any Hosted Exchange (an "HE Acquisition"), then, as of (a) the actual date of closing of the HE Acquisition (whereupon all documents effecting the HE Acquisition and the termination of the relevant Hosting Agreement have been executed by the parties to the HE Acquisition and all other agreed upon closing deliveries have been made) (such date, the "Closing Date"), provided that the CBOT has given LIFFE written notice of the planned acquisition at least thirty (30) days prior to the Closing Date, or (b) if such notice has not been made in a timely fashion, on such date, subsequent to the Closing Date, that is thirty (30) days immediately following the date upon which LIFFE received from the CBOT written notice of the acquisition (such Closing Date or alternative date, as applicable, the "HE Acquisition Date"): (i) the Hosting Fees payable in respect of the relevant Hosted Exchange in accordance with Schedule I shall cease to accrue, and (ii) all Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange shall be considered "CBOT Products" (as defined herein). The application of the foregoing sentence shall not in any manner alter or otherwise affect the obligation of the CBOT to pay to LIFFE all Hosting Fees, in respect of the relevant Hosted Exchange, accruing prior to the HE Acquisition Date.

7. Obligations of the CBOT and LIFFE

7.1 Security. In addition to all other duties of the CBOT specified hereunder and/or in the Development Services Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement in respect of Licensed Technology and the use or access thereof by the CBOT and the Market Participants, the CBOT shall (a) use reasonable efforts to comply with LIFFE's security policy, a copy of which is attached as Schedule F hereto; (b) establish and maintain supervisory and security procedures satisfactory to LIFFE for the purpose of protecting all Licensed Technology and LIFFE's rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology; (c) require each Market Participant to establish and maintain supervisory and security procedures appropriate to protect all Licensed Technology and LIFFE's rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology; and (d) use reasonable efforts to ensure that no personnel of the CBOT, any Affiliates or subcontractors of the CBOT, any Market Participant, or any agents of the foregoing (other than LIFFE) shall have access to the Licensed Technology (excluding the Interfaces and Non-Restricted Documentation), unless such personnel has received appropriate training.

7.2 Third Party Licenses. The CBOT shall enter into and comply with the terms and conditions of those third party license agreements set forth in Schedule G. The CBOT acknowledges and agrees that any rights or remedies to be pursued by the CBOT in respect of any third party software shall be pursued against the third party licensor (and not LIFFE).

7.3 Upgrades. Subject to any applicable obligations of LIFFE pursuant to any Managed Services Agreement entered into by the Parties, nothing herein shall require LIFFE to (a) create any Upgrades or (b) license to the CBOT for use and/or access as "Licensed Technology" hereunder any modifications, enhancements, improvements or additions to the Licensed Technology as LIFFE may choose to create. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event LIFFE delivers to the CBOT any Upgrades pursuant to any Managed Services Agreement, the CBOT shall install such Upgrades in accordance with the terms of such Managed Services Agreement.

7.4 Materials and Assistance. In order to facilitate the Parties' performance of their obligations hereunder, the CBOT shall promptly provide to LIFFE such information and documentation as LIFFE may reasonably request.

7.5 Export Compliance. The CBOT and LIFFE each shall comply with all applicable export laws and regulations of the United States and foreign authorities, including regulatory authorities. For purposes of this obligation, export laws and regulations include, but are not limited to, all applicable end use controls and all applicable restrictions on the export, reexport and transfer of encryption items.

8. Escrow Agreement

The Parties have entered into that certain Preferred Escrow Agreement dated as of February 11, 2004, with Data Securities International, Inc. (the "Escrow Agreement").

9. Inspection, Removal, or Disablement of the Licensed Technology

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

In the event that any Licensed Technology is located at the CBOT's Premises, LIFFE shall be entitled to have reasonable access to the CBOT's Premises and such Licensed Technology, and:

(a) to inspect such Licensed Technology or any portion thereof: (i) to determine whether the CBOT is complying or has complied with its obligations under this Agreement; and/or (ii) to facilitate LIFFE's efforts to remedy any defect or error in the Licensed Technology or any portion thereof; and

(b) to disable and/or to remove such Licensed Technology or any part or parts thereof (i) if the CBOT has failed or is failing to comply with its obligations under this Agreement; or (ii) to facilitate LIFFE's efforts to remedy any defect or error in the Licensed Technology or any portion thereof.

10. Fees

10.1 Payment. In consideration for the rights and licenses granted hereunder, the CBOT shall, via wire transfer of immediately available funds to such bank account as LIFFE may specify, (a) pay to LIFFE the License Fee in accordance with Schedule I, and (b) reimburse LIFFE for any out of pocket expenses incurred by LIFFE hereunder (collectively, "Out of Pocket Expenses") (the License Fee and Out of Pocket Expenses, collectively, the "Fees"). All payments hereunder shall be made in pounds sterling or in U.S. Dollars, as specified in Schedule I.

10.2 Taxes. The Fees are exclusive of all international, national or state taxes (including withholding taxes), levies, duties, or similar charges, however designated, that may be assessed by any jurisdiction under current law or as a result of any change in the law following the date thereof (collectively, "Taxes"), and the CBOT shall pay or reimburse LIFFE for all such Taxes that may be levied or imposed in relation to this Agreement or any of the rights and licenses granted hereunder, excluding taxes based on the net income of LIFFE. Prior to receiving from the CBOT any payment which may be subject to United States withholding taxes, LIFFE shall deliver to the CBOT two original copies of Internal Revenue Service Form "W-8BEN" (or any successor forms), accurately completed and duly executed by LIFFE certifying, in Line 9a thereof (or the corresponding line of any successor forms), that the applicable treaty is the United States-United Kingdom Income Tax Convention, and further certifying the matters set forth in Line 9b and 9c of Form "W-8BEN" (or the corresponding lines of any successor forms). LIFFE hereby agrees, from time to time after the initial delivery by LIFFE of such forms whenever a lapse in time or change of circumstances renders such forms obsolete or inaccurate in any material respect, to deliver to the CBOT two new original copies of Internal Revenue Service Form "W-8BEN" (or any successor forms), accurately completed and duly executed by LIFFE. Notwithstanding this Section 10.2, the relevant Fees shall be paid net of any U.S. federal income withholding tax caused by the failure of LIFFE to provide the CBOT with such forms, unless a change in applicable law of the United States, enacted or promulgated after the date hereof, makes it impossible for LIFFE to continue to make the certifications described above.

10.3 Invoices. LIFFE shall invoice the CBOT for the License Fee in accordance with Schedule I, in pounds sterling or in U.S. Dollars with respect to fees identified on Schedule I in U.S. Dollars. LIFFE shall invoice the CBOT monthly in arrears for the Out of Pocket Expenses and any additional amounts due hereunder (excluding the License Fee), in pounds sterling. Payment of each invoice shall be made by the CBOT within fourteen (14) days of the date of receipt of such invoice by the CBOT, unless the CBOT makes a good faith objection to the terms of the invoice, in which case (a) the CBOT shall pay the undisputed amount of the invoice, and (b) the Parties shall promptly undertake to resolve the disputed portion of the invoice.

10.4 Suspension.

10.4.1 Suspension of CBOT's License in Full. Subject to Section 10.4.2, if the CBOT fails to pay any undisputed sum due under this Agreement, then, without prejudice to any other remedy available to LIFFE, LIFFE may, upon fourteen (14) days prior written notice to the CBOT, suspend the CBOT's License, provided that the CBOT has not made payment within such period of time.

10.4.2 Suspension in Respect of Hosted Exchange. If the CBOT fails to pay to LIFFE any undisputed Hosting Fees due under this Agreement because a Hosted Exchange has failed to pay to the CBOT fees corresponding to such Hosting Fees, then, upon the CBOT's notice to LIFFE thereof signed by a senior representative of the CBOT and without prejudice to any other remedy available to LIFFE, (a) LIFFE and the CBOT agree to suspend the License granted under Section 2.1(c) solely in respect of the relevant Hosted Exchange and the delivery of Services in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange (but not CBOT Products or the Hosted Products of any other Hosted Exchange); (b) the CBOT shall promptly provide to such Hosted Exchange fourteen (14) days' prior written notice of the CBOT's suspension of the license granted to such Hosted Exchange under its Hosting Agreement with the CBOT and the Hosting Services delivered to such Hosted Exchange; and (c) if the Hosted Exchange has not paid the overdue fees within such fourteen (14) day period, LIFFE shall (unless prohibited by a requirement, decision or order of a regulatory or governmental authority, arbitration panel or court of competent jurisdiction) (i) suspend the License granted under Section 2.1(c) in respect of such Hosted Exchange and (ii) cease providing Services solely in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange (but not CBOT Products or Hosted Products of any other Hosted Exchange).

10.4.3 Reinstatement. In the event of reinstatement of the License suspended under Section 10.4.1 and/or Section 10.4.2, the CBOT will (i) pay LIFFE for all work undertaken by LIFFE in connection with such reinstatement on a time and materials basis in accordance with LIFFE's then current hourly rates for comparable services, and (ii) the CBOT shall be required to install (or require to be installed) any such Upgrades to the version(s) of the Licensed Technology last utilized by the CBOT or the relevant Hosted Exchange, as LIFFE may specify.

10.5 Late Payment. If the CBOT fails to pay any undisputed Fees due under this Agreement, then interest shall be charged thereon from the date of issuance of the applicable invoice until the date payment is made, at the rate of the lesser of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month, or the maximum amount allowed under applicable law.

11. Term

11.1 Initial Term. The initial term of this Agreement shall commence on the Original SLA Effective Date, and shall continue until and including December 31, 2008 (the "Initial Term"), unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 12.

11.2 Renewal. Unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 12, THIS AGREEMENT WILL AUTOMATICALLY RENEW FOR NO MORE THAN TWO SUCCESSIVE PERIODS OF THREE (3) YEARS (each, a "Renewal Term"). The Initial Term and any Renewal Terms are hereinafter referred to as the "Term."

12. Termination

12.1 By the CBOT.

12.1.1 Non-Renewal. The CBOT may terminate this Agreement, for any reason, upon written notice to LIFFE provided at least [] months prior to the end of the Initial Term or the First Renewal Term (if any).

12.1.2 Development Services Agreement and Managed Services Agreement. The Original SLA provided to the CBOT the right to terminate this Agreement immediately upon notice to LIFFE in the event that the Parties had not entered into (a) a Development Services Agreement by March 1, 2003; or (b) a Managed Services Agreement by May 1, 2003. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this right of termination has been extinguished.

12.2 By LIFFE.

12.2.1 []. LIFFE may terminate this Agreement, upon twelve (12) months prior written notice to the CBOT ("Termination Notice Period"), if [] A.G., or any Affiliate of [] directly or indirectly acquires control of the CBOT.

12.2.2 Development Services Agreement and Managed Services Agreement. The Original SLA provided to LIFFE the right to terminate this Agreement immediately upon notice to the CBOT in the event that the Parties had not entered into a Development Services Agreement and a Managed Services Agreement by September 1, 2003. The Parties acknowledge and agree that this right of termination has been extinguished.

12.2.3 [] Arrangement. LIFFE may, upon thirty (30) days' prior written notice to the CBOT, terminate the rights and obligations of the Parties set forth in Schedule I, Part 3, in the exercise of LIFFE's own judgment without limitation as to time.

12.3 By Either Party.

12.3.1 Material Breach. Subject to Section 13.3, at any time during the term of this Agreement, either Party may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice to the other Party if the other Party commits a breach of any of its material obligations under this Agreement and fails to remedy such material breach within thirty (30) days of receipt of written notice thereof.

12.3.2 Insolvency. At any time during the term of this Agreement, either Party may terminate this Agreement upon thirty (30) days prior written notice if: (a) the other Party (i) becomes insolvent, (ii) voluntarily commences any proceeding or files any petition under the bankruptcy laws of the United States or England and Wales, (iii) becomes subject to any involuntary bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings under the laws of the United States or England and Wales, which proceedings are not dismissed within thirty (30) days, (iv) makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, or (v) appoints a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator for a substantial portion of, its property, assets or business; or (b) the other Party passes a resolution for its winding up or dissolution, or a court of competent jurisdiction makes an order for such other Party's winding up or dissolution.

12.4 Automatic Termination. As maintenance services relating to the Licensed Technology will be required (at a minimum), this Agreement will terminate automatically upon termination of the Managed Services Agreement.

13. Consequences of Termination

13.1 Licensed Technology. In addition to complying with those requirements set forth in Section 14.1 of the Managed Services Agreement:

13.1.1 In CBOT's Possession. Following termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall (a) immediately cease use of the Licensed Technology; (b) at LIFFE's request and at the CBOT's expense, (i) immediately return to LIFFE, or destroy and certify as destroyed, any Licensed Technology in the CBOT's possession and/or control (including all Documentation), and (ii) return to LIFFE any and all other LIFFE Property in the CBOT's possession and/or control; and (c) within fourteen (14) days of the effective date of termination of this Agreement, permanently erase and certify the erasure of the Software (and all copies thereof) from the Equipment and all backup Media. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall only be required to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on the CBOT's electronic backup media created by the CBOT in the normal course of business; provided, however, that the CBOT shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 15 of this Agreement.

13.1.2 In Market Participants' Possession. Upon or prior to the effective date of termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall, at the CBOT's expense, (a) terminate all Interface Sublicense Agreements and Hosting Agreements; (b) require each Market Participant, to which the CBOT has sublicensed the right to use and/or access certain components of the Licensed Technology, to (i) cease use of such Licensed Technology and (ii) promptly return to LIFFE, or destroy and certify as destroyed, each item of Licensed Technology in such Market Participant's possession and/or control (including all Documentation), and (iii) promptly return to LIFFE any other LIFFE Property within such Market Participant's possession and/or control; and (c) notwithstanding Section 13.1.2(b), return to LIFFE any LIFFE Property that has been provided to the CBOT by any Market Participant, promptly upon the CBOT's receipt thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each Market Participant shall only be required to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on such Market Participant's electronic backup media created by such Market Participant in the normal course of business; provided, however, that each Market Participant shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 15 of this Agreement.

13.2 Third Party Obligations. In the event of termination of this Agreement, LIFFE will use commercially reasonable efforts to terminate any contracts with third parties relating to LIFFE's provision of the Licensed Technology or other obligations hereunder (or relevant portions thereof). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall be obligated to reimburse LIFFE for any and all costs and expenses relevant to this Agreement for which LIFFE is contractually obligated as of the termination hereof.

13.3 Transition. In the event of LIFFE's notice of termination to the CBOT pursuant to Section 12.3.1 for a material breach that is incapable of remedy, the License provided hereunder shall continue for a period of up to [] months from the date upon which notice of termination is given (the "Transition Period"); provided that, within thirty (30) days following notice of termination, (a) the CBOT has accepted full liability for such material breach via written notice to LIFFE in a form acceptable to LIFFE, in LIFFE's sole discretion; and (b) the CBOT has submitted to LIFFE reasonable assurances that it has employed measures sufficient to prohibit repetition of such material breach. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) during any Transition Period, LIFFE shall not be held liable for any failure to perform any obligations under this Agreement (x) that have been transitioned by the CBOT to a Person other than LIFFE, or (y) that have been wound down or phased out; and (ii) in the event of the CBOT's breach of any of its material obligations under this Agreement during any Transition Period, then LIFFE may terminate this Agreement immediately upon notice to the CBOT.

13.4 CBOT [] Products. In the event LIFFE exercises its right of termination pursuant to Section 12.2.3 (the "[] Termination"), the CBOT [] Products shall, subject to the terms of this Agreement (including Section 3.4 of this Agreement), hereunder; provided, however, that:

(a) the CBOT shall not be liable to pay LIFFE any CBOT [] Trading Fee Revenue in connection with any CBOT [] Product trades matched on the CBOT Trading Facility subsequent to the effective date of the [] Termination; and

(b) LIFFE shall have no obligation to pay the CBOT any LIFFE [] Trading Fee Revenue in connection with LIFFE [] Product trades matched on the LIFFE Market subsequent to the effective date of the [] Termination.

13.5 Survival. The expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason will not affect the accrued rights of the Parties or the right of either Party to sue for damages arising from a breach of this Agreement. Notwithstanding expiration or termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall remain liable to pay LIFFE all sums accrued or due on or prior to the effective date of expiration or termination. Sections 1, 5.2, 6, 7.5, 9, 10, 13, 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 27, 28, 29, 30, 32 and 34 shall survive beyond the effective date of termination of this Agreement and shall remain in full force and effect.

14. Proprietary Rights

14.1 LIFFE Property. As between the CBOT and LIFFE, all rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology and all portions thereof (excluding the third party software specified in Schedule G), including but not limited to, all Development Services Deliverables; all Upgrades (including Bug Fixes created by or on behalf of the CBOT pursuant to the Escrow Agreement); all Confidential Information of LIFFE; all Documentation; the Equipment; LIFFE [] Market Data; all other materials whatsoever relating to the Licensed Technology, the Equipment and/or the Core Network, and provided by LIFFE to the CBOT, any Market Participants and/or any Hosted Exchange or any Hosted Exchange Participant, including any gateways, hubs, routers, cables, cabinets and servers; and any other materials provided by LIFFE to the CBOT and/or any Hosted Exchange, Hosted Exchange Participant or other Market Participant under this Agreement; including all copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto (collectively, "LIFFE Property") shall be and remain vested in LIFFE (or LIFFE's Affiliates, suppliers or licensors, as applicable). To the extent, if any, that ownership of the LIFFE Property does not automatically vest in LIFFE by virtue of this Agreement or otherwise, the CBOT hereby transfers and assigns to LIFFE, as of the date of creation, all rights, title and interest which the CBOT may have in and to such LIFFE Property. The CBOT undertakes, at the CBOT's expense, to do or cease to do all such acts as LIFFE may reasonably direct, and to execute, or cause its employees, agents and/or subcontractors to execute, all such documents as LIFFE deems reasonably necessary or helpful to assure further the rights, title and interest of LIFFE or its nominee in and to such LIFFE Property. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall have access to LIFFE [] Market Data on demand and for no charge; provided, however, that the CBOT shall have no right to copy, redistribute or derive any economic benefit from LIFFE [] Market Data without the prior written consent of LIFFE.

14.2 CBOT Property. Notwithstanding the foregoing, as between the CBOT and LIFFE, all rights, title and interest in and to (a) the CBOT Technology (if any); (b) CBOT Market Data, including CBOT [] Market Data; (c) all Confidential Information of the CBOT; and (d) all copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto (collectively, the "CBOT Property") shall be and remain vested in the CBOT. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE shall have access to CBOT [] Market Data on demand and for no charge; provided, however, that LIFFE shall have no right to copy, redistribute or derive any economic benefit from CBOT [] Market Data without the prior written consent of the CBOT.

15. Confidentiality

15.1 Confidential Information. Subject to Section 15.2, each Party shall treat as confidential the terms and conditions of this Agreement (excluding the existence of this Agreement), all information (a) marked as confidential, "CBOT Restricted" and/or "LIFFE Restricted" (as applicable) or (b) which the recipient should reasonably know, by its nature or the manner of its disclosure, to be confidential (including, but not limited to, the information and materials the CBOT has obtained rights to use hereunder), which either Party may receive or have access to during or prior to the performance of this Agreement ("Confidential Information"). Neither Party shall (i) use the Confidential Information of the other Party for any purpose other than the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, or (ii) divulge such Confidential Information (x) without the other Party's prior written consent, to anyone other than the employees, subcontractors, consultants or advisors of such Party who are subject to nondisclosure obligations and to whom such disclosure is reasonably necessary to facilitate the performance of this Agreement; or (y) unless requested pursuant to a judicial or governmental request, requirement or order under law (including disclosure obligations of the Parties under applicable securities laws), in which case, if not so prohibited by a regulatory or other governmental authority or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the receiving Party will promptly notify the other Party of such request; provided that, if, in the opinion of counsel to the receiving Party, such disclosure is required under securities laws, the receiving Party, in consultation with the other Party, shall additionally use good faith efforts to secure confidential treatment of the information so disclosed. "Confidential Information" of LIFFE includes, but is not limited to, Restricted Documentation and the source code of the Software. For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to Confidential Information of LIFFE that has been disclosed to the CBOT or to which the CBOT has access, the CBOT shall neither provide or permit [] access to, nor permit any other Person to provide or permit [] access to, any Confidential Information of LIFFE or any derivative work based on such Confidential Information.

15.2 Exclusions. Notwithstanding Section 15.1, Confidential Information will not include information (a) which is independently developed by the receiving Party or is lawfully received free of restriction from another source that, to the receiving Party's knowledge, has the right to furnish such information; (b) after it has become generally available to the public by acts not attributable to the receiving Party or its employees, consultants or advisors; or (c) which, at the time of disclosure to the receiving Party, was known to the receiving Party free of restriction.

16. Subcontractors

LIFFE may appoint subcontractors and agents to carry out the whole or any part of its obligations hereunder; provided, however, that LIFFE shall obtain the CBOT's consent to any subcontractors whose primary residence is located in the United States, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld. For the avoidance of any doubt, LIFFE shall not have an obligation to obtain the CBOT's consent in respect of any subcontractors whose primary residence is located to LIFFE's knowledge, outside the United States.

17. Warranties

17.1 LIFFE. LIFFE warrants that (a) it has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and perform this Agreement; (b) its execution and performance of its obligations hereunder will not violate any other agreement or regulatory obligation to which it is bound; and (c) to LIFFE's knowledge, the Software contains no Malicious Code. EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, LIFFE MAKES NO, AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL, WARRANTIES, CONDITIONS, UNDERTAKINGS, TERMS OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED BY STATUTE, COMMON LAW OR OTHERWISE, IN RELATION TO THE LICENSED TECHNOLOGY OR ANY PORTION OF THE SAME OR THE USE THEREOF, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT. LIFFE FURTHER DISCLAIMS ALL WARRANTIES, IMPLIED OR OTHERWISE, RELATING TO ANY THIRD PARTY MATERIALS.

17.2 The CBOT. The CBOT hereby warrants to LIFFE that (a) it has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and perform this Agreement; (b) its execution and performance of its obligations hereunder will not violate any other agreement or regulatory obligation to which it is bound; (c) it is a valid licensee of the Wagner/eSpeed Patent pursuant to Attachment B to that certain "Settlement Agreement" between the CBOT, The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Electronic Trading Systems Corporation and eSpeed, entered into as of August 26, 2002, in settlement of eSpeed, Inc. and Electronic Trading Systems Corporation v. The Board of Trade of the City of Chicago and The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, before the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas (Civil Action No. 3:99-CV-1016-M) (the "Wagner License"), a copy of which has been provided to LIFFE; (d) the License, the Licensed Technology provided hereunder, and the use of such Licensed Technology by or on behalf of the CBOT and Market Participants (excluding Hosted Exchanges and their respective Hosted Exchange Participants), are encompassed by such Wagner License and will not violate the terms of the Wagner License; (e) eSpeed has unconditionally and irrevocably covenanted not to sue the CBOT, LIFFE or the Hosted Exchanges for infringement of the Wagner/eSpeed Patent in connection with the use of the Trading System to process trades of Hosted Products; (f) in regard to each Hosted Exchange, all of the Hosted Products of such Hosted Exchange are included within the relevant categories of products specified in the eSpeed Covenants; and (g) the use of the Trading System by or on behalf of any of the Hosted Exchanges and/or their respective Hosted Exchange Participants in respect of trades of Hosted Products is encompassed by the eSpeed Covenants. EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, THE CBOT MAKES NO, AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL, WARRANTIES, CONDITIONS, UNDERTAKINGS, TERMS OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED BY STATUTE, COMMON LAW OR OTHERWISE, IN RELATION TO THE LICENSED TECHNOLOGY AND CBOT PROPERTY OR ANY PORTION OF THE SAME OR THE USE THEREOF, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT.

18. Indemnification

18.1 By LIFFE. LIFFE shall defend, indemnify and hold the CBOT, and the officers, directors, employees, agents, and representatives of the CBOT ("CBOT Indemnitees") harmless from and against all costs, claims, demands, losses, expenses and liabilities of any nature whatsoever (including reasonable attorneys fees) ("Losses") incurred or suffered by such CBOT Indemnitees arising out of, or in connection with, any third party claim, demand, or cause of action (each, a "Claim") to the extent such Claim is based upon or arises out of (a) LIFFE's gross negligence or willful misconduct; (b) LIFFE's material breach of this Agreement or any part hereof; (c) []; or (d) the LIFFE [] Products, including the listing, maintenance, and/or trading of the LIFFE [] Products; provided that (i) the CBOT shall take no other action which the CBOT, in its reasonable judgment, believes would be contrary to LIFFE's interests relative to the Claim; (ii) LIFFE (or any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by LIFFE), at its own expense, shall be entitled to have sole conduct and control of all legal proceedings in connection with the Claim or the settlement or other compromise thereof; (iii) the CBOT shall give LIFFE (and any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by LIFFE) all reasonable assistance therewith, at LIFFE's reasonable expense; and (iv) the CBOT shall use good faith efforts to notify LIFFE as soon as possible, but in any event within five (5) Business Days, after the CBOT becomes aware of the Claim. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE shall have no obligation to defend, indemnify, or hold any CBOT Indemnitee harmless from or against any Losses incurred or suffered by such CBOT Indemnitee (x) as a result of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the CBOT Indemnitee or any Market Participant, or (y) to the extent any Losses are attributable to the fact that the use of the Licensed Technology by the CBOT, other CBOT Indemnitee, or any Market Participant has not been in accordance with this Agreement.

18.2 By the CBOT. The CBOT shall defend, indemnify and hold LIFFE, its Affiliates, and the officers, directors, employees, agents, and representatives of LIFFE and its Affiliates ("LIFFE Indemnitees") harmless from and against all Losses incurred or suffered by such LIFFE Indemnitees arising out of, or in connection with, any third party Claim to the extent such Claim is based upon or arises out of: (a) the CBOT's material breach of this Agreement or any part hereof; (b) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the CBOT, any Affiliate of the CBOT, any Hosted Exchange, any Affiliate of any Hosted Exchange, or any Market Participant (collectively, the "CBOT Parties"); (c) CBOT Property or LIFFE's use thereof; (d) use of the Licensed Technology in contravention of this Agreement by or on behalf of any CBOT Party; (e) any breach by any CBOT Party or Contractor (as that term is defined Schedule E) of any Interface Sublicense Agreement or Interface Sublicense and Connection Agreement; (f) a breach of any Hosting Agreement by any of the Hosted Exchanges or the CBOT (excluding any such breach by the CBOT which is the direct result of LIFFE's breach of this Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement, the Development Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement or of LIFFE's gross negligence or willful misconduct); (g) any Claim that the License, the Licensed Technology provided hereunder, or the use thereof by or on behalf of any CBOT Party, infringes or otherwise violates the Wagner/eSpeed Patent; (h) the CBOT [] Products, including the listing, maintenance, and/or trading of the CBOT [] Products; (i) any Claim that the offering by the CBOT of CBOT [] Products for trading on the CBOT Electronic Exchange infringes or otherwise violates the []; or (j) any suspension or termination, as permitted under this Agreement and/or the Managed Services Agreement, of the License granted pursuant to Section 2.1(c) and/or of any Hosting Services; provided that (i) LIFFE shall take no action which LIFFE, in its reasonable judgment, believes would be contrary to the CBOT's interests relative to the Claim; (ii) the CBOT (or any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by the CBOT), at its own expense, shall be entitled to have sole conduct and control of all legal proceedings in connection with the Claim or the settlement or other compromise thereof; (iii) LIFFE shall give the CBOT (and any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by the CBOT) all reasonable assistance in connection therewith at the CBOT's reasonable expense; and (iv) LIFFE shall use good faith efforts to notify the CBOT as soon as possible, but in any event within five (5) Business Days, after LIFFE becomes aware of the Claim. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CBOT shall have no obligation to defend, indemnify, or hold any LIFFE Indemnitee harmless from or against any Losses incurred or suffered by such LIFFE Indemnitee as a result of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the LIFFE Indemnitee.

19. Liability

19.1 Specific Limitations. LIFFE shall have no liability to the CBOT for any breach of this Agreement or any Losses (including, but not limited to, the inability of the CBOT, any Hosted Exchange or Hosted Exchange Participant to use any part of the Licensed Technology and the interruption or corruption of any data or information stored, used, generated or transmitted on or via any Licensed Technology) under this Agreement arising from (a) any defect in the Licensed Technology of which LIFFE has not received notice of from the CBOT within five (5) Business Days following the first date upon which the CBOT discovered or otherwise became aware of such defect, (b) any Force Majeure Event, (c) any Trading Applications or other Third Party Materials, or (d) any suspension or termination, as permitted under this Agreement and/or the Managed Services Agreement, of the License granted pursuant to Section 2.1(c) and/or of any Hosting Services.

19.2 General Limitation. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER PARTY SHALL HAVE LIABILITY TO THE OTHER FOR ANY LOSS, DAMAGE OR INJURY, DIRECT OR INDIRECT, WHETHER OR NOT CAUSED BY THE NEGLIGENCE OF SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES, OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, EXCEPT THAT EACH PARTY SHALL ACCEPT LIABILITY FOR (a) MATERIAL BREACH OF THIS AGREEMENT, (b) THE GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OF SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, AND (c) FOR DEATH, PERSONAL INJURY AND DIRECT PHYSICAL DAMAGE TO THE TANGIBLE PROPERTY OF THE OTHER CAUSED BY SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES. EXCEPT WITH REGARD TO EITHER PARTY'S BREACH OF ITS CONFIDENTIALITY OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTION 15 OR ITS WARRANTIES SET FORTH IN SECTION 17, NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER HEREUNDER FOR ANY INDIRECT OR CONSEQUENTIAL LOSS, OR FOR LOSS OF PROFITS, GOODWILL OR CONTRACTS, WHETHER ARISING FROM NEGLIGENCE, BREACH OF CONTRACT OR OTHERWISE, AND WHETHER OR NOT EITHER PARTY SHALL HAVE BEEN ADVISED OF OR OTHERWISE MIGHT HAVE ANTICIPATED THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

19.3 Limitation of Liability. The cumulative liability of LIFFE under this Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement, during the respective terms of this Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement, however arising, will not exceed[]; provided, however, that the limitations set forth in this Section 19.3 will not apply to (a) liability of LIFFE for death or personal injury; (b) fraudulent acts or omissions; or (c) violations of the confidentiality obligations of Section 15.

19.4 Claims Against Individuals. Where the liability of a Party (including, but not limited to, any liability with respect to the officers, employees, agents or representatives of a Party or any of its Affiliates) has been excluded or restricted hereunder, each Party agrees that it shall not bring any claim against any officers, employees, agents or representatives of the other Party or any of its Affiliates or join such officers, employees, agents or representatives in any claim such that the liability of such officers, employees, agents or representatives and such other Party, when taken together, would be greater than the liability of such other Party hereunder.

20. Dispute Resolution

20.1 Escalation. As used herein, "Disputes" means any claims, disputes, controversies, and other matters in question between the Parties arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the breach hereof (excluding any third party claims against LIFFE or the CBOT subject to indemnification pursuant to Section 18, but including any disagreements as to indemnification rights hereunder). Any Dispute between the Parties shall in the first instance be referred to the Parties' Relationship Managers for discussion and resolution. If the Dispute is not resolved by the Relationship Managers within five (5) Business Days, the Dispute will be referred to the Managing Director of LIFFE Market Solutions and a representative of the CBOT at an equivalent level, who must discuss and, if appropriate, meet within five (5) Business Days to attempt to resolve the Dispute. If the Dispute is not resolved by such second representatives within five (5) Business Days, the Dispute will be referred to the Parties' Chief Executive Officers who must discuss and, if appropriate, meet within five (5) Business Days to attempt to resolve the Dispute. If any representative of either Party referred to in this Section 20.1 is not available for any reason, the affected Party shall be entitled to appoint an appropriate substitute.

20.2 Mediation. If the Parties cannot resolve any Dispute in accordance with Section 20.1 within thirty (30) Business Days, they may refer the Dispute to mediation, to be conducted by a single mediator in (i) Chicago, Illinois, if LIFFE has initiated the Dispute, or (ii) London, England, if the CBOT has initiated the Dispute. The Parties shall use good faith efforts to agree upon a mediator. If the Parties are unable to agree upon a mediator within thirty (30) Business Days, the Parties may seek judicial resolution and remedy of the Dispute without first proceeding with mediation. The Parties shall use good faith efforts to hold the mediation within thirty (30) Business Days following the selection of a mediator. Unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, no decision resulting from the mediation proceedings will be binding upon the Parties. Unless expressly provided herein, each Party will bear its own costs (including attorneys fees) relating to the mediation, but the Parties will share equally the fees and expenses charged by the mediator.

20.3 Arbitration. If a Dispute is not resolved in accordance with Section 20.2, then either Party may provide written notice to the other Party of an intention to refer the Dispute to arbitration. Any such arbitration shall be: (a) binding; (b) administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution ("ICDR") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"); (c) conducted in accordance with the International Arbitration Rules of the AAA (the "AAA Rules"), as such AAA Rules may be amended from time to time, except to the extent this Section 20.3 provides otherwise; (d) held in Chicago, Illinois, if the Dispute is initiated by LIFFE and in London, England if the Dispute is initiated by the CBOT; and (e) conducted using the English language. Upon filing a claim, the filing Party will simultaneously provide written notice of such claim to the other Party and to the relevant administrator at the ICDR.

20.3.1 Selection of Arbitrators. Within ten (10) Business Days of receipt of the ICDR initiation letter, each Party shall select one neutral individual to act as arbitrator. In addition, the Parties shall submit a written request to AAA to use its normal procedures pursuant to the AAA Rules to appoint the third arbitrator within five (5) Business Days of AAA's receipt of such request. The arbitrator appointed by AAA shall serve as the chairperson of the arbitration panel. The Parties agree that the selection of arbitrators must be completed within twenty-five (25) Business Days of receipt by both Parties of the ICDR initiation letter.

20.3.2 Cooperation. The Parties shall cooperate with each other in causing the arbitration to be held in as efficient and expeditious a manner as practicable, and in this respect to furnish such documents and make available such personnel as the arbitrators may request.

20.3.3 Reduction of Losses. The Parties have selected arbitration to expedite the resolution of Disputes and to reduce the costs and burdens associated with litigation. The Parties agree that the arbitrators should take these concerns into account when determining whether to authorize discovery and, if discovery is authorized, the scope of permissible discovery and other hearing and pre-hearing procedures. The arbitrators shall render an award, including a written decision, within ninety (90) calendar days after the arbitration notice is provided, unless the Parties otherwise agree or the arbitrators make a finding that a Party has carried the burden of showing good cause for a longer time period.

20.3.4 Binding Decision. The decision or award of the arbitrators will be final and binding, and may be used as a basis for judgment thereon in any jurisdiction. The award shall be in writing, shall be signed by a majority of the arbitrators, and shall include a written decision setting out the reasons for the disposition of any claim.

20.3.5 Punitive Damages. Without limiting any other remedies that may be available under applicable law, the arbitrators shall have no authority to award punitive damages.

20.3.6 Confidentiality. All proceedings and decisions of the arbitrators shall be maintained in confidence to the extent legally permissible, and shall not be made public by any Party or any arbitrator without the prior written consent of the Parties, except as may be required by applicable laws.

20.3.7 Losses. Each Party shall bear its own costs and attorneys fees, and the Parties shall equally bear the fees, costs, and expenses of the arbitrators and the arbitration proceedings charged by the arbitrators ("Arbitration Fees"); provided, however, that (a) the filing Party shall pay any filing fees charged by the AAA; and (b) the arbitrators may exercise discretion to award costs, but not attorneys fees or Arbitration Fees, to the prevailing Party.

20.3.8 Obligations. The commencement and pendency of an arbitration under this Section 20.3 shall not relieve either of the Parties of their respective obligations under this Agreement.

20.3.9 Limitations. A demand for arbitration shall not be made after the date when institution of legal or equitable proceedings based upon such dispute would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations or laches under the laws of the State of Illinois, and the Parties expressly waive any causes of action relating to any Dispute not brought within the period set forth therein.

20.4 Limitations. Notwithstanding Sections 20.2 and 20.3, nothing herein restricts the rights of either Party to seek judicial resolution and remedy of (i) any Disputes, following compliance with Section 20.2 and 20.3, or (ii) any claims, disputes, controversies, or other matters in question between the Parties arising out of either Party's breach of its obligations pursuant to Section 15 or Section 17.

21. Entire Agreement

This Agreement, together with the Development Services Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement, the Relocation Services Agreement and all Change Requests to the foregoing entered into by the Parties prior to the Amendment Effective Date, constitutes the entire understanding between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior representations, agreements, negotiations and discussions between the Parties, excluding that Consultancy Agreement entered into by and between LIFFE and the CBOT, having an effective date of October 22, 2002, and entered into on December 6, 2002.

22. Schedules and Change Requests

Each of the schedules attached hereto is a part of and is incorporated into this Agreement. Each Change Request relating to the Original SLA entered into by the Parties prior to the Amendment Effective Date is a part of and is incorporated by reference into this Agreement. Unless otherwise indicated therein, all capitalized terms contained within such Change Requests and/or the schedules will have the meanings ascribed to them in the main body of this Agreement.

23. Amendments

Except as expressly provided for herein, this Agreement may be amended only by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of a duly authorized representative of each Party.

24. Binding Provisions/Third Party Beneficiaries

This Agreement is binding upon, and shall inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective administrators, legal representatives, successors, and permitted assigns. The Parties agree that no provision of this Agreement is intended, expressly or by implication, to purport to confer a benefit or right of action upon a third party (whether or not in existence, and whether or not named, as of the Original SLA Effective Date).

25. Assignment and Sublicensing

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, the CBOT shall not assign, transfer or sublicense any right or obligation under this Agreement without the prior written approval of LIFFE. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT may assign this Agreement to: (a) the Electronic Chicago Board of Trade, Inc.; (b) CBOT Holdings, Inc. ("Holdings"); or (c) a wholly owned exchange subsidiary of Holdings, as described in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by Holdings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on October 24, 2001 (the "Registration Statement"), as amended by Amendment No. 7 to the Registration Statement filed with the SEC on June 17, 2004 ("Amendment No. 7"), or any subsequent amendment thereto; provided that the structure of the exchange subsidiary is in a form substantially the same as that described in Amendment No. 7; and provided further that, in the event of any assignment permitted by this sentence, each of the CBOT and Holdings will provide to LIFFE a written guarantee of the performance of all obligations of the permitted assignee in the form of the agreement agreed by the Parties and attached hereto as Schedule M (the "Guaranty"). LIFFE may, in LIFFE's sole discretion, assign this Agreement and/or some or all of its rights and obligations under this Agreement to an Affiliate of LIFFE that is capable of performing the obligations of LIFFE under this Agreement.

26. Force Majeure

If the performance of this Agreement by either Party is prevented, hindered, delayed or otherwise made impracticable by reason of any Force Majeure Event, that Party shall be excused from such performance to the extent that it is prevented, hindered or delayed by such cause. In the event a Party becomes aware of a Force Majeure Event that will affect its performance under this Agreement, it shall notify the other Party as soon as reasonably practicable. The Parties shall thereafter work together to take reasonable steps to mitigate the effects of any inability to perform, if practicable.

27. Separability of Provisions

Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable; and if, for any reason, any provision of this Agreement is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, such determination shall not affect the enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement or the validity, lawfulness, or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

28. Waiver

The failure of a Party to exercise or enforce any right conferred upon it by this Agreement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any such right or operate so as to bar the exercise or enforcement thereof at any time or times hereafter.

29. Remedies Not Exclusive

No remedy conferred by any provision of this Agreement is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and each and every remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing in law or in equity or by statute or otherwise.

30. Notices

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices, certifications, requests, demands, payments and other communications hereunder: (a) shall be in writing; (b) may be delivered by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid; by hand; by facsimile; or by any internationally recognized private courier; (c) shall be effective (i) if mailed, on the date ten (10) days after the date of mailing or (ii) if hand delivered, faxed, or delivered by private courier, on the date of delivery; and (d) shall be addressed as follows:

or to such other address or addresses as may hereafter be specified by notice given by one Party to the other.

31. Announcements

Neither Party may refer to this Agreement in any publicity or advertising materials without the other Party's prior written consent.

32. Interpretation

32.1 Headings, Gender, "Including," "Control" and Person. References to sections and schedules are to sections of and schedules to this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Section headings are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction of this Agreement. The masculine gender shall include the feminine and the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa. Any use of the word "including" will be interpreted to mean "including, but not limited to," unless otherwise indicated. Any use of the terms "controlling," "controlled by" or "under common control with" shall have a meaning consistent with the definition of "Control" set forth in Section 1. References to any Person (including the Parties and any other entities referred to) shall be construed to mean such Person and its successors in interest and permitted assigns, as applicable.

32.2 Inconsistency. In the event of any inconsistency between the terms of the main body of this Agreement and any schedule hereto, the terms of the main body of this Agreement will govern to the extent of the inconsistency.

33. Further Assurances

The Parties shall execute all such further documents and do all such further acts as may be necessary to carry the provisions of this Agreement into full force and effect.

34. Governing Law

The validity and effectiveness of this Agreement shall be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Illinois, without giving effect to the provisions, policies or principles of any state law relating to choice or conflict of laws. Subject to Section 20, any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement may be brought exclusively in the Federal or state courts located in Chicago, Illinois, including the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods shall not apply to this Agreement and is hereby disclaimed.

35. Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in two counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be deemed an original, and both of which together shall constitute but one and the same instrument.

INTERFACE SUBLICENSE AGREEMENT

This Interface Sublicense Agreement (this "Agreement") dated as of _____ ____, 200_ (the "Effective Date"), is between Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "CBOT"), and _____, a(n) _____ [form of entity] ("Licensee"). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in Section 1.

RECITALS

A. The CBOT offers electronic trading of certain futures and options contracts on e-CBOT™ (the "Exchange"), which is facilitated by an automated derivatives trading and order matching system known as "LIFFE CONNECT®" (the "Trading System").

B. In order to gain access to and participate in the Exchange via the Trading System, Licensee wishes, and the CBOT is willing to license to Licensee the right, to access the Interface component of the Trading System set forth in Exhibit A which the CBOT may provide with the software (the "Software"), and to use any documentation relating to the Software the CBOT may provide (the "Interface Documentation" and together with the Software, the "Licensed Products").

In consideration of the recitals and the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, the parties hereto (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties") agree as follows:

AGREEMENT

1. Definitions

In this Agreement, the following expressions shall have the following respective meanings:

"Agreement" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Application" means a front-end application or other software which interfaces with, and has been conformed with, the Interface.

"CBOT Matching Engine" means the central processing component of the Trading System.

"CBOT Property" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 11.1.

"Confidential Information" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 12.1.

"Contractor" means a Person contracted by Licensee to assist Licensee in developing Applications.

"Data" means externally disseminated Exchange-related pricing and trade volume information.

"Effective Date" shall have the meaning set forth above.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

"Exchange" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Exchange Notice" means a notice published by the Exchange by such means as the Exchange may from time to time determine.

"Force Majeure Event" means any cause beyond a Party's reasonable control, including, but not limited to, any flood, riot, fire, judicial or governmental action, and labor disputes.

"Interface" means the LIFFE CONNECT® application interface described in Exhibit A for the use and/or access to the CBOT Matching Engine by an Application.

"Interface Documentation" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Licensed Products" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Licensee's Property" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 11.2.

"LIFFE" means LIFFE Administration and Management, a company incorporated in England and Wales, having a principal place of business at Cannon Bridge House, 1 Cousin Lane, London EC4R 3XX, England.

"Malicious Code" means any computer virus, Trojan horse, worm, time bomb, or other similar code or hardware component designed to disrupt the operation of, permit unauthorized access to, erase, or modify the Licensed Products.

"Member" means any Person authorized by the CBOT to trade on the Exchange.

"Parties" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, joint venture, joint stock company, association, unincorporated organization, government agency or political subdivision thereof, or other entity.

"Trading System" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Upgrades" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 2.3.

"User Guides" means the documentation which may be provided relating to the use of the Trading System.

2. License

2.1 License. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, the CBOT hereby grants to Licensee for the term of this Agreement a non-transferable, non-exclusive and royalty-free license (a) to, and to sublicense to one or more Contractors the right to, have reasonable access to the Interface and use the Software and the Interface Documentation to procure and/or develop Applications; (b) to install the Software at the Premises; and (c) to use the Software to access Data. If Licensee is a Member, the CBOT additionally grants to Licensee for the term of this Agreement a non-transferable and non-exclusive license to use the Interface to access the CBOT Matching Engine and, if possible, other components of the Trading System as agreed by the Parties. Licensee may not make any other use of the Licensed Products.

2.2 Contractors. Licensee shall ensure that each Contractor to which Licensee sublicenses its rights (a) shall make no use of the Licensed Products other than that set forth in Section 2.1(a), and (b) otherwise abides by the terms of this Agreement as if Contractor were a party to this Agreement. Licensee is responsible for all actions of each Contractor with respect to the Licensed Products.

3. Delivery of Licensed Products

3.1 Software. By such date(s) as may be agreed upon by the Parties and via a delivery method agreed upon by the Parties, the CBOT shall deliver to the Premises a master copy of the current version of the Software, in object code form. Licensee may copy the Software only with the prior written consent of the CBOT; provided, however, that Licensee may make one copy of the Software to be used exclusively for back-up purposes, without obtaining the consent of the CBOT. All copies of the Software are subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

3.2 Interface Documentation. Upon Licensee's request, by such date(s) as may be agreed upon by the Parties, and via a delivery method and in a format agreed upon by the Parties, the CBOT will provide the Interface Documentation to Licensee. Licensee may make as many copies of the Interface Documentation as it deems reasonably necessary. All copies of the Interface Documentation are subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

4. Modifications and Improvements

CBOT reserves the right during the term of this Agreement to specify for use and/or access hereunder any improvements, modifications, enhancements or upgrades to and of the Licensed Products or any part or parts thereof ("Upgrades"). Unless otherwise directed by the CBOT, Licensee shall use only the current release version(s) of the Software provided hereunder; provided, however, that, to the extent reasonably practicable, the CBOT shall allow Licensee a commercially reasonable period of time, after any Upgrade is specified for use and/or access hereunder, to implement such Upgrade.

5. Obligations of Licensee

5.1 Use of Software.

5.1.1 General Restrictions. With respect to the Software, Licensee agrees not to, and not to permit any Contractor or any other Person to:

(a) copy, modify, duplicate, decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble or otherwise reduce to a humanly perceivable form, make any attempt to discover the source code of, create derivative works based on, market, sell, provide or make available to any third party, otherwise distribute, or translate the Software, except as expressly provided herein;

(b) remove or alter in any manner any trademarks, trade names, copyright notices or other proprietary or confidentiality notices of the CBOT or third Persons contained or displayed in or on the Software; or

(c) upload any Malicious Code or otherwise use the Software to further any purpose which is illegal or is otherwise contrary to the License.

5.1.2 Copies. In the event that Licensee is granted permission pursuant to Section 3.1 to copy the Software, Licensee shall:

(a) ensure that all trademarks, trade names, copyright notices and other proprietary and confidentiality notices or designations, of the CBOT or any other Person, contained or displayed in or on the Software, are reproduced on all Software copies created by Licensee; and

(b) maintain a current and accurate record of the number of copies made and of the specific location of each such copy.

5.2 Use of Interface Documentation. Licensee shall ensure that all trademarks, trade names, copyright notices and other proprietary and confidentiality notices or designations, of the CBOT, or any other Person, are reproduced on all Interface Documentation copies made by Licensee. Licensee agrees not to, and not to permit any Contractor or any other Person to: (a) copy, modify, translate, create derivative works based on, market, sell, or distribute the Interface Documentation, except as expressly provided herein; or (b) remove or alter in any manner any trademarks, trade names, copyright notices or other proprietary or confidentiality notices or designations contained or displayed therein.

5.3 Materials and Assistance. In order to facilitate the CBOT's performance of its obligations hereunder, after receipt of commercially reasonable prior notice from the CBOT, when practicable, Licensee shall promptly provide to the CBOT any information, documentation, access to the Premises, equipment, software, and personnel as the CBOT may reasonably request.

5.4 Export Compliance. Licensee shall comply with all applicable export laws and regulations of the United States and foreign authorities, including regulatory authorities. For purposes of this obligation, export laws and regulations include, but are not limited to, all applicable end use controls and all applicable restrictions on the export, reexport and transfer of encryption items. The CBOT will promptly notify Licensee of any such end use controls or restrictions on the export, reexport and transfer of encryption items applicable to the Software.

6. Market Entry Testing

6.1 Testing Process. Prior to being permitted to participate in the Exchange via any Application, Licensee must complete the CBOT's market entry testing process, which process is designed to safeguard the integrity of the Exchange by verifying that (a) Licensee demonstrates an appropriate level of technical and operational readiness to participate in the Trading System; and (b) each Application conforms to a series of criteria to ensure it will not cause degradation of the Trading System and is fit for the purpose of participating in the Exchange ("Market Entry Testing"). Upon request by Licensee, the CBOT shall provide Licensee a test environment loaded with a dummy market and a pre-defined script known as a "Market Entry Test" or "MET," and Licensee shall undertake the testing process. If the CBOT deems, in its sole discretion, that Licensee and the particular Application being tested have met all of the relevant Market Entry Testing requirements, the CBOT will issue to Licensee, if required by the operation of the Interface, an appropriate encrypted license key which will permit Licensee to participate in the Exchange utilizing the Application tested. If the CBOT determines, in its sole discretion, that Licensee has not met all of the Market Entry Testing requirements, the CBOT will so notify Licensee, which will then be provided a subsequent and reasonably prompt opportunity to undertake Market Entry Testing during a commercially reasonable time period specified by the CBOT.

6.2 Modified Applications. In the event any Application which has passed the Market Entry Testing process is modified, Licensee must (a) notify the CBOT, and (b) if the CBOT determines such modification may cause the Application not to conform to the Market Entry Testing criteria or to have a detrimental effect on any part of the Trading System, undertake Market Entry Testing of the modified Application.

7. Payment

7.1 Expenses. Licensee shall promptly reimburse the CBOT for any expenses incurred hereunder in association with the performance of the CBOT's obligations hereunder, including, but not limited to, all travel and travel-related expenses.

7.2 Late Payment. All past due amounts owed to the CBOT will earn interest at the rate of the lesser of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month or the maximum amount allowed under applicable law, commencing on the applicable due date. Licensee will reimburse the CBOT for all reasonable costs (including reasonable attorneys fees) incurred in collecting past due amounts owed by Licensee.

7.3 Taxes. Licensee shall pay or reimburse the CBOT for all taxes, however designated, and whether international, national, state or local, which are levied or imposed in connection with or as a result of this Agreement, excluding, however, taxes based on the CBOT's net income.

8. Term

This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and shall continue until and unless terminated in accordance with Section 9 or as otherwise provided in this Agreement.

9. Termination

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

9.1 By the CBOT. The CBOT may terminate this Agreement for any reason, immediately upon written notice to Licensee.

9.2 By Licensee. Licensee may terminate this Agreement for any reason, upon one day's written notice to the CBOT.

9.3 Automatic Termination. This Agreement will terminate automatically upon (a) the death of Licensee, if Licensee is an individual; or (b) the dissolution of Licensee, if Licensee is other than an individual.

10. Consequences of Termination

10.1 Software. Upon or prior to the effective date of termination of this Agreement, for whatever reason, Licensee shall (a) immediately cease access to and use of the Licensed Products; and (b) at Licensee's cost, either promptly return to the CBOT or its designee or, with the CBOT's written consent, destroy and certify as destroyed, any Licensed Products and other CBOT Property within the Licensee's possession and/or control of Licensee or any Contractor, including any Confidential Information of the CBOT. Licensee shall be responsible for any damage to or deterioration of the Licensed Products arising out of a breach by Licensee of this Agreement or any negligence or willful misconduct of Licensee, any Contractors, or the employees, officers or agents of Licensee or such Contractors provided, however, that Licensee (i) shall be required only to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any CBOT Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "CBOT Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on Licensee's electronic backup media created by such Licensee in the normal course of business; and (ii) shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 12 of this Agreement.

10.2 Payment. Upon any termination of this Agreement, Licensee shall pay to the CBOT any and all unpaid and outstanding amounts due hereunder through the effective date of termination.

10.3 Survival. The termination of this Agreement for any reason will not affect the accrued rights of the Parties or the right of either Party to sue for damages arising from a breach of this Agreement. Sections 1, 7, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 (solely for the purpose of the repossession of the Licensed Products upon termination), 19, 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 30 will survive the termination of this Agreement.

11. Proprietary Rights

11.1 CBOT Property. As between Licensee and the CBOT, all rights, title, and interest in and to the Licensed Products and the Trading System (other than Applications) and all parts thereof; all other materials and documentation whatsoever relating to the Licensed Products and/or provided by the CBOT to Licensee; all Confidential Information (as defined below) of the CBOT; Market Data; and all enhancements and upgrades to and modifications of the Licensed Products; including all copyrights, trademarks, and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto (collectively, "CBOT Property") shall be and remain vested in the CBOT (or its licensors, as applicable). To the extent, if any, that ownership of CBOT Property does not automatically vest in the CBOT (or its licensors, as appropriate) by virtue of this Agreement or otherwise, Licensee hereby agrees to transfer and assign to the CBOT (or its licensors, as appropriate), all rights, title, and interest which Licensee may have in and to such CBOT Property. Licensee acknowledges that the CBOT shall have the right to provide to third Persons technology which is the same or similar to the Licensed Products. Licensee agrees, at its own cost, to do or cease to do all acts as the CBOT and/or its designee may direct, and to execute, or cause its employees, officers, agents or Contractors to execute, all such documents as the CBOT deems reasonably necessary or helpful to assure further the right, title, and interest of the CBOT (or its licensors) in and to such CBOT Property.

11.2 Licensee's Property. As between Licensee and the CBOT, all rights, title, and interest in and to each Application and any additional property (other than the Licensed Products or other CBOT Property) used by Licensee hereunder and provided by Licensee (collectively, "Licensee's Property") shall be and remain vested in Licensee.

12. Confidentiality

12.1 Confidential Information. Subject to Section 12.2, each Party shall treat as confidential all private, proprietary or confidential information (including, but not limited to, that information and those materials Licensee has obtained rights to use hereunder) which the CBOT and Licensee may receive or have access to during or prior to the performance of this Agreement ("Confidential Information"), and shall not divulge such Confidential Information: (a) to any Person other than to the employees, subcontractors, licensors, consultants or advisors of such Party who are subject to comparable confidentiality obligations and to whom such disclosure is necessary to facilitate the performance of this Agreement, without the other Party's prior written consent; or (b) unless requested pursuant to a judicial or governmental request, requirement, or order under law, in which case, if not so prohibited by a regulatory or other governmental authority or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the receiving Party shall make the required disclosure and promptly notify the other Party of such request and related disclosure, except for routine regulatory requests.

12.2 Exclusions. Notwithstanding Section 12.1, Confidential Information will not include information (a) which is independently developed by the receiving Party or is lawfully received free of restriction from another source having the right to furnish such information; (b) which has become generally available to the public by acts not attributable to the receiving Party or its employees, agents or contractors; or (c) which, at the time of disclosure to the receiving Party, was known to the receiving Party free of restriction and evidenced by documentation in the receiving Party's possession. In addition, the CBOT shall be entitled to disclose Confidential Information of Licensee to the Exchange, employees of the Exchange, consultants and advisors of the Exchange and any other Person who are subject to comparable confidentiality obligations and as may be necessary to facilitate the operation of the Exchange or comply with any contractual obligations of the CBOT relating to the operation of the Exchange.

12.3 Use of Licensee's Name. The CBOT shall not use Licensee's name for marketing or promotional purposes or other than as necessary in the ordinary course of business.

13. Indemnification

Licensee shall defend, indemnify and hold the CBOT harmless, against all costs, claims, demands, expenses and liabilities of any nature whatsoever (including reasonable attorneys fees) ("Losses") incurred or suffered by the CBOT or its agent(s) arising out of, or in connection with, any claim, demand, or cause of action which is based upon or arises out of: (a) the breach of this Agreement or any part hereof by Licensee; (b) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of Licensee or any Contractor; (c) Licensee's Property or the CBOT's use thereof; (d) the use of, inability to use, improper use of, or interference with any Application or the Trading System by Licensee, any Contractor, or any Customer of Licensee; or (e) any damages (including the Replacement Value thereof) to Licensed Products in the possession or control of Licensee or any Contractor.

14. Disclaimer of Warranties

LICENSEE ACKNOWLEDGES THAT THE CBOT PROVIDES THE LICENSED PRODUCTS AND ACCESS TO THE INTERFACE AND THE TRADING SYSTEM "AS IS." EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, THE CBOT MAKES NO, AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL, WARRANTIES, CONDITIONS, UNDERTAKINGS, TERMS OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED BY STATUTE, COMMON LAW OR OTHERWISE, IN RELATION TO THE LICENSED PRODUCTS OR THE TRADING SYSTEM OR ANY PART OR PARTS OF THE SAME. THE CBOT SPECIFICALLY DISCLAIMS ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT. THE CBOT FURTHER DISCLAIMS ALL WARRANTIES, IMPLIED OR OTHERWISE, RELATING TO ANY THIRD PARTY MATERIALS.

15. Liability

15.1 General Limitation. EXCLUDING A FINDING OF GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT, THE CBOT, THE AGENTS, SUBCONTRACTORS AND LICENSORS OF THE CBOT AND THE OFFICERS, DIRECTORS AND EMPLOYEES OF THE CBOT AND ITS AGENTS, SUBCONTRACTORS AND LICENSORS, SHALL HAVE NO LIABILITY, TO LICENSEE OR ANY OTHER PERSON, UNDER THIS AGREEMENT OR IN RELATION TO THE USE, PERFORMANCE, MAINTENANCE OR MALFUNCTION OF THE LICENSED PRODUCTS OR TRADING SYSTEM OR ANY COMPONENTS THEREOF, FOR ANY LOSSES OR OTHER DAMAGE OR INJURY, DIRECT OR INDIRECT, (INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, CONSEQUENTIAL, INCIDENTAL AND SPECIAL DAMAGES AND LOSS OF PROFITS, GOODWILL OR CONTRACTS), WHETHER ARISING FROM NEGLIGENCE OR BREACH OF CONTRACT OR OTHERWISE, AND WHETHER OR NOT SUCH PERSON (OR ANY DESIGNEE THEREOF) SHALL HAVE BEEN ADVISED OF OR OTHERWISE MIGHT HAVE ANTICIPATED THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

15.2 Aggregate Liability. In the event the limitation under Section 15.1 is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, the entire aggregate liability of the CBOT, its agents, subcontractors, and licensors, and the officers, directors, and employees of the CBOT and its agents, subcontractors and licensors under or in connection with this Agreement will not exceed $10,000.

16. Inspection and Disablement of the Licensed Products

The CBOT shall be entitled, and Licensee shall permit the CBOT, to have access to the Premises and the Licensed Products on the Premises during normal business hours to inspect, disable or repossess such Licensed Products or any part or parts thereof and/or to take such other action in connection with the Licensed Products as may be deemed desirable or necessary by the CBOT:

(a) to determine whether Licensee is complying or has complied with its obligations under this Agreement;

(b) to facilitate efforts to remedy any defect or error in the Licensed Products or any part or parts thereof; or

(c) in the event Licensee commits a material breach of its obligations under this Agreement.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) the CBOT shall be entitled to prohibit Licensee's access to the Licensed Products, to disable the Licensed Products, or to remove the Licensed Products from the Premises at any time and from time to time, provided that the CBOT shall, where practicable, use commercially reasonable efforts to give prior written notice to Licensee; and (ii) unless any such repossession or disablement is occasioned by Licensee's breach of its obligations hereunder, the CBOT shall use good faith efforts to (x) return or reinstate the Licensed Products or the relevant part or parts thereof (as the case may be), or (y) as soon as reasonably practicable provide Licensee with replacement products that will function in all material respects with the repossessed or disabled Licensed Products (which will thereafter be "Licensed Products" hereunder).

17. Assignment and Sublicensing

Except as expressly provided herein, Licensee shall not assign, sublicense, transfer, charge or part with the possession of the benefits and obligations of, this Agreement (including, but not limited to, the license granted under Section 2) without the prior written consent of the CBOT. The CBOT may assign its rights and obligations hereunder upon reasonable prior written notice to Licensee.

18. Subcontractors

The CBOT shall be entitled to appoint such subcontractors as it shall deem fit to carry out the whole or any part of its obligations hereunder.

19. Third Party Beneficiary

LIFFE shall be a third party beneficiary of this Agreement, thereby entitled to receive the rights of the CBOT (excluding those set forth in Sections 7 and 9), and enforce the provisions of this Agreement against Licensee, or any other Person, to the same extent as if LIFFE had been a signatory to this Agreement, in the courts and under the laws of the State of Illinois, without giving effect to the provisions, policies or principles of any state law relating to choice or conflict of laws. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this Agreement will impose directly upon LIFFE any of the obligations of the CBOT set forth herein.

20. Force Majeure

Except for the payment of any amounts due hereunder, if the performance of this Agreement by either Party is prevented, hindered, delayed or otherwise made impracticable by reason of any Force Majeure Event, that Party shall be excused from such performance to the extent that it is prevented, hindered or delayed by such cause.

21. Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire understanding between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior representations, agreements, negotiations and discussions between the Parties.

22. Amendments

Except as expressly provided for herein, this Agreement may be amended only by an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of the Parties and in compliance with law, provided, however, that such signature shall not include a signature by electronic device.

23. Waiver

The failure of a Party to exercise or enforce any right conferred upon it by this Agreement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any such right or operate so as to bar the exercise or enforcement thereof at any time or times hereafter.

24. Notices

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices, certifications, requests, demands, payments and other communications hereunder: (a) shall be in writing; (b) may be delivered by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid; by hand; by facsimile; or by any internationally recognized private courier; (c) shall be effective (i) if mailed, on the date three (3) days after the date of mailing or (ii) if hand delivered, faxed, or delivered by private courier, on the date of delivery; and (d) shall be addressed as follows:

If to Licensee:

_____
[address]

Attention: _____

If to the CBOT:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.
141 West Jackson Boulevard
Suite 600-A
Chicago, Illinois 60604
[Attention: _____]

or to such other address or addresses as may hereafter be specified by notice given by one Party to the other.

25. Remedies Not Exclusive

No remedy conferred by any provision of this Agreement is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy (including, but not limited to, any remedy or rights under the Rules), except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and each and every remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing in law or in equity or by statute or otherwise.

26. Binding Provisions

This Agreement is binding upon, and shall inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective administrators, legal representatives, successors, and permitted assigns.

27. Separability of Provisions

Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable; and if, for any reason, any provision of this Agreement is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, such determination shall not affect the enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement or the validity, lawfulness, or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

28. Interpretations

References to sections and exhibits are to sections of and exhibits to this Agreement. The headings are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction of this Agreement. The masculine gender shall include the feminine and the singular shall include the plural, and vice versa.

29. Further Assurances

The Parties shall execute all such further documents and do all such further acts as may be necessary to carry the provisions of this Agreement into full force and effect.

30. Governing Law

This Agreement shall be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois, without regard to conflicts of law principles. Any claim arising under or relating to this Agreement or the Trading System shall be brought only in the Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois or the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, and the Parties hereby irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of these courts in the respect thereto. Service of process shall be made in any manner allowed by applicable law. The United Nations Convention of Contracts for the International Sale of Goods shall not apply to this Agreement and is hereby disclaimed.

31. Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, and by the different Parties on separate counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be an original, but all of which together shall constitute but one and the same instrument. A complete set of counterparts shall be lodged with each Party.

FEES

"License Fee" means, collectively, the License Fees payable by the CBOT as are described in Parts 1, 2, 3.1 and 4 of this Schedule I.

Part 1 – Initial Term License Fee

The License Fee payable under this Agreement for the duration of the Initial Term in respect of the License granted pursuant to Section 2.1(a) and (b) of the main body of this Agreement (the "Original License") is [] which shall be paid as follows:

(a) The CBOT shall pay to LIFFE [];

(b) LIFFE shall invoice the CBOT for []; and

(c) LIFFE shall invoice the CBOT for [].

LIFFE acknowledges the CBOT's payment in full of the above-described License Fee for the Original License, prior to the Amendment Effective Date.

Part 2 – Renewal Term License Fee

2.1 First Renewal Term. The License Fee payable for the Original License in respect of the Renewal Term immediately following the Initial Term (the "First Renewal Term") shall be calculated as follows: [] per annum adjusted by the greater of (a) [] percent [] per annum during the Initial Term or (b) the percentage change in the [] as published by the [] during the Initial Term, as measured by the change between the [] number for the month before the month in which the Initial Term began and for the month before the month in which the first day of the First Renewal Term begins; provided that the License Fee shall not be adjusted by more than [].

2.2 Second Renewal Term. The License Fee payable for the Original License in respect of the Renewal Term immediately following the First Renewal Term (the "Second Renewal Term") shall be calculated as follows: the License Fee adjusted by the greater of (a) [] percent [] per annum during the First Renewal Term or (b) the percentage change in the [] as published by the [] during the Initial Term, as measured by the change between the [] number for the month before the month in which the First Renewal Term began and for the month before the month in which the first day of the Second Renewal Term begins; provided that the License Fee shall not be adjusted by more than [].

2.3 Payment. LIFFE shall be entitled to invoice the CBOT for the full amount of the License Fee for each Renewal Term [].

Part 3 – [] Arrangement Related Fees

3.1 CBOT [] Trading Fees.

(a) Establishment of CBOT [] Trading Fees. As between LIFFE and the CBOT, the CBOT shall have sole discretion (i) in the establishment of the CBOT [] Trading Fees, and (ii) in regard to any fee holidays, fee reductions, other market related fee incentives, revenue shares with its members and/or customers, waivers, rebates, holidays or other concessions that may be granted with respect to trades of CBOT [] Products matched on the CBOT Trading Facility. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, nothing in this Agreement shall limit the right of the CBOT to set CBOT [] Trading Fees in respect of the CBOT Electronic Exchange at levels that are different from the levels applicable to the CBOT Open Outcry Facility, or to set CBOT [] Trading Fees []; provided that, in the event that the CBOT should, at any time, assess a combined fee for the provision of trade matching services and clearing services, respectively, then the proportion of such combined fee to be treated as CBOT [] Trading Fees for the purposes of this Agreement shall be consistent with the CBOT [] Trading Fees structure in existence immediately prior to the establishment of the combined fee.

(b) Payment. Within thirty (30) days following the end of each calendar quarter subsequent to the [] Arrangement Effective Date and during the term of this Agreement (or, in the event of any [] Termination, until the effective date of termination of the obligations of Paragraphs 3.1 and 3.2 of this Schedule I), the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE, in U.S. Dollars and via wire transfer of immediately available funds to such bank account as LIFFE may specify, a royalty equal to (i) [] of all CBOT [] Trading Fee Revenue for trades executed in such calendar quarter minus (ii) [] of any and all LIFFE [] Trading Fee Revenue for trades executed in such calendar quarter (the "[] Royalty"). If the [] Royalty for any calendar quarter is an amount less than [], then that amount may be carried forward and, at the CBOT's election, credited against all or part of the [] Royalty due in respect of subsequent calendar quarters. Each such payment shall be accompanied by a volume and revenue statement substantially in the form of the statement appended as Appendix 1 to this Schedule I.

(c) Audit. LIFFE shall have the right to audit, or to engage an independent third party to audit, at LIFFE's expense, the records of the CBOT relating to the CBOT [] Trading Fee Revenue, during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice to the CBOT.

3.2 LIFFE [] Trading Fees.

(a) Establishment of LIFFE [] Trading Fees. As between LIFFE and the CBOT, LIFFE shall have sole discretion (a) in the establishment of LIFFE [] Trading Fees, and (b) in regard to any fee holidays, fee reductions, other market related fee incentives, revenue shares with its members and/or customers, waivers, rebates, holidays or other concessions that may be granted with respect to trades of LIFFE [] Products. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, nothing in this Agreement shall limit the right of the LIFFE to set LIFFE [] Trading Fees []; provided that, in the event that the LIFFE should, at any time, assess a combined fee for the provision of trade matching services and clearing services, respectively, then the proportion of such combined fee to be treated as LIFFE [] Trading Fees for the purposes of this Agreement shall be consistent with the LIFFE [] Trading Fees structure in existence immediately prior to the establishment of the combined fee.

(b) Notice. In the event that, subsequent to the [] Arrangement Effective Date:

(i) LIFFE lists [] futures and/or options on futures on the LIFFE Market, or

(ii) the average daily trading volume of [] futures or options on futures contracts or of [] futures or options on futures contracts traded on the LIFFE Market during any calendar quarter, commencing upon the first full calendar quarter subsequent to the [] Arrangement Effective Date, exceeds [],

LIFFE shall, within thirty (30) days following the listing of such [] contracts or within thirty (30) days following the end of the relevant calendar quarter, as applicable, notify the CBOT of the U.S. dollar value of the LIFFE [] Trading Fee Revenue for trades executed in such calendar quarter. Each such notice shall be accompanied by a volume and revenue statement substantially in the form of the statement appended as Appendix 1.

(c) Audit. The CBOT shall have the right to audit, or to engage an independent third party to audit, at the CBOT's expense, the records of LIFFE relating to the LIFFE [] Trading Fee Revenue, during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice to LIFFE.

Part 4 – Hosting Fees

4.1 Establishment of Hosting Fee. Subject to Section 6.6 of the main body of this Agreement, the License Fee for the Hosting Arrangement (collectively, the "Hosting Fees"), shall, in respect of each Hosted Exchange, be as follows:

(a) Hosting Fees.

(i) For each calendar year during the period between the relevant Hosting Go Live Date and the remainder of the Term, or such portion thereof in the case of a partial calendar year (each such whole or partial calendar year, an "OYP"), the Hosting Fees shall be based on the number of contracts (round turn) in Hosted Products of such Hosted Exchange traded via the CBOT Electronic Exchange during such OYP (the "Electronic Volume").

(ii) In respect of the Kansas City Board of Trade and the Minneapolis Grain Exchange, the Hosting Fee shall additionally be predicated upon the total number of contracts (round turn) in all products of each such Hosted Exchange traded (whether via the CBOT Electronic Exchange, via the Hosted Exchange's open outcry facility or otherwise) during such OYP (the "Total Volume").

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

(iii) The Hosting Fee for each OYP during the Term shall be payable by the CBOT in quarterly installments, with the first payment due within thirty (30) days following the end of the first calendar quarter subsequent to the Hosting Go Live Date. Thereafter, payments will be due on each January 30, April 30, July 30 and October 30 of each year during the remainder of the Term.

(iv) In respect of the Hosting Fee for each Hosted Exchange, (i) each quarterly Hosting Fee installment shall equal the Minimum Quarterly Payment in regard to such Hosted Exchange (as designated in Paragraph 4.2 below); and (ii) the quarterly Hosting Fee installment for such Hosted Exchange due thirty (30) days following the end of the fourth calendar quarter of each OYP shall also include an amount equal to the difference between (x) the Hosting Fee for the Hosted Exchange, as calculated in accordance with Paragraph 4.2, and (y) the sum of all Minimum Quarterly Payments made during the OYP.

(b) Partial Periods.

(i) In the event a Hosting Go Live Date falls on a date other than the first or last day of a calendar quarter, the Minimum Quarterly Payment payable by the CBOT with respect to such Hosted Exchange for such partial calendar quarter shall be prorated on the basis of the number of calendar days during such partial calendar quarter.

(ii) In the event any OYP for a Hosted Exchange is less than a full calendar year, the Hosting Fee payable by the CBOT with respect to such Hosted Exchange for the partial year shall be prorated on the basis of the number of days during such partial year.

(c) Audit. LIFFE shall have the right to audit, or to engage an independent third party to audit, at LIFFE's expense, the records of each Hosted Exchange with respect to the Hosted Products, during regular business hours and upon reasonable notice to such Hosted Exchange.

4.2 Hosted Exchanges. The annual Hosting Fee payable with respect to each Hosted Exchange shall be calculated as follows:

(a) Kansas City Board of Trade ("KCBT")

The annual Hosting Fee payable in respect of KCBT shall be equal to:

(i) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of KCBT for the relevant OYP constitutes less than [] of the KCBT's Total Volume for such OYP, the sum of (x) [] plus (y) [] times the number of contracts (round turn) by which the relevant Electronic Volume exceeds [], and

(ii) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of KCBT for the relevant OYP constitutes [] or more of the KCBT's Total Volume for such OYP, the sum of (x) [] plus (y) [] times the number of contracts (round turn) by which the relevant Electronic Volume exceeds [].

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

The minimum quarterly Hosting Fee installment (the "Minimum Quarterly Payment") to be paid by the CBOT in respect of KCBT is (A) for each OYP during the Initial Term, [] and (B) for each OYP during a Renewal Term, the greater of (x) the Minimum Quarterly Payment during the Initial Term and (y) such amount to be agreed upon by LIFFE and the CBOT, which amount shall be approximately commensurate to [] of the Hosting Fees payable by the CBOT with respect to KCBT during the OYP immediately prior to the commencement of the applicable Renewal Term.

(b) Minneapolis Grain Exchange ("MGEX")

Initial Term

The annual Hosting Fee payable in respect of MGEX for the Initial Term shall be equal to:

(i) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes [] or less of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, the greater of (x) [] and (y) [] times the relevant Electronic Volume, and

(ii) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes more than [] of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, the lesser of (x) [] and (y) [] times the relevant Electronic Volume.

The Minimum Quarterly Payment to be paid by the CBOT in respect of MGEX for each OYP during the Initial Term is [].

Renewal Term

The annual Hosting Fee payable in respect of MGEX for any Renewal Term shall be equal to:

(i) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes [] or less of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, the greater of (x) [] and (y) [] times the relevant Electronic Volume,

(ii) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes more than []of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, and such Electronic Volume is less than or equal to [], the greater of (x) [] and (y) [] times the relevant Electronic Volume,

(iii) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes more than [] of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, such Electronic Volume is greater than [], and the Parties have, by no later than six (6) months prior to the commencement of the applicable Renewal Term, agreed upon a reduced per contract fee to be applied in respect of those contracts in excess of [] (the "Reduced Rate"), the sum of (x) []([] times []) and (y) for that portion of the Electronic Volume in excess of [], the number of contracts in excess of [] times the Reduced Rate, and

(iv) if the Electronic Volume for Hosted Products of MGEX for the relevant OYP constitutes more than [] of the MGEX's Total Volume for such OYP, such Electronic Volume is greater than [], and the Parties have not agreed upon a Reduced Rate by no later than six (6) months prior to the commencement of the applicable Renewal Term, [] times the Electronic Volume.

The Minimum Quarterly Payment to be paid by the CBOT in respect of MGEX for each OYP during a Renewal Term is the greater of (x) the Minimum Quarterly Payment during the Initial Term and (y) such amount to be agreed upon by LIFFE and the CBOT, which amount shall be approximately commensurate to [] of the Hosting Fees payable by the CBOT with respect to the MGEX during the OYP immediately prior to the commencement of the applicable Renewal Term.

(c) Winnipeg Commodities Exchange ("WCE")

The annual Hosting Fee payable in respect of WCE shall be equal to the greater of (i) [] and (ii) [] times WCE's Electronic Volume for such OYP.

The Minimum Quarterly Payment to be paid by the CBOT in respect of WGE is (A) for each OYP during the Initial Term, [] and (B) for each OYP during a Renewal Term, the greater of (x) the Minimum Quarterly Payment during the Initial Term and (y) such amount to be agreed upon by LIFFE and the CBOT, which amount shall be approximately commensurate to [] of the Hosting Fees payable by the CBOT with respect to WCE during the OYP immediately prior to the commencement of the applicable Renewal Term.

FORM OF GUARANTY

GUARANTY

This GUARANTY dated as of , 200 (this "Guaranty"), is made by [Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. / CBOT Holdings, Inc.], a Delaware corporation (the "Guarantor"), for the benefit of LIFFE Administration and Management, a company incorporated in England and Wales (together with its successors and permitted assigns, "LIFFE").

RECITALS

A. [Electronic Chicago Board of Trade, Inc., a Delaware corporation / wholly owned exchange subsidiary of CBOT Holdings, Inc.] ("CBOT Sub") is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guarantor.

B. LIFFE and the Guarantor have entered into a Software License Agreement, dated as of January 10, 2003 (the "Software License Agreement").

C. LIFFE and the Guarantor have entered into a Development Services Agreement, dated as of March 5, 2003 (the "Development Services Agreement").

D. LIFFE and the Guarantor have entered into a Managed Services Agreement, dated as of May 13, 2003 (the "Managed Services Agreement") .

E. LIFFE and the Guarantor have entered into a Relocation Services Agreement as of August 15, 2003 (the "Relocation Services Agreement").

F. LIFFE and the Guarantor are parties to that certain DSA Financing Agreement dated as of May 23, 2003 (the "Financing Agreement" and together with the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, the Managed Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement, the "Transaction Documents") .

G. The Guarantor wishes to assign its rights and obligations under each of the Transaction Documents to CBOT Sub (the "Assignments"), provided that after giving effect to such Assignments, Guarantor will continue to be liable for the obligations under each of the Transaction Documents in its capacity as Guarantor hereunder.

NOW, THEREFORE, for good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and as a condition precedent to the Assignments and in consideration of the mutual covenants contained therein, the Guarantor hereby agrees as follows:

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY
WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.
OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

1. Guaranty of Obligations.

1.1 Guaranteed Obligations. The Guarantor hereby absolutely, unconditionally and irrevocably guarantees, as primary obligor and not merely as surety, for the benefit of LIFFE and each of LIFFE's successors and permitted assigns (collectively, the "Beneficiaries"), the due and punctual performance, observance and payment by CBOT Sub of all of the covenants, agreements and obligations on the part of CBOT Sub to be paid or performed under each of the Transaction Documents or any document delivered in connection therewith or pursuant thereto, including, but not limited to, the due and punctual payment of all sums of every kind, nature and character which are or may become due and owing by CBOT Sub under the terms and provisions of each of the Transaction Documents, whether for fees, expenses, indemnified amounts or otherwise and for any reason whatsoever (all such covenants, agreements and obligations on the part of CBOT Sub to be paid or performed collectively, the "Guaranteed Obligations"). In the event that CBOT Sub shall fail in any manner whatsoever to perform or pay any of the Guaranteed Obligations in accordance with the terms of any of the Transaction Documents, then the Guarantor will perform or pay, or cause to be duly and punctually performed or paid, such Guaranteed Obligations. By its execution hereof, the Guarantor understands and agrees that this Guaranty is a guaranty of payment and performance and not merely a guaranty of collectibility.

1.2 Unconditional and Irrevocable. The Guarantor agrees that its obligations under this Guaranty shall be absolute, unconditional and irrevocable, irrespective of (i) the validity, enforceability, avoidance, subordination, discharge or disaffirmance of the Guaranteed Obligations or any of the Transaction Documents, (ii) the absence of any attempt to, or the inability to, collect the Guaranteed Obligations from CBOT Sub, (iii) any amendment or change to, or exchange or release of, the Guaranteed Obligations or any of the Transaction Documents, (iv) any law, regulation or order of any jurisdiction affecting any term of any of the Guaranteed Obligations or rights of any of Beneficiaries with respect thereto, (v) the failure by any of the Beneficiaries to take any steps to perfect and maintain perfected, or to preserve its rights to, its respective interest in any security or collateral related to the Guaranteed Obligations, (vi) any failure to obtain any authorization or approval from, or other action by, or to notify or make any filing with, any governmental authority or regulatory body that may be required in connection with the performance of the obligations hereunder by the Guarantor, or (vii) any impossibility or impracticability of performance, illegality, force majeure, any act of government or other circumstances which might constitute a defense available to or a discharge of CBOT Sub, or the Guarantor or (viii) any other circumstance which might otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge or defense of a guarantor, in each case other than the payment and performance in full of the Guaranteed Obligations (other than contingent indemnification obligations).

1.3 Limitation. The Guarantor's obligations under this Guaranty shall not be limited by any valuation, estimation or disallowance made in connection with any proceedings filed by or against the Guarantor or CBOT Sub under the United States Bankruptcy Code, as amended (the "Code"), whether pursuant to Section 502 of the Code or any other section thereof. None of the Beneficiaries shall be under any obligation to marshal any assets in favor of, against, or in payment of any or all of the Guaranteed Obligations. To the extent that CBOT Sub makes a payment or payments to any of the Beneficiaries, which payment(s) (or any portion thereof) is or are subsequently (i) invalidated, (ii) declared to be fraudulent or preferential, (iii) set aside and/or (iv) required to be repaid to CBOT Sub, or its estate, trustee or receiver or any other party, including, without limitation, the Guarantor, under any bankruptcy law, state or federal law, common law or equitable cause, then to the extent of such payment or repayment, the Guaranteed Obligations, or part thereof which had been paid, reduced or satisfied by such amount, shall be reinstated and continued in full force and effect as of the date such initial payment, reduction or satisfaction occurred. The Guarantor waives all setoffs and counterclaims and all presentments, demands for performance, notices of nonperformance, protests, notices of protest, notices of dishonor and notices of acceptance of this Guaranty. The Guarantor's obligations under this Guaranty shall not be limited if the Beneficiaries are precluded for any reason (including, without limitation, the application of the automatic stay under Section 362 of the Code) from enforcing or exercising any right or remedy with respect to the Guaranteed Obligations, and the Guarantor shall pay to the Beneficiaries, upon demand, the amount of the Guaranteed Obligations that would otherwise have been due and payable had such rights and remedies been permitted to be exercised.

2. Waiver. The Guarantor waives (a) promptness, diligence, notice of acceptance, notice of default by CBOT Sub, notice of the incurrence of any Guaranteed Obligation, and any other notice with respect to (i) any of the Guaranteed Obligations, (ii) this Guaranty, (iii) any of the Transaction Documents and (iv) any other document related to any or all of the foregoing, and (b) any requirement that the Beneficiaries exhaust any right or take any action against CBOT Sub, any other person or entity or any property. UNTIL THE GUARANTEED OBLIGATIONS (OTHER THAN CONTINGENT INDEMNIFICATION OBLIGATIONS) HAVE BEEN PAID IN FULL, THE GUARANTOR HEREBY AGREES THAT IT SHALL NOT ASSERT ANY RIGHT (WHETHER DIRECT OR INDIRECT) OF SUBROGATION (WHETHER CONTRACTUAL, UNDER THE CODE OR OTHERWISE) TO THE CLAIMS OF THE BENEFICIARIES AGAINST CBOT SUB, AND, UNTIL THE GUARANTEED OBLIGATIONS (OTHER THAN CONTINGENT INDEMNIFICATION OBLIGATIONS) HAVE BEEN PAID IN FULL, THE GUARANTOR HEREBY WAIVES ALL CONTRACTUAL, STATUTORY AND COMMON LAW RIGHTS OF REIMBURSEMENT, CONTRIBUTION OR INDEMNITY AND ANY AND ALL OTHER RIGHTS OF PAYMENT OR RECOVERY FROM CBOT SUB WHICH THE GUARANTOR MAY NOW HAVE OR HEREAFTER ACQUIRE.

3. Representations and Warranties. The Guarantor represents and warrants that (i) the execution, delivery and performance of this Guaranty by the Guarantor does not contravene or violate (a) the Guarantor's organizational documents, (b) any law, rule, regulation or order binding on the Guarantor or its property, (c) any material agreement or instrument binding on the Guarantor or its property; (ii) this Guaranty has been duly executed and delivered on behalf of the Guarantor and is the legal, valid and binding agreement of the Guarantor, enforceable against the Guarantor in accordance with its terms except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency or other similar laws affecting the enforcement of creditor's rights generally and by general principles of equity; (iii) it is duly formed, validly existing and in good standing under its jurisdiction of formation and is qualified and licensed to do business and is in good standing in each state in which the conduct of its business or its ownership of property requires that it be so qualified or licensed, except where the failure to be so qualified or licensed does not result in a Material Adverse Effect (as defined in the Finance Agreement) on Guarantor, (iv) it has the power and authority (corporate and otherwise) to execute and carry out the terms of this Guaranty, to own its assets and to carry on its business as currently conducted, (v) all written information relating to Guarantor that has been, or may hereafter, be prepared by Guarantor (or its agents) and delivered by Guarantor (or its agents) to LIFFE are accurate and complete in all material respects, and (vi) the Guarantor has adequate means to obtain from CBOT Sub, on a continuing basis, all information concerning the financial condition of CBOT Sub, and the Guarantor acknowledges that it is not relying on the Beneficiaries to provide such information, either now or in the future.

4. Costs. The Guarantor shall pay all reasonable costs and expenses (including attorneys' fees and expenses) paid or incurred by any of the Beneficiaries in connection with the enforcement of this Guaranty or the prosecution or defense of any action by or against any of the Beneficiaries in connection with this Guaranty, whether involving the Guarantor or any other person or entity, including a trustee in bankruptcy. The Guarantor shall pay interest on all amounts owing by it under this Guaranty from and after the third day after demand therefor until such obligations are paid in full, at the rate of the lesser of (a) one and one half percent (1.5%) per month, or (b) the maximum amount allowed under applicable law. Such default interest shall be in addition to any default interest and late payment charges which have accrued and may continue to accrue under any of the Transaction Documents.

5. Term of Guaranty. This Guaranty shall terminate only after the payment in full of the Guaranteed Obligations (other than contingent indemnification obligations), it being understood that this Guaranty shall not have been terminated but shall remain in full force and effect if any payment(s) (or any portion thereof) made by CBOT Sub to any of the Beneficiaries is or are (i) subsequently invalidated, (ii) declared to be fraudulent or preferential, (iii) set aside and/or (iv) required to be repaid to CBOT Sub, or its estate, trustee or receiver or any other party, including, without limitation, the Guarantor, under any bankruptcy law, state or federal law, common law or equitable cause, until such payment or payments are satisfied in full pursuant to Section 1.3 hereof.

6. Severability. Each provision of this Guaranty shall be considered separable. If, for any reason, any provision of this Guaranty is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, such determination shall not affect the enforceability of the remainder of this Guaranty or the validity, lawfulness, or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

7. No Waiver. The failure of a Party to exercise or enforce any right conferred upon it by this Guaranty shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any such right or operate so as to bar the exercise or enforcement thereof at any time or times hereafter.

8. Remedies Not Exclusive. No remedy conferred by any provision of this Guaranty is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, except as expressly provided in this Guaranty, and each and every remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing in law or in equity or by statute or otherwise.

9. Interpretation. References to sections are to sections of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Section headings are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction of this Agreement. The masculine gender shall include the feminine and the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa. Any use of the word “including” will be interpreted to mean “including, but not limited to,” unless otherwise indicated.

10. Governing Law; Waiver of Jury Trial. The validity and effectiveness of this Guaranty shall be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Illinois, without giving effect to the provisions, policies or principles of any state law relating to choice or conflict of laws. Any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Guaranty may be brought exclusively in the Federal or state courts located in Chicago, Illinois, including the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, THE GUARANTOR IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, AND, IN ACCEPTING THE BENEFITS OF THIS GUARANTY, EACH OF THE BENEFICIARIES IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, ALL RIGHT OF TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY ACTION, PROCEEDING OR COUNTERCLAIM ARISING OUT OF OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS GUARANTY OR ANY MATTER ARISING HEREUNDER.

11. Counterparts. This Guaranty may be executed in two counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be deemed an original, and both of which together shall constitute but one and the same instrument.

EXECUTION

AMENDED AND RESTATED

MANAGED SERVICES AGREEMENT

This Amended and Restated Managed Services Agreement (this "Agreement"), dated as of August 3, 2004 is between LIFFE ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT, a company incorporated in England and Wales ("LIFFE"), and BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO, INC., a Delaware corporation (the "CBOT"). Capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meanings ascribed thereto in Section 1.

RECITALS

A. LIFFE has devised and developed an automated derivatives trading and order matching system known as "LIFFE CONNECT®" to facilitate the trading of certain securities, futures, and options contracts.

B. LIFFE and the CBOT have heretofore entered into (i) a Software License Agreement, dated as of January 10, 2003 (the "Original SLA"), whereby LIFFE has agreed to grant to the CBOT a license in respect of the Software, and (ii) Amendment No. 1 to the Software License Agreement, dated as of April 23, 2004, permitting the CBOT to offer [] futures and options on futures for trading via the Licensed Technology.

C. LIFFE and the CBOT have also entered into a Development Services Agreement, dated as of March 5, 2003 (the "Development Services Agreement"), whereby LIFFE has agreed to provide to the CBOT a variety of services supporting the creation and implementation of LIFFE CONNECT as a platform for the CBOT Electronic Exchange, including the procurement and/or delivery to locations agreed upon by the Parties of hardware necessary to support the Software, testing of Software, assistance with the CBOT's acceptance testing, training of CBOT staff in respect of certain Components, and assisting the CBOT in providing Market Participants with technical access to the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

D. As of May 13, 2003, LIFFE and the CBOT entered into a Managed Services Agreement (the "Original MSA"), pursuant to which LIFFE agreed to provide to the CBOT a variety of information technology, operational, and other services supporting the ongoing operation of LIFFE CONNECT as a platform for the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

E. LIFFE and the CBOT have additionally entered into a Relocation Services Agreement, dated as of August 15, 2003 (the "Relocation Services Agreement"), whereby LIFFE has agreed to establish a LIFFE data centre in a specified location in Chicago, Illinois, and, commencing upon a yet to be determined date, provide to the CBOT a variety of additional services supporting the creation, implementation and future operation of such data centre.

F. Subsequent to the execution of the agreement described above, the CBOT requested that LIFFE (i) permit the CBOT to utilize the Trading System to host electronic trading of certain derivatives products listed by the Minneapolis Grain Exchange, The Board of Trade of Kansas City, Missouri, Inc. and Winnipeg Commodity Exchange Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of WCE Holdings Inc. (each a "Hosted Exchange," and, collectively, the "Hosted Exchanges"), and (ii) provide the CBOT various services in relation to such hosting (the "Hosting Arrangement").

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION. OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

G. As of the Amendment Effective Date, LIFFE and the CBOT are entering into an Amended and Restated Software License Agreement (the "Software License Agreement") to accommodate the Hosting Arrangement, incorporate into the main body of such document the applicable terms of Amendment No. 1 to the Software License Agreement, and effect other amendments to the Original SLA agreed by LIFFE the CBOT, H. LIFFE and the CBOT additionally desire to amend and restate the Original MSA on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement to accommodate the Hosting Arrangement and effect additional amendments to the Original MSA agreed by LIFFE and the CBOT.

I. This Agreement is supplemental to and shall be read in conjunction with the Software License Agreement and, to the extent applicable, the Development Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement.

In consideration of the recitals and the mutual covenants and agreements hereinafter set forth, the Parties hereto (each a "Party" and collectively the "Parties") agree as follows:

"Trade Data Interface Service" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 2.2(h).

"Trading Application" means any front-end trading application or other software which interfaces with, and has been conformed with, the API.

"Trading Day" means any calendar day, measured by U.S. Central Time, other than Christmas Day (December 25) or New Year's Day (January 1); any Saturday or Sunday; or any other day the CBOT designates as a trading holiday.

"Trading Host" means the LIFFE CONNECT Matching Engine (a/k/a the CBOT Matching Engine) as may be developed for the CBOT pursuant to the Development Services Agreement, this Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement, and used on such Equipment as LIFFE may specify from time to time.

"Trading System" means LIFFE CONNECT as modified, pursuant to the Development Services Agreement, this Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement, for use as a platform for the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

"Transition Period" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 14.3.

"Upgrades" means, collectively, improvements, enhancements, additions and modifications to or of the Licensed Technology, or any portion thereof, which LIFFE specifies for use and/or access as Licensed Technology.

"U.S." means the United States of America.

"Wagner/eSpeed Patent" means U.S. Letter Patent No. 4,903,201 (the '201 patent).

"Wagner License" shall have the meaning set forth in Section 17.2.

"Wide Area Network Router" means a router that provides access to and from the Core Network.

2. Services

2.1 Overview. During the term of this Agreement, LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to provide to the CBOT (a) managed information technology services and managed support services, as further detailed in Sections 2.2 and 2.3 and in Schedule A (collectively, the "Managed Services"); (b) the Maintenance Services; and (c) (i) any Software Changes agreed via a Change Request and, upon the Parties' agreement, set out in a Summary Statement of Work; and (ii) any other services relating to the operation of the CBOT Electronic Exchange described herein or agreed via a Change Request (collectively, the "Program Services" and, together with the Managed Services and the Maintenance Services, the "Services").

2.2 Managed Information Technology Services. LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to provide the following managed information technology services (collectively, the "Managed IT Services") in accordance with the relevant Service Times and Service Targets set forth in Schedule A. Subject to Section 2.5, LIFFE shall have no obligation to meet (but shall continue to use reasonable efforts to provide the Managed IT Services in accordance with) a Service Target (i) for as long as a relevant Service Threshold or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter is exceeded, and (ii) for the duration of the impact upon the Managed Services of such exceeded Service Threshold or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter in a manner that impedes LIFFE's ability to meet the Service Targets. The Components specified in this Section 2.2 have been licensed to the CBOT pursuant to the Software License Agreement and are set out in Schedule B.

(a) provision of and [], the CBOT shall provide to LIFFE a well-founded, reasoned, authoritative opinion of competent United States patent counsel that (i) all Services provided by LIFFE to the CBOT under the Development Services Agreement, this Agreement, the Consultancy Framework Agreement, the Relocation Services Agreement and/or any other agreements between the Parties relating to the CBOT Electronic Exchange, including the procurement, installation and operation of Equipment; (ii) the Equipment, System Software and Licensed Technology; and (iii) the use of such Equipment, System Software and Licensed Technology by or on behalf of the CBOT and Market Participants, are encompassed by the Wagner License and will not violate the terms of the Wagner License.

(b) provision of [] ("MCC Monitoring and Control Service") and (ii) OIA ("OIA Monitoring and Control Service");

(c) provision of the [] ("Connect Key Management Facility Service");

(d) provision of [], as agreed by the Parties ("Monitoring Tools Service");

(e) provision of [] ("AQS Service");

(f) provision and [] ("Standing Data Interface Service");

(g) provision and [] ("Audit Data Interface Service");

(h) delivery from the [] ("Trade Data Interface Service");

(i) delivery from the [] ("Market Data Interface Service");

(j) delivery from the [] ("Miscellaneous File Transfer Interface Service");

(k) assisting the CBOT, as agreed by the Parties, in [] ("Technical Conformance Service"); and

(l) provision of a service to [] ("IMAC Service").

2.3 Managed Support Services. LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to provide the CBOT the following managed support services (collectively, the "Managed Support Services"), in accordance with the relevant Service Times and Service Targets. Subject to Section 2.5, LIFFE shall have no obligation to meet (but shall continue to use reasonable efforts to provide the Managed Support Services in accordance with) a Service Target (i) for as long as a relevant Service Threshold or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter is exceeded, and (ii) for the duration of the impact upon the Managed Services of such exceeded Service Threshold or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter in a manner that impedes LIFFE's ability to meet the Service Targets;

(a) provision of [] in accordance with any relevant guidelines as may be agreed upon by the Parties, as further detailed in Section 3.2 ("Call Management Service");

(b) provision of a service to [], as further detailed in Section 3.2 and (y) notify the CBOT of those activities undertaken ("Incident Management Service");

(c) provision of a service [], as further detailed in Section 3.2 and (ii) notify the CBOT of those activities undertaken ("LIFFE Data Centre Disaster Recovery Service");

(d) prior notification, within a reasonable period of time (or if prior notification is not reasonably practicable, prompt notification), [] ("Change Management Service");

(e) [] ("Data Storage Management Service"); and

(f) management of LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services and the Maintenance Services in accordance with Schedule C, including:

(i) []

(ii) []

("Service Management Service").

2.4 Maintenance Services. LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to provide the CBOT the following maintenance services (collectively, the "Maintenance Services"):

(a) ongoing maintenance of the Software sufficient to enable LIFFE to deliver the Managed IT Services in accordance with Service Targets and the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters, and including the provision of any New Software Releases in accordance with Section 4.1 ("Software Maintenance Service").

(b) ongoing maintenance of the Equipment and of LIFFE data centres hosting the Managed Services sufficient to enable LIFFE to deliver the Managed IT Services in accordance with (i) the Service Targets, (ii) the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters, and (iii) any applicable guidelines issued from time to time by the respective manufacturers or suppliers of the Equipment, and including the provision of Equipment Uplifts in accordance with Section 5.1.1 and the provision of Replacements in accordance with Section 5.1.2 ("Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Service"); and

(c) ongoing maintenance of the Core Network sufficient to enable LIFFE to deliver the Managed IT Services in accordance with (i) the Service Targets, (ii) the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters, and (iii) any applicable guidelines issued from time to time by the respective manufacturers or suppliers of those data circuits and hardware comprising the Core Network ("Core Network Maintenance Service").

2.5 Service Targets. Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, LIFFE shall not be responsible for any Service Target that is not met to the extent such failure to meet such Service Target is caused by any applicable CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters and/or Service Thresholds having been exceeded.

2.6 Change Control Procedures. Any requests of either Party for material changes to the nature or scope of the Services to be performed after the Effective Date must be (a) made according to the change control procedures set forth in Schedule D hereto ("Change Control Procedures"); and (b) agreed to in writing by both Parties, in the form of the "Change Request Form" set forth in Appendix 2 to Schedule D (each such duly completed and executed Change Request Form, a "Change Request"). Each Change Request shall be incorporated in and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

2.7 Summary Statements of Work. In the event a Change Request provides for LIFFE's delivery hereunder of a Software Change, upon the Parties' agreement, the Parties shall agree upon and execute a summary statement of work in the form of the Master Summary Statement of Work set forth in Schedule E hereto (each such duly executed Summary Statement of Work, a "Summary Statement of Work"). Each Summary Statement of Work shall be incorporated in and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. All services to be provided pursuant to a Summary Statement of Work will constitute "Program Services" hereunder.

2.8 Site. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or as otherwise agreed by the Parties, the Services will be performed at LIFFE's offices or at such other locations as LIFFE deems appropriate. LIFFE agrees that when any LIFFE Project Personnel are present on the CBOT's Premises, such LIFFE Project Personnel shall use good faith efforts to comply with the CBOT's Acceptable Use and Harassment Policies as set forth in Schedule F.

2.9 Subcontractors. LIFFE may appoint subcontractors and agents to carry out the whole or any part of its obligations hereunder; provided, however, that (a) LIFFE shall provide the CBOT the name of any individual LIFFE has appointed as its subcontractor or agent hereunder whose primary residence is located in the United States and whose activities are to be undertaken at the CBOT's Premises, prior to such individual undertaking such activities, and the CBOT shall have the right, in its reasonable discretion, to deny access to the CBOT's Premises to such individual; provided, further, however, that (i) LIFFE shall not be responsible for any delays or other consequences resulting from any such denial and (ii) the CBOT shall indemnify and hold LIFFE, its Affiliates, and the officers, directors, employees, agents and representatives of LIFFE and its Affiliates harmless from and against any and all Losses reasonably incurred or suffered as a result of such denial; and (b) LIFFE shall notify the CBOT of the identity of any subcontractor entity whose primary residence is located in the United States and whose activities are to be undertaken at locations other than the CBOT's Premises. For the avoidance of doubt, LIFFE shall not have an obligation to notify the CBOT of (x) any individual or subcontractor entity whose primary residence is located outside the United States or (y) any individual whose activities are to be undertaken at any site other than the CBOT's Premises.

2.10 Quality of Services. LIFFE shall use good faith efforts to ensure that the LIFFE Project Personnel engaged in carrying out the Services shall have the skills, experience, qualifications and knowledge necessary to perform the Services assigned to such LIFFE Project Personnel. LIFFE shall use (and shall require its subcontractors to use) reasonable skill and care in carrying out the Services and shall use good faith efforts to comply with all applicable laws and regulations in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement.

2.11 Delays. LIFFE shall not be responsible for any delays or other consequences arising from any failure by the CBOT to perform, or any delay by the CBOT in performing, any of its obligations under this Agreement.

3. Support

3.1 CBOT's Support Obligations. The CBOT shall provide Market Participants first-line support regarding the Managed Services by responding to Calls from Market Participants in accordance with the procedures set forth in Paragraph 1 of Schedule G hereto (the "CBOT Call Management Procedures"). In addition, the CBOT shall comply with the Call Management Procedures in respect of all Calls from CBOT personnel, or subcontractors or agents of the CBOT, relating to LIFFE's delivery of the Services.

3.2 LIFFE's Support Obligations.

3.2.1 General Obligations. Following LIFFE's receipt of any Call, LIFFE shall, as part of the Call Management Service, assess the nature of the subject matter of any Call Record routed to LIFFE and handle the Call in accordance with those procedures set forth in Paragraph 2 of Schedule G and the applicable Service Targets set forth in Paragraph 4.2 of Schedule A, subject to the associated Service Thresholds and applicable CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters.

3.2.2 Incidents. If LIFFE determines a Call Record identifies an Incident, LIFFE shall (a) classify the Incident as (i) a Disaster or, in respect of Incidents other than Disasters, as (ii) Severity 1, 2, 3 or 4, in accordance with the criteria set forth in Paragraph 4.1.4 of Schedule A, and (b) initiate the LIFFE Data Centre Disaster Recovery Service or the Incident Management Service, as appropriate. Such LIFFE Data Centre Disaster Recovery Service or Incident Management Service will be provided (a) remotely, via telephone or on-line, (b) at CBOT Controlled Sites, (c) at such other locations as LIFFE deems appropriate, or (d) at premises where any Equipment, Software or Core Network components to which the relevant Incident likely relates may be located ("On-Site"), upon the CBOT's reasonable request. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that the CBOT requests a Service be provided On-Site and LIFFE reasonably believes that the same or substantially similar level of service can be provided remotely, then LIFFE shall be required to provide such Service On-Site only upon the CBOT's written agreement to pay to LIFFE (i) fees for the time expended by LIFFE in connection with such on-site Service, calculated in accordance with the Charge Rates; and (ii) all associated Out of Pocket Expenses.

3.2.3 Scope of Managed Support Services. Unless otherwise expressly stated herein or agreed upon by the Parties (LIFFE's agreement not to be unreasonably withheld), LIFFE shall have no obligation to provide (a) the Call Management Service in respect of any Call that does not relate to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services; or (b) any Managed Support Services with respect to any Disaster, other Incident, or other act or omission LIFFE reasonably determines was caused by:

(i) the modification of the Licensed Technology, or the Equipment or any portion of the Core Network by any Person other than LIFFE or a subcontractor or agent of LIFFE, unless such modification was made at LIFFE's direction, with LIFFE's consent, or pursuant to the Escrow Agreement;

(ii) integration of Software, in whole or in part, by any Person other than LIFFE or a subcontractor or agent of LIFFE, with any software other than a Trading Application for which a trader key or view only key has been issued following Market Participant Testing;

(iii) use of the Software, the Equipment, or the Core Network in a manner or form that is in contravention of this Agreement, the Software License Agreement and/or the Development Services Agreement, or, in respect of Market Participants, an Interface Sublicense Agreement;

(iv) any other failure by the CBOT to perform its obligations under this Agreement, the Development Services Agreement or the Software License Agreement; or

(v) Trading Applications, CBOT Technology, other CBOT Property, property of any Market Participant or any other technology, excluding the Software, the Equipment, and the Core Network, unless such technology has been (i) provided by or on behalf of LIFFE, or (ii) expressly approved by LIFFE. For the avoidance of doubt, LIFFE's assistance with Market Participant Testing, LIFFE's assistance with Technical Conformance Testing, and LIFFE's performance of the Technical Conformance Service do not constitute LIFFE's "approval" of Trading Applications or other technology for purposes of this Section 3.2.3.

(Sections 3.2.3(i) to 3.2.3(v), collectively, the "Exclusions").

3.2.4 Services Outside Scope. In the event that (a) the CBOT routes to LIFFE any Call that LIFFE reasonably determines does not relate to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services, or (b) subject to Paragraph 2.2 of Schedule G, LIFFE otherwise provides any Managed Support Services with respect to any act or omission LIFFE reasonably determines was caused by an Exclusion, then (i) the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE (x) fees for the time expended by LIFFE in connection with such Managed Support Services, calculated in accordance with the Charge Rates; and (y) all associated Out of Pocket Expenses and (ii) LIFFE shall have no obligation to provide such Managed Support Services in accordance with the Service Targets.

4. Maintenance

4.1 New Software Releases.

4.1.1 Overview. From time to time and in LIFFE's sole discretion, LIFFE may develop Upgrades to one or more of the Components ("New Software Releases"), and may offer to provide such New Software Releases to the CBOT and/or Market Participants, as applicable. A New Software Release may include a material modification of [](a "Material New Software Release"). During the Initial Term, LIFFE shall offer to provide a minimum of [] Material New Software Releases to the CBOT. For the avoidance of doubt, any New Software Release comprised only of bug fixes shall not constitute a Material New Software Release.

4.1.2 Release Notes. Prior to making any Material New Software Release available to the CBOT and/or any Market Participant, LIFFE shall provide the CBOT [] months prior written notice of such Material New Software Release, which notice will include the Release Notes applicable thereto .

4.1.3 Implementation. Once a New Software Release is offered to the CBOT, then the CBOT shall have the right to elect to implement such New Software Release. Upon such election, the New Software Release shall be deemed "Software" for purposes of this Agreement. The implementation of all New Software Releases, including all Material New Software Releases, shall be addressed via a Change Request, which shall include those acceptance procedures set out in Paragraph 3 of Schedule E (for such purposes, the term "New Software Releases" shall be substituted for "Software Changes"). The CBOT shall implement Material New Software Releases in a manner that ensures that the CBOT is no more than [] Material New Software Releases behind those made available by LIFFE for one or more entities using LIFFE CONNECT to facilitate trading of certain securities, futures, and option contracts. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that LIFFE offers to provide [] Material New Software Releases to the CBOT within a [] calendar month period, then the CBOT may elect to be [] Material New Software Releases behind; provided that, the Software Maintenance Fee for the period during which the CBOT is [] Material New Software Releases behind shall be increased by [].

4.2 Software Changes. Any Upgrade to one or more Components that is requested by the CBOT ("Software Change") shall be provided only upon, and in accordance with, (a) the Parties' agreement via a Change Request, and (b) as the Parties deem appropriate, a Summary Statement of Work. The CBOT shall incorporate, and/or require all Market Participants receiving the Software Change to incorporate, such Software Change into the Trading System in accordance with the terms of the relevant Change Request and/or Summary Statement of Work, as applicable. For the avoidance of any doubt, "Software Change" does not include (i) any Software provided pursuant to the IMAC Service or (ii) any New Software Release.

4.3 Superseded Versions. Upon incorporation into the Trading System of a New Software Release or a Software Change, the CBOT shall (a) promptly return to LIFFE or, with LIFFE's prior written consent, destroy and certify as destroyed, the version of the Component(s) superseded by such Upgrade and all copies thereof (the "Superseded Version") in the CBOT's possession and/or control, and (b) require each Market Participant to promptly return to LIFFE or, with LIFFE's prior written consent destroy and certify as destroyed, any Superseded Version in such Market Participant's possession and/or control.

4.4 Scope of Maintenance Services. Unless otherwise expressly stated herein or agreed upon by the Parties (LIFFE's agreement not to be unreasonably withheld), LIFFE shall have no obligation to provide the Maintenance Services in respect of any Exclusion.

4.5 Services Outside Scope. In the event that LIFFE provides any Maintenance Services in respect of any Exclusion, then the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE (i) fees for the time expended by LIFFE in connection with Maintenance Services in respect of any Exclusion, calculated in accordance with the Charge Rates; and (ii) all associated Out-of-Pocket Expenses.

5. Equipment

5.1 Replacements.

5.1.1 Equipment Uplifts. As part of the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Service, during the [] of the Initial Term, and in any event by no later than [], LIFFE shall (a) procure those Replacements and System Software identified in Schedule H hereto ("Equipment Uplifts"), and (b) deliver such Equipment Uplifts to, and install such Equipment Uplifts at, such installation sites as are specified in Schedule H or such other locations as may be agreed upon by the Parties. Such Equipment Uplifts will thereafter be deemed "Equipment" and "System Software," as appropriate, for purposes of this Agreement.

5.1.2 Replacements. As part of the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Service, LIFFE may, at its option, replace Equipment or components thereof with other equipment or components which are substantially similar to the Equipment being replaced or improvements, enhancements, additions or modifications to such Equipment; provided that LIFFE shall provide the CBOT prior notification (or if prior notification is not feasible, prompt notification) and an opportunity for testing of any Replacements, where the Parties agree that testing is necessary. All such Replacements will thereafter be deemed "Equipment" for purposes of this Agreement.

5.1.3 Equipment Changes. Any Replacements requested by the CBOT, other than the Equipment Uplifts, ("Equipment Changes") shall be procured, delivered and installed only upon, and in accordance with the Parties' agreement via a Change Request. Any such Equipment Changes provided by LIFFE hereunder will be deemed "Equipment" for purposes of this Agreement. For the avoidance of any doubt, "Equipment Changes" does not include any Equipment provided pursuant to the IMAC Service.

5.2 Disablement and Repossession.

5.2.1 At LIFFE's Option. LIFFE may, at its option, disable and/or repossess Equipment; provided that LIFFE will not disable and/or repossess Equipment located at a CBOT Controlled Site without either (a) reasonable cause and (b) providing prior notice to the CBOT, to the extent reasonably practicable. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE shall, to the extent reasonably practicable, provide the CBOT prior notice of any disablement or repossession of Equipment at a CBOT Controlled Site.

5.2.2 At the CBOT's Request. LIFFE shall disable and/or repossess Equipment from any CBOT Controlled Sites as reasonably requested by the CBOT, at the CBOT's cost.

5.3 Responsibilities of the CBOT.

5.3.1 Access. The CBOT shall provide (or require a Market Participant to provide, as applicable) LIFFE such access as LIFFE may reasonably request to all CBOT Controlled Sites:

(a) for purposes of installing any Replacements;

(b) to enable LIFFE or its designee to carry out its rights and responsibilities under Section 5.2;

(c) to enable LIFFE or its designee to inspect Equipment or any portion thereof: (i) to determine whether the CBOT is complying or has complied with its obligations under this Agreement; and/or (ii) to facilitate LIFFE's efforts to remedy any defect or error in such Equipment; and

(d) to enable LIFFE or its designee to disable and/or remove Equipment or any portion thereof: (i) if the CBOT has failed, or is failing, to comply with its obligations under this Agreement; and/or to (ii) facilitate LIFFE's efforts to remedy any defect or error in such Equipment.

5.3.2 Prior to Installation. In connection with each installation of Equipment at a CBOT Controlled Site, the CBOT shall, at no expense to LIFFE and by such date(s) and at such time(s) as LIFFE may reasonably request, (a) permit (or require a Market Participant to permit) LIFFE or its designee to inspect such CBOT Controlled Site prior to the delivery of any Equipment thereto; (b) make (or require a Market Participant to make) such modifications, alterations or additions to such CBOT Controlled Site as LIFFE may reasonably request; and (c) provide (or require a Market Participant to provide) LIFFE with any further assistance and facilities as LIFFE may reasonably request, including (i) preparing suitable accommodation and environmental conditions for such Equipment and (ii) making available any equipment, software, ancillary plant, fittings, electrical power supply and other facilities sufficient to meet all reasonable requirements of LIFFE.

5.3.3 Following Installation. With respect to all Equipment located at a CBOT Controlled Site, the CBOT shall (and shall require each Market Participant to) maintain at all times the accommodation, environment and facilities for the Equipment as may be reasonably specified by LIFFE from time to time.

5.3.4 Restrictions on Use.

(a) All Equipment. With respect to all Equipment, the CBOT agrees, and shall require each Market Participant to agree:

(i) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, without the prior written consent of LIFFE, combine the Equipment with any equipment, software, or other technology (other than Licensed Technology or other technology approved by LIFFE); or

(ii) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, without the prior written consent of LIFFE, repossess or disable any Equipment; provided, however, that the CBOT may repossess or disable Equipment on CBOT Controlled Sites as may be necessary in conjunction with the CBOT's monitoring and control of the CBOT Electronic Exchange;

(iii) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, create any lien or other encumbrance on the Equipment or any part or parts thereof or do any act (x) which might jeopardize or prejudice the rights of LIFFE or its suppliers in the Equipment or any portion thereof or (y) which might reasonably be expected to result in the Equipment being confiscated, seized, requisitioned, taken in execution, impounded or otherwise taken from the possession of the CBOT or any Market Participant, as applicable; and

(iv) to use or interface with the Equipment only in accordance with applicable manufacturers' recommendations.

(b) Located at or Accessible from CBOT Controlled Sites. With respect to all Equipment located at or accessible from any CBOT Controlled Site, the CBOT agrees, and shall require each Market Participant to agree:

(i) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, interfere or tamper with, alter, amend or modify the Equipment or any part or parts thereof without the prior written consent of LIFFE;

(ii) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, move the Equipment or any portion thereof from the CBOT's Premises without the prior written consent of LIFFE; and

(iii) not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to, interfere or tamper with any serial numbers, identity plates, trademarks, proprietary notices or other designations, including those of LIFFE or LIFFE's suppliers, on the Equipment or any portion thereof; and

(c) Software. With respect to all software embedded in or otherwise included within the Equipment ("System Software"), the CBOT agrees not to, and not to permit any other Person (including any Market Participant) to:

(i) copy, modify, duplicate, decompile, reverse engineer, disassemble or otherwise reduce to a humanly perceivable form, make any attempt to discover the source code of, create derivative works based on, market, sell, provide or make available to any third party, otherwise distribute, or translate the System Software, except as expressly provided herein;

(ii) remove or alter in any manner any trademarks, trade names, copyright notices or other proprietary or confidentiality notices or designations, of the CBOT or other Person, contained or displayed in or on the System Software; or

(iii) upload any computer virus, Trojan horse, worm, time bomb, or other similar code or hardware designed to disrupt the operation of, permit unauthorized access to, erase, or modify the System Software or Equipment, or otherwise use the System Software to further any purpose which is illegal.

5.3.5 Insurance. With respect to all Equipment located at any CBOT Controlled Site, the CBOT agrees either to (a) arrange to insure the Equipment comprehensively against all insurable risks with a reputable insurance company, on terms satisfactory to LIFFE (naming LIFFE as a beneficiary), or (b) accept all liability for the Equipment; in each case for the full Replacement Value thereof, from and including the date on which the Equipment or any portion thereof is delivered to the CBOT Controlled Site, until such time as the Equipment is either returned to or repossessed by LIFFE. Where the Equipment has been insured by an insurance company, the CBOT shall, at the request of LIFFE, provide to LIFFE either a copy of the relevant portion of such insurance policy or a written certificate evidencing the currency of the same.

5.3.6 Market Participants.

5.3.6.1 Interface Sublicense Agreement. Prior to the installation of any Equipment on premises owned or controlled by any Person wishing to become a Market Participant, the CBOT shall require such Person to enter into an Interface Sublicense Agreement.

5.3.6.2 Enforcement. The CBOT shall:

(a) promptly upon becoming aware of such actions, provide LIFFE written notice of (i) any violation by a Market Participant or any other Person of the restrictions set forth in Section 5.3.4; and (ii) any other acts or omissions of any Person which the CBOT believes (x) might jeopardize or prejudice the rights of LIFFE or its suppliers in the Equipment; (y) may result in the Equipment being confiscated, seized, requisitioned, taken in execution, impounded or otherwise taken from any location; or (z) threaten the security or operation of the Equipment; and

(b) promptly upon becoming aware of (i) any claim, demand, or cause of action brought against the CBOT by a Market Participant or any other Person, or any subpoena served upon the CBOT or (ii) any employee, officer or director thereof, which relates to the Equipment or any component thereof, provide LIFFE written notice of such claim, demand, cause of action or subpoena.

5.3.7 Change Notification. The CBOT shall provide LIFFE's Project Manager prior written notice (or, if prior written notice is not reasonably practicable, immediate written notification) of (a) any changes to the physical environment (i) at CBOT's Premises in which Equipment and/or Software operate (e.g. maintenance or shutdowns of power supply or temperature control devices), and (ii) to the extent that the CBOT is aware, at any other CBOT Controlled Site in which Equipment and/or Software operate; and (b) any changes to, relocations of, or maintenance of any CBOT Technology that interfaces with Software and/or Equipment.

5.4 Responsibilities of LIFFE.

5.4.1 Liens. In the event any Equipment is confiscated, seized, requisitioned, taken in execution, impounded or otherwise taken from the possession of LIFFE as a result of LIFFE permitting a third party lien or other encumbrance to be placed on such Equipment (excluding any such lien or other encumbrance established in connection with the procurement of such Equipment), LIFFE shall, at LIFFE's expense, replace such Equipment. Such Replacements will thereafter be deemed "Equipment" for purposes of this Agreement.

5.4.2 Upgrades and Replacements. Except as expressly provided in this Agreement, nothing herein shall require LIFFE to (a) create any Upgrades or procure or provide any Replacements; (b) deliver or license to the CBOT for use and/or access as "Licensed Technology" any modifications, enhancements, improvements or additions to the Licensed Technology as LIFFE may choose to create; or (c) provide to the CBOT for use and/or access as "Equipment" hereunder any replacements, modifications, enhancements, improvements or additions to the Equipment.

6. Core Network

6.1 Permitted Purpose. The CBOT shall use the Core Network solely for purposes of (a) operating (including testing and development pursuant to the Development Services Agreement or hereunder) the CBOT Electronic Exchange via one or more Interfaces with the Equipment, and (b) carrying out rights or obligations of the CBOT pursuant to the Development Services Agreement or the Managed Services Agreement.

6.2 Acceptable Use Policy. The CBOT shall comply, and use reasonable efforts to ensure that all Market Participants comply, with LIFFE's Core Network Acceptable Use Policy, a copy of which is attached as Schedule I hereto.

6.3 Notification

6.3.1 By the CBOT. The CBOT shall promptly notify LIFFE if the CBOT becomes aware of (a) any security vulnerability relating to the Core Network, and (b) any violation of the Acceptable Use Policy.

6.3.2 By LIFFE. Subject to Section 16, if not so prohibited by a regulatory or other governmental authority or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, LIFFE shall (a) promptly notify the CBOT of any judicial or governmental request, requirement or order under law regarding the investigation and/or prosecution of activities relating to the CBOT Electronic Exchange, and (b) cooperate with the CBOT to respond to any such request, requirement or order.

6.4 Suspension

6.4.1 At LIFFE's Request. In order to protect the CBOT Electronic Exchange and all users of the Core Network, LIFFE may, at its option, suspend access to the Core Network of the CBOT or any Market Participant in the event of a breach of LIFFE's Core Network Acceptable Use Policy or the CBOT's obligations under Section 6.1 by the CBOT or such Market Participant; provided that LIFFE will not suspend such access without reasonable cause and shall use good faith efforts to provide the CBOT prior notice of any such suspension.

6.4.2 At the CBOT's Request. LIFFE shall suspend any Market Participant's access to the Core Network as reasonably requested by the CBOT, at the CBOT's cost.

7. General Obligations of the CBOT

7.1 Dependencies. In addition to all other obligations of the CBOT set forth in this Agreement, the CBOT shall perform those dependencies set forth in Schedule J hereto.

7.2 Security. In addition to all other duties of the CBOT specified hereunder and/or in the Software License Agreement, Development Services Agreement and/or Relocation Services Agreement in respect of Licensed Technology and Equipment and the use or access thereof by the CBOT, Market Participants, the CBOT shall (a) use reasonable efforts to comply with LIFFE's security policy, a copy of which is attached as Schedule K hereto; (b) establish and maintain supervisory and security procedures satisfactory to LIFFE for the purpose of protecting all Licensed Technology and Equipment located at CBOT's Premises and LIFFE's rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology and Equipment; (c) require each Market Participant to establish and maintain supervisory and security procedures appropriate to protect all Licensed Technology and Equipment located at premises owned or controlled by such Market Participant and LIFFE's rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology and Equipment; and (d) use reasonable efforts to ensure that no personnel of the CBOT, any Affiliates or subcontractors of the CBOT, any Market Participants, or any agents of the foregoing (other than LIFFE) shall have access to the Equipment or the Licensed Technology (excluding the Interfaces and Non-Restricted Documentation), unless such personnel has received appropriate training.

7.3 CBOT's Premises. In addition to complying with the requirements set forth in Section 5.3, the CBOT shall provide LIFFE with such office accommodation, facilities (including telephones, fax machines, computer consumables, printers and Internet access), and access to the CBOT's Premises as LIFFE reasonably deems necessary to facilitate LIFFE's performance of the Services.

7.4 Materials and Assistance. In addition to providing those resources identified in Schedule J and Sections 5.3 and 7.3, in order to facilitate the Parties' performance of their obligations hereunder, the CBOT shall (a) promptly provide to LIFFE such relevant information and documentation as LIFFE may reasonably request, including information and documentation relating to network infrastructure, hardware, software, equipment, personnel, documentation, space and office space; (b) ensure that competent personnel are available during normal working hours to provide to LIFFE such information or other support in relation to LIFFE's performance of the Services as LIFFE may reasonably request; and (c) use good faith efforts to ensure that such personnel possesses the skills, experience, qualifications, and knowledge necessary to carry out any tasks to which they may be assigned.

7.5 Trading Rules. CBOT rules regarding the CBOT Electronic Exchange (the "CBOT Rules") may not conflict with any term set forth in this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement or the Relocation Services Agreement.

7.6 Compliance with Laws. The CBOT shall use good faith efforts to comply with all applicable laws and regulations relating to the operation of the CBOT Electronic Exchange.

8. General Obligations of Both Parties

8.1 Non-Solicitation. Each Party agrees that, during a period from (a) the Effective Date to (b) the earlier of twelve (12) months after completion of the Services and the effective date of termination of this Agreement, it shall not employ or engage on any other basis, and offer such employment or engagement to, any of the other Party's employees, contractors, and consultants who have been associated with the performance of such other Party's obligations hereunder, without the other Party's prior agreement in writing. If a Party employs or engages any employee, contractor or consultant of the other Party in breach of the foregoing obligations, it will pay to the other Party damages in an amount equal to the net annual salary of such employee, contractor or consultant for the twelve (12) months prior to the date such individual, contractor or consultant is first employed by the Party breaching such obligation.

8.2 Export Compliance. The CBOT and LIFFE each shall comply with all applicable export laws and regulations of the United States and foreign authorities, including regulatory authorities. For purposes of this obligation, export laws and regulations include, but are not limited to, all applicable end use controls and all applicable restrictions on the export, reexport and transfer of encryption items.

9. Marketing

9.1 Marketing. The CBOT shall, in accordance with Sections 9.2 to 9.7 below, (a) refer to the automated derivatives trading and order matching system utilized by the CBOT Electronic Exchange as the "LIFFE CONNECT®" system or platform; and (b) in any and all web pages, brochures, advertisements and all other marketing or promotional materials, press releases, or other media that market, promote or otherwise reference the Trading System (collectively, the "CBOT Marketing Materials"), (i) in respect of all visual media, prominently display (x) the Mark LIFFE CONNECT® and/or the LIFFE CONNECT Logo and (y) the phrase "e-cbot, powered by LIFFE CONNECT" in such format as may be agreed upon by the Parties; and (ii) in respect of all broadcast media, prominently broadcast (x) the Mark LIFFE CONNECT® and (y) the phrase "e-cbot, powered by LIFFE CONNECT®" in such format as may be agreed upon by the Parties.

9.2 License. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, LIFFE hereby grants to the CBOT a non-exclusive, non-transferable (except as set forth in Section 25) right and license (a) to use, in [], and in any additional jurisdictions as LIFFE may agree, LIFFE's registered trademarks "LIFFE CONNECT" and the LIFFE CONNECT Logo (collectively, the "Marks") in connection with the marketing and operation of the CBOT Electronic Exchange and those rights and obligations set forth in this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement; and (b) to sublicense to ISVs the right to use the Marks subject to all of the terms and conditions set forth in this Section 9 (including Section 9.5).

9.3 Use. The CBOT shall (a) in each visual CBOT Marketing Material containing or displaying one or both of the Marks, (i) display each Mark together with a superscript "®" placed at the end of the Mark (e.g. LIFFE CONNECT®); and (ii) include, at least once in each such CBOT Marketing Material, the following footnote, or a formative thereof as may be agreed by LIFFE: "[LIFFE CONNECT®/The LIFFE CONNECT Logo] is a trademark of LIFFE Administration and Management and is registered in Australia, Hong Kong, Singapore, the United States, and the United Kingdom, is a registered Community Trade Mark, and is the subject of a pending application for registration in Japan"; and (b) otherwise use the Marks in a manner and form consistent with (i) the usage guidelines set forth in Schedule L hereto, as may be amended by LIFFE from time to time, and (ii) any other usage guidelines and modifications thereof as LIFFE may provide to the CBOT from time to time.

9.4 Restrictions. The CBOT acknowledges (a) LIFFE's exclusive right, title, and interest in and to the Marks and (b) that the CBOT's permitted use of the Marks will not vest in the CBOT any right, title, or interest in or to the Marks. The CBOT shall not (i) directly or indirectly, cause to be done any act contesting or in any way impairing LIFFE's right, title, or interest in the Marks, (ii) in any manner represent that it possesses any ownership interest in the Marks, or (iii) except as expressly permitted hereunder, adopt, use, attempt to register, or register, at any time or in any jurisdiction, either of the Marks or any term identical to or confusingly similar to either of the Marks.

9.5 Approval. Prior to the publication, public broadcast or other distribution or dissemination to Market Participants, or other members of the public of any CBOT Marketing Material, the CBOT shall submit to the LIFFE Market Solutions Director of Sales and Marketing or his or her designee a representative sample of such CBOT Marketing Material for LIFFE's prior written approval. The CBOT shall not distribute or disseminate to Market Participants or other members of the public any CBOT Marketing Material in respect of which the CBOT has not obtained LIFFE's prior written approval. LIFFE has no right under this Agreement to approve the CBOT's use of trademarks or service marks other than the Marks.

9.6 Inspection. In order to assure the CBOT's compliance with the standards and requirements provided herein, the CBOT shall, upon LIFFE's reasonable request, (a) make available to representatives of LIFFE information relating to use of the Marks and copies of all CBOT Marketing Materials; and (b) permit such representatives to inspect all such CBOT Marketing Materials.

9.7 Violations of the Marks. The CBOT shall promptly notify LIFFE in writing of any information relating to suspected infringements or other violations of the Marks which the CBOT possesses or of which it becomes aware. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall have no right to prosecute or otherwise take any action in respect of any such violations; and LIFFE shall have no obligation hereunder to investigate, prosecute or otherwise take any action in respect of any such violations of which it is notified by the CBOT.

9.8 No CBOT License. Unless the Parties agree otherwise (and CBOT shall not unreasonably decline to agree), LIFFE shall not use in any marketing or promotional materials, press releases, or other materials publicly distributed or disseminated by LIFFE any trademarks or service marks of the CBOT, including "e-cbot" and "CBOT."

10. Project Management

10.1 Appointments. In addition to complying with the requirements set forth in Schedule C, each Party shall appoint and inform the other Party of the identity of a Relationship Manager to serve as the individual responsible for the day to day management of the relationship between LIFFE and the CBOT with respect to the Services.

10.2 Substitutions. Each Party shall promptly notify the other in writing of any substitutions for or replacements of such individuals appointed in accordance with Section 10.1, as applicable, and shall take all reasonable steps to minimize any potential adverse effects of such changes.

11. Charges

11.1 Payment. In consideration for LIFFE's performance of the Services hereunder, the CBOT shall, via wire transfer of immediately available funds to such bank account as LIFFE may specify:

(a) pay to LIFFE, for LIFFE's performance of its Equipment procurement obligations under Sections 5.1.1(a) and 5.1.3, the Equipment Services Charges in accordance with Schedule M;

(b) pay to LIFFE, in addition to any amounts owed pursuant to Section 3.2.4, the Managed Services Fee set forth in Schedule M;

(c) pay to LIFFE, in addition to any amounts owed pursuant to Section 4.5, the Software Maintenance Fee set forth in Schedule M;

(d) pay to LIFFE, in addition to any amounts owed pursuant to Section 4.5, for the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Service, the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Fee set forth on Schedule M;

(e) pay to LIFFE, in addition to any amounts owed pursuant to Section 4.5, the Core Network Maintenance Fee set forth in Schedule M;

(f) pay to LIFFE, for the IMAC Service, the Connection Services Charges set forth in Schedule M;

(g) pay to LIFFE, for all Program Services, the Program Services Charges; and

(h) reimburse LIFFE for any out of pocket expenses incurred by LIFFE hereunder, including all reasonable travel, hotel, subsistence and other out of pocket expenses charged in accordance with LIFFE's travel and expense policy attached as Schedule N hereto (collectively, "Out of Pocket Expenses");

(such Equipment Services Charges, Managed Services Fee, Software Maintenance Fee, Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Fee, Core Network Maintenance Fee, Connection Services Charges, Program Services Charges, Out-of-Pocket Expenses and all other amounts due hereunder, collectively, the "Charges").

All payments hereunder shall be made in pounds sterling; provided that the CBOT may pay in U.S. dollars any Charges based on such costs incurred by LIFFE hereunder, which costs were denominated in U.S. dollars.

11.2 Fixed Charges. Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, in the event LIFFE performs any Services (a) specified to be charged on a fixed fee basis, and (b) occasioned by (i) the failure of the CBOT to fulfill, or delay by the CBOT in fulfilling, any of its obligations under this Agreement or (ii) the failure or malfunction of technology not owned, controlled, or provided by or on behalf of LIFFE hereunder, the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE (x) fees for the time expended by LIFFE in connection with such Services, on a time and materials basis, calculated in accordance with the Charge Rates; and (y) all associated Out of Pocket Expenses.

11.3 Taxes. The Charges shall be exclusive of all international, national or state taxes (including withholding taxes), levies, duties, or similar charges, however designated, that may be assessed by any jurisdiction under current law or as a result of any change in the law following the date thereof (collectively, "Taxes"), and the CBOT shall pay or reimburse LIFFE for all such Taxes that may be levied or imposed in relation to this Agreement or any of the rights and licenses granted hereunder, excluding (a) any VAT that is recovered by LIFFE and (b) taxes based on the net income of LIFFE. LIFFE will use good faith efforts to recover VAT applicable to any Charges. Prior to receiving from the CBOT any payment which may be subject to United States withholding taxes, LIFFE shall deliver to the CBOT two original copies of (i) Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") Form "W-8BEN" (or any successor forms), accurately completed and duly executed by LIFFE certifying, in Line 9a thereof (or the corresponding line of any successor forms), that the applicable treaty is the United States-United Kingdom Income Tax Convention, and further certifying the matters set forth in Line 9b and 9c of Form "W-8BEN" (or the corresponding lines of any successor forms) or (ii) IRS Form "W-8ECI" (or any successor form); provided that, unless required by U.S. law, LIFFE shall not be required to deliver to the CBOT any such Forms if LIFFE assigns, pursuant to Section 25, this Agreement and/or its rights and obligations under this Agreement to an Affiliate of LIFFE which is a United States corporation. LIFFE hereby agrees, from time to time after the initial delivery by LIFFE of such forms whenever a lapse in time or change of circumstances renders such forms obsolete or inaccurate in any material respect, to deliver to the CBOT two new original copies of IRS Form "W-8BEN" or IRS Form "W-8ECI" (or any successor forms), accurately completed and duly executed by LIFFE. Notwithstanding this Section 11.3, the relevant Charges shall be paid net of any U.S. federal income withholding tax caused by the failure of LIFFE to provide the CBOT with such forms, unless a change in applicable law of the United States, enacted or promulgated after the date hereof, makes it impossible for LIFFE to continue to make the certifications described above.

11.4 Invoices. LIFFE shall invoice the CBOT as set forth in Schedule M, in pounds sterling; provided, however, that LIFFE will invoice in U.S. dollars any Charges based on costs incurred by LIFFE hereunder, which costs were denominated in U.S. dollars. For the avoidance of doubt, any amounts paid by LIFFE in pounds sterling will be invoiced to the CBOT in pounds sterling. Each invoice for Program Services Charges or other Services charged on a time and materials basis hereunder will set forth the name of each of the LIFFE Project Personnel who performed such Program Services, the categories of work performed by such individual, the grade of each such individual, and the Charge Rate for such individual. Payment of each invoice shall be made by the CBOT within thirty (30) days of the date of receipt of such invoice by the CBOT (the "Payment Date"), unless the CBOT makes a good faith objection to the terms of the invoice, in which case (a) the CBOT shall pay the undisputed amount of the invoice, and (b) the Parties shall promptly undertake to resolve the disputed portion of the invoice.

11.5 Suspension.

11.5.1 Suspension of Services. If the CBOT fails to pay any undisputed Charges due under this Agreement by the Payment Date, then, without prejudice to any other remedy available to LIFFE, LIFFE may, upon fourteen (14) days prior written notice to the CBOT's Project Manager and placement of a telephone call to the CBOT's Relationship Manager, suspend the Services; provided that the CBOT has not made payment within such period of time

11.5.2 Suspension in Respect of Hosted Exchange. If the CBOT fails to pay LIFFE any undisputed Hosting Fees due under the Software License Agreement because a Hosted Exchange has failed to pay to the CBOT fees corresponding to such Hosting Fees, then, upon the CBOT's notice to LIFFE thereof signed by a senior representative of the CBOT, and without prejudice to any other remedy available to LIFFE, (a) LIFFE and the CBOT agree to suspend the License granted under Section 2.1(c) of the Software License Agreement and the delivery of Services solely in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange (but not CBOT Products or the Hosted Products of any other Hosted Exchange); (b) the CBOT shall promptly provide to such Hosted Exchange fourteen (14) days' prior written notice of the CBOT's suspension of the license granted to such Hosted Exchange under its Hosting Agreement with the CBOT and the Hosting Services delivered to such Hosted Exchange; and (c) if the Hosted Exchange has not paid the overdue fees within such fourteen (14) day period, LIFFE shall (unless prohibited by a requirement, decision or order of a regulatory or governmental authority, arbitration panel or court of competent jurisdiction) (i) suspend the License granted under Section 2.1(c) of the Software License Agreement in respect of such Hosted Exchange and (ii) cease providing Services solely in respect of hosting the electronic trading of Hosted Products of the relevant Hosted Exchange via the CBOT Electronic Exchange (but not CBOT Products or Hosted Products of any other Hosted Exchange).

11.5.3 Reinstatement. In the event of reinstatement of Services suspended under Section 11.5.1 and/or Section 11.5.2, the CBOT shall be required to install (or require to be installed) any such Upgrades and/or Replacements to the version(s) of the Licensed Technology or Equipment last utilized by the CBOT or the relevant Hosted Exchange, as LIFFE may specify.

11.6 Late Payment. If the CBOT fails to pay any undisputed Charges due under this Agreement by the Payment Date, then interest shall be charged thereon from the date of issuance of the applicable invoice until the date payment is made, at the rate of the lesser of one and one half percent (1.5%) per month, or the maximum amount allowed under applicable law.

12. Term

12.1 Initial Term. The initial term of this Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and shall continue until and including December 31, 2008 (the "Initial Term"), unless terminated earlier in accordance with Section 13 or as otherwise provided in this Agreement.

12.2 Renewal. The Parties shall use good faith efforts to agree upon, by no later than one (1) year prior to the end of the Initial Term or the then current Renewal Term (as applicable), (a) the nature and scope of the Managed Services and any other Services to be provided during the new Renewal Term, and (b) all associated Service Targets, Service Thresholds, CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters and Charges; provided that variations in the Charge Rate shall remain subject to Paragraph 5.3 of Schedule M (collectively, the "New Terms"). UNLESS TERMINATED EARLIER IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 13 OR AS OTHERWISE PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, THIS AGREEMENT WILL AUTOMATICALLY RENEW FOR NO MORE THAN [] SUCCESSIVE PERIODS OF [] YEARS EACH (EACH, A "RENEWAL TERM"); provided that the Parties have agreed to the New Terms and amended this Agreement accordingly by an instrument in writing signed by a duly authorized representative of each Party. If the New Terms have not been agreed by a date one (1) year prior to the end of the Initial Term or the then current Renewal Term (as applicable), then CBOT may provide written notice to LIFFE that the CBOT does not intend to renew the Agreement, and the Agreement will expire at the end of the Initial Term or the then current Renewal Term (as applicable). For the avoidance of doubt, the expiration of the Agreement at the end of the Initial Term or a Renewal Term shall not constitute a termination of the Agreement pursuant to Section 13, and the CBOT shall not be liable for Termination Costs.

13. Termination

13.1 By CBOT. The CBOT may terminate this Agreement, for any reason, upon written notice to LIFFE provided at least twelve (12) months prior to the end of the Initial Term or the First Renewal Term (if any).

13.2 By LIFFE. LIFFE may terminate this Agreement, upon twelve (12) months prior written notice to the CBOT, if [] or any Affiliate of [],directly or indirectly acquires control of the CBOT.

13.3 By Either Party.

13.3.1 Material Breach. Subject to Section 14.3, at any time during the term of this Agreement, either Party may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice to the other Party if the other Party commits a breach of any of its material obligations under this Agreement and fails to remedy such material breach within thirty (30) days of receipt of written notice thereof.

13.3.2 Insolvency. At any time during the term of this Agreement, either Party may terminate this Agreement upon thirty (30) days prior written notice if: (a) the other Party (i) becomes insolvent, (ii) voluntarily commences any proceeding or files any petition under the bankruptcy laws of the United States or England and Wales, (iii) becomes subject to any involuntary bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings under the laws of the United States or England and Wales, which proceedings are not dismissed within thirty (30) days, (iv) makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, or (v) appoints a receiver, trustee, custodian or liquidator for a substantial portion of, its property, assets or business; or (b) the other Party passes a resolution for its winding up or dissolution, or a court of competent jurisdiction makes an order for such other Party's winding up or dissolution.

13.4 Automatic Termination. This Agreement will terminate automatically upon termination of the Software License Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Parties acknowledge that any termination of a Hosting Agreement shall not in any manner alter or otherwise affect the term of this Agreement or of the Software License Agreement.

13.5 Termination Costs. In the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 13 (excluding termination by the CBOT pursuant to Section 13.3), the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE the Termination Costs as set forth in Schedule M.

14. Consequences of Termination

14.1 Equipment, Licensed Technology, and CBOT Marketing Materials. In addition to complying with those requirements set forth in Section 13.1 of the Software License Agreement:

14.1.1 In CBOT's Possession. Upon or prior to the effective date of expiration or termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall (a) immediately cease use of the Equipment, the Marks, and all Licensed Technology; and (b) at LIFFE's request and at the CBOT's expense, (i) within fourteen (14) days of the effective date of termination of this Agreement, permanently erase and certify the erasure of the Software (and all copies thereof) from the Equipment and all backup Media; (ii) as LIFFE may elect, promptly return to LIFFE or permit LIFFE to repossess any Equipment; and (iii) promptly return to LIFFE or, with LIFFE's prior written consent destroy and certify as destroyed, any and all other LIFFE Property and any and all CBOT Marketing Materials containing or displaying the Marks in the CBOT's possession and/or control. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall only be required to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as

"LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on the CBOT's electronic backup media created by the CBOT in the normal course of business; provided, however, that the CBOT shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 16 of this Agreement.

14.1.2 In Market Participants' Possession. Upon or prior to the effective date of expiration or termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall, at the CBOT's expense, (a) require each Market Participant to (i) immediately cease use of the Equipment and all Licensed Technology; (ii) as LIFFE may elect, either promptly return to LIFFE or permit LIFFE to repossess all Equipment in such Market Participant's possession and/or control; and (iii) promptly return to LIFFE or, with LIFFE's written consent destroy and certify as destroyed, any and all other LIFFE Property and any and all CBOT Marketing Materials containing or displaying the Marks within such Market Participant's possession and/or control; and (b) notwithstanding the foregoing Section 14.1.2(a), return to LIFFE any LIFFE Property that has been provided to the CBOT by any Market Participant, promptly upon the CBOT's receipt thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each Market Participant shall only be required to use reasonable efforts to return or destroy any LIFFE Property (excluding any Software and any information and materials marked as "LIFFE Restricted," including, but not limited to, Restricted Documentation) located on such Market Participant's electronic backup media created by such Market Participant in the normal course of business; provided, however, that each Market Participant shall be obligated to maintain the confidentiality of such information in accordance with the terms of Section 16 of this Agreement.

14.2 Third Party Obligations. In the event of termination of this Agreement, LIFFE will use commercially reasonable efforts to terminate any contracts with third parties relating to LIFFE's obligations hereunder (or relevant portions thereof). Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall be obligated to reimburse LIFFE for any and all costs and expenses relevant to this Agreement for which LIFFE is contractually obligated to such third parties as of the termination hereof; provided that (a) LIFFE has used commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate such costs and expenses and (b) LIFFE has, within ninety (90) days of the effective date of termination of this Agreement, notified the CBOT of the existence and term of the contract, the identity of the counterparty to the contract, and the estimated amount of the CBOT's payment obligation in respect of such contract.

14.3 Transition. In the event of LIFFE's notice of termination to the CBOT pursuant to Section 13.3.1 for a material breach that is incapable of remedy, LIFFE shall continue to provide to the CBOT the Managed Services for a period of up to nine (9) months from the date upon which notice of termination is given (the "Transition Period"); provided that, within thirty (30) days following notice of termination, (a) the CBOT has accepted full liability for such material breach via written notice to LIFFE in a form acceptable to LIFFE, in LIFFE's sole discretion; and (b) the CBOT has submitted to LIFFE reasonable assurances that it has employed measures sufficient to prohibit repetition of such material breach. Notwithstanding the foregoing, (i) during any Transition Period, LIFFE shall not be held liable for any failure to perform any obligations under this Agreement (x) that have been transitioned by the CBOT to a Person other than LIFFE, or (y) that have been wound down or phased out; and (ii) in the event of the CBOT's breach of any of its material obligations under this Agreement during any Transition Period, LIFFE may terminate this Agreement immediately upon notice to the CBOT.

14.4 Survival. The expiration or termination of this Agreement for any reason will not affect the accrued rights of the Parties or the right of either Party to sue for damages arising from a breach of this Agreement. Notwithstanding expiration or termination of this Agreement, the CBOT shall remain liable to pay LIFFE all sums accrued or due on or prior to the effective date of expiration or termination. Sections 5.2, 5.3.1(b), 5.3.1(c)(i), 5.3.1(d)(i), 5.3.3, 5.3.4, 5.3.5, 5.3.6.2, 6.4, 6.5, 7.2, 8, 9.4, 11, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 24, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32 and 34 shall survive beyond the effective date of termination or expiration of this Agreement and shall remain in full force and effect.

15. Proprietary Rights

15.1 LIFFE Property. As between the CBOT and LIFFE, all rights, title and interest in and to the Licensed Technology and all portions thereof (excluding the third party software specified in Schedule G of the Software License Agreement), including but not limited to, all Software, Upgrades, and Documentation; all Confidential Information of LIFFE; all Equipment; all Replacements; the Core Network; the Marks; all other materials whatsoever relating to the Licensed Technology and/or the Equipment and/or the Core Network and provided by LIFFE to the CBOT and/or any Market Participants, including any gateways, hubs, routers, cables, cabinets and servers; and any other materials provided by or on behalf of LIFFE to the CBOT and/or any Market Participants under this Agreement; including all copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto (collectively, "LIFFE Property") shall be and remain vested in LIFFE (or LIFFE's Affiliates, suppliers or licensors, as applicable). To the extent, if any, that ownership of the LIFFE Property does not automatically vest in LIFFE by virtue of this Agreement or otherwise, the CBOT hereby transfers and assigns to LIFFE, as of the date of creation, all rights, title and interest which the CBOT may have in and to such LIFFE Property. The CBOT undertakes, at the CBOT's expense, to do or cease to do all such acts as LIFFE may reasonably direct, and to execute, or cause its employees, agents and/or subcontractors to execute, all such documents as LIFFE deems reasonably necessary or helpful to assure further the rights, title and interest of LIFFE or its nominee in and to such LIFFE Property.

15.2 CBOT Property. Notwithstanding the foregoing Section 15.1, as between the CBOT and LIFFE, all rights, title and interest in and to (a) the CBOT Technology (if any); (b) CBOT Market Data; (c) Trade Data; (d) Standing Data; (e) all Confidential Information of the CBOT; and (f) all copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto (collectively, the "CBOT Property") shall be and remain vested in the CBOT. To the extent, if any, that ownership of the CBOT Property does not automatically vest in the CBOT by virtue of this Agreement or otherwise, LIFFE hereby transfers and assigns to the CBOT, as of the date of creation, all rights, title and interest which LIFFE may have in and to such CBOT Property. LIFFE undertakes, at LIFFE's expense, to do or cease to do all such acts as the CBOT may reasonably direct, and to execute, or cause its employees, agents and/or subcontractors to execute, all such documents as the CBOT deems reasonably necessary or helpful to assure further the rights, title and interest of the CBOT or its nominee in and to such CBOT Property.

16. Confidentiality

16.1 Confidential Information. Subject to Section 16.2, each Party shall treat as confidential the terms and conditions of this Agreement (excluding the existence of this Agreement), all information (a) marked as confidential, "CBOT Restricted" and/or "LIFFE Restricted" (as applicable) or (b) which the recipient should reasonably know, by its nature or the manner of its disclosure, to be confidential (including, but not limited to, the information and materials the CBOT has obtained rights to use hereunder), which either Party may receive or have access to during or prior to the performance of this Agreement ("Confidential Information"). Neither Party shall (i) use the Confidential Information of the other Party for any purpose other than the performance of its obligations under this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, or the Relocation Services Agreement, or (ii) divulge such Confidential Information (x) without the other Party's prior written consent, to anyone other than the employees, subcontractors, consultants or advisors of such Party who are subject to nondisclosure obligations and to whom such disclosure is reasonably necessary to facilitate the performance of this Agreement; or (y) unless requested pursuant to a judicial or governmental request, requirement or order under law (including disclosure obligations of the Parties under applicable securities laws), in which case, if not so prohibited by a regulatory or other governmental authority or an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, the receiving Party will promptly notify the other Party of such request; provided that, if, in the opinion of counsel to the receiving Party, such disclosure is required under securities laws, the receiving Party, in consultation with the other Party, shall additionally use good faith efforts to secure confidential treatment of the information so disclosed. "Confidential Information" of LIFFE includes, but is not limited to, Restricted Documentation and the source code of the Software. For the avoidance of doubt, with respect to Confidential Information of LIFFE that has been disclosed to the CBOT or to which the CBOT has access, the CBOT shall neither provide or permit [] access to, nor permit any other Person to provide or permit [] access to, any Confidential Information of LIFFE or any derivative work based on such Confidential Information.

16.2 Exclusions. Notwithstanding Section 16.1, Confidential Information will not include information (a) which is independently developed by the receiving Party or is lawfully received free of restriction from another source that, to the receiving Party's knowledge, has the right to furnish such information; (b) after it has become generally available to the public by acts not attributable to the receiving Party or its employees, consultants or advisors; or (c) which, at the time of disclosure to the receiving Party, was known to the receiving Party free of restriction.

17. Warranties

17.1 LIFFE. LIFFE warrants that (a) it has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and perform this Agreement; (b) its execution and performance of its obligations hereunder will not violate any other agreement or regulatory obligation to which it is bound; and (c) to LIFFE's knowledge, the Software contains no Malicious Code. EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, LIFFE MAKES NO, AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL, WARRANTIES, CONDITIONS, UNDERTAKINGS, TERMS OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED BY STATUTE, COMMON LAW OR OTHERWISE, IN RELATION TO THE SERVICES OR THE LICENSED TECHNOLOGY, EQUIPMENT, CORE NETWORK, OR MARKS, OR ANY PORTION OF THE SAME OR THE USE THEREOF, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT. LIFFE FURTHER DISCLAIMS ALL WARRANTIES, IMPLIED OR OTHERWISE, RELATING TO ANY THIRD PARTY MATERIALS.

17.2 The CBOT. The CBOT hereby warrants to LIFFE that (a) it has the requisite corporate power and authority to execute and perform this Agreement; (b) its execution and performance of its obligations hereunder will not violate any other agreement or regulatory obligation to which it is bound; (c) it is a valid licensee of the Wagner/eSpeed Patent pursuant to Attachment B to that certain "Settlement Agreement" between the CBOT, The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, Electronic Trading Systems Corporation and eSpeed, entered into as of August 26, 2002, in settlement of eSpeed, Inc. and Electronic Trading Systems Corporation v. The Board of Trade of the City of Chicago and The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, before the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas (Civil Action No. 3:99-CV-1016-M) (the "Wagner License"), a copy of which has been provided to LIFFE; and (d) the Services, the Equipment and Licensed Technology provided hereunder, and the use of such Equipment and Licensed Technology by or on behalf of the CBOT and Market

Participants (excluding Hosted Exchanges and their respective Hosted Exchange Participants), are encompassed by such Wagner License and will not violate the terms of the Wagner License; (e) eSpeed has unconditionally and irrevocably covenanted not to sue the CBOT, LIFFE or the Hosted Exchanges for infringement of the Wagner/eSpeed Patent in connection with the use of the Trading System to process trades of Hosted Products; (f) in regard to each Hosted Exchange, all of the Hosted Products of such Hosted Exchange are included within the relevant categories of products specified in the eSpeed Covenants; and (g) the use of the Trading System by or on behalf of any of the Hosted Exchanges and/or their respective Hosted Exchange Participants in respect of trades of Hosted Products is encompassed by the eSpeed Covenants. EXCEPT AS SPECIFICALLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, THE CBOT MAKES NO, AND HEREBY DISCLAIMS ALL, WARRANTIES, CONDITIONS, UNDERTAKINGS, TERMS OR REPRESENTATIONS, EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED BY STATUTE, COMMON LAW OR OTHERWISE, IN RELATION TO THE LICENSED TECHNOLOGY AND CBOT PROPERTY OR ANY PORTION OF THE SAME OR THE USE THEREOF, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE AND NON-INFRINGEMENT.

18. Indemnification

18.1 By LIFFE. LIFFE shall defend, indemnify and hold the CBOT and its Affiliates, and the officers, directors, employees, agents, and representatives of the CBOT and its Affiliates ("CBOT Indemnitees") harmless from and against all costs, claims, demands, losses, expenses and liabilities of any nature whatsoever (including reasonable attorneys fees) ("Losses") incurred or suffered by such CBOT Indemnitees arising out of, or in connection with, any third party claim, demand, or cause of action (each, a "Claim") to the extent such Claim is based upon or arises out of (a) LIFFE's gross negligence or willful misconduct; (b) LIFFE's material breach of this Agreement or any part hereof; (c)[]; or (d) []; provided that (i) the CBOT shall take no other action which the CBOT, in its reasonable judgment, believes would be contrary to LIFFE's interests relative to the Claim; (ii) LIFFE (or any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by LIFFE), at its own expense, shall be entitled to have sole conduct and control of all legal proceedings in connection with the Claim or the settlement or other compromise thereof; (iii) the CBOT shall give LIFFE (and any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by LIFFE) all reasonable assistance therewith, at LIFFE's reasonable expense; and (iv) the CBOT shall use good faith efforts to notify LIFFE as soon as possible, but in any event within five (5) Business Days, after the CBOT becomes aware of the Claim. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE shall have no obligation to defend, indemnify, or hold any CBOT Indemnitee harmless from or against any Losses incurred or suffered by such CBOT Indemnitee (x) as a result of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the CBOT Indemnitee or any Market Participant, or (y) to the extent any Losses are attributable to the fact that the use of the Licensed Technology and/or Equipment by the CBOT, other CBOT Indemnitee, or any Market Participant has not been in accordance with this Agreement.

18.2 By the CBOT. The CBOT shall defend, indemnify and hold LIFFE, its Affiliates, and the officers, directors, employees, agents, and representatives of LIFFE and its Affiliates ("LIFFE Indemnitees") harmless from and against all Losses incurred or suffered by such LIFFE Indemnitees arising out of, or in connection with, any third party Claim to the extent such Claim is based upon or arises out of: (a) the CBOT's material breach of this Agreement or any part hereof; (b) the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the CBOT, any Affiliate of the CBOT, any Hosted Exchange, any Affiliate of a Hosted Exchange, or any Market Participant (collectively, the "CBOT Parties"); (c) the CBOT Property or LIFFE's use thereof; (d) use of the Licensed Technology, the Equipment, the Core Network or the Marks in contravention of this Agreement by or on behalf of any CBOT Party; (e) any violation by any Market Participant of the restrictions set forth in Section 5.3.4; (f) any Claim that the Services provided hereunder, the Equipment, the Core Network or the Licensed Technology provided hereunder, or the use thereof by or on behalf of any CBOT Party, infringes or otherwise violates the Wagner/eSpeed Patent; (g) violation of the LIFFE Core Network Acceptable Use Policy by the CBOT and/or any Market Participant; (h) any action or inaction by any Hosted Exchange, Hosted Exchange Participant, or any of their respective Affiliates; (i) a breach of any Hosting Agreement by any of the Hosted Exchanges or the CBOT (excluding any such breach by the CBOT which is the direct result of LIFFE's breach of this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement and/or the Relocation Services Agreement or of LIFFE's gross negligence or willful misconduct); or (j) any suspension or termination, as permitted under this Agreement or the Software License Agreement, of the License granted pursuant to Section 2.1(c) of the Software License Agreement and/or of any Hosting Services; except that the CBOT shall have no obligations in respect of this Section 18.2(a), (d) or (g) with regard to any Claim to the extent such Claim is (i) based on a failure by the CBOT or any Market Participant to comply with the LIFFE Core Network Acceptable Use Policy and (ii) brought by (x) third party exchanges directly using the Core Network or (y) third party members, independent software vendors or quote vendors participating in such third party exchanges or the Euronext.liffe Exchanges (as defined in the Software License Agreement) directly using the Core Network; provided that (A) LIFFE shall take no action which LIFFE, in its reasonable judgment, believes would be contrary to the CBOT's interests relative to the Claim; (B) the CBOT (or any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by the CBOT), at its own expense, shall be entitled to have sole conduct and control of all legal proceedings in connection with the Claim or the settlement or other compromise thereof; (C) LIFFE shall give the CBOT (and any Person acting on behalf of or authorized by the CBOT) all reasonable assistance in connection therewith at the CBOT's reasonable expense; and (D) LIFFE shall use good faith efforts to notify the CBOT as soon as possible, but in any event within five (5) Business Days, after LIFFE becomes aware of the Claim. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT shall have no obligation to defend, indemnify, or hold any LIFFE Indemnitee harmless from or against any Losses incurred or suffered by such LIFFE Indemnitee as a result of the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the LIFFE Indemnitee.

19. Liability

19.1 Specific Limitations. LIFFE shall have no liability to the CBOT for any breach of this Agreement or any Losses (including, but not limited to, the inability of the CBOT, any Hosted Exchange or Hosted Exchange Participant to use any part of the Licensed Technology or Equipment or Core Network and the interruption or corruption of any data or information stored, used, generated or transmitted on or via any Licensed Technology or Equipment or Core Network) under this Agreement arising from (a) any defect in the Licensed Technology, Equipment or Core Network of which LIFFE has not received notice of from the CBOT within five (5) Business Days following the first date upon which the CBOT discovered or otherwise became aware of such defect, (b) any Force Majeure Event, (c) any Trading Applications or other Third Party Materials; or (d) any suspension or termination, as permitted under this Agreement and/or the Software License Agreement, of the License granted pursuant to Section 2.1(c) of the Software License Agreement and/or of any Hosting Services.

19.2 General Limitation. EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY PROVIDED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER PARTY SHALL HAVE LIABILITY TO THE OTHER FOR ANY LOSS, DAMAGE OR INJURY, DIRECT OR INDIRECT, WHETHER OR NOT CAUSED BY THE NEGLIGENCE OF SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES, OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, EXCEPT THAT EACH PARTY SHALL ACCEPT LIABILITY FOR (a) MATERIAL BREACH OF THIS AGREEMENT, (b) THE GROSS NEGLIGENCE OR WILLFUL MISCONDUCT OF SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES, AND (c) FOR DEATH, PERSONAL INJURY AND DIRECT PHYSICAL DAMAGE TO THE TANGIBLE PROPERTY OF THE OTHER CAUSED BY SUCH PARTY, ITS AFFILIATES OR THE OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SUCH PARTY OR OF ANY OF ITS AFFILIATES. EXCEPT WITH REGARD TO EITHER PARTY'S BREACH OF ITS CONFIDENTIALITY OBLIGATIONS UNDER SECTION 16 OR ITS

WARRANTIES SET FORTH IN SECTION 17, NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER HEREUNDER FOR ANY INDIRECT OR CONSEQUENTIAL LOSS, OR FOR LOSS OF PROFITS, GOODWILL OR CONTRACTS, WHETHER ARISING FROM NEGLIGENCE, BREACH OF CONTRACT OR OTHERWISE, AND WHETHER OR NOT EITHER PARTY SHALL HAVE BEEN ADVISED OF OR OTHERWISE MIGHT HAVE ANTICIPATED THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.

19.3 Limitation of Liability. The cumulative liability of LIFFE under this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement, during the respective terms of this Agreement, the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement and the Relocation Services Agreement, however arising, will not exceed []; provided, however, that the limitations set forth in this Section 19.3 will not apply to (a) liability of LIFFE for death or personal injury; (b) fraudulent acts or omissions; or (c) violations of the confidentiality obligations of Section 16.

19.4 Claims Against Individuals. Where the liability of a Party (including, but not limited to, any liability with respect to the officers, employees, agents or representatives of a Party or any of its Affiliates) has been excluded or restricted hereunder, each Party agrees that it shall not bring any claim against any officers, employees, agents or representatives of the other Party or any of its Affiliates or join such officers, employees, agents or representatives in any claim such that the liability of such officers, employees, agents or representatives and such other Party, when taken together, would be greater than the liability of such other Party hereunder.

20. Dispute Resolution

20.1 Escalation. As used herein, "Disputes" means any claims, disputes, controversies, and other matters in question between the Parties arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the breach hereof (excluding any third party claims against LIFFE or the CBOT subject to indemnification pursuant to Section 18, but including any disagreements as to indemnification rights hereunder). Any Dispute between the Parties that (a) relates to Program Services or (b) relates to Managed Services and has not been resolved by the Governance Committee in accordance with Schedule C, shall in the first instance be referred to the Parties' Relationship Managers for discussion and resolution. If the Dispute is not resolved by the Relationship Managers within five (5) Business Days, the Dispute will be referred to the Managing Director of LIFFE Market Solutions and a representative of the CBOT at an equivalent level, who must discuss and, if appropriate, meet within five (5) Business Days to attempt to resolve the Dispute. If the Dispute is not resolved by such second representatives within five (5) Business Days, the Dispute will be referred to the Parties' Chief Executive Officers who must discuss and, if appropriate, meet within five (5) Business Days to attempt to resolve the Dispute. If any representative of either Party referred to in this Section 20.1 is not available for any reason, the affected Party shall be entitled to appoint an appropriate substitute.

20.2 Mediation. If the Parties cannot resolve any Dispute in accordance with Section 20.1 within thirty (30) Business Days, they may refer the Dispute to mediation, to be conducted by a single mediator in (i) Chicago, Illinois, if LIFFE has initiated the Dispute, or (ii) London, England, if the CBOT has initiated the Dispute. The Parties shall use good faith efforts to agree upon a mediator. If the Parties are unable to agree upon a mediator within thirty (30) Business Days, the Parties may seek judicial resolution and remedy of the Dispute without first proceeding with mediation. The Parties shall use good faith efforts to hold the mediation within thirty (30) Business Days following the selection of a mediator. Unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, no decision resulting from the mediation proceedings will be binding upon the Parties. Unless expressly provided herein, each Party will bear its own costs (including attorneys fees) relating to the mediation, but the Parties will share equally the fees and expenses charged by the mediator.

20.3 Arbitration. If a Dispute is not resolved in accordance with Section 20.2, then either Party may provide written notice to the other Party of an intention to refer the Dispute to arbitration. Any such arbitration shall be: (a) binding; (b) administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution ("ICDR") of the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"); (c) conducted in accordance with the International Arbitration Rules of the AAA (the "AAA Rules"), as such AAA Rules may be amended from time to time, except to the extent this Section 20.3 provides otherwise; (d) held in Chicago, Illinois, if the Dispute is initiated by LIFFE and in London, England if the Dispute is initiated by the CBOT; and (e) conducted using the English language. Upon filing a claim, the filing Party will simultaneously provide written notice of such claim to the other Party and to the relevant administrator at the ICDR.

20.3.1 Selection of Arbitrators. Within ten (10) Business Days of receipt of the ICDR initiation letter, each Party shall select one neutral individual to act as arbitrator. In addition, the Parties shall submit a written request to AAA to use its normal procedures pursuant to the AAA Rules to appoint the third arbitrator within five (5) Business Days of AAA's receipt of such request. The arbitrator appointed by AAA shall serve as the chairperson of the arbitration panel. The Parties agree that the selection of arbitrators must be completed within twenty-five (25) Business Days of receipt by both Parties of the ICDR initiation letter.

20.3.2 Cooperation. The Parties shall cooperate with each other in causing the arbitration to be held in as efficient and expeditious a manner as practicable, and in this respect to furnish such documents and make available such personnel as the arbitrators may request.

20.3.3 Reduction of Losses. The Parties have selected arbitration to expedite the resolution of Disputes and to reduce the costs and burdens associated with litigation. The Parties agree that the arbitrators should take these concerns into account when determining whether to authorize discovery and, if discovery is authorized, the scope of permissible discovery and other hearing and pre-hearing procedures. The arbitrators shall render an award, including a written decision, within ninety (90) calendar days after the arbitration notice is provided, unless the Parties otherwise agree or the arbitrators make a finding that a Party has carried the burden of showing good cause for a longer time period.

20.3.4 Binding Decision. The decision or award of the arbitrators will be final and binding, and may be used as a basis for judgment thereon in any jurisdiction. The award shall be in writing, shall be signed by a majority of the arbitrators, and shall include a written decision setting out the reasons for the disposition of any claim.

20.3.5 Punitive Damages. Without limiting any other remedies that may be available under applicable law, the arbitrators shall have no authority to award punitive damages.

20.3.6 Confidentiality. All proceedings and decisions of the arbitrators shall be maintained in confidence to the extent legally permissible, and shall not be made public by any Party or any arbitrator without the prior written consent of the Parties, except as may be required by applicable laws.

20.3.7 Losses. Each Party shall bear its own costs and attorneys fees, and the Parties shall equally bear the fees, costs, and expenses of the arbitrators and the arbitration proceedings charged by the arbitrators ("Arbitration Fees"); provided, however, that (a) the filing Party shall pay any filing fees charged by the AAA; and (b) the arbitrators may exercise discretion to award costs, but not attorneys fees or Arbitration Fees, to the prevailing Party.

20.3.8 Obligations. The commencement and pendency of an arbitration under this Section 20.3 shall not relieve either of the Parties of their respective obligations under this Agreement.

20.3.9 Limitations. A demand for arbitration shall not be made after the date when institution of legal or equitable proceedings based upon such dispute would be barred by the applicable statute of limitations or laches under the laws of the State of Illinois, and the Parties expressly waive any causes of action relating to any Dispute not brought within the period set forth therein.

20.4 Limitations. Notwithstanding Sections 20.2 and 20.3, nothing herein restricts the rights of either Party to seek judicial resolution and remedy of (i) any Disputes, following compliance with Sections 20.2 and 20.3, or (ii) any claims, disputes, controversies, or other matters in question between the Parties arising out of either Party's breach of its obligations pursuant to Section 16 or Section 17.

21. Entire Agreement

This Agreement, together with the Software License Agreement, the Development Services Agreement, the Relocation Services Agreement and all Change Requests to the foregoing entered into by the Parties prior to the Amendment Effective Date, constitutes the entire understanding between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior representations, agreements, negotiations and discussions between the Parties, including that Letter Agreement entered into by the Parties as of February 4, 2003.

22. Schedules and Change Requests

Each of the schedules attached hereto is a part of and incorporated into this Agreement. Each Change Request relating to the Original MSA entered into by the Parties prior to the Amendment Effective Date is a part of and is incorporated by reference into this Agreement. Unless otherwise indicated therein, all capitalized terms contained within such Change Requests and/or the schedules will have the meanings ascribed to them in the main body of this Agreement.

23. Amendments

Except as expressly provided for herein, this Agreement may be amended only by an instrument in writing signed by a duly authorized representative of each Party.

24. Binding Provisions/Third Party Beneficiaries

This Agreement is binding upon, and shall inure to the benefit of, the Parties and their respective administrators, legal representatives, successors, and permitted assigns. The Parties agree that no provision of this Agreement is intended, expressly or by implication, to purport to confer a benefit or right of action upon a third party (whether or not in existence, and whether or not named, as of the Effective Date).

25. Assignment and Sublicensing

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, the CBOT shall not assign, transfer or sublicense any right or obligation under this Agreement without the prior written approval of LIFFE. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the CBOT may assign this Agreement to: (a) the Electronic Chicago Board of Trade, Inc.; (b) CBOT Holdings, Inc. ("Holdings"); or (c) a wholly owned exchange subsidiary of Holdings, as described in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by Holdings with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") on October 24, 2001 (the "Registration Statement"), as amended by Amendment No. 7 to the Registration Statement filed with the SEC on June 17, 2004 ("Amendment No. 7"), or any subsequent amendment thereto; provided that the structure of the exchange subsidiary is in a form substantially the same as that described in Amendment No. 7; and provided further that, in the event of any assignment permitted by this sentence, each of the CBOT and Holdings will provide to LIFFE a written guarantee of the performance of all obligations of the permitted assignee in the form of the Guaranty attached as Schedule M to the Software License Agreement. LIFFE may, in LIFFE's sole discretion, assign this Agreement and/or some or all of its rights and obligations under this Agreement to an Affiliate of LIFFE that is capable of performing the obligations of LIFFE under this Agreement.

26. Force Majeure

If the performance of this Agreement by either Party is prevented, hindered, delayed or otherwise made impracticable by reason of any Force Majeure Event, that Party shall be excused from such performance to the extent that it is prevented, hindered or delayed by such cause. In the event a Party becomes aware of a Force Majeure Event that will affect its performance under this Agreement, it shall notify the other Party as soon as reasonably practicable. The Parties shall thereafter work together to take reasonable steps to mitigate the effects of any inability to perform, if practicable.

27. Separability of Provisions

Each provision of this Agreement shall be considered separable; and if, for any reason, any provision of this Agreement is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, such determination shall not affect the enforceability of the remainder of this Agreement or the validity, lawfulness, or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

28. Waiver

The failure of a Party to exercise or enforce any right conferred upon it by this Agreement shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any such right or operate so as to bar the exercise or enforcement thereof at any time or times hereafter.

29. Remedies Not Exclusive

No remedy conferred by any provision of this Agreement is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, except as expressly provided in this Agreement, and each and every remedy shall be cumulative and shall be in addition to every other remedy given hereunder or now or hereafter existing in law or in equity or by statute or otherwise.

30. Notices

Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all notices, certifications, requests, demands, payments and other communications hereunder: (a) shall be in writing; (b) may be delivered by certified or registered mail, postage prepaid; by hand; by facsimile; or by any internationally recognized private courier; (c) shall be effective (i) if mailed, on the date ten (10) days after the date of mailing or (ii) if hand delivered, faxed, or delivered by private courier, on the date of delivery; and (d) shall be addressed as follows:

If to the CBOT:

Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc.
141 West Jackson Boulevard, Suite 600-A
Chicago, Illinois 60604 U.S.A.
Attention: Carol A. Burke

If to LIFFE:

LIFFE Administration and Management
Cannon Bridge House
1 Cousin Lane
London, EC4R 3XX (England)
Attention: Company Secretary

or to such other address or addresses as may hereafter be specified by notice given by one Party to the other.

31. Announcements

Neither Party may refer to this Agreement in any publicity or advertising materials without the other Party's prior written consent.

32. Interpretation

32.1 Headings, Gender, "Including," "Control" and Person. References to sections and schedules are to sections of and schedules to this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. Section headings are inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not affect the construction of this Agreement. The masculine gender shall include the feminine and the singular number shall include the plural, and vice versa. Any use of the word "including" will be interpreted to mean "including, but not limited to," unless otherwise indicated. Any use of the terms "controlling," "controlled by" or "under common control with" shall have a meaning consistent with the definition of "Control" set forth in Section 1. References to any Person (including the Parties and any other entities referred to) shall be construed to mean such Person and its successors in interest and permitted assigns, as applicable.

32.2 Inconsistency. In the event of any inconsistency between the terms of the main body of this Agreement and any schedule hereto, the terms of the main body of this Agreement will govern to the extent of the inconsistency.

33. Further Assurances

The Parties shall execute all such further documents and do all such further acts as may be necessary to carry the provisions of this Agreement into full force and effect.

34. Governing Law

The validity and effectiveness of this Agreement shall be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the internal laws of the State of Illinois, without giving effect to the provisions, policies or principles of any state law relating to choice or conflict of laws. Subject to Section 20, any legal action or proceeding with respect to this Agreement may be brought exclusively in the Federal or state courts located in Chicago, Illinois, including the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois. The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods shall not apply to this Agreement and is hereby disclaimed.

35. Counterparts

This Agreement may be executed in two counterparts, each of which when so executed and delivered shall be deemed an original, and both of which together shall constitute but one and the same instrument.

1. INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this document is to describe the Service Targets, Service Thresholds and CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters applicable to the Managed Services. All times specified herein are in U.S. Central Time ("CT"). Times in parentheses indicate the corresponding U.K. Time, except that during any period in which U.K. Time and U.S. CT are not changed simultaneously, the difference between U.S. CT and U.K. Time will be altered by one hour until the point at which both U.K. Time and U.S. CT have changed.

2. SERVICES

2.1 The Managed Services

The Service Targets described below apply to the following []

2.1.1 []

2.1.2 []

2.2 Performance Measurements

[]. The performance measurements for each Managed Service are comprised of a combination of the components described below.

2.2.1 Service Calendar

"Service Calendar" means the calendar days, measured by Central Time, during which a Managed Service (or an element of such Managed Service, where specified) is to be provided.

2.2.2 Service Day

"Service Day" means that time period during those days, as specified in the Service Calendar, between the (i) scheduled start time for a Managed Service (or an element of such Managed Service, where specified) and (ii) the scheduled close time for such Managed Service, as shown in Paragraph 4.

2.2.3 Service Time

"Service Time" means the scheduled availability of a Managed Service, expressed as the (i) scheduled start time of the Managed Service and (ii) scheduled close time of the Managed Service, as shown in Paragraph 4.

2.2.4 Service Period

"Service Period" means that [] time period, agreed upon by the Parties, []

2.2.5 Service Target

"Service Target" means the targeted level of performance of a Managed Service during the applicable Service Period, as set forth in Paragraph 4. Each Service Target is defined within the context of one or more Service Thresholds.

2.2.6 Service Threshold

"Service Threshold" means that limit, agreed upon by the Parties, in respect of a Managed Service, beyond which the Service Target(s) for such Managed Service may be adversely impacted. The Service Thresholds for each applicable Managed Service are set forth in Paragraph 4.

2.2.7 Product

"Product" means a securities, futures, or options contract.

2.3 Review

During the thirty (30) day period commencing upon the later of (i) March 2, 2004, and (ii) the three (3) month anniversary of the latest date upon which all of the Software existing as of the Go Live Date has been made available for use by the CBOT Electronic Exchange in a real time live trading environment, the Parties shall review a proposal from the CBOT to increase the []; provided that in the event the Parties agree to increase any of the [] as a result of such review, such modification shall not increase in any respect LIFFE's financial risk or exposure under this Agreement.

SCHEDULE C

MANAGED SERVICES AND MAINTENANCE SERVICES GOVERNANCE

1. Project Manager and Service Manager

1.1 Appointments. LIFFE shall appoint and inform the CBOT of the identity of a service manager to oversee the Managed Services and the Maintenance Services on a day-to-day basis ("LIFFE's Service Manager"). The CBOT shall appoint and inform LIFFE of the identity of CBOT's Project Manager. Each Party shall promptly notify the other Party in writing of any substitutions or replacements of LIFFE's Service Manager or CBOT's Project Manager, as applicable, and shall take all reasonable steps to minimize any potentially adverse effects of such changes.

1.2 Meetings. Following the end of each Service Period, LIFFE's Service Manager and CBOT's Project Manager will meet in person and/or conference telephonically, as the Parties may agree ("Service Review"), at least once a month (i) to review the Managed Services and the Maintenance Services and discuss the day-to-day operational issues arising from the provision of such Services by LIFFE, including any management or financial issues relating to the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services, and Change Requests; and (ii) to compare (x) the actual Managed Services provided during the Service Period immediately preceding the date of the meeting to (y) the Service Targets for such Service Period. LIFFE shall, in consultation with the CBOT, prepare (a) a report regarding such comparison of the Managed Services to the Service Targets (a "Service Report"); and (b) minutes of the Service Review meeting.

1.3 Service Review. If the reviews conducted pursuant to Paragraph 1.2 above indicate either that (a) a Service Threshold or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter in respect of one of the Managed Services was exceeded during the relevant Service Period or (b) a Service Target was not met during the Service Period, LIFFE's Service Manager will initiate a further service review with CBOT's Project Manager to establish an appropriate course of action in relation to the exceeded Service Threshold and/or CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameter, and/or missed Service Target. Such courses of action may include:

(i) Renegotiation of the relevant Service Threshold and/or Service Target;

(ii) No action; or

(iii) Changes implemented by LIFFE and/or the CBOT.

1.4 Escalation. LIFFE's Service Manager and CBOT's Project Manager shall, as promptly as reasonably practicable, escalate to the Governance Committee any issues LIFFE's Service Manager and CBOT's Project Manager are unable to resolve between them.

1.5 Reports.

(a) Service Reports. The Interim Service Reports and the Service Reports shall be prepared by LIFFE, in consultation with the CBOT, as set forth in accordance with Paragraph 1.2 above.

(b) Reports for Governance Committee. CBOT's Project Manager and LIFFE's Service Manager shall work together to prepare reports relating to (i) any issue requiring escalation to the Governance Committee in accordance with Paragraph 1.4 above, and (ii) any other matters the Parties wish to present to the Governance Committee, including, for example, Market Participant issues relating to the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services and overviews of LIFFE's performance of the Managed Services (the Interim Service Reports, the Service Reports, and such other reports prepared pursuant to this Paragraph 1.5(b), collectively, the "Reports").

2. The Governance Committee

2.1 Composition of Committee. In accordance with such terms as the Parties agree upon, the Parties shall establish a "Governance Committee." LIFFE's Service Manager and the CBOT's Project Manager shall co-chair the Governance Committee. Constitution of the remaining members of the Governance Committee shall be as agreed upon by the Parties.

2.2 Objectives. The objective of the Governance Committee is to act as a forum for each Party to raise and address any operational issues that may arise with respect to the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services, including (a) issues that have not been resolved between CBOT's Project Manager and LIFFE's Service Manager; (b) Change Requests regarding the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services; (c) Market Participant issues relating to the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services; and (d) an overview of LIFFE's performance of the Managed Services and the Maintenance Services.

2.3 Meetings. The Governance Committee shall meet in person and/or conference telephonically, as the Parties may agree, at least monthly. Meetings of the Governance Committee may be called upon reasonable notice by either Party. The agenda for the monthly meetings shall include the following:

(i) Managed Services performance levels during the preceding month and, in particular, conformity with the Service Targets;

(ii) Progress of Change Requests regarding the Managed Services or the Maintenance Services; and

(iii) Any relevant Market Participant issues arising during the preceding month.

2.4 Reports. At any meeting of the Governance Committee, the Parties may present (a) Change Requests under consideration pursuant to the Change Control Procedures and (b) any Reports; provided that such Change Requests and/or Reports have been distributed to each Governance Committee member prior to such meeting.

EXECUTION

SCHEDULE D

CHANGE CONTROL PROCEDURES

1. OVERVIEW

The change control procedures set forth herein and diagrammed in chart form in Appendix 1 to this Schedule D, shall be used whenever the CBOT or LIFFE has a requirement to change any component of the Services.

The individual designated by LIFFE to handle the day-to-day management of Change Requests and/or Summary Statements of Work on behalf of LIFFE ("LIFFE's Project Manager") will be the principal contact at LIFFE regarding the change control procedures and will serve as the administrator of the Change Control Procedures. The representative of the Party requesting the change will be referred to herein as the "Change Requester."

2. PROCEDURES

2.1 SUBMIT CHANGE REQUEST

(a) To initiate the change control process, the Change Requester must set forth on a Change Request Form, a copy of which is attached as Appendix 2 to this Schedule D: (i) the name of the Party requesting the change, (ii) the Change Requester's name, (iii) the date of the request, (iv) a description of the desired change, (v) the designated priority of such change (i.e., high, normal or low) and (vi) the reason(s) for requesting the change.

(b) The Change Requester must then send the Change Request Form to LIFFE's Project Manager.

(c) LIFFE's Project Manager will, within twenty-four (24) hours of receipt of the Change Request Form, acknowledge such receipt by (i) issuing a number to correspond with the Change Request Form; (ii) noting on the Change Request Form the date of receipt of the Change Request Form, the name of LIFFE's Project Manager, the Change Request Form number issued, and the date of issuance of such number; and (iii) signing and dating the appropriate portion of the Form. LIFFE's Project Manager will then (x) send to the Change Requester and, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, to the CBOT's Project Manager, a copy of the acknowledged Change Request Form and (y) record on the Change Request Form the date such acknowledged Change Request Form was sent.

2.2 PRELIMINARY REVIEW OF CHANGE REQUEST

Following acknowledgment of receipt of the Change Request Form, LIFFE's Project Manager will undertake a preliminary review of the Change Request Form to ensure that the Change Requester has provided the requisite details. If LIFFE's Project Manager, in his or her reasonable judgment, determines that the information provided is insufficient, LIFFE's Project Manager will contact the Change Requester to request additional information. This cycle will continue until (i) the requested information is provided or (ii) the Parties agree to file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly. LIFFE's Project Manager will not proceed with further assessment of the change request until and unless such additional information is obtained. If LIFFE's Project Manager disagrees with the priority of the requested change designated on the Change Request Form, LIFFE's Project Manager and CBOT's Project Manager shall review and discuss the nature of the requested change and agree upon the priority for such change.

2.3 DETERMINATION OF WHETHER AN INITIAL ASSESSMENT IS TO BE CONDUCTED

(a) Once LIFFE's Project Manager determines a Change Request Form provides sufficient information and the portions of the Change Request Form noted above have been completed, LIFFE's Project Manager will, within (i) ten (10) Business Days, for a low priority change, (ii) four (4) Business Days, for a normal priority change, or (iii) two (2) Business Days, for a high priority change, thereafter contact the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, to discuss (i) whether an initial assessment of the change request is to be undertaken and (ii) the date by which any initial assessment should be completed.

(b) If LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, agree that no initial assessment of the change request is to be undertaken, LIFFE's Project Manager will file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

(c) In the circumstance where more than one initial assessment has been undertaken for a particular change request, the Parties may agree to halt the process of assessing the change request, in which case LIFFE's Project Manager will file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

(d) []

2.4 INITIAL ASSESSMENT

(a) If LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, agree that an initial assessment is to be undertaken, LIFFE's Project Manager will, unless otherwise agreed, commence such initial assessment within (i) ten (10) Business Days, for a low priority change, (ii) four (4) Business Days, for a normal priority change, or (iii) two (2) Business Days, for a high priority change, thereafter and shall use reasonable efforts to complete the initial assessment by the agreed upon completion date.

(b) As applicable to the particular change request, []:

(c) The Party requesting the change shall use reasonable efforts to ensure that the Change Requester and other appropriate personnel are available to provide to LIFFE's Project Manager information or other input or assistance relating to the initial assessment.

2.5 ACCEPTANCE OF INITIAL ASSESSMENT

(a) Once an initial assessment has been completed, LIFFE's Project Manager will attach to the relevant Change Request Form a copy of any written results of the initial assessment and provide to the Change Requester and, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager a copy of such results. LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, will then discuss the results of the assessment and determine (i) whether to accept or reject the initial assessment and (ii) if the initial assessment is rejected, whether to file the Change Request Form and close the matter or to continue performing the initial assessment.

(b) If the initial assessment is rejected and no further work on the initial assessment is to be undertaken, LIFFE's Project Manager will file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

(c) If the initial assessment is rejected and it is agreed that additional work on the initial assessment is to be conducted, LIFFE's Project Manager and Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, will agree upon a revised date of completion of the initial assessment and LIFFE's Project Manager will carry out such further work and repeat the applicable procedures set out in Paragraphs 2.4(b) and 2.5(a). This cycle will continue until LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, either (i) agree to the initial assessment and senior representatives of each Party have executed the appropriate section of the Change Request Form, or (ii) agree to file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

2.6 DETAILED PLAN

(a) If LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, agree to the initial assessment, then senior representatives of each Party will indicate such acceptance on the Change Request Form by signing the appropriate section of the Change Request Form.

(b) LIFFE's Project Manager will then coordinate the production of a "detailed plan" for the requested change and shall use reasonable efforts to complete the "detailed plan" by the agreed upon completion date. Each such "detailed plan" will include (i) an estimated schedule for implementation of the change requested, and (ii) the Charges which would be associated with implementation of the requested change.

(c) The Parties shall use reasonable efforts to ensure that appropriate personnel are available to provide to LIFFE's Project Manager information or other input or assistance relating to creation of the detailed plan.

2.7 ACCEPTANCE OF DETAILED PLAN

(a) Once the detailed plan has been completed, LIFFE's Project Manager will attach to the relevant Change Request Form a copy of the detailed plan and provide to the Change Requester and, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager a copy of such detailed plan. Thereafter, LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, will review the completed detailed plan and determine (i) whether to accept or reject the detailed plan and (ii) if the detailed plan is rejected, whether to file the Change Request Form and close the matter or to continue working on the detailed plan.

(b) If the detailed plan is rejected and no further work on the detailed plan is to be undertaken, LIFFE's Project Manager will file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

(c) If the detailed plan is rejected and it is agreed that additional work on the detailed plan is to be conducted, LIFFE's Project Manager will carry out such further work and repeat the applicable procedures set forth in Paragraphs 2.6(b) and 2.7(a). This cycle will continue until LIFFE's Project Manager and the Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, accept the detailed plan or agree to file the Change Request Form and close the matter accordingly.

2.8 IMPLEMENT SOLUTION

(a) If LIFFE's Project Manager and Change Requester and/or, if the Party requesting the change is LIFFE, the CBOT's Project Manager, agree to accept the detailed plan, then senior representatives of each Party (i) will indicate acceptance of the change requested and the detailed plan by signing the appropriate section of the Change Request Form and (ii) LIFFE's Project Manager will coordinate the implementation of the change requested as per the detailed plan.

(b) The Parties shall use reasonable efforts to ensure that appropriate personnel are available to provide assistance with implementing the change requested as per the detailed plan.

(c) LIFFE's Project Manager will periodically provide to the Parties a report of the current status of the implementation of the change requested.

2.9 COMPLETE CHANGE REQUEST

(a) Once implementation has been completed, senior representatives of the Parties will each so indicate by signing the appropriate section of the Change Request Form.

(b) LIFFE's Project Manager will thereafter (i) arrange for an invoice to be sent to the CBOT for any Charges associated with the build, test, and/or implementation as appropriate of the requested change and (ii) file the completed, and fully executed, Change Request Form.

EXECUTION

SCHEDULE E

MASTER SUMMARY STATEMENT OF WORK

This Master Summary Statement of Work (this "SSOW"), dated as of the last date signed below (the "SSOW Execution Date") is between LIFFE ADMINISTRATION AND MANAGEMENT, a company incorporated in England and Wales ("LIFFE"), and BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO, INC., a Delaware corporation (the "CBOT").

This SSOW, including all Change Requests attached as Appendix A hereto, shall be incorporated by reference into the Managed Services Agreement between the Parties, dated as of May 1, 2003 (the "MSA"), and is subject to the terms and conditions of the MSA. Unless otherwise indicated, capitalized terms used but not otherwise defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed to them in the MSA.

1. Definitions

If used in this SSOW, the following expressions shall mean, respectively:

"Accepted" means issuance by the CBOT of an Acceptance Certificate in relation to the Software Change.

"Acceptance Criteria" means the criteria derived from the Software Change Specifications that must be met by the Software Change in order to pass the relevant Acceptance Test.

"Acceptance Test" means a test comprised of the Acceptance Criteria, Test Cases and Test Data, and carried out in accordance with the relevant Test Plan and Paragraph 3.

"Acceptance Testing" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.2(c).

"Catch Up Period" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.3.2.

"CBOT Defect" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 3.3.2.2.

"CBOT Deliverables" means any and all software, documentation, or other deliverables required to be provided by the CBOT pursuant to this SSOW.

"CBOT Software" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 3.1.

"Documentation" means any operating manuals, user instructions, technical literature, and other documentation supplied by LIFFE to the CBOT for the purposes of assisting the CBOT's use of and/or access to the Software Change and incorporation of the Software Change into the Trading System.

"Evidence" means evidence of a defect in the Software Change, including the date the defect is detected; the environment (test or production) in which the defect occurred; the business impact of the defect; component or subsystem – with the version number in which the defect is detected; the transaction being executed upon detection of the defect; the screen name if the defect can be evidenced by an online component; any inputs (including Standing Data) evidencing the defect; expected outputs/behavior; outputs (such as messages and message logs) evidencing the defect; whether the market mode at the time of the defect is repeatable (yes/no); any stack trace and core dumps evidencing the defect; the scenario that caused the failure (to be in a step by step format); the settings of the user defined fields within the application (price limit values, etc.); and any information, logs or traces evidencing the defect which are generated by any third party application.

"Final Acceptance Certificate" means a certificate issued by the CBOT in accordance with Paragraph 3.4, which certificate acknowledges that the Software Change is ready to be made available for use in a real time live trading environment, and may note any subsequent obligations agreed by the Parties.

"Initial Acceptance Certificate" means a certificate issued by the CBOT in accordance with Paragraph 3.3.3.

"Integration Testing" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.2(d).

"Key Milestones" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.3.1.

"Material Defect" means a defect which results in a failure of the key functionality of the Software Change to materially conform to the Software Change Specifications. For the avoidance of doubt, "Material Defect" shall not include any failures of a cosmetic or trivial nature, failures which do not materially impact upon the use of the Trading System, including the Software Change, or failures with respect to which a viable workaround has been identified.

"Milestones" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.3.

"MSA" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"Program Services Deliverables" means any and all Software Change, documentation, or other deliverables required to be provided by LIFFE pursuant to this SSOW.

"Project Manager" means that individual responsible on behalf of LIFFE or the CBOT, as applicable, for the day to day management of the Program Services.

"Simulations" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.2(e).

"Software Change Specifications" means any specifications for the Software Change agreed upon by the Parties and set forth in Appendix A.

"SSOW" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"SSOW Effective Date" shall have the meaning set forth above.

"SSOW Go Live Date" means the earliest date, agreed by the Parties, upon which any Software Change delivered by LIFFE under this SSOW is made available for use in a real time live trading environment.

"System Testing" shall have the meaning set forth in Paragraph 2.2(a).

"Test Cases" means those scripted tests used to verify Test Data.

"Test Data" means a set of input values or conditions and results in either value form or condition form, to verify that the performance of the Software Change materially conforms to the Software Change Specifications.

"Test Material" means, collectively, Acceptance Criteria, Test Cases, Test Data and Test Plans.

"Test Plans" means one or more documents setting out the procedures (including the detailed timing) for each Acceptance Test, based on the Acceptance Criteria.

2. Services

2.1 Overview. LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to provide to the CBOT the Program Services set forth in Change Request(s) attached as Appendix A, in accordance with the terms of such Appendix A, this SSOW and the remaining portions of the MSA. Any requests by either Party for material changes to the nature or scope of the Program Services to be delivered under this SSOW must be made in accordance with the Change Control Procedures. Appendix A shall (a) set forth any Software Change Specifications; (b) specify any locations agreed upon by the Parties to which such Software Change is to be delivered or at which it is to be installed; and (c) specify the operating system(s) on which the Software Change may be used.

2.2 Software Development Services. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, the Program Services to be delivered under this SSOW shall include the following:

(a) testing of the Software Change, prior to releasing such Software Change to the CBOT for any Acceptance Testing to be conducted under this SSOW, in order to ascertain whether the Software Change materially conforms to any Software Change Specifications ("System Testing");

(b) physical delivery of the Software Change and any related Documentation LIFFE has agreed to provide to, and installation of the Software Change at such location(s) as may be agreed upon by the Parties;

(c) assisting the CBOT with Acceptance Testing of the Software Change, in accordance with the procedures set forth in Paragraph 3 ("Acceptance Testing");

(d) assisting the CBOT with testing whether individual and collective components of CBOT Technology conform with the Software Change (or any interface components thereof), and whether any interface components of the Software Change perform in accordance with the Software Change Specifications in accordance with the procedures set forth in Paragraph 3 ("Integration Testing"); and

(e) assisting the CBOT with simulations of the CBOT Electronic Exchange utilizing the Software Change ("Simulations").

2.3 Milestones. Any milestones in respect of the Program Services agreed upon by the Parties shall be set out in Appendix A (the "Milestones"). LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to meet any such Milestones, and shall have at its disposal the resources necessary to meet such Milestones. The CBOT acknowledges that (a) such Milestones are goals, not guarantees; and (b) LIFFE's ability to meet such Milestones (i) is contingent upon the CBOT's compliance with its applicable obligations under the MSA, including the CBOT's obligations under Section 11 of the MSA and this SSOW; and (ii) may be affected by the CBOT's initiation of a further Change Request resulting in modification of the nature or scope of the Program Services and any reinstatement of the Program Services following suspension of the Program Services pursuant to Section 10.5 of the MSA.

2.3.1 Key Milestone Likely Not To Be Met. In the event that Appendix A identifies any key Milestones pertaining to the Program Services ("Key Milestones") and LIFFE reasonably anticipates that any such Key Milestones may not be met, then LIFFE shall notify the CBOT promptly of the potential delay, and shall inform the CBOT of LIFFE's basis for such determination. Thereafter, (a) the Parties shall cooperate to identify resources, and to devise and carry out measures, to facilitate the prompt completion of the Program Services associated with such Key Milestone, and (b) LIFFE's Project Manager shall report on a daily basis to the CBOT's Project Manager LIFFE's progress in endeavoring to meet the Key Milestone.

2.3.2 Missed Key Milestone. In the event that any Key Milestone is not met, LIFFE shall promptly notify the CBOT of the missed Key Milestone. Thereafter, (a) the Director of Global Programme Delivery, LIFFE Market Solutions shall report on a daily basis to a representative of the CBOT at an equivalent level LIFFE's progress towards the completion of the Program Services associated with such Key Milestone; and (b) the Parties shall (i) continue to carry out any measures devised in accordance with Paragraph 2.3.1 or, if no such measures have been devised, cooperate to identify resources, and to devise and carry out measures, to facilitate the prompt completion of the Program Services associated with the missed Key Milestone; (ii) cooperate to identify resources, and to devise and carry out measures, to mitigate the impact upon future Milestones of missing such Key Milestone; and (iii) agree, in advance of carrying out any further endeavors to complete the Program Services associated with the Key Milestone, [] associated with the missed Key Milestone during the period between the Key Milestone and the date of completion of the Program Services associated with such Key Milestone (the "Catch Up Period"); provided, however, that (x) []in the event the delay in meeting the Key Milestone is a result of the CBOT's failure to fulfill any of its obligations under this SSOW or other portions of the MSA; and (y) if the services associated with the missed Key Milestone are solely the responsibility of LIFFE, []during the Catch Up Period. Once the Program Services associated with the Key Milestone have been completed, LIFFE shall notify the CBOT of the date of completion of such Program Services.

2.3.3 []. In the event that any Key Milestone is not met, with respect to Charges for all Program Services performed by LIFFE during the Catch Up Period, the CBOT may, at its option and upon written notice to LIFFE, []the Payment Date for such Charges; provided, however, that no [] pursuant to this Paragraph 2.3.3 shall be made in the event the delay in meeting the Key Milestone is a result of the CBOT's failure to fulfill any of its obligations under this SSOW or other applicable portions of the MSA, including its obligations under Section 11 of the MSA. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties agree that, upon the SSOW Go Live Date, all Program Services associated with Key Milestones will be deemed to have been completed.

2.3.4 Disputes. In the event of any Dispute with respect to the foregoing Paragraphs 2.3.1 to 2.3.3, the Parties shall address such Dispute in accordance with Section 19 of the MSA.

2.4 Progress Reports. LIFFE shall provide the CBOT written reports regarding the status of LIFFE's performance of the Program Services, at intervals to be agreed upon by the Parties.

3. Acceptance Testing

3.1 System Testing. Acceptance testing shall not commence until (a) LIFFE has notified the CBOT in writing that LIFFE has reasonably determined that the Software Change materially conforms to the Software Change Specifications and (b) the CBOT has notified LIFFE in writing that the CBOT has reasonably determined that CBOT Deliverables comprising software (the "CBOT Software") materially conforms to the CBOT's specifications for such CBOT Software and any Interfaces specifications identified on Appendix A. Between delivery of such notice to the other Party and the CBOT's issuance of the Initial Acceptance Certificate, (i) LIFFE shall endeavor to provide the CBOT written notice of any modifications of the Software Change, and (ii) the CBOT shall endeavor to provide LIFFE written notice of any modifications to the CBOT Software.

3.2 Preparation. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, Acceptance Testing will consist of two phases: Integration Testing and Simulations. By no later than the applicable Milestones, or such dates as are otherwise agreed upon by the Parties, the CBOT shall, in consultation with LIFFE, prepare and submit to LIFFE Acceptance Criteria, Test Cases, Test Data, and Test Plans in respect of the Software Change, suitable to demonstrate that such Software Change can be integrated with the Software (as defined in the MSA) and that the Software Change materially conforms to the applicable portions of the Software Change Specifications. LIFFE shall review each such submission and shall notify the CBOT of its objections or concerns with the submission. The CBOT shall cooperate in good faith to modify the Test Material to address LIFFE's reasonable objections and create mutually acceptable Test Material.

3.3 Integration Testing.

3.3.1 Notification. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, commencing upon any relevant Milestone set forth in Appendix A or upon any alternative date agreed upon by the Parties, the CBOT shall, with LIFFE's reasonable assistance, carry out Integration Testing at LIFFE's offices in London and the CBOT's facilities in Chicago, or elsewhere as the Parties may deem most appropriate to facilitate acceptance testing and to meet any relevant Milestones.

3.3.2 Suspected Defects.

3.3.2.1 Material Defects. If a Material Defect is suspected, (a) the CBOT shall, immediately upon becoming aware of such suspected Material Defect, provide LIFFE's Project Manager written notice of such suspected Material Defect, together with all Evidence of such suspected Material Defect reasonably available to the CBOT, and (b) at LIFFE's request, the Parties shall re-perform the relevant Integration Testing and present the results thereof to each Party's Project Manager. If the Parties agree that Integration Testing has revealed a Material Defect, the Parties shall document the nature of the Material Defect identified by the Integration Testing. As soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, (i) LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to remedy the Material Defect and shall notify the CBOT's Project Manager once LIFFE reasonably believes the Material Defect has been remedied; and (ii) the Parties shall repeat the Integration Testing, in whole or in part as necessary, to confirm that such Material Defect has been remedied. If such initial efforts to remedy the Material Defect prove unsuccessful, this cycle shall be repeated until (x) Integration Testing results reveal no Material Defects or (y) the CBOT otherwise agrees to issue an Initial Acceptance Certificate, and the CBOT shall not incur any Charges for Services in respect of such repeated cycle(s) in the event that the need to repeat such cycle is due to LIFFE's failure to remedy the Material Defect.

3.3.2.2 CBOT Defects. If Integration Testing reveals a defect in the CBOT Software (a "CBOT Defect"), the Parties shall document the nature of the CBOT Defect identified by the Integration Testing and provide to the CBOT's Project Manager any evidence of the CBOT Defect discovered during Integration Testing. As soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties, (i) the CBOT shall use reasonable efforts to remedy the CBOT Defect and shall notify LIFFE's Project Manager once the CBOT reasonably believes the CBOT Defect has been remedied; and (ii) the Parties shall repeat the Integration Testing, in whole or in part as necessary, to confirm that such CBOT Defect has been remedied. If such efforts to remedy the CBOT Defect prove unsuccessful, this cycle shall be repeated until Integration Testing results reveal no CBOT Defects.

3.3.3 Initial Acceptance Certificate. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, once all of the Software Change has completed Integration Testing successfully, the CBOT shall promptly sign and deliver to LIFFE's Project Manager an Initial Acceptance Certificate, which shall evidence the CBOT's Acceptance of the Software Change. Following the delivery of the Initial Acceptance Certificate and subject to the terms thereof, no modifications, other than such configuration changes as are agreed upon by the Parties and may be necessary for purposes of carrying out the Simulations and/or for making the Software Change and the CBOT Software available for trading in a real time live trading environment, shall be made to the Software Change or the CBOT Software prior to the SSOW Go Live Date, without the written consent of the Parties.

3.4 Simulations.

3.4.1 Notification. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, following issuance of the Initial Acceptance Certificate and in accordance with any relevant Milestone, the CBOT shall, with LIFFE's reasonable assistance, carry out Simulations.

3.4.2 Suspected Defects.

3.4.2.1 Material Defects. If a Material Defect is suspected, (a) the CBOT shall, immediately upon becoming aware of such suspected Material Defect, provide LIFFE's Project Manager written notice of such suspected Material Defect, together with all Evidence of such suspected Material Defect reasonably available to the CBOT, and (b) at LIFFE's request, the Parties shall re-perform the relevant Simulation and present the results thereof to each Party's Project Manager. If the Parties agree that a Simulation has revealed a Material Defect, the Parties shall document the nature of the Material Defect identified by the Simulation. As soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, (i) LIFFE shall use reasonable efforts to remedy the Material Defect and shall notify the CBOT's Project Manager once LIFFE reasonably believes the Material Defect has been remedied; and (ii) the Parties shall repeat the Simulation, in whole or in part as necessary, to confirm that such Material Defect has been remedied. If such initial efforts to remedy the Material Defect prove unsuccessful, this cycle shall be repeated until (x) Simulation results reveal no Material Defects or (y) the CBOT otherwise agrees to issue a Final Acceptance Certificate, and the CBOT shall not incur any Charges for Services in respect of such repeated cycle(s) in the event that the need to repeat such cycle is due to LIFFE's failure to remedy the Material Defect.

3.4.2.2 CBOT Defects. If a Simulation reveals a CBOT Defect, the Parties shall document the nature of the CBOT Defect identified by the Simulation and provide to CBOT's Project Manager any Evidence of the CBOT Defect discovered during Simulation. As soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, (i) the CBOT shall use reasonable efforts to remedy the CBOT Defect and shall notify LIFFE's Project Manager once the CBOT reasonably believes the CBOT Defect has been remedied; and (ii) the Parties shall repeat the Simulation, in whole or in part as necessary, to confirm that such CBOT Defect has been remedied. If such efforts to remedy the CBOT Defect prove unsuccessful, this cycle shall be repeated until Simulation results reveal no CBOT Defects.

3.4.3 Final Acceptance Certificate. Unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, once the Software Change has completed Simulations successfully, the CBOT shall promptly sign and deliver to LIFFE's Project Manager a Final Acceptance Certificate. Following the delivery of the Final Acceptance Certificate and subject to the terms thereof, no modifications, other than such configuration changes as are agreed upon by the Parties and may be necessary for purposes of making the Software Change and the CBOT Software available for trading in a real time live trading environment, shall be made to the Software Change or the CBOT Software prior to the SSOW Go Live Date, without the written consent of the Parties.

3.5 SSOW Go Live Date. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary herein, unless otherwise specified in Appendix A, the Software Change will not be made available for use in a real time live trading environment until and unless the CBOT has delivered to LIFFE's Project Manager an executed Final Acceptance Certificate in accordance with Paragraph 3.4.3.

3.6 Disputes. Any Dispute relating to Acceptance Testing shall be addressed in accordance with the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 19 of the MSA.

3.7 Acceptance. All Software Change that has been Accepted pursuant to the terms of this SSOW shall be deemed "Software" within the meaning of the MSA.

4. CBOT's Dependencies

In addition to all other obligations of the CBOT set forth in this SSOW and other portions of the MSA, the CBOT shall comply with those dependencies set forth in Appendix A.

5. Project Managers

5.1 Appointments. Each Party shall appoint and inform the other Party of the identity of a Project Manager to serve as the primary points of contact between LIFFE and the CBOT with respect to the Program Services to be delivered under this SSOW.

5.2 Substitutions. Each Party shall promptly notify the other in writing of any substitutions for or replacements of such individuals appointed in accordance with Paragraph 5.1, as applicable, and shall take all reasonable steps to minimize any potential adverse effects of such changes.

6. Charges

In consideration for LIFFE's performance of the Program Services hereunder, the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE the Program Services Charges, in accordance with Section 10 and Schedule M of the MSA.

7. Term.

The term of this SSOW will commence upon the SSOW Effective Date and will continue until the (a) completion of the Program Services or (b) the expiration or termination of the MSA, unless otherwise agreed by the Parties.

8. Proprietary Rights

In accordance with Section 14 of the MSA, as between the CBOT and LIFFE, all rights, title and interest in and to all Program Services Deliverables and other materials provided by LIFFE under this SSOW, including all copyrights, trademarks, patents, trade secrets and other intellectual property inherent in the foregoing or appurtenant thereto, shall be and remain vested in LIFFE (or LIFFE's Affiliates, suppliers or licensors, as applicable).

Acceptable Use Policy

General Policy

Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT®) requires that the use of the computing systems and facilities located at, or operated by, the Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT) will be conducted in an effective, efficient, ethical, and lawful manner.

This Acceptable Use Policy (referred to as "Policy") supersedes any and all prior policies relating to the subject matter contained herein. The CBOT reserves the right to change or supplement this Policy at any time.

Purpose

The Chicago Board of Trade's Acceptable Use Policy is intended to assure that the use of the computing systems and facilities located at, or operated by, the Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT) is conducted in an effective, efficient, ethical, and lawful manner.

Applicability

This policy applies to all Chicago Board of Trade systems users of the computing systems and facilities located at, or operated by, the Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT).

Key Definitions

CBOT Computing Systems and Facilities - Any system including but not limited to individual desktop and laptop computers, file and network servers, networks, floppy disks, magnetic tapes, CDROM devices, telecommunications systems, or other computing and storage devices provided or supported by any CBOT division. Throughout the Policy, the CBOT's Computing Systems and Facilities are collectively referred to as "CBOT Systems".

Use - The use of data/programs stored on CBOT Systems.

User - The person granted an account or accounts on CBOT Systems in order to perform work in support of a CBOT program or project. A user may be an employee, temporary help, contractor, consultant, or third party with whom special arrangements have been made.

Note: The terms user, worker, and employee are all used to represent a full-time employee, part-time employee, temporary help, contractor, consultant, or third party that has special arrangements that give telecommuting access to CBOT systems.

Responsibility for Implementing the Policy

Managers of all the Chicago Board of Trade systems users of the computing systems and facilities located at, or operated by, the Chicago Board of Trade (CBOT) are responsible for assuring that the use of these computing systems and facilities is conducted in an effective, efficient, ethical, and lawful manner.

Requirements

1. User Responsibilities The following requirements govern User Responsibilities:

1.1 CBOT Systems are owned by CBOT and are operated by CBOT employees, consultants, and other third parties such as temporary workers and are to be used for authorized CBOT purposes only. Users are authorized to prepare and store incidental personal data on CBOT systems provided that such usage does not interfere with or affect the user's performance or violate the law or any CBOT standards of conduct. The CBOT assumes no liability for loss, damage, disclosure or misuse of any such incidental personal data stored on CBOT Systems.

1.2 Users are responsible for protecting any information used and/or stored within their CBOT accounts in accordance with the CBOT Information Security Policies and Standards.

1.3 Users are required to report any weaknesses in CBOT Systems and any incidents of possible misuse or violation of this Policy to their supervisor and Information Security Program management.

2. Prohibited Uses Prohibited uses of CBOT Systems include but are not limited to the following:

2.1 Users shall not attempt to access any data or programs contained on CBOT Systems for which they do not have authorization.

2.2 Users shall not attempt to access CBOT Systems remotely except to transmit or retrieve electronic mail (e-mail) or voicemail messages unless authorized by a Vice President or Department Director.

2.3 Users shall not attempt to access non-CBOT Systems (e.g. the Internet or external dial-up facilities) from CBOT Systems unless authorized by a Vice President or Department Director.

2.4 Users shall not install software programs on CBOT Systems. Software programs may be installed on CBOT Systems only by Departmental LAN (Local Area Network) Administrators or those authorized by Information Technology Department Senior Management.

2.5 Users may not use software that is not owned by, or licensed to, the CBOT. This includes using CBOT Systems to copy any software documents or other information protected under copyright law.

2.6 Users shall not make unauthorized copies of system configuration files (e.g. password files) for their own personal use or on the behalf of others.

2.7 Users shall not purposely engage in activity with the intent to:

harass, discriminate against, or intimidate others;
degrade the performance of CBOT systems;
deprive an authorized CBOT user access to a CBOT resource;
obtain extra resources beyond those allocated (e.g. circumvent disk quotas or otherwise violate resource allocation policies);

circumvent security measures or gain access to a CBOT System for which proper authorization has not been granted.

2.8 Users shall not purposely create, store, transmit, or view illegal, offensive, or inappropriate material, including but not limited to pornography, hate/crime/violence-related material, and drug/alcohol-related material.

2.9 Users shall not use CBOT Systems to frequently engage in the solicitation of non-CBOT business ventures or any political, religious, charitable, or personal causes unless authorized in writing by the CBOT.

2.10 Users shall not download, install, or run security programs or utilities which reveal weaknesses in the security of a system.

2.11 Users shall not remove CBOT Systems (e.g. software, hardware, design specifications) from the CBOT premises unless authorized by a Vice President or Department Director.

2.12 Users shall not forward any attorney-client message from CBOT legal counsel to anyone else without said counsel's authorization.

2.13 Users shall not transmit non-public information or attorney-client communications via the Internet or other extranet connectivity.

3. Operational Data The following requirements govern Operational Data:

3.1 Users may not access "operational data" on CBOT Systems (i.e. non-public data that relates to the operations of the CBOT, its members, member firms, or other market participants), except pursuant to a regulatory purpose and upon approval by a Vice President or Department Director.

3.2 Users authorized to access operational data may not update, delete, or modify any such data unless authorized by a Vice President or Department Director.

3.3 Non-CBOT users may not access operational data on CBOT Systems except pursuant to a regulatory purpose, upon approval by a Vice President or Department Director and upon execution of a confidentiality agreement.

4. Right to Privacy The following requirements govern Right to Privacy:

The CBOT has legal ownership of all information stored on or transmitted from CBOT Systems. Therefore, users should have no expectation of privacy associated with the information they store in or send through CBOT Systems.

To properly maintain and manage this information, the CBOT reserves the right to access, review, monitor, copy, modify, and delete any information (including personal data) transmitted through or stored on CBOT Systems and, where appropriate, to disclose it to any party.

5. Discoverability of Electronic Information The following requirements govern Discoverability of Electronic Information:

Electronic information transmitted or stored anywhere on CBOT Systems is subject to discovery and may be admissible in court or administrative proceedings.

6. Audits of the System The following requirements govern Audits of the System:

To ensure compliance with these policies, the CBOT may, without notice, conduct periodic audits of CBOT Systems. The CBOT reserves the right to conduct special audits at any time when a violation of this Policy is suspected. The CBOT will investigate all information security incidents and report them to senior management.

7. Monitoring The following requirements govern Monitoring:

7.1 In general terms, the CBOT does not engage in blanket monitoring of employee communications on CBOT systems. The CBOT does, however, reserve the right to monitor, access, retrieve, read, and/or disclose employee communications when: (a) a legitimate business need exists that cannot be satisfied by other means, (b) the involved employee is unavailable and timing is critical to a business activity, (c) there is reasonable cause to suspect criminal activity or policy violation, or (d) monitoring is required by law, regulation, or third-party agreement.

7.2 CBOT employees will be notified of all CBOT Systems monitoring policies. CBOT employees and their managers will be informed about all monitoring activities with the only permissible exception being investigations of suspected criminal activity.

8. Non-Compliance Disciplinary Actions The following requirements govern Non-Compliance Disciplinary Actions:

8.1 The CBOT reserves the right to revoke the privileges of any user at any time. Any noncompliance with these CBOT Systems user requirements will constitute a security violation and will be reported to the management of the CBOT user and Information Security Program Management. Security violations may result in short-term or permanent loss of access to CBOT Systems. Serious violations will result in disciplinary action, including termination of employment.

8.2 Users who abuse their CBOT Systems privileges may also be subject to external disciplinary action including civil or criminal legal action. By making use of CBOT Systems, users consent to allow all information they store on CBOT Systems to be divulged to law enforcement at the discretion of CBOT senior executive management.

Harassment Policy

Sexual harassment is an infringement of an employee's, applicant's or consultant's right to work in an environment free from unlawful sexual pressure. The CBOT® is strongly committed to a workplace free of sexual harassment. In keeping with this policy, the CBOT will not tolerate sexual harassment of employees, applicants, or consultants by other employees or non-employees in the workplace.

Sexual harassment consists of unlawful verbal or physical conduct directed at a person when that conduct is based on that person's sex and has a substantial adverse effect on him or her in the workplace. Such conduct may include, but is not limited to, the following:

1. requests for sexual favors that may or may not be accompanied by threats or promises of preferential treatment with respect to an individual's employment status;
2. verbal, written or graphic communications of a sexual nature, including lewd or sexually suggestive comments, off-color jokes of a sexual nature or displays of sexually explicit pictures, photos, posters, cartoons, books, magazines or other items; or
3. patting, pinching, hitting or any other unnecessary contact with another person's body or threats to take such action.

Any employee, applicant or consultant who believes that he or she has been sexually harassed in the workplace should report the harassment as soon as possible after it occurs to their supervisor. Any complaint regarding harassment by a CBOT employee should be presented to the complaining individual's supervisor or the CBOT Human Resources Department. Any supervisor who receives such a complaint must notify the Human Resources Department of the complaint as soon as possible. Complaints pertaining to harassment by members or member firm employees should be directed to the head of Investigations in the Office of Investigations and Audits. Complaints pertaining to harassment by other non-employees should be directed to the Human Resources Department. The CBOT will thoroughly investigate all complaints and will keep them confidential, only disclosing them on a "need-to-know" basis.

The CBOT will not retaliate against any person who has been harassed and/or has reported the harassment. No supervisor or other employee may in any way base an employment decision regarding a person on the fact that the person has been harassed and/or has reported the harassment to the CBOT.

The CBOT will not tolerate any violations of this policy. Violations of this policy by employees or consultants will subject the offending employee(s) or consultant(s) to appropriate disciplinary action up to and including discharge from employment or termination of services. Members and their employees who violate this policy will also be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

SCHEDULE G

CALL MANAGEMENT PROCEDURES

1. CBOT's Call Management Obligations.

1.1 Market Participants. Upon receipt of each Call from a Market Participant, the CBOT shall:

1.1.1 Assess whether the Call relates to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services.

1.1.2 If the CBOT determines the Call relates to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services:

(a) log the information relating to the Call [];

(b) gather diagnostic or other relevant information and materials regarding the subject matter of the Call Record, in a format agreed by the Parties;

(c) [];

(d) provide LIFFE all diagnostic or other relevant information and materials collected in accordance with Paragraph 1.1.2(b);

(e) provide LIFFE any assistance as LIFFE may reasonably request in responding to the Call and addressing the subject matter of the Call Record;

(f) upon receipt from LIFFE of notification that the subject matter of the Call Record has been addressed and that any issues identified in the Call have been addressed, contact the Market Participant originating the Call, communicate to such Market Participant the actions undertaken by LIFFE in relation to the Call, and endeavor to obtain the Market Participant's agreement to "close" the Call Record;

(g) notify LIFFE if the Market Participant fails to agree to "close" the Call Record, and resolve any such issue in consultation with LIFFE and, if necessary, the Market Participant; and

(h) subject to Paragraph 1.1.2(g) above, [].

1.1.3 If the CBOT determines the Call does not relate to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services:

(a) address the Call internally at the CBOT;

(b) contact the Market Participant originating the Call, communicate to such Market Participant the actions addressing the issues raised, and endeavor to obtain the Market Participant's agreement to "close" the Call Record; and

(c) [].

1.2 CBOT Personnel. In addition to performing the obligations set forth in Paragraph 1.1, the CBOT shall:

(a) log the information relating to each Call from CBOT personnel, including any agents or subcontractors of the CBOT, relating to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services [];

(b) gather and provide to LIFFE diagnostic or other relevant information and materials regarding the subject matter of the Call Record, in a format agreed by the Parties;

(c) []

(d) provide LIFFE any assistance as LIFFE may reasonably request in addressing the subject matter of the Call Record;

(e) upon agreement by the Parties that such subject matter has been addressed, agree to "close" the Call Record, and close the Call Record []; and

(f) notify the LIFFE Service Manager in the event of any dispute relating to the Call, and address such dispute in accordance with those procedures set forth in Schedule C.

2. LIFFE's Call Management Obligations.

2.1 Calls Routed by the CBOT. Following LIFFE's receipt of any Call Record routed by the CBOT [], LIFFE shall, as part of the Call Management Service, assess the nature of the subject matter of the Call Record. Thereafter, LIFFE shall respond to such Call by (a) endeavoring to answer questions relating to LIFFE's delivery of the Managed Services; (b) initiating the appropriate Managed Service(s) relevant to any request for an IMAC Service or data restoration or any report of a Disaster or other Incident; (c) notifying the CBOT promptly if LIFFE concludes that such Call relates to an Exclusion; or (d) taking such other action as LIFFE deems appropriate to carry out its obligations under the Managed Services Agreement. Once LIFFE reasonably believes the subject matter of the Call Record has been addressed, then LIFFE shall so notify the CBOT.

2.2 Direct Calls from Market Participants. In the event LIFFE receives a Call directly from a Market Participant, LIFFE shall refer the Call to the CBOT for handling, in accordance with Paragraph 1. If LIFFE nonetheless receives a Call directly from a Market Participant and does not refer the Call to the CBOT for handling, then (a) LIFFE shall comply with the procedures set forth in Paragraph 1.1.2 and (b) the subject matter of such Call shall not be deemed to relate to an Exclusion, unless LIFFE has notified the CBOT, and obtained the CBOT's agreement, that the subject matter of such Call relates to an Exclusion.

SCHEDULE I

LIFFE CORE NETWORK ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

1. Permitted Purpose

Except as otherwise agreed by LIFFE, those Persons authorized to use the Core Network in relation to the CBOT Electronic Exchange ("Users") shall use the Core Network solely for purposes of participating in, accessing or obtaining information from the CBOT Electronic Exchange via an Interface with the Equipment.

2. Compliance with Laws

Users shall use the Core Network in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations and any additional reasonable requirements as LIFFE may deem necessary to protect the Core Network. Without limiting the foregoing, Users shall not use, transmit, distribute or store via the Core Network any data, information or other material ("Data") which (i) infringes or otherwise violates any copyright, trademark, trade secret or other intellectual property of any individual or entity; (ii) is pornographic, obscene, or exploitative of a minor; (iii) is menacing, malicious, illegally threatening or defamatory; or (iv) violates export laws or otherwise violates any applicable treaty, law or regulation.

3. Harmful Activities

Users shall not use the Core Network to transmit, distribute or store any Data or undertake any other activities that may be harmful to or otherwise interfere with (i) the Core Network or the use thereof by any other User or other authorized user of the Core Network, or (ii) any system, network or equipment of LIFFE or any third party, including: (i) intercepting or attempting to intercept Data or other transmissions passing over the Core Network; (ii) forwarding chain letters; (iii) sending multiple e-mails or large transmissions that could reasonably be expected to annoy or harass or to impose a disproportionately large load on, or degrade the functionality of, the Core Network (e.g., "mail bombing"); (iv) sending any e-mail containing misleading or incorrect headers or information rendering the origin of the e-mail unclear or deceptive; (v) sending bulk or unsolicited e-mail messages ("spamming"), either directly or by relaying; or (vi) transmitting any virus, worm or Trojan Horse.

4. Security

4.1 Users shall not violate or attempt to violate the security of the Core Network or interfere or attempt to interfere with LIFFE's systems, networks, authentication measures, servers or equipment or with the use of or access to the Core Network by any other User or any other authorized user of the Core Network. Such prohibited activity includes (i) logging into a server where access is not authorized; (ii) probing, scanning, or testing the security or vulnerability of the Core Network or other networks; and (iii) attempting to gain access via the Core Network to any account or computer resource not belonging to such User ("spoofing").

4.2 Users shall not monitor Data or traffic on the Core Network except via a Trading Application or Interface.

5. Enforcement

Except as may be agreed between LIFFE and the CBOT, LIFFE shall have no obligation to monitor or exercise control over any Data transmitted, distributed or stored by any User via the Core Network. Notwithstanding the foregoing, LIFFE reserves the right to monitor and control activities undertaken via the Core Network.

6. Responsibility

Each User is fully responsible for all uses of the Core Network undertaken (i) by such User or (ii) via such User's Trading Application or Interface.

LIFFE Administration and Management is a part of the Euronext Group.

1. Basic elements

1.1 Logotype

The LIFFE CONNECT® logotype is legally protected and registered and must be reproduced accurately. The logo has been specially drawn and must not be altered or modified in any way. The logo must always be used horizontally and never at an angle.

1.2 LIFFE CONNECT® colours

The LIFFE CONNECT® logo is made up of three colours: gold, red and black. They are defined and specified below for print and web.

2. Design Guidelines for Print

2.1 Critical space

Space equivalent to the height of the main lettering of the logotype is to be kept around all four sides of the logotype. This is a minimum and more should always be given if possible.

2.2 Colours

2.2.1. LIFFECONNECT® Gold

[]

2.2.2 LIFFECONNECT® Red

[]

2.2.3 LIFFECONNECT® Black

Black

2.3 Logotype backgrounds

Wherever possible, the logotype should be reproduced in LIFFE CONNECT® gold, red and black.

In cases where only one colour reproduction of the logotype is possible it should appear in single colour only using either LIFFE CONNECT® gold, red, black or white.

On single colour items the logotype may appear in the colour that the item is printed.

When appearing out of a coloured background the logotype must appear reversed 'white out' or in one colour black.

On four colour items the pantone colours may be converted to the equivalent in cmyk.

3. Design Guidelines for the Web

3.1 Critical space

Space equivalent to the height of the logotype L is to be kept around all four sides of the logotype. This is a minimum and more should always be given if possible.

3.2 Colours

[]

[]

3.2.3. LIFFE CONNECT® Black

[]

3.3 Logotype backgrounds

Wherever possible, the logotype should be reproduced in LIFFE CONNECT® gold, red and black.

When appearing out of a coloured background the logotype must appear reversed 'white out' or in black.

3.4 Logo rendering

The LIFFE CONNECT® logotype must be rendered in its entirety as an image. It must never be generated client-side. When rendered the logotype should be clear, clean and crisp. Overall dimensions should be to an exact number of pixels to avoid excessive anti-aliasing.

If used in Flash animations the logotype should be imported as a vector image. It should not be modified or distorted.

4. Text

LIFFE CONNECT® should be written in capitals and with the trademark registration symbol (®) at all times.

For web sites, this only applies where LIFFE CONNECT® appears in a heading or as body text on a web page. It is not relevant for file names or directory structures.

CHARGES

1. Managed Services

The CBOT shall be charged a []fee for the Managed Services, other than the IMAC Service, in accordance with the following schedule (the "Managed Services Fee"), invoiced by LIFFE in quarterly installments in advance.

Year	Annual Fee*
2003	[]
2004	[]
2005	[]
2006	[]
2008	[]

* The annual fees are subject to annual review by LIFFE, and may be adjusted in accordance with changes to the Service Thresholds and/or the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters pursuant to the Change Control Procedures; provided, however, that LIFFE shall have no obligation to continue to provide the Managed Services in the event that the CBOT fails to agree to any reasonable adjustment of the annual fees proposed by LIFFE.

2. Maintenance Services

2.1 Software Maintenance Fee

The CBOT shall be charged a [] fee for all Software Maintenance Services in accordance with the following schedule (the "Software Maintenance Fee"), invoiced by LIFFE annually in advance:

Initial Term: [] per annum

First Renewal Term (if any): [] per annum, adjusted by the greater of (i) [] (i.e., [] per annum for each year of the Initial Term), and (ii) the [] during the Initial Term, up to a maximum of [].

Second Renewal Term (if any). The Software Maintenance Fee for the first Renewal Term, adjusted by the greater of (i) [] per annum for each year of the first Renewal Term, and (ii) the [], during the first Renewal Term, up to a maximum of [].

For the avoidance of doubt, the Software Maintenance Fee covers the development and licensing of New Software Releases, but does not cover any activities undertaken by LIFFE in accordance with the IMAC Service or in respect of implementation of New Software Releases in accordance with Section 4.1.3 of the Agreement. Any such activities will be charged in accordance with Paragraph 5.

2.2 Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Fee

The CBOT shall be charged a [] fee for Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Services (excluding LIFFE's performance of those obligations set forth in Section 5.1.1 of the Agreement) in accordance with the following schedule (the "Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Fee"), invoiced by LIFFE in quarterly installments in advance.

Year	Annual Fee*
2003	[]
2004	[]
2005	[]
2006	[]
2008	[]

* The annual fees are subject to annual review by LIFFE, and may be adjusted in accordance with changes to the Service Thresholds and/or the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters pursuant to the Change Control Procedures; provided, however, that LIFFE shall have no obligation to continue to provide the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Services in the event that the CBOT fails to agree to any reasonable adjustment of the annual fees proposed by LIFFE.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Equipment and Data Centre Maintenance Fee does not cover any IMAC Service activities undertaken by LIFFE or LIFFE's performance of its obligations under Section 5.1.3.

2.3 Core Network Maintenance Fee

The CBOT shall be charged a [] fee for all Core Network Maintenance Services in accordance with the following schedule (the "Core Network Maintenance Fee"), invoiced by LIFFE annually in advance.

Year	Annual Fee*
2003	[]
2004	[]
2005	[]
2006	[]
2008	[]

* The annual fees are subject to annual review by LIFFE, and may be adjusted in accordance with changes to the Service Thresholds and/or the CBOT Electronic Exchange Parameters pursuant to the Change Control Procedures; provided, however, that LIFFE shall have no obligation to continue to provide the Core Network Maintenance Services in the event that the CBOT fails to agree to any reasonable adjustment of the annual fees proposed by LIFFE.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Core Network Maintenance Fee does not cover any IMAC Service activities undertaken by LIFFE.

3. Equipment Services

The CBOT shall be charged a fee for the performance by LIFFE of its Equipment procurement obligations under Sections 5.1.1(a) and 5.1.3 of the Agreement, in accordance with the following schedule (the "Equipment Services Charges"), invoiced by LIFFE on a monthly basis:

(a) The CBOT shall pay all actual costs charged to LIFFE in connection with the procurement of any Equipment; provided that the Parties consult and agree upon costs prior to LIFFE procuring such Equipment; and

(b) The CBOT shall pay an additional [] for the purchase, administration, delivery, handling, storage and other activities related to the procurement of such Equipment for the CBOT.

For the avoidance of doubt, the Equipment Services Charges do not cover IMAC Service activities, LIFFE's performance of those obligations set forth in Section 5.1.1(b) of the Agreement, or any delivery or installation obligations under Section 5.1.3 of the Agreement. The Connection Service Charges cover the IMAC Service activities. The obligations set forth in Section 5.1.1(b) and the delivery and installation obligations under Section 5.1.3 shall be charged as Program Services.

4. Connection Services Charges.

The CBOT shall be charged for the IMAC Service for Metro (as defined below) Members[2] in accordance with the following schedule (the "Connection Services Charges").

LIFFE may (a) vary the Connection Services Charges set forth above, or (b) if such Connection Services Charges set forth above have previously changed, vary the then current Connection Services Charges; provided that (i) LIFFE must give the CBOT written notice of each variation in Connection Services Charges prior to such Connection Services Charges variation becoming effective, and (ii) no variation in Connection Services Charges shall be greater than the percentage change in the Retail Price Index, as published by the United Kingdom's Office for National Statistics, during the period from the date the then current Connection Services Charges became effective and the date the proposed variation to such Connection Services Charges becomes effective.

Definitions

For purposes of this Schedule M:

[]

[]

Assumptions

The Connection Services Charges set forth above are based on the following assumptions:

1. []
2. []
3. []
4. []
5. []

In the event one or more of the foregoing assumptions is inaccurate, the Connection Services Charges will be subject to review and adjustment pursuant to the Change Control Procedures in an amount proportionate to the impact of such inaccuracy(ies) on LIFFE's performance of the IMAC Service.

7. Program Services

7.1 Charge Rate Card. The CBOT shall be charged for all Program Services on a time and materials basis in accordance with the charge rates ("Charge Rates") set forth on the following rate card (the "Charge Rate Card"), which is based on 7.5 hours worked during a Business Day and is exclusive of expenses (the "Program Services Charges"):

Grade	Rate
Administrator	[]
Analyst	[]
Senior Analyst	[]
Team Leader	[]
Business Analyst	[]
Technical Specialist	[]
Senior Technical Specialist	[]
Senior Technical Architect	[]
Project Manager	[]
Programme Manager	[]
Department Head	[]
Director	[]
Executive Director	[]

With respect to any Business Day during which any member of the LIFFE Project Personnel works from his or her primary office location for less than 7.5 hours, the rate charged will be a pro rata portion of the daily rate for the relevant LIFFE Project Personnel.

7.2 Grades. The following chart sets forth the applicable Grade for each LIFFE Project Personnel role:

Team Leader	Team Leader
Administrator	Administrator
Senior Technical Architect	Senior Technical Architect
Director	Director
Executive Director	Executive Director

7.3 Charge Rate Variations. LIFFE may (a) vary the daily rates set forth in the Charge Rate Card, or (b) if such daily rates set forth in the Charge Rate Card have previously changed, vary the then current daily rates; provided that (i) LIFFE must give the CBOT written notice of each variation in a daily rate prior to such daily rate variation becoming effective, and (ii) no variation in a daily rate shall be greater than the [], as published by [], during the period from the date the then current daily rate became effective and the date the proposed change to such daily rate becomes effective.

8. Termination Costs

Upon the effective date of termination of the Agreement pursuant to Section 13 (excluding termination by the CBOT pursuant to Section 13.3), the CBOT shall pay to LIFFE a fee in accordance with the following schedule, which fee the Parties agree is reasonable and appropriate to cover those costs LIFFE may incur as a result of such termination, including winding down the Services and transitioning LIFFE Project Personnel ("Termination Costs"):

If Notice of Termination Is Given During the Period:	The Termination Costs shall be:
From the Effective Date through and including the first anniversary of the Effective Date	[]
From the first anniversary through and including the second anniversary of the Effective Date	[]
From the second anniversary through and including the third anniversary of the Effective Date	[]
From the third anniversary through and including the fourth anniversary of the Effective Date	[]

SCHEDULE N

LIFFE TRAVEL/EXPENSE POLICY

1. Air Travel

All LIFFE staff travel British Airways Club Class for any journey in excess of 4 hours. If a Business Class seat is not available or the time or airport of departure is not convenient, then the traveler may choose Business Class with Virgin Atlantic. If Business Class Seats with neither British Airways nor Virgin Atlantic are available within a 2 hour window either side of the preferred departure time, then the traveler may choose Business Class with any other airline.

If the journey is less than 4 hours then Economy Class travel will be used. Within the U.S. we do not have a limitation on which airlines are selected.

2. Hotels

LIFFE staff will reside in reasonable accommodation when staying away from home overnight on business. This is dependant upon location and duration, but LIFFE suggests that a rate no greater than [] per night is reasonable for the staff in the U.S.

Accommodation for consultants over weekends will be charged.

3. Expenses

LIFFE generally does not expect the staff working away from the office to incur average general expenses in excess of []per day. This will include all local travel to and from the CBOT office, meals, calls, laundry, etc.

All expenses except those of an exceptional nature and pre-agreed by the client, will be not be charged. Exceptional expenses will be charged and identified individually on any invoice.

4. General

The CBOT will not be charged for the time a LIFFE consultant is on flights unless LIFFE incurs a charge. This would only be the case where the consultant is a staff contractor.

Exhibit 10.18

Confidential Treatment Requested by CBOT Holding, Inc.

CLEARING SERVICES AGREEMENT

EFFECTIVE THE 16th DAY OF APRIL 2003

BETWEEN

CHICAGO MERCANTILE EXCHANGE INC., a business corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and having its principal office situated at 30 South Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60606 U.S.A., duly represented by its Chairman of the Board, Terrence Duffy, and by its President and Chief Executive Officer, James J. McNulty, (hereinafter referred to at times as "CME"),

AND

THE BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO, INC., a non share corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware and having its principal office situated at 141 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Illinois 60604 U.S.A., duly represented by its Chairman, Charles P. Carey, and by its President and Chief Executive Officer, Bernard W. Dan, (hereinafter referred to at times as "CBOT").

Each of CBOT and CME is referred to herein as a "Party", and collectively they are referred to as the "Parties."

RECITALS:

WHEREAS, CME is registered with the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (the "CFTC") as a designated contract market ("DCM") and a "derivative clearing organization " ("DCO") within the meaning of the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended (the "CEA"), and seeks to provide clearing services, as defined herein, for CBOT futures and options contracts;

WHEREAS, CBOT is registered with the CFTC as a DCM and intends to register as a DCO within the meaning of the CEA, as amended, and seeks to have CME provide clearing services, as defined herein, for CBOT futures and options contracts;

WHEREAS, the Parties intend to provide substantial benefits to their customers by clearing their listed contracts through the same clearing house;

WHEREAS, the Parties intend to enhance the efficient use of capital by their members by employing CME's system of financial guarantees and providing for more efficient portfolio risk margining of certain positions held at CME's clearing house; and

WHEREAS, the Parties intend to cooperatively promote the advantages of clearing certain CBOT products by means of CME systems, all on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION. OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants contained herein, and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, and with the intent to be legally bound, the Parties hereby agree as follows:

1. INTERPRETATION

1.1. Definitions.

In this Agreement, unless the context otherwise requires:

1.1.1. Agreement means the Clearing Services Agreement, effective as of April 16, 2003, by and between CME and CBOT.

1.1.2. BOTCC shall have the meaning set forth in Section 7.3.

1.1.3. CBOT Clearing Member means an individual or firm that meets CBOT's requirements to clear CBOT Products on or after the Effective Date.

1.1.4. CBOT Core Products means CBOT's U.S. Treasury, agricultural and federal funds based products as of the Effective Date.

1.1.5. CBOT Data shall have the meaning set forth in Section 5.1.

1.1.6. CBOT Products means all futures and futures options listed for trading on CBOT on the Launch Date or thereafter.

1.1.7. CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Member shall have the meaning set forth in Section 7.4.

1.1.8. CEA shall have the meaning set forth in the first Recital.

1.1.9. CFTC shall have the meaning set forth in the first Recital.

1.1.10. Clearing Members means CBOT Clearing Members and/or CME Clearing Members, as the context requires.

1.1.11. Clearing Services means the clearing, settlement and related services to be provided by CME under this Agreement, as further described in Schedule A.

1.1.12. Clearing Systems shall have the meaning set forth in Section 3.4.

1.1.13. CME Clearing Member means an individual or firm that meets CME's requirements for clearing membership.

1.1.14. CME Rules means CME's rules and clearing procedures, including interpretations and explanations.

1.1.15. DCM shall have the meaning set forth in the first Recital.

1.1.16. DCO shall have the meaning set forth in the first Recital.

1.1.17. Dispute Notice shall have the meaning set forth in Section 19.4.

1.1.18. Effective Date means April 16, 2003.

1.1.19. EFS shall have the meaning set forth in Section 3.1.

1.1.20. FCMs shall have the meaning set forth in Section 7.6.

1.1.21. Indemnified Party shall have the meaning set forth in Section 16.1.

1.1.22. Indemnifying Party shall have the meaning set forth in Section 16.1.

1.1.23. Initial Term shall have the meaning set forth in Section 2.

1.1.24. Launch Date means the first trading day for CBOT Products as to which transactions are required to be cleared through CME. The Launch Date is the trading date of January 2, 2004.

1.1.25. Market Participant means an individual or firm that engages in trading futures and options contracts.

1.1.26. Material Breach means a breach of a provision of this Agreement that is material to a Party's obligations under the Agreement.

1.1.27. Operational Policies and Procedures shall have the meaning set forth in Section 3.2.

1.1.28. Party and Parties shall have the meaning set forth in the Preamble.

1.1.29. Proprietary Business Information shall have the meaning set forth in Section 13.1.

1.1.30. Renewal Term shall have the meaning set forth in Section 2.

1.1.31. Replica CBOT Products shall have the meaning set forth in Section 6.4.

1.1.32. Special CME Clearing Member means a CBOT Clearing Member that qualifies as a CME Clearing Member for purposes of clearing CBOT Products pursuant to this Agreement, as set forth more fully in Section 7.

1.1.33. Transition Clearing Services shall have the meaning set forth in Section 12.

1.1.34. Transition Costs shall have the meaning set forth in Section 12.4.

1.1.35. Term shall have the meaning set forth in Section 2.

1.1.36. Unexcused Breach shall have the meaning set forth in Section 10.1.

1.2. References. Unless something in the subject matter or context is inconsistent with the resulting interpretation, all references to Sections and Schedules are to Sections and Schedules of this Agreement. The words "hereto", "herein", "of this Agreement", "under this Agreement" and similar expressions mean and refer to this Agreement.

1.3. Schedules. The Schedules forming part of this Agreement are as follows:

Schedule A Clearing Services
Schedule B Fees
Schedule C Project Development Plan

1.4. Headings. The inclusion of headings in this Agreement is for convenience of reference only and does not affect the construction or interpretation of this Agreement.

2. Initial Term; Renewal Term. This Agreement shall commence on the Effective Date and, unless terminated earlier in accordance with its terms, shall terminate on January 10, 2008 (the "Initial Term"). Upon expiration of the Initial Term, this Agreement shall automatically renew for successive three-year renewal terms (each a "Renewal Term") unless either Party notifies the other Party in writing at least six (6) months prior to the beginning of the applicable Renewal Term of its decision not to renew. The Initial Term and the Renewal Terms, if any, are collectively referred to in this Agreement as the "Term".

3. Clearing Services.

3.1. Services Provided. Commencing with the Launch Date until the termination of this Agreement, whether at the end of the Initial Term or any Renewal Term, each as specified in Section 2 above, and until expiration of any post-termination obligations, CME shall provide to CBOT the Clearing Services described in Schedule A hereto. The Clearing Services shall be provided by CME with proper and reasonable care in conformance with the standards and procedures by which CME performs such services for its listed contracts, except that trades matched by CBOT shall not be guaranteed until the matched trade record is received by CME. CBOT reserves the right to charge fees for post-trade transactions and related services for CBOT Products even if CME does not now charge a fee for such transactions. Subject to the provisions of Section 3.10 respecting change request procedures and payment of development cost, if applicable, CME agrees to facilitate the implementation of such charges, including providing CBOT access to CME's Exchange Fee System ("EFS"), and to provide CBOT with any necessary data related to such policies and fees. CBOT shall pay CME for any reasonable additional costs it may incur in providing data and other support to CBOT in response to a request authorized by this Section 3.1.

3.2. Operational Policies and Procedures. CME's operational practices, policies and procedures related to implementing and performing Clearing Services, including, without limitation, establishing marking prices that vary from settlement prices submitted by CBOT, where such settlement prices materially deviate from appropriate market prices; the timeline for CME's receipt of information and data necessary to perform the Clearing Services and CME's delivery of information and data to CBOT, Clearing Members and other third parties; data file formats; the manner in which CME makes information available to Clearing Members; and the mechanics of CME's automated delivery processes shall be the same as CME's existing practices, policies and procedures, including the automated delivery system to be developed by CME as provided by Schedule A (collectively, the "Operational Policies and Procedures"), provided that nothing in the Operational Policies and Procedures shall contravene any provision set forth in this Agreement.

3.3. Fungibility and Cross-Margining of CBOT Products. CBOT shall have sole authority to determine (i) whether CBOT Products shall be risk offset against other products pursuant to CME's portfolio margining policies or any cross-margining agreement and (ii) whether CBOT Products shall be made fungible, at the clearing level, against products that are cleared by CME and listed for trading by CME, by another contract market, or by any other entity. CME may accept or reject any risk offset or fungibility arrangement against products traded at CME that may be proposed by CBOT. CME shall support cross-margining of CBOT Products as set forth in Schedule A. CME support for cross-margining arrangements or fungibility of CBOT Products other than as set forth above or in Schedule A shall be subject to the change request procedures set forth in Section 3.10, below.

3.4. Clearing Systems. The systems owned by or licensed to CME that are utilized by CME in connection with providing Clearing Services are referred to herein as the "Clearing Systems." CME shall pay to the appropriate software manufacturers, suppliers and distributors all license fees, royalties, use charges, taxes or other payments associated with the Clearing Systems' intellectual property and technology utilized by CME in providing Clearing Services.

3.5. CME Personnel. CME shall make available, at all times, a sufficient number of individuals who are properly qualified to perform and who will perform the Clearing Services in accordance with this Agreement.

3.6. Cooperation as to Development Work. The Parties acknowledge and agree that, after the Effective Date, they will be engaged in development work as described in Schedule C hereto. The Parties agree to cooperate and use all reasonable efforts to perform the tasks necessary to complete such development work in accordance with the time table set forth in Schedule C. CME shall be primarily responsible for such development work.

3.7. Technical Cooperation. The Parties acknowledge that CME may have to incorporate new equipment into or modify its Clearing Systems in ways that will require testing from time to time. Each Party acknowledges that, in implementing and testing such new equipment or modifications, it may require the technical assistance and cooperation of the other, and both Parties agree to provide such assistance and cooperation. CBOT shall have the obligation of securing any necessary assistance of its third party providers.

3.8. Backup and Disaster Recovery. CME will provide, as a part of the Clearing Services, backup and disaster recovery services and procedures and functions for the Clearing Systems and the Clearing Services using the backup and disaster recovery systems that CME employs for its own contracts.

3.9. CME Modifications. CME may make modifications to the Clearing Systems and Clearing Services on its own initiative and at its own expense as it may reasonably deem necessary or desirable, provided that any such modifications do not (i) materially increase CBOT's total costs of receiving the Clearing Services, (ii) require CBOT to make material changes to its systems, software, or equipment other than with respect to changes made in the ordinary course of business, or (iii) violate the CEA, applicable rules and regulations thereunder, or other applicable CFTC requirements. If any changes desired by CME would violate the conditions described in clauses (i) or (ii) above, CME will obtain CBOT's written consent, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, prior to making any such change.

3.10. Change Requests. CME will make modifications and enhancements to its Clearing Systems at the request and expense of CBOT, where such changes are necessary to provide Clearing Services for a CBOT Product with characteristics significantly different from futures and futures options products traded as of the Effective Date or additional cross margining arrangements, if in CME's sole judgment such changes will not impair functionality or materially increase operational costs. CBOT shall pay a commercially reasonable fee, to be agreed in advance, to cover the cost of all such changes. All such requests will be addressed to a designated representative of CME's clearing house.

3.10.1. CME response to requests. CME shall respond to requests from CBOT concerning modifications or enhancements to the Clearing Services by evaluating the request, including the cost of the requested change and the impact of the requested change upon clearing services provided by CME as to other products and upon CME's technical systems, and providing a response in accordance with this Section to CBOT concerning such request within thirty (30) days of CME's receipt of the request (unless the complexity of the request reasonably requires a longer period, in which case CME shall provide an initial response).

3.10.2. No material concerns. If CME reasonably determines in its sole judgment that the requested change will not materially impair clearing services or materially increase operational costs to CME or CME Clearing Members, CME shall submit to CBOT a reasonably detailed proposal for implementing the change, which need not be binding, and which shall include an estimate of the amount to be paid to CME for the requested change.

3.10.3. Material concerns. If CME reasonably determines in its sole judgment that the requested change will materially impair functionality or materially increase operational costs to CME or CME Clearing Members, CME may, but shall not be required to, submit to CBOT a reasonably detailed proposal for implementing the change, including cost estimates, which need not be binding.

3.10.4. Negotiations in good faith. In any case, the Parties shall negotiate in good faith as to any requested change and the terms of CME's proposal, if any. Any change implemented by CME pursuant to this Section shall be made at the sole expense of CBOT at a commercially reasonable fee or upon any other financial basis to be agreed upon between the Parties. Such financial arrangement may include upfront fees and/or modifications to the fee structure set forth in Schedule B. Except as otherwise agreed between CME and CBOT in a writing that specifically purports to amend this Agreement and is executed by individuals with authority to do so, CME and/or its licensors, as applicable, shall own all right, title and interest in any intellectual property created by the Parties in connection with any such implemented change that is used by CME in connection with providing Clearing Services. CME will grant CBOT a license covering its free use of its contribution to any intellectual property developed by CME.

3.11. Assistance with Regulatory Matters. CME agrees to actively participate in, and make available sufficient human and technical resources for, any submissions or presentations to, or meetings or discussions with, the staff of the CFTC respecting CME's provision of Clearing Services for CBOT Products. If CME reasonably determines that CME's active participation in such submissions, presentations, meetings or discussions with the CFTC may result in the disclosure of CME's confidential or proprietary information, CBOT will cooperate with CME to secure appropriate nondisclosure and confidentiality commitments from the CFTC prior to requiring CME's active participation in any such submissions, presentations, meetings or discussions.

4. CBOT Payment of Fees and Expenses.

4.1. Generally. CBOT will pay fees for the Clearing Services provided by CME in accordance with this Agreement as set forth in Schedule B hereto.

4.2. Invoicing. CME shall invoice CBOT and CBOT shall pay such invoices as provided in Schedule B. If CME does not receive any payment from CBOT in time required by schedule B, CME shall notify CBOT thereof and, if CBOT fails to pay such amount within fifteen (15) days of CBOT's receipt of such notice, CME may declare CBOT in Material Breach of this Agreement and may thereafter exercise its rights set forth in Section 10.1 below.

4.3. Initial Development Fee. CBOT shall reimburse CME for start-up costs incurred by CME in connection with preparations to perform its obligations under this Agreement up to a maximum amount of $2 million. CME's start-up costs may include, without limitation, costs associated with hardware purchased; software purchased, licensed, or developed internally; additional office space and other equipment required to support CME's operations on behalf of CBOT; and CME employee, consultant and independent contractor time billed either at an actual rate per hour or reasonable average rate per hour (including reasonable benefits costs and allocation of overhead). Such start-up costs incurred by CME shall be reimbursed by CBOT and such payments shall be non-refundable, without regard to termination of this Agreement for any reason. Such costs shall be billed monthly and promptly paid.

4.4. CBOT Costs of Formatting Data. CBOT shall be responsible for and bear any costs of formatting trading data for use by its compliance and surveillance systems.

5. CME Intellectual Property.

5.1. CME Ownership. Subject to any different agreement between the Parties pursuant to Section 3.10.4, CME and its licensors, as applicable, shall have sole and exclusive ownership of all right, title and interest in and to the intellectual property and technology developed or used by CME in connection with providing Clearing Services. No provision of this Agreement shall be construed to bind or obligate CME in any way to develop, make further enhancements to or maintain any current or future version of the Clearing 21® system software or any of the Clearing Systems, provided that CME agrees that it will provide to CBOT the same Clearing Services utilizing the same systems CME applies to clearing the futures and options contracts traded on CME.

5.2. CBOT Ownership of Data. As between CBOT and CME, any and all trading data, surveillance records, investigation reports and other similar data or information created, generated, collected, or processed by CME in the performance of the Clearing Services ("CBOT Data") is and will remain the sole property of CBOT, and CME will and hereby does, without additional consideration, assign to CBOT any and all right, title and interest that CME may now or hereafter possess in and to the CBOT Data. Except as provided below, CBOT Data will not be utilized by CME for any purpose other than the performance of Clearing Services under this Agreement and will not be sold, assigned, leased or otherwise transferred, disposed of or provided to third parties by CME or commercially exploited by or on behalf of CME.

5.3. CME Delivery of CBOT Data. CME will promptly retrieve and deliver to CBOT a copy of all CBOT Data (or such portions as will be specified by CBOT), in the format and on the media reasonably prescribed by CBOT, at CBOT's reasonable request from time to time. Upon termination of this Agreement or at the completion of any requested Transition Clearing Services (whichever is later), if requested by CBOT, CME will destroy or securely erase all copies of the CBOT Data in CME's possession or under CME's control, except that CME may retain copies of such CBOT Data for its appropriate regulatory and surveillance purposes.

5.4. Protection of CBOT Data. CME will take those measures that CME takes to protect its own most confidential data of like kind, but not less than reasonable measures: (i) to preserve the security of the CBOT Data; (ii) to prevent unauthorized access to or modification of any CBOT Data; and (iii) to establish and maintain environmental, safety, facility and data security procedures and other safeguards against destruction, loss, alteration or theft of, or unauthorized access to, any CBOT Data.

5.5. CME Use of CBOT Data. Notwithstanding CBOT's ownership of CBOT Data as described above, CME shall be free to use CBOT Data with respect to the performance of the Clearing Services.

6. CBOT Contracts Subject to Clearing Services

6.1. Launch Date. On the Launch Date, CME shall commence clearing of all CBOT Products.

6.2. CBOT Products. Except as otherwise specified in this Agreement, all CBOT Products shall be subject to this Agreement and shall be cleared by CME, including any futures and options contracts traded at CME that CBOT also determines to list for trading. However, if a new CBOT Product requires changes to the Clearing Systems, Section 3.10 shall govern the timing of CME's response to a notification by CBOT of such requested change. Products other than futures and futures options products may be cleared by CME as CBOT Products under this Agreement only by mutual written agreement of the Parties.

6.3. Notification to CME. CBOT shall notify CME of the classes and maturity dates of the CBOT Products that it intends to list for trading in accordance with the Operational Policies and Procedures. CBOT shall also submit to CME in advance of listing any CBOT Product a copy of the contract specifications for the product, and shall provide CME advance notice thereafter of any changes in contract specifications for the product.

6.4. Replica CBOT Products. CME may offer and provide its clearing services to any exchange that lists for trading any product, including CBOT Core Products where the underlying deliverable commodity is the same or substantially the same as in a CBOT Core Product ("Replica CBOT Products"). If CME determines to provide clearing services for Replica CBOT Products traded or executed on any exchange other than CBOT, CME will notify CBOT at the time CME agrees to provide clearing services for, or thirty (30) days before CME begins clearing, such Replica CBOT Products, whichever is sooner. CBOT thereafter shall have ninety (90) days following receipt of such notice to determine whether to terminate this Agreement without penalty in light of such CME decision.

6.5. Notices. Notwithstanding Section 19.5, notices required under this Section 6 may be delivered by e-mail or through any other electronic method to which the Parties agree as a part of their operational discussions.

7. Admission of CBOT Clearing Members.

7.1. Generally. CME shall admit as Special CME Clearing Members all firms, including sole proprietorships, that were CBOT Clearing Members as of the Effective Date. CME shall also admit as Special CME Clearing Members any firms that become CBOT Clearing Members after the Effective Date if such firms meet CME's requirements for clearing members other than requirements respecting ownership of CME memberships or CME common stock. CBOT Clearing Members admitted as Special CME Clearing Members pursuant to this Agreement shall be authorized to clear CBOT Products, to the extent permitted by CBOT as of the Effective Date. The rights of such individuals or firms as Special CME Clearing Members may not be assigned or transferred voluntarily or by operation of law. For the avoidance of doubt, Special CME Clearing Members shall be permitted to clear other products cleared by CME only to the extent permitted by CME.

7.2. Process for Admission. Following the Effective Date, CME shall, in consultation with CBOT, adopt rules for the admission of CBOT Clearing Members as Special CME Clearing Members. Any CBOT Clearing Member admitted as a Special CME Clearing Member pursuant to Section 7.1 of this Agreement or under the rules adopted pursuant to this Section 7.2 shall be considered to be admitted pursuant to this Agreement and shall be subject to all of the rules, requirements and obligations of CME's clearing house, other than admission requirements, including ownership of CME memberships or CME common stock, and capital rules, except as hereinafter provided in this Section 7.

7.3. Minimum Capital Rules. Any CBOT Clearing Member that is operating in compliance as of the Effective Date, and that continues to remain in compliance through the Launch Date, with the Board of Trade Clearing Corporation ("BOTCC") rules respecting initial or admission capital requirements that are in effect on the Effective Date shall be deemed to be in compliance with CME minimum capital rules on the Launch Date. After that date, CME may increase or decrease the capital requirements for any Special CME Clearing Member on an individualized basis if the Special CME Clearing Member's risk profile changes materially, provided that CME may not, in any event, treat Special CME Clearing Members as a class or group for these purposes. To the extent any Special CME Clearing Member that is not also a CME Clearing Member is required by CME to increase its minimum capital, such increase may be achieved through the acquisition of additional CBOT memberships.

7.4. Provisions for CBOT Clearing Members Joining After the Effective Date. Any CBOT Clearing Member that was not a CBOT Clearing Member as of the Effective Date, but that becomes a Special CME Clearing Member thereafter, shall be subject to the following provisions with respect to capital requirements: (i) the CME capital requirement for such Special CME Clearing Member will be equivalent to the BOTCC requirement that would have applied to such CBOT Clearing Member if it had been a CBOT Clearing Member on the Effective Date, but (ii) CME may in its discretion require such Special CME Clearing Member to hold additional assets in an aggregate value equal to the difference between the CME minimum capital requirement and the BOTCC capital requirement described in clause (i) above. If CME requires a Special CME Clearing Member to hold additional assets as set forth in clause (ii) above, the assets allowed to be held in satisfaction of such requirement shall include CBOT memberships.

7.5. Special Rules for CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Members. Any CBOT Clearing Member that is a sole proprietorship ("CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Member") as of the Effective Date, admitted as a Special CME Clearing Member pursuant to this Section 7, shall be excused from compliance with the CME minimum capital rules for the Initial Term of this Agreement, and shall be subject to no other minimum capital requirements imposed by CME provided that such CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Member (i) was in compliance with the BOTCC rules respecting initial or admission capital requirements that are in effect on the Effective Date, (ii) continues to operate in compliance with such BOTCC rules that were in effect on the Effective Date, and (iii) does not materially change its risk profile (in which case a change in minimum capital requirements by CME shall be subject to the provisions of Section 7.3). Any other CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Member admitted as a Special CME Clearing Member shall be subject to special CME minimum capital rules that shall be agreed to by CME and CBOT. After the Initial Term of this Agreement has expired, all CBOT Sole Proprietorship Clearing Members shall be subject to those special capital rules.

7.6. Lien on CBOT Memberships. Each CBOT Clearing Member admitted hereunder as a Special CME Clearing Member shall execute in favor of CME a lien against the CBOT membership interests required to be held by CBOT for clearing status, as of the Effective Date, to qualify as a CBOT Clearing Member or otherwise required to be held under Section 7.4. The lien shall be the first lien against such membership interests following release of any prior lien held by BOTCC, which release shall be requested by the CBOT Clearing Member promptly following the Launch Date. Each Special CME Clearing Member will be subject to a requirement to continue to hold at least the same number of CBOT memberships that CBOT required such Special CME Clearing Member to hold for clearing member status as of the Effective Date.

7.7. Audit of Non-FCM CBOT Clearing Members. CBOT shall periodically audit its Clearing Members that are not futures commission merchants ("FCMs") and shall promptly share the results with CME's clearing house.

8. Transfer of CBOT Open Interest.

8.1. CBOT Rules. Promptly following the execution of this Agreement, CBOT shall draft and submit to the CFTC for approval rules that provide for the clearing of CBOT Products at the CME clearing house, to the extent provided herein, and rules that will facilitate the transfer of open interest in CBOT Products from BOTCC to CME. CBOT shall use its best efforts to ensure that such rules are approved by the CFTC reasonably in advance of the Launch Date, and CME shall use its best efforts to provide such assistance as CBOT may request in securing such approval.

8.2. CME Rules. Promptly following the execution of this Agreement, CME shall draft and submit to the CFTC for approval rules that provide for the clearing of CBOT Products at the CME clearing house, to the extent provided herein, and that will facilitate the transfer of open interest in CBOT Products from BOTCC to CME. CME shall use its best efforts to ensure that such rules are approved by the CFTC reasonably in advance of the Launch Date, and CBOT shall use its best efforts to provide such assistance as CME may request in securing such approval.

8.3. CME Margining of Positions. CME shall margin the positions so transferred prior to the opening of trading in CBOT Products on the Launch Date, and the relevant Special CME Clearing Members shall be required to post the necessary performance bonds.

8.4. CBOT Clearing Members. CME may require that, in order to participate in the transfer of open interest described in this Section, CBOT Clearing Members that intend to become Special CME Clearing Members have completed CME's application process for Special CME Clearing Member status, have contributed to CME's security deposit pool, and have established appropriate banking relationships by a date certain prior to the Launch Date.

9. Network Interconnections Between CBOT and CME

9.1. Facilities. CME shall establish and maintain an appropriate router or routers at CBOT for the purposes of (i) delivering data to CME for clearing purposes, (ii) delivering data to CBOT for regulatory purposes, and (iii) exchanging data between the Parties for all other purposes required by this Agreement and the Schedules hereto. CME shall establish and maintain appropriate telecommunications circuits between CBOT and CME as necessary to handle message flow and data delivery as set forth above. CBOT shall provide computer room floor space and inside wiring for such routers and shall provide CME or any telecommunications provider with which it contracts for such services reasonable access for maintenance and testing purposes.

9.2. Outsourcing Permitted. CME may fulfill its obligation to establish and maintain the routers and telecommunications circuits described in Section 9.1 through appropriate contractual arrangements with telecommunications service providers and/or other technology service providers.

9.3. Financial Terms. CBOT shall be responsible for paying, via reimbursement to CME or direct billing, all third party or other direct costs (not to include CME employee or CME independent contractor time) associated with the establishment and maintenance of the telecommunications circuits and routers described in Section 9.1, provided that (i) where CME has a negotiated rate with an applicable telecommunications provider, CME shall attempt to secure for CBOT any preferential rate available under such contract, and (ii) in no event shall the amounts paid by CBOT under this Section exceed the published tariff rate of the applicable telecommunications provider. Unless CME arranges for CBOT to be billed directly by the applicable telecommunications provider, CME shall submit to CBOT an invoice for reimbursement of fees or other third-party costs actually paid by CME, and CBOT shall pay CME such amounts no later than the final business day of the calendar month following the month in which CME invoices CBOT.

10. Breach of Agreement; Termination.

10.1. Breach of Agreement; Termination for Unexcused Breach. If either Party is in breach of this Agreement, the non-breaching Party shall be required to provide written notice specifying such breach to the other Party, within five (5) business days of becoming aware of such breach, prior to submitting any Dispute Notice under Section 19.4 or exercising any right to terminate as set forth in this Section 10.1. The breaching Party shall have thirty (30) days from receipt of such notice to cure such breach. If the breaching Party cures such breach within such 30-day period, the right of termination or to submit a Dispute Notice shall expire and the breaching Party shall not be subject to any further remedy or liability in respect of such breach. If the breaching Party does not cure such breach within such 30-day period, the following remedies apply: (i) if the breach is a Material Breach, such breach shall be deemed an "Unexcused Breach" and the non-breaching Party shall have thirty (30) days during which to [] and (ii) if the breach is not a Material Breach, the non-breaching Party shall have thirty (30) days during which to [] For the avoidance of doubt, if this Agreement is not terminated by the end of any such thirty 30-day period permitting termination, it shall continue according to its terms.

10.2. Bankruptcy. Either Party may terminate this Agreement immediately upon the occurrence of any of the following events affecting the other Party:

10.2.1. Insolvency. The other Party admits its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or makes an assignment of substantially all of its assets for the benefit of its creditors;

10.2.2. Bankruptcy Filed. A proceeding in bankruptcy or for the reorganization of the other Party or for the readjustment of its debts, under the United States Bankruptcy Code or any other State or Federal law for the relief of debtors now or hereafter existing, is commenced by or against the other Party and is not discharged within sixty (60) days of commencement; or

10.2.3. Receiver Appointed. A receiver or trustee is appointed in a bankruptcy proceeding for the other Party or for any substantial part of its assets, or any proceedings are instituted for the dissolution or the full or partial liquidation of such Party, and such receiver or trustee is not discharged within sixty (60) days of his or her appointment or such proceedings are not discharged within sixty (60) days of their commencement, as the case may be.

10.3. Liquidated Damages. []

10.4. []

10.5. CME Termination If Rules Not Approved. If the CFTC fails to approve the rules that will allow CME to perform the Clearing Services by July 15, 2003, then CME may, within thirty (30) days at its sole discretion, terminate this Agreement (by August 15, 2003) by written notice to CBOT, without application of any cure period, unless the CFTC has approved such rules before CME exercises its right to terminate. Termination by CME pursuant hereto shall not constitute a breach by either Party. If CME does not exercise its right to terminate, then the Agreement shall continue according to its terms.

10.6. Legal Or Regulatory Matters. If either Party is precluded from performing its obligations under the Agreement by statute, regulation or legal action of any governmental agency, including failure of the CFTC to approve necessary rules (including rules necessary to transfer the open interest) by the Launch Date, either Party may terminate this Agreement by written notice, without application of any cure period, and upon such termination both Parties shall be excused, without penalty or liquidated damages, from any further performance under the Agreement. If the Parties elect not to terminate this Agreement, they shall renegotiate in good faith the Launch Date, the Initial Term and payment of CME's costs of continuing to be prepared to begin performance under this Agreement.

10.7. [] If CBOT fails to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement because it is [] However, if CBOT's failure to perform is [] In such case CME shall provide written notice of its intent to terminate, and CBOT shall have [] CBOT shall exert its best efforts to permit CME to intervene or otherwise participate in any action that might result in an injunction barring performance by either Party of its obligations under this Agreement.

10.8. CME Provision of Clearing Services for Replica CBOT Products. Section 6.4 shall govern the respective rights of the parties if CME notifies CBOT that CME will offer clearing services for Replica CBOT Products.

10.9. Inability to Meet Launch Date. If CME's provision of services under this Agreement on the Launch Date is deficient to an extent that prevents CBOT from operating its exchange for a substantial portion of the trading day on the Launch Date due solely or primarily to failures or problems that were within CME's ability to prevent or mitigate, failure to perform shall be CME's responsibility and shall constitute a Material Breach by CME. In such case, within five (5) business days thereafter CBOT may either (i) seek to terminate this Agreement by exercising its rights as set forth in Section 10.1, or (ii) without application of any provision of Section 10.1, including any cure period, file a Dispute Notice and pursue a claim for damages, provided that any such claim for damages shall be subject to the special limitation of liability set forth in the first sentence of Section 15.1. If CME's provision of services under this Agreement on the Launch Date is deficient to an extent that prevents CBOT from operating its exchange for a substantial portion of the trading day on the Launch Date due solely or primarily to failures or problems that were within CBOT's ability to prevent or mitigate, and CBOT failed to prevent or mitigate such failures or problems despite receiving notice from CME concerning the risk of failing to meet the Launch Date, then the failure to perform shall be the responsibility of CBOT and shall constitute a Material Breach by CBOT, which shall trigger CME's rights under Section 10.1. For purposes of this Section 10.9, a failure by CBOT's electronic trade matching facility service provider that was within such service provider's ability to prevent or mitigate shall be deemed a failure by CBOT. In any situation described in this Section 10.9 and throughout any applicable cure period, the Parties shall remain in regular communication concerning the failure at issue, and the breaching Party shall give prompt notice to the other Party if it determines that it will not cure the breach within the cure period.

10.10. Joint Press Release. If either Party terminates this Agreement prior to or immediately following the Launch Date, the Parties shall work together to issue a joint press release and, if appropriate, hold a joint press conference, concerning the termination of the Agreement.

10.11. Break-up Fees Reasonable. The Parties agree that the liquidated damages and break-up fees set forth in this Section 10 represent a reasonable measure of damages to CME or CBOT, as the case may be, under the circumstances resulting in such termination. The Parties agree that calculating the measure of damages to either Party under the circumstances under which break-up fees are to be paid would be extremely difficult given the complexities of the business arrangements, the uncertainty of the revenues to be earned by either Party through the arrangements set forth in this Agreement, and the uncertainty of the value of opportunities that will have been lost by the terminating Party under the circumstances.

10.12. Action for Damages. For the avoidance of doubt, either Party may bring an action for damages against the other Party alleging any breach of this Agreement (except where an alleged breach has been cured, as described in Section 10.1) in lieu of invoking any right to terminate and receive agreed liquidated damages as described in any provision of Section 10. Any such action for damages shall be subject to the applicable limitation of liability set forth in Section 15.1 or Section 15.2.

11. Limited Right to Continuance of Clearing Services. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, upon termination of this Agreement for any reason, if CBOT is unable to engage another entity prepared and able to provide services comparable to the Clearing Services on commercially reasonable terms, CBOT shall have the right to require that CME continue providing any or all of the Clearing Services, as set forth below. For the avoidance of doubt, pricing terms generally shall be deemed commercially reasonable, and alternate services generally shall be deemed comparable, if such terms and services are reasonably similar to those accepted by other parties receiving services from other clearing services providers.

11.1. Six-Month Continuation Period. In the event that (i) this Agreement is terminated by CME as a result of an Unexcused Breach by CBOT, (ii) CBOT elects not to renew this Agreement pursuant to Section 2 above, or (iii) this Agreement is terminated for any other reason except those described in Section 11.2, CBOT may require that CME continue to provide Clearing Services after the termination of this Agreement or expiration of the Initial Term or Renewal Term of this Agreement, as the case may be, for 180 days.

11.2. One-Year Continuation Period. In the event that (i) this Agreement is terminated by CBOT as a result of an Unexcused Breach by CME, (ii) this Agreement is terminated by CBOT pursuant to Section 6.4, or (iii) CME elects not to renew this Agreement pursuant to Section 2 above, CBOT may require that CME continue providing Clearing Services after the termination or expiration date, as the case may be, for up to one (1) year.

11.3. Payment of Fees. In the event that CBOT requires CME to continue to provide all or substantially all of the Clearing Services pursuant to this Section 11, CBOT shall pay CME for these Clearing Services at the fees set forth in Schedule B. In the event that this Agreement is terminated by CME for nonpayment of fees, bankruptcy or insolvency, or if CBOT fails to timely pay fees during the continuation period, CME shall not be required to continue to provide Clearing Services unless CBOT pays CME monthly in advance for the continued provision of such Clearing Services based upon a reasonable estimate of the amounts likely to be due in respect of each month. CME agrees to credit back to CBOT any estimated amounts paid by CBOT that are later determined to be over-payments by CBOT.

11.4. Notice to CME. If CBOT elects to require the continuation of any Clearing Services under this Section 11, then CBOT shall give at least ninety (90) days prior written notice to CME of the date for cessation of such continuation of Clearing Services.

11.5. Hold Over by CBOT. If CBOT is unable to transfer to another provider of clearing services at the conclusion of any of the periods provided above for the limited continuation of Clearing Services, CME shall continue to provide the Clearing Services. During the period that CME provides clearing services under this Section 11.5, CBOT shall pay a fee of [] plus all additional costs incurred by reason of CBOT's failure to transfer to another DCO, including without limitation any necessary retention bonuses or employment benefits or fees, in addition to the fees set forth in Schedule B, for each month that it holds over.

11.6. Continuation is Not Renewal. Continuation of Clearing Services under this Section 11 shall not be deemed a renewal of this Agreement under Section 2 beyond the termination date.

12. Transition Clearing Services. In connection with the termination of this Agreement for any reason or expiration of the Initial Term or Renewal Term of this Agreement, as the case may be, and in order to assist CBOT in terminating the Clearing Services and transitioning such services to another entity in an orderly manner, CME shall, if and as requested by CBOT, provide the following services (the "Transition Clearing Services"):

12.1. Transition Plan. CME and CBOT shall cooperate to prepare a transition plan setting forth the respective tasks to be accomplished by each Party in connection with the transition and a schedule pursuant to which such tasks are to be completed;

12.2. Necessary Date. CME shall provide CBOT with all data and other information maintained by CME necessary to transfer responsibility for providing the Clearing Services to another entity as of the date services are no longer rendered by CME and all hardcopy records relating to other CBOT Data maintained by CME, except that CME may retain copies of such data and other information for its appropriate regulatory and surveillance purposes; Such data and other information shall be provided to CBOT on magnetic tape or such other storage medium, and in such format, reasonably acceptable to CBOT;

12.3. Transfer of Positions. CME shall transfer any open positions in CBOT Products from CME to the new DCO selected by CBOT in accordance with directions CME shall receive from CBOT for such transfer; and 12.4. Reimbursement of Costs. CBOT shall pay or reimburse CME for any and all costs ("Transition Costs") reasonably and actually incurred by CME that are directly attributable to providing Transition Clearing Services in accordance with this Section 12 (with the rates for any CME employees used to perform such Clearing Services reasonably reflecting CME's fully loaded costs with respect to such employees, plus a commercially reasonable profit margin); provided that CME shall act in good faith and use commercially reasonable efforts to minimize and mitigate any Transition Costs.

13. Confidentiality.

13.1. Generally. CBOT and CME each acknowledges that it will receive during the term of this Agreement confidential or proprietary information of the other Party relating to the Clearing Services and Clearing Systems. (All such information is collectively referred to in this Agreement as "Proprietary Business Information.") Materials embodying such information and within the scope of this Section 13.1 shall bear reasonable legends to such effect to the extent appropriate. Each Party agrees to take reasonable steps to maintain the confidentiality of the Proprietary Business Information of the other Party, and each Party agrees to use such information only in connection with the performance of its obligations and the exercise of its rights under this Agreement and for appropriate regulatory and surveillance purposes. In the event that this Agreement is terminated for any reason, each Party agrees that it shall use reasonable efforts to return to the other Party or destroy all Proprietary Business Information of the other Party in its possession in tangible form and that it shall not knowingly retain any copies thereof, except that each Party may retain copies of the other Party's Proprietary Business Information for its appropriate regulatory and surveillance purposes.

13.2. Exclusions. In no event shall the provisions of this Section 13 apply to any information that: (i) was rightfully known to the receiving Party prior to its receipt from the disclosing Party, or becomes rightfully known to the receiving Party other than as a result of the relationship between the Parties pursuant to this Agreement; (ii) is or becomes public knowledge through no fault of the receiving Party; (iii) is disclosed to the receiving Party by a third Party with the right to disclose the information without restriction or subject to restrictions to which the receiving Party has conformed; or (iv) is independently developed by the receiving Party without use of any confidential or proprietary information of the disclosing Party. Notwithstanding anything in Section 13.1 above to the contrary, each Party may disclose any Proprietary Business Information received by it to the extent that it is required by subpoena or other order of court, law or other regulation, or required or requested by any governmental or regulatory authority having jurisdiction or required pursuant to an information sharing agreement, rule, or policy with another self-regulatory body, to furnish such Proprietary Business Information to any third Party, or as otherwise permitted in this Agreement; provided that, in any such case, the receiving Party shall provide the disclosing Party with prompt notice thereof so that the disclosing Party may seek an appropriate protective order. In the absence of a protective order, if the receiving Party is nonetheless, in the opinion of its counsel, compelled to furnish Proprietary Business Information to any third Party or else stand liable for contempt or suffer other censure or penalty, such Party may furnish such information without liability under this Section 13 or otherwise.

14. Force Majeure. Each Party shall be excused from performance under this Agreement and shall have no liability to the other Party to the extent that, and for any period during which, it is prevented from performing any of its obligations hereunder as a result of any act, or failure to act, of the other Party or by an act of God, war, civil disturbance, act of terrorism, court order (except as provided in Section 10), or other cause beyond its reasonable control (including, without limitation, failures or fluctuations in the electrical or mechanical equipment, communication lines, heat, light or telecommunications, in each case to the extent beyond its reasonable control), provided that each party agrees to apply fully its disaster recovery system to minimize any reduction in service it has agreed to provide under this Agreement.

15. Liability Limits; Indemnification.

15.1. CME. In any action brought by CBOT against CME, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, alleging a Material Breach by CME of Section 10.9, and any continuing deficiency, CME's liability to CBOT for consequential damages, excluding punitive damages, caused by CME's failure to provide Clearing Services under this Agreement shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $30,000,000. In any other action brought by CBOT against CME, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, CME's liability to CBOT under this Agreement shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $10,000,000, provided that in the event CBOT exercises its right to terminate this Agreement under Section 10.1 and receives $10,000,000 in liquidated damages, CBOT shall have no other claim for money damages against CME and CBOT shall retain its right to continued and transitional clearing services in accordance with Sections 11 and 12 of this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, but subject to the provisions of Section 16 below, CME shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless CBOT and its directors, officers, employees and agents, in accordance with the procedures described in Section 16.1 below, from and against any and all losses, liabilities, damages and claims, and all related costs and expenses (including without limitation reasonable attorneys' fees), arising from the willful misconduct on the part of CME, its directors, officers, employees or agents.

15.2. CBOT. In any action brought by CME against CBOT, whether in contract, tort or otherwise, CBOT's liability to CME under this Agreement shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $10,000,000, provided that in the event CME exercises its right to terminate this Agreement under Section 10.1 and receives the liquidated damages specified in that Section 10, CME shall have no other claim for money damages against CBOT. The liability limits provided for in this Section 15.2 shall not apply to liability of CBOT to CME to pay fees owed to CME hereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, but subject to the provisions of Section 16 below, CBOT shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless CME and its directors, officers, employees and agents, in accordance with the procedures described in Section 16.1 below, from and against any and all losses, liabilities, damages and claims, and all related costs and expenses (including without limitation reasonable attorneys' fees), arising from the willful misconduct on the part of CBOT, its directors, officers, employees or agents.

16. Indemnity

16.1. Procedure. If any third Party notifies either Party (the "Indemnified Party") with respect to any matter which may give rise to a claim for indemnification against the other Party (the "Indemnifying Party"), then the Indemnified Party shall promptly notify the Indemnifying Party thereof; provided, however, that no delay on the part of the Indemnified Party in notifying the Indemnifying Party shall relieve the Indemnifying Party from any liability or obligation hereunder, except to the extent (if any) that the Indemnifying Party is damaged by such delay. If the Indemnifying Party notifies the Indemnified Party that it is assuming the defense of any claim:

16.1.1. Defense of Claim. The Indemnifying Party shall defend the Indemnified Party against such claim with counsel of its choice reasonably satisfactory to the Indemnified Party;

16.1.2. Separate Co-counsel Permitted. The Indemnified Party may retain separate co-counsel at its sole cost and expense (except that the Indemnifying Party shall be responsible for the fees and expenses of the separate co-counsel to the extent that the Indemnified Party concludes reasonably that the counsel the Indemnifying Party has selected has a conflict of interest);

16.1.3. Consent Decree or Settlement. The Indemnified Party shall not, without foregoing the benefits of this Section 16.1, consent to the entry of any judgment or enter into any settlement with respect to such claim without the prior written consent of the Indemnifying Party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed; and

16.1.4. Full Release. The Indemnifying Party shall not consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to the matter or enter into any settlement which does not include a provision whereby the plaintiff or claimant releases the Indemnified Party from any and all responsibility and liability with respect to such claim, without the prior written consent of the Indemnified Party.

17. Consequential and Punitive Damages. The Parties have agreed on liquidated damages for various beaches that are the basis for a Party's exercise of its right to terminate this Agreement under certain provisions, and the Parties have also agreed to the liability limits set forth in Section 15. Except with respect to consequential damages authorized under the first sentence of Section 15.1 and an action for indemnification under the last sentence of Section 15.1 and the last sentence of Section 15.2, neither Party shall be liable for, nor will the measure of damages include, any punitive or special damages or amounts for loss of income or profits, even if such damages were foreseeable.

18. Public Announcements.

18.1. Requirements Generally. CME and CBOT each agree that it will not issue any public announcement concerning CME's provision of Clearing Services, the terms of this Agreement, the negotiations between CME and CBOT leading up to and following the execution of this Agreement, or any other matter related in any way to this Agreement that, for each Party, involves the other Party, without (i) consulting with the other Party prior to issuing the announcement so that such announcements may be issued jointly, if appropriate; (ii) providing the other Party an advance copy of the proposed press release or other announcement not later than three (3) business days prior to its release; and (iii) in the case of public appearances by directors, officers or other officials associated with a Party at which any of the foregoing matters are likely to be discussed, providing advance notice to the other Party of such appearance and, if possible, extending an invitation to the other Party for a representative of its own to be included in such appearance.

18.2. Definition. For purposes of this Section, a "public announcement" shall include, without limitation, (i) any press release, press statement or press conference, (ii) any brochures or notices to be delivered or made available to the public generally (including marketing materials), and (iii) any notice to be circulated to Clearing Members or Market Participants, that, in each case, includes or may include material information that has not previously been released about the terms of or negotiations surrounding this Agreement or the relationship between CME and CBOT that is established through this Agreement.

18.3. Joint Press Releases, Statements and Conferences. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Parties shall use their best efforts to ensure that any press release, press statement or press conference the primary topic of which concerns this Agreement or the relationship between CME and CBOT shall be a joint press release, press statement or press conference.

19. Miscellaneous.

19.1. Benefits of Agreement. This Agreement shall be binding upon, and inure to the benefit of, the Parties hereto and their respective successors. Except to the extent provided in Sections 15.1 and 15.2 above with respect to the directors, officers, employees and agents of CBOT and CME, respectively, nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, shall give to any other person or entity any benefit or any legal or equitable right or remedy.

19.2. Waiver. Except as expressly provided herein, neither Party shall, by mere lapse of time, without giving notice or taking any other action, be deemed to have waived any breach by the other Party of any of the provisions of this Agreement.

19.3. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Illinois (other than the laws thereof that would require reference to the laws of any other jurisdiction).

19.4. Dispute Resolution. A Party shall not commence a litigation proceeding against the other Party unless that Party first gives written notice to the other Party setting forth the nature of the dispute ("Dispute Notice"). The Parties shall attempt in good faith to resolve the dispute by mediation with a mediator selected by mutual agreement of the Parties. If the Parties cannot agree on the selection of a mediator within twenty (20) days after delivery of the Dispute Notice, or if the dispute has not been resolved by mediation as provided by this Section 19.4 within sixty (60) days after the delivery of the Dispute Notice, then either Party may commence litigation. The state courts of the County of Cook, Illinois and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois shall have the exclusive jurisdiction over any and all litigated claims arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the subject matter hereof. Each of the Parties hereby irrevocably (i) submits to the personal jurisdiction of such courts over such Party in connection with any litigation, proceeding or other legal action arising out of or in connection with this Agreement or the subject matter hereof, (ii) waives to the fullest extent permitted by law any objection to the venue of any such litigation, proceeding or action which is brought in any such court, and (iii) agrees to the mailing of service of process to the address specified below for such Party as an alternative method of service of process in any legal proceeding brought in any such court.

19.5. Notices. All communications or notices required or permitted to be given under this Agreement shall be sufficiently given for all purposes hereunder if given in writing and (i) delivered personally, (ii) deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid and return receipt requested, (iii) delivered by a recognized document overnight delivery service or (iv) sent by telecopy, facsimile or other electronic transmission service (provided a confirmation of delivery is received). All notices delivered in accordance with this Section 19.5 shall be sent to the appropriate address or facsimile number set forth below, or to such other address or facsimile number or to the attention of such other person as the recipient Party may have specified by prior written notice to the sending Party.

19.6. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is deemed to be illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, (i) such provision shall be deemed to be severable from the remainder of this Agreement, (ii) the effect of such determination shall be limited to such provision to the extent reasonably practicable, and

(iii) the validity, legality and enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

19.7. Amendments. No provision of this Agreement may be amended, modified, supplemented or waived, except by an agreement in writing executed and delivered by authorized representatives of both Parties.

19.8. Entire Agreement. This Agreement, including the Schedules hereto, constitutes the entire agreement and understanding, and supersedes any and all prior agreements and understandings, whether written or oral, between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof.

19.9. Relationship of Parties. CME, in providing the Clearing Services, is acting only as an independent contractor. Except as expressly provided in this Agreement or any other agreement to which CME and CBOT are parties, CME does not undertake to perform any obligations of CBOT, whether regulatory or contractual, or to assume any responsibility for the business or operations of CBOT.

19.10. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be an original, but all of which together shall constitute but one and the same instrument.

19.11. Assignment. This Agreement may not be assigned in whole or in part by either Party hereto without the prior written consent of the other Party hereto. CBOT may assign this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder to an entity to which CBOT is selling all or substantially all of its assets without the prior written consent of CME. The consummation of the transactions contemplated by CBOT's proposed restructuring shall not be deemed to be such an assignment or sale for purposes of this Agreement. CME may assign this Agreement and its rights and obligations hereunder, in their entirety, to an entity to which CME is selling all or substantially all of its clearing assets without the prior written consent of CBOT.

19.12. Survival. Following any termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms and the expiration of the post-termination obligations of CME pursuant to Sections 11 and 12 hereof, all obligations hereunder of each Party to the other shall terminate and (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) CME shall have no further obligation to provide Clearing Services to CBOT. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, the provisions of Sections 13, 15, 16 and 17 of this Agreement (including this Section 19.12) shall survive and remain in effect following any termination of this Agreement in accordance with its terms and the expiration of the post-termination obligations of CME.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have caused this Agreement to be executed by their duly authorized representatives as of the date first above written.

EXECUTION COPY

SCHEDULE A
DESCRIPTION OF CLEARING AND SETTLEMENT SERVICES

In accordance with the terms of this Agreement, CME shall provide clearing services as follows with respect to transactions in CBOT Products:

Electronic Trade Acceptance. CME shall accept for clearing and guarantee matched trades submitted to CME by CBOT (or CBOT's electronic trade matching facility service provider) in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time.

Pit Trade Acceptance—Electronic Devices. CME shall receive unmatched trade records submitted to CME by CBOT from electronic pit trading technology devices, and CME shall accept for clearing and guarantee such trades upon matching by CME in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time.

Pit Trade Acceptance—Open Outcry. CME shall receive unmatched trade records submitted to CME by Special CME Clearing Members for trades executed without benefit of electronic pit trading technology devices, and CME shall accept for clearing and guarantee such trades upon matching by CME in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time.

Ex-Pit Trade Acceptance. CME shall receive unmatched trade records submitted to CME by Special CME Clearing Members for ex-pit trades (blocks and EFPs) that are executed in accordance with CBOT rules, and CME shall accept for clearing and guarantee such trades upon payment of initial settlement variation and performance bond by the applicable settlement bank for each party to the transaction, as set forth in the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time.

Requirements for CME Trade Acceptance. In addition to the other requirements that may be set forth in this Agreement, the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures, the following requirements apply to CME's receipt and acceptance for clearing of trades as set forth in this Schedule A:

Origins for Matched and Unmatched Trade Records. CME will support up to four origins for transactions in CBOT Products—house, house market-maker, customer, and customer market-maker—subject to final confirmation by CBOT promptly following the effective date.

Report Formats. Message formats for trade records, including but not limited to, trade registers, out-trade and EQC reports, and brokers' matched and unmatched trade reports shall conform to CME specifications.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION REDACTED AND FILED SEPARATELY WITH THE SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION. OMITTED PORTIONS INDICATED BY [].

Opposite House Switches. CME will not support the current modified contra matching practice currently employed by BOTCC with respect to unmatched trades in CBOT products. However, CME will facilitate matching of unmatched trades by performing automatic opposite house switches for unmatched trades in CBOT products, as CME does for unmatched trades in its own products, in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures. CME will explore the functional requirements for integrating modified contra-matching processes as a possible enhancement after the Launch Date.

SLEDs. CME will not support single-line spread entry functionality ("SLEDs") as of the Launch Date. CME will use reasonable efforts, in consultation with CBOT, to implement SLEDs for transactions in CBOT products by February 20, 2004.

Position Maintenance and Settlement. On a daily basis CME shall calculate and collect original margin, premium and variation margin on futures and options trades and positions in the accounts of Special CME Clearing Members. CME shall settle the gains and losses associated with futures and options trades and positions in the accounts of clearing members at least once each business day, typically twice each business day, and more frequently as CME determines is warranted by market volatility.

CME PCS Process. CME's position change submission (PCS) process will be used for reporting final positions and spreadable positions and to determine each clearing member's final position for margining purposes and for exercise and assignment of options, as well as for determining the exchange open interest to be reported for each business day.

Net Margining of CBOT Products. CME will support net margining of positions in CBOT Products in substantially the same manner as the current procedures employed by BOTCC with respect to performance bond requirements. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CME may adjust formulas for calculating security deposit requirements or assessment of security deposit contributions with respect to net-margined products, as CME in its reasonable discretion deems appropriate in order to fairly and equitably calculate security deposit requirements, given differences between positions subject to gross margining and positions subject to net margining.

SPAN Files. CME will generate and distribute to Special CME Clearing Members' and customers' SPAN files reflecting SPAN margining of positions in CBOT Products. SPAN files will be distributed over the internet and through any other means specified in the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures. CME may generate and distribute joint SPAN files for positions in CBOT Products, CME products and products of any other exchange for which CME provides clearing services or linked clearing.

Authority Over Clearing Firm Margin Requirements. CME will work with CBOT to develop a coordinated performance bond / margin review process such that CME can receive input from CBOT as to performance bond / margin requirements. Such process shall involve monthly meetings with representatives designated by CBOT and will involve data analysis and discussions with respect to how and when to implement changes to clearing firm level performance bond / margin requirements; provided however, that ultimate control over performance bond / margin requirements at the clearing member level shall reside with CME. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CME agrees that determinations by CME with respect to performance bond / margin requirements for CBOT Core Products shall be made strictly on the basis of risk management principles and shall not involve competitive considerations associated with CME products and competing CBOT Products. Additionally, CME shall not recognize clearing member level spreads between CBOT Products and products of any other exchange without the prior written approval of CBOT.

Authority Over Customer Level Requirements. CBOT shall have ultimate control over customer level exchange minimum performance bond / margin and spread requirements, provided that CBOT shall consult with CME as to such requirements as a part of the coordinated review process to be developed between CME and CBOT.

Acceptable Collateral. CME will review the forms of collateral currently accepted by BOTCC that are not currently accepted by CME and, where in CME's judgment such additional forms of collateral are frequently used and not unduly costly or risky to accept, CME will amend the CME Rules to accept such forms of collateral with respect to CBOT Products. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CME will conduct this review process prior to the Launch Date only if time permits.

Transfers. CME shall effect the transfer of positions in CBOT Products between Special CME Clearing Members, where applicable, in accordance with the CME Rules and Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time. Transferred positions will be guaranteed by CME to the transferee only upon payment of initial settlement variation and performance bond by the transferor or the transferee, as applicable.

Give-Up Transactions. CME will make the allocate claim system ("ACS") available to Special CME Clearing Members for processing give-up transactions.

Exercise and Assignment. CME will provide exercise and assignment functionality to Special CME Clearing Members with respect to positions in options products, including at option expiration, as set forth in the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures. CME will not support option expiration processing on Saturdays, and option expiration processing for CBOT Products as of the Launch Date will be completed on Fridays (or another business day, with respect to Friday holidays) in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures.

Deliveries. CME will provide automated support to CBOT in connection with deliveries management of CBOT Products, including inventory of deliverable positions, inventory of deliverable supply, delivery intent processing, delivery assignment, and delivery invoicing, except that CBOT shall maintain responsibility for management and operation of the registration and delivery process. CME will provide automated deliveries support as of the Launch Date of financial and equity CBOT Products that are listed for trading by CBOT as of the Effective Date. CME will use its best efforts to implement automated deliveries support of other CBOT Products that are listed for trading by CBOT as of the Effective Date, including agricultural products, as of the Launch Date or as soon thereafter as is practicable. CME shall provide automated deliveries support for new CBOT Products (or for changed features of existing CBOT Products) listed for trading by CBOT after the Effective Date, provided that the product characteristics permit automation of deliveries management through means substantially similar to those that CME then employs with respect to other products cleared by CME. If significant development work will be required by CME to provide automated deliveries support for such products listed for trading by CBOT after the Effective Date, the work will be subject to the change request procedures set forth in Section 3.10.

Settlement Banks. CME will interface with all banks that serve as settlement banks for transactions in CME products to provide settlement services for transactions in CBOT Products also, provided that such banks agree to serve as settlement banks for transactions in CBOT Products. Additionally, CME will use best efforts to establish a settlement bank relationship with Lakeside Bank and, as appropriate, Burling Bank, prior to the Launch Date.

Large Trader Reports. CME will collect on CBOT's behalf the large trader submissions from Special CME Clearing Members or their clients and forward such submissions to the CFTC and to CBOT for regulatory purposes. The CME clearing house shall be authorized to use this data to perform the type of account level stress testing it performs on its own products to identify concentration of client exposure at a clearing member. CME shall facilitate reporting of large trader data for CBOT products by accepting transmissions of such data in standard formats. CME shall construct an application that maintains a database of firms, customer accounts, and EINs (the term CBOT uses for the number used to aggregate customer accounts by beneficial owner). For each reported position, the application shall search in the database by the firm and customer account: a) if the firm and customer account is found, the application shall tag the position with the EIN for it; and b) if the firm and customer account is not found, the application shall assign the EIN, using CBOT's standard convention, and tag the position with the newly-assigned EIN. The application shall then prepare a datafile of reported positions for transmission to CBOT, with each position tagged with its EIN. The application shall further provide CBOT staff with an interface for viewing and modifying the EIN assigned to a particular firm and customer account. CBOT shall provide an initial datafile or files for loading this application with its existing EINs and their associated firm and customer accounts. CME shall prepare position limit reports against the large trader data for provision to CBOT. Other than these enumerated processes, all responsibility for large trader reporting analysis and other larger trader-related functions remains with CBOT.

Calculation and Collection of Fees. CME will calculate, bill and collect clearing fees from Special CME Clearing Members for transactions in CBOT Products, using the transaction types for which CME currently bills clearing members with respect to transactions in its own products. The rate billed will be determined by CBOT for the fee for initial cleared transactions, including block trades, EFPs and other alternative execution procedures, and by CME for post-trade transaction types (including, without limitation, give-ups, transfers, option exercise and assignment, and deliveries).

Operational Timeline. Except as otherwise set forth in the CME Rules or the Operational Policies and Procedures, the operational timeline for clearing services and submission of reports for transactions and positions in CBOT Products shall be the same as it is with respect to transactions and positions for CME products. CME anticipates using single, combined clearing process cycles for both CME products and CBOT Products. Consequently, CME's deadlines and requirements shall apply with respect to processes including, but not limited to, trade report submission deadlines, out-trade report production, final reconciliation and option exercise deadlines, mark-to-market and settlement cycles (including intra-day cycles), collateral substitution and withdrawal deadlines, and pay/collect procedures.

Support for Existing and Future CBOT Product Characteristics. Subject to any specific limitations set forth in this Schedule A or elsewhere in this Agreement, in providing the Clearing Services CME will develop systems and adopt practices as necessary to support the product features and characteristics of CBOT products as they are listed for trading as of the Effective Date, including, without limitation, fractional price formats and variable cabinet pricing. CME shall similarly support new product features and characteristics of existing CBOT Products or those that CBOT may list for trading in the future, provided, however, that if the features and characteristics of such products differ materially from those of products then cleared by CME, CME's support of such new product features or characteristics shall be subject to the change request procedures set forth in Section 3.10.

Security Deposit Management and Assessment. CME will calculate and collect from Special CME Clearing Members security deposit contributions in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time. CME shall have the authority, as set forth in the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures in effect from time to time, to seize the security deposits of Special CME Clearing Members and to further exercise certain limited assessment powers in the event of a default by either a Special CME Clearing Member or a CME clearing member. For the avoidance of doubt, CME shall manage a joint security deposit pool for the benefit of Special CME Clearing Members and CME clearing members with respect to transactions in CME products, transactions in CBOT Products, and transactions in the products of any other exchange for which CME provides clearing services or linked clearing, unless CME's agreement with such other exchange prohibits a joint guarantee fund. Consequently, the security deposit contributions of CME-only clearing members may be assessed as a result of defaults as to transactions in CBOT Products, and the contributions of CBOT-only clearing members who are Special CME Clearing Members may be assessed as a result of defaults as to transactions in CME products.

Support for Cross-Margining of CBOT Products. CME will provide support for and will participate in cross-margining of positions in CBOT Products held by Special CME Clearing Members pursuant to CBOT's existing cross-margining arrangements with GSCC and OCC, provided that CBOT shall secure any necessary amendments to substitute CME for BOTCC in its current cross-margining agreements with GSCC and OCC. CME will provide support for and will participate in cross-margining of positions in CBOT Products held by Special CME Clearing Members under any other cross-margining agreements (or amendments to existing agreements) into which CBOT may enter in the future, provided that (i) such support, including without limitation the development of necessary interfaces, shall be subject to the change request procedures set forth in Section 3.10, and (ii) CME may decline to support such cross-margining agreement if CME concludes, in its sole reasonable judgment after consultation and negotiation with CBOT and the other party, that such proposed cross-margining arrangement presents an unacceptable credit risk to CME.

Information and Reports for CBOT. With respect to each trading day, CME will deliver to CBOT the following reports in accordance with the Operational Policies and Procedures:

a. End-of-day volume and open interest file;

b. End-of-day transaction listing file; and

c. Large trader data file as submitted by Clearing Members

Information and Reports From CBOT. CBOT (or a third-party service provider to CBOT, if CBOT delegates such obligation) shall provide the following reports and information to CME in accordance with the Operations Policies and Procedures:

a. A daily data file of the CBOT Products eligible for trading on the next business day;

b. Information on the performance bond requirements CBOT sets for the customer level exchange minimum requirements, which must be provided at least three to five business days prior to their effective date except in situations where changes are driven by unusual market volatility. Such data is required in order for CME to produce the appropriate customer level SPAN files;

c. A daily data file of eligible CBOT traders for the next trading day, together with identification of each trader's guarantor Special CME Clearing Member;

d. Two-sided matched trade record messages, in near real time, for trades executed electronically on LIFFE Connect;

e. One-sided (unmatched) trade record messages, in near real time, from any electronic trading floor technology devices where CBOT rather than the Special CME Clearing Members will be the source of the trade data;

f. Two-sided matched trade messages in near real time for any pit trades matched by any trade matching system for such trades as CBOT may implement;

g. Real time quote stream of CBOT prices for real-time clearing house and Special CME Clearing Member risk management; and

h. End of day settlement prices received both via a datafile and via the real time quote stream to be received by approximately 2:30-2:45 p.m. for products that settle by 2:00 p.m. and by approximately 3:45-4:00 p.m. for products that settle later than 2:00 p.m. The purpose of receiving such end-of-day settlement prices in a timely manner is to facilitate the timely publication of daily SPAN files for CBOT Products and to allow Clearing Members to begin bookkeeping processing in a timely manner.

Information and Reports for Clearing Members. CME will make available to each Special CME Clearing Member on every business day the following information, in machine readable format in accordance with the CME Rules and the Operational Policies and Procedures:

a. futures and options transactions accepted by CME for each account of the Special CME Clearing Member;

b. obligations to receive or deliver products or instruments underlying matured physically settled futures contracts in the Special CME Clearing Member's accounts;

c. give-up trades, position transfers and other transactions in the Special CME Clearing Member's accounts involving CBOT Products;

d. EFP transactions, which will be identified as such by CME using an available "data field" when such transactions are identified as such to CME by CBOT or Special CME Clearing Members ;

e. block trades, which will be identified as such by CME using an available "data field" when such transactions are identified as such to CME by CBOT or Special CME Clearing Members;

f. the daily mark-to-market of each open position in futures held by each Special CME Clearing Member; and

g. amounts of money due to and from CME from and to each Special CME Clearing Member for each account held by the Special CME Clearing Member with CME.

File Formats Generally. The formats for data files and/or messages to be exchanged among CME, CBOT, any third-party service provider to CBOT or any other entity with which CME must exchange data in connection with providing Clearing Services, shall be as mutually agreed by CME and CBOT promptly after the execution of this Agreement. If any disagreement arises, generally the principle that the receiving party specifies the format shall control.

Special CME Clearing Member Access to CME Clearing Systems. CME will permit Special CME Clearing Members to access CME's automated and online systems for all clearing and position management functionality for use in connection with positions in CBOT Products on substantially the same basis as CME permits such access with respect to positions in its own products (unless unique characteristics of a particular CBOT Product preclude use of such functionality).

Services Complete. Except as otherwise specified in this Agreement, in the CME Rules or the Operational Policies and Procedures, the services set forth above are the complete clearing services that CME will provide to CBOT pursuant to this Agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, CBOT understands that CME will not provide additional services relating to market regulation, generating statistical information, managing time and sales information, managing membership requirements, or daily bulletin processing.

Schedule B

CBOT Minimum Payment and Clearing Charge Process

Pricing Structure:

CBOT clearing charge will be calculated based upon the following per-side, per-contract pricing structure:

[] Thresholds	Tier	Rate to be applied []
[]	1	[]
[]	2	[]
[]	3	[]

[]

Process:

During the first two months of each quarter:

1. Within three (3) business days following the end of each of the first two months of each quarter CBOT will pay CME []. "Quarters," as used in this Schedule, means CME's fiscal quarters.

At the end of the third month of each quarter (quarter-end):

1. At the end of the third month of each quarter the [] for the quarter will be determined (including matched sides and sides generated through post-trade processing transactions) and the aforementioned pricing structure will be applied to determine the amount of the clearing charge CME will charge to CBOT.
2. If the clearing charge for the quarter is greater than [], CBOT will pay CME for the amount of the clearing charge above [] (which represents the credit CBOT will receive for the prior two month's minimum monthly payments of []). This payment will be paid by CBOT within ten (10) business days following the receipt of the quarterly clearing invoice from CME ("CME Clearing Invoice").
3. Should the CBOT quarterly clearing charge not exceed [], CBOT will pay CME [] (the agreed upon minimum monthly payment) within ten (10) business days following the receipt of the quarterly CME Clearing Invoice.

Schedule C
Project Development Plan

Outlined below are the terms to which the Parties have agreed concerning the development of and compliance with a detailed project plan for implementing the arrangements described in this Agreement.

Terms Relating to Plan

A. Development of the Plan. Immediately following the Effective Date of this Agreement and on an ongoing basis throughout the development period prior to the Launch Date, the Parties will use their best efforts to update the project development plan (the "Plan", as updated from time to time during the development period). The Plan shall identify, with reasonable detail, (i) all material information that must be exchanged between the Parties, (ii) any outstanding matters that must be agreed to between the Parties or decisions that must be reached by one Party, (iii) all material tasks that must be completed by either Party, and (iv) the timeline upon which such tasks must be completed in order to meet the Launch Date. The Parties shall also use their best efforts to jointly develop and incorporate within the Plan an (i) outline and timeline for completing legal documentation, including necessary regulatory filings and any documentation that must be executed by Special CME Clearing Members or other entities, and (ii) and outline and timeline for other communications with Special CME Clearing Members, ISVs, market data vendors, back-office service bureaus and any other entity with which information must be shared in order to effectuate a successful launch of Clearing Services.

B. Mutual Best Efforts to Participate and Adhere to Plan. Each of the Parties shall use its best efforts to participate fully in the planning process and to complete its required tasks in accordance with the timeline identified in the Plan. CME understands and agrees that it has primary responsibility for completing the development work necessary to implement Clearing Services as described in Schedule A. CBOT understands and agrees that it also will have development work to complete in order to effectively implement Clearing Services, including without limitation any development work necessary to provide to CME the information and reports specified to be provided by CBOT in Schedule A. Both Parties understand and agree that their full participation will be required for multiple phases of systems testing, including a comprehensive end-to-end testing phase of the fully integrated systems, which testing may require overtime, weekend and holiday work.

C. Failure to Adhere to Plan. A failure to meet a particular internal deadline set forth in the Plan by either Party shall not be deemed a Material Breach of this Agreement. However, if either Party concludes that a serious failure or multiple failures to conform to the tasks and timelines set forth in the Plan jeopardizes the Parties' ability to meet the Launch Date, the concerned Party shall so notify the relevant management personnel of the other Party (including the individuals identified in Section 19.5) in writing, which may be by e-mail, and the Parties shall use reasonable efforts to resolve the matter and adjust the Plan to the concerned Party's satisfaction. If such efforts are not successful, the concerned Party may, not sooner than ten (10) business days after delivering the notice, submit the matter to arbitration. If the arbitrator concludes that one of the Parties is primarily and substantially at fault for the failure and that the failure does jeopardize the Launch Date, the other Party shall have the option to terminate this Agreement for an Unexcused Breach under Section 10.1, without application of any notice and cure period.

Project Review Teams

Immediately following the Effective Date, each Party will identify individuals to participate in the following review teams, each of which will review matters assigned to it and develop any related elements of the Plan. Where a team is assigned to identify interface requirements or other technical requirements, the team shall produce at least a high-level functional specifications document. The Parties agree that the project review teams shall complete the process of fully defining requirements for each aspect of the project described below by May 16, 2003, meaning that the teams will have decided how to resolve any open issues and have documented and circulated their assigned elements of the Plan, including any functional specifications documents.

A. Product Review Team. Matters to review:

- Review contract specifications in detail
- Identify specifications not currently supported by CME
- Document variable cabinet pricing requirements
- Review product and price file layouts
- Identify product and price interface requirements
- Review market related layouts
- Map MD layouts
- Identify MD interface requirements

B. Deliveries Review Team. Matters to review:

- Review delivery requirements
- Determine information that must be shared to complete automated deliveries processes development work
- Review deliveries file layouts
- Identify deliveries interface requirements

C. Regulatory Review Team. Matters to review:

- Review regulatory file layouts
- Identify regulatory interface requirements

D. Membership Review Team. Matters to review:

- Review membership file layouts
- Identify membership interface requirements

E. Trade Review Team. Matters to review:

Review trade related file layouts

Map trade layouts

Identify trade interface requirements

BOARD OF TRADE OF THE CITY OF CHICAGO, INC.
141 West Jackson Boulevard
Chicago, Illinois 60604

Solicited by the Board of Directors

In connection with the restructuring transactions described in the proxy statement and prospectus (the "Proxy Statement and Prospectus") accompanying this proxy ballot, the undersigned hereby appoints Paul J. Draths, Terry Livingston, and Carol A. Burke and each of them, proxies, with full power of substitution and revocation, acting together or, if only one is present and voting, then that one, to vote the membership of the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc., a nonstock, not-for-profit corporation (the "CBOT"), which the undersigned is entitled to vote, at the special meeting of the membership to be held on , 2004 and any adjournments or postponements thereof, with all the powers the undersigned would possess if personally present, as designated herein and authorizes the proxies to vote in accordance with the recommendations of the management of the CBOT upon such other business as may properly come before the special meeting of the membership.

THE RESTRUCTURING TRANSACTIONS

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE CBOT RECOMMENDS A VOTE
"FOR" PROPOSITIONS 1, 2, 3, 4 AND 5.

(1) The approval and adoption of the agreement and plan of merger relating to the merger, which provides for the merger that will facilitate our demutualization and the adoption of a new amended and restated certificate of incorporation of the CBOT to take effect upon the effectiveness of the merger;

☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST

(2) The approval and adoption of the amended and restated bylaws of the CBOT, which will become the bylaws of the CBOT subsidiary, and technical amendments to the bylaws of the CBOT identifying the holders of Full Memberships, Associate Memberships, GIMs, IDEMs and COMs, and clarifying the status of holders of GIM, IDEM and COM membership interests as "members" of the CBOT for purposes of Delaware law;

☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST

(3) The approval and ratification of the allocation of CBOT equity (i.e., the CBOT Holdings Class A common stock) among the classes of CBOT members in accordance with the settlement allocation established by the terms of the settlement agreement;

☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST

(4) The approval and ratification of the August 7, 2001 agreement as amended and restated as of October 7, 2004 relating to the exercise right entered into by us and the CBOE; and

☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST

(5) The approval and ratification of the changes to our corporate governance structure, as set forth in the amended and restated certificate of incorporation and bylaws for each of CBOT Holdings and the CBOT subsidiary, and certain changes to the rules and regulations of the CBOT subsidiary, which, collectively, will facilitate the demutualization and the modernization of certain aspects of our corporate governance structure, and all other matters relating to the restructuring transactions.

☐ FOR ☐ AGAINST

ALTHOUGH YOU ARE BEING ASKED TO APPROVE EACH OF THESE FIVE PROPOSITIONS SEPARATELY, EACH OF THESE PROPOSITIONS IS RELATED TO, AND EXPRESSLY CONDITIONED UPON THE APPROVAL OF, THE OTHER PROPOSITIONS. THIS MEANS THAT THE CBOT WILL NOT TAKE ANY ONE OR MORE OF THESE ACTIONS RELATING TO THE RESTRUCTURING TRANSACTIONS WITHOUT TAKING ALL ACTIONS, SUBJECT TO THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUCH TRANSACTIONS. ACCORDINGLY, UNLESS ALL FIVE OF THE ABOVE PROPOSITIONS RELATING TO THE RESTRUCTURING TRANSACTIONS ARE APPROVED BY THE REQUISITE VOTE OF THE MEMBERS AS DESCRIBED IN THE PROXY STATEMENT AND PROSPECTUS, THE RESTRUCTURING TRANSACTIONS WILL NOT HAVE BEEN APPROVED BY THE MEMBERS AND, ACCORDINGLY, WILL NOT BE COMPLETED.
